Excidere vinclis. Virg. To ſcape out of priſon or bondes.
Exuta pedem vinclis. Virg.
Exuræ vinclis palmæ. Virg. Handes vnbounde.
Vincula frangere. Stat. Gerere vincla. Ouid.
Firma vincula impediunt manus. Ouid.
Impediri vinculis. Cic.
Imponere & vincla, & Soluere vincla, contraria. Propere.
Impoſita capiti vincla. Sen. A garland was ſet on his hed.
Indere vincula. Tac.
Injicere vincula, Vide INJICIO.
Innectere vincula gutturi. Hor.
Intendere vincula collo, Vide INTENDO.
Iretiri vinculis inextricabilibus. Lactant. To be intangled with ſuch bondes, as he can not rid himſelfe of.
Leuare vincla alicui. Virg. To vndoe ones bandes.
Ligare vincla. Sil.
Minacia vincla collo ligabantur. Ouid.
Nectere vincula alicui. Virg. To binde.
Secantibus vinclis præſtricta manus. Sen.
Recuſantes vincla leones. Virg.
Sæua vincula remittere. Ouid.
Retineri vinclis firmis. Ouid.
Rumperere vincula. Virg.
Souere vincula. Ouid.
Tendere vincula alicui. Virg.
Tenère vinclis aliquem. Virg.
Grauidus vinclis teneor coercita. Ouid.

Víncula, vinculórum, per tranſlationem. Venuleius. Chaines: fetters: giues: bandes: impriſonment.
In vincla coniectus eſt. Cic. He was caſt in priſon.
Abſolutus vinculis, Vide ABSOLVO.

Coerceri vinculis. Calliſt. To be in priſon.
Dicere cauſam ex vinculis. Cæſ. To plead his cauſe in priſon or being in giues.
Mandare æternis vinculis, Vide MANDO, mandas.
Aliquem vinculis & verberibus, atque omni ſupplicio excrutiatum necare. Cic.
In vinculis eſſe. Plin. To be in priſon.
¶ Amicitiæ vincula rumpere. Lucret. To breake the bonds of friendſhip.
Vinculis amoris eſſe cum aliquo coniunctum. Cic.
Vincula concordiæ. Cic. The bondes of concorde.
Vincula coniunctionis cum aliquo. Cic.
Connubialia vincla. Sta. Wedlocke: the bondes of maryage.
Iugalia vincla, Idem. Virg.
Iugali vinclo ſociare ſe alicui. Virg. To mary himſelf to one.
Vincula iuris. Cic.
Reuellere vincula iudiciorum. Cic. To breake the bondes of iuſt puniſhment by law, whereby the common weale is preſerued.
Legum certa vincula. Quint.
Quæſtionis vinculum. Quint.
Arctiſſimum ſocietatis vinculum. Cic.
¶ Nullum vinculum ad aſtringendam fidem iureiurando maiores arctius eſſe voluerunt. Cic.
Aſtrictus certis legum vinculis. Quint.
Aſtringere Galliam vinclis, Vide ASTRINGO.
In vinculis habere. Quint. To keepe one in priſon.
¶ Vincla. Hor. Obligations wherewith one is bound bonds.

Vinco, vincis, vici, victum, vincere. Ci. To win: to ouercome: to vanquiſh: to get victorie: to paſſe: to excell: to proue or conuince by reaſon.
Vinci & expugnari. Cic. Vinci à voluptate. Cic.
¶ Vince virum bonum fuiſſe Oppianicum. Cicer. Conuince and reproue, &c.
¶ Vincere aciem ferri. Plin. To paſſe in ſharpeneſſe, or to be ſharper than any toole.
Amor vincitur donis. Ouid.
Amor omnia vincit. Virg.
Animum vincere. Plaut. To ouercome ones minde.
Bello vincere. Lucan. To vanquiſhe in warre.
Carminibus vincere aliquem. Virg. To paſſe.
Victa cauſa. Cic. A cauſe or ſuite that is caſt or ouercome.
Certamine pedum vicerat omnes. Ouid. He paſſed all in running or ſwiftneſſe of foote.
Cibum vincere. Plin. To concoct or digeſt.
Clementia vincitur lachrymis. Ouid.
Vicerat antiquæ ſceleratus crimina famæ. Martial. The naughtie fellow committed ſo heynous an offence, as hath not beene hearde of before tyme.
Curſu vincere ceruum, vel cochleam tarditudine. Plaut. To be ſwifter than an hart, or ſlower then a ſnayle.
Difficultates locorum vincere. Cæſar. With trauayle to paſſe harde and troublous places.
Dolor vicit virum inuictum. Ouid.
Eloquio vincere Neſtora. Ou. To paſſe Neſtor in eloquence.
Expectationem vincere. Ci. To do more then men looke for.
Falſa vincere veris. Lucret. Fama vinci. Ouid.
Viuendo vici mea fata, ſuperſtes. Virg. I haue liued longer then by courſe of nature I ſhould, hauing my childzen dead before me.
Furorem vincere ratione. Ouid. To ouercome.
Gloria vincere aliquem, & ſimilibus. Cic. To paſſe in, &c.
Miles vicit hoſtem. Ouid.
Inducio aliquid vincere. Ci. To conuince by ſentence of the iudge.
-labor omnia vincit Improbus. Virg. Impoztunate labor ouercommeth all things.
Licitatione vincere. Paulus. In cheapening to bid more: to outbid. Budæus legit, licitationem: quomodo dicimus, Olympia vincere. Vicit igitur licitationem, hoc eſt. Her is admitted as the partie that bidderth moſt.
Magnitudinem alterius rei vincere. Cic. To be bigger, &c.
Si vita iſtius memoriam vicerit. Cic. If there be none that remembreth how he hath liued before time.
Montes vincere aſcenſu. Clau. With paines to get vp to the tops of hils.

Moribus

Moribus vincere aliquem. Propert.
Funalia vincunt noctem flammis. Virgil. The light of torches ouercome the darkeneſſe of night.
Numero vincere. Cic. To be more in number.
Officio vincet omnes ſpes. Cic. He will do more, than men can hope.
Opinionem omnium vincere. Cic. To paſſe the opinion of all men.
Pectora dura vincuntur molli prece. Tibul. Harde hartes are ouercome with humble ſute.
Nulla vinci ratione. Cic.
Seipſum vincere. Caſſius Cic. To paſſe himſelfe.
Vicit ſententia lenior, vt vnde culpa eſſet orta, ibi pœna conſiſteret. Liu. The gentelter ſentence tooke place, &c.
Sponſione vincere. Cic. To ouercome in laying a wager.
Viribus vincere aliquid. Virg.
Vno te vicimus. Cic. In one thing we paſt thee.
¶ Vicimus. Cicer. We haue the victory: we haue wonne the wager: we haue that we would haue.
Vnum oſtende in tabulis aut tuis, aut patris tui emptum eſſe, viciſti. Cic. I will giue thee the victory.
Vince & vale. Ci. God ſende thee the victory, and long to liue in health.
Viceris. Te. So thy way thou haſt the victory: I will confeſſe thou haſt ouercome.

Victus, Particip. Vanquiſhed: ouercome: conuinced. vt Victi & ſubacti populi. Cic.
Galli victi filere ſolent, canere victores. Cic. Cockes beaten hold their peace, but they that ouercome are wont to crow.
Bellis victi. Stat. Somno victus. Liu.
Natura victus. Cic. Viribus victa virgo. Ouid.
Prece victus. Hor. Voluptate victus. Cic.
Vulnere ingenti victus. Virg.
¶ Clementia illius victa eſt noſtro vitio. Ouid.
Corpora victa ſopore. Ouid.
Fœmina victa dolo. Virg.
Hoſtis victus terra marique. Hor.
Ira victa per preces. Ouid.
Opes victæ. Cic. Puiſſaunce or might ouercome.
Patientia victa vitijs. Ouid. Patience ouercome with yll doings.
Pietas victa furore. Hor.
Pudor victus amore. Ouid.
Reus victus. Cic. A defendant caſt and ouercome.
Terga victa dare. Ouid. To turne backe and flee.
Vrbes victæ. Hor.
¶ Victus. Virg. Let of his purpoſe, and leauing it of: that hath not done that he would. Hic vero victus genitor ſe tollet ad auras. Virg.

Victor, victóris, m.g. pen. prod. Cæſ. A victour: a conqueror: he that vanquiſheth or ouercometh.
Belli victor. Stat.
Omnium gentium victor. Cic. Hoſtium victor. Hor.
Ille externorum bellorum hoſtiúmque victor. Cic.
Cruentus victor. Lucan. Ferus. Hor.
Violens. Hor.
Currus victor. Ouid. The triumphant chariote of a conquerour.

Victrix, victrícis, pen. prod. f.g. Cic. She that vanquiſheth.
Libidinis victrix. Cic. Arma victricia. Virg.
Athenæ victrices. Cic.
Cateruæ victrices. Hor. Dextra victrix. Ouid.
Lauri victrices. Virg. Of which garlands are made for conquerours.
Libido victrix. Sen.
Literæ victrices. Cic. Letters declaring victory.
Manus victrix. Cic. Palmæ victrices. Ouid.
¶ Victrix. Virg. She that hath hir purpoſe, or that ſhe would haue.

Victória, victóriæ, f.g. Cic. Victory: conqueſt: vanquiſhing.
Victoria natura inſolens & ſuperba eſt. Cic.
Facies victoriæ. Tac. The foyme of the victory.
Agilis victoria, Vide AGILIS.
Cruenta victoria, Vide CRVENTVS.
Facilis victoria de madidis, atque mero tiubátibus. Iuue. It is eaſie to get the victorie of, &c.

Læta victoria. Hor.
Pulchra & ſpectabilis victoria. Tac.
Velox victoria. Hor.
¶ Adipiſci victoriam. Cæſ. To get the victorie.
Amplecti victoriam. Liu.
Ceſſit illi victoria, Vide CEDO.
Cohonestare victoriam. Liu. To adourne, &c.
Concedere victoriam. Tac.
Concelebrare victoriam, Vide CONCELEBRO.
Conclamare victoriam. Cæſ.
Conſequi victoriam. Cic. To attaine victory.
Conſiſtit victoria Vide CONSISTO.
Conſtituere victoriam, Vide CONSTITVO.
Conſtat victoria multorum virorum fortium morte. Cæſ. The victory coſt many a valiaunt man his life.
Corrupta toties victoria. Tac.
Victoriam vltrò detulimus. Liu. Wee willingly gaue hym the victory.
Differre victoriam. Liu.
Fuga & pauor Numidarum Romanis victoriam dedit. Liu.
Edere victoriam. Tac. To get the victory.
Iam parta victoria ex manibus eripitur. Saluſt.
Excidit victoria è manibus, Vide EXCIDO.
Vterque victoriam crudeliter exercebant. Saluſt.
Victoriam hoſti extorqueamus. Liu.
Habere victoriam. Liu.
Habere victoriam in manibus. Liu.
Inquietare victoriam. Tac. To diſturbe, &c.
Interpellare victoriam. Cæſ. To let or hinder, &c.
Morari victoriam. Liu. To hinder, &c.
Initium victoriæ natum eſt ab ea parte. Cæſ. That part began firſt to ouercome.
Neque Cæſarem fefellit, quin ab his cohortibus initiũ victoriæ oriretur. Cæſ.
Párere victoriam. Cæſ. To procure or get. &c.
Patrare victoriam, Idem. Tac.
Portendere victoriam. Liu.
Reportare victoriam. Cic. To haue or win the victory.
Propè iam in adeptam victoriam retinere. Salu.
Spectare victoriam. Quint.
Multorum ſanguine ac vulneribus ea Pœnis victoria ſtetit Liu. That victory coſt the Carthaginians much bloudſhed and many woundes, of the life and hurt of many a man.
Victoria in manibus nobis eſt. Saluſt. We are ſure of, &c.
Tradere victoriam. Quint.
Fortuna ſæpe ad vtrunque transferente victoriã. Cæſ. Fortune oftentimes giuing the vpper hande, nowe to the tone part, now to the other.
Cui dij immortales victoriam tribuiſſent. Cæſ.

Victoriátus, victoriáti, m.g pen. prod. Plin. A certaine coyne hauing the Image of victory.

Victoriósus, pen. pro. Adiect. Cato. Victorious: that hath often conquered and got many victories.

Vincíbilis, & hoc vincibile, pen. cor. Ter. Eaſie to be vanquiſhed and ouercome.
Terra grauis, & vix vlla cultura vincibilis. Col.

Vindemia, vindémiæ, f.g. Virg. The gathering of grapes to make wine: ſometime gathering of other things.
Mitis in apricis coquitur vindemia ſaxis. Vir.
Vindemia mellis. Plin. The gathering of hony.
Vindemia oluarum. Plin. The gathering of olives to make oyle.
Cogere vindemias. Vlpia. To lay togither grapes, that are gathered in harueſt.
Modicas vindemias colligere. Plin. iun.
Pendentem vindemiam emere. Iulian. To bie grapes vpon a piece as they hang.
Spumat plenis vindemia labris. Virg.
Adminiſtrare vindemias, Vide ADMINISTRO.

Vindemíola, vindemíolæ, f.g. pen. cor. Diminut. Cic. A lyttle harueſt of grapes.

Vindémio, vindémias, vindemiâre. Plin. To gather grapes or ripe fruite in harueſt.

Vindemiâtor, pen. prod. vindemiatóris, f.g. Colu. He that in haruest gathereth grapes to make wine.

Vindemâtor, pen. prod. toris, per ſyncopen. Idem.

Durus vindemator. Horat.
Vindémitor, pen.cor. Idem, Ouid.
Vindemiatórius, Adiect. Pertaining to gathering of grapes or ripe fruite in: harueſt. vt Vaſa vindemiatoria. Varro. Veſſels ſeruing to grape gathering.
Quali vindemiatorij. Vlp. Baſkets to gather grapes for vintage in harueſt.
Vindex, vindicis, pen.cor.com.g. Cic. A reuenger of wrongs, a puniſher: a redreſſer of things. A defender: he that ſetteth at liberty, or out of daunger. A proctour or atturney proſecuting an other mans matter. One that deliuereth himſelfe out of bondage. A keeper of poſſeſſion.
Vindex temeritatis & moderatrix officij, Curia. Ci. The puniſher of raſhneſſe, and, &c.
Peccatorum vindex. Ci. The puniſher of things done amiſſe.
Vindex & oppreſſor coniurationis. Cic.
Vindex & vltor. Col.
Facinorum & ſceleris vindex. Cic.
Fraudis auaræ vindex. Horat.
Linguæ magnæ vindex. Hor. The puniſher of a proud tong.
Iuſtiſſimus vindex. Ouid. Carcer, nefariorum vindex. Ci.
¶ Vindex. Cic. He that defendeth and ſetteth at libertie.
Exitilli tu vindex noſtræ libertatis. Cic. Thou wait the reſtorer of our libertie.
¶ Pœna vindex. Catul. Vires vindices. Ouid.
Vindiciæ, vindiciarum, ſ.g. plur. Li. The aſſercion of libertie or freedome: ſentences by prouiſion deliuering.
Vindicias poſtulare ſecundum libertatem. Liu. To require to be deliuered out of the handes of hys aduerſarie, that he may bring proofe of hys freedome.
Vindicijs ac ſacramentis petere. Ci. To put in his anſwere and requite a time to bring in proofes, that he is not bond.
Vindicias ſecundum libertatem dare. To graunt that one may be at hys libertie to bring ſureties and proofes that he is not bonde.
Decernere vindicias ſecundum ſeruitutẽ. To giue ſentence, that one is bonde.
Lis vindiciarum. A ſuite or contention for a thyng that is not certainly knowne whoſe it is: In which plee the demãdant was bounde in a certaine ſumme of mony to be toſſeted, if the thing were not his, & the defendant was bounde not to impaire ther thing that he had in his poſſeſſion.
Vindico, vindicas, p.co. vindicãui, & C. To reuenge or puniſh: to defend or deliuer from dager or wrong: to reſtore to liberty.
Improborum contentio omni ſupplicio vindicanda eſt. Cic.
Dolus malus legibus erat vindicatus. Cic.
Acerrimè maleficia vindicare. Cic. Very harpely to puniſh &c.
Mortem vindicare alicuius. Plin. To reuenge ones death.
Neeem alicuius vindicare. Ouid.
Offenſas ſuas vindicare enſe. Ouid.
Peccata moribus & iudicijs vindicare. Ci. To puniſh offences according to order and law.
Peccatum in altero vindicare. Cic. To puniſh, &c.
Seditionem vindicare. Cic.
In aliquem ſcelera alterius vindicare. Cicer. To puniſh one for an other mans offences.
Is ſua lege in fures dupli pœna vindicãdũ exiſtimauit. Ge.
Vindicare ſe ab aliquo. Sen. To reuenge himſelfe vpon one.
Vindicare ſe de aliquo, Idem. Cic.
¶ Vindicari, Paſſiuè. Cic. To be reuenged on: alſo to be ſet at libertie.
In poſterum diem vindicari. Liu. To be ſet at liberty vntyll the nexte day vpon ſureties.
Vindicatum eſt, Imperſonale. Cic. In ciues noſtros perſæpe eſt ſeuerè ac vehimenter vindicatum. Our citizens haue bene oftentimes ſharpely puniſhed, &c.
¶ Vindicare. Cic. Pecunia quæ nos à tributis poſſet vindicare. Money that might deliuer vs from charge of tributs.
Ab interitu vindicare. Plin. iun. To ſaue from death.
A labore vindicare. Cic. To exempt and ſet at liberty from labouire.
Aliquem à magnitudine doloris vindicare. Ci. To deliuer from, &c.
A moleſtijs, ſuppliciò, & impetu libidinum vindicari: pro Liberari. Cic.

Ab obliuione & ſilentio hominum vindicare. Ci. To make that one be not forgotten of men, but alway ſpoken of.
Senectutem à ſolitudine vindicari iuris Ciuilis ſcientia. Ci.
Aliquem à vitijs omnibus vindicare. Cic. To amouche one to be without all fault.
In libertatem vindicare. Cic. To ſet at liberty.
Solui terroribus, & in libertatem vindicari. Cic.
Vindicare libertatem. Cæſ. To defende their liberty from the daunger of tyrants.
Vindicare ſe ad ſuos. Cicero. To reſtore themſelſe ſafe to their owne houſes againe.
Vindicare ſe exiſtimationi hominum. Cic. To maintayne their good reputation among men.
Vindica te tibi. Sen. Take leyſure to thinke on thy buſineſſes.
Vindicátio, vindicatiõnis, ſ.g. Verb. Cicer. A reuengement: a taking of puniſhment: a deliuering out of danger.
Vindicta, vindictæ, ſ.g. Paul. Vengeance: reuengement: puniſhment.
Suſcipere vindictam legis. Ouid. To vndertake to puniſhe one accoyding to the law.
¶ Vindicta. Liu. A rod that the lorde deliuered to his bonde man, when he ſet him at liberty: Alſo ſuch a maner of infranchesſing.
Si neque ſenſu, neque vindicta, nec teſtamento liber factus eſt, non eſt liber. Cic.
Vindicta liberatus. Liuius. Made free by his lord, or by the Prætour touching him with a rod.
Vinea, vineæ. Cic. A vine, or a vineyarde.
Brachiata vinea, Vide BRACHIVM.
Caluata, Vide CALVA.
Capitata, Vide CAPVT.
Compluuiata, Vide COMPLVVIVM.
Culta. Tibul.
Fertilis vuæ generoſæ vinea. Ouid.
Imputata. Hor. A vine not cut and dreſſed.
Macerrimæ vineæ. Col.
¶ Tenera vinea modico adminiculo melius acquieſcit, Co.
Floret vinea. Ouid.
Induunt ſe viris vineæ. Col. Vines begin to haue grapes.
Iugare vineas, Vide IVGVM.
Ordinare vineã paribus interuallis, Vide Ordino in ORDO.
Pubeſcit vinea. Virg.
Purgare vineam. Catul.
Verberatæ grandine vineæ. Hor. Vines beaten with haile.
¶ Vinea. Cicer. An ordinance of warre made of tymber and hurdels, vnder which in aſſaultes men came ſafely vnder the wals of a towne.
Vineárius, Adiect. Pertaining to a vine. vt Collis vinearius. Col. That beareth vines.
Venáticus, penult. cor. Aliud adiect. Pertaining to vines. vt Falces vineaticæ. Var. Hookes to cut vines.
Fructus vineaticus. Col. The fruite of a vineparde.
Semina vineatica. Col.
Vineális, & hoc vineále, pen. prod. Of a vine. vt Terra vinealis. Col. Apt for vines.
Vinctum, Vinitor, Vinoſus, Vinolentia, &c. Vide VINVM.
Vinum, vini, n.g. Mart. Wyne.
Vinum cui nihil ætatis acceſſit. Celſ. New wyne.
Vinum nullarum virium, & ingentiũ viriũ, contraria. Celſ.
Vina, Pluraliter. Cic. Wynes.
Languidus vino, Vide LANGVOR.
Media ætas vini. Pli. When wine is in his beſt ſtrẽgth & kind.
Certamen mite vini. Tibul. The pleaſaunt contention of quaffing.
Pernicies vini, lymphæ. Catu. Water is ỹ deſtructiõ of wine.
Plenus vini. Cic. Dronke.
Infirmi ſaporis vinum. Col. A weake wine.
Vini ſapores quatuor, Dulce, acutum, lene, & auſterum. Sweete, harpe, milde, and rough.
Violentia vehemens vini. Lucret.
Ad vinum, Vide AD præpoſitionem.
Ad vinum diſertus, Vide Ibidem.
¶ Album vinum. Plaut.
Aſperum, Vide ASPER. Atrum, Vide ATER.
Auſterum, Vide AVSTERVS. A greene wyne.

Calidum

Calidum. Ouid.
Cibarium, Vide CIBVS.
Circuncidaneum, & Circunciſitium, Vide CIRCVNCIDO.
Collina vina, Vide COLLIS.
Doliare vinum. Vlp. Wine in the tun or veſſell.
Vinum vetuſtate edentulum. Pla. Olde deade wine, that hath loſt the ſtrength.
Firmiſſimum vinum. Virg. Hornum. Hor.
Heluolum, Vide HELVOLVS.
Indigena, Vide INDIGENA.
Ignitus, Vide IGNIS.
Larga, aut libera vina. Hor.
Lene vinum. Cic.
Lixiuum vinum, Vide LIX.
Marathrites vinum, Vide MARATHRVM.
Marcida vina. Stat. Merum vinum, Vide MERVS.
Molle. Virg. A milde gentle wine.
Myrtites, Vide MYRTVS.
Mucidum, Vide MVCOR.
Nouitium. Plin.
Nouum & vetus vinum, contraria. Cic.
Peculiare. Vlp.
Pendens, Vide PENDEO, Purum. Ouid.
Protropum, Vide PROTROPVS.
Rubens. Ouid.
Spurcum, Vide SPVRCVS.
¶ Abſtinere vino. Plin. To forbeare wyne.
Abſumere vinum. Ter. To ſpend, &c.
Acere vinum dicitur. Cato. To waxe ſower.
Adhibere vinum ægrotis, Vide ADHIBEO.
Carere vino, Vide CAREO.
Caſtrare vina faccis. Plin. To ſtraine wine through bagges to make it ſomewhat weaker.
Circuncidere vinum, Vide CIRCVNCIDO.
Coaceſcit vetuſtate vinum. Cic. Wine with long continuance waxeth ſower.
Collectum vinum. Plin. Grapes gathered in harueſt to make wine.
Concinnare vinum, Vide CONCINNVS.
Corrigere vina. Plin. To amend wines.
Diffuſum vinum ex cœnophoro. Cic. Wine poured out of, &c.
Dant animos vina. Ouid. Wine making one haue courage.
Euaneſcunt vetuſtate vina. Cic. Wine in continuance waxeth dead.
Feruida vina exurdant ſubtile palatum, Vide EXVRDO.
Vinum facit ingenium. Ouid.
Vinum facit ſomnum. Ouid.
Ferre vetuſtatem dicuntur vina, Vide FERO. Cic. To abide, or continue long in their ſtrength.
Fugiens vinum. Cic. Wine that will not continue.
Fundere vina pateris. Virg. To poure out, &c.
Liquentia vina fundere. Virg.
Graues vino ſomnóque iacebant. Ouid. They after much dyninking lay heauy a ſleepe.
Impulſus vino. Quint. Incaleſcere vino, Liu.
Infuſcare vinum, Vide INFVSCO.
Inuergere vina. Virg.
Dulci mala vino lauere. Hor. To waſhe away ſorrow and care by drinking pleaſant wine.
Leuare vino curãſque ſitimque. Ouid. With drinking both to raſe his care, and quench his thirſt.
Madent membra vino. Plaut.
Nimio marceſcere vino. Oui. With ouermuch drinking.
Medicata ſufficione vina, Vide MEDICO.
Merſus vino & madens. Sen. Very dronken, and hauing hys ſenſes drowned with wine.
Miſcere vinum aqua, Vide MISCEO.
Nutrire vinum. Vide NVTRIO.
Olere vina. Hor.
Vina parant animos. Ouid.
Pellere curas vino. Hor.
Preſſa vina. Hor. Wine preſſed out of grapes.
Languidiora vina promere. Hor.
Reponere vina menſis. Virg.
Sepulti vino conticuêre. Vir. They being ouerwhelmed with dronkenneſſe helde their peace.

Sepulta vrbs ſomno vinóque. Virg. The whole citie ouerwhelmed with ſleepe and dronkenneſſe.
Quies ſequitur vina. Ouid. After drinking followeth ſleepe and reſt. Soluti ſomno vinóque procubuêre. Virg.
Subtrahere vinum. Celſ. To withdrawe wyne from one.
Sumere vinum meracius. Cic. To drinke wine alone wythout water.
Tranſire ad vinum, Vide AD præpoſitionem.
Vti largiore vino, Vide LARGIOR, largíris.
Villum, villi, n.g. Diminut. Ter. A ſmall wyne.
Vinácea, vinaceórum: vel per i Vinacia Subſtantiuum plurale neutrum. Col. The kernels that are in grapes.
Vinatiaquæ de lora eximuntur. Col.
Vináceus, m.g. pro eodem. Cato. Var.
Vineácea, vineáceæ: vel Vináceapotius, Idem. Col. Plin.
Vináceus, Adiect. Of wine or grapes. vt Acinus vinaceus. Cic. The kerneil of a repſon.
Vinale, lis, n.g. Vintage.
Vinárius, vinarij, m.g. Plau. Suet. A vintener: a tauerner: one that ſelleth wine.
Vinarius. Vlp. A dronkarde: a great drinker of wine.
Vinárius, Adiect. Pertayning to wine. vt Taberna vinaria. A wyne tauerne.
Cella vinaria. Plin.
Vinarij lacus. Col. Vas vinarium. Cic.
Crimen vinarium. Cic. The accuſation of one that hath ſet impoſt on wine.
Vinẽtum, vinéti, pen. prod. Cic. Quint. A vineparde.
Blanda vineta. Stat.
Cultum & verax vinetum. Col.
Læta vineta. Lucret. Madentia vineta. Stat.
Inteſtantur vineta Auſtris & Euris. Col.
Vinipõtor, pen. prod. vinipotõris. m.g. Pli. A drinker of wine.
Vinitor, pen. cor. vinitõris, m.g. Col. Cic. He that dreſſeth and keepeth a vineparde: a maker of wine.
Maturæ vinitor vuæ. Virg. A gatherer of ripe grapes.
Vinitorius, Adiect. Belonging to the keeping of a vineparde. vt vinitoria falx. Col. An hooke to cut vines.
Vinolentus, Aliud adiect. Cic. A dronkard giuen to drinking of much wyne.
Incidere in violentiam vinolentorum. Cic.
Vinolentus furor. Cic.
Medicamina vinolenta. Ci. Made with much wine.
Bacchatus vinolentus. Cic.
Vinoléntia, vinoléntiæ, ſ. ge. Cice. Dronkenneſſe: ouermuch drinking of wine.
Vinolentia ſubiecta eſt ægrotationi. Cic.
Furioſa vinolentia. Ci.
Vinóſus, pen. prod. A diect. Ouid. That loueth to drinke wine hauing a ſmacke or fauour of wyne.
Vinoſus. Plaut. Dronken.
Conuiuia vinoſa. Ouid. Senex vinoſus. Ouid.
Vinoſus ſuccus. Plin. A ſuper hauing the taſte of wine.
Vinoſus ſapor. Plin. Vinoſus fructus. Col.
Vinoſa mordacitas ad linguam. Plin. A biting of the tong like wine.
Viola, violæ, pen. cor. Plin. A violet.
Viola alba. Plin. idem quod Leucoia.
Flammea. Plin. Luteæ. Plin.
Fuſcæ violæ. Claud. Mollis viola. Virg.
Nigræ violæ. Virg. The purple violet.
Pallentes violas carpere. Virg.
Purpurea, viola, Idem. Plin.
Tinctus viola pallor amantium. Horat. The wanneſſe of louers in colour like a violet.
Tondere violas manu. Propert. To gather violers.
Violárium, violárij, n.g. Virg. A banke or bed of violets.
Mollia purpureum pingunt violaria campum. Lactant.
Violáceus, Adiect. Plin. Of violet colour.
Violaris, Idem.
Violárius, violárij, m.g. Plaut. He that dieth violet colour.
Violo, violas, pe. cor. violãre. To violate: to corrupte: to deſile: to deflowre: to breake, as a man doth a law.
Violare amicitiam. Cic. To do againſt friendſhip.
Amores alicuius violare. Tibul.
Aras cælicolũm violauit mea dextera. Sil.

Aurum cibis violare. Stat. To make veſſell of golde foule, with putting meate in them.
Bello violari. Cic.
Corpus vulnere violare. Virg. To wounde.
Cubile alicuius violare. Catul. To commit adulterie wyth ones wife.
Dignitatem violare. Cic. To doe againſt ones honour.
Ebur oſtro violare. Virg. To mixe ivorie with purple.
Exiſtimationem alicuius violare. Ci. To diminiſh ones eſtimation or reputation.
Apud exteras nationes imperij noſtri famam tuis probris violaſti. Cic. Thou haſte diſtained the fame of our empire in foraine countreis, by thy naughtie doings.
Fidem violare. Ouid. To breake promiſe.
Fidem coniugij violare. Plin. Not to be faithfull and true in wedlocke: to breake wedlocke.
Fœdus violare. Liu. To breake alyance.
Fœdera communia, pacis violare. Lucret.
Hoſpites violare. Cæſ. To miſuſe, or doe iniurie to ſtrangers, comming into our countrey.
Iura violare. Cic. Loca religioſa violare. Cic.
Numina verbo violare. Tibul. To ſpeake ill of the gods.
Parentes violare. Cic. To miſuſe his parents: to doe unnaturally to hys parents.
Puellam violare. Tibul. To defloure.
Rempublicam violare. Cic. To hurt the common weale.
Sacra violare. Cic. To diſtaine.
Nubes violant ſerenam ſpeciem mundi. Lucr. The cloudes ouercaſt the faire weather.
Venas violare. Celſ. To hurt the veines.
Suſpicione violata virtus. Liu. An honeſt man vniuſtly ſuſpected.
Syluam violare ſecuri. Ouid. To cut downe trees: to fell.
Verbo ius legationis violare. Ci. In words to miſuſe an ambaſſadour, in ſome matter touching hys meſſage.
Virginitatem violare. Cic. Virtam patris violare. Cic.
Voce aliquem violare. Cic. To raile or ſpeake outragiouſly againſt one.

Violâtus, pen. prod. Particip. Liu. Broken: violated: defloured: hurt.
Ab arcu violatus. Ouid. Hurt wyth a bowe.
Fletu genas violata Diana. Stat. Diana hauing his eyes blemiſhed wyth weeping.
Corpus violatum nullo crimine. Sil.
Iura violata mariti. Ouid. Leges violatæ. Claud.
Poteſtas violata. Lucan.

Violandus, Aliud particip. vt Fœdera clàm violanda. Tib. To be broken.

Violátio, violatiônis, ſ.g. Verb. Liu. A violating: a breaking: a diſtaining.

Violâtor, pen. pro. violatôris, Verbale maſculinum. Liui. One that violateth, corrupteth, or ſuſpendeth.
Templi violator. Ouid.

Violábilis, & hoc violábile, pen. cor. Adiect. Stat. That may be violated.
Cor violabile telis. Ouid.
Numen non violabile. Virg.

Violentus, Aliud adiect. Cic. Violent: forcible: vehement.
Violentus & furens. Cic.
Tranquillus, & Violentus, contrarix. Claud.
Aer violentior incubuit puppibus. Luca. A more vehement winde did beate on the ſhyps.
Amnis violentior influit in mare. Virg.
Aper violentus. Ouid. Aura cæli violentior. Stat.
Enſe violento fortiter vti. Ouid.
Homo vehemens & violentus. Cic.
Impetus alicuius furentes & violenti. Ci. Ones furious and violent aſſaultes.
Ira violenta. Ouid.
Ira violentior furgit. Silli. Anger begynneth againe more fierce than it was before.
Lues violenta. Val. Flac.
Mors violenta. Tibul. Opes violentæ. Cic.
Pectora violenta. Virg. Fierce hartes.
Tela violenta ſumere. Ouid.
Tempeſtates violentiſſimæ. Cic.

Venti violenti. Lucret. Vis violenta leonum. Lucret.
Vires violentæ æris. Lucr. The vehement hardnes of braſſe.
Violens, pen. cor. pro Violentus. Hor. Violent: forcible.
Violenter, Aduerb. Liu. Violently: perforce: maugre hys heade: cruelly: vnpatiently.
Violenter gerere Conſulatum. Plin. iun. To vſe himſelfe in his Conſulſhip fiercely and cruelly.
Inuadere violenter. Col. With violence to ſet vpon.
Tolerare violenter. Terent. To ſuffer againſt his will, and maugre his head.

Violéntia, violéntiæ, ſ.g. Plin. Violence: force: vehemencie.
Cæli violentia. Plin. Tempeſtuous and troublous weather.
Vinolentorum violentia. Cic. The violent rage of, &c.
Vultus violentia. Ouid. Actis violentia. Lucret.
Effrenata violentia. Cic. Vnruely fiercenesſe.
Vehemens violentia vini. Lucret.
Gliſcit violentia. Virg.
Opprimi impetu violentiæ. Cic.
Proſpicere violentiam inimicorum. Cic.

Vipera, víperæ, ſ.g. pen. cor. Plin. A viper: a kinde of adders.
Atræ viperæ. Hor. Mala vipera. Virg.
Scelerata. Mart.
Parua necat morſu ſpatioſum vipera taurum. Ouid.
Vipera venenata ac peſtifera. Cic.

Vipéreus, adiect. Of vipers, or adders. vt Carnes vipereas edere. Ouid.
Felle vipereo linere ſpicula. Ouid.
Cruore vipereo madent tela. Ouid.
Dentes viperei. Ouid.

Viperinus, pen. prod. Aliud adiect. Idem. Plin. Of an adder.
Cruor viperinus. Horat.

Vipiones, pen. prod. Plin. Yong cranes.

Vir, viri, m.g. Plin. A man: a valiaunt man of good courage: an huſbande.
Inuicta vis viri. Stat.
Ingentis ſpiritus vir, Vide INGENS.
Roboris magni vir. Sen.
Ingenij iucundi & elegantis vir. Quint.
Magnæ famæ vir. Ouid.
¶ Abſurdus vir, Vide ABSVRDVS.
Acres viri. Virg. Agreſtes. Hor.
Ampliſſimus & ornatiſſimus vir, Vide AMPLVS.
Audax. Sil.
Bellatores viri. Sil. Warlike men.
Bonus vir & prudens. Horat.
Bonus vir & ſapiens. Hor.
Cœleſtis, Vide COELVM. Clari vini. Quint.
Ciuilis. Quint. Clariſſimus vir. Cic.
Comis & bonus vir. Quint.
Conſularis, Vide CONSVL.
Egregius ſanctuſque vir. Iuuen.
Excellens. Cic. Fortis. Ouid.
Externus. Ouid. Fortis vir ad arma. Ouid.
Ferox. Sil. Grauis. Quint.
Ignoti noua forma viri. Virg.
Illuſtris vir, Vide ILLVSTRIS.
Iniuſtus. Ouid. Inſignis vir pietate. Virg.
Inſtruĉtiſſimus, Vide INSTRVO.
Intemperans. Cic.
Inuictum virum vicit dolor. Ouid.
Iuriſperiti, an militaris viri laus maior. Quint. Of a warryour. Iuſtus vir & tenax propoſiti. Hor.
Leĉtiſſimi viri atque ornatiſſimi, Vide LEGO, legis.
Literati viri. Cic. Magnus vir. Ouid.
Maximus, Vide MAGNVS.
Memor, gratus, & bonus vir. Cic.
Mendax. Virg. Sanctus. Sen.
Molles viri. Hor. Solers. Ouid.
Nefandus vir. Virg. Subtilis. Quint.
Princeps. Ouid. Veloces viri. Ouid.
¶ Cadere in virum, Vide CADO.
Compellare virum blande. Plaut.
Congelare virum, Vide CONGELO.
Diuidere in viros, Vide IN præpoſitionem.
¶ Vir. Ter. A valiant man of good courage and ſtomacke.
Si viri volumus eſſe. Ci. If we will ſhewe our ſelues ſtout me.

Tulit

Tulit dolorem vt vir: & vt homo, maiorem ferre ſine cauſa neceſſaria noluit. Cicer. As a ſtoute man he aboade that payne, and as a man of common nature, &c.
¶ Vir. Ter. An huſbande.
Matura viro filia. Virg. A daughter mariable.
Durus vir. Ouid. An huſband rough and harde to his wife.
Viduus. Ouid. One leading a ſole life.
¶ O digno coniuncta viro. Vir. O woman worthily maried.
Dare nuptum viro, Vide NVBO.
Expertæ virum puellæ. Hor. Maydens maried.
Meruit illa virum dote, Vide MEREO.
Nupta viro puella. Ouid. Sæuo nupta viro. Hor.
¶ Vir, de brutis etiam dicitur. The male. Virg. Vir gregis ipſe caper. The bucke goate chiefe leader of the flocke.
¶ Vt relicta ſenſit ſibi mébra ſine viro, &c. Catul. As ſoone as Atys perceyued he was gelded, & his genitories cut of.

Virâgo, pen. prod. virâginis, pen. cor. ſ.g. Plaut. A woman of ſtoute and manly courage.
Bello metuenda virago, Pallas. Ouid.

Viripotens, pen. cor. viripotentis, ſ.g. Plaut. Mariable.

Virilis, & hoc virile, pen. prod. Opus virile. Cicero. Of a man: manly: valiant: ſtoute.
¶ Virilis animus. Ter. Cic. A ſtoute and valiant courage: a manly hart.
Magis virilis. Quint.
Parum virile eſt. Cic. It is no manly part: it is not comely for a ſtoute man.
Cura virilis. Virg. The care of a man at full age.
Videremur aliquid doloris virilis habuiſſe. Cic.
Forma virilis. Ouid.
Habitus orationis virilis. Quint. A pithie and ſubſtantiall maner of ſtile.
Ignaculus virilis. Cic. An inſtinction or token of manlineſſe appearing in a childe.
Fortis ac virilis laterum inflexio. Cic.
Oculi viriles. Ouid.
Officium virile. Hor. A charge meete for a man.
Oratio fortis & virilis Cic. Pithie and graue talke, or maner of ſtyle meete for a man.
Pars virilis. Cic. That portion or part that one man hath.
Eſt aliqua mea pars virilis, quòd eius cruciatis ſum, quam ille amplam, illuſtrem, claramque reddidit. Cicer. I haue my portion or part, &c.
Partes viriles mandare puero. Horat. To commit to a child that which is the part of a man to doe.
Pro virili parte. Cic. So much as I can: as much as lyeth in me: to the vttermoſt of my part.
Pro virili portione. Tac. For his part or portion: ſo much as lyeth in him to doe.
Proles virilis. Virg. Iſſue male.
Ratio fortis & virilis. Cic.
Sexus virilis, aut ſtirps. Plin. The male kinde: iſſue male.
Studia virilia. Ouid. Manly exercises.
Tela virilia. Ouid.
Toga virilis, Vide TOGA.
Vox virilis. Cic. Veſtis virilis. Hor.
Vultus. Ouid. A manly countenance.
¶ Vocare aliquos ad virilia. Saluſt. To call men to manly and valiant affayres.

Virilitas, pen. cor. virilitâtis, ſ.g.e. Mart. Manlineſſe. The pryme part of a man. A mans genitories. The yarde.
Fouetur vino caldo virilitas iumentis. Plin.
Ademptæ virilitatis homo, Vide ADIMO.
Exciſa virilitas. Quint. Gelded.

Virilia, virilium, pluraliter tantum, Idem. Pli. The priuy members.

Viriliter, pen. cor. Aduerb. Cicer. Manly: valiantly: with a manly ſtomacke: like a ſtoute man.
Viriliter & magno animo. Cic.
Defendere viriliter. Quint. Facere viriliter. Hor.
Fortuna ferenda viriliter. Ouid.

Viritim, pen. prod. Aduerb. Liu. Man by man: of euery man: man after man: particularly.
Viritim diuidere. Cic. Pecus viritim diſtribuit. Cæſ.
Rumor viritim percrebuit. Curt. The rumour, going from man to man, increaſed.

Viritim dimicare. Curt. To fight man for man.
¶ In vniuerſum de ventis diximus, nũc viritim incipiemus illos excutere. Sen. We haue ſpoken generally of windes, now we will begin to diſcuſſe them particularly.

Virôſus, Adiectiuum à vir, primam corripit. Perfect of man: luſtful after mã. vt Virolæ mulieres, dicuntur virorum appetentes, vel luxurioſæ. Lucil. Wote women luſting much after the company of man.

Viro, aui, are. To make ſtrong.

Viroſus, à Virus, primam producit, Vide VIRVS.

Virectum, & Vireo, Vide VIRIDIS.

Vireo, vireônis, p.p.m.g. Auis. Pli. The bird called a witwal.

Vires, virium, &c. Vide VIS.

Virésco, Virétum, Vide VIRIDIS.

Virga, virgæ. Cic. A rod: a yarde.
Signatus tenui media inter cornua virga. Ouid. Hauyng a ſmall blacke ſtrike along betweene the hornes, all the reſidue being white.
Lentior virgis ſalicis. Ouid. Then wirgen twigs.
Arbuteis virgis texunt feretrum. Virg.
Aurea virga. Virg.
Cornea virga, Vide Corneus in CORNVS.
Fraxina virga. Ouid. Medicata virga. Ouid.
Rafæ haſtilia virgæ. Virg.
Teneras adhuc & graciles virgas complicare. Colum. To wraye togither yeng and ſmall twigs.
Viſcata virga fallere volueres. Ouid. With lime rods.
Cædere virgis. Cic. To beate with rods.
Cædere aliquem virgis ad necem. Cic.
Lacerare aliquem virgis. Liu.
Morientur in tergo virgæ, Vide MORIOR.
Multari virgis Vide MVLTA.
Virga paſtoris. The herbe called Taleſſ.
¶ Virga thuris. Plin. A twig of a frankenſenſe tree.
Virga Cenſoria. Quint. Vide CENSORIVS.

Vírgula, virgulæ, pe. co. Diminut. Cic. A little rod or yarde.

Virgâtus, pen. prod. Adiect. That hath rods, or long raies or ſtrikes in it like rods. vt Virgatum ſagulum. Virg. That hath rayes or ſtrikes in it, as we ſee in buſtion.
Calathiſci virgati. Catul. Little peapers made of twigs.
Corpore virgato tigris. Sil. A tygre hauing his body full of long ſtrikes of diuers colours.
Tigres virgatæ. Sen.
Veſtes virgatæ auro. Silli. Garmentes made with rayes or ſtripes of golde.
Vbera virgata. Sen.

Virgultus pen. prod. Adiect. Idem. Plin.

Virgâtor, pen. prod. virgatôris m. gen. Plaut. He that beateth with rods.

Virgeus, Adiect. Virg. Of rods.
Virgeam ſepem interponere. Col.
Area virgea. Col. A little plat incloſed with rayles, rods or twigs.
Pabula virgea. Virg. Browſing of twigs giuen to beaſtes to feede on.
Flamma virgea. Virg. A fire made of twigs.

Virgétum, virgéti, pen. pro. Cic. A place where oſiars, twigs, or rods be ſet to bynde vines.

Virgulteum, virguleti, n.g. Plin. A yong ſhoote or ſpring ryſing out of the grounde.
Cornea virgulta. Virg.
Sonantia ſyluis virgulta. Virg.
Sylueſtria virgulta. Virg.
Tenera attondent ſimæ virgulta capellæ. Virg. The gotes browſe vpon the yong ſpringes of trees.
Noua virgulta in terram defodere. Lucret.
Reſonant auibus virgulta canoris. Virg.
Virgindemia. A gathering of oſiars to make bordes and other things.

Virgo, virginis, pen. cor. com. g. Quint. A virgin or mayde.
Adulta virgo. Cic.
Animoſa. Ouid. Aſpera. Virg.
Armata. Feſt. Bellica virgo, Pallas. Sil.
Caſſa virgo. Lore. Vide CASSVS.
Corrupta virgo. Ouid. Non frigida virgo. Ouid.
Iugatæ nondũ thalamis virgines. Maidens not yet maried.

Iuncea virgo, Vide IVNCVS.
Laudatiſſima virgo dote formæ. Ouidius. A maydens moſt worthy dowrie, is hir fauoure, or a mayde excellently ſet forth with fauour.
Matura virgo. Hor. A mayden mariable.
Matura viro virgo, Vide MATVRVS.
Nitidæ virgines. Hor.
Nobilis virgo in omne ævum. Hor.
Pulcherrima virgo. Ouid. Regia. Ouid.
Sanctæ virgines. Hor. Religious maydens nunnes.
Teneræ virgines. Hor.
¶ Abſtinere virgine. Ter.
Comprimere virginem, Vide COMPRIMO.
Rapere ad virum virginem. Catul.
¶ Virgo, pro Muliere. Hor. A maried woman.
¶ Virgo equa. Plin. A mare neuer hoſed.
Virgines carnes. Plin.
Virguncula. A little mayde.
Virginâlis, & hoc virginâle, pen. prod. Pertaining to a virgin: maydenly.
Virginalis modeſtia. Cic. Maidenly modeſtie.
Virginalis habitus atque veſtitus. Cic.
Ploratus virginalis. Cic. Weeping like a mayde.
Virginali verecundia homo. Cic. A man of maydenly modeſtie.
Virginárius, Adiect. Idem. Plaut.
Virgineus, Aliud adrectuum, Idem. Plin.
Ætas virginea. Pli. Youth: maydens age: time of virginitie.
Agmen virgineum. Claud. A company of maydens.
Artus virginei. Ouid. Chorus virgineus. Ouid.
Facies virgineæ. Virg. Pudor virgineus. Tibul.
Forma virginea puer. Ou. Rubor. Virg.
Habitus virginei. Ouid. Timor. Ouid.
Luſus virginei. Ouid.
Vultus virginei. Ouid. Maydenly lookes.
Virginitas, pen. cor virginitâtis, ſ.g. Cic. Virginitie: chaſtitie. maydenhoode: puſillage.
Ille meæ ſpoliũ virginitatis habet. Ouid. He hath my maidenhead: he hath defloured me.
Matura toris virginitas. Stat. Maryable ſtate of maydens.
Perpetua virginitas. Ouid. Seuera virginitas. Ouid.
Carens virginitate. Ouid. That is defloured.
Erepta virginitas. Virg. Deflouring.
Libata virginitas. Ouid. Maydenhead ſomewhat diſtained.
Patet virginitas mea Phœbo. Ouidius. My virginitie is at Phœbus his commaundement.
Raptæ virginitatis præmia. Ouid.
Reſoluta virginitas. Plin. Virginitie let go.
Viria, viriæ: vel Viriola, viriolæ, ſ.g. pen. cor. Paul. An ornamẽt with grene pꝛecious ſtones in it, to weare about ỹ neck.
Lineas duas ex margaritis, & viriolas ex ſmaragdis. Iabol.
Viriculum, viriculi, n.g. pe. cor. Pli. A certaine kind of darts.
Viridis, & hoc viride, pe. cor. Virg. Grene: luſty: freſh: new: luſtie: ſtrong.
Ætas viridis. Col. Luſty youth.
Acuum viride. Ouid. Idem.
Animi virides auſis. Sil. Luſty harts couragious to attempt enterpꝛiſes.
Flore viridiſſimo puella. Catullus. A mayden in the chiefe flore of hir beautie.
Iuuenta viridis. Virg. Lively youth.
Cruda ac viridis ſenectus. Virg. Luſty and ſtrong olde age.
¶ Viride. Cic. Greene of colour.
Aquæ virides. Ouid. Cæſpes viridis. Virg.
Color viridis. Ouid.
Creta viridis. Vitru. Greene earth.
Gemma ingratè viridis. Pli. Hauing an vnpleaſant greene colour.
Gemmæ acriter virides. Pli. Of a hyght greene colour.
Gramen viride. Virg. Herba viridis. Virg.
Humus viridis. Ouid.
Lapilli virides. Hor. Smaragdes: Emeraudes.
Lentiſcus ſemper viridis. Cic.
Ligna viridia atque humida. Cic.
Pratum viride. Ouid.
Ripa viridiſſima gramine. Virg.

Smaragdi virides. Ouid. Greene emeraudes.
Lux viridis ſmaragdi. Lucret.
Veſtitus ripárum viridiſſimi. Cic.
Vmbra viridis. Virg. The ſhadow of greene trees.
Viridè, Aduerb. Greenely: ſomewhat with a greene colour. vt
Gemma viridè pallens. Plin. Hauing a paie greene colour.
Viridius virere. Plin.
Viridans, pen. co. viridantis, om. g. Virg. That is greene.
Gramina viridantia. Stat. Lux viridans fluuij. Plin.
Toro viridante conſederat. Virg. He ſat downe on a greene banke.
Vireo, vires, virui, virêre. pen. prod. Virg. To be greene: to be luſty and flouriſhing.
Nemus omne viret. Virg. Is greene.
Genua virent. Hor. His knees are ſtrong.
Pectora felle virent. Ouid.
Virens, Particip. Being greene or flouriſhyng. vt Actii flore virens. Sil. Being luſty in the flowre of his youth.
Maligně virens, Vide, MALVS.
Agelli virentis cultor. Hor. Of the greene field.
Perpetuò virens buxus. Ouid.
Campi virentes. Hor. Edera virens. Hor.
Herbæ virentes. Ouid.
Stagna virentia muſco. Virg.
Syluæ virentes. Catul.
Virido, aui, are. To make greene.
Vireſco, vireſcis, viréſcere. Plin. To ware greene: to begin to flouriſh.
Prima quum parte vireſceret ævi. Claud. When he began to come to the flower of his age.
Gramina vireſcunt. Virg.
Viriditas, pen. cor. viriditâtis, ſ.g. Cic. Greeneneſſe.
Amittere viriditatem. Cic. To leeſe the greeneſſe.
¶ Viriditas. Cic. Luſtineſſe: ſtrength: manlineſſe.
Viridarium, viridarij, n.g. Suet. A greene place incloſed, wher in beaſts and foules are kept. Alſo a garden of pleaſure.
Viridárius, Adiect. Belonging to a garden or greene place. vnde Viridarij ſeruũ. Vlp. Seruauntes keeping an orcharde or garden.
Virétum, ſiue Virectum, n.g. Virg. A greene place.
Viridicatus, pen. prod. Adiect. Cic. Made greene.
Virilis, Viripotens, Viritim, &c. Vide VIR.
Viroſa mulier, Vide VIR.
Viroſus, Vide VIRVS.
Virtus, virtûtis, ſ.g. pe. pro. Cic. Vertue: ſtrength: puiſſance valiantneſſe: manlineſſe: manhoode: powelle: power. pelpe. Merite or deſert.
Bellandi virtus in perfecto Imperatore quærenda eſt. Cic. manlineſſe in warrefarre, &c.
Actuoſa virtus, Vide Actuoſa vita in AGO.
Animoſa. Sil. Stoute manhoode.
Ardua. Stat. Atrox. Sil.
Arguta. Plaut. Bellica. Cic.
Aſpera. Sil. Crudelis. Stat.
Damnoſa alicui virtus. Ouid. Valiantneſſe prouyng hurtful to one. Effera virtus. Val. Flac.
Expertæ virtutis homo. Tac. A man of tryed vertue.
Fetox vitus. Virg.
Feruida. Catul. Ignea. Lucan.
Horrida. Stat. Indomita. Sen.
Maior poſt otia virtus. Stat.
Spectata virtus belli domique. Hor. Vertue and manhoode tryed both in peace and warre.
Temeraria virtus nocet. Ouid. Velox virtus. Sil.
Viuida bello virtus. Virg.
¶ Affirmare armis virtutem. Tac.
Conniti virtute, Vide CONNITOR.
Defendere terr. m patriam armis ac virtute. Lucret. With power of hand: and manhoode.
Egreſſa modum virtus. Stat. Manhoode paſſing meaſure.
Fracta virtus. Hor. Courage abated.
Frænata iuuenum virtus quieuit. Stat.
Mira manuum poſſimq; virtute fretus. Lucret. Truſting to his marueylous ſwifteneſſe of foote, and ſtrength of hande.
Bona virtus exilio punita. Sil.
Præſtans virtute. Virg.

Seneſcit

Seneſcit virtus euicta veneno deſidiæ. Sil. Courage and manhoode poyſoned with idleneſſe, decayeth.
Locum virtute ſecundum tenere. Virg.
¶ Virtute tua. Plaut. By the ayde and helpe.
¶ Arboris vel equi virtus. Cic The ſtrength, &c.
Virtute formæ id euenit, ut vt deceat quicquid habeas. Plaut. By the grace of thy ſauor and beauty it commeth to paſſe, &c.
Mercis virtus. Plaut. The value of the ware.
Verbi vel dictionis virtus. Ci. The ſtrength & ſignification, &c.
Vis & virtus dicendi. Cic. The ſtrength and grace of, &c.
Orationum virtutes. Quint. The graces of a ſtile.
Diſputatrix virtus. Quint.
¶ Virtus. Cic. Perfection. In ſenſibus eſt ſua cuiuſque virtus. Cic.
¶ Virtus. Cic. Authoꝛitie.
¶ Virtus. Cic. Vertue.
Omnia ſumma conſequutus eſt virtute duce, comite fortuna. Cic.
Virtus eſt per ſe ipſa laudabilis, & ſine qua nihil laudari poteſt. Cic.
Virtus animi. Cic.
Vir ſingulari virtute præditus. Cic.
Singularis & præſtantiſſima virtus P. Lentuli. Cic.
L. Prio qui tanta virtute atque integritate fuit: vt, &c. Cicer. Which was of ſo great vertue and integritie, that, &c.
Pro tuis maximis, clariſſimiſque virtutibus. Cic.
Ornatus virtutibus. Cic.
Virtutibus dignum Conſulatu iudicare alterum. Cic.
Macte virtute, Vide MACTO.
Inuia virtuti nulla eſt via. Ouid. Vertue will paſſe euery way.
Aditus virtutis. Stat.
Præmium virtutis eſt gloria. Cic.
Seculum virtutum ſterile. Tac.
¶ Acris animi virtus. Lucret.
Æterna virtus, Vide AETERNVS.
Ardua virtus. Virg. Earneſt vertue.
Ardens virtus. Hor.
Ciuiles virtutes. Quint.
Clara & inſignis virtus alicuius poſteris, Vide INSIGNIS.
Egregia virtus. Cic.
Gloriola & memorabilis virtus. Cic.
Non eſt immunis virtus, Vide IMMVNIS.
Inexplebilis virtutis veræq; laudis homo. Li. A man that can not be ſatiſfied with vertue and noble praiſe.
Ingens virtus. Hor. Iugatæ virtutes. Cic.
Semper ſola libera eſt virtus. Cic.
Manca virtus. Cic.
Durior eſt conditio ſpectatæ virtutis, quàm incogitatæ. Brutus. Cic.
Veræ virtutis cuſtos. Hor.
¶ Accedere virtuti, Vide ACCEDO.
Adhibere virtutem, Vide ADHIBEO.
Adoleuit virtus, Vide ADOLEO.
Amittere virtutem. Cic. Amplexari virtutem. Cic.
Amplificare virtutem laudibus. Cic.
Capere virtutem. Plaut.
Certare virtute Virgiliana. Plin.
Confidere virtuti. Cic. To haue a confidence in his vertue.
Conteſtata virtus, Vide CONTESTOR.
Viam virtutis deſerere. Hor. To forſake the trade of vertue.
Eminere virtutibus. Quint.
Extendere virtutem factis. Virg. To increaſe his glory by noble actes.
Exuere virtutem. Tac. To caſt of vertue.
Præ ſe virtutem ferre. Quint.
Fingere virtutes. Tac.
Habere & perdere virtutem. Cic.
Iacent virtutes, Vide IACEO.
Imminuta virtus. Cic. Inchoare virtutem. Cic.
Inuoluere ſe ſua virtute. Hor. To arme himſelfe with his owne vertue and hold himſelfe content therewith, not looking for fortunes ayde.
Nulla vi labefactari poteſt virtus. Cic.
Laborare virtute ac ſtudijs. Quint. To indeuour, &c.
Locare virtutem, Vide Loco, locas, in LOCVS.
Studium virtutis monſtrare alicui. Stat.

Mulcare virtutem morte. Quint. To put one to death for a vertuous acte.
Obſoleſcit virtus, Vide Obſoleſco in OBSOLEO.
Ornatus ex ſuis virtutibus. Ter. Dreſſed in his colours.
Præſtare virtute. Cic.
Repræſentare virtutem alicui. Hora.
Retinere virtutem. Tac. To keepe his vertue.
Parem eſſe alicui virtute. Ouid.
Superare virtute dolores. Ouid.
Virtus virtute ſuperatur. Cic.
¶ Virtutes pro vitijs, per ironiam aliquando ponuntur. Te.
¶ Virtus. Quint. Appoꝛtertie.
Virus, priore prod. Indeclinabile, n.g. Pli. A vehement ranke, and rammiſh ſauor, as vnder ones armepits: poyſon: venime.
Viro, Ablatiuus. Lucret.
Inghuie natum virus extinguere vnguento. Plin. With ſome ſweete perfume to take away the yll ſauour of a ſtinking breath ingendred of glutonie.
Virus paludis. Col. The ſtinking ſauour of, &c.
Amatorium virus. Plin. A drinke or medicine giuen to make one in loue.
Dirum virus. Lucan. Furiale virus. Claud.
Edax virus. Ouid. Graue virus. Hor.
Ingenitum corpori virus, Vide INGIGNO.
Ingratum virus. Plin.
Lethale virus. Sil.
Lunare virus. Luc. A womans termes cõming euery month.
Malum virus. Virg. Venime: poyſon.
Mortiferum virus. Cic. Deadly poyſon.
Nigrum. Virg. Nocens virus. Ouid.
Noctium virus eructare. Colu. To belke out hurtfull poyſon.
Peſtiferum. Ouid. Peſtilens. Col.
Rutilum. Lucan.
Terrum. Lucret. Vipereum. Mart.
Adijcere virus alicui. Virg. To poyſon one.
¶ Virus per metaphoram. Plin. Euill ſente or taſte: bitterneſſe: a ſtinking ſmacke.
Virus aquæ marinæ. The bitter taſte of, &c.
Stannum, illitum æreis vaſis ſaporem grauiorem facit, & compeſcit æruginis virus. Plin. The ſtincking ſmacke, &c.
Anquirac aliquẽ, apud quẽ cuomat virus acerbitatis ſuę. C. To whom he may vtter the diſpleaſantneſſe of his griefe.
¶ Virus. Plin. Colour. vt, Tum ſuper additum decoquitur virus. Plin. Then the colour and iuice of the purple, &c.
¶ Virus. Plin. The humor of generation in beaſtes: the ſeede.
Lentum diſtillat ab inguine virus. Virg.
Virulentus, Adiect. Gell. Venimous: full of poyſon: ſtinking of an euill taſte.
Viroſus, pen. prod. Aliud adiect. Virg. Of ill ſauour or taſte: full of poyſon.
Vis, huius, vis, producte, hanc vim: Pluraliter nominatiuo vis, acculatiuo vis, vocatiuo vis, apud veteres, nunc ab omnibus ſingulari dicimus hæ vires, virũ, viribus, &c. Vir. Strength: might: power: puiſſence: poſſibilitie: vertue: efficacie: effect. Violence: compulſion. Abundance: multitude.
Noſtra omnis vis in animo & corpore ſita eſt. Salust.
Vis & copia. Cic.
Vis & effectus radicum. Ci. The vertue or ſtrength and efficacie of rootes.
Vis & facultas oratoris. Cic. The whole profeſſion and arte of an Orator, that he vnderſtandeth to medole with.
Vis & natura rei. Cic. The ſtrength and nature.
Vi ac neceſſitate coacti, inuiti. &c.
Qui vim tantam in me, & poteſtatem habeam tantæ aſtutiæ. Ter. Which haue in me ſo great ſtrength of wit, and am ſo well able to make this craftie deuice.
¶ Vis amicitiæ eſt in animorum conſenſione. Ci. The whole effi. acie of friendſhip is in the conſent of mindes.
Ni vis homi in ipſa [illegible] Where there is not a good naturall grace in the beautie it ſelfe.
Canthuridis vis. Cic. Magna vis eſt conſcientiæ. Cic.
Eloquentiæ vires. Quint.
Frigoris vis. Cic. The force and vehemẽcie of cold.
Ingenij vis. Cic. The ſtrength and liuelineſſe of wit.
Magiſtratus vis. Cic. The power of the magiſtrate.

Mꝛborum

Morborum vis.Tac. Morbi vis excita.Lucret.
Imperus & vis orationis,Cic
Quod oſtentũ habuit hanc vim, vt Dionyſius paucis pôſt diebus regnare cœperit. Cice. Which miraculous ſignification was of ſuch force and effect,that,&c.
Potſtatis vis.Cic. Veneni vis.Cic.
Verborum vis.Cic. The ſtrength and ſignification of wordes.
Vis magna in fortuna ad res ſecundas vel aduerſas. Cic. Fortune may doe much, or is of great force,&c.
Vis in verbis.Cic. The pithie ſignification in wordes.
Vis in manibus,Cic. Dicendi vis.Quint.
Loquendi vis & norma.Horat.
Percipiendi vis.Quint.
Infirmitas virium, Vide INFIRMVS.
Ad portionem virium. Plin. According to the ſtrength that he hath.
Audax viribus, Vide AVDAX.
Editior viribus.Horat. Stronger.
Inferior viribus.Ouid. Not ſo ſtrong.
Inuicti viribus.Virg. Prædurus viribus,Virg.
Omnibus opibus viribuſque elaborandum eſt.Cic.
Omnibus viribus atque opibus repugnandum eſt.Cic.
¶ Agreſtes & horridæ vires.Cic.
Ardens vis fulminis Lucret.
Auxiliaris vis, Vide Auxiliaris in AVXILIOR.
Blanda vis dei noctiuagi.Stat. Pleaſant ſleepe.
Cæleſtis vis,Cic. Diuine force.
Concalefactoria vis, Vide Concalefactorius in CONCALEFACIO
Coniuncta vis,Cic.
Dura.Virg. Horrida vis lethi.Lucret.
Exeſa vis luminis.Tac. Humana vis.Virg.
Exiguæ vires ingenij.Ouid. Ignea vis cœli.Ouid.
Examꝫ vis.Cic. Imperioſiſſima vis.Quin.
Firmæ vires.Ouid. Inuita vis ventis.Lucre.
Furiatæ vires.Sil. Ingens vis rerum.Quin.
Inimica vis Parcarum propinquat.Virg.
Inuahidæ vires.Ouid.
Magna vis nocendi.Ouid. Morbida,Vide MORBVS.
Maiores vires. Plin. Mordax.Plin.
Maximis viribus vir.Cic. Mortifera.Lucret.
Malefica vis.Plin. Occulta.Quint.
Occultis viribus egregius fons. Iuuen. A fountaine excellent for ſome pryuie and vnknowne operation.
Prædurae vires.Claud.
Solida ac virilis ingenij vis,Quint.
Summa vi. Plaut. With all my might and power: to the vttermoſt that one can.
Summa vi hanc defendam.Ter. I will defend this woman with all that euer I can.
Tacita vis.Quint. Veſanæ vires.Ouid.
Temperata.Hor. Violentæ.Lucret.
Vaſtæ vires.Virg. Violenta vis leonum.Lucret.
Vera vis,Quint. Viuida vis animi.Lucret.
¶ Abolere vires.Tac.
Abrogare vires beneficijs, Vide ABROGO.
Abſcedant vires.Stat.
Abſtinere vim ab aliquo. Hor. To forbeare to vſe any violence towarde one: not to lay violent handes on one.
Abſtulerat vires corporis ipſe timor.Ouid.
Ira abſumit vires morã. Ouid. Anger by delay loſeth his force, or diminiſheth.
Abuti viribus corporis.Cic.
Accipere vim,& vires. To take ſtrength. Vide ACCIPIO.
Acquirere vires.Virg.
Nouas vires acquirere.Lucan.
Adijcere vires, Vide ADIICIO.
Admit dolor vires, Vide ADIMO.
Admouere vim, Vide ADMOVEO.
Summis adnixus viribus.Virg. Indeuouring with all his force, or all that euer he coulde.
Robuſtis viribus adoleuit æras.Lucret.
Natura atque ingenium ad dicẽdum vim afferunt maximam. Cic. Nature and wit be of great efficacie,or helpe very much to eloquence.
Agere pro viribus.C. To do for his power,or ſo much as he cã.
Alere vires.Cæſ. Ventus amittit vires.Lucan.

Aſſumpſit vires flamma.Ouid. Augentur vires.Ouid.
Augere vires eloquentiæ.Quint.
Capere vires, Vide CAPIO.
Carpere vires, Vide CARPO.
Aegra animo vis, ac fiducia ceſſit.Stat.
Colligere vires,Vide COLLIGO.To gather ſtrength:to ware ſtrong: to increaſe.
Colligit vires ſibi amor vſu.Ouid. Increaſeth.
Concipere vires, Vide CONCIPIO.
Flumina concipiunt vires.Ouid.
Occultas vires concipiunt terræ. Virg. Conceiue pryuie operations.
Conferre vires in vnum, Vide CONFERO.
Conſilus viribus.Iuuen.
Fortuna vires ipſa conſumpſit ſuas.Sen.
Concendere viribus inter ſe.Lucret.
Validis viribus contorſit haſtam. Virgil. He flang the iauelin mightily or with great ſtrength.
Conuulſus vi dominationis.Tac. With the force of,&c.
Decedunt vires, Vide DECEDO.
Deficiunt vires.Cic. His ſtrength faileth him.
Quum me vires deficere cœpiſſent.Ci. When my ſtrength began to faile me.
Defici viribus.Quint. To become weake and faint.
Inſanis viribus Auſtri deiecta trabs. Oui. With the outragious blaſting.
Demittere ad vnum auditorem vim dicendi.Quint.
Deſiderare vires adoleſcentis.Cic.
Diſtracta vis animæ per artus. Lucret. The ſtrength and efficacie of the ſoule deuided thorough all the body.
Dare vim, vel vires.Cic.
Dare vires alicui in rem aliquam. Ouid. To giue one ſtrength to doe a thyng.
Domare vires alicuius.Sen.
Effundere vires ſuas in aliquo. Ouid. To vtter and beſtow all hys ſtrength vpon.
Effindere vires in ventum.Virgil. To giue a great ſtroke, and miſſe of that he ſtriketh at.
Eneruare vires alicuius Hor. Eniti viribus.Virg.
Excellere aliquem viribus. Cic. To be ſtronger.
Exercere vires. Cic. Experire vires alicuius.Ou.
Explorare vires alicuius.Sta. Firmare vires.Virg.
Fractæ vires Danaũm.Vir. The power of the Grecians abated.
Frangere vim alicuius. Quint.
Effrœnæ frigent in corpore vires. Virg.
Fundare vires alicuius.Sen.
Gerere res viribus. Cic.
Habere vires alicuius.Cic. To be as ſtrong as one:to haue his ſtrength.
Habere vim dicendi. Cic. To haue good eloquence.
Si habeant hanc vim,vt ſi digitus concrepuerint,&c.Cicer. If they haue this power.
Maiorem vim ad deterrendum habuit, quàm ad cohortandũ. Cic. It was of more efficacie.
Has literas velim exiſtimes ſcederis habituras eſſe vim. Cic.
Impendere vim ſuam in rem aliquam, Quint.
Incutere vim, Vide INCVTIO.
Infringere magnas vires alicuius. Propert.
Infringere vim militum. Cæſ.
Inſtigat & alit vires quies tempeſtiua.Stat.
Intendere vim. Tac. To increaſe or augment ſtrength.
Intendere vim rebus. Qu. To increaſe the ſtrength of thinges.
Laborare vitio virium. Quint.
Langueſcit vis. Quint.
Metiatur ac diligenter æſtimet vires ſuas actor. Quin. Let the pleader meaſure & diligently ponder what he is able to doe.
Miniſtrare vires alicui. Virg. To giue ſtrength.
Minuuntur vires amoris. Ouid.
Propria viniti. Virg.
Obtuſi ceciderunt viribus artus. Lucret.
Occupare orbem viribus. Virg.
Superbas vires oſtentare. Stat.
Vindictbus pacatus viribus orbis. Ouid.
Parare vim, Vide PARO.
Indomitas vires poſuere incendia. Virg. The rage of the fire aſſwaged.

Progredi

Progredi viribus ſuis ſine adminiculo. Quint. To proceede of hys owne ſtrength without any helpe.
Proſterni ſuis viribus. Quin.
Viribus ac lacertis pugnare. Cic. To be bozne downe with his owne violence.
Validis viribus æui quaſſatum eſt corpus. Lucret.
Recipere ſuas vires. Celſ. To recouer his ſtrength.
Recreat vires cibus. Lucret.
Recuperatis cibo ſomnóque viribus. Tac. After they had with meate and ſleepe refreſhed themſelues.
Reparat vires alterna requies. Sen.
Reſoluere vires. Lucret.
Reſtituere vires per vinum. Celſ. To reſtore ſtrength agayne with wine.
Retinere omni vi. Cæl. Cic. To hold or ſtay with all his force.
Reuocare vires victu. Virg. To refreſh and ſtrengthen againe himſelfe with meate and drinke.
Seruare vim ſuam. Quint.
Solidæ vires ſuo ſtant robore. Virg.
Subducere vires alicui. Ouid. To weaken one, or take away his ſtrength.
Suggerere vim occultam. Quint. To giue a pryuie ſtrength or efficacie.
Bonis viribus eſſe, Vide BONVS.
Sumunt vires incendia. Horat. The fire increaſeth or waxeth more vehement.
Superare viribus aprum. Hor. To be ſtronger,&c.
Suſcitare vim ira. Virg. To make more ſtrong by anger.
Suſtinere omnibus viribus. Cic.
Temperare vires ſuas. Quint.
Torpent infractæ ad prælia vires. Virg.
Torquere lacertis & viribus. Cic.
Tueri vires. Celſ. To preſerue and maintaine ſtrength.
Valere viribus. Virg. Vigent vires. Lucret.
Vti viribus per cluos. Hor.
Armorum viribus vſus. Ouid.
Vtorandi viribus. Quint.
¶ Odora canum vis, Vide ODOR.
¶ Vis. Virg. Violence: force: compulſion.
Expers conſilij vis. Hor. Armatorum vis. Cic.
Vis & violentia. Cic. Ingens vis pelagi. Lucan.
Vis maior. Plin. A greater tempeſt: more tempeſtuous and blaſtering weather.
Si cæli maior vis inceſſit. Colu. If there followed more tempeſtuous weather.
Vis diuina, Idem. Vlp. A great tempeſt.
Abducere vi aliquem. Ci. Adacta vis mortis. Lucret.
Adhibere vim. Cic. To vſe violence or compulſion: to enforce.
Adhibere vim pactionis. Cic.
Afferre vim mulieri. Cic. To rauiſh a woman.
Agere vi, Vide AGO.
Auellere vi. Cic. To pull away by ſtrong hand.
Auferre per vim, Vide AVFERO.
Cogere vi & minis. Cic. Decutere vi. Plin.
Defendere vim, Vide DEFENDO.
Defendere vim vi. Cic. By violence: to put away violence: by force to defend himſelfe againſt force.
Denunciare vim alicui. Cic. To manace: to beate one.
Deponunt vim ſuam æquora. Ouid. The ſeas ware caulme.
Per vim datus. Cic.
Facere vim alicui. Cic. To vſe violence towarde one.
Vi facere imperium, & Amicitia adiungere, contraria. Ter.
Ferre vim alicui. Virg. To vſe violence towarde one: to lay violent handes on.
Fracta vis & debilitata. Cic.
Imponere alicui vim, Vide IMPONO.
Inferre alicui vim. Quint. To vſe violence towarde: to kill: to beate.
Inferre vim & manus alicui, Vide INFERO.
Paratus ad vim. Ouid.
Perferre aliquid vi eadem. Quint.
Viſuperum. By the inforcemẽt, compulſiõ or power of the gods.
Fit via vi. They make a way by ſtrong hand.
Auro vi potitur. Virg. Acrior vis rapit me. Hor.
Vim vi repellere. Cic. To reſiſt force by force.
Per vim ſtuprare. Cic.

Vim ſuſcipere contra Rempub. Cicer. To attempt violence and force againſt the common weale.
Victus vi. Virg.
¶ Vis. Cic. Multitude: abundance.
Vis frumenti. Cæſ. A great abundance or ſubſtãce of corne.
Vis ſeminum magna. Cic.
Vis militum. Cic. A multitude of ſouldiours.
Magna vis auri & argenti. Ci. A great ſubſtance: or a great ſumme of,&c.
Equorum vis. Cic. Lachrymarum infinita vis. Cic.
Maxima vis ranunculorum. Cic. A great companie or multitude of frogs.
Continet mens vim maximam optimarum rerum. Cic.
Vis negotij. Plaut. Great buſineſſe.
Viſceratio, Viſceror, &c. Vide VISCVS, viſceris.
Viſcus, viſci, m.g. & Viſcum, viſci. Plin. Birdlime.
Viſco tactus ſum vehementer. Plau. I am greatly entangled or glewed.
In viſco inhæreſcere. Ci. To hang or be faſt in the birdlime.
Sequaci viſco correpta auis. Val Flac.
Oblinere ſe viſco. Var. To smeare it ſelfe with birdlime.
Viſcum. Virg. Birdleden.
Viſcãtus, pen. prod. A diect. Var. Beſmeared with birdlime: limed: taken with birdlime.
Alæ viſcatæ. Ouid. Birdes wings limed.
Virga viſcata fallere volucres. Ouid. With lime twigs.
Viſcata munera, & Hamata, pro eodem. Plin. iun. Limed gifts and preſents giuen to haue greater profite.
Viſcus, viſceris, pen. cor. n.g. Vir. All the fleſh that is betwene the ſkin and the bone. Alſo the chiefe intrals of a mã or beaſt, as the heart, ſpleene, lunges, liuer,&c.
Tetra viſcera. Lucret.
Dirripiunt auidæ viſcera noſtra feræ. Ouid. Our fleſh.
Inhæret in viſceribus id malum. Cic.
Liquefacta viſcera. Virg. Rotten fleſh or bowels.
Mandere viſcus. Suet.
-de putri viſcere paſſim Florilegæ naſcuntur apes. Oui.
Nudare viſcera. Virg. To flay the ſkin from the fleſh.
Patefacta viſcera per vulnus. Celſ. The bowels.
Salientia viſcera. Ouid. Soluere viſcera cultro. Sen.
Spumantibus viſceribus ardens. Iuuen. Being ſo angrie, or in ſuch a chaufe, that he ſometh withall.
Torrere viſcera. Virg. To roaſt fleſh.
Traiecit viſcera ferro. Ouid.
Periculum incluſum in venis, atque in viſceribus alicuius. Cicer.
¶ Viſcera montis. Virg.
Terræ viſcera. Oui. The bowels or inner partes of the earth.
Viſceratio, viſceratiónis, f.g. Li. A bole or diſtribution of rawe fleſh at the death of a rich man. Alſo the garbage that hunters giue their dogges.
Viſceror, aris, ari. To diſtribute raw meate.
Viſibilis, Viſio, Viſito, Viſo, &c. Vide VIDEO.
Viſum, viſi, Viſus, &c. Vide VIDEO.
Vita, vitæ, f.g. Cic. Life.
Abſurdum atque alienum à vita. Ter.
Blandimenta vitæ. Tac. Color vitæ. Vide COLOR.
Exiguum curriculum vitæ. Cic. Vide CVRRICVLVM.
Debito vitæ liberari. Curt. To die: to ende his life.
Delinimenta vitæ. Tac. Vide DELINIMENTA.
Exemplar vitæ, morúmque. Hor.
Expes vitæ. Tac. That hath no hope of life.
Integer vitæ ſceleriſque purus. Horat. Of inteer life and without vice.
Integritas vitæ anteactæ. Quinc.
Labes vitæ. Ouid. A ſpot or blemiſh of ones life.
Manifeſtus vitæ. Tac. Whom one ſeeth manifeſtly to be alme.
Perpetuitas vitæ. Cic. Continuall courſe of life.
Plenus vitæ. Lucr. Secũrus vitæ. Stat.
Series atra tuæ vitæ. Ouid. The foule courſe of thy life.
Solatia dulcia vitæ. Lucret.
Spatium vitæ. Quint. Summa breuis vitæ. Hor.
Spes vitæ Tac. Tædia vitæ. Ouid.
¶ Acerba vita, Vide ACERBVS.
Actuoſa, Vide AGO.

Amara

Amara.Cic.
Arida, Vide ARIDVS. Attenta, Vide ATTENDO.
Breuis eſt vita, curſus gloriæ ſempiternus.Cic. Beata.Horat.
Caræ vitæ lubrica.Stat. Celebs vita, Vide CAELEBS.
Conſtans & probata.Cic.
Crudelis.Virg. Fœdiſſima ac miſerrima.Cic.
Deformis.Stat. Fortunata.Horat.
Deſidis otia vitæ.Stat. Honeſta.Cic.
Dubia vita.Col. Illuſtris.Quint.
Dulcis, ſtabiliſque.Lucre.
Infeſta alicui, Vide INFESTVS.
Inculta & horrida.Cic. Iniuriоſa.Cic.
Innoxia.Cato. Inuſa.Ouid.
Iucunda.Horat. Licentior, Vide LICET.
Longa.Cic. Longinqua.Plaut.
Malitica.Tac. Maritima, Vide MARE.
Mea vita, Blandientis vox.Cic. My owne deares life.
Menſtrua.Cic.
Miſeræ vitæ breuiſſima portio.Iuuen.
Mœſta vita.Virg.
Mortalis.Virg. Pigræ vitæ obliuio.Stat.
Nitidior.Plin.
Precaria vita.Tac. Vide precaria.
Rapida.Perſ. Life ſwiftly paſſing away.
Rudis.Stat. Ruſtica.Quint.
Sanctiſſimè & honeſtiſſimè acta vita.Cic.
Severa.Ouid. Similis feris.Ouid.
Solitaria.Quint.
Solicitæ iucunda obliuia vitæ.Horat.
Turpis vita.Cic.
Turpis & nocens.Cic. Vitalis.Cic.
Vitioſa & flagitioſa.Cic. Vmbratilis & delicata.Cic.
Vmbratilis.Quint. Vrbana.Quint.

¶ Abire è vita, Vide ABEO.
Abrumpere vitam.Virg. Accipere vitam.Virg.
Addicere vitam, Vide ADDICO.
Addicta præmiis vita alicuius, Vide ADDICO.
Adducere ad vitam communem.Cic. To bring to the faction of common life.
Adimere vitam.Cic. To take ones life from him: to kill.
Auferre vitam.Terent. To giue life.
Agere vel agitare vitam. To leade his life. Vide AGO.
Agere vitam ſub dio, & trepidis in rebus.Horat.
Agere vitam puriter.Catul.
Amittere vitam. Author ad Heren.
Per ſummum dedecus vitam amittere.Cic. To die.
Amittere vitam in vndis.Horat.
Aſſignare vitam hominum rebus.Quint.
Limina vitæ attingere.Vir. To come into ỳ world: to be borne.
Auferre viram, Vide AVFERO.
Relliquias vitæ aufert ex membris.Lucret. It taketh away the reſidue of life that remaineth.
Carere vita.Cic. To be without life.
Cedere vita, & è vita, Vide CEDO.
Collocare ſe in vita meretricia, Vide COLLOCO.
Colere vitam.Plaut. To liue.
Committere vitam ventis, dicuntur nauigantes. Virg. To hazarde their life to the daunger of the windes.
Commorari in tam turpi vita.Cic.
Commutare vitam cum morte, Vide COMMVTO.
Comprobare vita & moribus.Cic. With his faction of life and behauiour to allow.
Concedere vitam, Vide CONCEDO.
Conceſſit vita per auras ad manes.Vir. His life vaniſhed away
Conferta vita voluptatum varietate, Vide CONFERCIO.
Conſtituere vitam.C. To chooſe and determine vpon ſome maner of life.
Conterere vitam in quærendo, Vide CONTERO.
Continetur vita corpore & ſpiritu.Cic. Life conſiſteth, &c.
Spatium vitæ decurrere.Oui. To paſſe ouer the race of his life.
Lumen vitæ decurſum.Lucret.
Defuncta corpora vitâ.Virg.
Degere vitam expertam thalami.Vir. To lead a lone life without an husbande.
Placidam ac pacatam degere vitam. Lucret. To leade a quyet and peaceable life.

Depactus vitæ terminus. Lucret. A certaine ende of life appointed.
Deferere vitam.Cic.
Deſeruit vita miſerum.Ouid. The wretched man died.
Dirigere vitam ad normam.Cic. To frame his life, &c.
Diſcedere è vita.Cic. To die: to depart out of life.
Diſpergere vitam in auras.Virg.
Dare vitam.Cic. Aeternam vitam dare.Virg.
Dare vitam alicui.Virg.
Ducere vitam.Virg. To liue: to leade his life.
Ducere vitam longius.Ouid. To liue longer.
Ducere vitam per omnia extrema.Virg.
Dulcem vitam ducere.Lucret.
Ingrata miſero ducenda eſt vita.Horat.
Edere vitam.Lucret. To die.
Effluit vita cum ſanguine, Vide EFFLVO.
Exſulit vitam ictus ſagittis.Sen. He being ſlaine with arrowes, ended his life.
Effundere vitam alicui.Ouid.
Eripere vitam homini.Sen. To kill.
Excolere vitam per artes.Virg.
Exhalare vitã ſub acerbo vulnere.Ou. With a grieuous wound to yeelde vp the ghoſt.
Exigere vitam.Terent. To paſſe ouer his life time.
Expellere aliquem vita.Cic. To kill one: to rid him out of life.
Expetere vitam.Cic.
Fructibus vitæ nunquam explemur.Lucret.
Extorquere vitam membris.Lucret.
Facere finem vitæ.Lucret. To ende his life.
Incommoda vitæ ferre.Iuuen.
Feſſus vita.Plin. Finire vitam enſe.Ouid.
Finire vitam.Tac. Frui vita.Cic.
Fudit vitam cum multo ſanguine.Virgil. He bled ſo much that he yeelded vp the ghoſt withall.
Senſus gubernant vitam.Lucret. Rule.
Gubernare vitam vera ratione.Lucret.
Guſtare amorem vitæ.Lucret.
Habere vitam ab aliquo.Cic.
Iacebat vita in tenebris ac mœrore. Lucret.
Impéndere vitam famæ.Sen. To beſtow his life to get renowne.
Impéndere vitam patriæ. Lucan. To beſtow and giue his life for his countrey.
Implere finem vitæ. Tac. To finiſh his life.
Incolere vitam, Vide INCOLO.
Limen vitæ inire. Lucret. To enter into life: to begin to liue.
Ingredi in vitam, Vide INGREDIOR.
Inſtituere vitam ſapienter, Vide INSTITVO.
Interficere aliquem vita, Vide INTERFICIO.
Interminari alicui vitam, Vide INTERMINOR.
Introire in vitam, Vide INTRORO.
Interare vitam à morte, Vide ITER.
Labefactare vitas hominum, Vide LABES.
Lacerare reliquias vitæ alicuius, atque diſtrahere, Vide lacer.
Largiri vitam. Plaut.
Lugere vitam hominum. Cic.
Mandare vitam fugæ, ſolitudiníque, Vide MANDO.
Manere in vita, Vide MANEO.
Manet vita. Virg. Mentiri ſibi vitam. Plin.
Metuo de vita, Vide METVO.
Migrare de vel ex vita, Vide MIGRO.
Via vitæ monſtrata eſt per carmina. Hor.
Moratur vita in membris. Lucret.
Nuncupata vita. Liu.
Obiectare vitam procellis. Clau. To hazarde his life on the ſea.
Pacifci vitam pro laude, Vide PACISCOR.
Pacifci vitam ab hoſte, Vide PACISCOR.
Palantis vitæ viam quærere. Lucret.
Palleſcere ſolitaria & velut vmbratili vita. Qui. To waſte pale with liuing ſolitarily and idlely allway in the houſe.
Parcere vitæ, Vide PARCO.
Tanquillæ vitæ ſemita per virtutem patet. Iuuen. Vertue is a high way to attaine a quiet life.
Pati à vita, Vide PATIOR.
Penetrare alicuius vitam ac famam. Tac.
Perdere vitam, Vide PERDO.
Perducere vitam. Plaut.

Diſcrimine

Diſcrimine vitæ coniugium petere. O. With danger of life.
Ponere ſibi finem vitæ. Tac.
Priuare vita aliquem. Lucret. To bereft one of his life.
Prodere vitam, Vide PRODO.
Producere vitam, Vide PRODVCO.
Producere ſpem vitæ. Tac. To liue in hope of life.
Profundere vitam pro re aliqua. Cic. To giue his life for a thing.
Prolatare vitam. Tac.
Propagare vitam, Vide PROPAGO, propaginis.
Propoſita vita telis, Vide PROPONO.
Redire ad vitam. Celſ. Relinquere vitam. Tac.
Reliquit cum vita. Lucret.
Relinquit vita artus. Ouid. Life departeth.
Retinere vitam, Vide RETINEO.
Rumpere vitam. Sil.
Serenare vitam. Luc. To make life more pleaſant and quiet.
Bræuis vitæ ſpatium fortitus. Ouid.
Spoliare vita aliquem. Virg.
Sic vita eſt hominum. Cicer. Such is the faſhion, life, or nature of men.
Liberioris vitæ iter ſumere. Ouidius. To enter a more free courſe of life.
Tenere vitam, & Vita tenetur, Vide TENEO.
Tolerare vitam ſimplici victu & agreſtibus pomis, profluenteque aqua. Tac. To nourith and maintaine his life: to finde himſelfe with, &c.
Tractare vitam. Lucret. To liue.
Traducere vitam. Brutus Cic. To paſſe ouer his life.
Trahere vitam in luctu. Virg. To leade his life in ſorow.
Trahere vitam in ſyluis. Virg. To liue in the woodes.
Trahere vitam in tenebris. Virg.
Tueri vitam, famámque. Hor.
Humanam vitam turbare ab imo. Lucret.
Viuere vitam. Cic. Viuere vita. Plaut.
¶ In vita mea. Cic. All my life time.
Integerrimè vitam agere. Cic. To leade a moſt entire life.
Ab incunte vita, Vide INEO, initis.
¶ Vitæ, in plurali, pro Moribus. Ter. Factions: manners.
¶ Tenues ſine corpore vitæ. Virg. Soules.
Vitalis, & hoc vitâle, pe. pr. That liueth: that hath or that giueth life: liuely: pertaining to the maintenance of life: vital.
Vitâle, cui opponitur Mortiferum. Liu. That giueth life.
¶ Aeuum vitale. Plaut.
Aura vitalis. Virg. The ayre wherby we liue.
Auxilium vitale. Lucret. Calor vitalis. Curt.
Salutaris & vitalis calor. Ci.
Fœtus vitalis, Vide FOETVS. That hath life.
Habitus vitalis. Plin. Vital breath.
Vitalis homo haud vnquam eſt ante ſeptimũ menſem. Pli. A childe before the ſeaueuth month, is neuer borne alyue.
Lumina vitalia. Cic. Motus vitalis. Plin.
Partus vitales edere. Plin. To bring forth yong alyue, and not egges as ſome thinges doe.
Ros vitalis Cic. The nurſes milke.
Sanguis vitalis. Plin. Wherein life conſiſteth.
Seculum vitale. Lucret.
Senſum vitalem reddere. Lucret.
Venæ vitales. Lucret.
Viæ vitales. Ou. The cundits by which liuely breath paſſeth.
Vincula vitalia. Val. Flac.
Caloris natura vim habet in ſe vitalem. Ci. Hath a certaine ſtrength to giue life.
Vitalis vita. Cic. A liuely life: a very life in deede.
¶ Vitalia capitis. Plin. The braine.
Vitalia. Lucan. The haer, lunges, liuer and braine: the vytall partes.
Nuda vitalia. Lucan.
Euerberata lamentationibus aſſiduis vitalia. Quint.
Ferire ac tueri vitalia. Quint. The vitall partes.
Artus vacui vitalibus. Lucan.
Vitalitas, pen.cor. vitalitâtis, f.g. pro Vita & vitali motu. Plin. Life: liuelineſſe.
Vitâliter, pen.cor. Aduerb. vt, Vitaliter animari. Lucret. To haue liuely or vitall motion.
Vitellus, huius vitelli, m.g. Hor. The yoke of an egge.

Crocei vitelli. Marr.
Mas vitellus. Hor. The yoke whereof a cocke is ingendred.
Vitellinus, na, num. Of, or like a yoke.
Vitex, viticis, pen.cor. f.g. Plin. Idem quod Agnus caſtus.
Vitiareum, Viticula, &c. Vide VITIS.
Vitiator, &c. Vide VITIO.
Vitiligator, pen.prod. vitiligatòris, m.g. Pli. An hatter: a whangler: a raueler.
Vitilitigo, vitilitigas, pen.cor. vitilitigâre. Pli. To backebite: to detract: to haſte.
Vitiligo, pe. prod. vitiliginis, f.g. Gell. A ſoulenеſſe of the body with ſpots of diuers colours.
Vitilis, & hoc vitile, pen.co. Plin. Pliant: flexible: meete to bynde with: that may be wounded.
Vitio, vitias, Vitioſus, Vitioſitas, &c. Vide VITIVM.
Vitis, huius vitis, f.g. Cic. A vine.
Propagatio vitium. Ci. The proyning or ſpreading of vines.
Putatio vitium. Cic. The cutting of, &c.
Putator vitis. Ouid. A cutter of a vine.
Vitis alba, quæ & Bryonia alba dicitur. Pli. The weede called wylde vine running vp in hedges, and winding about ſettes, hauing a leafe lyke a vine.
Almæ vites. Virg.
Arbuſtiua vitis, Vide ARBVSTVM.
Cicatricoſa, Vide CICATRIX. Fœcunda. Iuuen.
Inerticula, Vide INERS.
Inſana, Vide INSANVS.
Lenatæ vites, Vide LANA.
Lenta vitis. Virg.
Luxuriоſa, Vide LVXVS. Macrior. Col.
Miſcellæ vites, Vide MISCEO.
Moroſa vitis, Vide MOS. Nequam, Vide NEQVAM.
Nitis nigra. Pli. A weede commonly growing among herbs and binding them togither: hauing a leafe in faſhion lyke an Iuie.
Nodoſa. Iuuen. Obliqua. Col.
Obnoxia vitis procellis. Col.
Ordinaria, Vide Ordinarius in ORDO.
Pampineæ vites. Ouid. Perexilis vitis. Col.
Pergulana, Vide Pergulanus in PERGVLA.
Prælialidæ vites. Virg.
Purpureis de vitibus collectæ vuæ. Ouid.
Semiputata vitis. Virg. Vidua. Catul.
¶ Adaperire vites, Vide ADAPERIO.
Adiugare vitem, Vide ADIVGO.
Vlmis adiungere vites. Virg.
Aemulatur vitem vlmus. Plin.
Graudiæ munera vitis amans. Ouid.
Amicta vitibus vlmus. Hor.
Applicitæ vites arboribus. Quint.
Attondère vitem curuo dente Saturni. Virg.
Carbunculant vites. Plin. CARBVNCVLO.
Caſtrare vites. Cato. To cut a branch from a vine.
Colere vitem. Cic.
Committere vitem ſulco. Virg. To plant vines in forowes.
Compeſcere vitem, Vide CONPESCO.
Componere vitem in brachia, Vide COMPONO.
Grando contundit vites. Hor.
Curare vites. Virg. To dreſſe, &c.
Diſponere vites certo ſydere. Claud. To plant vines at a certaine time.
Vitis educat vuam. Catul. Enodare vitem. Cato.
Fluentes vites multo Baccho. Virg.
Immittere vitem ad vias parrendas, Vide IMMITTO.
Nouellas vites incidere. Virg.
Inſerere vitem. Col.
Inſtituere vitem, Vide INSTITVO.
Laxis intexere vitibus vlmos. Virg.
Nodare vitem. Cato.
Ponere vites. Virg. To plant vines.
Vitis ſerpens multiplici lapſu & erratico. Cic.
Sociata palmite vitis. Stat. Vinctæ vites. Virg.
Viticula, viticulæ, f.g. pen.cor. Diminut. Cicer. A little vine.
Viticulum, viticuli, n.g. pen.cor. Plin. The ſhoote of a vine. A branch of a vine.
Vitiárium, vitiarij, n.g. Co. A place wherin yong vines are ſet.

Vacere

Facere vitiarium. Col.
Viteus, Adiect. Of a vine tree. vt Pocula vitea. Virgil. Wyne: cups of wine.
Vitigineus, Adiect. Of a vine. vt Folia vitiginea. Col.
Pulmo vulturinus vitigineis lignis combustus. Pli.
Surculi vitigenei. Cato.
Vitigenus, pen.cor. Adiecti. Lucret. That commeth of a vine.
Liquor vitigenus. Lucret. Wine.
Latices vitigeni. Lucret. Wyne.
Vitifer, pen.cor. vitifera, vitiferum. penult. cor. That beareth vines. vt Regio vitifera. Plin.
Arua vitifera. Sil. Montis viteferi vertex. Sil.
Vitifator, pen.cor. vtifatôris, m.g. Vir. He that setteth vines.
Vitium, vitij, n.g. Cic. Vice, contrary to vertue: naughtinesse.
Caueamus vt nequod in nobis insigne vitium fuisse dicatur. Cic. Any notable vice.
Qui ea vitia quæ à natura habeat, etiam studio, atque artificio quodam malitiæ condiuisset. Cic.
Vitiorum officina. Col.
¶ Vitium. Vlp. A sickenesse, disease, or impediment in all the body or in any part.
Intercutia vitia. Gel. Diseases betweene the skin & the flesh.
¶ Vitium. Cicer. A sore or disease vncureable, as a kanker or such like.
Opportunus vitio, Vide OPPORTVNVS.
¶ Vitium. Plaut. An imperfection or corruption: an impediment: a fault: a blemish.
Si nihil est in parietibus, aut in tecto vitij. Cic. If the wals or rouse of the house be not out of reparations, or be not broken or faultie.
Vitium in libris Plin. A fault in bookes: an errour.
Delectarum vitia. Quint.
Oris & linguæ vitia. Quint. Impediments.
Ebrietatis vitia. Quint.
Deforme vitium emendare. Mart.
¶ Vitia in dicente videre. Cic. To see some faults or imperfections in, &c.
Detractis omnibus vitijs. Cic.
¶ Vitium. Cic. Blame. vt, In vitio ponere. To blame.
¶ Vitium. Cic. Fault or offence.
Vitio vini fecit. Plaut. The wine was in fault that he did it, or drunkennesse caused him to doe it.
Affinis vitio. Cic. In fault: or that may be iustly suspected to be in fault.
Pinguis vitijs. Hor. Fat with idlenesse and sensuality.
Purum vitio cor. Hor. Seruum vitijs pectus. Ouid.
Meum vitium fuerit. It shall be my fault.
Alimenta vitiorum. Ouid.
¶ Adulta vitia. Tac.
Commune vitium. Cic. Immane vitium. Hor.
Iners vitium, liuor. Ouid. Enuie is an idle vice, or a vyce of them that are of no liuely courage and actiuity.
Ingens vitium. Hor.
Magnum. Hor. Mediocria vitia. Hor.
Prævalida & adulta vitia. Tac.
Recens vitium. Cels. A disease lately begon.
Solenne vitium secundis rebus, superbia. Cl. Hyde in prosperitie is an ordinarie fault.
Valens vitium, cui Lene vitium opponitur. Cels. A vehemēt corruption or fault in the body.
Vetus vitium. Cels. An olde disease or impediment.
¶ Absterrere animum vitijs. Hor.
Abstinere à vitijs. Cic. To forbeare, &c.
Abesse à vitijs, Vide ABSVM.
Abundare vitijs. Quint. To haue many vices or faultes.
Accendere & irritare vitia. Ouid.
Addere vitium pudicitiæ, Vide ADDO.
Aegrotare vitio animi. Hor. To be minde sicke.
Affectus vitijs, Vide AFFICIO.
Alitur vitium, viuitque tegendo. Virg.
Apponere modum vitijs, Vide APPONO.
Auocari à vitijs. Cic.
Capere vitium, Vide CAPIO.
Carere vitio. Cic. Not to be in fault: to be without fault.
Coarguere aperte vitia. Quin.
Colligere vitia in aliquē. Ci. To gather faults against one.

Concipere vitium, Vide CONCIPIO.
Condire vitia studio, Vide CONDIO.
Conferre vitia in senectutem, Vide CONFERO.
Consequi vitium, Vide CONSEQVOR.
Contaminare vitijs. Cic.
Conuertit natura vitium alicui in bonum. Ci. Nature turned a fault in one to his commoditie and commendation.
Corripi vitio comitiali. Plin. To be attached with the falling sickenesse.
Corrupta bona vitijs. Quint.
Cumulari vitijs. Cic. To abounde in vices or faultes: to haue whole heapes of vices.
Declinare vitia. Cic. To eschew vices.
Delabi in vitium, Vide DELABOR.
Deprehendere in aliquo vitia. Quint.
Dare summam laudem vitio. Cic.
Vitio mihi dant, quòd mortem hominis necessarij grauiter fero. Martinus ad Cic. They blame or rebuke me, that I am greeued with the death of my nigh friende.
Ducere vitia. Quin. To esteme or iudge to be vices or faults.
Effingere vitia ebrietatis. Quint.
Eluere vitia. Quint. To purge or washe away.
Excidit libertas in vitium. Hor.
Excusare vitia. Quint.
Exprobrare vitia alicui. Ouid. Exuere vitia. Tac.
Expugnare vitium. Val. Max. To ouercome a fault, imperfection, or impediment of nature.
Vitium facere dicuntur ædificia, Vide FACIO.
Flecti in vitium. Hor.
Virtus est vitium fugere. Hor. To eschew vice is vertue.
Imbuere aliquem vitijs. Quin. To infect with vices.
Incidere in vitium. Cic.
Inclinare in vitium, Vide INCLINO.
Inquirere vitia in ciuitatem. Ci. To make inquisition of faults against a citie.
Irritare vitia vetando. Ouid. Wyne to egge and stirre men to faultes by forbidding them.
Labi in vitium. Hor.
Laborare vitio. Quint.
Leuatur vitium. Cels. The disease is somewhat asswaged.
Leuare vitijs atque erroribus, Vide LEVIS.
Mederi vitijs atque erroribus. Plin. iun. To cure.
Aeris vitio moriens herba. Vir. Grasse dying through corruption and infection of the ayre.
Sua vitia nosse. Cic. To know his owne faultes.
Notare vitium aliquod, Vide NOTA.
Obuoluere vitium, Vide OBVOLVO.
Obuenit hoc vitium, Vide OBVENIO.
Occurrere vitio. Cels. To preuent a maladie or disease.
Offensus vitijs. Ouid.
Pensare vitia. Quint.
Persecare vitium aliquod ne serpat. Liu.
Ponere vitium, Vide PONO pro Depono.
Ponere in vitio verbum aliquod. Cic. To take a worde in an yll sence or yll part.
Recisa vitia à stirpe. Claud. Rooted out.
Remotus ab omni vitio. Hor.
Submouere vitium simplicibus & promptis remedijs. Cels. To put away a disease, &c.
Eodem vitio est effusio animi in lætitia, quo in dolore contractio. Ci. It is as great a fault to exceede immoderately in ioy, as it is to be ouermuch wyning with sorow.
Qui nec defēdit, nec obstitit si potest iniuriæ, tam est in vitio quàm si parentes deserat. Cic. Is as much to be blamed, as if, &c.
Hoc quidem est in vitio, dissolutionem naturæ tam valde perhorrescere. Cic. This is in very deede a great fault, &c.
Suppressa vitijs pectora. Ouid.
Surrepunt vitia. Sen. Vices creepe on.
Mediocribus virijs teneri. Hor. To haue meane faults.
Vacare vitio. Cic. To be without fault.
Vertere vitio. Cic. To dispayse: to blame: to reproue: to lay as a fault.
Vertere in bonum vitia. Quint.
¶ Offerre vitium virgini. Ter. To defloure a mayde.
Pudicitiæ afferre vitium, Idem. Plaut.

Vitiósitas,

Vitiósus, pen.prod. Adiect. Cic. Vitious: full of vices.
Vitiosa ac flagitiosa vita. Cic. Vicious and wicked, &c.
¶ Vitiosum. Virg. Faultie: corrupt: full of errours: sicke.
Carmina vitiosa. Ouid. False verses.
In hoc vel maximè vitiosa est ciuitas, quòd largitione, &c. Cic. The citie in this is in great fault, &c.
Corpus vitiosum, cui integrum opponitur. Cic. A corrupt body not sounde.
Cura vitiosa. Horat.
Humanitas vitiosissima. Quint.
Libido vitiosa. Hor.
Magistratus vitiosi, dicuntur vitio creati. Cic. Officers not rightly or orderly made.
Materia vitiosa. Plin. Timber shaken, rotten, or not sounde.
Nux vitiosa. Plaut. A wormе eaten nutte.
Opus vitiosum. Cic.
Oues vitiosæ. Colum. Sicke, or rotten sheepe.
Progenies vitiosior. Hor.
Suffragium vitiosum. Cicer. A voyce or consent procured by money or bybbes.
Vita vitiosa, cui opponitur Pura. Cic. A naughtie life.
Vitiósè, pen.pro. Aduerbium. Quint. Ill: corruptly: naughtily: amisse: faultily: vitiously.
Vitiosè in scholis facimus, quòd, &c. We doe amisse in schooles, &c.
Concludere vitiosè, cui Rectè concludere opponitur. Cic. To make a false conclusion.
Vitiosè se habet membrum. Ci. The limme is corrupted and not sounde.
Vsurpare vitiosè Col. To do a thing naughtily oftentimes.
Vitio, vitias, vitiāre. Plin. To corrupt: to vitiate: to defloure: to destroy: to defoyme: to marre.
Virginem vitiare. Plau. To defloure a mayde.
Vitiare & corrumpere. Cic.
Auræ vitiantur odoribus. Oui. The aire is infected or corrupted with stinking sauours.
Contagia mentis ægræ vitiant artus. Ouid. The griefe and sorow of minde hurteth my body, and maketh me sicke.
Facies longis vitiabitur annis. Ouid. Beautie and fauour with age will be corrupted.
Herbæ vitiatæ. Ouid.
Ventris vitiati tumescebant pondera. Ouid.
Vijatur oleum in amurcam. Plin. Oyle corrupteth, and turneth into lies.
Vitiatus, ta, tum. Corrupted: defloured.
Vitiátor, vitiatôris, m.g. Verbale. Sen. A corrupter: a rauisher.
Vitiátio, vitiatiônis, fœ.ge. Aliud verbale. Senec. Rauishyng: corruption: deflouring.
Vito, vitas, vitāre. Cic. To eschew: to auoyde: to beware of.
Cauendo vitare. Cic.
Aestum vitare sub frondibus. Ouid. To stande vnder trees out of the heate.
Amorem vitare. Lucret. Culpam vitaui. Hor.
Contagia vitare. Ouid. Frigus vitare. Cic.
Insidias, dolúmque vitare. Lucret.
Malum aliquod vitare. Propert.
Mortem fuga vitare. Cæs. To flie and saue his life.
Iuuenca vitans onus iugi. Catul.
Patriam vitare. Ouid. Suspitiones vitare. Cæs.
Pericula vitare. Virg. Vitium vitare. Hor.
Periuria vitare. Ouid. Vituperationem vitare. Ci.
Vitátio, vitatiônis, f.g. Ci. An eschuing, voyding, or shunning.
Vitationes dolorum. Cic.
Periculi vitatio. Author ad Heren.
Vitabundus, Adiectiuum. Saluſt. That eschewеth a thing.
Vitricus, vitrici, m.g. pen.cor. Cic. Ouid. A father in law, or a stepfather.
Vitrum, vitri, n.g. Plin. Glasse.
Perlucidus magis vitro amnis. Ouid.
Splendidior vitro fons. Horat.
Clarum vitrum. Ouid. Purum vitrum. Martial.
Vitreus, Adiectiuum. Of glasse: cleare like glasse: brickle. Vitreæ ampullæ. Plin. Bottels or flagons of glasse.
Vasa vitrea. Colum.
¶ Frons exit purus & vitreus. Plin. iun. Cleare as glasse.
Vitreus color. Plin. Glasse colour: colour like glasse.

Vndæ vitreæ. Ouid.
Fama vitrea. Horat. Fame fraple and brickle as glasse.
¶ Bilis vitrea. Pers. Cholour that maketh one shewe or vtter his whole stomacke, that one maye see his affection as it were through a glasse.
Vitrea, vitreórum, plur.num, neut. gene. Substantiuum. Plin. Vessels of glasse.
Vitreámina, vitreáminum, pen.cor.n.g. Idem. Paulus iurisco.
Vitriárius, vitriárij, m.g. Sen. A glasier: a glassemaker.
Vitrinus, na, num. Of glasse.
Vitriolum: diminut. Little glasse.
Vitriósus, sa, sum. Full of glasse.
Vitta, vittæ. f.g. Vir. A fillet or bedband: a ribband: a garland.
Lanea vitta. Ouid.
Tenues vittæ. Ouid.
Spicea corona quæ vitta alba colligaretur. Plin.
Præsignis vittis victima. Ouid. A beast to be sacrificed adourned or trimmed with garlands on his heade.
Cæruleis vittis stant mœstæ aræ. Virg. The mourning aultares stande couered with blew clothes, as at a funerall we vse with blacke.
Leues vittæ. Ouid. Smooth headbondes, or swathes.
¶ Molli cinge hæc altaria vitta. Virg.
Niuea circundatur insula vitta. Virg.
Alba vitta coercet capillos. Ouid. Yle heare is tyed vp with a white fillet.
Euinctus vittis coronisque. Tacit.
Exuta comam vittis. Sta. Hauing his heare lewse or vndone.
Purpurea vittâ ligat mœsta capita. Senec.
Redimitus tempora vittis. Virg.
Crinales soluere vittas. Ouid. To vndoe or lewse his heare that was tyed vp.
Torta vitta flringit comas. Lucan.
Ferales sumere vittas. Oui. To take such bonds or laces, as they vse in sacrificing about beasts or beds that shalbe killed.
Pia vitta tegere tempora. Virg. To put on his heade such a bande as they vsed in deuout sacrifice.
Albenti velatus tempora vitta. Ouid. Hauing his temples couered with a white bande or fillet.
Velatus auro vittisque iuuencus. Virg. A steare hauing hys hornes gilted, and garlands fastened with ribbands on his head.
Vittátus, pen.prod. Adiect. Plin. Bound with a fillet or band.
Capilli vittati. Ouid. Yeare tied vp with a lace or fillet.
Honos vittatus. Stat. A garlande of Laurell dressed wyth ribbandes.
Comam vittata fœmina. Stat.
Sacerdos vittata. Lucan.
Vitula, vitulæ f.g. pen.cor. Virg. An heighfer or yong cow.
Cæsa vitula. Virg.
Vítulus, vituli, pen.cor.m.g. Cic. A calfe, as well of a cow as certaine other beasts.
Fetox vitulus. Iuuen. Mactatus vitulus. Lucret.
Imbelles vituli. Stat. Tener. Horat.
Lactentes. Ouid.
Tueri vitulos. Virg.
¶ Vitulus etiam elephantorum & piscium dicitur. Plin.
¶ Vitulus. Plin. A fishe called a seale.
Vitulinus, pe.pr. Adiect. Of a calfe. vt Vitulina caro. Ci. Veale.
Assum vitulinum. Cic. Rost veale.
Vítulor, penu.cor. vitulâris, vitulári, veteres vsurparunt pro Voce lætari. Plau. To reioyce.
Vitulatio. A reioycing like a wanton.
Vitupero, vitúperas. pe.cor. vitupèrare. Cic. To blame to rebuke: to discommende: to dispayse.
Dolabella valde vituperatur ab hominibus non infulsis, quòd tibi tam citò succederet. Cic.
Improbum notari & vituperari. Cic.
Voluptas à Platone grauiter vituperatur. Ci. Is dispraised.
Artem, scientiam & studium vituperare. Author ad Heren.
Consilium alicuius vituperare. Cic.
Vituperátio, vituperatiônis, f.g. Verbale. Qui. A blaming and dispayfing: a rebuking.
Laudatio & vituperatio, contraria. Cic.
Hæc ipsius vituperatio atque infamia confirmabatur eorum sermone, qui, &c. Cic. This his rebuke and infamie, &c.

Se autem lætari, quòd effugissem duas maximas vituperationes, vnam, &c. Cic.
Et laudes & vituperationes scribebantur. Quint.
Vitare vituperationem. Cic.
¶ Venire in vituperationem. Cic. To be blamed or rebuked.
Mihi ita persuadeo, eam rem laudi tibi potius, quàm vituperationi fore. Cic. That you shall be rather commended then blamed for that thing.
Cadere in vituperationem, Vide CADO.
Vituperátor, pen.prod. vituperatóris, m.g. Aliud verbale. Ci. A rebuker, or blamer: a reprehender: a dispraiser or discommender: a reproouer.
Philosophiæ vituperatoribus respondimus. Cic.
Vt haberes quid diceres, si quando in vituperatores meos incidisses. Cic. If you happed in company with those that reprehende me.
Vituperábilis, & hoc vituperábile, pen.co. Cic. Worthy blame: that may be blamed.
Vituperium, rij, n.g. Rebuke: discommendation.
Vituperones. Rebukers.
Viuarium, rij, n.g. Plin. A place where wylde beastes, birds, or fishes be kept. A park: a conniger: a walk for birds: a põd.
Viuarium etiam de piscibus dicitur. Plin. Iuuenal. A ponde or poole.
Viuax, Viuacitas, &c. Vide VIVO.
Viuerra, viuerræ, fœ.g. Plin. A ferret.
Viuidus, Vide VIVO.
Viuiradix, pen pro. viuiradícis, pen. prod. fœm. gen. Plin. A pong tree set with the roote. Any plant whereof the roote is quicke: a quicke set.
Viuíſco, viuíſcis, viuíſcere, Vide VIVO.
Viuo, viuis, vixi, victum, viuere. Quin. To liue: to haue life: to haue a merry life.
Bene valete, & viuite. Plaut. Fare you well, and god sende you merily to liue.
Viuere caseo, lacte, rapto, & similibus. Plinius. To liue with cheese, &c.
Viuere ad naturam, Vide AD præpositionem.
Aetatem viuere. Plaut.
Aeuo extento viuere. Horat. To liue long.
Annis, vel annos centum viuere. Plin.
Viue beatus in rebus iucundis. Horat.
Bene & fortunatè viuere. Plaut.
Consilio nullo viuere. Prop. To liue without rule or reason.
Conuenienter naturæ viuere. Horat. To liue according to nature.
Cum labore viuere. Plaut.
Cum isto Næuio familiariter viuit. Cic.
Cum aliquo coniunctíssimè viuere. Cic.
Multum viuere cum aliquo, Vide MVLTVS.
Maximis in laboribus vsque ad summam senectutem summa cum gloria vixit. Cic.
Cum perditíssimis latronibus non solùm de die, sed etiam in diem viuere. Ci. To liue in the company of most wicked theeues & that not only in open day before all men, but also from day to day desperately, not passing for the morow.
De lucro viuere. Cic. To liue of the gaine.
Delicatè & molliter, parcè, cõtinctèr, seuerè, sobriè viuere contraria. Cic. To leade a wanton and delicate lyfe, &c.
Diu viximus. Virg. Satis diu viuere. Cic.
E natura viuere. Cic. To liue according to nature.
Viuere ex more alterius. Tere. To liue after another mans fashion, or as an other man will haue him.
Viuitur exiguo melius. Claud.
Viuite fælices. Virg. Viuite fortes. Horat.
Gloria & laude viuere ob virtutem. Cicer. To liue in glory and praise, &c.
Armenta Viuunt gramine. Ouid.
Honestè viuit. Terent.
Immoderatè & intemperatè viuere. Cic.
In amore iocísque viuere. Horat. To leade his life in loue and dalliance.
In caupona viuere. Horat.
In diem, vel in horam viuere, Vide IN præpositionem.
In maxima celebritate, & in media Reipublicæ luce viuere Quint.

Inliteris viuere. Cic. To spende his time in learning.
In laude viuere. Cic.
In oculis ciuium viuere. Ci. To liue among his countremen, that they may beholde and see his doings.
Inculcè atque horridè viuere, Vide INCOLO.
Instituto bonorum viuere. Cic. To liue as good and honest men doe.
Inter prælia viuere. Ouid.
Iucundíssimè viuere, Vide IVCVNDVS.
Vacuo lecto viuere. Propert. To lead a sole life without the company of a wife.
Libenter viuere, Vide LIBET.
Liberaliter, vel liberè viuere, Vide LIBER, liberi.
Magnificè viuere. Cic. Malè viuere, Vide MALVS.
Viue memor nostri. Ouid.
Molliter viuere. Ouid. To liue at ease.
Moribus antiquis viuere. Plaut. To liue after the manor of men of olde time.
Negligentius viuere. Plin. iunior. To leade a negligent and careleſſe life.
Obsequenter & obsequéntíssimè viuere, Vide OBSEQVOR
Odia improba viuunt. Stat. Wicked hatred continueth.
Parcè ac frugaliter viuere. Horat. To leade a thryfty and sparing life.
Parcius viuere. Horat. Placidè viuere. Ouid.
Quietè & liberè viuere. Cic.
Radices arboris viuunt. Vlpian.
Rapto viuere. Ouid. To liue by rauine and robbery.
Rectè viuere. Horat.
Sanctíssimè viuere. Ci. To lead a very vpright & intire life.
Secum viuere. Cic.
Siliquis viuere & pane secundo. Horat.
Spiritu & laude virtutis viuere. Cicer. To liue by the prayse and commendation of his vertue.
Studijs viuere. Ci. To liue by study, & set al his delight in it.
Suauius viĉturus, quàm si, &c. Horat.
Temerè inconsulteque viuere. Seneca.
Turpiter viuere. Quint Vitam viuere. Plaut.
Ego vitam duram vixi vsque adhuc. Terent.
Vitium alitur, viuitque tegendo. Virg. Vice, by cloking of it, is nourished and increased.
Prorsus vnà viuere. Cic.
¶ Viuere alicui. Plaut. To be ones friend, and liue to do him pleasure.
Viuit sibi. Cic. He mindeth nothing but himselfe, and his owne profite.
Viue tibi. Ou. Meddle with no mans matters but thy owne.
¶ Ita viuam. Cic. So god helpe me.
Ne viuam si scio. Cic. I pray god I dye if I know.
¶ Viuitur, pen.cor. Impersonale. Terent.
Paruo bene viuitur. Horat. A man liueth well with a little: a poore life is best.
Viuitur ex rapto. Ouid. To liue by robbery.
¶ Viuitur, Personale. Ouid. -uixi
Annos bis centum: nunc tertia viuitur æras. Now I am in the thirde hundred yeare of my life.
¶ Conditio viuendi. Horat.
Tenet me voluptas viuendi. Virg.
Finis viuendi mihi adest. Ouid.
Viuendo vincere aliquem. Plaut. To ouerliue one.
Ad viuendum firmus, Vide AD præpositionem.
Mihi viuendum est semper in Barbaria. Ouid.
Viuens, Participium: vt
In vrbe viuens. Horat. Rure viuens. Horat.
Pectore viuenti eripiunt fibras. Ouid.
Fauilla viuens. Ouid. A quicke sparckle.
Fluuius viuens. Stat. A ryuer that alway runneth.
Viĉito, viĉtiras, pe.cor. viĉtitâre. Plaut To liue by eating.
Bene libenter viĉtitas. Ter. Thou louest well to make good cheare.
Parcè viĉtitare, Vide Parcè in PARCVS.
Victus, huius victus, mascu.gen. Vlp. Sustinance or feeding: A kinde or forme of liuing.
Ad victum & valetudinem necessaria. Cic. Things necessary to liue by, and maintaine his health.
Victus & vestitus, siue Cultus & victus. Cic. Meate, drinke, and and cloth.

Victus ex rapina. Plin.
Parsimonia aliquorum in victu. Cic.
Penuria victus. Ho. Scarcitie of meate & drinke to liue by.
¶ Annuis victibus sufficiens prædium. Plin. A ferme sufficient to finde him for a yere, or to find him meate and drinke for the whole yeare.
Aridus victus, Vide ARIDVS.
Asper, Vide ASPER. Basilicus. Plaut.
Facilis. Vir. Great and prouision easie to be gotten, not costly.
Fœdus. Hor. Frugi. Quint.
Infœlix. Virg. An hard liuing, or feeding on poore meates.
Inops. Ouid. Luxuriosus. Quint.
Malignus. Sil. Ill sauouring meates.
Mundus. Hor.
Parcus & parabilis. Curt. Thrifty liuing on such meates as are good cheape and easie to be gotten.
Sordidus. Quint. Tenuis. Cic.
¶ Alitur corpus victu. Lucret. With meate and drinke.
Attenuans victus, Vide ATENVO.
Carere omni cultu & victu humano. Cic.
Mec ego victum, nec vitam illam colere possum. Cic. I can not so feede, nor leade that manor of life.
Hominum vita multum distat à cultu & victu bestiarũ. Cic.
Ministrare victum, Vide MINISTRO.
Mutare aliquid ex consuetudine victus. Cels. To chaunge somewhat of his woonted maner of feeding.
Seges ægra negabant victum. Vir. Corne not prooning wel was not able to finde men.
Tolerare victum lacte. Col. To liue by milke.
Salubri & moderato cultu atque victu, quieti se tradidit. Cic. He betooke himselfe to quietnesse, and was contented with meane and holsome prouision for hys meate, drincke, and apparell.
Vita victusq; communis in amicitijs vigent maximè. Cicer.
Vivus, Adiect, à viuo, quod mortuo contrariũ est. Cice. That liueth: quicke: naturall: strong: vehement or greate.
Exturbari ex numero viuorum. Cic. To be killed.
Viuus & videns cum victu ac vestitu suo publicatus. Cic. He liuing and seeing with all that he hath, is made common.
¶ Viui peruenimus illuc. Virg. We haue liued to see this.
¶ Viuus amor. Virg. Vehement lone and earnest.
¶ Animus viuus & naturalis. Plin. iun.
Aqua viua. Varro. Running water: water springing out of a place.
Cæspes viuus. Hor. A greene turfe.
Calor viuus. Ouid. A liuely and naturall heate.
Caro malè viua. Ouid. A yong beare whelpe without shape or forme. Cutis viua. Plaut. The quicke skinne.
Flumen viuum. Liu. A running riuer, the water whereof neuer standeth.
Lacus viui. Virg. Naturall pooles not made by hande.
Lucernæ viuæ. Hor. Candels light and burning.
Plantaria viua. Virg. Quicke plants or sets.
Sanguis viuus. Ouid. A liue mans bleud: fresh bloud.
Saxum viuum. Virg. A naturall rocke.
Sepes viua. Col. A quickeset or greene hedge.
Sulfura viua. Virg. Naturall brimstone.
Vigor viuus. Ouid. Vnda viua. Sil.
Voluptas viua prati. Claud. The pleasant greeneneſſe of a meade.
Vultus viuos ducere de marmore. Virg. Vide DVCO.
¶ Ad viuum resecare. Cice. To cut to the quicke: to touch or discusse exactly.
¶ Detrahere, vel resecare aliquid de viuo. Ci. To pull or cut vp by the quick, or that the bloud followeth. Vide DETRAHO.
Viuax, viuácis, pen. prod. om. g. Virg. Liuely: strong of nature: that liueth long.
Viuax in pœnam senecta. Plin.
Aconita viuatia. Ouid.
Anima viuax. Ouid.
Anus viuax. Ouid.
Apium viuax. Hor. That continueth long greene.
Ceruus viuax. Virg. Of long life.
Dextra viuax. Ouid. A valiant and lustie hand.
Fata viuacia senectæ. Lucan.

Gramen viuax. Ouid. Greene grasse.
Gratia sermonum viuax. Hor.
Verba viuacia. Ouid. Liuely.
Virtus viuax, experſque sepulchri. Ouid.
Viuacior. Hor.
Viuácitas, pen.cor. viuacitâtis, f.g. Colu. Naturall strength or liuelineſſe.
Viuacitatem suam vsq; in annos decem prorogat. Colum.
Viuacitas. Quint. Long life.
Viuesco, siue Viuisco, viuscis, viuiscere. Plin. To beginne to liue or take life.
Vlcus viuescit, & inueterascit alendo. Lucret.
Verbum affixum cordi viuescit. Lucret. The worde fastned in his heart is not forgotten, but alway thought of.
Viuidus, penult. cor. Adiect. Plin. iun. Liuely: quicke: full of strength or liuelineſſe.
Animus viuidus. Tac.
Imago viuida Martis. Claud.
Impetus viuidus. Hor.
Ingenium viuidum. Liu. A very liuely wit.
Membra viuida. Sil. Odia viuida. Tac.
Virtus viuida bello. Virg. Lusty courage in warre.
Vix, Aduerb. Cic. Scantly: vneth: hardly.
In dicendo excellentes vix paucos proferre possumus. Cic.
¶ Vix ægrè amatorculos inuenimus. Plaut. We scantly and with great paine finde any to loue vs.
Mihi verò cũ his ipsis vix: his autem detractis, ne vix quidem. Cic. To my selfe with these things, scantly and hardly: without them, not at all.
Aut vix, aut nullo modo corrumpi. Cic.
Vixdum dimidium dixeram, intellexerat. Ter. I hade scantly told halfe, and by and by he understoode the matter.
Vixdum epistolam tuam legeram, quum ad me Curtius venit. Cice. I had as yet scantly red thy epistle, but that Curtius came to me.
Vix tandem sensi stolidus. Ter. Scantly at the length, &c.
Illud vix saltem præcipiendum videtur. Quint.
Vix vt dignosci possit à mastice vera. Plin.
¶ Vix è conspectu Siculæ telluris in alcum Vela dabant læti. Virg. They were scantely sayled out of the sight of Sicilie.
¶ Vix ita tamen viuimus. Plau. And yet with much a do we liue so.
¶ Vix est, vt, &c. Africanus. It can hardly be that, &c.

Vlceratio, Vlcero, Vlcerosus, &c. Vide VLCVS.
Vlciscor, vlciscéris, pe.co. vltus sum, vlcíſci. Cic. To be reuenged: to auenge: to take reuengement: to punish.
Vlcíſci & persequi aliquem. Cic. To punish, &c.
Quos quidem ego non tam vlcíſci studio, quàm sanare. Ci. Whom in dede I desire not so much to punish, &c to amend.
Vlciscentur illum mores sui. Cicero. His owne maners will bring him to be punished for his yll doyng.
Vlcíſci aliquod factũ. Pla. To be reuenged on a certaine act.
Vltus est huius victoriæ crudelitatem Sylla. Cic.
Fratres cæsos vlcíſci. Ouid. To reuenge the death of, &c.
Gentis delectæ vlcíſci funera. Lucan.
Vlcíſci iniurias. Cæs.
Mortem alicuius vlcíſci. Cic. To reuenge ones death.
Necem alicuius vlcíſci armis. Ouid.
Nefas fortiter est vlta laqueo. Ouid. She hung hirselfe in punishment of hir naughtie acte.
Patriam cadentem vlcíſci. Virg.
¶ Vltum ire. Curt. To reuenge.
Vltio, vltiónis, f.ge. pen. prod. Verb. Pli. Reuengement: taking of punishment: vengeance.
Voluptas vltionis. Quint.
Audere vltionem. Tac.
Mactare aliquem vltioni. Tac. In reuengement to kill one.
Vltor, vltóris, pe. pr. Ci. A reuenger: he that taketh vengeance.
Dolorum alicuius vltor. Virg.
Inimicorum vltor. Cic. A punisher of, &c.
Mortis alicuius vltor. Ouid. A reuenger of ones death.
Scelerum vltores. Lucan. Punishers of, &c.
Fortíssimus vltor. Ouid. Dij vltores. Propert.

Vltrix,vltricis,pen.prod.fœm.gen.Cic. She that reuengeth or taketh vengeance.
Anima vltrix.Stat. Dextra vltrix.Senec.
Flamma vltrix.Virg.
Vlcus, ũlceris, pen.cor.n.g.Virg. A boyle: a soze: a botche: corrupt matter perishing the skin, and couered with a scab.
Crustas vlceris, à viuo resoluere.Cels. To pull of the scab of a soze euen to the quicke.
Crustulas vlcerum rumpit lens.Plin.
Duritias in alto vlcerum persequitur multipeda trita.Plin. The wozme called a Cheseslip bzewsed: is good against the coares that are in the bottome of sozes and vlcers.
Eruptiones vlcerum manantes.Plin. Running sozes: mattering sozes.
Impetus vlcerum incipientes serpere coercet calx.Plin.
Inflammationes vlcerum. Plin. Labra vlcerum.Plin.
Margines vlcerum duriores absumit cinis. Plin. The bzims.
Margines vlcerum erodit anonis.Plin.
Oræ vlceris excidendæ. Cels. Os vlceris. Cels.
Sinus vlcerum explere. Plin. To fill up the hollowneſſe of vlcers and sozes.
Sinus vlcerum chelidonia siccantur. Plin.
¶ Acre vlcus. Martial.
Altum & angustum vlcus.Cels. A deepe and narrow soze.
Altra vlcera ad viuum corpus redigunt lupini syluestres.Pl. weale blacke sozes,and make them quicke fleshy againe.
Callosa vlcera, Vide CALLVS.
Cana vlcera commodissimè implet sphærion.Celsius. Doth very medicinably fill up hollow sozes with flesh.
Corruptius vlcus. Cels.
Deplorata vlcera. Plin. Vncureable sozes.
Desperantia iam vlcera cicatrice includit mel. Plini, wony maketh desperate sozes to close up with a scarre.
Difficilia vlcera. Plin. Harde to cure.
Durum & rotundum vlcus. Cels.
Humidum & æquale vlcus. Cels.
Incurata vlcera. Hor. Mala vlcera.Cels.
Nigrum vlcus. Cels. Periculosissima vlcera.Cel.
Pura, & parum pura vlcera.Cels. Putrefacta. Ausonius.
Putria vlcera & tetri odoris. Plin. Rotten: and stinking.
Recentia vlcera. Cels. Sozes newly ryſen.
Senilia vlcera siccant impositæ spongiæ.Plin. Olde sozes.
Sordida vlcera melius mulso eluuntur. Cels. Watry sozes.
Squalens vlcus.Sidonius. A dry soze.
Tetra vlcera. Plin. Vetus vlcus incidendum est.Cel.
Vetusta vlcera. Cels.
¶ Adapertum vlcus. Cels. A soze or boyle broken.
Rubor ambit vlcus.Cels. The soze is redde about.
Aperire vlcera. Plin. To open or to breake boyles or sozes.
Astringit & explet vlcera sil. Plin.
Coercent vlcera quæ serpunt,lactucæ.Plin. Sozes that run or spzeade, as tetters, tyngwozmes,&c.
Cohibet sæuum vlcera quæ serpunt. Plin.
Compescit vlcera alumen. Pli.
Comprimuntur vlcera aceto. Cels. Are stayed with,&c.
Continuatur vlcus ruptis pustulis. Cels. The whyles breake and grow to one great scabbe,as in a tetter beginning.
Curare vlcera. Cels.
Negligenter curatum vlcus. Cels.
Descendere interdum solet vlcus ad neruos. Cel. The soze is wont to eate inwarde to the sinewes.
Durant diutissimæ vlcera linguæ.Cels.
Efferentia sese vlcera. Plin. Eluuntur vlcera mulso.Cels.
Emendat butyrum vlcera. Plin. Helpeth.
Erodere vlcera excrescentia.Plin. To eate into,&c.
Erumpentia per se vlcera.Plin.
Excidere totum vlcus vsque ad sanam carnem.Cels.
Excrescentia vlcera. Plin.
Exest putria vlcera aristolochia. Plin. Eateth alway rotten sozes. Exesum vlcus. Cels.
Explet caua vlcera aristolochia. Plin. Fylleth up with flesh.
Vlcera purgantur & explentur butyro.Plin.Sozes are clensed and filled up with butter.
Expurgat vlcera sordida aristolochia.Pli. Clenseth.
Vlcus facit septica vi hæc herba. Plin. Maketh a scabbe by perishing the skin.

Facta calceamento vlcera. Plin. Galling or fretting of the skinne with ones shoe.
Fiunt etiam ex frigore hyberno vlcera.Cels.
Fouere vlcera aliquo succo.Pli. To soke and soupple with,&c.
Illinitur gentiana vlceribus, quæ serpunt. Plin.
Illinitur beta contra vlcera quæ serpunt.Plin.
Implere vlcus.Cels. To fill up sozes with flesh.
Imponere aliquid vlceribus. Plin. To lay any thing vppon sozes.
Incidere vlcus scalpello.Cel. To lance a soze,&c.
Mel cicatrici includit vlcera.Plin. Hony healeth vp,&c.
Increscentia vlcera.Plin.
Inducitur interdum callus vlceri. Cels. An harde dead skin sometime groweth ouer a soze.
Inducere crustas vlceribus.Cel. To make sozes haue a scab.
Inhibet infantium vlcera alumen.Plin.
Inspergitur vlceribus farina.Pli. Inueterata vlcera.Plin.
Insstis vlceribus rubet corpus.Lucret.
Latet vlcus in ore.Perf. Linere vlcus melle.Cels.
Manantia vlcera.Plin. Sozes running with matter.
Manantia capitis vlcera discutere.Plin.
Vlcera quæ in capite manant.Plin.
Vlcera non maturescentia.Plin. Sozes not waxing ripe.
Medetur omnium generum vlceribus plantago.Plin.
Nascuntur vlcera in latere linguæ.Cels.
Nutrire vlcus lenibus medicamentis.Cels.
Occupat interdum vetustas vlcus. Cels.
Oriuntur vlcera plerunque in gingiuis. Cels.Sozes rise,&c.
Percurat sæuum vlcera quæ serpunt. Pli. Tallow thzoughly healeth spzeading sozes.
Perducere vlcera ad sanitatem.Cels. To heale.
Periclitantur vermibus quædam vlcera.Plin.
Perpurgare replereque vlcera.Cels.
Persanare vlcera. Plin.
Procedit ac serpit vlcus. Cels.
Vlceribus ex ambusto mirè prodest tostum hordeum. Plin Tosted barley is mezueilous holesome against sozes that come of burning.
Purgare vlcus melle.Cels. To clense with hony.
Putrescentia vlcera. Plin.
Lupini redigunt vlcera ad viuũ corpus. Pli. Lupines bzing corrupt sozes to quicke flesche againe.
Renouare vlcera.Cels. Renouatur vlcus.Cels.
Reprimuntur optimè collyrio vlcera supercrescentia.Cels.
Repugnantia cicatrici vlcera. Plin. Sozes that will harbly be closed.
Repurgatum vlcus.Cels.
Rescindere os summum vlceris.Virg.
Serpentia vlcera. Plin.
Vlcera si mediocriter serpunt,aqua calida: si vehementius, vino calido fouenda sunt.Cell.
Siccat vlcera per se farina lupinorum.Plin.
Sistit vlcera quæ serpunt,gramen.Plin.Stayeth running or spzeading sozes.
Succurrunt medicamenta vlceribus.Cels.
Supercrescentia vlcera. Cels.
Tendit ad sanitatem vlcus.Cels. The soze wareth hole.
Tollit vlcera humida cinis ex ossibus sepiarum.Plin.
Oua tollunt vlcera humida in capite.Plin.
Vlcera difficile cicatricem trahentia. Plin.
Vlcera quæ cicatricem non trahunt.Plin.
Vlceribus vix ad cicatricem venientibus optimè succurrit sphærion.Cels.
Viuescit vlcus & inueterascit alendo.Lucret.
¶ Vlcus tangere.Terent. To touch the soze: to rubbe on the gall: to speake of a thing that nippeth or grieueth.
¶ Vlcus,à nonnullis scribitur cum h,quòd Græcè ἕλκος dicatur.
Vlcuſculum, vlcuſculi,pen. cor. Diminutiuum. Plin. A lyttle soze or scab.
Vlcero,ũlceras, pen.cor.vlcerâre.Plin. Cicero. To make full of sozes or scabbes: to exasperate or make to grecue: to exulcerate: to raise a blister.
Iecur alicuius vlcerare.Ho. To wound ones hart with lowe.
Vlceratio, vlcerationis, fœm. ge. Verbale. Cels. Vlceration: bzeaking out into a scabbe or soze.

Vlcerõsus,

Vlcerõsus,pen.prod. Adiect. Full of sozes or scabbes. vt Iecur vlcerosum.Hor. A liuer exulcerated or hauing a soze in it.
Vlcerosum,ad arbores transtatum.Plin.
Vlceratiæ herbæ. Verbes that make blisters.
Vlex,licis.An herbe like Rosemary that bzaweth gold vnto it. Nature of the earth.
Pinguis humus, dulcisque vligine læta.Virg.
Pestifera vligo campi.Sil.
Saltam & amaram vligine nonnunquam vomit terra.Col.
Vliginõsus, pen.prod. Adiect.Var. Soked with long abode of water: allway moist.
Vliginosi campi.Col. Vliginosa terra.Plin.
Vllus,vlla,vllum.Cic.Any. Ponitur vel negatiuè. vt,Non est Vllus qui currat. Vel interrogatiuè: vt, Estne vllus qui currat? Vel subiunctiuè.vt,Si vllus me vocabit,statim veniam. Si vllo modo est vt possit,quod spero fore.Teren. If it may be by any meanes,&c.
Sine vlla particula iusstitiæ.Cic.
Negat prodesse vllam scientiam alicui.Cic.
Omnino vllius rei nemo fuit emptor. Cic. There was no man that bought any thyng at all.
Objcit mihi, quòd vllum de liberis, meis potuerim facere discrimen.Quint.
Vlmus, vlmi, f.g. Arbor.Plin. A tree called an elme.
Aëria vlmus.Virg. Alta vlmus.Virg.
Densa.Ouid. Excsa.Ouid.
Fœcundæ frondibus vlmi.Virg.
Fortes vlmi.Vir. Frondosa vlmus.Vir. Patula.Perf.
Speciosa vlmus nitentibus vuis. Ouid. An elme trimly adourned with grapes of a vine staying on it.
Viduæ vlmi.Iuuen. Elmes that haue no vines set to them.
¶ Adiungere vites vlmis.Virg.
Amicæ vitibus vlmi.Oui. Degrauat vlmum vitis.Ouid.
Intexere vlmos vitibus.Virg.
Vincitur vitibus vlmus.Ouid.
Vlmeus, Adiect. vt Virgæ vlmeæ.Plaut. Of an elme.
Vlmea frons.Col.
Vlmitriba,pen.cor.Plaur. One beaten with elme rods.
Vlmárium, vlmárij, n.g.Plin. A grone of elmes.
Vlna, vlnæ,f.g.Plin. The great bone of an arme: an arme.
¶ Vlna. Virgil. A fathom: an elle: the length of two armes stretched out.
¶ Vlna. Budæ. A mans arme.Plin. Arboris eius crassitudo quatuor hominum vlnas complectentium implebat. The body of that tree was as bigge as foure men could compasse with theyr armes.
¶ Vlna.Suet. A cubite: an elbow.
Nix septem assurgit in vlnas.Vir. The snow is seuen cubites or seuen elles high.
Toga bis ter vlnarũ.Hor. A gowne of ij.or iij.elles length.
¶ Læues vlnæ.Claud. Smooth armes without heare.
Teneræ vlnæ.Ouid. Tender and soft armes.
Tremula vlna.Catul.
Cupidis vlnis aliquem amplecti Ouid. Gladly to embzace.
Mollibus vlnis attollere aliquem.Oui. To lift vp one softly.
Circundare aliquem vlnis Stat. To clip or embzace.
Auidis vlnis circunligat matrem.Sta. He embzaceth his mother very gladly.
Nuecis reducem complectitur vlnis.Claud.
Blandisque virum complectitur vlnis.Stat.
Vlncum, ũlpici, n.g. pen.cor.Col. Great garlike.
Vlterior, Vltimus,&c. Vide VLTRA.
Vltio, Vltor,&c. Vide VLCISCOR.
Vltra,Præpositio, accusatiuo casui seruiens. Salust. Beyonde, moze: moreouer.
Vagari vltra terminũ.Hor. To wander beyond his boundes.
Vltra pueriles annos.Quint.
Vltra placitum laudare. Vir. To pzaise moze then one liketh.
Vltra modum progredi.Cic. To passe measure.
Vltra famam ab legare,vel amandare. To send so farre,that one shall heare no moze tidings of it. Bud.ex Plinio.
Vltra famam exactus est. He was neuer moze heard of.Bud. ex Plinio.
¶ Vltrà, Aduerbium est, quum sine casu ponitur.Plaut.
Resectæ inolescunt, nec vltrà obsunt vitibus. Colum. Are hurt vines no moze.

Intendamus vltrà animum.Quint.
Vltrà citráue periculare.Plin. To sipe eyther on thys side, or beyonde.
Vt nihil possit vltrà.Cic. As nothing can be moze.
Nequid vltrà requiratis.Cic. Require you no moze.
Vt sustineri vltrà non possent.Liu. No longer.
Vltra quò progrediar, quàm vt verisimilia videam, nõ habeo.Cic. I haue not to proceede any further than,&c.
Vltrà nobis, quàm oportebat, indulsimus.Quint.
Non vltrà quàm, Vide NON.
Vlterior,ab Vltra comparatiuum.Furthermoze: moze beyonde.
Ter.Sed eccum ipsum,quis est vlterior? Who is the further of the two?
Sit modò silentium aere; & cupidum vlceriora audiendi. Plin.iun. To heare that is behinde.
Vlterior Gallia.Cic. The country of Fzaunce, that from Italie is beyonde the alpes.
Ripa vlterior.Liu. The further banke.
Vlteriora mirari,præsentia sequi.Tac. To wonder at things passed,&c.
Loqui vlteriora.Ouid. To speake moze yet.
Vlterius, Aduerb.Ouid. Further: moze beyonde.
Vlterius quærere.Sen.
Vlterius iusto rogare.Ouid. To aske moze than reason.
Vltimus,p.cor.Ab Vltra superlatiuum.Ci. Last: sometime,first.
Cælum ipsum extremum atque vltimum mundi est.Cic.
Vltimis in ædibus. Teren. In the hindermoste or furthermoste part of all the house.
Dies vltima expectanda homini.Ou. The day of ones death.
Mors, vltima linea rerum.Horat.
Luna vltima. Cic. The moone being nighest to vs, and furthest from the first planet of Saturne.
Memoria vltima.Cic. The furthest that one can remember.
Tempus proximum, medium, vltimum.Cic.
Platea vltima.Plaut. The furthermoste ende of a streate.
Terra vltima.Cic.
Ad vltimum, Vide AD præpositionem.
¶ Vltimum ac maximum telum necessitas.Li. Necessity the extreeme and greatest cause to sozce one, that can be.
Vltima inopia.Liu. Extreeme powerrie and neede.
¶ Denuntiare necessitatem vltimam.Tac. To menace death.
Vltima pœna.Liu. Punishment by death.
¶ Vltimum bonum.Cic. The chiefe felicitie or goodneſſe.
Vltima experiri.Liu. To vse the extreeme remedie: to trie extremitie.
¶ Vltima pati. Liu. To suffer extreeme punishment: to suffer the greatest mischiefe that can be.
Hæc Ciceroni vltima esse in malis.C. That these things are reputed of Cicero the greatest euils þ can chaunce to man.
¶ Vltimum periculi.Curt. Daunger of death.
¶ Vltimus, pro Primus aliquando ponitur.Virg. The first.
Varijs ab vltima antiquitate repetitis.Ci. From the furthest time of our auncestours.
Vltimum in amicitia.Cic.
Vltimum principium.Cic. The first beginning.
Initium vltimum.Author ad Heren.
Vltimùm, Aduerb.Liu. The last time.
Vltimùm illum visurus.Curt.
Vltimò, pen.cor. Aliud aduerb Suet. At the last.
Vltro, Aduerb.Virg. Willingly: without desire or compulsion of the owne accorde, or voluntarie will.
¶ Vltro.Virg. Moreouer. Et miserescimus vltro.Virg.
Etiam me vltro accusatum aduenit.Teren. Yea and he commeth of hys owne motion to accuse me.
Dare animam vltro.Virg.
Compellare aliquem vltro.Virg. To speake first vnto one.
Vltro offerre se alicui.Cic. Vltro polliceri.Cic.
Vltro citróque.Cic. Hyther and thyther: on the tone part, and on the other.
Cursare vltro & citro non desisterunt.Cic. To runne in and out, or vp and downe from one to an other.
Qui vltro citróque nauigarent.Cic.
Sursum deorsum, vltro citroque commeantes. Cic. Going vp and downe, to and fro.
Vltro citróque versari.Cic.

Quum sæpe vltro citroq; legati inter eos mitterẽtur. Cæs. From the tone part to the tother oftentimes.
Vltróneus, Adiect.Sen. Willingly: with a free will.
Vlua, vluæ,f.g.Virg. Rede or weedes of the sea.
Fluminea vlua.Ouid. Limosa vlua.Lucan.
Glauca vlua.Virg. Molles vluæ.Ouid.
Grata paludibus vlua.Ouid. Palustris.Virg.
Leues vluæ.Ouid. Steriles vluæ.Ouid.
Viridi vlua rectas Rhenus.Ouid.
Vlula, vlulæ, f.g.pen.cor.Virg.Plin. A shriche owle.
Vlulo, vlulas, pe.cor.vlulâre.Virg. To houle as a dog or wolfe doth.
Lætis vlulare triumphis.Lucan.
Canes vlulant.Virg.
Aedes vlulant plangoribus fœmineis. Virg. The house ringeth with the pitifull lamenting and crying of women.
Flebile vlularunt ripæ. Sil. The bankes did ring wyth a lamentable noyse.
Tritia vlularunt Galli.Lucan.
Vlulans, pen.cor.Particip.Cic. Howling.
Quum vlulanti voce canere cœpisset.Cic.
Tumultus vlulans.Virg.
Vlulátus,pen.prod.Aliud particip.That hath howled.vt Prælia vlulata.Stat. Battailes full of pitifull crying.
Vlulátus, huius vlulátus, m.g.pen.prod.Virg. An howling, lamenting, or crying out.
Acutus vlulatus.Catul. Attoniti vlulatus.Sil.
Clamosi vlulatus.Apu. Flebilis vlulatus.Stat.
Fœmineus vlulatus.Virg. Horrisoni vlulatus.Sil.
Insani vlulatus.Claud. Great and horrible crepings.
Mœstus vlulatus.Lucan.
Querulis vlulatibus implesti Idam.Ouid.
Terrificus vlulatus.Claud.
Tremuli vlulatus.Stat. The crying of a childe.
¶ Complere auras vlulatibus.Ouid.
Crebris vlulatibus feriunt aures.Lucan.
Implere montes vlulatibus.Ouid. To make all the hils ring with crying and yelling.
Inerrat auribus vlulatus.Stat.
Terribilem vlulatum spargere in auras.Stat.

Vmbella, Vide VMBRA.
Vmbilicus, vmbilíci, m.g.pen.prod.Plin. A nauill.
Vmbilicus.Cic. The middle of any thyng.
Qui vmbilicum Græciæ incolerent.Liu.
Certus terrarum vmbilicus.Cic.
Dies ad vmbilicum iam est.Plaut. It is iust noone.
¶ Vmbilicus.A little circle made like a nauil in the ground to discerne the coastes of the windes. Plin.
¶ Vmbilici. Horat. Bullions, or bosses, such as are set on the outsides of bookes.
Ad vmbilicum ducere.Horat. To bring to a poynt: to make an ende of.
Peruenimus vsque ad vmbilicos.Mart. We are now come to set on the bullions: we are now at an ende.
Binis vmbilicis decoratus liber.Stat.
¶ Vmbilici.Cic. Small stones rounde and smoothe.
Vmbilicátus,pen.prod.Adiect.Plin. That hath a nauill,or any thing like a nauill.
Vmbilicatim. In the facion of a nauill.
Vmbo, vmbónis, pen.prod. m.g.Liu. The bosse of a buckler or shielde.
¶ Vmbo in gemma.Plin. A rounde rising in a precious stone like a bosse: a knob.
¶ Vmbo.Virg. A buckler or targate.
Aureus vmbo.Virg. Curuatus.Stat.
Minax.Claud. Fortis vmbo.Lucan.
Vmbra, vmbræ,f.gen.Cic. A shadow. A ghost of a man being deade. An vnbidden guest accompanying one to a feast.
Nemorum vmbræ.Virg.
Aemula vmbra, Vide AEMVLOR.
Apta vmbra pastoribus.Ouid.
Arborea vmbra.Ouid. Caua.Virg.
Densæ vmbræ in montibus.Virg.
Dulcis vmbra.Virg. Gelida vmbra.Virg.

Frigida noctis vmbra.Virg. Grauis.Virg.
Horrenti vmbra atrum nemus.Virg. An horrible darke woode with a thicke shadow. Ingens vmbra.Virg.
Largæ vmbræ opulenta sylua.Stat.
Leuis vmbra nemoris.Ouid.
Longæ vmbræ.Plin.
Matutinæ.Plin. Nigræ.Lucret.
Nemorales.Ouid. Nocturnæ.Ouid.
Nutrix aut nouerca vmbra, Vide NOVERCA.
Obscura.Virg. Opaca vmbra.Mart.
Pampinea, Vide PAMPINVS.
Piceæ noctis vmbræ.Stat.
Silentes vmbræ.Lucan. Soporiferæ.Stat.
Spissæ vmbræ noctis.Virg.
Squallentes vmbræ piceorum.Sil.
Sublustris vmbra noctis.Virg. Tremulæ vmbræ.Stat.
Vacua vmbra tonsoris, Horat. The booth or shop of a barboure idle or vnoccupyed.
Viridis vmbra.Virg. Greene trees that shadow.
¶ Nigras vmbras sibi abluit terra. Lucret. The earth putteth away the darkenesse of the nyght.
Sacra nemus accubat vmbra.Virg.
Blanditur populus vmbrâ.Ouid. Populus pro arbore.
Cadunt vmbræ, Vide CADO.
Captare vmbras & frigora.Virg.
Minax vmbra coit.Val.Flac. A darke cloude gathereth togither and threatneth raine.
Cæcis se condidit vmbris.Virg.
Contrahit vmbras dies medius.Ouid. Noonetide maketh short shadowes.
Humentem vmbram polo dimouerat Aurora. Virg. The morning came in place, and put away the darkenesse of the moyst nyght.
Nigras vmbras discutit aer lucidus.Lucret.
Pallentes vmbras discutit sol.Virg. The pale cloudes.
Crescentes vmbras decedens sol duplicat.Virg.
Efficere vmbram.Cels.
Per vmbras ire sub nocte.Virg.
Vmbra exuberat luxuria foliorum. Virg. The shadowe maketh great abundance of leaues.
Facere vmbram.Quint.
Exiguas vmbras fecerat sol altissimus.Ou. The sunne at noone being highest had made short shadowes.
Minimas fecerat vmbras sol, Idem.Ouid.
Incurrere in vmbram.Cic.
Inducere vmbras fontibus.Virg. To plant trees by welles, to the ende to shadow them.
Inducit vmbras terris nox.Horat.
Ingruit vmbra viribus.Virg.
Nox inuoluit cœlum magna vmbra. Vir. The nyght wrappeth the firmament in great darkenesse.
Ministrans vmbram potantibus platanus.Virg.
Nocent frugibus vmbræ.Virg.
Roriferis vmbris nox terram obruit.Lucret.
Obtexitur cœlum vmbra.Virg.
Ingentes vmbras murorum porrigit campus.Stat.
Requiescere sub vmbra.Virg.
Salices vmbram sufficiunt pastoribus.Virg.
¶ Vmbras arborum amputare.Virg. To cut away the shadowing braunches of trees.
¶ Vmbræ.Hor. Bushes vnbidden accompanying other, that be bidden.
¶ Suam ipsius vmbram metuere.Cicero. To be very timorous: to feare hys owne shadow.
¶ Vmbra & imago, cui opponitur Solida & expressa effigies.Cic.
Vmbras falsæ gloriæ consectari.Cic. To indeuour to get a shadow or colour of false glory.
Vmbra honoris.Tac. Vmbra luxuriæ.Cic.
Habent quasdam veritatis vmbras. Plin. They haue some semblance, appearance, or colour of truth.
Sub vmbra Tribunitia delitere.Liu.
¶ Vmbræ pictorum.Cic. Shadowes cast in painting.
¶ Vmbra & imago alicuius.Ci. A likenesse or image of a thing.
¶ Vmbræ.Virg. The goules or spirites of dead men.
Vmbrarum terrores.Quint. The feare of goblines & spirites.

Dominus

Dominus vmbrarum, Pluto.Ouid.
Rector vmbrarum.Sen.
Rex vmbrarum.Ouid. King of the infernall soules.
Crudelibus occubat vmbris.Virg. He is deade.
Exangues vmbræ.Stat. Gelidæ vmbræ.Ouid.
Gracilis vmbra.Ouid.
Imas Erebi descendit ad vmbras.Virg.
Infernæ vmbræ.Mart. Infernall spirites or soules.
Inhumata vmbra.Sil. The soule or spirite of one vnburied.
Pallentes vmbræ.Virg. The wanne gostes.
Parentales vmbræ.Ouid. The soules of our father & mother.
Sæuæ.Sta. Stygiæ.Ouid.
Senilis vmbra.Ouid. Tenues Erebi vmbræ.Virg.
Silentes vmbræ.Virg. Tristes.Virg.
Vltricis vmbræ vanis exagitari terroribus.Quint.
Volantes noctæ vmbræ.Ouid.
¶ Adigere aliquem ad vmbras infernas.Virg.
Vmbella, vmbellæ,f.g.Diminut. A little shadow: a little round thing that gentlewomen bore in their hãds to shadow them.
Viridis vmbella.Iuue. A thing of leaues worne on the heade to keepe of the sunne.
¶ Vmbella, in plantis quibusdam. Ruel. The rounde tuft or head of fenell, or other herbes, wherein the seede is.
Vmbro, vmbras, vmbrâre.Col. To shadow.
Montes vmbrantur opaci.Vir. Hils be shadowed with trees.
Rosis vmbratus dux.Claud.
Tempora vmbrata quercu.Virg.
Vmbrátilis, pen.cor.Adiect.Plaut. Like, or of a shadow.
Scholasticæ & vmbratilæ literæ. Plin.iun. Parts of learning touching schoole matters, and such as are onely disputed in priuate conference.
Delicata & vmbratica turba Epicureorum, in conuiuio suo philosophantium.Sen.
Vmbrátilis, & hoc vmbrátile,pen.cor.Adiect. That is done in the shadow, and at ease without sweate or paine. vt Vita vmbratilis & delicata. Cic. A delicate life of one that neuer goeth forth of hys hooyes to take paines.
Vmbratilis pugna. Exercise of feates of warre priuately at home.
Vmbratilis exercitatio.Cic. Exercise within doores.
Segnis mora & vmbratilis.Col.
Oratio philosophorum mollis & vmbratilis.Cic.
Vmbrácŭlum,vmbrácŭli,n.g.pen.cor.Var. A place to shadow one in: an harber: a bowre.
Opaca præbent arbores vmbracula.Virg.
Lenæ texunt vmbracula vites.Virg.
Tegmen & vmbraculum.Col.
¶ Vmbraculum, Ouid. A thyng to keepe of the sunne: any thyng that one weareth on the head to shadow the face, as a boone grace or scarfe.
Vincta vmbracula fertis.Tibul.
Vmbrifer, pen.cor.vmbrifera,vmbriferum,pen.cor.Cic. Making shadow.
Nemus vmbriferum.Virg.
Vmbrósus, pen.prod.vmbrosior,vmbrosissimus.Cice. Hauing much shadow: casting a great shadow.
Arbos vmbrosa.Virg. Ripa vmbrosa.Hor.
Cacumina vmbrosa.Virg. Sylua vmbrosa.Ouid.
Collis vmbrosus.Ouid. Tecta vmbrosa.Tibul.
Nemus vmbrosum.Ouid. Vallis vmbrosus.Virg.
Vmbrina & Vmbra. By the description of Iouius seemeth to me to be the fish called an vallibut.

Vná, Aduerb. acuitur in fine vná, ad differentiam ablatiui nominis Vnus.Cic. Togither.
Ambos vná necare.Cic.
Amantes vná inter se.Plaut. Louing one an other.
Vná mecum ad matrem virginis eas.Ter.
Vná cum prætexta toga.Cic. Togither wyth.
Philosophari vná cum aliquo.Cic.
¶ Vná geminatum aliquando in oratione ponitur.Ci. Vná & id quod facio probabit, vná & in hac causa profectò neminem mihi esse præponendum adorem putabit. He will both alow that I doe, and therwithall thinke also, &c.
Duc vná pariter vsque dum coeant.Cato.

Vnanimis,& hoc vnámine: & Vnánimus,pe.cor.adiect.Vir. Of one minde, hart, and will: of one consent.
Sodales vnanimi.Catul. Fratres vnanimes.Catul.
Vnanimitas, pen.cor. vnanimitátis, f.gen. Plaut. Concorde of minde: vnanimitie: consent of hearts.
Fraterna vnanimitas.Liu.
Vncia, vnciæ,f.g.Ci. An ounce: an inche: the twelfth part of the whole.
Vncia agri, Duodecima pars iugeri.Var. The twelth part of Iugerum: that is 40. foote breadth, and 60. length.
Vncia in mensuris vocatur duodecima pars pedis: nos pollicem dicimus.Frontinus. An inche.
Vnciola, vnciolæ, f.g.pen.cor. Diminut.Iuuen. A little ounce or inche.
Vnciátim,pen.prod.Aduerb.Ter. Inche by inche: inchemeale.
Vnciárius,Adiect. Of or pertaining to ounces. vt Lex vnciaria Fest. A law whereby creditours are forbid to take about one in the hundred of mony lent.
Vnciarium fœnus. Lin. Vsurie of one in the hundred for the yeares lone, as 20. shillings for 100. pounds.
Vnciaria stips.Plin. The twelfth part of a pounde.
Vnciariæ vites.Col. Vines so planted, that one is from an other the 12. part of Iugerum.
Vnciális, & hoc vnciále,pen.pro. Of or belonging to an ounce or inche.
Vncialis assis.Plin. That weigheth but an ounce.
Vncialis altitudo.Plin. An inche length.
Literæ vnciales.Hieron. 2 letters an inche long.
Vnctum, Vnctio, Vnctor,&c. Vide VNGO.
Vncus, vnci, m.g.Cic. A crooke, or hooke.
Ferreus vncus.Liu. Rapidus.Lucan.
Naualis.Val.Flac. Seuerus.Hor.
¶ Vncus, pro Anchora.Val.Flac. An anker.
Vncus, Adiect.Col. Crooked.
Aera vnca.Ouid. Hookes: angling hookes.
Cauda vnca minatur scorpius.Ouid.
Cornibus vncis ferit taurus.Propert.
Dente vnco recluditur tellus. Virgil. The earth is cast vp with the crooked plough share.
Hami vnci.Ouid. Labrum vncum.Lucret.
Morsu vnco naues alligat anchora.Virg.
Ora vnca.Stat. Crooked brakes or bits.
Pedes vnci.Virg.
Retinacula vnca.Stat. Crooked ankers.
Vnguibus vncis timendæ volucres.Lucret.
Vomer vncus.Virg.
Vncinátus, pen.prod.Aliud adiect.Cic. Hooked: crooked: armed with hookes.
Vnda, vndæ, f.g.Cic. Water: a waue: a sourge: stirring or bustelle. A great multitude of men.
Vnda ponitur pro aqua.Ouid.
Aeriæ vndæ.Lucret. Cloudes in the aire.
Cæcis erramus in vndis.Virg.
Canæ vndæ.Virg. Flauæ.Claud.
Decliues vndæ.Lucan. Fluctuaga vnda.Stat.
Dulces vndæ.Virg. Formosæ vndæ.Propert.
Gelida vnda perluor.Hor.
Glaucæ vndæ.Lucret. Grata vnda siti.Ouid.
Humilis vnda.Sen. The low water.
Inertes vndæ.Lucan. Standing waters.
Innabilis vnda.Ouid.
Innarare vndam, Vide INNATO.
Lapidosæ vndæ.Ouid.
Limosæ.Sil. Liquidæ.Virg.
Mendax vnda scrupeis vadis.Sen. The water deceitful and daungerous with stones in the bottome.
Minax vnda.Hor.
Molles vndæ.Lucret. Nigræ.Lucret.
Nitidis vndis argenteus fons.Ouid.
Opaca vnda.Ouid.
Præceps.Stat. Salsæ.Lucret.
Putealis.Col. Salubris vnda.Ouid.
Rapax.Ouid. Sequaces vndæ.Virg.
Rapida.Ouid. Silens vnda.Valer.Flac. A still water.
Rauca.Ouid. Recurua tæ vndæ.Ouid. Spumea.Virg.

Refluens.

Refluentes vndæ. Virg. Spumosa. Virg.
Sæuæ. Lucret. Tacita. Virg.
Tardâ vndâ innabilis palus. Virg.
Tenui vnda pellucidus fons. Ouid.
Tepidæ vndæ. Ouid.
Torrentem vndam leuis innatat alnus. Virg.
Tremulæ vndæ. Claud.
Trifti vnda inamabilis palus. Virg.
Vaga vnda. Ouid. Vitreæ. Ouid.
Veloces vndæ. Lucan. Volures vnda. Val. Flac.
¶ Agitata ventis vnda. Sen.
Albescentes vndæ. Sil. Alludentes. Ouid.
Hyems asperat vndas Aquilonibus. Vir. The winter windes make troublous and rough seas.
Tumidas oceani vndas remo compescere. Lucan.
Committere se rapacibus vndis. Ouid.
Conticuere vndæ. Ouid.
Curuata in montis faciem circunstetit vnda. Virg.
Decrescentes vndæ. Ouid. The waters falling.
Dehiscens vnda terram inter fluctus aperit. Virg. The water so parteth a sunder in waues, that the earth maye bee seene betweene.
Desilire in vndas. Ouid.
Despumare vndam tepidi aheni. Virg.
Diuulsa remis sonat vnda. Ouid. The water beaten wyth owers flasheth or maketh a noyse.
Dare vela per vndas. Virg.
Concussas Triton exasperat vndas. Ouid. Troubleth.
Indomitas vndas exercet Auster. Hor.
Exultantes vndæ. Ouid.
Velocibus vndis Rhodanus fert Araxim in mare. Lucan.
Feruentes æstibus vndæ. Ouid.
Crepitantibus vndis fremunt ripæ. Virg. The bankes roze with the waues dashing against them.
Haurire vndam ab amnibus. Stat.
Vnda impellitur vndâ. Ouid. One waue is driuen forward with another.
Incanescit vnda spumis. Catul.
Inhorruit vnda tenebris. Virg. A terrible darkenesse was on the sea. Insilire vndis. Ouid.
Insonuit vnda. Ouid. Intremuere vndæ. Virg.
Labentes vndæ. Ouid
Latrantes vndæ. Sil. The waues with dashing make a noise like barking of dogs.
Ludunt per vndas delphines. Virg.
Mergitur vnda delphinus. Cic.
Placidis vndis natare. Ouid.
Rorifceris terram nox obruit vndis. Lucret.
Proijcere aliquem in vndas. Virg.
Rapere currus suspensos per vndas. Cic.
Multifidas reuocat piger alueus vndas. Lucan.
Ridentes vndæ. Lucret. Calme and pleasant waters.
Satiare ora vndâ. Stat. Drinke thy fill of water.
Incursu vndarum sonat vnda. Ouid.
Spumans vnda. Virg. Subsidunt vndæ. Virg.
Stridentes vndæ. Lucan. Surgentes vndæ. Virg.
¶ Vnda prima preli. Pli. That commeth of the first pressing in making wine or oyle.
¶ Vndæ commitiorũ, per translationẽ. Ci. The stirre, broile and trouble that is at assemblyes for election of officers.
Bellorum vndæ. Claud. The troubles of warre.
¶ Vnda. Vir. A company or multitude. Salutãtum vnda. Vir.
Vndo, vndas, vndãre. Cicer. To rise in surges and waues: to make waues.
Fretum vndans. Cic. The sea rising in surges.
Galea vndans fletu. Sta. The helmet or head peece on ones head, washed with the teares of his eyes in weeping, or hauing the teares trickling downe on it.
Vndans bello, Nilus. Virg. Egipt flowing in warre.
Vndans curis. Val. Flac. Ouerwhelmed with cares: hauing his heart troubled with the surges of greiuous cares.
Vndans Aetna. Virg. Casting out flames as it were waues.
Fumus vndans misto puluere. Virg. A smoke tyning wyth dust, as it were a great waue.
Vndantia lora. Virg. The raines of the bridle hanging flagging and loose.

Habenæ vndantes. Virg. Idem.
Vndantem chlamydem facere. Plaut. To moue ones cloke wauingly like water.
Vndanti perfundit vulnere somnum. Stat. He all to berayed him lying a sleepe with bloud spouting out of the wounde.
¶ Vndare campos sanguine. Stat. To make the fields swim with bloude.
Vndabundum mare, apud. Gell. The sea casting vp surges and waues.
Vndâtus, pen. prod. Adiect. Plin. Made like waues.
Vndatim, pen. prod. Aduerb. Like waues: in fashion of waues.
Vndatim crispæ mensæ. Plin. Tables hauing graine lyke waues of water.
Vndôsus, pen. prod. Adiect. Full of waues or surges. vt, Vndosum mare. Virg.
Vndisonus, pen. co. Adiect. Making a noyse like waues: roaring with waues. vt Aequor vndisonum. Virg.
Dij vndisoni. Propert. Gods of the sea.
Rupes vndisonæ. Stat. Rocks roaring, with the sea beating against them.
Vndulâtus, pen. prod. Adiect. Made lyke waues of water. vt Vndulata vestis. Plin. Chamletto: a garment wrought as it were with ryuers.
Vnde, Aduer. interrogatiuè & infinitè accipitur. Plau. From whence: wherof: from which thing: of whom: how: by what meanes: what to doe: whereto: whereby.
Vnde aduenis? Plaut. Whence commest thou?
Tot res repentè circunuallant, vnde emergi nó potest. Te. Out of the which one cannot escape.
Vnde eiectus est Cecinna? ex vrbe. Cic.
Vnde deiecti Galli? à Capitolio. Cic.
Vnde hoc natum? Cic. Wherof came, or sprang this first?
Inde incipiemus narrare, vnde necesse erit. Author ad He.
Eloquentia, vnde longè absum. Cic.
¶ Puer hic vnde est? Te. From whose house came this child.
¶ Est vnde hæc fiãt. Te. I haue wherwith to do these things.
Si habuerit vnde tibi soluat. Cic. If he shall haue wherwith to pay you.
¶ Vnde hasce ædes emeram. Plaut. Of whom I bought, &c.
Is vnde te audisse dicis. Cic. Of whome you say you haue it.
¶ Vide quod scriptum vnde villicus est. Plaut. See what is written on that side, whereon the bayliffes name is.
¶ Vnde tantum virium exco? Quint. Whereto hab a blinde man so much strength.
¶ Vnde gentium, Idem quod Vnde. Plautus. Nam obsecro vnde hæc gentium? For I pray you from whence cometh this woman?
¶ Vnde id scis? D auditi, & credo. Terent. How, or whereby knowest thou that?
Vnde iste amor tam improuisus, ac tam repentinus. Cic.
¶ Vnde domo? Virg. Of what citie?
Vndecunque, Aduerbium. Liu. From whatsoeuer place.
Vulnerum sanguinem & vndecunque fluentem sistit. Plin.
Vndélibet, pe. co. Aduerrb. Author ad Her. Whence thou wilt.
Vndecentum. Plin. An hundred sauing one.
Vndeceni, pe. pro. vndecenórum, Adiect. Idem quod Vndecim. Plin. Aleuen.
Vndécies, Aduerb. Cic. Aleuen times.
Vndécimus, pen. cor. Adiect. Plin. The leuenth.
Vndecirêmis, huius vndecirêmis, f.g. pe. pro. Pli. A galley, hauing aleuen owers in euery seat.
Vndêni, pe. pro. vndenórum, Adiect. Plin. Hor. The leuenth.
Vndeoctoginta natus annus. Hor. Fourescore yeres old saluing one.
Vndequadraginta, Adiect. indeclinabile. Li. Nine & thirty.
Vndequadrágies, Aduerb. Plin. Nine and thirty times
Vndequinquaginta. Adie. indeclinabile. Li. Nine & fozty.
Vndequinquagésimus, p. co. Adiect. Ci. The nine & fozty.
Vndesexaginta, Adiect. indeclinabile. Plin. Nine and fifty.
Vndetrigésimus, pe. co. Adiect. Li. The nine and twentieth.
Vndeuicésimus, pen. cor. Adiect. Liu. The nineteenth.
Vndeuiginti, Adiect, indeclinabile. Liu. Nineteene.
Vndeuiginti annos natus erat. Cic.
Vndique, pe. co. Aduerb. Cic. On euery side: from all places. Quum vndique homines nequissimos conquisisset, &c. Cicero. When he had out of all corners gotten togither, &c.
Locus septus vndique. Cic. Rounde about. &c.
Cogunt auxilia vndique. Virg. They assemble ayde out of all partes.
Vndique aliquem proripere. Cic.
Honestas vndique perfecta atque absoluta. Cic.
Mundus perfectus vndique est. Cic.
¶ Vita vndique referta bonis est. Cic. Mans life is full on good things in all partes.
Vndiquésecus, pen. cor. Aduerbiũ. Idem quod vndique. Soli.
Vndiqueuersum, Aliud aduerbium, Idem. Solinus. On euery side: rounde about.
Vnedo, pen. cor. Vnedônis, pen. prod. fœ. gen. Plin. A kind of fruite like an apple, bitter, and noisome both to the head and stomacke, so that a man can not eate passing one at a time. Some vse it for a crabbe.
Vngo, vngis, vnxi, vnctum, vngere: & Vnguo, vnguis, vngui, vnctum, vnguere, secundum Priscianum. Cic. To anoint: to grease: to smeare.
Vngi oliuo. Horat. To be annointed with oyle.
Vngere vnguentis. Cic.
Vngi ex cerussa. Cels. To be annointed with, &c.
Vngi & accumbere. Cic.
Vnctus, Participium, siue nomen ex participio. Hor. Annointed or greased: fatty: oyly.
Capillis vnctis puer. Horat.
Puer vnctis tractauit calicem manibus. Horat. With greasie handes.
Oluscula vncta pingui lardo. Horat.
Vnctus Squalido opponitur. Martialis. Boyst.
Vnctior loquendi consuetudo. Cicer. A more pleasant and polished maner of style.
Vnctito, vnctitas, pen. cor. vnctitâre. Frequentatiuum. Plaut. To annoynt often.
Vnctiúsculus, pen. cor. Diminut. ab Vnctus adiectiuo. Plaut. Fattie: oyly: greasie.
Vnctio, vnctiónis, f.g. pen. prod. Verbale. Cic. A nointing.
Vnctor, vnctóris, pe. pro. Aliud verbale. Mart. Cic. A nointer.
Vnctúra, vnctúræ, f.g. penult. prod. Idem quod Vnctio. Cicer. A nointing.
Vnctórius, Adiectiuum. Belonging to annointing. Vt vnctorium hypocauston. Plinnius. iunior. A place night the hotte house where men be annointed.
Vnguentum, ti, n.g. quod & Vnguentum dicitur. An ointment: a sweete oyle or ointment.
Compositio vnguentorum. Cic. The making of, &c.
Aderant vnguenta coronæ incendebantur odores. Cicer.
Crassum vnguentum. Hor.
Lepidum. Plautus.
Nardinum vide NARDVS.
Moritur suis horis vnguentum. Plin.
Nitere vnguentis. Martialis. To be trimmed with sweete oyles and perfumes.
Perfricare caput suum vnguento. Cic.
Stillant vnguenta capillo. Tibul.
Vnguentátus, pe. pr. Adiect. Cato. Annointed with sweete oyle.
Vnguen, únguinis, pe. cor. n.g. Idem quod Vnguentum. Plin.
An ointment: any fat thing: fat iuice.
Pingues vnguine ceræ. Virg.
Crasso vitiarunt vnguine pultes. Pers.
Pingui fluit vnguine tellus. Valer. Flac.
Vnguinósus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Vnctious: that one maye annoint with. vt vnguinosum medicamentum. Pli.
Vnguentárius, vnguentárij, m.g. vel vnguentaria, vnguentariæ. Cic. He or she that maketh sweete oyles.
Vnguentária, vnguentáriæ, f.g. Plautus. The craft of making sweete oyles.
Vnguentárius, Adiectiuum. Belonging to ointmentes and sweete oyles. vt vnguentaria vasa. Plin.
Vnguis, huius vnguis, m.g. Ablatiuum habet vngue, & vngui Pli. A naile of the fingers or toes in mã, bird or beast: a claw: a talon: the hoofe of an oxe or cow. A litle braunch of a yong shoote of a vine. A disease in the eye called an haw.
Vt ego vnguibus illi in oculos inuolem venefico. Terent.
Cibum partim vnguium tenacitate arripiunt, partim aduncitate rostrorum. Cic.

Acuti vngues. Iuuenal.
Aduunci. Pli. Crooked clawes or talents.
Formosi. Propertius. Imbricati, Vide IMBREX.
Lati. Plin. Quini. Ouid.
Recuruus vnguis. Stat. Rigidus. Ouid.
Scaber. Ouid. Validi vngues. Val. Flac.
¶ Tenui vngui carptus flos. Catul.
Demere vngues, Vide DEMO.
Vngui tenero pueriliter florem decerpere. Propert.
Insanis vnguibus deripere artus. Ouid.
Ire vnguibus in vultus alicui. Oui. To step to one and streach him by the face with his nayles.
Aduncis vnguibus iras exercent volucres. Ouid. Birds in their anger fight togither with their talons or clees.
Fœdans ora vnguibus. Virg.
Lacerare vnguibus. Cic.
Hamatis vnguibus laniare ora alicuius. Ouid.
Notare genas vngue. Ouid. To scratch ones cheekes.
Curuis vnguibus petere vultus alicuius. Horat.
Ponere vngues. Horat. To pare his nayles.
Purgare vngues cultello. Horat. To trimme and pare hys nayles.
Nigris vnguibus rapit hydrum coruus. Ouid.
Vngue rigente genas fecare. Ouid.
Prauè fectus vnguis. Horat. A nayle pll cut.
Subfecare vngues docta manu. Tibul.
Vncis vnguibus timendæ volucres. Lucret.
¶ Vnguis pro Vngula. Colu. An houfe.
¶ Vngues. Colum. Little branches of vine shootes.
Vnguis rosæ. Plin. The thicke white part of a rose leafe next the stalke.
Vnguis in Bdellio. Pli. A white flake in the gum Bdellium.
¶ Vngues ferrei. Co. Certaine iron hokes to gather grapes.
¶ Vnguem latum non discedere, aut transuersum digitum à re aliqua. Cic. Not to go a nayles breadth from: Not to dissent from, the least thing in the worlde.
¶ Ad vnguem, Vide A D præpositionem.
Ad vnguem factus homo, Vide A D præpositionem.
Ab imis vnguibus, Vide A B præpositionem.
Incipere ab vnguibus. Ex basilio.
De tenero vngui. Horat. From his infancie.
In vnguem commissæ futuræ, Vide I N præpositionem.
Vnguículus vnguículi, m.g. pen. cor. Diminut. Cic. A tender soft nayle.
Mihi à teneris vnguiculis es cognitus. Cic. From my youth or infancie: euer since I was a little one.
Vngula, úngulæ, fœm. gen. pen. cor. Pli. The houfe of an horse or other beast.
Vestigium vngulæ equi. Cic. Caua vngula. Ouid.
Cornea. Lucan.
Dura. Ouid. Leuis. Ouid.
Vngula equi perculsa. Colum. The horse houfe affouled.
Subtrita equi vngula. The horse houfe worne. Cato.
Equus fit duris vngulis, & altis, & concauis, rotundisque, Columella.
Fissa ferarum vngula. Lucret.
Solida vngula. Plin. Magnæ bouis vngulæ. Colum.
Modicis vngulis vacca. Colum.
Quatit vngula campum quadrupedante sonitu. Virg.
Cornu solido grauiter sonat vngula. Virg.
Toto corpore atque omnibus vngulis, vt dicitur, contentioni vocis assentiuntur. Cic. With the whole body, and with all their force. &c.
Vngulatus, ta, tum. That hath foule great nayles.
Vngulum, li, n.g. A thing or thimble to sow with.
Vnicalamus, Vnicaulis, Vnicolor, Vnicornis, Vnic*, Vnigenitus, Vniiuga, Vnimanus, &c. Vide V N V S.
Vnio, vniónis, pen. prod. m.g. Plin. A perle.
¶ Vnio. Colum. An onyon.
Vnioculus, Vnistripis Vnitas, Vniter, Vniuersus, &c. Vniuocus, Vniusmodi, &c. Vide V N V S.
Vnoculus, Vide Vnioculus in V N V S.
Vnquam, Aduerbium. Terent. Any time: euer.
Vnquam hodie. Any time to day: or all this daye. Plautus.
Neque ego hunc hominem hodie ad ædes has sinam vnquam accedere.

Vnquam gentium. Ci. Quis homo te exuperauit vnquam gentium impudentia? What man did euer in al the world passe thee in impudencie?
Rarò vnquam possunt ante iudicium scire, quid testis dicturus sit. Quint.
Semel vnquam. Plin. Once but once.
Ita sim afflictus, vt nemo vnquam. Cic. As neuer man was in the worlde.
Non vnquam grauis ære domum mihi dextra redibat. Hoc est, nunquam. Virg.
Vnus, vna, vnum, vnius, genitiuum facit. pen. prod sed quum opus est, corripitur. Ouid. One: alone.
¶ Illum curo vnum. Ter. I passe or care for him alone.
Mihi vni commodus. Hor. To me onely.
Vnus, pro Solus, genituo aliquando iungitur, & ferè cum adiectiuo Omnis. Cicer. Diceres vnum omnium loquacissimum. Thou wouldest say he were the greatest babler of them all.
Nigidio vni omnium doctissimo, &c. Cicer. Of all the other best learned.
Vnus multorum. Hor.
Ab vnis hostium copijs bellum geri. Cic.
Ad vnum Vide AD præpositionem.
A derit vnâ in vnis ædibus. Ter. In one house.
Quasi vna ætas erat. Pla. They were al as it were of one age.
Vtilitati hominum plus quàm vnius alicuius, aut suæ consulit. Cic. He regardeth more the generall commoditie of men, then of any one man, or of himselfe.
Confugere ad vnum aliquem virtute præstantem. Cicero.
Dicit vnus & alter breuiter. Cic. One or two saith briefly, &c.
In vno aut altero die. Cic. In a day or two.
Vnus & item alter. Ter. First one, and then another.
Vnus, alter, plures dies. Cic. A day, two, many dayes.
Vnum, alterum mensem, propè annum. Ci. A moneth, two moneths, almost an whole yeare.
Vnus, alter, tertius. Quint. The first, the second, the thirde.
Vna, de vita & moribus: altera, de natura, & rebus occultis tertia, de disserendo. Cic.
Vnus, pro Alter. Cic. The one of the two.
Vnum exuta, pedem vinclis. Virg.
-vna iniuria est Tecum, altera est tecum Chreme. Te. I haue on quarel with thee, & an other with the chremes.
Vno animo omnes socrus oderunt nurus. Terent. With one minde and affection, &c.
Vna atque eadem nox erat. Ci. It was the very same night.
Eiusdem vnius aut plurium verborum iteratio. Author ad Heren.
Vnus nullus, Cice. Nisi virgineus interuenisset, vnum signum Byzantij ex maximo numero nullum haberent. The Citizens of Byzance of a great number of Tables thoulde not haue one.
Vno cantharo potare. Plaut. To drinke in one tankerde.
Cum vno forti viro loquor. Cic. I talke with one valiãt mã.
Vnus de multis. Cic. One of the common sort.
Vnus de illis. Cic. One of them.
Sapiens vnus de septem. Col. One of the seuen sages.
Rure dum sum ego vnos sex dies. Plaut. While I am onely sixe dayes in the countrey.
Vna è multis. Virg. Vnus è populo. Sen.
Vnus è vulgo. Quint. One of the common people.
Vnus ex multis. Plaut.
Te vnum ex omnibus amat. Plaut. He loueth you onely of all other.
Vnus erat timendus ex omnibus. Cic. He was onely of all other to be feared.
Efficere penè vnum ex duobus. Ci. To make almost one of two.
Vno exemplo omnes viuunt. Plaut. They liue all after one sort.
Quum ego pro his vnis petam. Cic. When as I desire only for them.
Omnibus hic erit vnus honos. Virg. They all shall haue this onely honour.
Vno ictu. Plaut. At one stroke.
Coire in vnum. Virg.
Colligere & conferre omnia in vnum. Author ad Heren.

Simplex & Vnius modi. Cic. Single and of one sort.
Vnis moribus. Ci. They kept one fashion of maners still, and changed not.
Vna opera. Plaut. All at ones: with one labour.
Omnibus vna quies operum, labor omnibus vnus. Virgil. They had all one like rest, &c.
Vna harum quæuis causa me vt faciam, monet. Ter. Any one of all these causes, &c.
Si tu solus, aut quiuis vnus. Cic.
Vno quoque gradu. Cic. At euery step.
Pergo ad alios, venio ad alios, deinde ad alios: vna res. Pla. The matter is all one.
Vna hæc spes, vbi vbi est, diu celari non potest. Ter. This is my onely hope.
Vno tempore. Cic. At one time.
Vno verbo eloquere. Plaut. Tell me at one worde.
Vnus vllus. Ci. Ratum sit quod finitor vni vlli, à quo missus erit, renuntiarit. To any one.
Vna voce Senatus frequens retinendum me in vrbe sensit. Cic. With one voyce or consent.
¶ Vnum, in neutro genere. Ter. Hoc ego scio vnum, neminem peperisse hic. This one thing I know, &c.
Vnum hoc scio, hanc meritam esse, vt memor esses sui. Ter.
Vnum venit in mentem modó. Plaut.
Vnum quicquid, quod quidem erit bellissimum, carpam. Tere. I will take a morsell of euery thing that is best and most pleasant.
Vnum aliquid insigniter facere. Plin. iun.
Vnusquisque, vnaquæque, vnumquodque, & vnumquidque. Cic. Euery one.
Eadem sit vtilitas vniuscuiusque & vniuersorum. Cic.
Sigillatim vnicuique calamitati fore se denuntiabat. Cicer.
Vnicâlamus, p. co. adiect. That hath but one stemme or strawe growing out of the roote. vt Frumentum vnicalamum. Pli.
Vnicaulis & hoc vnicaule. Pli. That hath but one stalke with out branches.
Vnicolor, pen. co. vnicôloris, pen. prod. om. g. Plin. Ouid. Of one colour.
Vnicornis, huius vnicornis, m. ge. siue Vnicornius, vnicornij, vel Vnicornitij, vnicornij. Pli. The beast called an vnicorne.
Vnicornis, & hoc vnicorne. Plin. That hath but one horne.
Vnicus, pen. cor. Adiect. Cic. One alone: singuler.
Marito vnico gandens mulier. Hor.
Nequitia & malitia vnica. Author ad Here. Singuler wickednesse and naughtinesse.
Attribuere aliquibus turpitudinem vnicam. Author ad Heren.
Vnicè, pen. cor. Aduerb. Plaut. Onely: especially: singularly.
Quem vnicè diligo. Cic.
Qui te vnicè laudarent. Cic.
Amauit vnicè patriam. Cic.
Vnigenitus, vnigeniti, pe. cor. m. gen. The onely begotten: one childe without mo.
Vnigena, vnigenæ, pen. cor. com. gen. Catul. Begotten of one onely as Pallas.
Vnijugæ, pe. co. vineæ. Pli. Vines, in the which vpon the props bring set vp, sundry rayles are layed on the one side onely.
Vnimanus, pen. cor. Adiect. Liu. That hath but one hand.
Vnióculus, vnióculi, pe. cor. m. g. Plaut. That hath but one eye. Legitur & Vnoculus. Gell. Cyclops vnoculus fuit.
Vnistirpis, & hoc vnistirpe. Plin. That hath but one stemme.
Vnitas, pe. cor. vnitátis, g. Col. Vnitie: vniting or ioyning of two things or mo togither.
Vnitas aluei. Pli. When a quer hath but one channell, and is not deuided into many branches.
Latæ solitudinis indiscreta vnitas facta est. Quine. There is now made one wide solitarie field, where before many inhabited.
Vnitas foliorum permanet. Plin. The same leaues continue still, and change not.
Vnitas, facta est. Cels. The brimmes of the wound are growen close togither againe.
Vnitas fit. Pli. Two notches are made as one.
Vnitatem lapidis variare. Pli. To make a stone of diuers colours, that was before but of one.
In vnitatem venire. Plin. To be united: to come to vnitie: to be be no more at variance.

¶ Vnitas. Senec. Concorde: vnitie.
¶ Vnitas, In discreta similitudo. Plin. The likenesse of two things, of which one can not be discerned from an other.
Vnio, iui, ire. To ioyne togither: to vnite.
Vnio, onis, s.g. Concorde.
Vnipes, pedis. That hath but one foote.
Vnitio, onis, s.g. A ioyning togither.
Vnitus, ta, tum. Ioyned: united.
Vniter, pen. cor. Aduerbium. Lucret. Togither in one.
Vniuersus, Adiectiuum. Cic. Vniuersall: all without exception.
Vniuersi. Cic. All togither.
Eadem sit vtilitas, vniuscuiusque & vniuersorum. Cic. Let the profite of euery particular man, and of all in generall be all one. Excipere vnum pro vniuersis. Cic.
Familia vniuersa. Cic. The whole famalie.
Mare vniuersum. Cic. All the whole sea.
Contra naturam vniuersam nihil est contendendum. Cic.
Communis rerum natura, vniuersa atq; omnia continens. Cic. Vniuersa vita. Cic.
Pars & Vniuersum, contraria. Cic.
Vniuersum in partes diuidere. Cic.
Separatim, & cum Vniuersis, contraria. Cic.
Singula & Vniuersa, contraria. Cic.
Singulatim collecta, vniuersa perdere. Ci. To leese that altogither, which one hath got by little and little, one after an other.
In vniuersum, Vide IN præpositionem.
Vniuersè, Aduerbium. Vniuersally: generally: altogither. cui Sigillatim opponitur. Cic.
De ciuium Romanorum supplicijs sigillatim potius quàm generatim atque vniuersè loquar. Cic.
Vniuersâlis, & hoc vniuersâle, pen. prod. Author ad Heren. Vniuersall: belonging to all.
Vniuersitas, pen. cor. vniuersitátis, g. Cic. Vniuersitie: generalitie: the whole state: all ingenerall.
De rusticationis vniuersitate nihil attinet nunc plura dicere. Colum. To speake generally of husbandry.
Si quando in partibus laborabimus, vniuersitate pugnandum est. Quint.
Rerum vniuersitas. Cicer. The whole frame of the worlde conteyning all things.
De vniuersitate libri pronuntiare. Plin. iu. To tell his iudgment of the whole booke ingenerall
Corpus vniuersitatis. Cic. The whole worlde.
Vniuerspotentia, æ, s.g. Power ouer all.
Vniúsmodi, pen. cor. Nomen indeclinabile. Ter. Of one sort or fashion: like.
Materia semper est vniusmodi suíque similis. Cic.
Principes sunt vniusmodi, & simplices. Cic.

V O

Vocabulum, Vocalis, Vocamen, Vocatiuus, Vocator, Vociferor, Vocito, Voco, &c. Vide V O X.
Voconia, Genera sunt pyrorum apud Plin. A kind of pears.
Vocula, Diminutiuum, à vox, Vide V O X.
Volgiuagus, Vide V V L G V S.
Vola, volæ, s.g. Pli. The palme of the hand, or sole of the fote.
Volatile, Volaticus, &c. Vide V O L O, volas.
Volema, p. pr. volemórum, n.g. Vir. Great peares: wardens.
Volgiolum, volgióli, n.g.p.co. Instrumentum est rusticum apud Plin. A certaine instrument of husbandry to make the grounde smooth: a rollar.
Volo, volas, volâre. Vir. To flie: to runne or go quickely, or fast.
Volare membranis dicuntur cicadæ & vespertiliones. Pli. To flie with skinnie wings.
Alè volare, Demissius volare, contraria. Ouid.
Cæteruatim volare. Plin. Gregatim volare. Quint.
¶ Nauis volat. The ship flitteth or sayleth swiftly.
Ne me fustrà illic expectet, vola. Teren. Runne apase, high thee, &c.
Passu volat alite virgo. Ouid.
Volat ætas. Cic. Our age passeth apase.
Volat vi feruidus axis. Virg.
Dicta magna volunt superbo. Valer. Flac.
Faces & saxa volant. Virg. Fama volat. Virg.

Volant literæ. Cic. Letters be caried with great speede.
Spiritus volat altus in auras. Ouid.
Tela volant. Ouid. Darts flie or are hurled one at another.
Volat telorum vis. Liu.
Volans, Participium. Flying: going or running swiftly. vt, Currus volans. Virg. Currus agitare volantes. Ouid.
Inhibere equos volantes. Ouid. Fumi volantes. Lucr.
Hasta volans. Sil. Sagitta volans. Ouid.
Nubes volantes. Lucret. Vmbræ volantes. Ouid.
¶ Volantes, loco substantiui, pro auibus. Virg. Fowle.
Vólito, vólitas, pen. cor. volitâre, Frequen. Plin. To flie often.
Passim ac liberè volitare. Cic.
Super carpentum volitare. Liu.
Faunilæ volitant. Ouid.
Vmbræ volitant inter viuos. Lucre.
Voces volitant per aures. Lucret.
Circum latè volitans fama. Virg.
Animus vacuus cura atque labore volitat. Cic.
¶ Volitare, per transl. Tacit. To runne in and out, to and fro often.
Cupiditate gloriæ volitare. Cic. To auaunt himselfe greatly through the desire of glorie.
Ante oculos alicuius volitare. Cic.
In armis volitare. Cic.
Vt volitaretis interea per gentes, per regna omnia. Cicer.
Per forum volitare. Cic. To be often or ordinarily in the common place going to and fro.
Toto foro volitare. Liu.
Tota vrbe volitare. Cic. To sette to and fro in all the city.
Per ora virorum dicitur aliquis volitare. Ci. To be famous and much spoken of.
Per auras volitare. Martial.
Volâtus, huius volâtus, m. g. pen. prod. Cic. A flying.
Celer volatus. Claud.
Leuis. Ouid. Sublimis. Stat.
Pegaséeo volatu ferri. Catu. Suspensus. Stat.
Præceps. Martial. Vagus. Claud.
In volatu, Vide IN præpositionem.
Volatúra, volatúræ, pen. prod. Idem. Varro.
A volatura, ita vt capitur, farturæ destinatur. Colum. Euen by and by so soone as he is taken after his flying, &c.
Volucer, cris, cre. Any thing that fleeth: swift: light. Vide suo loco.
Volâticus, pen. cor. Adiectiuum. Cicer. That fleeth or goeth away sodainely: flitting: vnconstant.
Illius furentes ac volaticos impetus, &c. Cic.
Volâtilis, & hoc volâtile, pen. cor. Cic. That flieth: or can flie.
Actas volatilis. Ouid. Age passing swiftly.
Ferrum volatile. Virg. A darte flying in the ayre.
Pecus volatile. Colum. A flocke of birdes.
Telum volatile mittere. Ouid.
Volo, vis, vult, vólui, velle. Virg. I will or am willing: my will or minde is: to wishe.
Volo te. Subaudi, alloqui: & Volo te paucis, aut tribus verbis. Plaut. I will speake a worde or two with you.
Te tribus verbis volo. Plaut. I woulde speake euen three woordes with you.
Velint nolint. Plin. iun. Will they, nill they: whether they will or no.
Velit nolit, scire difficile est. Cic. It is harde to know, whether he will or no.
Volo Arpinum. Sub. proficísci. Cic.
Id volumus, id contendimus, vt officij fructus sit ipsum officium. Cic. This is our minde, this we earnestly endeuour, &c.
¶ Quem locum volo tibi esse notum. Brutus ad Ciceroné, Which place I would haue you to know.
Clementer volo. Vide CLEMENS.
Letiter bene velle alicui, Vide LEVIS.
Magis vellem, Vide MAGIS.
Minimè vellem, Vide MAGIS.
Minimè volo, Vide PARVVS.
Nimis vellem. Vide NIMIS. Nimiũ volo, Vide NIMIS.
Volo omnia tua causa. Cic. I will do all for your sake, that I can possibly: I desire to doe you any pleasure, that I can possibly.

Volo valde eius cauſa.C.I deſire greatly to do him pleaſure.
Volo tua cauſa,abſoluté.Ci. I deſire or couet to do you pleaſure : I beare you hartie good will.
Quid vultis amplius ? Cic. What would you haue more ?
Volo tibi hunc honorem Deum fortunare.Cic. I pray God proſper you in that honour or dignitie.
Volo tuam grauuam.Plaut. I deſire to be in your fauour.
Rem volo defenſam : id eſt, cupio defendi.Cic.
Volo me excuſatum iſtis.Cic. I would deſire them to holde me excuſed.
Volo vos oratos eſſe.Plaut. I would deſire you.
Ea te cura liberatum volo.Cic.
Volo honoris cauſa eum nominatum.Ci. I would haue him named for honours ſake.
Vt veniret mules,velim.Plaut.I would gladly haue the ſouldiour come.
Eſt paucis vos quod monitos velucrim.Pla. I haue a word or two to aduertiſe you.
Rempub. velle ſaluam. Matrius ad Ciceronem.
¶ Quatuor naturas ex quo omnia conſtare cenſet, diuinas eſſe vult.Cic. He is of this mynde or opinion,&c.
¶ Quid ſibi vult iſtud ? Cic. What meaneth this ?
Nec ſatis intellexi quid ſibi verba iſta vellent.Cic.
Volens, Participium.Liu. Willing : ready : glad.
Volenti animo.Saluſt. With a good will.
Voluntas, voluntâtis. Cic. Will : affection : minde.
Nihil tam flexibile, quàm voluntas. Cic.
Nihil obſcurius voluntate hominum. Cic.
Quantam voluntatem habent ad hunc opprimendum. Ci.
De ſua voluntate erga Cæſarem. Cic. Of his good will that he had to doe pleaſure or ſeruice to Cæſar.
¶ Voluntate,ablatiuus.Cic. Of my owne good will without conſtraynt.
Sua voluntate, nulla vi coactus. Cic.
Voluntate omnium.Cic. By the conſent and good will, &c.
Frater meus ſumma illorum voluntate diuertit.Cic.
De mea voluntate, Vide de præpoſitionem.
Ex voluntate alicuius aliquid facere. Cice. To doe a thing according as one would haue him.
Legis voluntas.Quint. The meaning of the lawe.
¶ Abdita voluntas ac retruſa, Vide Abditus in ABDO.
Animoſa. Ouid. Auerſa. Virg. Dubia. Tacit.
Grata voluntas in parentes. Cic.
Malefica. Plin. Mutua. Cic.
Non pauper. Ouid. Occulta. Cic.
Officioſa. Ouid. Perpetua & conſtans. Cic.
Propenſa. Sil. Singularis. Cic.
¶ Abalienare voluntatem, Vide ABALIENO.
Abhorret voluntas eius à me. Cic. He can not abide me in his heart.
Abijcere voluntatem diſcendi. Cicero. To caſt of deſire to learne. Accidit voluntas, Vide ACCIDO.
Accipere parem voluntatem, Vide ACCIPIO.
Accommodare voluntatem. Vlp. To giue his will & conſent.
Adducere in voluntatem, Vide ADDVCO.
Adiuuare voluntatem. Cic.
Alienare à ſe voluntates ſuorum. Cæſ. Cic.
Auferre voluntatem, Vide AVFERO.
Conciliare ſibi voluntatem, Vide CONCILIO.
Conformare ſe ad alicuius voluntatem, Vide CONFORMO.
Conglutinare voluntates conſuetudine. Cic. By familiaritie to ioyne men in goode will and friendſhip.
Facere voluntatem. Quint.
Ita fert corde voluntas. Virg. Such is my will.
Habere voluntatem nocendi. Cic.
Immutare voluntatem. Cic.
Impetrare aliquid voluntate, Vide IMPETRO.
Incitata aduerſa ratione voluntas. Cic.
Introſpicere voluntates hominum. Tacit.
Loqui ad voluntatem, Vide LOQVOR.
Manet voluntas. Cic.
Nuncupata voluntas, Vide NVNCVPO.
Remittere aliquid voluntate. Liu.
Scrutari alicuius voluntatem. Quint.
Spectata voluntas amicitiæ. Lucret.
Stare voluntate. Quint. To lay or reſt vpon ones will.

Diuerſa voluntas eſt mihi. Ouid. I am of a contrary, or of an other mind.
Temeraria eſt noſtra voluntas. Ouid.
¶ Voluntas veſtra ſi ad poetam accefferit. Terent. If you doe fauour our poet.
Offenſa voluntas populi, Vide OFFENDO.
Voluntârius, Adiect. Cic. Voluntarie: willing : that is of ones owne accorde.
Ferociſſimus quiſque iuuenum cum armis voluntarius adeſt. Liu. The fierceſt youngmen were in armour readye of their owne good will.
Amicus voluntarius. Cic. Auxilia voluntaria. Cic.
Caſus voluntarius. Cic.
Exitus voluntarius. Tacit. A voluntarie death.
Herba voluntaria : cui opponitur Satiua. Plin. An hearbe growing naturally without ſowing.
Inimicus voluntarius. Cic. An enimie without any occaſion giuen.
Interitus voluntarius. Cic. Laudator voluntarius. Cic.
Maleficium voluntarium. Cic.
Mors voluntaria. Cic. A voluntarie death.
Motus animi voluntarius. Cic.
Obliuione voluntaria aliquid conterere. Cic. Willingly to forget and treade vnder feete.
Oratio neceſſaria & voluntaria contaria. Ci.
Societas voluntaria. Cic.
Teſtes voluntarij. Quint. Witneſſes comming of themſelues without procuring.
Virtutes voluntariæ. Cic.
Voluntariè, ſiue Voluntariò. Aduerbium. Cæſ. Readily : willingly : promptly : with a readie good minde.
Volones, m.g. Liu. They that offer themſelues willingly to go to the warres.
Volſella, volſellæ, ſiue Vulſella, vulſellæ f.g. Cels. An inſtrument to plucke heares from the body or face : a pincers.
Volua, voluæ, Vide VVLVA. Plin.
Volubilis, Volubilitas, &c. Vide VOLVO.
Volucer, hæc vólucris, hoc vólucre, pe.cor. Virg. Any thing that flieth : ſwift : light.
Alæ volucres. Stat. Currus volucer. Hor.
Aquæ volucres. Ouid. Swift running waters.
Auræ volucres. Virg. Curſus volucer. Ouid.
Columba volucris. Virg.
Dies volucris. Horat. Paſſing quickely away.
Equi volucres. Ouid. Swift.
Fortuna volucris. Cic. Flitting and vnconſtant fortune.
Fuga volucris. Sil. Fumi volucres. Virg.
Leuitas volucris. Lucret. Nuntius volucer. Cic.
Procellæ volucres. Ouid. Rotæ volucres. Claud.
Sagitta volucris. Virg. A ſwift arrow light of flight.
Saltus volucer. Stat.
Somnus volucer. Virg. Vox volucris. Plaut.
Vólucris, huius vólucris, pen. cor. fœ. g. All things that doth flie : a foule : a birde : a flie : a waſpe.
Nidus volucrum. Ouid.
¶ Aduenæ volucres, Vide ADVENIO.
Aeriæ. Lucret. Obſcenæ. Virg.
Auidæ. Ouid. Peregrinæ. Ouid.
Canoræ. Ouid. Pictæ. Virg. Of diuers colours.
Fluminæ. Ouid. Birdes of the riuer : water fowle.
Picturatæ. Claud. Fœda volucris. Ouid.
Garrulæ. Senec.
Rapidiſſima volucris, miluius. Ouid.
Importunæ volucres. Vir. Raucarum volucrum nubes.
Infandæ. Stat. Virg. Thicke flockes, &c.
Vaga. Ouid.
Variæ volucres. Virg. Birdes of diuers colours.
¶ Conflictatæ volucres fæuiſſima hyeme. Cic.
Fallere volucres viſcata virga. Ouid.
Lacerant corpus volucres. Lucret.
Linguas volucrum ſentire. Virgil. To vnderſtande byrdes language.
Volucra, volúcræ, f.g. pen. prod. Colum. A vermine that eateth tender vynes.
Volucrum. The after byrth of a woman.
Volumen, &c. Vide VOLVO.

Voluntas

Voluntas, Voluntarius, &c. Vide VOLO.
Voluo, voluis, volui, volûtum, pe. pro. vóluere. Pli. To folde: to wrap : to turne: to tumble: to caſt or thinke in the minde.
Quàm citatiſſimè voluere. Quint.
In caput volui. Virg. To tumble with the head forwarde.
In præceps volui. Ouid. To tumble or caſt downe headlong.
Ante pedes alicuius volui. Pro. To lie proſtrate at ones fete.
Amnis præceps voluitur per deuia. Sili. The riuer runneth ſwiftly or violently downe. &c.
Annus voluitur in ſe. Virgil. The yeare goeth rounde, and returneth to the beginning againe.
Flammæ voluuntur per culmina. Virgil. The flames of fire runneth on the tops of the houſes from one to another.
Collectumque premens voluit ſub naribus ignem. Virgil. The horſe with ſnorting fourth horte breath ſheweth hys fierce courage.
Ignis voluitur ſumma ad faſtigia. Virg.
Aeſtus incendia voluunt. Virg. The fires caſt great flaſhes of heate.
Lachrymæ voluuntur inanes. Virg. Teares tumble downe in vaine.
Libros voluere. Cic. To turne bookes : to reade bookes diligently.
Venti voluunt mare. Virgil. The windes make the Sea to tumble with waues.
Oculos per ſingula voluit. Virg. He caſteth his eies or looketh rounde about.
Orbem voluere. Liu. To tumble or go rounde.
Puluis voluitur ad muros. Virg.
Saxum ingens voluunt alij. Virg.
Semianimes voluuntur equi. Virg. Fall downe.
¶ Facilè ſoluteque verbis voluere ſententias. Cic.
Complexio verborum, quæ volui vno ſpiritu poteſt. Cice. That may be roundely pronounced with one breath.
¶ Voluere. Virg. To caſt and renolue in the minde.
Caſus voluere. Virg.
Curas multiplices animo voluebat. Catul.
Fluctus curarum voluere in pectore. Lucretius. To haue his mind toſſed and troubled with carcito reuolue and caſt to and fro many carefull thoughts in his mind.
Cogitationes voluere. Liu. To thinke or caſt many things in his minde.
Secum aliquid voluere. Liu. To caſt and reuolue a thing in his minde.
Iras in pectore voluere. Liu. To fret, and to toſſe in his hart diuers angry pangues.
Voluere cum animo. Saluſt. To thinke with himſelfe.
Voluens, voluentis, Particip, ſiue Nomen ex participio. Vir. Turning: wrapping: running round: thinking in the mind.
Oculos huc illuc voluens. Virg. Caſting or turning his eies now this way, now that way.
Senſus varios voluens. Vale. Flac. Caſting diuers things in his minde.
Celeriter ſanè verba voluens. Cic.
Planſtra voluentia. Virg. Rolling wagons.
Voluendus, Aliud participium. Virg. To be rolled or tumbled.
Volûtus, pen. prod. Item participium. Tumbled: rolled. vt
Fluctus volutus ad terras. Virg. A waue rolling toward the bankes.
Amnis per ſaxa volutus. Virg. Running by, &c.
Volûto, volûtas, pe. prod. volutâre. Freq. Col. To turne lying: to wallow : to tumble : to reuolue and toſſe in the minde.
In puluere volutari. Varro. To wallow in the duſt : to bee tumbled in the duſt.
Herinacei volutari ſupra iacentia poma. Plin.
Circũ terrã volutari. Cic. To tumble round about the earth.
In luto volutari. Cic. To wallow and tumble in the mire.
Genibus volutans. Virg. Falling on his knees.
¶ In ſtupris volutatur, per tranſlationẽ. C. He wallowteth in.
In omni genere & ſcelerum & flagitiorũ voluntari. Ci. To wallow, or liue continually, &c.
Liberè cum ſcortis volutari. Ci. At his pleaſure to liue continually in whoredome.
In omni dedicore volutari. Author ad Heren.
¶ In veteribus ſcripris ſtudioſe volutari. Cic. To be alway diligently conuerſant in reading auncient writers.

Animũ cogitationibus voluare. Liu. To caſt diuers things with himſelfe : to reuolue diuers things in his minde.
¶ Secum voluere aliquid. Virg. To thinke of a thing with himſelfe.
In animo voluere, Idem. Liu.
Secum animo aliquid voluare, Idem. Liu.
Cum triſti corde volutat hæc. Virg.
Dolos dirumque volutat corde nefas. Val. Flac.
Mente quædam volutat. Lucret.
Vocem volutant per atria. Virg. They houte for ioy, that all the palace ringeth with it.
In ſecreto cum amicis aliquid volutare. Liu. To talke or cõmon of a thing ſecretly with his friendes.
Volutâtus, pen. prod. participium. That hath rolled or tumbled in a place. Cic. In quibus te video volutatum.
Volutâtus, huius volutâtus, m.g. pen. prod. Plin. A rolling or tumbling : a wallowing.
Volutâtio, volutationis, f.g. Verb. Idem. Plin.
Volutationes corporis. Cic.
Volutâtim, pen. prod. Aduerbium. Plaut. With tumbling and toſſing : rollingly.
Volutâbrum, volutâbri, pen. prod. n-gen. Virg. A place where ſwine do wallow.
Volûbilis, & hoc volûbile, pen. cor. Plin. That is or may be eaſily tumbled or rolled : unconſtant : mutable.
Amnis volubilis. Hor. A running riuer.
Cælum volubile, Cic. Alway turning.
Fortuna volubilis. Cic. Vnconſtant and mutable fortune.
Homo volubilis quadam præcipiti celeritate dicendi. Cic. A man that hath a rounde and flowing vtterance. &c.
Malum volubile. Ouid. A rounde apple.
Nexus volubiles. Ouid. The crooked windings of a ſerpent gathering himſelfe togither.
Canorus orator & volubilis. Ci. An orator having a ſhrill voyce and rounde pronuntiation.
Volubilis, lis, fœ. ge. A weede cruning vp by trees and herbes having red branches, and the leaues biting the tongue.
Volubilitas, pen. cor. volubilitâtis, f.ge. Cic. The turning of a thing : volubilitie : unconſtancie.
Volubilitas mundi. Cic.
Qui protruſit cylindrum, dedit ei principium motionis. volubilitatem autem non dedit. Cic. Yet the facilitie to turne rounde, or the aptneſſe to roll he gaue not.
Deus cælum ad volubilitatem rotundauit. Cic.
Fracta volubilitas capitis latiſſima. Ouid. The roundeneſſe of the head was broken.
Volubilitas fortunæ. Cice. The mutabilitie and continuall chaunging of fortune.
Volubilitas linguæ. Cic. Roundе or quicke ſpeaking, without impediment or ſtaggering.
Volubilitas verborum. Cic. The falling and round going of wordes by meaſure of feete in a ſtile.
Volubîliter, pen. cor. Aduerbium. Cicer. Rollingly : roundely : with a certaine meaſure in falling.
Volûmen, pen. prod. volûminis, n.g. Ouid. A booke: a volume. A folding or winding.
Volumen epiſtolarum. Cic.
Referre epiſtolas in volumina. Cic. To gather epiſtles into bookes.
Annoſa volumina vatum. Hor. The olde bookes. &c.
Lintea volumina. Plin.
Plenum volumen querelæ iniquiſſimæ. Cic.
¶ Conficere volumina. Cic. To make or write bookes.
Creſcit magnitudo voluminis. Author ad Heren.
Explicare volumen. Cic. To open a booke : to vnfolde a roll.
Impẽdere tota volumina in diſputationem, Vide IMPENDO.
Implere volumen oraculis falſis. Cic.
Peragere volumina, Vide PERAGO.
¶ Immenſa vinclorum volumina. Virg. The great knottes and windings aboute. &c.
Celeri volumine cælum torquet ſydera. Ouid. The ſkie turneth the ſtarres ſwiftly about.
Sinuare volumina crurum. Virg. To lift vp the legs rounde as a good horſe doth.
Sinuant terga volumine angues. Virg. Snakes crooke and winde themſelues into rundels.

Trahere volumina dicuntur angues. Virgil. To winde and crooke themſelues in creeping.
Curuata volumina. Sil. Glomerata. Sil.
Tortuoſa. Gellius.
Sinuoſa volumina verſat ſerpens. Virg.
Volumina nigri fumi infecere diem. Ouid. The cloudes of ſmoke turning in the aire darkned the day.
¶ Volumina ſortis humanæ. Plin. The turning and mutabilitie of mans ſtate.

Voluox, voluôcis, pe.pro.m.g. Vermis qui & Conuoluolus dicitur, & Inuoluolus, & Volucra. Plin. A little wormе with many legges, eating the leaues of vines or other trees; a caterpiller.

Voluptas, voluptâtis, pen.pro. Voluptie: pleaſure: delitescentialitie: inordinate delectation in worldly things.
Voluptatem magnam nuntias. Terent. Thou telleſt me very good tidings.
Omne id quo gaudemus, voluptas eſt: vt omne quo offendimur, dolor. Cic.
Lætitia & voluptas. Cic.
Sapientiũ voluptates remiſſæ & modeſtæ, ac penè languidæ ſunt, cõpreſſæq;, & vix notabiles: vt quę neq; accerſitæ veniant, nec quãuis perſe acceſſerint, in honore ſint neque vllo gaudio percipiẽtium exceptæ. Miſcent enim illas, & interpõũt vitæ, vt ludũ iocũq; inter ſeria. Senec.
Dicendi voluptates. Quint.
Voluptas ad abdominis. Cic. Pleaſure of belly cheare.
Voluptas in bibendo. Cic.
Voluptas mea, Blandientis vox. Plaut. My ſweete heart: my delite and ſolace.
Amœniſſima voluptas. Cic. Blanda voluptas. Lucret.
Communis. Quint. Dia voluptas. Lucret.
Veneris damnoſa voluptas. Ouid.
Diuina voluptas. Lucret. Pleaſure in contemplation of heauenly thynges.
Egregia. Iuuen. Grata. Ouid.
Ignara curarum voluptas. Stat.
Inanis. Gellius. Incredibilis. Cic.
Ineruditæ voluptates. Quint.
Inimica virtuti voluptas. Sil.
Inſatiabilis voluptas. Cic. Iucunda. Lucret.
Liquida & libera, Vide LIQVOR, liquoris.
Liquida & pura. Lucr. Peere pleaſure not mixed with any ſorow or griefe.
Mediocris. Cic. Perpetua. Cic.
Miſeranda. Stat. Pura. Lucret.
Pura voluptas literarum. Quint.
Poeticæ voluptates. Quint.
Reſupina voluptas. Quint. Slouthfull ſenſualitie.
Sobria ac ſicca. Seneca.
Nulla eſt ſyncera voluptas. Oui. There is no pleaſure without ſome griefe.
Torua voluptas frontis. Claud.
Turpis atque improba voluptas. Gell.
Vera voluptas. Lucret.
Viua voluptas prati. Claud. The liuely delectation in beholding a pleaſant meade garniſhed with flowers.
¶ Accipere voluptatem, Vide ACCIPIO.
Adiungere voluptatem ad virtutem, Vide ADIVNGO.
Afferre voluptatem. Plin.
Architectari voluptatem, Vide ARCHITECTOR.
Aſſumere voluptatem, Vide ASSVMO.
Bacchari in voluptate. Cic.
Voluptatem eius capio. Pli. iu. I take great pleaſure in him.
Capitur mihi mente voluptas. Ouid.
Capi voluptate. Cic. To be delighted.
Captare voluptatem, Vide Capto in CAPIO.
Carere voluptatibus, Vide CAREO.
Quòque quid natura magis aſperum, hoc pluribus condiendum eſt voluptatibus. Quint.
Conquirere & comparare voluptates. Cic.
Contrectare varias voluptates mente, Vide CONTRAHO.
Corrupta voluptas multo dolore. Horat.
Creare voluptatem inimicis. Cic. To worke pleaſure to our enimies.
Cumulatus voluptatibus. Ci. That hath abundance of pleaſures.

Deliniri voluptate quadam praua. Quint.
Duci ad fidem voluptate. Quint. With pleaſauntneſſe to be inducted to beleeue.
Excluſa animo voluptas. Stat.
Expleta voluptas ſtendi. Sta. Great deſire to weepe ſatiſfied.
Inclinare ad voluptatem audientium debemus. Quint.
Indulgere voluptati. Quint. Vide INDVLGEO.
Injicere voluptatatem, Vide INIICIO.
Cum voluptate legere. Cic. To take pleaſure in reading.
Locupletata voluptas perfectione vitæ, Vide LOCVS.
Loqui ad voluptatem, Vide LOQVOR.
Percipienda voluptas oculis. Ouid.
Perfundi voluptate. Cic. To be much delighted.
Permulcere aures aſſiſtentium prauis voluptatibus. Quint.
Permulcere voluptate lætiſſima. Colum. To be pleaſed and much delighted.
Petere voluptatem audientium. Quint. To ſeeke meanes to delight the hearers.
Satiata voluptas. Stat.
Spero nobis hanc coniunctionem voluptati fore. Ci. I truſt this aliance in friendſhip ſhall be to our great comfort.
Hæc ipſa mihi ſunt voluptati. Cic. Euen theſe ſame thinges delight me.
Semper eſt in voluptate. Cicer. He is or liueth in perpetuall pleaſure.
Dolere, & In voluptate eſſe, contraria. Cic.
¶ Voluptas. Cic. Senſuall and worldely pleaſure.
Voluptas maximè eſt inimica virtuti. Cic. There is no greater enimie to vertue then ſenſuall pleaſure.
Omnis voluptas honeſtati eſt contraria. Cic.
Capitalis peſtis eſt voluptas. Cic.
Omnium malorum mater, voluptas. Cic. Senſuall pleaſure mother of all miſchiefe.
In voluptatis regno virtus non poteſt conſiſtere. Cic. There is no place for vertue to remaine, where ſenſuall pleaſure beareth rule.
A voluptatibus, Vide A vel AB præpoſitiones.
Aſſuetudo voluptatum. Tac.
Condimentum voluptatis. Cic.
Miniſtræ voluptatum. Cic.
Deditus voluptatibus. Cic. Furtiua voluptas. Ouid.
Indigna homine docto voluptas. Cic.
Libidinoſa voluptas. Cic. Lucroſa. Ouid.
Mutua. Lucret.
¶ Amplexari voluptatem. Cic.
Auolat voluptas, Vide AVOLO.
Dedere ſe voluptatibus, Vide DEDO.
Inhærere voluptatibus, Vide INHAEREO.
Inuenire nouam voluptatem. Cic. To find or inuent a new pleaſure.
Irritata voluptas. Ouid.
Liqueſcere voluptate, Vide LIQVOR, liquôris.
Blanda voluptas truces mollit animos. Ouid.
Nocet empta dolore voluptas. Horat. Pleaſure purchaſed with paine is hurtfull.
Perfluere voluptatibus, Vide PERFLVO.
Placet inconceſſa voluptas. Ouid. Vnlawfull pleaſure delighteth.
Properata voluptas. Ouid. Sperata. Ouid.
Spernere voluptates. Horat.

Voluptárius, A diectiuum. Cic. Pleaſant: bringing pleaſure: delighting in pleaſure: ſenſuall.
Mollis & voluptarius. Cic. Effeminate and giuen to ſenſuall pleaſure.
Diſciplina voluptaria, delicata, mollis. Cic.
Diſputatio voluptaria. Cicero. A diſcourſe or diſputation of pleaſure.

Homo voluptarius. Ci. A ſenſuall man or giuen to pleaſure.
Locus voluptarius. Plau. A place of pleaſure.
Poſſeſſio voluptaria. Cic.
Voluptarius ſenſus, guſtatus. Cic. The taſte is a ſenſe, that taketh great pleaſure in thoſe thinges that are vſed: the taſte is a voluptuous ſenſe.

Voluptuôſus, pen.prod. A diectiuum. Voluptuous: inſatiable in ſenſuall pleaſure. vt Voluptuoſus homo. A voluptuous and and ſenſuall man.

Voluptuoſa res. Plin iun. A very pleaſant thing.

Voluptuarius, Idem quod Voluptarius.

Volup, vel vólupe, pe.cor. Id eſt delectabile. Delectable: pleaſant. Terentius. Venire ſaluum volupe eſt. I am very glad, or it is a pleaſant thing to me, that you are in come in helth.

Voluta, volútæ, ſ.g. pen.prod. Vitruuius. That keruers and painters cal drapperie or celerie wrought like cloth, or leaues turned diuers wayes.

Volutabrum, Volutatim, Voluto, Volutatio, &c. Vide VOLVO.

Vomer, vómeris, maſ.gen. Vide VOMO.

Vomica, vómicæ, ſ.g.pe.cor. A rotten impoſtume out wher of matter runneth.
Putres vomicæ. Iuuen. Erumpit vomica. Celſ.
Excitat vomicas dolor. Celſ.
Laborare vomica Celſ. Oritur vomica. Celſ.
Rumpere vomicam. Celſ. To breake an impoſtume.
¶ Vomicam Plautus vocat crumenam plenam argenti. A purſe full of money.

Vomo, vomis, vómui, vómitum, vómere, pe.co. Cic. To vomit: to parbreake: to ſpewe: to caſt vp.
Vomere in menſam. Cic. To vomite on the table.
In gremio ſuo vomere. Cic.
In conſpectu alicuius vomere. Cic.
Fluctus vomit ac reſorbet Scylla. Ouid. The gulfe Scylla caſteth vp waues of water, & ſwalloweth the ſame againe.
Flammas ore vomit Cacus. Ouid. Cacus caſteth fire out of his mouth.
Purpuream vomit ille animam. Virg. He caſteth out bloud wherein life conſiſteth: he dieth with caſting vp bloude.
Vitam vomere. Lucret.
¶ Vomor, vómeris, pen.cor. Paſſiuum. Pli. To be vomited.
¶ Vómitur, pe.co. Impertonale. Cicero. Ab hora tertia bibebatur, ludebatur, vomebatur. They did nothyng but quaffe, play, and ſpue, &c.

Vómito, vómitas, pen.cor. vomitáre, Frequentatiuum. Colu. To vomite often.

Vómitus, huius vómitus, m.g. pen. corr. Vomiting: caſtyng: parbraking: ſpuing. Alſo that which is vomited.
Araneoſus vomitus, Vide ARANEA.
Varius & multorum colorum vomitus. Celſ. Water of dyuers colours vomited.
Extrahere vomitus. Plin. To prouoke vomite.
Facere vomitus. Plin. To cauſe to vomite.
Inhibere vomitus. Plin. To ſtap vomiting.
Inuitare vomitus. Plin. Mouere vomitus. Plin.
Repete vomitus. Celſ. Vomiting beginneth againe.
Siſtere vomitum. Plin. To ſtap.
Supprimere vomitum. Idem. Celſ.

Vomitio, vomitiónis, ſ.g. Idem. Plin.
Concitare vomitiones. Plin.
Inimicæ oculis vomitiones, Vide INIMICVS.

Vómitor, pen.cor. vomitóris, m.g. Plin. A vomiter.

Vomitórius, A diectiuũ. Plin. That hath the nature or ſtrength to make to vomite.

Vomer, vel vomis, vómeris, pen.cor.m.g. Colum. The culter of a plough.
Saucia vomeribus tellus. Ouid. Eared.
Admcus vomer. Ouid. Curuus. Ouid.
Attritus ſulco vomer ſplendeſcit. Virg.
Duro fumans ſub vomere taurus. Virg.
Ferreus vomer. Lucret.
Impreſſus vomer. Sil. Laureatus. Plin.
Obtuſi vomeris dentem conuellit taurus. Catul.
Obuncus vomer. Claud.
Prono vomere glebam conuellit taurus. Catul.
Regidi vomeris ictu verſatur tellus. Claud.
Vnci vomeris patiens tellus. Virg.
Perſtringere aliquid vomere. Ci. To touch with the plough.

Vopiſcus, vopiſci, m.g. Pli. Of two twinnes or yong children in a womans bodie, that which commeth to perfite birth and ſpoueth is called Vopiſcus.

Voro, voras, vorâre. Pli. To ſwallow downe meate before it be chewed: to deuoure: to eate greedily.
Plaga vorat medullas. Seneca.

Hamum vorat. Plaut. He ſwalloweth the hooke.
Vorare literas. Ci. To deuoure learning: to learne greedily.
Viam vorare. Catull. Vide VIA.

Voratio, voratiônis, ſ.g. Verbale. Catull. A deuouring.

Vorâgo, pen.prod. voráginis, pen.corr. ſ.g. Cicero. A ſwallow or gulfe: a whirlepoole: a quaue mire that ſucketh vp or ſwalloweth.
Atra vorago. Virg. Ima vorago. Cic.
Ingens vorago faucibus vaſtis patet. Sen.
Liuidiſſima, maximéque profunda vorago. Catull.
Pigra vorago. Sil. A quaue mire ſucking in ſlowly.
Sinuoſa vorago. Stat. Stagnans vorago. Sil.
Tenebroſa vorago. Stat. Tenax. Catul.
¶ Graues & propemodum immobiles currus illuuie & voragine hærebant. Curt. The heauy loden carres could not paſſe by reaſon of burt and quaue mires.
¶ Vorago patrimonij. Ci. A gluttonous waſter and cõſumer of hys heritage.

Voraginôſus, pen.prod. A diectiuum. Hirt. Full of gulfes and ſwallowing pittes.

Vorax, vorâcis, pen.prod.om.gen. Cic. A glutton: a rauenour: a great eater, or deuourer: rauenous: conſuming.
Ventris voracis placare iciunia. Ouid.
Vſura vorax. Lucan.

Vorſura, vorſuræ, Vide Verſura in VERTO.

Vortex, Vide Vertex in VERTO.

Vorto, vortis, Vide VERTO.

Vos, veſtrum vel veſtri, Pronomen plur.num. à TV. You.
Voſmetipſi, pro Voſipſi. Cic. Your ſelfe.

Votum, Votiuus, &c. Vide VOVEO.

Voueo, voues, voui, votum, vouêre, pen.prod. Liu. To vowe, or to make a vowe.
Vouet ſe daturum Deo viuam. Cic.
Vouere votum. Liu. To make a vowe.
Vouere caput pro ſalute patriæ. Cic. To bequeath and giue himſelfe to death for the ſafegarde of hys countrey.
Vouere in eadem verba. Liui. To make a vowe in the ſame forme of wordes.
Vouere templum Deo. Liu.
¶ Vouere, Optare. Ouid. To wiſh.
Elige quid voueas. Ouid. Chooſe what thou wouldeſt deſire or wiſhe.
Quid voueat dulci nutricula maius alũno? Hor. What greater thing can the nurſe wiſh for the child ſhe bringeth vp?

Votus, Participium. Cic. Vowed.
Delubra vota. Ouid.

Votum, voti, n.ge. Cic. A vowe or promiſe made to God: A deſire, a prayer. Voti reus, Vide REVS.
Preces & vota. Cic. Votum & promiſſum. Cic.
Votum pro bubus, vt valeant, ſic facito. Cato.
Votum. Ouid. A thing obtained of God by prayers: a thing much deſired.
¶ Amarum votum. Claud. A vow or deſire hurtfull or grieuous to hym, that obtaineth it.
Audax votum. Stat.
Furialia vota. Sil. Greedie and outragious affections of couetouſneſſe.
Furioſa. Ouid. Outragious appetites of couetouſneſſe.
Futile votum. Sil. A paine and vnprofitable deſire.
Ignauum. Claud. An idle wiſh wythout taking paines to attaine the thing. Modeſta parum vota. Ouid.
Scelerates eius preces, & neſaria vota cognouimus. Cic.
Paudum votum. Claud.
Pia vota. Ouid. Holy prayers.
Publica Ouid. Common prayers, as are in the church.
Temeraria vota. Tibul.
Triſtia. Ouid. The prayres of a ſorowfull man.
¶ Annuit votis noſtris Deus. Clau. God graunteth our prayers. Aſſentiere votis. Virg.
Canere vota diuis. Virg. To ſing himnes and prayers.
Ceſſare in vota, Vide CESSO.
Concipere vota. Ouid. To make vowes or prayers.
Concepta vota. Sil. Vowes or prayers made in certain forme of wordes. Contingere ad vota. Plin. iun.
Corrigere vota ſua. Ouid. To correct hys owne deſires and wiſhes.

Damnari votorum vel votis, Vide DAMNO.
Dissoluere vota. Cic. To fulfill his vowes and promises.
Ducere vota ad bonos exitus. Horat.
Duplicare vota metu. Virg.
In vota effundi. Tac. To fall earnestly to prayer: to pray with all his heart.
Exequi annua vota. Virg. To keepe an anniuersarie or yeres minde, in praying for one that is deade.
Facere vota. Cic. To desire: to wishe: to pray.
Facere vota parcius. Sen. De aliquo ægroto vota facere. C.
Lustralia vota ferre. Valer. Flac.
Inhibere vota alicuius rogando. Ouid. By desiring, to stay one from doing that he hath an appetite to doe.
Liberari voti, pro voto. Liu. To be discharged or quit of his vowe.
Votis vota nectere. Lucret. To make vowes vpon vowes.
Nuncupare vota, Vide NVNCVPO.
Obligare votis caput. Horat. To binde himselfe with a vow or promise.
Onerare votis æthera. Vir. To lode heauen with vowes and prayers: to weary God with many vowes and promises.
Perfecta vota ordine. Virg.
Persoluere votum, Vide SERSOLVO.
Poscere opem votis. Ouid. To desire helpe by prayer.
Reddere vota, Vide REDDO. Repetere vota. Quint.
Immo tale votum sacrabat dijs. Virg.
Feralia vota fancire dijs Stygijs contra aliquem. Sta. To bequeath and giue one to the deuill: to make solemne curses against one, and betake him to the deuill.
Soluere vota, Vide SOLVO.
Fidem voti soluere. Ouid. To performe his vowe & promise.
Supplicibus votis superare iram numinis. Virg.
Suscipere vota. Ouid.
Tacito suspendit vota labello. Catul. He voweth or prayeth speaking softly, or without wordes at all.
Erecto voto timere aliquid. Stat.
Vocare aliquem in vota. Virg. To desire one or bid him pray for vs.
Vocare diuos in vota. Virg. To call for helpe of the gods in our prayer.
Vocare imbrem votis. Virg. To pray for raine.
Vocari votis. Virg. To be called on by prayers.
¶ Votum. Plin. iun. A desire: a wishe.
Ego te quam primum mea vota cupio videre. Cic.
Ad votum, Vide AD præpositionem.
Compos voti. Sen. He that hath that he wished or desired.
Auarum votum. Claudian.
Matura vota coloni. Ouid. Ripe corne that the husband man much wisheth for.
Deplorata vota colonorum. Ou. When husbandmen bewaile the losse of their corne, for which they haue often prayed to God. Exposcere pacem votis. Virg.
Melior fingi ne voto quidem posset. Plin. iun. A man could not wishe a better. Frui votis. Valere. Flac.
Implere votum alicuius. Curt. To accomplish ones desire.
Potiri voto. Ouid. To haue that he wished.
Respondere votis alicuius. Virg. To satisfie ones desire.
Succedere in vota alicuius. Oui. To desire that another hath ceased to desire.
Superant modum tua vota. Stat. Thy desires are exceeding.
Fouere sua vota animo. Ouid.
Est in voto scire quid ferat, &c. Persius. I desire greatly to know, &c.
Votiuus, pen. prod. Adiectiuum. Horat. That is vowed.
Aures votiuæ. Plaut. Eares desirous to heare.
Votiuum. Apul. That is or hath bene greatly desired.
Legatio votiua, Vide Legatio in LEGO, legas.
Ludi votiui. Cic. Playes promised by vowes.
Tabella votiua, Vide TABVLA.
Thura votiua. Ouid.
Voces votiuæ. Tibul. Voyces that vowe.
Vox, vocis, f.g. Cic. A voyce: a sounde: a woorde.
In lingua etiam explanata vocum impressio. Cic.
Vocis genera permulta: canorum, fuscum: lene, asperum: graue, acutum: flexibile, durum. Cic.
¶ Absonus voce, Vide ABSONVS.

Plenior voce. Cic.
Asperitas vocis. Lucret. The roughnesse of ones voyce.
Bona vocis. Quint. The good qualitie of the voyce.
Cantus vocis. Quint. The tuning of the voyce.
Contentio vocis, & Remissio, contraria. Cic. Straining of the voyce.
In offensa copulatio vocum. Qui. An apt ioyning of woords.
Discrimina vocum. Quint.
Flexus vocis. Quint.
Intentio vocis. Quint. Straining of the voyce, or loude speaking.
Iter vocis. Ouid. The winde pipe.
Incunditas, claritasque vocis. Quint.
Modestia vocis. Quin. A modest & comely tune of the voice.
Remissio vocis. Quint. A lower and softer speaking.
Simulans vocum ales. Ouid. A bird counterfaiting to speake like a man.
Sonitus vocis. Virg. The sowne or tune.
Splendorem voci affert porrum. Plini. Leekes maketh the voyce cleare.
Suauitas vocum. Quint. Varietas vocum. Cice.
¶ Hæc vox, Ciuis, &c. This woorde, &c.
¶ Absona vox, Vide ABSONVS.
Absurda, Vide ABSVRDVS.
Acerba. Quint. Acrior. Quint.
Acuta, Vide ACVO.
Aequissima vox & Turpissima, opponuntur. Senec. A very reasonable saying, and a very dishonest saying.
Ambigua vox. Senec. Angusta vox. Iuuen.
Amœnæ voces. Ouid. Anhela. Claud.
Animosa vox. Sen. A stoute saying.
Assidua. Virg.
Atrox. Quint. Clarisona. Catull.
Blanda. Virg. Concitata. Quint.
Boans. Ouid. Confusa. Lucret.
Bona, Vide BONVS. Consona. Sil.
Candida. Quint. A fauourable saying.
Canora, Vide CANO. Constans. Ouid.
Clara & suauis. Cic. Contracta. Quint.
Contumelioſæ voces. Cæſ. Reproachfull woordes.
Cygnéa vox, Vide Cygneus in CYGNVS.
Densa. Quint. Fessa loquendo. Ouid.
Dira. Virg. Ficta. Lucan.
Dissona. Stat. Flebilis. Senec.
Docta. Quint. Feminea. Quint.
Dulcis & clara. Cic. Furialis. Cic.
Dura. Quint. Fusca. Quint. A dimme voyce.
Durabilis. Quint. Grandis. Quint.
Efferatæ voces. Senec. Grauis, cui opponitur Exilis.
Erecta vox. Quint. Plin. A voyce of big tune.
Exigua. Virg. Hilaris. Stat.
Exilis. Plin. Small. Horrenda. Virg.
Extrema. Virg. Incerta. Quint.
Facilis. Quint. Incesta. Ouid.
Facunda. Ouid. Inclinata. Cic.
Falsa. Horat. Incorrupta vox bene iudicantium. Cicer. The vncorrupt sentence of them that iudge truely.
Ferox. Claud.
Ferrea. Virg.
Infandæ vocis sonus. Senec.
Infragilis vox. Ouid. A strong voyce, that will not be wearyed with loude speaking.
Ingeniosa vox mutandis sonis. Ouid. A voyce very apte to chaunge into diuers tunes.
Ingens. Virg. Ingloria. Stat.
Inhumana & scelerata. Cic.
Inimica alicui, Vide INIMICVS.
Insana. Ouid.
Interruptæ atque morientes voces. Cicer. Woordes vttered in weeping with stopping, or sobbing that they cannot well be heard. Iracunda vox. Ouid.
Legitima. Ouid. Lenis. Quint.
Libera. Liu. Liberalis. Quint.
Limpida & canora. Plin. Cleare and shrill.
Sine contentione vox, nec languens, nec canora. Cic. Ones voyce vttered without straynyng, neither dead in sounde, nor ouer shrill.

Liquidæ

Liquidæ voces auium. Lucret. The cleare voyces of, &c.
Liquidæ voces corui. Virg: Plena vox. Cic.
Lugubris vox. Lucret. Præpinguis. Quint.
Magna. Cic. Pura. Persius.
Minax. Horat. Pusilla. Quint.
Mœsta. Catul. Rara. Virg.
Mollis. Cic. Effeminate. Rauca. Ouid.
Moribunda. Stat. Recta. Quint.
Mutæ voces murmure. Sta. Resona. Ouid.
Nuda vox. Quintil. Rigida. Quint.
Nuptialis. Liu. Rustica. Cic.
Obscœna. Iuuen. Sacra. Ouid.
Obscura. Quint. Salutaris. Senec.
Obtusa. Quint. Sana. Quint.
Paruæ vocis murmura. Oui. Serena. Persius.
Simplices voces. Quint. Woordes simple and not compound.
Solicita vox. Ouid.
Suauis & canora. Cic. Teres. Quint.
Suauissima. Cic. Tinnula. Catull.
Subsurda. Quint. Tremulæ voces hœdorum. Lucret.
Summissa. Ouid. Tristis vox. Ouid.
Superba. Lucret. Truculenta. Plin.
Supplex. Liu. Trux. Sil.
Tacita. Ouid. Veneranda. Lucan.
Tenera. Quint. Vigil. Ouid.
Tenuata. Ouid. Virilis. Ouid.
Tenuis Pomonius apud Macrobium. Viua. Quin.
Vlulans. Cic.
Atque hæc vna vox omnium est. Cic. This is the generall voyce and saying of all men: all the world agreeth in this.
Vna voce. Cic. With one accorde and consent.
Votiuæ voces. Tibul. Vowes.
¶ Aboritur vox, Vide ABORIOR.
Accipere voces, Vide ACCIPIO.
Accommodare vocem, Vide ACCOMMODO.
Addere voces lachrymis. Oui. Besides his weping to speake elio.
Aequiparare aliquem voce. Virg.
Viua vox alit plenius. Quint. The voyce of one instructing feedeth the vnderstanding more perfitely.
Alloqui patriam voce mœsta. Catull.
Attollere & submittere vocem, sunt opposita. Quin. To rise and to fall in speaking: to speake lowder and softer.
Annuere vocibus aluuius. Horat.
Audire & reddere voces notas. Virgil. To heare one speake that the knoweth and talke to him againe: to talke familiarly with one.
Canere inclinata vlulantique voce. Cic.
Captare voces auribus. Ouid. To harken what one saith.
Dulcedine vocis captus. Ouid.
Citat vox præconis. Quint.
Claudere vocem alicuius. Li. To stop ones mouth: to make one holde his peace.
Compellare aliquem voce. Virg. To speake to one.
Timenda voce complere nemus. Horat.
Compescere voces. Sene.
Compositæ voces. Quintil. Woordes compounde.
Comprimere vocem, Vide COMPRIMO.
Concipere mente vocem alicuius. Quint.
Condere vocem alicuius memori aure. Oui. To remember ones woordes that he heareth him speake.
Conferre vocem in quæstum, Vide CONFERO.
Confirmatur vox hoc modo. Quintil. The voyce is made stronger.
Confiteri magna voce. Cic. With a lowde voyce.
Consequi vocem gradu, Vide CONSEQVOR.
Contendere voce, Vide CONTENDO.
Continere vocem, Vide CONTINEO.
Conturbatur vox. Lucret. Curata vox. Quint.
Currit vox. Plin. The voyce runneth, as it doth in a trunke or hallow vaute.
Custodire vocem. Quint.
Deducere vocem, Vide DEDVCO.
Demissa voce loqui. Virg. To speake softly in a low voyce.
Deplorare voce lamentabili. Cic.

Descendit vox. Quint. The voyce falleth.
Deuorat vocem dolor. Ouid. Sorowe will not suffer him to speake: he cannot speake for sorow.
Dicere aliquid acuta voce. Horat.
Tacita voce dicere aliquid. Ouid. To say a thing softly.
Distinguere vocem lingua. Sil. With the tongue to deuide the voyce into certaine woordes distinctly.
Dat voces lingua. Ouid.
Dare vocem alienæ personæ. Quintil. To imagine another man to speake.
Longas in fletum ducere voces. Virg.
Effundere voces ad æthera. Virg.
Vox elicit vocem. Ouid. A question prouoketh an answere.
Elisa vox, in illum sonum erumpit, cui Græci κλαγγμὸν nomen ab immaturo gallorum cantu dederunt. Quintil. the voyce vttered in the throte maketh that we call a clocking in hennes, or a crowing in yong cockrelles, which do it, as they were halfe throtled.
Elisa voce canere, vel loqui. Bud. To feygne in singing: to speake in a small feygning voyce: also to speake or singe as one could heardely vtter his voyce.
Eluctata furorem vox. Sta. After his rage and fury had staid his voyce for a time, at the last he burst out in this wise.
Emittere vocem. Tibul. To speake.
Erecta & concitata voce aliquid dicere. Quintil. To speake with a lowde and earnest voyce.
Eripere vocem ab ore loquentis. Virg. To interrupt ones talke, and take his tale out of his mouth.
Exasperatur vox. Quint.
Exasperant vocem fauces raucæ. Quinti. An hoarse throte maketh a rough voyce.
Excidit vox ore. Virg.
Excipere vocem alicuius. Senec.
Excitare vocem. Cic. To rise in speaking by little and little: to speake lowder: by little and little to speake higher.
Exercere vocem pronuntiatione. Quint.
Trucem vocem expauere. Sil.
Exprimere voces. Lucret. To expresse woordes.
Anhelam vocem exprimere. Claud.
Mœstas voces exprimere. Vir. To vtter sorowfull woordes.
Ferre voces ad aliquem. Ouid.
Fertur vox ad aures. Virg. A voyce is heard.
Fingere optimè sibi voces. Qui. Best to fashion themselues tunes or voyces.
Flectere vocem. Ouid. To bende the voyce to some chaunge of tune in pronuntiation.
Fractæ voces ad litrora. Virg.
Frangitur vox vitio faucium. Quint.
Legitima voce fraudare literam. Ouid. Not to giue a letter his full sounde.
Obscœnis vocibus frui. Iuuen.
Fundere voces. Catull.
Voces inanes fundere. Cic. To babble vainely: to chat like a birde in a cage.
Extremam vocem cum sanguine fundo. Virg. I speake this yeelding vp my life with all.
Fusa vox. Quint.
Glutire vocem. Pli. To make a noyse in the throte as an hen in clocking.
Habere voces. Cic. To make a noyse or crying.
Habere contemptam supplicis vocem. Catul. To contemne ones humble intreatie.
Hæsit vox faucibus. Virg. I could not speake or vtter a woord.
Haurire vocem auribus. Virg. To heare.
Raris turbatus vocibus hisco. Virg.
Clara voce hortari aliquem. Stat.
Iacere vocem. Tacit. To spread a rumor: to cast out a woord.
Iactare voces inertes. Virg. To speake &c.
Iactare voces ad sydera. Virg.
Impedire vocem loquentis. Ouid.
Inclamare aliquem magna voce. Liu. To call vpon one by name alowde.
Includit vocé dolor. Ci. Sorow doth not suffer him to speake.
Incurrere in voces maleuolorum, Vide INCVRRO.
Inducere voces dolentum. Tacit. To speake like men that were sorowfull and heauie.

Inflectere voces cantu. Tibull.
Inflexa vox ad miserabilem sonum. Cic. The voice tuned or bent to a pitifull sounde.
Ingeminare voces. Virg. To repeate wordes often.
Sollicita voce inuocare aliquem. Ouid.
Iterare voces. Horat.
Resonis vocibus iterare aliquid. Ouid. To repeate a thing with an eccho.
Iungere vocem fidibus. Quint. To sing to an instrument.
Lacessere aliquem voce. Virg. With wordes to egge one.
Locare vocem. Iuuenal. To haue wages for vsing his voyce, as criers haue. Loqui Latina voce. Ouid.
Loqui primùm incerta voce tentauit. Quint. He began first to speake so, that a man coulde not discerne his wordes.
Tristi voce loqui. Ouid.
Mittere vocem. Lucret. To speake.
Mittere vocem contra aliquem. Cic. To speake against one.
Vox de quæstura nulla missa est. Cicer. They speake neuer a worde of the custurship.
Mittere vocem pro se, aut pro aliquo. Cicer. To speake for himselfe or for another.
Mittere voces furiales. Vide MITTO.
Mittere liberam vocem. Liu. To speake without feare.
Superbas voces mittere. Lucret. To speake prowdely.
Modulari vocem. Vide MODVLOR.
Moneri voce alicuius. Virg.
Blandis vocibus morari aliquem. Virg. With faire woordes to cause one to stay.
Mouere numina voce. Virg.
Multiplicare voces acceptas. Plin. To cause the voyces, that be made in it to ferire many.
Constanti voce negare aliquid. Ouid.
Obscurant vocem fauces obtusæ. Quint.
Obscuratur vox vitio faucium. Quint. By some impediment in the throte the voyce is deade, and may scant be heard.
Obtundere vocem. Vide OBTVNDO.
Parcere voci. Quint. Penetrat vox ad aures. Ouid.
Persequi voce. Vide PERSEQVOR.
Præterradit vox fauces. Lucret.
Premere vocem. Virg. To holde his peace.
Magna voce proclamare. Virg.
Profundere vocem. Catull.
Profusæ voces abiere domos ætherias. Sil.
Immoderatè profusa vox Vide IMMODERATVS.
Reddere voces. Virg. To speake to one againe.
Referre voces pectore. Virg.
Natura ita resonans theatrum, vt vsque Romam significationes, voceſque referantur. Cic. That the wordes may be heard and vnderstanded euen to Rome.
Voce referre. Virg. To aunswere.
Remittunt vocem nemora. Virg. The woodes cast an Eccho againe.
Replere littora voce. Oui. To make all the sea side ring with his crying.
Resoluere vocem atque ora. Vir. To breake out after silence, and speake.
Resorbent vocem corui. Plin. Rauens make a noyse in the throte, as it were by drawing in breath.
Nescit vox missa reuerti. Horat. A worde spoken cannot be vnsayde.
Roboratur vox à tredecim annis. Plini. The voyce waxeth strong, &c.
Summissa voce rogare opem alicuius. Ouid.
Rumpere vocem. Vir. After silence to burst out and speake.
Rupit hanc pectore vocem. Vir. He burst out and spake this.
Scindere vox viti faucium. Quint.
Sequi voce fugientem. Virg. To runne after one crying on him.
Simulare fictas voces læto tumultu. Lucan.
Spargere voces ambiguas in vulgum. Vir. To spread doubtfull rumours abroade among the people.
Strangulare vocem. Quin. To make that one cannot speake but as he were almost thratled.
Suffocata vox maiore risu minus clara est. Quin. The voyce being drowned with great laughter, is not so cleare or audible.

Esse bona voce, Vide BONVS.
Vox erat in cursu. Ouidius. His talke continued on: he was speaking on.
Supprimere vocem alicui. Ouid.
Incestis temerantur vocibus aures. Ouid.
Temperata vox. Quint.
Tenuatur vox. Quint. Ones voyce is made smaller.
Minaci voce terrere aliquem. Horat.
Tollere vocem. Horat. To speake higher or lowder.
Exiguam vocem tollere. Virg.
Lugubri voce querelam tollere. Lucret.
Trahere vocem ab imo pectore. Virg. To begin to speake with a great sigh.
Trahere aliquid pura voce. Perſ.
Tundi assiduis vocibus hinc atque hinc. Virg.
Venit vox ad aures vulgi. Vir. Vocare voce aliquem. Vir.
Plena voce vocare aliquem. Virg.
Volutant vocem per atria. Virg. Vide VOLVTO.
Vrgenda vox non est vltra vires. Quin. We must not straine the voyce, more then it is able to abide.
Falsis vocibus vti. Horat.
Vócula, vóculæ, pen.cor. Diminutiuum. Cic. A little voyce, or worde: also, obloquie.
Maleuolorum voculæ. Cic. The obloquie and ill talke of, &c.
Fallæ voculæ. Cic. False huntes or reportes.
Vocâlis, & hoc vocále, pen.pro. Cic. That hath a voyce: loude.
Ranæ vltra solicum vocales, sunt signa tempestatis. Plini. Frogges croking or making a noyse more than they were wont, &c.
Vocali quodam sono. Plin.
Vocalissimus homo. Plin. iun. A very great talker or lowde speaker.
Carmine vocali clarus Philamon. Ouid.
Chordas vocales impellere pollice. Tibu. To play on a lute or harpe.
Ora vocalia. Ouid.
¶ Vocales interdum in vim consonantium transeunt. Qui. vowels. &c.
Vocales frequentissimè coeunt. Quint.
Concursus vocalium. Cic.
Vocálitas, pen.cor. vocalitátis, fœ.g. quam Græci euphoniam vocant. Quint. A tune or sounde of a voyce.
Vociferor, pen.cor. vociferâris, vociferári. Virg. To cry out: or lowde: to bray.
Liberè vociferari. Cic.
Quid vociferabare decem millia talentûm Gabinio esse promissa? Cic.
Res ipsa vociferatur. Lucret.
¶ Vociferare, actiuum protulit. Cic.
Vocíferans, pen.cor. Particip. Vir. Crying out alowd: braying.
Talia vociferans, &c. Sil. Graui vociferans. Val. Flac.
Vocifer á tio, vociferatiónis, f.g. Verbale. Cic. A crying out: a braying.
Muliebris vociferatio. Author ad Heren.
Vociferatione accusatores vti consueuerunt. Cic.
Furiosa vociferatio. Quint.
Vocifer âtus, huius vociferátus, pen. prod. Idem quod Vociferatio. Plin.
Voco, vocas, vocâre. To call: to bid: to aske: to name.
Vocare ad cœnam. Cic. To bid to supper.
Ad cœnam per famulum vocare. Mart.
Esum & comessatum vocare. Plaut.
Conuiuum vocare. Idem. Plaut.
Ad nuptias vocare. Teren. To bid one come to a mariage.
Domum suam istum non ferè quisquam vocabat. Cic.
Intra tecta vocare aliquem. Virg.
¶ Vín' vocem huc ad te? Plaut. Will you haue me to call him out vnto you?
Voca illum verbis meis. Plaut. Call him in my name: saye that I bad him come.
Vocaueras me in hunc diem. Plau. You sent me worde, that I shoulde come os this day.
Vocare clamore suos. Virg. To whoope or cry to his company.
¶ Vocare clamoribus hostem. Virg. With loude voyce to defie his enymie, and bid him come fight.
¶ Vocare clamore deũ. Virg. To cal vpon god: to cry to god.

Nomine

Nomine aliquem vocare. Virg. To call by name.
Voce vocare aliquem. Virg.
Magna voce vocauit Aeneam. Virg.
Votis vocari. Virg. To be called on with vowes & prayers.
Auixilia vocans frustrá. Virg.
Deos vocare auxilio. Virg. To cry to the gods to helpe him.
Concilium vocare. Ouid.
Vocat pluuiam cornix. Virg. The crowe crieth after raine: or by his crying signifieth it will raine.
¶ Vocari aliquó. Lucan.
Me ad Democritum vocas. Cicer. Thou alleagest Democritus, and wouldest haue me beleeue him.
Ad altercationes vocari. Quint.
Fata nos vocant ad bella. Virg.
Ad calculos aliquem vocare. Liu. To call one to an account. Vide CALCVLVS.
In certamina vocare. Virg.
Ad computationem vocare. Plin. iun. To demaunde an account or reckening of one.
In deorum concilium vocare. Cic. To account one as a god.
In concionem vocare. Cic. To warne the people to come to an assembly before him.
Cur autẽ per te inimicũ paternum, in consiliũ vocauit. Cic.
In contemplationem vocari. Pli. To be considered diligently: to be weighed and mused vpon.
Reliqui temporis spacium in contentionẽ vocatur. Ci. The controuersie is about the residue of the time, that folowed.
In crimen vocari. Cic. To blame: to accuse: to lay to ones charge.
In culpam vocari. Qu. To be blamed: to be charged as fauty.
In disceptationem & controuersiã vocari. Ci. To be brought in controuersie.
In discrimen vocare. Cic. To bring in danger.
In discrimen vocari de vita & gloria. Cic. To be brought in danger to leese both his life and honour.
Alij de beneuolentia ciuium in discrimen vocantur. Cice.
In dubium vocare. Cic. To doubt of: to bring in doubt.
Ad exemplar alterius vocare aliquem. Pli iun. To exhort & bid one follow another mans example, & to doe as he doth.
Ad exitium & vastitatem vocare. Cicero. To bring to vtter spoyle and destruction.
In simulationem probrorum vocare. Cicer. To lay certaine reprochfull things to ones charge.
In inuidiam aliquid vocare. Ci. To bring a thing in hatred: to endeuour to make a thing be spited or hated.
Ad iudicem vocare. Quint.
Ex ea die, ad hanc diem, quæ feci sti in iudicium voco. Cic. I make my plaint of those things that thou hast done since that day to this.
Auaritiam in crimen & in iudicium voco. Cic. I lay to thy charge and accuse thee for thy couetousnesse.
In ius vocare. Ci. To sue in the law: to commence an action against one.
Ad libertatem seruos vocare. Liu. To proclayme those bondmen to be free that will come and follow him.
Ad literas alias vocare. Cic.
In disquisitionem vocare rem aliquam. Sueto. To bring a thing to be tryed by commission or otherwise.
In locum mortui vocare. Cic. To put in place of one that is deade.
In lucem è tenebris vocare obscuram familiam. Cic.
In luctũ vocare. Cic. To cause to mourne to make sorowfull.
In medium vocare. Cic. To set a thing open before men: to make it to be knowne.
In odium vocare. Cic. To bring in hatred.
Extra ordinem vocare. Cic.
In partem vocare. Cic. To will one to be partaker of a thing.
Se in partem curarum ab illo vocatum. Tacit. That hee was willed o thim to take part of the charge.
In periculum vocare. Plin. iun. To bring in danger.
In periculum ac diſcrimen vocare. Cic.
Ad pileum vocare, Vide PILEVS.
Ad probationem vocare. Quint.
Ad procurationẽ rei alicuius vocati sermone plebis. Ci. To be willed and inuited of the people, to take the charge of a thing. In longum sermonem vocare. Cic.

In spem vocare. Cic. To put in hope: to make to hope.
In suspicionem coniurationis vocari. Cice. To be suspected as partaker of the conspiracie.
Ad testimonium vocare. Var. To call one to depose or beare witnesse.
Tu me ad verbũ vocas, non antè venio quàm recusaro. Ci. Thou wouldst haue me come to the rigour of the letter or literal sense, I will first refuse it, as not being bound so to doe.
Ad vitam vocare aliquem. Cic. To erhort one to liue.
In vota vocare. Virg. To desire one to helpe him.
Ad vilitatem vocare. Cic.
¶ Vocare aliquem. Plaut. To name one: to giue one a name.
Septem fuisse dicuntur vno tempore, qui sapientes & haberentur & vocarentur. Cicer. Which were both compted and called wise men.
¶ Tanti vocat ille pudicam. Iuuenal. So much money he taketh of hir to call hir a chaste and honest woman.
Vocâtus, pen. prod. Participium. Horat. Called: bidden.
Tenuit mora nulla vocatos. Ouid. They that were called, taried not.
Venit ad exiguas turba vocata dapes. Ouid. A company bidden, &c. Ad potula vocatus. Ouid.
Vocata est opera. Plau. I cannot for one hath already desired me to doe a thing for him.
Vocâtus, huius vocâtus, m.g pen.prod. Virg. Praying: desiring: request.
Senatus frequens vocatu Drusi in Curiam venit. Cic. The Senators at Drusus his bidding or request, came in great number to the counsaile house.
Cœnaui apud Cæsarem vocatu ipsius. Suet. At Cæsars request or bidding I supped with him.
Vocatio, onis, f.g. A calling.
Vocâtor, pen. prod. vocatóris, m.g. Plin. A bidder.
Vocatiuus, pe.pro. A diect. Priscianus. Pertayning to calling.
Vocatiuẽ, Aduerbium. Gell. By calling.
Vocabulum, vocábuli, n.g. pen.co. Terent. The denomination of any thing: a worde: a name.
Vocabula oppidorum. Plin. The names of townes.
Chaldæi non ex artis, sed ex gentis vocabulo nominati. C.
Si res suum nomen & proprium vocabulum non habet, &c. Cic. And proper terme.
Magistratuum vocabula. Tacit.
Cognata vocabula. Horat. Like names.
Incognita nobis vocabula. Cic.
Media vocabula, Vide MEDIVS.
Speciosa vocabula rerum. Horat.
Vulgaria & forte occurrentia vocabula. Quintil. Common wordes, and such as come lightly to minde.
Construere rerum vocabula, Vide CONSTRVO.
Dare vocabula terris. Sil. To set names on countreyes.
Rebus non commutatis immutare vocabula. Cic.
Imponere vocabulum alicui, Vide IMPONO.
Tribuere vocabula monti. Ouid.
¶ Vocabulũ, Pro nomine Substãtiuo accipit. Gel. lib. 1. c. 16.
Vocâmen, pe.pro. vocáminis, n.g. Luca. The name of a thing.
Dare vocamen alicui rei. Solin. To giue a name to a thing.
Vocamen trahere de re aliqua Solinus. To take name of a thing.
Vócito, vócitas, p.c. vocitâre. Frequentatiuũ, Ci. To cal often.

V P

Vpilio, vpiliónis, m.g. positum est à Virgilio, pro Opilione. A shephearde.
Vpupa, úpupæ, f.g. pe.cor. Auis. Plin. A birde no bigger than a thrush, and hath a crest from his bill to the vttermost part of his heade, which he stroureth vp or holdeth downe according to his affection. Wherefore it cannot be our lapwing, as it hath beene taken for. It is rather to be called an woupe.
¶ Vpupa. Pla. An harlot as some take it: but ꝑ place in Plautus semeth to meane a beetle, mattocke, or like toole to dig stones with in a quarie. Vide Plaut. scena vltima. Capriu.

V R

Vranoscopos. A certaine fishe hauing one eye in his heade.

Vrbane,

Vrbane, Vrbanitas, Vrbanus, &c. Vide VRBS.

Vrbina, vrbinæ, ſ.g.pen.prod. Teli genus. Plaut. A certaine weapon.

Vrbs, vrbis. ſ.g. A walled towne: a citie.
Genitor vrbis, Quirinus. Ouid. The firſt founder of the city of Rome.
Vrbs, pro Ciuitate ipſa aliquando ponitur, id eſt, pro ciuibus qui in vrbe degunt. Virg.
Caſus vrbis. Vir. The ruine, fall, and deſtruction of the citie.
Conditores vrbium. Quin. The builders: the founders.
Incrementum vrbis. Liu. Intima pars vrbis. Cic.
Ad vrbem, Vide AD præpoſitionem.
Acceſſus ad vrbem. Cic.
¶ Ampliſſima atque ornatiſſima vrbs. Cic.
Ancipiti diſcordes vrbe Tribuni. Lucan.
Antiqua vrbs. Virg. A noble citie.
Arcta ciuibus vrbs. Stat. A city ſo greatly peopled, as it hath ſcantly roume for the inhabitants.
Beatæ vrbes. Catul. Riche and welthie cities.
Caducæ vrbes. Virg.
Celſa vrbs. Virg. A citie of great maieſtie in building.
Clara. Catul. Famoſa. Tacit.
Egregia. Virg. Florentiſſima. Cic.
Frequens populis vrbs. Lucan. A citie greatly peopled.
Grauis vrbs armis, opibuſque. Stat. A citie full of armour and riches.
Inſectæ vrbes imperio. Cic.
Infima vrbs. Liu. The loweſt part of the citie.
Vrbs lymphata horroribus. Stat. A citie amaſed or aſtonied with feare.
Magna. Virg. Miſera. Horat.
Magnifica. Ouid. Mœſta, attonitaque. Iuuen.
Nobilis vrbs ſitu, Vide NOBILIS.
Nuda vrbs præſidio. Cic.
Opportuniſſima vrbs portu, Vide OPPORTVNVS.
Opulentiſſima. Catul. Pauida. Virg.
Pulcherima florentiſſima, potentiſſima vrbs. Cic.
In ſummis vrbibus. Catul.
Trepida vrbs. Lucan Turbida. Val. Flac.
Vacua. Valer. Flac.
¶ Abire vrbe, vel domo, Vide ABEO.
Abeſſe vrbe, vel domo. Cic. To be abſent from, &c.
Accipere vrbem, Vide ACCIPIO.
Adiungere vrbem aliquam in ſocietatem. Liu.
Aequare vrbes ſolo, Vide Aequo, æquas, in AEQVVS.
Afflicta vrbs peſtilentia. Liu. A citie ſore afflicted. &c.
Perdomitas vrbes agitare. Lucan.
Armata vrbs. Lucan. Conceſſæ cadunt vrbes. Lucret.
Capeſſere vrbem, Vide Capeſſo in CAPIO.
Capere vrbem. Virg. Cedere vrbe, Vide CEDO.
Cingere vrbem muris. Cic. Sen. To wall about.
Cingitur vrbs obſidione. Virg. The citie is beſieged round.
Circunuaſit vrbem terror, Vide CIRCVÑVADO.
Colere vrbem, Vide COLO.
Componere vrbem, Vide COMPONO.
Concuſſa vrbs. Virg. Shaken or troubled.
Nouam vrbem condere. Virg. To builde a new city.
Conuenire in vrbem aliquam. Plaut.
Defendere vrbem à vaſtatione, Vide DEFENDO.
Domitæ vrbes. Virg.
Emendare vrbes iudicijs. Quint.
Euertere vrbes. Quint. Feras vrbes exire. Luca.
Excedere vrbem nefandis odijs. Virg.
Pulchram vrbem extruere. Virg.
Vicinæ vrbes inter ſe arma ferunt. Virg. Cities nigh boydering are at warre one with another.
Vrbes lætæ florent pueris. Lucret.
Fũdare vrbẽ legibus. Vir. With good lawes to ſtabliſh a city.
Implere vrbem nomine alicuius. Ho. To ſpread ones name ouer all the city.
Incedere ad vrbem. Liu. To go to.
Incenſa vrbs. Virg.
Intercurrunt, cinguntque has vrbes tetrachie, Vide INTERCVRRO.
Interſepire vrbem vallo. Li. To caſt a trench betweene one and a citie.

Introire in vrbem. Cic.
Inuadere vrbem ſomno & vino ſepultã. Vir. To aſſault a city, the people whereof are ouerwhelmed with ſleepe and drunkennesſe.
Inuadere in vrbes vi, Vide INVADO.
Inuiſere vrbes. Vir. Securas vrbes irrumpere. Claud.
Lacerare vrbes. Luca. Luſtrare vrbem, Vide LVSTRVM.
Mittere in ſeruituram vrbes. Liu.
Penetrare ab vrbem. Ouid. Petere vrbem excidijs. Vir.
Ponere vrbem. Virg. To builde a citie.
Premere vrbem ingenti obſidione. Virgil. Streightly and hardly to beſiege a citie.
Aegris vrbibus viuus redit calor. Claud.
Placidas vrbes in pacere regebat. Virg.
Regere conſilijs vrbes. Quint.
Relerare vrbem & pandere portas. Virg.
Sepulta vrbs. Tacit. A citie vtterly deſtroyed.
Spoliare vrbes populis. Stat.
Præclaram vrbem ſtatuere. Virg. To builde a noble city.
Sternere vrbes admotis machinis. Seneca. To beate downe cities, &c.
Tranſcribunt vrbi matres. Virg.
Viduare vrbem ciuibus. Virg. Victæ vrbes. Horat.
Vrbícula, vrbículæ, ſ.ge.pen.cor Diminutiuum. A little citie or towne.
Vrbicus, pen.co. Adiect. Sueton. Of or pertayning to a towne.
Magiſtratus vrbici. Sueton.
Occupationes vrbicæ. Martial.
Vrbânus, pen.prod. Aliud adiectiuum: cui Ruſticus opponitur. Cic. Of a city: dwelling in a citie: Ciuile: courtiſe: gentle in ſpeach and geſture.
Arbor vrbana, cui Sylueſtris opponitur. Plin. A tree cherished and kept in a garden.
Excubiæ vrbanæ. Tacit. Familia vrbana. Pompon.
Mus vrbanus. A towne mouſe.
Otium vrbanum. Cic.
Prædia vrbana. Vlpia. Gentlemens houſes either in the citie or countrey. Quia vrbanum prædium non locus facit, ſed materia, inquit Vlpianus.
Rebus vrbanis abſtinere. Plin. Not to meddle with ciuile affayres.
Serui vrbani. Paul. That ſerue in the towne or citie.
Vita vrbana, cui opponitur, Ruſtica. Terent. A ciuile life in the towne, not medling with husbandry.
Vitæ vrbanæ commoda. Ouid.
¶ Vrbanus. Cic. Ciuile: courtiſe: of gentill and pleaſaunt behauiour: pleaſant and courteyſe in wordes and geſture.
Comis & vrbanus. Horat.
Homo latus & vrbanus, Cic.
Frons vrbana. Horat.
Homo vrbanæ frontis. Bud. ex Horat. A comely citizen: one of a ſeemely porte: a manne of courteous behauiour and countenance.
Vrbánicus, pe.co. Adiect. Paulus iuriſcon. Of a city or towne.
Vrbánitas, pen.cor. vrbanitátis, fœ.gene. Quint. Courteſie: ciuilitie: good maner: gentlenesſe in ſpeach and behauiour: pleaſant ieſting.
Vrbanitas opportuna reficit animos. Quin. Pleaſant talke in ſeaſon vſed, recreateth the minde.
Oratoria vrbanitas. Quint. The pleaſeunt grace in ieſtyng vſed of an orator.
Vir noſtrorum hominum vrbanitate limatus. Cic.
Incurrere in hominum facetoſam vrbanitatem, Vide INCVRRO.
Deſideria vrbis & vrbanitatis depone. Ci. And of ciuile life.
Vrbáne, pen.prod. Aduerbium. Cic. Pleaſantly with a good grace: courteyſelly.
Vrbanatim. Like a gentleman: like a citizen.
Vrbanicani milites. Souldiours of the citie.
Vrceus, cei.pen,cor.m.g. Plau. A pitcher pot for water.
Vrceus æneus. Cato. Vrcei aquarij. Cato.
Vrcei fictiles vrinales. Cato.
Vrcéolus, vrcéoli, m.g.p.c. Dimin. Col. A little water pitcher.
Vrceolâris, pen.pro. Adiectiuum. That pertaineth to pitchers. vnde Vrceolaris herba, quæ aliàs Perdicũ dicitur, & Herba mularis, & Helxine. Plin. Pellitorie of the wall.

Vredo,

Vredo, pe.pr. vrédinis, ſ.g. Ci. The fault of blaſting in cõne trees, or herbes.
¶ Vredo. Plin. An itche, or burning in the ſkinne.
Vreteres, pe.pro. Celſ. The water pipes or cundits, by which the vrine paſſeth from the reynes to the bladder.
Vrgeo, vrges, vrſi, vrſum, vrgére, pen.pro. Virg. To prouoke: to haſte forth: to ſtreine: to enforce: to preſſe on: to vrge: to beſtreit or earneſt vpon.
¶ Vrgere. Celſ. To vexe, inſeſt, or moleſt: to oppreſſe.
Illud neque vrſi, neque leuaui. Cic. I did neyther earneſtly purſue that thing, nor yet qualifie it.
Inſto atque vrgeo, inſector, poſco, atque adeò flagito. Cic.
¶ Angustijs vrgeri. Cic. To be in great ſtreit or difficultie. to be hardly ſtreined.
Aſſultibus varijs vrgere aliquem. Virg.
Conuitio aliquorum vrgeri. Cic.
Culullis vrgere aliquem. Hor. To preſſe one often with the cuppe to make him often to drinke: to apply him with ỹ cup.
Curis multis vndique vrgeri. Lucret. To be hardely vexed with care on euery ſide.
Dolore graui vrgentur.
Exilio vrgeri. Cic.
Fame, ferróque vrgeri. Liu. To be ſore ſtreyned and inforced with famine and violence of ſworde.
Febres magnæ vrgent. Celſ. Great feuers vexe, &c.
Fortuna vrget miſeros tenaciter. Ouid.
Hortatibus vrgere aliquem. Valer. Flac. Earneſtly to incourage, or to lie earneſtly vpon one in perſwading.
Ab hoſte magno vrgeri. Val. Flac.
Iuſſis ingentibus vrgere. Virg. To ſtraine one with, &c.
Laboribus vrgere famulas. Ouid. To charge, and to followe hir ſeruants with worke earneſtly.
Literis vrgeri. Aſinius Pollio ad Ciceronem. To be earneſtly called on, &c.
Malis omnibus vrgeri. Cic. To be vexed or grieued, &c.
Dominus non leuis vrget mentem. Hor.
Mœrore vrgeri. Cic. To be in great ſorowe.
Mole vrgetur corpus. Virg. Morbo vrgeri. Cic.
Nox vrget diem, & dies noctem. Hora. I haue no reſt eyther day or night.
Onus vrget. Ouid. Periculum vrget. Plin.
Solicitudine vrgeri. Cic. To be in great care.
Somnus vrget. Cice. He hath much adoe to forbeare ſleepe.
Tempus vrget moriendi. Cic.
¶ Illud vrgeam, non intelligere eum quid ſibi dicendum, quum dolorem ſummum malum eſſe dixerit. Cic. I may be earneſt with him to aunſwere me in this point, that he vnderſtandeth not, &c.
In aliquo opere noctes & dies vrgeri. Cic. To be earneſtly occupied in a worke both day and night.
Diutius vrgere. Cic. To purſue a matter further.
Acrius vrgere. Horat.
Ius Craſſus, æquitatem Antonius vrgebat. Ci. Craſſus earneſtly alleaged the rigour of the law, Antonius æquitie.
Occaſionem vrgere. Cic. Earneſtly to purſue and follow, &c.
De ædificatione tua Cyrum vrgere non ceſſo. Cic. I ceaſe not to ſolicite and call earneſtly vpon Cyrus, &c.
Si tibi id minus libebit, non te vrgebo. Ci. I will not ſtreine you, or be earneſt on you.
Iratis precibus vrgere aliquem. Horat.
Male adminiſtratæ prouinciæ vrgeri. Tacit. To be earneſtly charged with the yll gouernement of the prouince.
Vrgere aliquem ad ſolutionem. Vlpian. To conſtreine or inforce one to pay.
¶ Vrgeo, cum infinitiuo. Hora. Vrges ſummouere littora, &c. Then trauaileſt or laboureſt earneſtly to remoue, &c.
¶ Vrgere. Virg. To haſten forth or forwarde.
Iter vrgere. Ouid. To haſten forwarde, &c.
Vrgens, vrgentis, Participium. Virg. Forcing: ſtraying: calling earneſtly vpon.
Duris vrgens in rebus egeſtas. Virg. Sore preſſing, &c.
Vrgente hoſtium manu. Plin. The armie of their enimyes preſſyng them hardly.
Onus aut iam vrgentis, aut certè aductantis ſenectutis. Ci.
Fato vrgenti incumbere. Virg.
Vri, vrorum, m.g. Plin. Wilde beaſtes like oxen: bugles or buffes.

Vrica, úricæ, pen.cor. Plin. An hurt comming to all manner of graine by ouermuch moyſture. Vitium commune omnium ſatorum, etiam ciceris, cum ſalſilaginem eius abluendo imber dulcius id facit. Plin. lib. 18. cap. 19. Videtur autem ex verbis Theophraſti de Cauſis plant. lib 6. cap. 14. non intelligi hunc locum perperam tranſtuliſſe, & vricam eundem ſalſilagini morbum facere: qui quidem ciceri vitilis eſt, & ſalis loco ad conſeruationem: quòd ſi in flore & fructu ciceris prouiente hæc ſalſilago imbribus abluat, mox herba radicibus arefactis emoritur.
Vrigo, pen.pro. vriginis, fœm.gen. Plin. Burning in ſores by occaſion of any hote medicine.
Vrina, vrinæ, ſ.g.pen.prod. Colum. Vrine: water of man or beaſt: piſſe: nate.
¶ Genitalis vrina. Plin. The ſeede of man or beaſt.
Angustijs vrinæ vtile abrotonum. Plin. It is holeſome againſt paine and difficultie in making water.
Vrinæ crebra cupiditas, ſed magna difficultas eſt. Celſ. He hath often deſire to make water, but allway great paine.
Vrinæ difficultates ſuccus emendat. Plin. The iuice healeth difficultie, or paine in making water.
Vrinæ difficultatibus medetur hæc herba. Plin.
Incontinentia vrinæ, Vide INCONTINENS.
Iter vrinæ. Celſ. The cundite or way by which vrine paſſeth.
Profluuium vrinæ cohibere. Plin. To ſtay the diſeaſe of the fluxe of vrine.
Vrinæ tormina diſcutit cichorium. Plin.
¶ Alba vrina. Celſ.
Arenoſa. Plin. Vrine full of grauell.
Bullans. Plin. Vrine having great fome.
Candida. Plin. Cruenta. Plin.
Craſſa. Plin. Deterrima. Celſ.
Difficilis vrina. Celſ. Paine in piſſing or making vrine.
Diluta. Celſ. Thinne water vrine.
Parum liquida. Celſ. Rubens. Plin.
Mala, deterior, peſſima. Rubra. Celſ.
Celſius. Ruſa. Plin.
Mortifera. Plin. Tenuis. Celſ.
Nigra. Plin. Tortuoſior. Plin.
Pallida. Plin. Viridis. Plin.
Pura. Celſ. Vitioſa. Plin.
¶ Ciere vrinam, Vide CIEO.
Citare vrinam & Tardare, contraria. Celſ. To prouoke.
Auribus atque oculis concepta vrina, lutena. Smarting vring taken into ones eares and eies: to heare and ſee that pleaſeth him, as well as ſale in his eyes.
Concitare vrinam, Vide CONCITO.
Dens defricatus vrina. Catull.
Deſcendit pura vrina. Celſ.
Deſtillat paulatim ſine voluntate vrina. Celſ.
Excalefacere vrinas. Plin.
Vrina non excedit. Celſ. Vrine commeth not forth.
Excitare vrinam. Plin. To prouoke vrine.
Exinanita prius vrina. Plin. Hauing firſt made water.
Expellere vrinam. Plin. To piſſe: to cauſe to piſſe.
Facere vrinam. Colum. To piſſe: to make water.
Impellere vrinam. Plin. To prouoke vrine: to cauſe to piſſe.
Inhibere vrinam. Plin.
Inſtillare vrinam. Plaut.
Mordet aliquos acriore vi vrina. Plin. Some mens vrine by the ſharpeneſſe of it, maketh a burning or ſmarting.
Mouere vrinam. Plin.
Mouetur vrina. Iuuenal.
Nocet vrinæ galbanum. Plin.
Pellere vrinam. Plin. To cauſe to piſſe.
Pellit vrinam celerimè, &c. Plin.
Prodeit vrinæ pota radix. Plin. The roote dronke is good to prouoke vrine.
Profluit naturaliter vrina. Cel.
Reddere vrinam. Plin. To make water.
Soluere vrinam. Plin. To prouoke vrine.
Tardare vrinam. Celſ.
Trahit vrinas hæc herba. Plin. This herbe prouoketh vrine.
Transfluens vrina. Celſ.
Vrinare, vel vrinari, Deponens. Pli. To diue or ſwimme vnder the water.

Vrinâtor:

Vrinâtor,pe.pro.vrinatôris,m.g. Calistratus. One that diueth or swimmeth vnder the water.

Vrinum ouum. Pli. An egge that prouoketh not vnder an hen or other biede: a rotten-egge: an egge that the henne hath sitten on.

Vrina ova fiunt incubatione derelicta,quę alij cynosura dixere. Plin.

Vrion, & Vrium, rij.n.g. A certaine kinde of earth.

Vrito, Vide V R O.

Vrna, vrnæ, f.g. Colum. A measure of liquide things containing. triiij Sextarios,and is þ half of Amphora, of our measure foure gawnes and an halfe. Also the generall name of a water pitcher or pot.

Aquæ vrna. Hor. Argenti vrna. Horat.
Arcta vrna. Ouid.
Capacibus vrnis excipere & fundere laticem. Ouid.
Demissa vrna in vndas. Ouid.
Vndantem vrnam declinare. Claud.
¶ Vrna. Ci. A pot wherinto the Pyæ-tour did put the names of the iudges, when they houlde be chosen.
Vt patercmur nomina nostra in vrnam conjci.Plin.iun.
Educit ex vrna tres. Cic.
Fetalis vrna. Tac. Delere vrnas. Cic.
Mouere vrnam. Virg.
Quatere vrnam. Stat. To shake the pot.
¶ Vrna imaginis mortui. Cic. The pot wherein the ashes of a dead man was kept.

Vrnâlis, & hoc vrnâle,pen. pro. Belonging to a pitcher or pot: or that contayneth the measure Vrna. vt Vrnales calculi, vel vrcei. Plin. Cato.

Vrnárium, vrnárij,n.g. Varro. A bouede in a kitchin,whereon pots or vessels be set full of water.

Vrnula, úrnulæ,f.g.pen.cor.Diminutiuum. A little water pitcher or pot. vnda Vrnula aqualis. Varro.
Fictiles vrnulæ. Cic.

Vro, vris,vssi, vstum,úrere,pe.co.Pli. To burne: to torment, vexe, or grieue.

Flammis subiectis vrere aliquid. Virg.
Sol grauis vrit arua. Ouid. The hote sunne parcheth,&c.
Sitis vsferat herbas.Ouid. Drinesse and heat burned vp the grasse.
Vrit calore. Cic. Calor vrit artus. Lucret.
Vrere,de frigore etiam dicitur.Lucanus.Vrebant montana niues. The snow did burne or bite,&c.
Pernoctant venatores in niue,in mõtibus vri se patiuntur. Cic. They suffer themselues to be bitten or parched in the colde hilles.
Vri virgis. Horat. To be soze beaten with rods.
Loris vri. Horat. To be whipped or scourged.
Calceus angustior dicitur vrere pedem. Hor. To wring or grieue the foote.
¶ Vro hominem,per translationem. Terent. I vexe him:I nettle him, or sting him: I nippe him by the stomacke: I gine him a corosse.
Vrebant anxiam mentem varia vndique conuitia.Sue.Did vexe his carefull minde.
-quàm magis id repeto
Tam magis vror. Plautus. The more I am tormented or grieued with it.
Quos & Machanidas tyrannus Lacędemoniorum finitimo bello vrebat. Liuius. Whome Machanias did plague and torment,&c.
Vrit atrox Iuno. Virg. Angry Juno fretteth and is greately mooued, or in a great chafe.
¶ Vri. Virg. To burne in loue.
Impensius vri. Catull.
Pectore intimo vri.Catul. To be in loue euen at the bottom of his heart.
Violenter me vssit amor.Ouid.
Pectore toto vri.Ouid.
Amor me vrit.Virg. Dolor vrit amantes.Ouid.
Doloribus tacitis vri. Ouid.
Ignibus vri. Horat. To haue his heart on fire with loue.

Vrens. Participium. Burning.vt
Caminus vrens ramos.Horat.
Capellæ vrentes culta.Virg. Goates with their byrning billing vines and other trees.

Vrendus,Aliud participium.vt Filix vrenda.Horat.

Vitrigo, ginis, fœ.g. Blasting of corne.

Vstus,Similiter Participium. Plin. Burned:
Ignibus vstus crudeliter. Ouid.
Aer siccis feruoribus vstus. Ouid.
Capillus vstus. Tibull.

Vstio, vstiónis,f.g.Verb.Cato. A burning a searing.
Vstio. Plin. A marking with an hote yron.

Vstor, vstóris, pen.prod.Verbale, mas.gen.Martia.A burner: one that burneth dead bodies.

Vstulo, ústulas, p.co.vstulâre.Pacu. To burne or seare a thing.

Vstulandus, Particip. Catull. To be burned.

Vstulâtus, pen.pro.Aliud participium: vt Pali vstulati. Vitru. Stakes burned at the ende to harden them.

Vstrina, vstrinæ,f.g.pen.pro.Pli. A melting house for mettall: or a place where dead bodies are burned.

Vropygium,& oropygium,n.g.Martial. The narrowest and lowest part of the chin: the rumpe.

Vrpix, vrpicis,pen.pro.m.ge.Instrumentum rusticum.Cato. An instrument of husbandry.

Vrruncum, vrrunci.n.g. Var. The lowest part of the eare of corne next the straw.

Vrsus, vrsi, m.g.Plin. The male beare.
Armati vnguibus vrsi. Ouid.
Auidi vrsi. Ouid.
Informes vrsi. Virg. Rauci. Stat.
Sæuis inter se conuenit vrsis.Iuuen.
Truces vrsi. Valer. Flac. Turpes.Ouid.
Vespertinus circumgemit vrsus ouile. Hor. The beare in the euening seking for his pray roseth about the sheepe houses.

Vrsulus, úrsuli, m.g.pen.cor. Diminutiuum. A little beare, or beare whelpe.

Vrsa,vrsæ, fœminum.Plin. The she beare.
Villosæ vrsæ catuli. Ouid.
Squallida vrsa errabat per montes incultos. Ouid.
Libystis vrsa. Virg. A beare of Lybia.
¶ Vrsa. The signe of starres in the north called Charles wayne.

Vrsinus,pen.prod. Adiect. Of a beare. vt Vrsinus sanguis. Col.

Vrtica, vrticæ, f.g.pen.prod.Plin. A nettle.
Mordax vrtica. Ouid. A stinging nettle.
Mortifera contactu vrtica. Plin.
¶ Vrtica, pro pruritu libidinis. Iuuenal. The tickling of leccherie.
¶ Vrtica. Plin. A kinde of fish,as Iouius saith,of the bignesse of a walnut, couered with an harde pyll:Aristole saith it is wythout shell, and is of doubtfull nature betweene a plant and a liuing creature.

Vruum, vrui,Aratri curuatura.Fe. The crooked pleugh taile.

Vsia, Latinè essentia, siue substantia dicitur.

Vsho, Vsitatus, Vsitatio, Vsitor,&c. Vide V T O R J

Vspiam, Aduerbium in loco. Ter. Any where: in any places in any thing.
Vtrum consistere vspiam velit, an mare transire, nescitur. Cicer.
Si scieris aspidem occultè latere vspiam. Cic. Any where.
¶ Num me expertus vspiam. Plaut. Hast thou tryed me in any thing?

Vsquam, Aduerbium in loco.Cic. Any where: in any places in any thing or matter: in any wise or manor.
Neque vsquam exul esse possum. Brutus Ciceroni.
Nec verò vsquam discedebam.Cic. I neuer went from him, wheresoeuer he were.
¶ Neque istic neque alibi tibi vsquam erit in me mora Terentius. Neyther in this matter, nor in anye thyng else, whatsoeuer it be,&c.
¶ Vide, num eius color, pudoris signum vsquam indicat? Terent. See whether his colour shewe any token of shame at all?
¶ Vsquam gentium, De loco & ad locum. Plau. Any where or to any place.
Si ea quidem deducta est vsquam gentium. Teren. To any place, whatsoeuer it be.

An quisquam vsquam gentium est ætquè miser? Tere.

Vsque. Præpo.Cic. Vntill: welnigh: continually: alway: so long.
Vsque ad pridie Calend. Maias.Cic. Euen vntill the last of Aprill.
Vsque ad summam senectutem. Cic.
Assenserunt Consules omnes, etiam Consulares vsque ad Pompeium.Plin.iun. Yea all that had beene Consuls, saue or except Pompei, or vntill they came to Pompei.
Vsque sub extremum brumæ. Virg. Vntill the latter ende of winter: about the ende of,&c.
Vsque Romam,vel Romam vsq;.Ter.Cic. Euen to Rome.
Aspera arteria ad pulmones vsque pertinet. Cic.
Ab ouo vsque ad mala.Hor. From the beginning to the ende: from the first to the last.
Achemenidas vsque illò tenuisse.Plin. Euen to that place.
¶ Vsque, aliquando est aduerbium: vt
Vsque à cunabulis. Plaut. Euen from my cradell, or from my infancie.
Vsque à mane ad vesperum. Plaut. Euen from morning to night.
Vsque à pueris. Terent. Euen from their childehoode.
Vsque à Romulo. Cic. Euen from Romulus his time.
Planitiem omnem à Cyro vsque, Albanorum gens tenet. Plin. Euen from the tyme of Cyrus.
Vsque à capite arcessere. Cic.
Vsque ab stirpe. Plaut. Euen from the roote.
Siculo prospexit ab vsque Pachyno. Virg.
Vsque ad iactum teli. Tacit. Vntill they came within shotte, or cast of a darte.
Ad serum vsque diem. Tacit. Euen vntill euening.
Celatum est atque occultatum vsque adhuc. Plaut. Yet, or to this present time.
Vsque adhuc quęsui. Plau. Hitherto, or to this present time.
Vsque adolescentiam meam. Cic. Euen to my youth.
Vsque ante diem quintum Calendas Maias.Liu. Vntill the day before the fift Calendes of May.
Vt animus in spe atque in timore vsque ante hac attentus fuit. Ter. Euer before time.
Attulisti mihi vsque è Persia. Plaut. Euen out of Persia.
Ex Aethiopia est vsque hæc. Tere. This wenche came euen as farre as Aethiope.
Vsque extra solitudines deductus. Pli. Vntill he was out of the wildernesses.
¶ Vsque adeò turbatur agris. Virg. He is so much troubled.
Ipsos tempestas vehementius iactare cœpit, vsqueadeò vti gubernator in scapham confugeret. Cic.
Suadere,orare,vsqueadeò donec perpulit. Teren. So long vntill he forced me to doe it.
Igni coquito vsqueadeò, dum fiat tam crassa quàm mel. Cato. So long,vntill,&c.
Bibas, edas quantum velis vsque affatim. Plaut. As much as thou wilt, euen to thy fill.
¶ Vsquedum inueniretur. Cic. Vntill it was founde.
Id faciunt vsquedum dolium alterius fursuribus & vuis cõpleant. Colum.
¶ Vsque eò dum. Cice. Multa facimus vsque eò, dum aspectus ipse fidem faciat sui iudicij. So long vntill,&c.
Vsque eò, ne cum bonis Nœuij crudelitati dedatur. Cic. So farre, that he may not with all his goods be committed,&c.
Vsque eò est commotus, vt sine vlla dubitatione insanire omnibus ac furere videretur. Cic. He was so much mooued, that,&c.
Eos vsque istinc exauditos puto. Cicero. I thinke they were hearde euen from thence.
Trans Alpes vsque transfertur. Cice. It is brought as farre as from beyonde the Alpes.
¶ Ego vapulando, ille verberãdo vsq; ambo defessi sumus. Terent. So long vntill both he with beatyng, and I with being beaten was wearie.
Me pugnis miserum vsque occidit. Terent. He hath almost killed me with beating & thumping with his fistes, wyrth that I am.
Opus faciam vt defatiger vsque, ingratus vt dormiam. Ter. I will labour euen vntill I be wery,&c.
¶ Mihi vsque curæ erit quid agas. Ci. I shall alway be carefull what you doe.

Vsque & vsque geminatũ. Martialis, Et quicquid petit vsq; & vsque donas. Continually and alway.
Vsque valuisti? Plaut. Were you alway in good healthe?
Vsque operiar. Plaut. I will still tarie for you.
Perreptaui vsque omne oppidum. Terent. I haue gone ouer all the towne.

Vsquequaque, pe.pro. Aduerbium. Cicer. All about: euery where: on euery side: alway: continually.
Nolite vsquequaque eadem quærere. Cic. Doe you not demaunde alway one thing.
Nusquam & Vsquequaque, contraria. Cic.
¶ Vsquequaq; spere oportet. Ci. A mã must alway be wise.
Vsquequaque se Domitij malè habent. Cælius ad Cicero. The Domitians be still in ill case.
Aut vndique religionem tolle, aut vsquequaque conserua. Cic. Either take away religion cleane, or preserue it in all points whole and sounde.
Mihi vsquequaque loquitur. Plaut. Yee speaketh to mee alwayes.

Vsquequo, pen.cor. Aduerbium. Varro. Vntill.
Iubet ranam coijcere in aquam, vsquequo ad tertiam partem decoxeris. Varro. So long vntill,&c.
Vsquequo magnarum nauium capacem esse diximus. Plin. Vntill þ place where I sayd it would receiue great ships.
Quo te spectabimus vsque? Martial. How long shall we,&c.
Legata vsquequo Falcidia permittit, suam habent potestatem. Vpian. Legacies, so farre as the law Falcidia permitteth,&c.

Vstio, Vstrina, Vstrigo, Vstulo, Vstus, &c. Vide V R O.

Vsualis, Vsuarius, Viucapio, Viura, Vsurpo, Vsurpatio, Vsus, Vsusfructus, Vide V T O R, veteris.

Vt, Coniunctio causatiua. Cic. As: that: albeit: how: like as: would to god: howmuch: albeit: least not.
Syracusana ciuitas (vt eam potissimũ nominem) dedit ipsi statuam. Cice. The citie of Syracuse (to name that especially),&c.
Quàm sis audax (vt alia obliuiscar) hinc omnes intelligere potuerunt. Cicer. (That I may forget, or not recyte other things,)&c.
Et (verè vt dicam) de te futurum est. Cicer. And (to say the truth) it will come to passe of thee.
¶ Vt ad pauca redeam, vxorem deduxi domum. Tere. To make a short tale, or, to be short,&c.
¶ Vt ita dicam. Quint. As I may say.
¶ Mihi suasit, vt ad te irem. Plaut. He perswaded me to come to you.
¶ Vt elegantiæ causa aliquando ponitur. Cicero. Inuitus feci, vt L. Flaminium è Senatu eicerem. It was against my will to cast Flaminius out of the Senate.
¶ Impuratus me ille vt etiam irrideat? Terent. Howe that naughtie and vile knaue doth mocke or scorne me?
¶ Vt non, pro Quin. Cicer. Fieri nullo pacto potest, vt non dicas quid non probes eius à quo dissentias. It can not be by any meanes, but that you must needes tell, what you doe not alowe,&c.
¶ Vt pro postquam:
-vt abij abs te, fit forte obuiam
Mihi Phormio. Terent. After I departed from you,&c.
Est annus vt repulsam tulit. Ci. It is an yeare since that,&c.
Vt illos de Republica libros edidisti, nihil à te sanè postea accepimus. Cic. After that, or since that you did set forth your bookes,&c.
¶ Vt regem æquæum vidi. Virg. Assoone as I saw,&c.
-omnes profectò mulieres Te amant, vt quæque aspexit. Plaut. Euen by and by assoone as any of them doe looke vpon you.
-vt quisque venerat,
Accedebam, Adolescens dicdum quęso,&c. Ter. As soone as any of them came, or, to euery one that came, I went to him,&c.
Vt & confestim. Liuius, Vt Hostius cecidit, confestim Romana inclinatur acies. As soone as, or after that Hostius was slaine, by and by the Romaine armie,&c.

Vt hæc audiuit, ſic exarſit, ad id, &c. Cic. By and by, as ſoone as he hearde this, he was in ſuch a chafe as it, &c.
Vt primum fletu repreſſo loqui poſſe cœpi. Cic. As ſoone as.
Vt primùm ceſſit furor. Virg.
Miſi cũ Titone plures, quibus ſingulis, vt quidque acciderit, Dares literas. Hirt. To each of which, ſo ſoone as any thing had happened, you might deliuer letters.
Vt quiſque me viderat. Cic. Aſſoone as any ſawe me.
¶ Vt tute es, item cenſes omnes eſſe. Plaut. Thou thinkeſt euery man is like thy ſelfe.
Vt illud incredibile eſt mortem oblatam eſſe patri á filio, ſic hoc veriſimile non eſt, &c. Cic. As that is a thing incredyble, ſo, &c.
Vt operum faſtigia ſpectantur, latent fundamenta. Quintil. As the tops of houſes are ſeene, ſo the foundations, &c. Ita, ſubintelligitur.
¶ Vt & Ita, cum ſuperlatiuo, pro Tantò & Quantó. Cicero. Vt quiſq; optimè dicit, ita maximè dicendi difficultatem pertimeſcit. The more eloquent that any man is, the more he feareth, &c.
¶ Vt voles eſſe me, ita ero. Plaut. I will be euen as you will haue me.
¶ Ita ſunt deinde dulces, vt non legantur modò, ſed etiam diſcantur. Ci. That they be not onely reade, but alſo cunned by hart.
Vt res dant ſeſe, ita magni, atque humiles ſumus. Terent.
¶ Pro quam, aut quantum. Vt optimè poſſumus. Quin. Euen as well as we can poſſibly.
Vt honorificentiſſimis verbis ipſe conſequi potero. Cic. With as honourable wordes as poſſibly I can.
Et te commendaui, vt diligentiſſimè potui. Ci. I wrat in your behalfe to him, as diligently as poſſibly I coulde.
¶ Nec vtique damno, vt qui dixerim eſſe in omnibus vtilitatis aliquid. Quint. Neither doe I condemne it, for ſo much as I haue ſayde, that, &c.
¶ Vt cũ verbis Metuo, vereor, & timeo, iunctũ, pro NE NON. ſumitur, Metuo vt ſubſtet hoſpes. Terent. I feare leaſt my ſtraunger will haue neuer a worde to ſay.
Firmæ hæ vereor vt ſint nuptiæ. Ter. I feare this marriage wil not holde long.
Timeo vt ſuſtineas. Cic. I feare you cannot ſuſtaine it.
¶ Scis mea conſilia vt tibi credam omnia. Ter. You know how I doe truſt you with all my ſecret counſayles.
Credo te audiſſe vt me circunſteterint. Cic. I thinke you haue hearde how they ſtoode about me.
Vt apparet. Cic. As it appeareth.
Multum (vt dixi) & diu cogitauit. Cic. (As I ſayde.)
Eludenſq; artem (vt ferunt) Agedum inquit, &c. Li. (As they ſay.)
Pecunia (vt fama eſt) ab rege accepta. Liu. (As the reporte is.)
Vt eſt conſuetudo. Cic.
Verùm (vt hic) multa ſepe imprudentibus imperatoribus vis belli, ac turba mouit. Cic. As it happeneth often.
Vt ſæpe venit. Colum. As it often commeth to paſſe.
Vt è Platone intelligi poteſt. Cic.
Vt perhibent. Virg. As men ſay.
¶ Horum authoritate finitimi adducti (vt ſunt Gallorum ſubita & repentina conſilia) eadem de cauſa, &c. Cæſar. (As the nature of the Frenchemen is to doe thynges vpon the ſodaine.)
Vt nunc ſunt mores. Ter. As the faſhion of the worlde now is.
Vt mihi rem narras Callicles, nullo modo poteſt fieri. Plaut. If it be as thou telleſt me Callicles, &c.
Vt eſt hominum genus nimis acutum & ſuſpitioſum. Cicero. As in deede they are a kinde of men very quicke witted, and lightly ſuſpecting things.
Vt par eſt. Cic. As it is meete.
Vt poteſt. Cic. So much as may be.
¶ Vt, pro ſecundum, vel pro, Multæ etiam, vt in homine Romano literæ. Cic. And, for a Romaine, well lerned alſo.
Erat cum literis Latinis, tum etiam Græcis, vt temporibus illis ſatis eruditus. Ci. He was, as that time ſerued, well learned, both in Latine and Greeke.
Orationem, ſalutarem, vt in tali tempore, habuit. Liu. He made vnto them, as that time ſerued, or, as might be in ſuch a time a fruitfull and profitable oration.

Vt populi Romani ætas eſt, ſenes: vt Athenienſium ſecula numeranter, adoleſcentes debent videri. Cic. In reſpect or regarde of the continuance of the people of Rome, they ſhoulde ſeeme olde men, &c.
Nonnihil, vt in tantis malis, eſt profectum. Cic. They preuayled, conſidering ỹ great miſchiefs that then were, not a litle.
Vt in licentia hac temporum. Plin. iun. Conſidering the licentiouſneſſe of this time.
Vt nunc eſt, manſuræ videntur. Cic. As the matter now goeth it may ſeeme they will tary.
Non vt olim ſolebat, Atellanum: ſed, vt nunc fit, mimum introduxiſti. Cic.
¶ Eius negotium ſic velim ſuſcipias, vt ſi eſſet res mea. Ci. In ſuch ſorte, as if it were my owne matter.
Vt quidem ſe nunc cauſa habet. Cic.
Vt diei tempus eſt. Terent. Conſidering the time of the day.
¶ -rus vt ibat, vt multum ſortè pluerat,
Ingreſſum fluuium rapidum. Plau. (Much raine by chaunce hauing fallen before,) &c.
¶ Vt numerabatur ſortè argentum. Terentius. As one, happily, was paying me money.
¶ Vt, pro ſecundum quod. vt mea memoria eſt. Cic. So farre as I remember.
Vt Dicæarcho viſum eſt. Cic. After the opinion of Dicæarchus.
Vt in quoque erat authoritatis plurimum. Cic. Euery one, as he was in greateſt authoritie or reputation, &c.
¶ Vt vales? Plaut. How fare you?
¶ Vt, pro Quàm, vel O quàm, admiratiué. Ci. Vt ille tum humilis, vt demiſſus erat, vt ipſe etiam ſibi, non ijs ſolùm qui aderant, diſplicebat? O how humble was he then, &c.
Vt præter ſpem euenit? Teren. O lord god how this hath happened, more then any man woulde haue hoped?
Vt falſus animi eſt? Ter. O howe he is deceiued in his opinion?
¶ Vt pro quamuis. Vt omia cõtra opinionem accederent, tamen multo ſe plurimum nauibus poſſe proſpiciebant. Cæſ. Imagine, or be it that all things did happen, &c.
Sine quo, vt reliqua ex ſententia ſuccedant, vix ſatis liberi videmur fore. Cic.
Vt enim quæras omnia, quomodo Græci ineptum appellent, non reperies. Cicer. Although thou ſeeke all places, or be it that thou ſeeke all, yet ſhalt thou not finde, &c.
Verùm vt ita ſit, tamen, &c. Ci. But put the caſe it be ſo, yet, &c.
Vt alia non ſint, certè ne laceſcat fortuna, metus eſt. Plin. Admit or put the caſe other things be not, &c.
¶ Vt, pro Vtinam. Terentius. Vt te omnes equidem di, deæque perdiunt. I pray god and all the ſaints in heauen, ſome miſchiefe come to thee.
¶ Iam vt in limine, iam vt intra limen auditur. Plin. iun. Sometime as it were at the doore, ſometime as it were within the entrie.
¶ Tum illa, vt conſuetum facilè amorem cerneres,
Reiecit ſe in eum flens, quàm familiater? Tere. In ſuch ſorte as a man might eaſily perceiue, &c.
¶ Eſt autem oratio ſcripta elegantiſſimè ſententijs, verbis, vt nihil poſſit vltra. Cic. In ſuch ſorte as can not be more excellent.
¶ Operam vt det PA. dabit. Plaut. Promiſe that he may helpe me.
Verùm, vt omnes dij adiuuent, cum decimo. Cicero. Id eſt, quamuis.
¶ Vt maximé. Colum. At the moſt: at the vttermoſt.
Domus celebratur ita vt quam maximè. Ci. His houſe is haunted as much as euer it was.
Vt multum. Martial. At the moſt.
Tribus vt plurimum bonitatibus diſtat. Pli. At the moſt, it differeth, &c.
¶ Vt qui. As which, &c. Columel. Concepta diutius in parũm adoleſcunt, vt quæ peracto anno menſe tertiodecimo vix eduntur.
¶ Vt ne addam, quòd ſine ſumptu ingenuam, liberalem nactus es. Terent. That I may not ſay moreouer that, &c.
Vt ne, pro, ne. Plaut. Vt ne ſuccenſeat, id eſt, ne ſuccenſeat.
Licet laudem fortunam, tamen vt ne Salutem culpem. Plaut. Although I praiſe fortune, yet I do it not ſo, that I blame, &c.
Vt ne id videam miſera huc effugi foras. Terent. To the end that I may not ſee it.

Ita

Ita velim, vt nequid properes. Cicer. I woulde haue you ſo to doe it, that you make not ouermuch haſte.
Vt ne longius abeam, declarat iſta aſcriptio eſſe aliquid. C. Without going any further, euen this, &c.
¶ Vt quid? Liu. Cic. Wherefore? why?
¶ Vtut. Plaut. Howſoeuer it be.
-iam iſtuc gaudeo,
Vtut erga me merita. Plau. Howſoeuer ſhe hath deſerued at my hand: or whatſoeuer diſpleaſure ſhe hath done to me.
Vtut eſt, non ibo tamen. Plau. Howſoeuer the matter be, &c.
Vtut erat, manſum tamen oportuit. Tere. Howſoeuer the matter was, &c.
Vtut erant alia, illi certè, quę nunc domi tuę eſt, conſuleres Terent. Howſoeuer other things went, &c.
Rem patri, vtut erat geſta, indicauit. Terent. He declared to his Father euen the whole order of the matter, as it was done.
¶ Vtputa, Vide PVTO, putas.
Vtcunque, Aduerbium. In what maner or facion ſoeuer: how ſoeuer: according as: euen as: ſoſo: after a ſort: meetely ſo.
Plaut. Vtcunque animo collubitum eſt meo. Euen as it lyked my owne fantaſie.
¶ Vtcunque eſt ventus, exin velum vortitur. Plaut. Howſoeuer the winde is, according thereto the ſhipman turneth his ſayle.
¶ -tu vt ſubſeruias
Orationi, vtcunque opus ſit verbis, vide. Terent. So that thou anſwere my talke in euery point, according as the matter ſhall require.
¶ Vtcunque eſſet igitur, illo ipſo tam iniquo loco agredi hoſtem placuit. Liuius. Therefore howſoeuer the matter went, &c.
Tamen, vtcunque ſit, etiam nunc, &c. Liu.
Vtcunque erit, iuuabit tamen rerum geſtarum memoriæ principis terrarum populi meipſum conſuluiſſe. Liuius. Howſoeuer the matter ſhall happen. &c.
¶ Vtcunque rabiem & ipſi ſentiunt, id eſt, aliquo modo. Plin. They themſelues alſo after a ſort, &c.
Vtenſile, Vide VTOR.
Vter, vtra, vtrum. Cic. Which, or whether of the two.
Videte vtrum ſit æquius, hominem honeſtiſſimum dedi inimiciſſimis nationibus, an reddi amicis. Cice. Conſider you whether of the two is more reaſonable, &c.
Vtra lex iubeat aliquid, vtra permittat. Cice. If the tone of them will: if either of them will.
Vter alteri dixerit, neſcio. Plin. Which of them tolde it to the other, or whether tolde other, &c.
Dijudicari non poterat, vter vteri anteferendus virtute videretur. Cæ. A man could not diſcerne, which was in vertue to be preferred before the other.
Neuter vtri inuidit. Plaut. Neither doth hate other.
Vtercunque, Adiectiuum. Cic. Whether of them you will.
Vtérculus, vtérculi, m.g. ſiue Vtriculus, pen.cor. Diminutiuũ. Plin. A little wombe.
¶ Vtriculus. Plin. The huſke or hull of all ſeedes. Alſo a cote or hull wherein yonge flowers are before they ſpreade.
¶ Vterinus, penult. prod. Iuſtinian. Borne of the ſame mother or damme.
Vter, vtris, maſ. g. Pli. A bottle: a bag of lether made like a bottle: a bouge of lether.
Inflatis vtribus innixus Cæſar flumina traijciebat. Sueto.
Vtres vinarij. Apul.
Vtres vncti. Virg.
Vtrárius, vtrárij, maſcu. gen. Liu. He that ſetteth water in a bouge: a water lagger.
Vtriculárius, vtriculárii, m.g. Sueton. A bagpiper.
Vtercunque, Vterlibet, Vternam, Vterque, Vteruis, &c. Vide VTER adiectiuum.
Vterus, Vide VTER, vteri.
Vti, Particula idem ſignificat atque VT. Cic. That: as: to the ende that, &c.
Vti eadem deditionis conditione vteretur. Cæſ. To thende that he ſhoulde vſe, &c.
Nihil aliud, niſi vti nequid per vim agi poſſet. Cic.
¶ Senatui placere. C. Caſſiũ prouinciam Syriam obtinere, vti qui optimo iure eam prouinciam obtinuerit. Ci. The Senates pleaſure is, that Caſſius haue the gouernement of the prouince of Syria, and that wyth as ample preempnence and good title,as any man hath had it before time.

Vtilis, Vtilitas, Vtiliter, Vide VTOR.

Vtinam, pen.cor.Aduerbium optantis. Tere. Would to god.
Vtinam Deus ita faxit. Terent. God graunt it may be so.
Vtinam saluti nostræ consulere possimus. Cic. I would to god we might.&c.
O vtinam tunc,quum Lacedæmona classe peterebat,&c.Ou.
Heri dicebas te in Tusculanum venturum: quod vtinam,iterum vtinam tuo tamen commodo. Cic.

Vtique, pen.cor.Aduerb,affirmandi.Quint.I like as : verily.
Tertiam si vtique bellum placeat,diem, locúmque constituant, vbi secum armis decernant. Liu.
¶ Si continentia virtus,vtique & abstinentia.Qui.If continencie be a vertue, abstinence is so likewise.
Sol colorat : non vtique qui est coloratus,à sole est.Quin. The sunne maketh one haue a taunie colour, and yet euery one that hath a taunie colour, is not so made by the sunne.
Annum quidem vtique teneto. Cic.
Illud vero vtique scire cupio.Cic. And this truely I am desirous to know.
Vtique ad me tabellarios mittas. Cic.
Quod censeas mihi faciendum vtique scribito. Cic.
Quo die venies, vtique cum tuis apud me sis.Cice. We pray and your company with me at my house,that day that you shall come.

Vtor, vteris, pen.cor.vsus sum,vti. Cic. To vse: to be conuersant or familiar with one : to occupie : to take profite of.
Quibus ego nunc non vtor. Cic.
Vtor, accusatuo iunctum. Plaut. Cætera quæ volumus vti, Græca mercamur fide.
Nihil te vtor.Plaut. I will haue nothing to doe with thee.
Nunquam te æquo vsus sum.Cicer. I coulde neuer yet finde thee indifferent,or reasonable towarde me.
¶ Vti aliqua arbore carboni.Pli. To vse a tree to make coles.
¶ Vti aliquo familiariter.Ci.To haue great familiaritie and acquaintaince with one : to vse one as his familiar friend.
Vti aliquo plurimum.Cic. To vse ones familiaritie,or helpe and seruice in things very much.
¶ Mihi docere videbaris istius generis humanitatem,qua quidem nihil vtor abste. Cicer. You seemed to teach that kinde of gentleneſſe,which I finde not in you,when I haue any thing to doe.
Aliqua re ad faciendum aliquid vti. Cic.
Vti aliqua re contra se. Seneca.
¶ Familiariter amicitia alicuius vti. Quint.
Vti bene vel malè amicitia alicuius.Plaut.
Nimis stultè amicis vtere.Plau.You do to fondly abuse your friendes.
Nostra vtere amicitia, vt voles. Terent.
Mage amico vtuntur gnato & benculo. Plaut. Thy sonne louerh and fauoureth them the better.
Mihi si vnquam filius erit, næ ille facili me vtetur patre. Terent. Truely he shall finde me a very gentle and graceous father to him.
Placatis his vtor. Cic.They be now my freendsithey be now at one with me.
Eo velim tam facili vti possem, & tam bono in me, quàm Curio. Cic. I would I coulde finde him so gentle,and so friendly towarde me as Curio doth.
Dementer amoribus vsa. Ouid.
Amore vti surreptio. Plaut. To loue secretly.
Aquis frigibus vti. Celſ.
Aura vti dicuntur naues. Cæſ.To haue a good winde.
Balneo vti. Celſ. Bene vti re aliqua. Quint.
Benignis vti aliquibus. Cicer. To finde men courteous and liberall towarde him.
Bestijs vti immanioribus. Cic. To haue wilde beastes more cruell towarde vs.
Malè vti bonis eloquentiæ. Quint.To abuse,&c.
Hoc Cicero atque Asinius certatim sunt vsi.Quinti.Cicero and Asinius vsed this in such sort, as they might seeme to contende, who might vse it most or best.
Commodis vti. Cic.
Consilio vti. Cæſ. To follow a counsaile.
Criminatione in aliquem vti. Cic.
Defensore aliquo vti. Cic. To haue one as his defender.

Disciplina vti. Plaut. To be of any schoole or learning.
Vix equo propter ætatem poterat vti.Cæſ. He was scant able to ride for age.
Exemplis grandibus vti in paruis. Ouid.
Vti fide lenonia. Plaut. To be of as true dealing,as baudes are woont to be.
Fide & præsidio alicuius vti. Cic. To vse ones faithfulneſſe and helpe.
Fortunâ vti.Virg.To take fortune when she fauoureth.
Vti foro. Terent. To behaue himselfe according to the time.
Homine aliquo ad furta vti.Cice. To vse ones helpe in stealing and robbing.
Homine æquo vti.Ci. To finde one a reasonable and freendly man, in that he hath to doe with him.
Honestè re aliqua vti. Quint.
Vir amplissimis vsus honoribus. Cic. That hath bene in,&c.
Horis suis vti. Cic. To bestow the whole time,that by order is appointed to him to pleade.
Hortatione vti. Cic. To exhort.
Vter illis vt meis.Pli.iun. Those that serue me as my owne.
Ingenio vti inuenilitor. Ouid.
Inuidia minore vti.Plau.Not to be so much enuied or hated.
De rebus ipsis vtere tuo iudicio. Cic.As touching the matter, iudge as you thinke good your selfe.
Ad liberalitatem vectigalibus vti. Cic.
Libertate modicè vti. Liu.
Modestè vti re aliqua. Ouid.
Multum vti aliquo, Vide MVLTVS.
Sapienter vti muneribus deorum. Horat.
Necessitate vti. Tacit.Desperately to kill himselfe to auoyde punishment : to doe that necessitie forceth him.
Oculis vti. Plaut. To see perfitely and well.
Hoc ego oculo vtor minimé.Plaut. I see nothing with this eye.
Odio ciuiliter vsus est. Ouid.
Officio improbi viri vti.Plaut.To play the part of a naughty fellow.
Opera alterius vti. Plautus. To vse an other mans helpe or seruice.
Vti opera alterius ad rem aliquam. Cic.
Vt Apollinis oraculo vteretur. Tacit. To the ende he might haue counsaile of the oracle what to doe.
Parcissimè re aliqua vti.Quint.To vse a thing very seldome and little.
Paruo vti.Horat.To content himselfe,and liue with little.
Incredibili patientia vti. Cic.
Perfugeo vti, Vide PERFVGIVM.
Permisso vti. Horat.
Vtar ea porta,quàm primùm videro. Ci.I will runne in at that doze,that I shall firſt see open.
Progressionibus vti. Cic. To proceede or go forwarde.
Potestate vti ad quæstum. Cicer.To turne his power to his owne game.
Ratione vti. Plaut. To vse reason.
Regibus vti.Horat. To vse familiaritie of princes to the aduancement of his owne profite.
Sensibus vti. Lucret.
Sermonibus morologis vti.Plaut.
Simulatione itineris vti.Cæſ. To make as though he would go to a place.
Solatio aliquo vti.Brutus ad Ciceronem. To vse a comfort.
Sorte sua vti.Virg. To vse his good fortune.
Spe duplici vti. Terent. To haue two wayes to the woode : to haue two meanes to bring his purpose to passe.
Ad speciem vti re aliqua. Cæſ. To vse a thing for a shewe.
Teste aliquo vti. Cic. To vse one as a witneſſe.
Vsitatis tutius vimur. Quint.
Valetudine vti minus commoda. Cæſ. To be crased or sickly.
Vti valetudine firma.Plin. To be in good health and strong.
Aduersis ventis vti. Cic.To haue the winde against him.
Verbis mollibus vti ad aliquem. Ouidius. To speake gently to.
Via vti. Cic. To go the way that other doe.
Vicinis, aliisque mulieribus quàm minimum vtetur. Cato.
Vino modicè vti.Celſ. To drinke wine moderately.

Viribus

Viribus vti. Horat.
Vti ætatis vitio. Cic. To vse that faulte,that men of his age are woont to haue.
Si vniuersa prouincia loqui posset,hac voce vteretur. Cice. It would vse these words, or say in this wise.
Vocibus vti ad aliquem. Virg. To speake to one.
Vtens, Participium. Vsing. vt ratione vtens, & Rationis expers, contraria. Cic.
Vtendus, Adiectiuum.Cic. That is to be vsed.
Illa ætas magis ad hæc vtenda idonea est. Terent. Is more meete to vse this maner of things.
Vtenda vasa rogare.Plaut.To desire one to lende him vessell or plate.
Reddere quod vtendum acceperis.Ci. To restore that thou borowest for a time to vse.
Dare aliquid vtendum. Cato. To lende a thing.
Vtenda & possidenda tradere bona alicui.Cic.
Vsurus, pen.prod.Participium. That will vse.
Vsus, huius vsus, mal.gen. Cic. Vse : the occupation or exercise of a thing : profite : fruite : practise : experience.
Vsus, & Abusus, contraria. Cic.
Genitor vocabulorum, vsus.Horatius. Vse, the inuentor of wordes.
Dicendi vsus. Quint. Practise of eloquence.
Bellicus vsus. Quint. Practise of warre.
Laborum vsus. Lucan. Vse or experience of labor and paine.
Ad medicinæ tantùm vsum. Plin. Onely to the practise of Phylicke.
Vsus oculorum ceſſat.Curt. Men can see no more with their eyes.
Sermonis vsus. Plin. Long vse of talke.
Veneris vsus. Plin. Virtutis vsus. Cic.
Tractatio atque vsus vocis. Cic.
¶ Vsus est magister optimus.Cic.Experience or long vse,&c.
Peritus vsu, Vide PERITVS.
Vsu bellorum exercitus.Cic. Well practised,and of good experience in warrefarre.
Aptus in vsum aliquem. Ouid.
Tres biremes adpulêre ad vsus cõmeantium illo mari. Ta.
¶ Assiduus vsus. Cic. Communis & vulgaris.Cice.
Humanis vsibus apta Ceres. Ouid. Corne seruyng to mans vse.
Hæc sunt in vsu medico. Plin. These things be vsed in Phisicke.
Mirificus vsus in re aliqua. Cic.
Operarius vsus, Vide OPERA.
Peruius vsus tectorum. Virg. A passage through houses.
Quotidianus vsus. Cic.
Rarissimus. Quint. Temperatus. Horat.
¶ Accipit vsus aliquas vocales pro consonantibus.Quintil.
Adhibere vsum, Vide ADHIBEO.
Antecedere vsu rerum.Ci. To haue more experience or practise in things.
Colligere vsum patiendi.Ouid To accustome or inure himselfe to suffer.
Consedere alicui vsum loquendi.Cic.
Confirmatum vsu. Quint.
Conuertere pecuniam publicam in suos vsus.Papinian. To turne the common treasure to his owne priuate profite or affayres.
Cuius disciplinæ vsus in nostram vsque ætatem descendit. Quint. The practise and vse of which learning,&c.
Disponere vsum diuitiarum.Quint. To appoint how his riches shall be vsed.
Phœbe pater,si das vsum mihi nominis huius.&c.Ouidius. If you permit me to vse this name.
Docere vsu.Quint. Edisere vsum rei alicuius. Ouid.
Explorare aliquid vsu.Celſ.
-nulli gestanda dabantur
Signa ducis :nisi qui scelerum iam fecerat vsum. Lucan. But to such a one as was nowe past the vse and custome of lewde doing.
Formare vitulos ad vsum agrestem. Virg.
Habere vsui.Tacit.To be,or be counted profitable.
Vsus indiget horum. Virgil. We haue necessarie vse of those things.

Quædam mancipat vsus.Horat.Long possession giueth some things by prescription.
Quæ primo dura visa sunt,vsu molliuntur.Quint.
Perdere vsum. Quint.
Nelcis quò valeat nummus, quem præbeat vsum. Horat Thou knowest not whereforе money is good, and to what ende it serueth.
Præcludere alicui vsum vocis. Ouid. To stoppe ones throte that he can not speake.
Promouere membrũ à luxatione curatũ ad suos vsus. Celſ.
Reducere membrum luxatum ad antiquos vsus. Celſ.
In vsu esse. Plin. To be in vse.
Amor dum temperat vsum. Ouid. While long vse maketh loue more temperate.
Vigere vsu. Quint.
Vsus,vel vsu venit.Cic. It happeth oft.
Mihi vsu venit hoc,scio. Terent. This chanceth to me, &c.
Non venit idem vsu mihi quod tu tibi scribis. Cic. It hath not so happened to me,as you write it hath done to you.
Accidere,vel euenire, & vsu venire.Cic.
Eadem mihi vsu venirent omnia. Cic.
Hoc illud his vsu venire solet,vt quicquid dixerint à,&c.C The selfe same thing is woont often to happen to them,&c.
¶ Vsus. Cic. Profite : vtilitie.
Ad vilem vsum,& sordidum lucrum accingimur. Quint.
Vsui esse. Plau. To serue: to abide: to helpe: to be profitable.
Fuit mihi magno vsui in nostris petitionibus. Cicer. It did greatly helpe me.
Non sine vsu fuerit, introspicere illa primo aspectu leuia. Tacit. It will not be unprofitable.&c.
Ex vsu nostro est. Terent. It is for our profite.
Deos curam rerum humanarũ agere credi, ex vsu vitæ est. Plin. It is profitable to mans life, &c.
Ex eo vsu. Tacit. For his owne profite.
Ex vsu temporis huc illuc meabant. Tacit.As the time required they went to and fro.
¶ Nunc viribus vsus.Vir. Now the matter requireth to shewe your strength : now it is needefull to shewe strength.
Non vsus facto est mihi Terent. I haue no neede so to do.
De cæteris studijs alio loco dicemus, si vsus fuerit. Cic. If neede shall be.
Mihi sic est vsus : tibi vt opus est facto, face.Teren.It is behoueable for me so to doe,&c.
Ad eam rem vsus est tua mihi opera.Plau. To that purpose I haue neede of your helpe.
-fiquid vsus venerit,
Meminisse ego hanc rem vos volo.Plau.If any neede shal be,I woulde haue you,&c.
Non vsus veniet,spero. Terent.It shall not neede,or it shall not come to passe I trust.
¶ Vsus. Cic. Conuersation : vse : familiaritie.
Non id circo eorum vsum dimiseram, quòd ijs succensere. Cic. I did not leaue their familiaritie,&c.
Quotidianus vsus. Saluſt. Daily conuersation and vse.
Domesticus vsus & consuetudo. Cic.
Mutuus vsus.Curt.Mutuall familiaritie and conuerſation.
Cum M. Fabio mihi summus est vsus. Cic.
Vsus mihi magnus cum eo. Cice. I am of great familiaritie with him.
Longo vsu cognitus. Ouid.
Coniunctivsu, Vide CONIVNGO.
Longo nobis iunctissimus vsu. Ouid.
Insinuare se in quam maximè familiarem vsum, Vide INSINVO.
Inter nosmetipsos vetus vsus intercedit.Cic. There is olde acquaintance and familiaritie betweene vs.
Vsuãlis, & hoc vsuãle, pen.prio.Martian. Vsuall : that serueth for our vse.
Vsurius, Adiectiuum, Idem. Gell.
Res vsuaria.Paulus iurisco. A thing that we haue the vse of, but not the propritie.
Vsurius,vsurij,m.g.Subitan. Pomponius. He that hath the vse of a thing, but neither the fruite nor the propritie : the occupier of it.
Vsusfructus,huius vsusfructus,m.g. Cice. The vse and profite of another mans goods, with the consent of the owner, the ſtocke or ſubſtance being ſaued.

Amittere vſumfructum Cic.
Vſufructuárius, vſufructuárij, m.g Pomponius. yee that hath the vſe and fruite of a thing, but not the propyetie.
Vſucápio, vſucapis, pen.cor.vſucépi, pen.pro.vſucaptum, vſucápere. Ci. To attaine to be maiſter and owner of a thing by preſcription, or poſſeſſion of long time by the law appointed.
Nihil mortales à dijs immortalibus vſucapere poſſunt. Ci.
Vſu etiam capere dicitur, ſine compoſitione. Pomponius.
Vſu eas capere non poſſis.
Vſu non capiet ſciens alienum. Papinianus.
Priſcus ait, vſu me eum non capturum. Paulus iuriſconſ.
¶ Capere vſu, Idem quod Vſucapere. Papinianus.
Non capies vſu, quia iuris error nulli prodeſt. Paulus iuriſ.
Si rem ſcienti mihi alienam eſſe vendideris, non capiam vſu. Paulus iuriſcon.
¶ Capere vtilitatis cauſa, Idem. Paulus iuriſcon.
Vſu ſuum facere. Idem Pomponius.
¶ Diutius poſſidendo capere, Idem. Iabolenus.
Diutina poſſeſſione capere, Idem. Modeſt.
Longa poſſeſſione capere, Idem. Pompon.
Longo tempore capere, Idem. Vlpian.
Per longum tempus capere, Idem Scæuola.
Vſucápio, vſucapiónis, pen.prod ſ.g. Cic. The attaining of a thing by preſcription, or long poſſeſſion of a ferme by the law appointed.
Cápio, capiónis, ſ.g. Idem quod Vſucapio. Iabolenus, An durare nihilominus capionem eius fundi putes?
Vſu quoque capio ceſſabit. Vlpian.
Longa poſſeſſione capio, Idem. Iabolenus Cæterarum partium non impedietur longa poſſeſſione capio.
¶ Currit vſucapia. Vlp. The vſe of preſcription goeth on.
Implere vſucapionem. Papinianus. To poſſeſſe a thing the whole terme by the law appointed for preſcription.
Impleta vſucapio. Paulus iuriſcon.
In pendenti eſt vſucapio. Paulus iuriſcon.
Interpellare vſucapionem. Paulus iuriſ. To interrupt ones vſe of poſſeſſion by clayming the thing.
Interpellatur vſucapio. Pompon.
Interrumpere vſucapionem. Pompon. To interrupt or diſturbe preſcription by taking ſometime poſſeſſion.
Interrumpitur vſucapio. Paulus iuriſ.
Procedit hæredi tuo vſucapio. Paulus iuriſ.
Aduerſus fiſcum non procedit vſucapio. Modeſt.
Vacuum tempus, &c. ad vſucapionẽ hæredi procedit. Paulus iuriſcon.
Vſo, vſónis, pen.prod.ſū.g. Idem quod Vſus. Gell.
Vſitor, pen.cor. vſitâris, vſitári, Frequentatiuum ab Vtor. Gel. To vſe often.
Vſitátus, pen prod. Adiectiuum. Cicero. Much vſed, or accuſtomed.
Vſitata conſuetudo. Celſ. A wonted maner: a common cuſtome: an accuſtomed faſhion.
Vetus atque vſitata exceptio. Cic. Olde and wonted.
Genus literarum vſitatum. Cic.
Honos vſitatus. Ci. A dignitie or honor accuſtomably giuen.
Vſitatus & peruulgatus honos. Cic.
Iudicium vſitatum. Cic.
Mos vſitatus. Cic.
Potiones non vſitatæ. Horat.
Scelus vſitatum. Senec.
Tempus vſitatum ad aliquid faciendum. Cic. The accuſtomed time for a thing to be done in.
Vocabula vſitata. Cic.
Vſitatum eſt. Cic. It is a common cuſtome: it is a thing often vſed.
Vſitatum in multis rebus. Ci. Accuſtomed to be done in many things.
Vſitatum malitia. Cic.
Vſitáte, pe.pro. Aduerbium. Ci. After the accuſtomed faſhion; as they vſe commonly.
Si homines eſſent, vſitatè loquerentur. Cicer. They would ſpeake after the accuſtomed maner.
Vſitatio, onis, fœ.gen. Sagc.
Vſitæ, vſitæ, ſ.ge. pen.prod. Plin. iun. vſe or occupying of a thing; Alſo money giuen aboue the principall ſumme for the lone of it: vſurie: intereſt.

Frui vſura. Quint. To enioy the vſe.
Vſura falſi gaudij frui. Ci. To reioyce or be glad in vaine.
Dare alicui diuturnam lucis vſuram. Cice. To ſuffer one to liue, or to enioy this life long.
Dare alicui vſuram vnius horæ ad viuendum. Cic. To ſuffer a man to liue one houre.
Lucis vſuram eripere alicui. Cic. To kill one, and not ſuffer him to liue.
Vſura temporis. Cic.
Paruam exigui temporis vſurã bonæ de me opinionis potulo. Cice. I require for a little time to enioy the fruite of the good reputation that I am in.
¶ Vſura. Cic. Vſurie: intereſt.
Modus vſurarum. Modeſt.
Penſio vſurarum. Paulus iuriſcon.
Præſtatio vſurarum. Modeſt.
Vſurarum vſuræ. Mart.
¶ Centeſimæ vſuræ, Vide Centeſimus, in CENTVM. Vſury of one in the hundred for a moneth, that is xij. in the yere, ſo that in an hundred monethes it ryſeth to the ſumme of the principall.
Grauiores inſligere vſuras. Paulus iuriſ.
Illicitæ vſuræ. Paulus iuriſ.
Legitimæ. Papinianus.
Maiores. Paulus iuriſ.
Leuiores. Paulus iuriſ.
Maritimæ. Paulus iuriſ.
Menſtrua vſura. Ci. Vſury payed euery moneth.
Minores ſemiſſibus vſuræ. Scæuola.
Placitæ inter nos vſuræ. Modeſt.
Quincunces vſuræ. Scæuo. Intereſt of fiue in the hundred.
Semiſſes vſuræ, vel Semiſſales, Vide SEMISSIS. Vſury of fiue in the hundred for an yere.
Vſura dextentaria. Often in the hundred: dodrantalis, nine in the hundred: beſſalis, eight in the hundred: quincuncialis. fiue. trientaria, ſolueri quadrantalis, three: ſextantarius, two: vncialis, one in the hundred.
Solitæ vſuræ. Caius. Vorax vſura. Lucan.
¶ Accipere vſuram. Quint.
Certare cum vſuris & fructibus prædiorum, Cic.
Creſcunt vſuræ. Scæuola. Dare vſuras. Scæuola.
Exigere vſuras ab aliquo. Paulus iuriſcon.
Exoluere vſuras. Scæuola.
Inferre vſuras. Paulus iuriſcon. To yeelde or pay vſurie.
Inſligere vſuras. Scæuola. To conſtrayne one to pay intereſt for that he borroweth of him.
Pecuniæ, ſi pariunt vſuras, non debent, &c. Vlpi.
Pendere vſuram. Cic.
Præſtare vſuras. Scæuola. To yeelde or pay vſury.
Reddere per aliquot annos vſuras. Scæuola.
Reddere ſine vſura. Cic.
Remittere alicui vſuram. Scæuola.
Soluere vſuras. Paulus iuriſ.
Teneri in maiores vſuras. Paulus iuriſ.
Vſurárius, Adiect. Plaut. That is ſet out to vſurie or to hire.
Pecunia vſuraria, Vide PECVNIA.
Vſurpo, vſurpas, vſurpâre. Colum. To vſurpe: to vſe often and much, be it in worde or deede: to take againſt right and reaſon.
Vſurpare aliquid & Dicere pro eodem. Cic.
Vſurpare ac retinere. Cic. To vſurpe and keepe.
¶ Vſurpare. Cicer. To haue often and much in his mouth: to name often.
Apud Platonem vſurpata oratio. Cicer. Wordes that Plato often maketh mention of or vſeth.
Crebris ſermonibus vſurpare. Cic. To mention or ſpeake of often in talke.
Vſurpare dictum alterius. Cicer. Often to vſe another mans ſaying.
Vſurpare memoriã alicuius. Cic. Often to make mention of.
Vſurpare nomen ciuitatis. Ci. To ſay and auaunce that he is a citizen.
Nomen tantum virtutis vſurpas: quid ipſa valeat, ignoras. Cicer. Thou haſt the name of vertue onely in thy mouth, but what it ſelfe is, thou knowest not.

Oculis

Oculis vſurpare aliquid. Lucret. To ſee a thing.
Ratione vſurpatum. Quint.
Senſibus vſurpare rem aliquam. Lucre. To conceiue a thing or imagine in his minde.
Officium aliquod vſurpare, Vide OFFICIVM.
Vſurpare otium poſt labores. Tacit.
Vſurpare ius. Liu. To enter or take poſſeſſion.
Hoc genus pœnæ ſæpe in improbus eſt vſurpatum. Cicero. They haue often vſed to puniſh wicked perſons wyth thys kinde of paine.
Multis officijs vſurpata, & combrobata cognatio. Cic.
Regiones quas ego neque oculis, neque pedibus vnquam vſurpaui. Plaut. Countreyes that I neuer ſawe, nor neuer ſet my foote in.
¶ Vſurpare. Gell. To diſturbe preſcription by taking poſſeſſion.
¶ Vſurpare aliquid ex alterius bonis. Cic. Liu. To vſurpe that is another mans, and take it againſt right.
Vſurpátio, vſurpatiónis, ſ.gen. Verbale. Cic. Oft vſing: vſurping.
Vſurpatione & renouatione doctrinæ. Cicer. By practiſing renuing, &c.
Mentio & vſurpatio ciuitatis. Ci. The ſaying and affirming that he is a citizen.
Ad vſurpationem vetuſtatis. Ci. After the auncient vſe and faſhion.
Vſurpatione vocis abſtinere. Liuius. Not to ſpeake: to forbeare to ſpeake.
Superba vſurpatio nominum. Plin.
¶ Vſurpatio. Paulus iuriſconſ. Interruption or diſturbing of preſcription.
Vténíle, vténſilis, pen.cor.n.g. Colum. Any thyng neceſſary for our vſe or occupying.
Exutus omnibus vtenſilibus miles. Liu.
Vtilis, & hoc útile, pen.cor. Terent. Profitable: expedient: conuenient: good: neceſſarie.
Vehementer mihi vtile eſſe putabas. Cic.
Lignum non aliò penè quàm ad radios rotarum vtile. Pli.
Fel ad multa medicamenta vtile. Pli. Gall hoteiome for many medicines.
Homo ad nullam rem vtilis. Cic.
Neutro pede ſatis vtilis. Plin. That hath neuer a good fote to helpe him.
Bis vtilis arbos pomis. Virg. A tree that beareth fruit twyſe in the yeare.
Cibus vtilis ægro. Ouid.
Res vtiles & ſalutares. Cic.
Ventis vtilibus intrat vrbem. Ouid. He entreth into the city with a proſperous winde.
Magnificè vtile, Vide MAGNVS.
Maximè vtile, Vide MAGIS.
Modicè vtile. Cic. Miſcere vtile dulci. Horat.
Nunquam eſt vtile peccare, quia ſemper eſt turpe. Cic.
Tibi vtiliſſimum erit. Dolabella Ciceroni.
Vtíbilis, & hoc vtibile, pen.cor. Idem. Plaut.
Quid minus vtibile fuit, quàm hoc vlcus tangere? Terent.
Vtibile illi. Plaut.
Magis ad rem non poteſt eſſe vtibile. Plaut.
Vtilitas, pen.cor. vtilitâtis, ſ.g. Teren. Profite: vtilitie.
Si nulla ſit vtilitas ex amicitia. Cic.
Communis vtilitas. Quint.
Non mediocris vtilitas. Quint.
Mulcæ vtilitates & magnæ, Vide MVLTVS.
Publicæ vtilitates. Tac.
¶ Aberrare à communi vtilitate, Vide ABERRO.
Non abhorrebit ab vtilitate eorum qui audiẽt, oratio mea, Cic. My talke ſhall not be vnprofitable. &c.
Adducere ad vtilitatem rem aliquam, Vide ADDVCO.
Afferre vtilitatem, Vide AFFERO.
Capere vtilitates, Vide CAPIO.
Conuelli vtilitate, Vide CONVELLO.
Duci vtilitate. Quint.
Fugit hæc vtilitas neminem. Quint.
Habere vtilitatem dicitur res aliqua. Oui. To be profitable.
Omittere ſuas vtilitates: cui opponitur Scruire ſuis vtilitatibus. Cic. Not to regarde his owne profite.

Parére vtilitatibus alicuius. Cic. To doe that is for the furtherance of ones profite: to further. &c.
Aequor vtilitatem præbet ſitientibus nautis. Lucret.
Fructum vtilitatis præbere. Cic. To bring profite: or to be profitable.
Quærere vtilitatem in re aliqua. Cic. To ſeeke to get profit by a thing.
Seruire vtilitati alicuius. Cic. To haue a regarde or reſpect to ones profite: to doe that is for the furtheraunce of ones profite.
¶ Vtilitatibus tuis poſſum carere. Cic. I can lacke your ſeruice, or be without ſuch pleaſure as you doe me.
Vtiliter, pen.cor. Aduerbium. Cic. Profitably.
Facele aliquid vtiliter. Ouid.
Seruire vtiliter. Horat. Vtilius. Ouid.
Vtpote, pen.co. Aduerbium confirmantis. Salu. Becauſe as: for ſo much as.
Romanis auxit animum, & turbauit Volſcos: vtpote capta vrbe, cui ad ferendam opem venerant. Liu. And no marueile, or, and not without cauſe, conſidering the city was taken. &c.
Lucius frater eius, vtpote qui peregrè depugnauit familiã ducit. Cic. Lucius his brother, as a man that had fought abroade in warre, &c.
Vtputa, pen.cor. Vide PVTO. putas.
Vtricularius. Vtriculus, Vide VTER. vtris.
Vtrinque, Vtro, Vtrobique, Vtroque, Vtrum, Vide VTER adiectiuum.
Vtut, Vide vt.

V V

Vua, uæ, ſ.g. Col. A grape: a vine: a berie. A ſwarme of bees hanging rounde. The part in the mouth called Vuula.
Vua, Apiana, Græcis, Stica dicitur. Sunt qui Muſcatelam vulgò appellant, ab apibus quas Galli Muſcas vulgò dicunt: quod huiuſcemodi vuarum genere plurimum delectentur apes. Carolus Stephanus.
Vua mirabili magnitudine. Cic. Terra ferax vuis. Ouid.
Commentor vuæ Bacchus. Ouid. The inuenter of grapes, or of wine.
¶ Cibaria vua. Plin. Grapes ſerning to eate.
Coloratæ vuæ. Colum. Culæ. Ouid.
Vuæ duracinæ, præcoques, purpureæ, bumaſti, dactyli, Rhodiæ, Libycæ, Ceraſinæ, Stephanitæ, Tripedaneæ, vncinatæ, Venueulæ, Numitianæ, Aminææ, Gemellæ, Lanatæ, Nomentanæ, Albidæ, &c. Colum.
Vuæ ollares. Colum.
Eſcarix vua. Plin. A grape that is to be eaten.
Hiemalis. Stat. Generoſæ vuæ ſertilis vinea. Ouid.
Gratiolæ confitor vuæ. Ouid. Crauidæ vuæ. Claud.
Immitis vua. Horat. A grape not ripe.
Modeſtes vuæ. Claud. Maturæ. Virg.
Mitis vua. Virg. A ripe grape.
Nigerrimæ vuæ. Catull.
Nitentibus vuis ſpeciosa vlmus. Ouid.
Peracerba guſtatu vua. Cic.
Purpureæ vuæ. Ouid. Racemiferæ. Ouid.
Auro ſimiles vuæ. Ouid.
¶ Augeſcunt vuæ, Vide Augeſco in AVGEO.
Calcare vuas. Ouid.
Decerpere vuam, Vide DECERPO.
Deſecare vuam à vite. Colum.
Ducit colorem vua. Vi. The grape beginneth to waxe ruddy.
Pendentes vuæ plenis vitibus. Ouid.
Perſilis vua ſecundas ornat menſas. Horat.
Teneras mora percoquit vuas. Ouid. Continuance maketh grapes ripe. Pubeſcens vua. Plin.
Rubens vua inculcis pendet ſentibus. Virg.
Tangentes vuæ. Virg.
Vartari incipit vua. Colu. The grape beginneth to chaunge colour, and waxe ripe.
Varia fieri incipit vua, Idem. Plin.
Varians ſe vua. Plin.
Veniunt illic vuæ ſolicitæ. Virg. Vines proſper well there.
Veſtitæ frondibus vuæ. Propert.

¶ Amomi vua. Plin. The berie, &c.
¶ Vua, pro Vite aliquando ponitur. Virg. A vine.
¶ Vua. Col. A swarme of bees hanging rounde on a bought.
Lentis vuam demittere ramis. Virg.
¶ Vua in homine. Plin. The vuula.
Vua iacens. Plin. The vuula fallen.
Vuifer, pen.cor. Adiectiuum. Sil. That beareth grapes.
Vuidus, pen.cor. Adiectiuum. Virg. Moyst: wette.
Cæli flatus vuidus. Colum.
Gemma vuida in tenero palmite. Ouid.
Vuida vestis. Plaut. A moyst or wet garment or cloth.
Vulga, vulgæ, siue bulga, Vide BVLGA. A scrippe or satchell. A womans belly.
Vulgus, vulgi, mas. gen. & hoc Vulgus, vulgi, neutri. Cicero. The common people.
Commendatio in vulgus. Cice. Praise among the common people.
Fames in vulgus. Tacit.
Gratus in vulgus. Tacit. Acceptable to the common people.
Retinere nomen in vulgus. Cic. To keepe his name among the common people.
Quod vulgus seruorum solet. Terent. As common sorte of seruants is wont to doe.
Nihil est incertius vulgo. Cic. Nothing more wauering, &c.
¶ Ancipitis pugnat sententia vulgi. Stat. The common people are of contrarye opinions.
Demens vulgus. Sil. Fœmineum vulgus Lucan.
Fallax. Virg. Humile. Plin.
Ignobile. Virg. Imperitum. Plin. Incautum. Virg.
Incertum vulgus scinditur in contraria studia. Virgilius. The wauering people is deuided into contrarye affections.
Indoctum vulgus. Ouid. Iners. Claud.
Infidum. Horat. Inutile, luuen.
Leue. Ouid. Inconstant and mutable.
Malignum. Horat. Miserabile. Virg.
Mobile. Stat. Mutabile. Val. Fla.
Præceps. Sen. Profanum. Horat.
Rude vulgus & expers artis. Ouid.
Segne, Lucan. Stolidi mendacia vulgi. Virg.
Vile vulgus. Senec.
¶ Acceptum in vulgus, Vide ACCIPIO.
Attonitum pauet vulgus. Ouid.
Spolia in vulgus cedebant. Tacit. The people had the spoile.
Celebrata in vulgus Celsi laus. Tac. Celsus is much praised and much spoken of among the common people.
Digitis vulgi designari. Ouid.
Hoc exire, atque in vulgus emanare non poterit. Ci. This cannot come abroade to the knowledge of the people, and be talked of.
Indicare aliquid in vulgus. Cic.
Mobile mutatur semper cum principe vulgus. Claud. The wauering people changeth alway, as the prince doth.
Probari in vulgus, Vide PROBO.
Spargere voces in vulgum. Virg. To talke abroade among the people.
Malignum spernere vulgus. Hor.
In vulgus aduerso rumore fuit. Tacit. He had an ill name among the people.
Tribuere in vulgus. Cic. To apply himselfe to the affection of the people.
Vox venit ad aures vulgi. Virg.
¶ Cæteri omnes vulgus sumus, sine gratia, sine authoritate. Salust.
¶ Vulgus, de quibus dixit. Virg.
Vulgò, Aduerbialiter positum. Virg. Commonly: abroade: in euery place: among all men: in heapes or companies.
Vulgò & passim. Cic.
Vulgò dicitur, vel dici solet. Ter. It is commonly sayde.
Vulgò audieram. Cice. I heard it commonly spoken of. &c.
Vox vulgò exaudita per lucos. Virg.
Saturnum vulgò maximè ad Occidentem colunt. Cicero. Commonly.
Vulgò loquuntur suppositum in eius locum. Cic. The common saying is, that, &c.
Vulgò appellare aliquem superbum. Liu. Openly before all men to call one prowde.

Vulgò homines illud requirunt. Liu. The most part of men demaunde that.
Vulgò hominum opinio socium me ascribet tuis laudibus. Cic. Most part count me, &c.
Vulgò occidi. Cic. To be killed openly before all men.
Vulgò occupare regnum. Cæs. Commonly.
Vulgò ostendere. Cic. To shew openly or commonly.
Vulgò quæsitus, pro Spurio. Vlpian. Base begotten: whose father is not knowne.
Vulgò conceptus, Idem. Modestinus.
Vulgâris, & hoc vulgâre, pen.prod. Cice. Vulgar: common: much vsed: belonging to the common people: vile: base.
Singularia, an vulgaria. Cic. Rare, or common.
Viam vulgarem ingredi. Qui. To doe as they are commonly woont to doe.
Vulgare & Obsoletum, cui Nouum & inauditum apponitur. Cic.
Vile & vulgare. Cic.
Vulgare est. Plin. It is a common thing.
Vulgares artes. Quæ vulgò mechanicæ dicuntur. Cic. Base crafts.
Commendatio non vulgaris. Cic. No small praise or commendation.
Consuetudo vulgaris. Cic.
Declamatio vulgaris & peruagata. Cic.
Fabula vulgaris. Cic.
Vulgaris forma. Plin. Fauour of the common sort.
Generatio vulgaris. Plin.
Minimè vulgare genus dicendi. Cic. A rare, &c.
Hæc à vulgari intelligentia remotiora sunt. Cic.
Notitia vulgaris. Plin.
Opinio vulgaris. Cic.
Vulgaris & Excellens orator, contraria. Cic.
Prudentia communis & vulgaris. Cic.
Puellæ vulgares. Ouid. Common boyes.
Oratio ad vulgarem, popularémque sensum accommodata Cic.
Sermo vulgaris. Ci. A common fashion of language without great ornament.
Via vulgaris. Quint.
Vulgâriter, pen.cor. Aduerbium. Plin. Commonly: vulgarly: after the common sort.
Vulgariter scribere. Cic.
Vulgo, vulgas, vulgâre. Virg. To publish: to make common: to set abroade: to noyse: to haunt.
Vulgari facinus per omnes velim. Liu.
In magis aliquid vulgare. Tac. In talke to publishe the thing to be greater, than it is.
Famam vulgare. Liu. To spread abroade a fame.
Laudem vulgare. Liu.
Librum vulgare. Quint. To publish or set forth a booke.
Ministeriaque inuicem ac contagio ipsa vulgabant morbos. Liu. The seruing one of another, and the infectiousnesse did spreade and multiplie diseases.
Contagium morbi etiam in alios vulgatum est. Curt. The contagiousnesse of the disease infected other.
Rem non vulgabat. P. Virg. Liu.
Vulgtur deinde rumor duas deesse tabulas. Liu. There is a rumor spreade.
Nonne hoc vestra voce vulgatum est? Ci. Was not this published by you?
¶ Vulgare corpus suum dicitur meretrix. Plau. To abandon hirselfe to the filthie embracings of all men.
Vulgato corpore mulier. Liu. A common strumpet.
¶ Vulgare concubitus plebis & Patrum. Liu. To mixe noble blonde and commoners togither in marriage.
Vulgari cum priuatis dicitur Magistratus. Liu. When he debaseth himselfe to the familiaritie of the inferior sort.
Vulgâtus, pen.prod. Participium, siue Nomen ex participio Published abroade: commonly knowne and vsed.
Bella vulgata per orbem famâ. Vi. By report published ouer all the worlde.
Cibus vulgatus. Plin. Commonly vsed.
Vulgatior fama est, ludibrio fratris Remum nouos transiluisse muros. Liu. The more common report is, &c.
Vulgata verba. Plaut.

Vulga-

Vulgatissimus. Plin.
Nauis in flumine publico vulgata omnibus. Cic.
Sensus vulgatissimi. Quint.
Vulgaturûs, pen.prod. Participium. That will publish.
Litera vulgatura nefas. Claud.
Vulgâtor, pen.prod.toris, m.g. Verb. vt Taciti vulgator. Ouid. A publisher of a secret counsaile: a spreader abroade.
Vulgiuagus, pen.cor. Adiect. Lucret. Idem quod Plebeius.
Vulnus, vulneris, pen.cor, neut.ge. Liu. A wounde. A griefe or displeasure.
Color vulneris si liuidus, aut pallidus, aut varius, aut niger est, scire licet malum vulnus esse. Cels.
Glutinatio vulneris. Cels. The closing vp, &c.
Inflammatio vulneris. Cels.
Impatiens vulneris. Virg.
Impetus vulnerum. Plin. The rage or vehement griefe of.
Vulnerum recentium impetus lenire. Plin.
Oræ vulneris. Cels. The brimmes of a wounde.
Oras vulneris leniter diducere manibus. Cels. To open the wounde softly, &c.
Clauda vulnere pars corporis. Virg.
Inualidus vulnere. Tacit.
Onustus vulneribus. Tac. Hauing as many woundes, as one can go away with.
Saucius vulneribus. Ouid.
Tardus vulnere. Virgil. Not able to go fast, by reason of his wounde.
¶ Acerbum vulnus, Vide ACERBVS.
Altum vulnus. Cels. A deepe wounde.
Angustum vulnus incidendum est, donec satis pateat. Cel.
Calidum vulnus. Ouid.
Cruda vulnera. luuen. Greene woundes.
Crudele vulnus. Virg.
Cruenta. Cels. Flebile. Stat.
Deterius vulnus. Cels. Fœdum. Ouid.
Fatale. Val. Flac. Grande. Cels.
Grauia vulnera. Cels.
Immania. Stat. Immedicabile. Ouid.
Immitia. Ouid.
Ingenti vulneri ingens quoque vulnus adijcere. Cels.
Inhonesto vulnere truncæ nares. Virg. Hauing his nose cut of, to his great disfiguring.
Latum vulnus. Cels. Laxum. Cels.
Lethale. Virg.
Lethiferum, Idem. Sil. Leue. Ouid.
Magnum. Cels. Malum. Cels.
Melius. Cels. A wounde lesse daungerous.
Mortiferum. Liu. Nigra vulnera. Ouid.
Peius est vulnus quod etiam collisum, quàm quod tantùm discissum est. Cels. A wounde bruised is worse than that is onely cut.
Periculosa vulnera. Cels.
Purum vulnus. Cels. Throughly cleansed.
Recentia vulnera. Plin. Fresh or greene woundes.
Sæua. Sil.
Sanabile vulnus, luuen. Curable.
Senilia vulnera. Cels. Woundes in olde persons.
Subiecta oculis vulnera. Cels. That one may see.
Tenue vulnus. Cels. Tolerabilis vulnus. Cels.
Tristitia vulnera. Ouid.
Tutissimum omnium vulnus quod in carne est. Cels. The least daungerous, &c.
Vehemens vulnus. Cels.
Vetusta vulnera. Ouid.
¶ Alto nefandum ferrum vulnere abdidit. Senec.
Abluere vulnera lymphis. Virg.
Accenditur vulnus, si parum bibitur. Cel. It is inflamed.
Accipere vulnera. Var. To receiue woundes: to be wounded.
Accippere vulnera tergo. Virg. To be wounded behinde, or on the backe.
Exiguum stimulando vulnus acerbat. Clau. A smal wound, by pricking of it, gricueth sore.
Venenum vulneri adfusum. Tacit.
Medicas adhibere manus ad vulnera, Virg. To go about to dresse or cure.
Adigere vulnus, Vide ADIGO.

Adactum vulnus altè. Virg. A wounde thrust deepe in.
Adurere vulnus. Cels. To seare a wounde.
Affectus vulneribus, Vide AFFICIO.
Aggrauantur vulnera introitu eorum, &c. Cels. Woundes ware more grieuous, &c.
Agere humorem in vulnus. Cel. To conueigh or put an humour into a wounde.
Ali vulnus non potest. Cels.
Alleuantia fomenta malum vulnus. Hora.
Alligare vulnus, Vide ALLIGO.
Ambesum corpus multo vulnere. Sen.
Ampliare vulnus. Cels. To make the wounde bigger.
Aperire vulnus. Cels.
Astringit & cohibet vulnera polium, prohibétque serpere. Plin.
Sicca rigens astrinxit vulnera sanguis. Lucan.
Cadere per mutua vulnera. Ouid. To kill each other.
Circumactus in vulnus. Plin.
Claudicare ex vulnere accepto ob aliquem. Cic. To halt of a wounde that he hath taken in ones behalfe.
Coalescit vulnus, Vide COALEO.
Concidere mutuis vulneribus, Vide MVTVVM.
Vulneribus confectus. Liu. Slayne: sore wounded in many places.
Colligat vulnera bitumen cum farina hordeacea. Plinius. Closeth or healeth vp.
Confodere aliquem vulneribus, Vide CONFODIO.
Vulnera conglutinat holosteon. Plin. Closeth or healeth vp.
Conglutinantur vulnera decocto graminis. Pli. Are closed or healed vp.
Consumptus vulneribus. Sil. Dying of woundes.
Continet vulnus falcita, neque astringit. Cels.
Conturbare prima vulnera nouis plagis. Lucret.
Duro crepitant sub vulnere malæ. Virgil. Wit cheekes ring with the harde blowes.
Curare vulnus. Quint.
Deligare vulnus. Quint. To binde vp.
Descendit vulnus magno hiatu. Stat.
Detegere vulnus. Cels. To open or vndoe a wounde.
Dirigere vulnera. Virg.
Cæcum vulnus ictu dare cuspide. Virg.
Certa vulnera dare. Ouid.
Dare insania vulnera. Ouid.
Durare humeros ad vulnera. Virg.
Edere vulnera. Stat. Elusa vulnera. Ouid.
Emendantur vulnera capitis lacte mulicbri. Plin.
Enecta vulneribus ornus. Vir. Cut down with many strokes.
Examinari grani vulnera. Cic.
Excipere vulnera, Vide ACCIPIO.
Crudeli vulnere vitam exhalans. Virg.
Explet vulnera creta Eretria. Plin. Filleth vp wounds with good flesh.
Exugere vulnus. Cels. To sucke a wounde.
Miserando vulnere extinctus. Stat. Pitifully slayne.
Facere vulnera. Quint. To wounde.
Vulnus in vulnere fecit. Ouid.
Facere vulnera alicui in tergo. Ouid.
Rastrorum vulnera ferre. Ouidius. To abide piercing with rakes: to abide raking.
Feruens vulnus. Ouid. Iterata vulnera figere. Stat.
Fluxa vulnera morsu serpentis. Cels.
Fouere vulnus aqua calida. Cels. To supple or soke, &c.
Inconsolabile vulnus mente gerere. Ouid. To be so wounded with sorow as he can not be comforted.
Glutinantur vulnera candido oui. Cels.
Graue vulnus habere. Ouid.
Hiat vulnus. Cels. Hiat vulnus abruptis venis. Stat.
Illinunt vulneribus polium. Plin.
Illinitur ad vulnus Teucria. Plin.
Immolare aliquem vulnere. Virg.
Impingere vulnus, Vide IMPINGO.
Implere vulnus. Cels.
Imponere vulnus. Cic. To wounde: to giue a wounde.
Imponere stercus caprinum super vulnus. Cels.
Imponuntur vulneribus folia lilij. Plin.
Imprimere vulnus, Vide IMPRIMO.

Incidere

Incidere vulnus. Celſ. To launce or cut.
Incidere circa vulnus ſcapello. Cel. To ſcarifie round about.
Inducere cicatricem vulneribus. Celſ. To heale vp wounds.
Inferre vulnera alicui, Vide INFERO.
Vulnera quæ per tela inferuntur. Celſ. Wounds made with weapons.
Infeſtant vulnera & nimius calor, & nimium frigus. Celſus. Both to much heate, and to much colde both hurt or annoy wounds.
Inflamantur vulnera ſuperuentu eorum, qui pedibus iter confecerint. Plin.
Infligere vulnus, Vide INFLIGO.
Infligere alicui vulnus. Cic.
Inſoſſa cerebro vulnera. Se. Wounds piercing into the brain.
Infunderi vulneri acetum. Celſ.
Ingeſtis vulneribus, concidit. Tacit.
Inſequi aliquem infeſto vulnere. Virg.
Integrare vulnera. Stat. Intumeſcit vulnus. Cel.
Lædunt vulnere dracones. Ouid.
Paruo cor vulnere læſum. Ouid.
Lenire vulnera. Sil. To aſſwage the griefe of wounds.
Mederi vulneribus. Cic. To cure.
Minitans vulnera curuata cuſpide. Oui. Manaſing to ſtrike. with, &c. Crebris vulneribus miſcent prælia. Vir.
Gemmato vulnere miſit eum ad vmbras Tarrareas. Ouid.
Mouere aliquem in vulnera alicuius. Claud. To incite one to cut, ſtrike, or wounde a man.
Mulcere vulnera. Sil. To aſſwage the paine of.
Repetitum vulnus nouat ſtipite. Ouid. He woundeth hym a freſhe, with, &c.
Obligare vulnus. Cic. Occidi vulnere. Quint.
Minimo vulnere occidit. Ouid.
Patens vulnus in pectore. Virg.
Patet vulnus. Celſ. The wounde is open.
Mille vulnera patiens. Ouid.
Alterna vulnera paſſi. Lucan. Being wounded each of other.
Martia vulnera paſſi pugnando. Virg.
Penetrauit penitus vulnus. Celſ. The wounde went cleane thyough.
Perducere vulnera ad cicatricem. Plin. To heale vp.
Perire vulnere. Horat.
Petere mortem per vulnera. Virg.
Medicinam vulnerâ poſcunt. Sil.
Profunt vulneribus folia lactucæ. Plin.
Pulſus pudendis vulneribus. Virg.
Purgare vulnera. Plin. To mundifie and cleanſe.
Immedicabile vulnus enſe recidendum eſt. Ouid.
Refricare vulnus. Cic. To make a wounde bleede againe: to rubbe vp an olde ſore: to renew a griefe almoſt forgotten.
Repetitum vulnus. Quint. A wounde made againe.
Replere vulnera. Plin. Repurgare vulnera. Plin.
Reſoluere vulnera. Quint. To vnbinde wounds.
Cæca vulnera reſoluere. Stat.
Sanare vulnera. Quint.
Sanare vulnus iniuriæ. Cic. To heale the griefe of an iniurie done.
Sanare vulnus Reipub. Ouid.
Largo ſatiatur vulnere conus. Claudia. Is filled with blood comming aboundantly out of the wounde.
Nouatum vulnus ſcinditur. Ouid.
Odoro vulnere ſcinditur pinus. Stat. The pine tree ſmelleth pleaſantly when it is cut.
Sedare vulnera. Stat.
Vaſta vulnera ſerebant. Lucret.
Siccare vulnera. Ouid.
Infixum ſtridet ſub pectore vulnus. Virg.
Tardatus vulnere. Ouid.
Tendit vulnus ad cicatricem. Celſus. The wounde wareth whole.
Triſti turbatus vulnere mentis. Virg.
Valet mel in eo vulnere quod ceraſtes fecit. Celſ.
Ingenti vulnere victus. Virg.
Sæuo vulnere vlciſci aliquem. Sene.
Verre vulnus, & Viſum vulnus. Celſ. To ſcare a wounde.
Vtuntur galbano ad vulnera. Plin. They vſe Galbanum to heale wounds.

¶ Orbitatis vulnus. Quin. A wounde or pinching griefe for the loſſe of ones children.
Amoris vulnus. Lucret.
At regina grauii iandudum ſaucia cura
Vulnus alit venis. Vir. But the queene long ſince wounded with the dart of loue kepeth it feeding ſtill in hir heart.
Mutua vulnera. Ouid. Mutuall loue.
Inconſolabile vulnus mente gerit tacita. Ouid.
Aeternum ſeruans ſub pectore vulnus. Virg. Keeping perpetuall grudge in hir heart.
Cæco vulnere tabeſcere. Lucre. To pine away with inward and ſecret loue.
Tacitum viuit ſub pectore vulnus. Virg. The ſecrete ſore is ſtill freſh in hir heart.
¶ Vulnera tabularum recentia, pro Lituris. Cic. New blots or raſings.
Vulnuſculum, vulnuſculi, n.g. pen.cor. Diminutiuum. Vlpian. A little wounde.
Vúlnero, vúlneras, pe.cor. vulnerâre. Cel. To wound: to hurt.
Enſe ſæuo vulnerat caput. Ouid.
Corpora vulnerare ferro. Tibull.
Viribus ferri vulnerari. Cic.
Fortunæ continuo ictu vulneror. Ouid.
Bono proprio vulnerari. Ouid.
Vulnerare aliquem voce. Cic. Spitefully or reprochfully to nippe one: to hurt one with his words.
Grauior nuntius aures vulnerat. Virg. More ſorowfull tyding griueth me.
Vulneratus humerum. Plin. Wounded in his ſhoulder.
Vulneratus mortiferé. Vlpian. Hauing a deadly wounde.
Vulnerátio, vulneratiónis. g. Verbale. Cicero. A wounding: an hurting.
Vulnerárius, vulnerárij, m.g. Plin. A ſurgeon.
Vulnerárius, Adiectiuum. Plin. Belonging to woundes.
Vulnificus, pen.cor. Aliud adiectiuum. Virg. That woundeth or maketh woundes.
Dentes vulnifici. Senec.
Enſis vulnificus. Stat.
Plumbum vulnificum. Valer. Flac.
Sus vulnificus. Ouid.
Vulpes, vulpis, & volpes, f.g. Plin. A fore.
Aſtuta vulpes. Perſ. Cauta. Hor.
Fœta. Horat. Olida. Mart.
Vulpécula, vulpéculæ, f.gen. pen.cor. Diminutiuum. Horat. A little fore.
Fallax vulpecula gannit. Ouid.
Vulpinus, pen.prod. Adiectiuum. Sueton. Of a fore.
¶ Vulpinus. Plaut. Craftie: wilie: ſubtile.
Vulſella, Vide VOLSELLA.
Vulſura, vulſúræ, pen.prod. Vulſus, Vide VELLO, vellis.
Vulticulus, Vultuoſus, &c. Vide VULTVS.
Vultur, vúlturis, pen.cor. maſ.ge. & Vulturis, huius vulturis, & Vulturius, vulturíj. Liu. A ranenous birde called a vulter or gerir: of this are two kindes, one leſſe and whitiſhe: the other bigger and of colour blackiſh or darke gray. Although it be a feeder on carraine, it will not meddle with any deade birde.
Dirus vultur. Val. Flac. Edax vultur. Ouid.
Immanis vidtuit obunco roſtro. Virg.
Obſcœnus vultur examina conſumit corpora. Sil.
Vulturíus, huius, per tranſlationem, pro Rapace. Cic. A rauenous fellow: an extortioner.
Vulturnus, pen.prod. Adiectiuum. Plin. Of a vulter, or gerre.
Vulturnum fel. Plin.
Vulturnus. The northeaſt winde.
Vultus, huius vultus, vultui, maſ.ge. Plin. A countenaunce or cheere: a looke a viſage.
Imago animi vultus eſt. Cic. The countenance is the Image and figure of the minde.
Quidam vultu mœſtique corporis vaſti atque agreſtes. Cic.
Mutabilis vultu. Horat. Simulachra vultus. Tacit.
Violentia vultus. Ouid.
Salis placidi vultus. Virg. The calme and quiet ſtate of the ſea.
¶ Acer vultus in hoſtem. Horat. A fierce looke.
Agreſtes vultus. Ouid. Ambiguus vultus. Horat.

Benignus,

Benignus, Vide BENIGNVS.
Boni vultus. Ouid. Merry lokes: good countenance or cheere.
Compti vultus. Claud. Faces trimmed.
Confuſi. Lucan. Diſmayed or troubled lookes.
Conſceleratus vultus. Cic.
Coruſcus vultus. Claud.
Diſtortus. Quint.
Decorus. Claud.
Durus. Ouid. A ſower looke.
Dilectus. Stat. Exanimes vultus. Lucan.
Ferini. Ouid. Grimme lookes.
Ferax vultus. Sen.
Formoſi vultus. Ouid. Igneus. Sen.
Grauis vultus. Iuuenalis. Importunus. Cic.
Hilaris. Ouid. Infeſtus. Lucan.
Ingenui vultus puer. Iuu. A child hauing a good honeſt face.
Inimicus vultus. Plaut.
Iratus. Claud.
Iuniorem vultum præſtat aniſum. Plin. Aniſe maketh one looke yonger.
Iuueniles vultus. Ouid. Læti. Ouid.
Loquax vultus. Ouid.
Lubricus vultus aſpici. Hor. A face daungerous to beholde, for that it allureth one to loue.
Lucidi vultus Lunæ. Sen.
Lugubres vultus. Ouid.
Minaci multu grauis. Val. Flac.
Modeſtus vultus. Iuuen. Mœſtus. Seneca.
Mœrens. Ouid. Nitidus. Ouid.
Omniferi vultus Telluris. Ouid. The face of the earth hauing forth all things.
Præclarus vultus. Lucret.
Proiectus & degener. Tacit. An vnmanly loke, and without life or courage.
Purpureus vultus Lunæ. Ouid. The moone looking red.
Ridiculus. Quint.
Rigidus & trux vultus. Ouid.
Serenus. Horat. Toruus. Quint.
Seuerus & triſtis. Cic. Torno vultu ferus. Horat.
Supinus. Quint. Trepidi vultus. Ouid.
Sydereus. Seneca. Triſtis vultus. Ouid.
Terribilis. Ouid. Trux. Tacit.
Tumidi & truces vultus. Sen. Virginei. Virg.
Virgineus vultus in ore puerili. Ouid.
Virilis vultus. Horat. Vitalis. Lucret.
¶ Addere vultus ſuos tenebris. Ouid.
Addere vultum verbis. Ouid. With his faire and courteous woordes to ſhew a good countenance alſo.
Adhibere aliquò vultum, Vide ADHIBEO.
Aduertere vultus ſuos ſacris. Ouid. To turne towarde, &c.
Affuſit vultus tuus populo. Horat.
Appellare vultu, Vide APPELLO.
Ruga ſenilis arat iam meos vultus. Ouid. Age maketh furrowes or wrinckles in my face.
Alterno vultu & hunc & illum aſpectans. Ouid. Loking now on thone, now on thother.
Aſpice vultus meos. Ouid.
Aſpicere aliquem molli vultu. Ouid.
Auertere vultus ab aliquo. Ouid.
Comparare vultum è vultu, Vide COMPARO.
Feros componere vultus. Ouid. To fashion his fierce lookes to a more pleaſantneſſe.
Compoſitus vultus. Tacit. A countenance ſet and fashioned.
Condere vultus. Ouid.
Confundere vultum Lunæ carminibus. Ouid.
Coniectare aliquid vultu. Tac. To geſſe by, &c.
Conſentit vultus cum oratione, Vide CONSENTIO.
Conuertere vultus ſuos in aliquem. Ouid. To loke towarde.
Silenti vultu defixus. Val. Fla. Loking ſtedfaſtly, and ſaying nothing.
Mœſto defixus lumina vultu. Virg.
Deformat vultum macies. Virg. Leanenesſe diſfigureth ones looke.
Deiecit vultum, & demiſſa voce locuta eſt. Virg. She baſhefully caſt hir countenance downewarde, and, &c.
Deiectus vultus, Virg.

Deiectus in humum vultus. Ouid.
Depoſuit vultum ſuum in gremio. Ouid.
Detinere vultus alicuius. Oui. To make one ſtare long on it.
Diſcere vultum alicuius. Virg.
Diſſimulare vultum. Stat. Modeſto vultu ire. Ouid.
Amato vultu non exatiatur. Stat. We cannot ſatiſfie himſelfe with looking on the face that he loueth.
Excidit illi vultus. Ouid. His merry chere is changed & gone.
Pacato vultu excipere aliquid. Ouid.
Expreſſi vultus per ahenea ſigna. Ho. Faces liuely wrought in braſſe.
Exprimebat omnes vultus. Cic. We counterfaited all their countenances.
Quos ſpiritus geſſiſſet, vultu ferebat. Tacit. He ſheweth in his countenance, &c.
Figere vultus in aliquo. Virg. To looke ſtedfaſtly on.
Fingere vultum. Ouid.
Fictus & ſimulatus vultus. Cic.
Flagrantes Dei vultus. Virg.
Flectere vultum ad aliquem. Ouid. To looke towarde.
Serenos vultus fœdare. Virg. To diſgrace and marre: &c.
Fœdati vultus. Ouid.
Prono fuſus ſuper oſcula vultu. Stat.
Deiectos gerit vultus pudore. Sene. For ſhame ſhee caſteth downe hir countenance, and looketh to the grounde.
Incertos vultus gerere. Sen.
Habet pacem vultus. Ouid. His countenaunce is peaceſible and quiet.
Infixi pectore hærent vultus. Virg. His lookes and countenance doth ſticke deepely in hir minde.
Humectare vultú largo flumine. Vir. To weepe abundantly.
Immutat vultum. Terent. He changeth countenance.
Induere vultus ſeueros, Vide INDVO.
Niueos infecit purpura vultus. Claud. His faire face wared red with blushing.
Durus vultus malis lachrymare neſcit. Sen.
Lauare vultum profuſis lachrymis. Ouid.
Madentes ſudore vultus. Sil. Ones face dropping downe with ſweate.
Mutare vultum, Vide MVTO. Notare vultus. Tac.
Obducti vultus ægro luctu. Ouid. His countenance ouercaſt with ſorowfull heauineſſe.
Blandos offers mihi vultus. Tibull.
Intrepidos vultus pertulit ad fata nouiſſima. Ouid. He looked with a ſtoute countenance euen to death.
Prætendere vultum. Quint.
Toto vultu in terram procumbere. Ouid.
Promittere aliquid vultu. Quint.
Amico vultu promittere aliquid. Ouid. With a friendly loke to ſignifie or promiſe a thing.
Placidi radiant in caſtide vultus. Claud.
Referre vultum alicuius. Ou. To be like one in countenance.
Alto vultu reijcere dona alicuius. Horatiu. With a prowde looke, &c.
Renidens falſum vultu. Tacit. Counterfeiting a ſmiling or merie looke.
Renidenti cohibens ſuſpiria vultu. Val. Flac.
Placido vultu reſpice mea munera. Ouid.
Reſpicere meliore vultu. Vide BONVS.
Ficto ridere vultu. Stat. To counterfait a laughing.
Inuito vultu ridere. Horat. To laugh againſt his will.
Rigabat vultum atque ora lachrymis. Virg.
Supplice vultu rogare aliquid. Claud.
Benignum vultum ſeruat fortuna. Hora. Fortune per loketh fauourably on vs.
Soluto vultu galeas intrare. Stat. With a chearefull countenance to put his head in the helmet.
Sparſi vultus ſanguine. Ouid.
Iniquo vultu ſpectare aliquem. Ouid. To looke diſpleaſantly on one.
Boni vultus eſſe. Ouid. To haue a good countenance.
Caſtos vultus tegere. Ouid.
Conſilium vultu tegit. Virg He pretendeth in countenance to minde no ſuch thing.
Tendens ad ſydera vultus. Ouid.
Immotos vultus tenere. Ouid.

Rectus

V V L

Rectos tenere vultus in aliquem. Stat. To looke streight on one.
Tenuare vultum macie. Propert.
Terrere aliquem vultu. Horat.
Pauido vultu territa. Sen.
Trahere vultum, & rugas cogere. Ouid. To make the face withered and winckled.
Demissos velare vultus. Lucan.
Vulticulus, vulticuli, pen.cor. Diminutiuum. Cicero. A prettie countenance: a little visage.
Vultuósus, pen.prod. Adiectiuum. Quint. Of a graue and solemne countenance: making many countenances.
Vulua, vuluæ, f.g. Plin. The matrice, wombe, or mother: the place of conception in any female. Also the entrance or way vnto the same: the wombe port, or wombe passage: the pvvne passage. Also a meate made of the mother of a sow, that had newly farrowed.
Articuli vuluarum. Plin.
Callum vuluarum emollit fel capræ. Plin.
Contractio vuluæ. Plin.
Conuersione vuluarum suffocatas excitat odore sinapi. Pli. Those that be in a sounde by reason of the mother seeming to mount and rise to the hart.
Cruciatus vuluæ. Plin. Paines in the pvvne passage.
Dolores vuluæ sedat chamæpyce. Plin.
Doloribus vuluarum imponitur lac muliebre. Plin.
Dolores vuluarum tollit melitites lapis. Plin.
Duritias & conuersiones vuluæ emendat pix. Plin.
Durities vuluarum emollit seuum asininum. Plin.
Examinationes vuluarum. Plin. Suffocations, or sownings proceeding of disease in the mother rising vpwarde.
Exulcerationes vuluarum sanat seuum asinimum. Plin.
Exulcerationibus vuluarum prodest medulla vituli. Plin.
Fluctionem vuluæ sistit decoctum palmæ. Plin. The white flowers.
Inflammationes vuluæ. Cels.
Inflationi vuluæ simum aprinum cum oleo illini prodest. Plin. Worts dung wyth oyle is annointed, as medicinable against the disease commonly called the mother.
Morbo vuluæ strangulatas aiunt respirare capillorum muliebrium odore si crementur. Plin. Women that be suffocated and sounde by vpping or ascending of the mother vp towarde the heart, &c.
Onera vuluæ extrahit resina. Plin.
Os vuluæ. Cels. The mother port.
Procidentia vuluæ. Plini. The falling of the matrixe out of his place downewarde.
Sinus vuluæ gemini in muliere. Plin.
Strangulationes vuluæ cuminum potum in vino aperit. Pli. The stifflings or suffocations of the mother causing women to sounde is holpen by drinking of Cumyne.
Strangulationes vuluæ sedat anisum. Plin.
Strangulationes vuluarum discutit bitumen olfactum. Pli.
Strangulationes vuluæ recreat gagates lapis. Plin.
Strangulationibus vuluæ succurrit crethmos. Plin.
Strangulatus vuluarum discutit crocum. Plin.
Strangulatus vuluæ peucedanum vstum recreat nidore. Pl.
Strangulatum à vulnis emendat agaricum. Plin.
Tormenta vuluæ. Pli. Paines and wringings of the mother.
Vitia vuluæ emendat ampelos agria. Plin. Diseases of, &c.
¶ Adiuuat vuluam pulmo léporis aridus potus. Plin.
Concitatæ vuluæ apponitur succus foliorum Cypri. Plin. Against the immoderate fluxe of the wombe.
Confert vulnis scolimos, vt mares gignantur. Plin.
Continent vuluas adalligato samio lapide tradunt. Plin. To be kept in their place, and not to fall, &c.
Contractas vuluas aperit porri succus. Plin.
Conuersas vuluas corrigit ruta illita in melle. Plin.
Diluitur in vino cinerea, bibiturque ad dolorem vuluæ. Pli.
Emollire vuluas. Plin. Expurgare vuluas. Plin.
Exulceratæ vuluæ medetur oleum myrteum. Plin.
Induratam vuluam aperit fel bubalum. Plin.
Inflammatis contractisque vulnis admouentur strigmenta athletarum. Plin.
Iuuantur vuluæ lacte equino collutæ. Plin.
Vulua laborans duritie. Plin.

V V O

Laborantes vuluas adiuuat cornu ceruini cinis. Pli.
Laborantes vulua suffiri felle crocodili salutare traditur. Pli.
Mollire vuluam. Cels.
Præcluſa vulua. Plin.
Procedentes vuluas inhibet Aristolochia. Plinius. Falling downe out of their naturall places.
Procidétes vuluæ reprimitur suffitu fimi è mare boue. Pli.
Procidentes vuluas reſſilire cogit vrtica. Plin.
Procidentes vuluas sistere. Plin.
Prodest vuluis oleum cycinum. Plin.
Strangulante vulua subuenit cedridis odor. Plin. In stifling or suffocation of the mother, &c.
Suffire vuluas pilo ceruino. Pli.
Versa vulua, spiritum si inclusit, funebris est. Plin.
Vuula, læ, f.g. A litle peece of flesh in the roofe of the mouth, which sometime dwelleth and grieueth soze.

V X

Vxor, vxóris, pen.prod.f.g. Terent. A wife.
Gratum mihi feceris, si vxori tuæ meis verbis eris gratulatus. Cic.
Beata vxor creandis pueris. Horat.
Capacissima vxor omnis secreti. Plin.iun. A wife to whome any secret may be committed.
Deuixæ vxores olentis mariti. Hora. She goates.
Fœta vxor. Iuuenal. Formosa. Iuuen.
Incommoda & importuna. Plaut.
Iusta vxore nati, Vide IVSTVS & NASCOR.
Legitima vxor, Vide LEX.
Liberalis vxor, Vide LIBER, adiectiuum.
Optima. Lucret. Placens. Horat.
¶ Abducere vxorem à viro. Cic. To make a woman to go with him, and forsake hir husbande.
Abhorrere à ducenda vxore. Cice. To haue no mynde to marie.
Accersere vxorem. Terent.
Adiungere sibi vxorem, Vide ADIVNGO.
Assumere vxorem. Plin.iun.
Commutare vxorem, Vide COMMVTO.
Ducere vxorem. Cic. To marrie a wife.
Tibi ducitur vxor. Virg.
Habere vxorem. Cic. To be maried.
Missam habere vxorem, Vide MITTO.
Alienas permolere vxores. Hor. To haue to doe with other mens wiues.
Prægnans vxor. Cic.
Recusare vxorem grandi cum dote. Horat.
Grauidas reddere vxores. Lucr. To beget their wiues with childe.
Vxórcula, vxórculæ, fœ.g. pen.cor. Diminutiuum. Plautus. A prettie wife.
Vxorius, Adiectiuum. Cic. Of a mans wife.
Dos est vxoria lites. Ouid. Strife and debate is the dowry that a man hath with a wife.
Leuamentum vxorium. Tacit.
Vxórius, vxórij, m.g. Virg. One that doteth on his wife, or one that is in his wiues subiection.
Bibire vxoria. Quinti. De eo cui meretrix potionem odij dederat.

X A

XAnthium, thij. n.g. An hearbe bearing a little burre.
Xanthos. A precious stone of a bright yealow colour.
Xanthus, a, um. Yealow.

X E

Xenium, xenij, neut.gen. Martialis. A present sent by one to a man.
Xeniolum, li. m.g. A small present.
Xerampelinæ vestes. Garments, as I thinke, of murrey colour. Other suppose it to be blacke garments.
Xeria. Dry playsters.
Xerophagia. Eating of dry meates.
Xerophthalmia. Sozenesse of the eyes wythout drepping or swelling.

Xesta.

X I P X Y L

Xesta. The weight of a pounde and a halfe, or a measure containing that weight.

X I

Xiphion. Sedges or gladen.
Xiphium. Plin. Sedges or gladen. quod etiam Xyris dicitur.
Xiphia, xiphiæ, f.g. nomen piscis. Plin. A fish called a sword fishe, hauing a beake like a sworde.
Xiphones, Vide CHONDROS.

X Y

Xylinus, Vide XYLON.
Xyloaloes. A sweete and precious woode called Lignum aloes: women hauing heades of it, call it Acellula.
Xylobalsamum, xylobálsami, pen.cor. Columel. The wood whereof balme naturally commeth.
Xylocinnamomum, xylocinnamómi, pen.prod.n.g. Plin. The woode of the Cinamome tree.
Xylon, neut.gen. Plin. Cotten: also a shrubbe of which cotten commeth.
Xylinum, xylini, n.g. pen. corr. Plin. Bumbasing or any thing made of Cotton.
Xylinus, a, um. Of Cotton.
Xylinæ vestes. Garments of Cotton.
Xylophagus. A woyme breeding in olde timber, white and great bellied, with a blacke head.
Xylotropos, idem quod Chrysalis.
Xyphiæ. Certaine blasing stars, hauing beames like a sword.
Xyphius, Vide XIPHIA.
Xyris, huius xyris, Vide XIPHION.
Xystus, xysti masc.gen. Virtuuius. A place wherein men vsed walking or other exercises vnder couert in the winter: It may be taken for a gallerie, or like place to walke in out of the raine.
Xystum, neut.ge Virtuuius. A knot garden: an open walke.
Xystucus, xystici, m.gen.pen. corr. Sueton. He that exerciseth himselfe in a gallerie, or place couered out of the sunne or raine.
Xystus, ta, tum. Sozgeous: trim: gay: gallant.

Z A

ZAphirus. A fish of the kinde of gilt heades, but that he is somewhat blew in colour.
Zathene. A stone like to Bumber, nowe blacke, nowe yealowe.

Z E

Zea. Dioscorides. After some beerebarley: spelt.
Zelo, zelasi & Zelor, zelâris, zelâri. To haue zeale or great desire to doe a thing. To be gelous: to loue with gelousie, to that he will suffer none to be partaker with him. Also to enuie.
Zelôtes, zelôtis, pen.prod.masc.gen. One that is in gelousie and feareth the thing he loueth is common to other. Also he that hath enuie at one, or assayeth to follow another in lyuing.
Zelótypus, zelótypi, pen.co. Iuuenal. A gelous man: one in a gelousie.
Zelotypia, zelotypiæ, f.g. Plin. Gelousie.
Zelus, mas.gen. Zeale: loue: enuie: emulation.

Z I Z

Zenith. A worde of Cosmographie signifying the point of the firmament directly ouer ones heade, wheresoeuer he be.
Zephiria ova. Egges conceyued with the winde.
Zephirus, zephiri, m.g. The west winde.
Zereth. An Hebrew measure of.ix. inches.
Zeros. A kinde of Chrystall, which hath spottes white and blacke.
Zeta, vel zetula. A litle chamber for one bed and two stooles, ioyned to another chamber with curtaines: so that the curtaines being drawne, it is made but one chamber.
Zeugma. A figure where many clauses are ioyned with one verbe or adiectiue.
Zeus, zei, m.g. Plin. A fish taken about Cales in Spaine, black of colour, and very delicate.

Z I

Zingiber, pen. corr. zingíberis, pen.cor.n.ge. Dioscorides. The spice called ginger.
Zizania, zizániæ: vel Zizánium, zizánij. Cockle or any other corrupt and naughty weede growing among corne.
Zizipha, pen.cor. A fruite called of Apothecaries Iuiuba.

Z O

Zodiacus, pe. cor. Cic. The circle in heauen wherein are.xii. signes. The zodiacke. Looke in the proper names.
Zœhcum. A kynde of snare to take thrushes with.
Zographia. The picture of beastes.
Zomos. Gruell: potrage.
Zona, zonæ. Martial. A girdle.
Tereti zona cinctus. Ouid.
Brutis zona constringit sinus. Seneca.
Ligatam diu zonam soluere Catull.
Retinen s vestem zona. Senec. Solutæ zonæ. Horat.
¶ Zonam perdidit. Horat. He hath lost all his money: he hath not a farthing left.
Zonæ cœli. Plin. Circles imagined in the firmament.
Zonárius, zonárij, m.g. Cic. A girdle maker.
Zonárius, Adiectiuum: vt Sector zonarius. Plautus. A purse cutter.
Zónula, pen.cor. zónulæ Diminutiuum. Catull. A little girdle.
Zoophthalmon. Pli. Sengreene, or houseleeke.
Zophita. That are in part liuing creatures, in part plantes, as spunges, oysters, &c.
Zopissa, zopissæ Plin. Pitch taken from shippes and tempered with wax and salt.
Zophyron, pen. corr. Herba quæ & Clinopodium dicitur. Plin. Some call it Poulpoll mountaine.

Z V

Zura. A berie of white thorne.

Z Y

Zygia. A pipe wherevon men played at weddings.
Zygos. A yoke or couple.
Zygostates, Zygóstatæ, pen. cor. mas.g. Libripens in vrbe constitutus, qui ponderibus præfectus appellatur. A clarke of the market to see to weights.
Zyme. Leauen.
Zymes. Leauened breade.
Zythum, zythi, n.g. Pli. Drinke made of barley sodden, and may be taken for ale or beere.

FINIS.

DICTIONARIVM HISTORI-cum & Poeticum propria locorum & Per-sonarum vocabula breuiter complectens.

Aaron, was sonne to Amram, and brother to Moyses: the worde signifieth the Mountayne of Fortitude, or a strong hill. He was of the tribe of Leui, the fourth from him in lineal discent: in his proper tongue very eloquent, elected of God to be the first Bishop of the Iewes. He liued. 123. yeares, and dyed before the incarnation of Christ. 1471. yeares.

A B

Aba, A towne in Arabie, and a Citie of Phocis. Also an hill of Armenia, out of the which the River Euphrates springeth.

Abæ, arum, A towne of Phocis.

Abaena, A Citie of Mede, and also of Sicily.

Abacuk, A Prophet of the tribe of Simeon: he prophecied and lamented the taking of Ierusalem by Nabugodonosor. Afterwarde, as he caried meate and drinke to his harueſt men, an Aungell toke him vp by the heare of the heade, and carped him to Babylon, into the Doungeon, where Daniell the Prophete was among Lyons. Who being fedde and relieued by him, was carped home the same day. He dyed two yeares before the retourne of the Iewes from Babylon. 600. yeares before the incarnation of Christ.

Abala, A towne of Afrike.

Abali, A people of India.

Abalites, A bosome or goulfe in the sea, called Trogoniticum.

Abalus, An Ile in the Ocean sea.

Abantes, A people of Iones, among the Achiues.

Abantias, or abantis, An Ile in the sea called Mediterraneum.

Abaortæ, A people about the riuer of Indus.

Abarca, The institution of Dionysius.

Abarimon, A Countrey in Tartary, where men haue feete turned backwarde, and be wonderfull swift and lyght.

Abaris, ris, The proper name of a man. It is also he that dwelleth onely in the mayne lande.

Abas, antis, The sonne of Lincus and Hypermestra, the twelfth king of Argiues, father of Pretus and Acrisius, and Grandfather to Perseus. Of him the kinges of Argiues were called Abantiadæ. An other Abas, was a noble Troyan, companion to Eneas.

Abases, A desert Countrie of Egypt.

Abaster, or abastrus, One of the hostes of Pluto king of Hell.

Abaton, That which a man can not come vnto: wherevpon the place at Rhodes made to defende the ymage of Artemisia, is called by that name.

Abanos, i, fœm. ge. An Ile of Egypt, in the Marishe of Memphis.

Abaucas, The proper name of a man.

Abdéra, æ, or abdera, orum, A citie in Spayne, now called Almeria. It is also an Ile, nigh vnto Samothrace, and a citie of Thrace, buylded by Abdera, sister to Diomedes: or as some write by Hercules, in remembraunce of his minion Abderitus, there eaten by the horses of Diomedes. In this citie were borne Democritus the great Philosopher, and Protagoras the famous Rhetorician. This citie was afterwarde called Clazomene.

Abderita, or abderites, æ, masc. A citizen of Abdera.

Abderitanus, vel Abderiticus, a, um, Apertayning vnto that citie.

Abdias, One of the twelue Prophetes, and is interpreted the seruant of the Lorde.

Abea, A towne of the Messenians, and one of the seauen Cities that Homere feigneth Agamemnon to promise vnto Achilles.

Abeacus, A king of Siraces.

Abeatæ, A people of Scaia.

Abededos, A citie in Egypt, wherein was the pallace of Memnon, and the temple of Osiris.

Abel, The seconde sonne of Adam, as interpreted breath, vapour, or vanitie. He was borne together with his sister Delbora xb. yeares after Cain. He is reputed to be the first Martyr, slayne by his bayde brother of enuie, for that God accepted his offering, and reiected Cains, when the sayde Abel was 100. yeares olde. He was from his childehode of great vertue and fayth. He was slayne before the incarnation of Christ yeares.

Abella, or Auella, A towne of Campania in Italy.

Abellinates, A people of Italye, called before tyme Protropi.

Abellinum, A towne in Italy now called Troy.

Aberdonia, The citie Aberdeine in Scotlande.

Abessa, The name of a iudge of Israell.

Abessamis, A towne in Syria, buylded by Semiramis.

Abeste, A towne nigh to the ryuer Hermandrus.

Abeston, A stone of yron colour, founde in Arabia, which hath growing about it, a thing like vnto wooll, called the downe of Salamander. This stone made hote, can neuer be colde.

Abi, A great ryuer in England, called Humber.

Abij, A people of Scythia.

Abila, A towne in Decapoliton. It is also an hill in Afrike, lyke Abyla.

Abilatæ, Men of the Citie of Abila.

Abis, A riuer that runneth into the ryuer Danubie.

Abisari, Otherwyse Biasari, A countrie of Iudie.

Abisontes, A people of the Alpes.

Abissa, and Abissama, A citie of Arabia.

Ablacus, A riuer running into Danubius.

Ableri, A people subiect to the Mysiens.

Abnoba, æ, A Mountayne in Germany, out of the which springeth the riuer Danubie.

Abrobrica, A famous towne in Spayne.

Abocesis, A towne of Ethiope.

Abolani, A people of Latium.

Aboriense, A towne in Afrike belonging to the Citizens of Rome.

Aborigines, or Aborigenes, People which first heide the countrie about Rome, and lyued abroade, hauing no house. They may also be taken for any other people, whose beginning is not knowne.

Aborras, A riuer in Asia, which runneth by the Citie Artemusia.

Abraces, One of Artaxerxes chiefe Capitaynes.

Abradatas, A king of the people called Ciriens, who accompanyed Cyrus, when he fought against the Egyptians.

Abraham, An holy Patriarke, sonne to Thare, borne in Caldei, is interpreted the father of many Nations, or of people seeing. This man, as well in vertue and perfite fayth, as in sundrie and mysticall doctrines, was most excellent. He taught the Egyptians Astronomie, and Geometrie. He died before the incarnation of Christ. 1838. yeares.

Abrettini, People of Mysia.

Abrocomas, One of Artaxerxes capitaines.

Abron, onis, The name of a man, whose sensualitie and delicate life is growne to a Prouerbe.

Abroni menia, A citie of Galatia.

Abroconion, or Abrotonium. The name of a woman.

Abrotonum, A towne of Afrike. It is also the name of an harlotte, which, as some saye, was Themistocles mother.

Abſarus, A ryuer of Iberia, which incloſeth the leſſe Armenie.

Abſilæ, Certayne people.

Abſorus, An Ile in the ſea Adriaticum, or after Herodian, a citie in Illiria.

Abyrtides, Ile Iſandes in the Venecian ſea.

Abſyrtus, The brother of Medea, whome ſhee dyd cut in peeces, and caſt into the ſea, when ſhe fled from hir father with Jaſon.

Abupus, A ryuer in Englande called Humber.

Abydeni, A people in Aſia, which hauing their citie diſtreſſed with a long ſiege, fell into a furie or madneſſe, and ſlue all their wiues, their children, and afterwarde themſelues.

Abydenus, A man borne in the yle of Abydus.

Abydus, A citie in Aſia, vpon the Sea ſide called Propontis, which deuyded Europa from Aſia, where the paſſage ouer exceedeth not much. xxx. Furlonges, Oner againſt that ſtanderh another Towne, called Setius.

Abyla, An hyll in the Occean ſea againſt Spayne, which is called one of Hercules pillers.

Aca. The name of a citie in Phenicia, afterwarde called Ptholomais.

Acabene, A mountayne in Egypt.

Acabis, A village of Lybia.

Acabo, A beaſt in the deſert of Arabie.

Acaceſium, A citie of Arcadie, ſo called of Acacus, the ſonne of Lycaon.

Acadinus, A well in Sicilia wherein (as Ariſtotle ſaith) tables, contayning the othe of one that hath ſwoone trueliye, will ſwim: but if the othe bee falſe, they will ſinke.

Acadra, A towne of Arabie.

Acallis, lidis, The Daughter of Minois, and mother of Oaxes.

Acamantium, A towne in Phrygia, buylded by Acamantis, to whome Theſeus after the battayle of Troye, gaue that place, becauſe he ayded him againſt the people called Solines.

Acamarchis, A Nymph, the daughter of Oceanus.

Acanias, An elbow of lande in the yle of Cyprus, towards the Eaſt. Alſo a Prince of Thrace, which came to aide the Troyans. Alſo one of the ſame name was ſonne to Anthenor.

Acanthide, The olde name of the yle of Cyprus.

Acanthus, A boye which (as Poetes feygne) was tranſformed into a floure of his name. It is alſo (as Serenius ſayth) a tree growing in Egypt, hauing alwayes greene leaues. Alſo a citie in Egypt, nigh vnto Memphis: another of Macedonia, and of Aetholia.

Acapis, A ryuer in Aſia.

Acara, A towne in the middle of Hungarie.

Acarnan, anis, or Acarnas, A ſtonie hill in the countrie of Athens.

Acarnania, A part of the realme of Greece, named Epyrus. It is alſo a little countrie in Egypt. Alſo a Cytie by Syracuſis in the realme of Sicilie.

Arcananes, The people of that countrey.

Arcananius, or Acarnanicus, a, um, Of Acarnania.

Acaſta, A nymph or mayden of the layty.

Acaſtus, A king of Aeognelia, of whom Peleus was purged, when he had murthered his brother.

Accaulaurēia, The name of hir that nouriſhed Romulus and Rhemus, the firſt buylders of Rome.

Accaron, A citie of Paleſtine.

Acci, A citie in Spaine, ſometyme called Arci, nowe Guadix.

Accius Pirauſenſis, A famous Oratoz.

Accius Neuius. The Augurion or ſoothſayer, which (at the commandement of Tarquinius) did cut a whetſtone in two peeces with a raſour.

Accius, The name of a Poet, a writer of Tragedies, who (as Cicero ſayth) had a harde and crabbed ſtile.

Acco, cus, A woman which was ſo fooliſhe, that ſhe would ſpeake and talke to hir owne ymage in a Glaſſe, whereof commeth Accoſſare, to play the yoiot: and ſuch ſoles be called Acci. Thus woman-like would refuſe earneſtly that ſhe moſt deſired. Wherefore ſuch feygned refuſall, is called Accoſſmus.

Acelum, A towne in Lumbardie.

Acephali, or acephalitæ, were heritikes, which denyed to be two natures in Chriſt, affirming the nature diuine to be in him onely. This hereſie was condemned in the counſaple of Chalcedon.

Acerræ, A citie by Naples.

Acerrani, People of that citie.

Acceſeus, A cunning artificer.

Acceſinus, A great ryuer in Perſia, which runneth into the ryuer Indus, wherein doe growe canes of ſuch greatneſſe, that they make thereof betweene euery knot or ioynt, boates to rowe in.

Acceſæus, A ſhipmans name, which being an vnlucke lubber, would deferre his voyage, and laye he tarped for a better wome.

Acceſta, A citie in Sicilie.

Aceſtes, æ, The ſonne of the riuer Crinisus in Sicilie, and the Troyane Ladie Segeſta, which receyued Aeneas, & Anchiſes, when they ſayled towarde Italy.

Aceſtium, tij, ſ.g. The name of Xenocius daughter.

Aceſtis, A great riuer in Jndia.

Acesum, A citie in Colchis, on the banke of the riuer called Phaſis.

Achæi, People in Greece: ſometime they be taken for Greekes generally.

Achæmenes, was the firſt king of the Perſians, or Parthians, of whome diuers kings of the Perſians, were called Achæmenes, and the people Achæmenij.

Achæmenia, A countrie in Perſia.

Achæmenides, One of Vlyſſes companions.

Achaia, A part of Greece, contayning theſe countries, Attica, Boeotia, Megara, Aetholia, and Phocis. It hath on the weſt, Epyre, on the Eaſt, the ſea Egeum, on the Nozth Macedonia, on the South the ſea Creticum. There is another Achaia, in Peloponneſus, now called Morea, where was the citie of Patras, in which ſaint Jndzowe the Apoſtle was martired.

Achais, idis, & idos, Of Greece.

Achar, A citie in Syria, now called Niſibis.

Achedorus, A ryuer of Macedonia, which deuideth Apollonia, and Theſſalonica.

Acheloides, or Acheloiades, The mere Maides, & daughters of Achelous.

Acheloides, or Acheloiades, The mere Maides, & daughters of Achelous.

Acheloius, a, um, Of that riuer: ſometime it is put for aqueus, watrie or mired with water.

Achelous, A famous riuer in Greece, which runneth out of Pindus, wherin is found the ſtone Galactides, which is blache: but being broken it appeareth lycour as white as milke, hauing alſo the taſte thereof.

Achelous, was the ſonne of Oceanus and Tethis, of whome the foreſayde ryuer (after the Poetes) was named Achelous. Jn olde tyme it did ſignifie all maner water.

Achelous, A mans name.

Acheroſi, idis, and idos, An epitheton of the white Popler tree, which the Poets feygne to grow on the bankes of Acheron, the ryuer of hell.

Acheronta, A citie of Poete ioyning to Lucania.

Acheron, or Acherons, rontis, and Acheruns, runtis, Jle of Poets taken for the riuer of hell: in deede it is a riuer in a part of Italye, wherof the people be called Bruti. It is ſo enuironed with hilles, that the ſunne commeth not to it, but onely in the middeſt of the day. It is likewyſe a riuer of Lucania, of Egypte, and alſo of Pontus, nigh to Heraclia.

Acheronini, People ſo called of the riuer Acheron,

Acherontinus, & acheronticus, a, um: Of the riuer Acheron.

Acheruſia, A fenne in the realme of Epyre. It is alſo a pole or meere of Theſprotia in Epyre, out of which iſſueth the riuer Acheron, which runneth into the ſea called called Imbracium. Acheruſia, is alſo an hole or caue, which the Poets ſuppoſe to be a waye into hell. Out of this hole Hercules brewe Cerberus, the dogge of hell. The paynims beleeued, that all ſoules went that way into the fennes or meres called Stygiæ paludes, where Charon receyued them into his boate.

Acheruſia, idis, & idos, fœm.gen. idem quod Acheruſia.

Acheruſius, a, um, Of hell.

Achilleides, maſcu.gen. The ſonne of Achilles.

Achilleon, A towne of Troye, buylded by the Tombe of Achilles.

Achilleus, lei, or Achilles, lis, and li. One of the moſt valyaunt Capitaynes of the Greekes againſt Troye. He was ſonne vnto Peleus. Jn his childehode hee was inſtructed of Chiron in deedes of armes and ſurgerye. After he ſlue the noble Hector, & Troylus his brother, the one ſodeinly, the other cruelly, wherefore afterward, he by the ſleight of Quene Hecuba, was brought into the lone of Polixena, and vnder the colour of mariage was ſlaine by Paris. He was in height, as (Licophron writeth) ſeuen cubites.

Achilleus, a, um. Of Achilles.

Achilleus curſus, A countrey nere to Boryſthenes, whither Achilles purſued Iphigenia, whome Diana had taken away, and left an Hart in hir ſtede.

Achilanni, A people of Afrike.

Achine, The name of an Jlande.

Achola, A citie of Afrike.

Acholius, The name of an author.

Achrua, A citie in Arabie.

Acibi, orum, A people of Sarmatia in Europe.

Acidalia, The ſurname of Venus, of a Fountayne in a citie of Boeotia called Orchomenum.

Acidalius, A well in Orchomenum, dedicated vnto Venus, and the Graces.

Acienes, A people in Italy nere to the Albanoys.

Acila, æ, A marte towne, from whence men ſayle into Jndia.

Acilius Buta, A gentleman at Rome, which did ryotouſly conſume all his goodes.

Acimbro, or Acinipo, A citie of Spaine.

Acina, æ, A towne in Arabia.

Acintani, A people in Spaine, that worſhipped the image of Mars.

Acris, A ryuer in Italie.

Acis, A ryuer in Sicilye, which runneth from the hill Aetna, as ſwift as an arrow out of a bowe. Acis, is alſo a layre chylde the ſonne of Faunus, and of the daughter of Simethus. It is moze ouer one of the yles called Cyclades.

Acitauones, A people of the Alpes.

Acithus, A ryuer in Sicilie, called alſo Jcis, and Acilius.

Acnia, An Jland, called alſo Melos and Siphnus, in the ſea Candie.

Acnon, An Jlande nere to Candie.

Acmodes, An Jlande in the Britaine ſea.

Acmonenſes, A people ſo called of Acmonia, a Citie of Phrygia.

Acmonides, One of the Cyclops.

Acoetes, The name of a poze man.

Acone, nes, fœm.gen. A port of Bithinia, which hath ſuch plentie of naughtie ſeedes, that all hurtfull herbes bee called Aconita.

Aconteus, The name of a famous hunter.

Acontius, A mountayne of Boeotia.

Acra tapygia, An elbowe of lande in Italy.

Acradina, The Citie of Siracuſis.

Acraea, The ſurname of Juno and Foztune.

Acragas, A citie of Sicilie, called alſo Agrigentum.

Acragas mons, Ioke Agragas.

Acragantinus, a, um, Agragas.

Acridophagi, The blacke Moores nigh vnto the deſertes of Aethiope.

Acrio, onis, A Philoſopher of Pythagoras ſect.

Acris, A ryuer in Italye.

Acriſius, A king of Argines, the father of Danae, on whome Jupiter begat Perſeus.

Acriſioneis, cidis, ſ.g. Danae. The daughter of Acriſius.

Acriſioneus, a, um. Of Acriſius.

Acritas, An elbowe of lande in Peloponneſus, neere vnto Malea and Tenarum.

Acroathon, A towne in Thracia.

Acroceraunia, Mountaines of wonderfull heigth, betweene Armenia and Hiberia, and alſo in Epire & other places.

Acroconia, Certaine Thracians, hauing their heare ouer their foreheades womanlike.

Acrocorinthus, An high Mountaine in Morea, betweene the two ſeas Egeum and Jonium.

Acrolochias, A Mountaine in Egypt, lying into the ſea.

Acron, onis, A king of the Ceninenſes, whome Romulus ſlue hande to hande. There was alſo in Agrigentine a Phyſition of the ſame name, and a Grammarian, which made commentaries vpon Horace.

Acropolis, ólios, fœm.g. A caſtell ſet on an hyll in Athens.

Acta, æ, or Acte, tes. The country of Athens.

Acteon, The name of a man, whome Diana turned into an Hart, becauſe he ſaw hir naked: and thereby he was tozne and ſlayne of his owne hounds.

Acteus, The firſt king of Athens.

Actaſta, The daughter of Oceanus and Tethis.

Actiſanes, A king of Egypt, who expulſed Amaſis, and reigned there with great iuſtice.

Actium, A towne in Epyre, and an elbowe of lande lying into the ſea, where Auguſtus ouercame Antonius and Cleopatra.

Actorides, dæ, maſ.g. The ſonne of Actoz.

Acyphantes, A citie in Theſſaly, which is alſo called Pindus.

Ada, æ. The daughter of Hecatomnus, king of Caria, who being driuen out of hir kingdome by hir brother Pyrodozus, was reſtoyed by great Alexander.

Adad, or Adadus, The great God of the Aſſirians, whome they interpretate to be the ſunne: the word ſignifieth one or onely.

Adæ, arum. A citie of Aſia.

Adei, Arabians nere to Egypt.

Adam, The firſt man that was created, and doth ſignifie man, or redde earth, or a dweller. He liued. 930. yeres. Jn the Bible is mencion made but of three ſonnes & one daughter, that he begat Cain, Abell, Seth, and Delboza: whome Philo calleth Noaba. And the ſame Philo reherſeth, xij. ſonnes, and eyght daughters beſyde after Seth.

Adamantius, The ſurname of Didimus the Grammarian, which was afterwarde attributed vnto Origen.

Adamaſtor, A Gyaunt, which was of incredible greatnes.

Adamitæ, vel Adamitani, were heretikes, which toke their beginning of a Pycarde, who came into the lande of Bohemia, and ſayde, that hee was the ſonne of God, and named himſelfe Adam. And hee commaunded all men and women to go naked. And that who ſoener deſired to companie carnallye with any woman, ſhoulde take hir by the hande, and bring hir to him, and ſay, that he feruently deſired hir company. And then ſhoulde Adam ſay: Go togither, and increaſe and multiply. This hereſie was begonne the yeare of our Lorde. 1412. in the time Sigiſmundus the Emperour. And men ſuppoſe that it endureth yet, not onely in Bohemia, but in other places alſo.

Adani, Two cities in Arabia.

Addua, æ, A ryuer running into the pole or meere called Larius.

Ader, A place by Bethleem, where Angels did ſing at the birth of Chriſt, and Jacob kept there his ſhepe.

Adiabaræ, A people of Ethiopia.

Adiabene, A country beyonde Armenia.

Adimanthus, The brother of Plato.

Admete, tes, Oceanus and Tethis daughter.

*Admeti nænia, A ryonerbe, which ſignifieth an heaute or ſozowfull ſong, or a lamentable complaint.

Admetus, Was king of a people called Pherei, vnto whome Apollo beyng exiled out of heauen by Iuppiter, came for refuge, and kept his catteil, and by his craft caused euery Cowe to bring forth two Calues: which thyng Admetus thankfully taking, entertained him honorably. That being well considered of Apollo, he obteined of the destenies, called Parcæ, that when the day of the death of Admetus should be wounde vppon their sppindels, if he could sende anye other that would willingly die for him, he himselfe should escape death at that time. When the day was come, that Admetus should sinishe his life, all men and women, yea father and mother refused to die: onely Alceste his wife, preferred the lyfe of hir husband before hir owne: who being dead, there was in the pallace of Admetus, contynuall wayling and heauinesse, vntil Proserpina, moued with compassion, sent Alceste agayne out of hell vnto hir husbande. Of thys fable came the prouerbe, Admeti, nænia.

Adonis, The name of a chylde, which was sonne of Cynare king of Cyppres, whome Venus had for hir derlyng, which was slayne with a Boze: whome the Poetes feigned, that Venus turned into a purple flowze: some saye into a Rose.

Adra,æ, A citie in Arabia petrea. Also a towne of Surie, and a towne of Liburnia.

Adramelech, An Idoll of Siria, whom the Samaritans honored.

Adramittium,tij, A towne of Aeolis.

Adramittis, In Ilande in Lycia.

Adrana,æ, A ryuer in Germanie.

Adrapla,orum,neut.gen. A citie of Bactria.

Adrastæus,a, um, Of Adrastus.

Adrastia,æ, A countreye not farre from Troye. Also the name of a citie there. It was also called a Goddesse, which toke from man both memozy and wyt.

Adrastus, A king of Argiues, whose daughter Argia was wedded to Polynices, the seconde sonne of Oedipus. And his other daughter called Deiphile, was wedded to Tydeus, sonne to the king of Aetolia. This Adrastus, raysed all the Greekes against the citie of Thebes, for to restore againe his sonne in lawe Polynyces to the kingdome. But after that Polynices and Etheocles, (being brothers) had slayne one the other, after many conflictes, the Thebanes slue downe right the Argiues, and did put to slight Adrastus, and slue his people. After that the Argiues had neuer victozye in any battell: whereof came this prouerbe.

*Adrastia nemesis, The euill lucke of Adrastus: which may be vsed where prowde men be beaten, and ag we say in Englishe, Pryde will haue a fall.

Adrianus, A noble Emperour of Rome, about the yeare of our Lorde. 119. He was Traianus sister sonne, a man of excellent wyt, and dyuers in manners, meruelous in learning, specially in Mathematicalles. Also in Musicke, carueing and grauyng. In deedes of armes, cunning and valiant. A great fauouter of learned men, and liberall towards them. He was so great a trauayler, that there were fewe countreys, but that he went through them. He lined. 62. yeares, and reigned. 20. And died with torment of the bowels.

Adriaticum, Adriacum, and Adrianum, mare, The sea that deuideth Italy frō Dalmatia, wherein standeth ye noble citie of Uenetia. Some doe call it the goulfe of Uenice.

Adrinus, An hyll that deuideth Dalmatia.

Adrobicum, A citie of Spayne.

Adrumetum, or Adrumetum, A citie of Mysia.

Adrumes,etis, A citie in Affrike.

Aduallas,antis, A mountayne from which the great ryuer called Rhene, runneth Northwarde.

Aduatici, People of the countrye of Fraunce called Woslleduck.

Adubanus, The famous ryuer called also Danubius and Ister.

Adulas,antis. An hill called Saynt Gotharde, entring into Lumbardie.

Adyas, The hyll called also Adulas.

AE A

Aea, The name of a maiden, which (as the Poetes fayne) flying from the ryuer Phasis, was turned into an Ilande of the same name. It is also a citie in Colchis, another of Thessalia.

Aeacides,ácidæ,masgen. The sonne or Neuew of Aeacus.

Aeacideius,a,um, of Aeacus.

Aeacus, The sonne of Iupiter and Europa, or Aegina. Paynims supposed him to be of such iustice, that he was appointed by Pluto God of hell, to be one of the iudges there with Minos and Radamanthus, to discusse the transgressions of deade men: and to assigne to them punishment according to their merites.

Aeæe,es,or Aeæa,æ, An Ilande, in which Ulisses arriued, when he returned from hell.

Aeæus,a,um, Of that Ilande.

Aeanum, A citie of Macedonie.

Aeantium, A towne in the promontozie or hill of Troye called Sigeum. It is also a promontopp of Magnesia, and a towne of Macedonie.

Aeas,antis, A ryuer of a countrey called Epyrus, which runneth out of Macedonia, and falleth into the Sea Ionium.

Aeca,æ, A citie in Italie, whereof the people bee called Aecani.

Aedepsum, A towne in Locris.

Aedon, An hill of Thrace.

Aedonis,idis,fœm.gen. A women of Thracr.

Aedonus, and Aedonius,a,um, One of Thracr.

Aeeta,æ,or Aeetes,æ, A king of Colchis, which begat Medea and Calciope vpon Idyia.

Aeeteus,or Aeetius,a,um, Pertaining to Aeeta.

Aeetias, and Aeetis, Medea, the daughter of Aeeta.

Aega,æ,or Aex,ægos, An hyll of Acolus leaning vnto the Sea Aegeum.

Aege,arum, A citie in Cilicia. Also a towne in Macedonia, in Aeolis, and in Euboea.

Aegea,æ, A citie of Emathia.

Aegæon: An huge and most cruell and terrible Gyant, sonne of Titan and Terra. Which is feigned at once to haue slung at Iupiter an hundred rockes: and afterwarde when he was ouercome, to haue bene bounden with an hundred chaynes to the rockes of the sea Aegæum. He was in deede a notable and cruell Pirate of great power, and therefore called Centum geminus, bicause he had an hundred men seruing him in his ships. Statius. Ouid. Among men he was called, Aegæon, among the Gods Briareus.

Aegaleos, An hyll, vnder which stode Pylos a Citie of Messenia, which is a region in Achaia.

Aegates,idem quod Aega.

Aegas, A towne of Peloponesus.

Aegemon, A certaine Poet.

Aegeria, A nymph or Goddesse, with whom Numa Pompilius, the second king of the Romaines, feigned, that he had familiar companie and communication, concerning religion and worshypping of the Goddes: to the intent he mought thereby wythdrawe the people from the appetyte of warres, wherewyth they were inflamed.

Aegestami, A people of Sicelie, of some called Segestami.

Aegeum, mare, The sea, which is from the mouth of the Greke sea, vp in Syria, and Arabia: wherin be many Ilandes, besides Creta, now called Candie, Rhodes, and Cyprus.

*Aegeum sephula transmittere, A prouerbe spoken of them that attempt a daungerous enterprise, with small labour and diligence.

Aegeum naugat, Hee sayleth the Aegyptian sea, A prouerbe applyed to them that refuse no perell for muche lucre or profite, for as much as the sayde sea is full of daungers.

Aegeus, Neptunes sonne, was king of Athens, and had two wyues, Aethra, and Medea. Upon Aethra he begot get Theseus, on Medea Medus, who after gaue name to Media.

In this mannes reigne king Minos of Crete, in reuengement of his sonne Androgeus his death, had made most cruell warre on the Athemens, and had set vpon them this penaltie, that yearely they should sende into Crete, seuen noble mens children to be deuoured of the monster Minotaurus. This penaltie had bene executed three yeares, and the fourth by lotte it fell among other to Theseus king Aegeus his eldest sonne: who being of noble heart and courege, did put them in great hope to kyll the monster, and wyth muche honour to scape the daunger. At his departure therefore he had in charge of his father, if the shippe he went in, returned prosperously and wyth good successe, that he should set vp a whyte sayle in token of victorie, and pull downe the black that they went forth wyth as mourners. But when Theseus, by the counsayle of Ariadne king Minos his daughter, had ouercome the monster, and wyth a clewe of threde escaped the Labyrinth, sayling homewarde agayne with great ioye towarde his countrey, he forgot his fathers commaundement touching the whyte sayle. Wherefore the olde Prince passingly desirous of his sonnes safe returne, and very carefull of his daunger, was dayly on the top of an high rocke, to see whether he could espie the ship returning wyth the token of his sonnes victorie. But at the length seeing the ship sitting homewarde as it went forth with a blacke sayle, thinking his sonne and the residue to haue bene slayne, for sorow did cast himselfe into the sea, that afterwarde of his name was called Aegeum After his death, to the comfort of his sonne Theseus, hee was by the Athemens conferrated to be a God of the sea.

Aegiale, The wyfe of Diomedes, king of Aetolia, who vnderstanding that she had committed adultrie wyth Cyllabarus the sonne of Sthelenus, being therof ashamed, would not returne home to hir. It was also a citie in olde tyme buylded by Aegialeus. Some wyyte that Peloponesus was sometyme called by this name.

Aegialeus, The sonne of Adrastus: he was slayne in the seconde warres, that the Argiues made against the Thebanes. There was another of the same name, the brother of Apis, and sonne of the first Iupiter.

Aegialia, An Ilande nere to Ietolia.

Aegialos, A countrey in Greece, called also Achaia.

Aegialus, The brother of Medea. Also an hill in Athenes, and a promontozie of Paphlagonia.

Aegida,æ, A towne of Istria.

Aegides, Of Aegeus patronimicum.

Aegin,æ, An Ilande, fiftene myles from Cythera.

Aegilades, A gouske of Laconia.

Aegilips,lipis, A citie of Egypte, nere to Crocylea.

Aegilos, An Ilande called also Capraria.

Aegimus, The name of a man that lined. CC. yeares.

Aegimurus, An Ile betweene Sicilie and Affrike. xxx. myles from Carthage.

Aegina,æ, The daughter of Asopus king of Boeotia, on whome Iupiter (in the likenesse of fire) begat Aeacus, and Radamanthus. It is also one of the chiefe Iles called Cyclades, which contended with the Athenienses, who houlde be chiefe, when the Persians inuaded Grece.

Aegianenses, People of Aegina.

Aeginitæ,arum, People of the citie of Aegina.

Aegineticus, and Aegineus, a, um, Of Aegina.

Aeginum, A towne of Macedonie.

Aegiochus, A name of Iupiter.

Aegion, A citie betweene the Aetolians, & the Peloponenses.

Aegira, An Ilande: also a towne in Achaia.

Aegisthalos, The name of a hyde.

Aegisthus, vide Aegysthus.

Aegium, A towne in Peloponneso, nowe called Vostza, where they feygned that Iupiter was nourished with a Goate.

Aegle, egles, A Nymph.

Aegles, The name of a wrestler, who hauing wrong at a common game, spake sodainly, notwithstanding he had bene dumbe all his lyfe before.

Aegonensis, A gate in Rome, called also Quirinalis.

Aegophagos, The surname of Juno among the Lacedemonians.

Aegos, A ruer in Thrace.

Aegosthenenses, A people of Greece.

Aegyssos, A citie on the ryuers side called Ister.

Aegyptij, People of Aegypt, not those vagabunde Magicians, which doe nowe runne into all countries, calling themselues Aegyptians, where as they be of an Ile farre from Aegypt. Reade the commentaries of Volaterranus.

Aegyptini, People of Aethiope, marching on Aegypt.

Aegyptius, & Aegyptiacus, a, um. Of or pertayning to Aegypt.

Aegyptus, ti, A countrie called Aegypt: on the west it is bounded with Lybia, and the countrey called Cyrenaica: on the north with the sea Mediterraneum. and part of Iudea. on the East with Arabia, and the Arabian sea: on the south with Aethiopia. This countrey although it rayne there but seldome or neuer, yet by the ouerflowing of the ryuer of Nilus, it is made so fertile, that it hath abundance of all things sauing Vines, and bringeth forth straunge beastes.

Of the great cities and other marueylous thinges in it, shall be remembred, where their names shall be rehearsed. This countrie toke his name of Aegyptus, sonne to Belus king of Babylon.

* Aegypti nuptiæ, A prouerbe, spoken by vnluckie marryage. bycause the fyfte sonnes of Aegyptus, maryed to the fyfte daughters of his brother Danaus, were the first night, all sauing one, slayne of their wyues, by the counsayle of their father.

Aegysthus, The sonne of Thyestes, by his daughter Pelopeia.

Aelana,orum,neut.gen. A citie of Arabia.

Aelia, A countrey of Asia, betweene Mysia and Ionia. Also a towne of Calabze.

Aelianus, A learned Romaine, whose workes are extant, written in Greeke in an elegant style.

Aelima, vide Aelemon.

Aelius, The proper name of a Romayne.

Aello, Aellus, One of the three monsters and rauenous birdes called Harpiæ.

Aemathia, A countrie in Greece, after called Macedonia: The people whereof were first called Pelasgi. Reade more hereof in Macedonia.

Aemathius, a, um. Of Macedonie.

Aemilia, A countrie in Italye called Flaminia & Romandiola.

Aemilius, m.g. The proper name of a Romayne.

Aemilius, or Aemilianus, a, um, Pertaining to the familie of Aemilius.

Aeminium, A towne in Spaine.

Aeminius, A ruer in Spaine.

Aemochares, The surname of Mars.

Aemon, A man that for the vnlawfull loue towarde hys daughter, was turned into an hyll.

Aemonia, A region of Greece, called also Thessalia.

Aemonides, The proper name of a man.

Aemonius, a, um, Of Thessalia.

Aemus, or Hæmus, A kyng of Thrace, whom for his pride Iupiter turned into an hyll. It is also a great Mountayne in Thrace, in height sixe myles.

Aenaria, An Ile in the goulfe called Puteolanus.

Aenarius, A wood dedicate to Iupiter.

Aenea, A citie called after Janiculum. Also another nere to Thessalonica, builded by Aeneas.

Aeneaticus, a, um, Of that citie.

Aeneades, People of that citie.

Aeneadæ, Troians: sometyme Romaynes, taking theyr beginning of Eneas.

Aenéas, æ, A noble man of Troye, sonne to Anchises and Uenus: who after that Troye was destroyed, sayled into Italye, where Latinus was king, whose daughter Lauinia he maryed, and regned in Italye after the death of Latinus.

Aeneobarbus, The name of a Romayne so called, bicause he had a bearde as red as brasse.

Aenna, or Enna, A citie in the middest of Cilicia.
Aenos, A towne of Thrace.
Aeolia, Is a region of the Grekes in Asia, betweene Jonia and Troade. It is also a region conteyning seauen Iles, betweene Italy and Sicilie.
Aeolicus, a, um, Of Aeolia.
Aeolides, The surname of Ulysses.
Aeolis idis, The daughter or neece of Aeolus. Also a countrey neere unto Hellespont, called sometyme Mysia.
Aeolum mare, The sea toyning to Asia.
Aeolius, a, um, Of Aeolis.
Aeolus, li, The king of the Wyndes.
Aequiculi, A people of Sapyne.
Aequi, A people of Italy.
Aequiculani, A people of Italy.
Aequimelium, A place in Rome, where the house of Spurilius was ouerthrowne.
Aera, Was also a citie of Macedonia, an other of Jonia, and also of Hellespont.
Aeria, rie, A citie in Fraunce.
Aeropa, vel Aeropis, The wyfe of Atreus, wyth whome Thiestes committed aduoutrie.
Aesacus, ci, masc. generis, The sonne of Priamus by the nymph Alyxothoe. Hee was by Thetis turned into a birde called a Dydoper. It was also a ryuer by Troy.
Aesapus, pi, A Troyane. Also a riuer in Troye.
Aesar, æsaris, A ryuer in Sicilie.
Asareus, a, um, Of Aesar.
Aeserma, æ, A citie in Italy.
Aeschylus Gnidius, Ciceros maister.
Aeschylus, li, A tragicall poet of Athens.
Aeschines, is, An Orator, enemie to Demosthenes. Diogenes Laertius rehearseth seauen other notable persons of the same name.
Aesculanus deus, A God that had power to make men ryche.
Aesculapius, pij, The sonne of Apollo and Cozonis, and was called the God of Phisicke, and honoured in the fourme of a Serpent.
Aesis, A ryuer of Umbria in Italy.
Aesium, A citie of Umbria.
Aeson, Was the father of the valiaunt Jason.
Aesonides, Jason the sonne of Aeson.
Aesonius, a, um, Of Aeson.
Aesopus, pi, An auncient writer of fables. Also the name of a famous player in Tragedies.
Aesyrinus, A citie of Thrace.
Aeta, A king of Colchis, the father of Medea and Absyrtus.
Aeta, An hill in Thessaly.
Aetalia, An yle in the sea of Graue.
Aethalia. An yslande neere to Cozsica and Sardinia, and an other in the sea of Scane.
Aethialis, vel Aethialides, Preco, The sonne of Mercurie.
Aetherea, The countrey of Aethiope.
Aethices, A people of Macedonie.
Aethici, A people of Thessaly.
Aethiope, An Yland of the Occean Sea, called before Macaria.
Aethiopia. A great countrey in Affrike, conteyning two regions: the hyther and the further Aethiope. The hyther that is aboue Aegypt, hath on the North Aegypt, Marmarike, and Lybia: on the weast, the inner Lybia: on the South, the further Aethiope: on the East the redde Sea. In this countrey is the Ile Sicroe, where Saint Mathewe is reported to haue preached the gospell. The further Aethiope hath on the North, the inner Lybia, and the hither Aethiope: on the weast and South the Occean sea: on the East, the gouife called Barbaricum. In this countrey bee the Mountaynes out of which Nilus issueth.
Aethiopicus, a, um, Of Aethiope.
Aethiopissa, A woman of Aethiope.
Aethiops, The sonne of Vulcane, of whom Aethiopia was named.

Aethiops, pis, & Aethiopicus, ci, & Aethiopus, pi, A Moren.
* Aethiopem lauas, Thou washest a Moren or Moze. A prouerbe applyed to him that prayseth a thing that is naught, or teacheth a fole wysedome. This prouerbe grewe of one that bought a Moren, and thinking that the blackenesse of his skinne happened by the negligence of his first mayster: he ceased not to washe the Moren continually wyth such thinges as hee thought would make him whyte. By which labour and washing, he so vexed the poze slaue, that he brought him into a great sickenesse, his skinne remayning stil as blacke as it was before.
Aethlius, The sonne of Jupiter, and father of Endimion.
Aethon, One of the horses of Phoebus.
Aethra, æ, The daughter of Pithcus, and mother of Theseus.
Aethræa, An yle now called Rhodes.
Aethria, æ, An yle in the sea Aegeum. Also a Citie called after Itria.
Aethrusci, The olde inhabitants of the countrey in Italy, called now Tuscan.
Aethusa, An yle in the Sea of Sicilie, of some called Aegusa.
Aetius, The name of one of Alexandria, which was both a great Diatour, and a noble phisition. Also of an heretycke, which affirmed, that no sinne, were it neuer so great, should be requited to him that had faith. He succeeded immediatly after Arius, the yeare after the incarnation of Christ. 358.
Aetna, Is a marueylous hyll in Sicilie, at the foote wherof is a little towne of the same name, and woodes and trees of diuers kyndes planted. On the top thereof is a barrayne grounde, mixt with ashes, in the winter tyme couered with snowe. This conteyneth in circuite twentie furlonges, and is enuironned with a banke of ashes, of the height of a wall. In the middle is also a rounde hyll of the same colour and matter, wherein be two great holes, facioned lyke unto two cuppes, which be called Crateres. Out of these doe ryse sometyme sundzie great flames of fire: sometyme horrible smoke: sometime are blowne out burning stones in infinite numbers. Moreouer, before that the sayde fyre apparaith, there is heard within the grounde, terrible noyse and roaring. And also (which is more marueyle) when the smoke and fyre is most abundant, and feruent, yet rounde about the top of the sayde hyll, are alwayes some snowe and hoare frostes. Plynie writeth, that the fire appeareth alway at night. This hill is nowe called Gibello monte.
* Aetna athon, A prouerbe, spoken of a thing very paynefull and grieuous.
Aetus, ti, masc. gen. A kinde of Egles.
Aetolia, A region in Grece betwene Acarnania, and Phocis.
Aetolus, vel Aetolius, A man of Aetolia.
Aetolicus, a, um, Of Aetolia.
Aetanus, The sonne of Tantalus.
Aex, ægos, A rocke, wherof the sea Aegeum was named.
Aexones, A people of Attica, notable for their rayling, and foule language.

A F

Afer, A man borne in Affrike.
Affranius, A Poet.
Africa, æ, The thirde part of the worlde, wherein is Carthage, Numidie, and all the countreis now called Barbarie: and also the great countrey called Aethiopia.
* Africa semper aliquid noui apportat. A prouerbe, applyed to inconstant & wauering persons, neuer content with one state, but alwayes desirous of nouelties.
Africanæ, Is one to take for Panthers.
Africanus, i, A man of Affrike. Also the most noble Capitayne Scipio was called Africanus, because he subdued that countrey.
Affricus, & Affar, a, um, Of Affrike, or of the Southerne wynde.
* Affra auis, A byrde of Affrike. A prouerbe spoken eyther of them, which be notable for theyr straunge apparell, or else be verie fearefull and of faint courage.

A G

Aga, An hyll, out of which issueth the ryuers Araxis and Euphrates.
Agag, Is a worde of Hebrue, and may be interpreted a soldier in the vppermost part of the house. Of that name was a king of Amelech, the fatrest of all men, whome Saule king of Jewes, toke in battayle and slue him not. For which cause God was grieuously displeased with him.
Agamantes, People about Meotis.
Agamemnon, Sonne of Atreus king of Mycene, in the preparation of the Grekes against the Troyans, for his wyfedome and magnanimitie was by the consent of all the Grekes chosen to be their generall Capitayne. And according to their expectation, he most nobly gouerned himselfe, and that most puissant armie, during the siege of Troye by the space of tenne yeares. But being returned to hys owne realme, and hauing wyth him Cassandra, daughter to Priamus king of Troye: his wyfe Clitemnestra, conspiring wyth Aegistus, with whome she had lyued in aduoutrie, caused hir sayde noble husbande to put on a garment, which had no issue out for his heade: and wyppe he was struggling therewith, Aegistus strake him through with his swoorde, and so slue him. Thus that noble Prince was shamefully murdered. He was before the incarnation about 1194. yeares.
* Agamemnonis hostia, The Sacrifice of Agamemnon. A prouerbe applyed to them that be hardly perswaded to a thing, or else forced by violence.
Agamete, es, A towne of the Ile Lesbon.
Agamnestor, A king of Athenes.
Agamzua, A towne of Mede.
Agamppe, es, A Fountayne in the countrey of Grece, called Aonia, which was dedicate unto the Muses, wherof they be called Agampippides.
Agapius, A Philition of Alexandzie, and a Philosopher of Athens.
Agar, The mayden of Sara, on whome Abzaham begat Ismael.
Agareni, A people, which were all destroyed by Saule king of Jewes. Also a people of Affrike nowe called Sarasens.
Agarus, A ryuer of Sarmatia. Also a promontozie, and a citie of the same country.
Agasicles, A king of Lacedemon.
Agasus, An hauen in Pueil.
Agasyrtus, The surname of Pittachus the Philosopher.
Agatha, A citie in Pzouince, belonging sometyme to the Massilienses.
Agathaneus, Father to the sayde Polyzenus.
Agatharchides, The name of an Hystoziographer, and a Philosopher.
Agathirnum, A towne of Sicilie.
Agatho, The name of one of the sonnes of Priamus. Also a boy, whom Plato loued. Also a Philosopher of Pythagozas sect.
Agathocles, The sonne of a potter, which by subtyle wytte and boldenesse of courage, grewe by sundzye dignities, at the last to be king of Sicilie. And then became such a tyzanne, that he slue all the Nobles, the counsaylours, and learned men of Sicilie, and dispoyled all the ryche men. Finally, being attached in all the partes of hys bodie wyth incredible torments, and a pestilentiall humour fretting all his sinewes, hee continuyng long tyme in suche paynes, at the last dyed.
Agathocles, Is also the name of a Grecke Capitayne, the sonne of Lysimachus.

Agathon, A certayne mynstrell, which with his swete songs exceedingly delyghted mens eares.
Agathopolis, A citie in Fraunce called Montpelier.
Agathusa, An Yslande.
Agathyrsum, A towne in Sicilie.
Agathyrsus, One of Hercules sonnes, dwelling in a part of Scythia, who called the people after his name Agathyrsi: which in such wyse paynted themselues, that the colour might not by any meanes be washed or put away. And therefore they were called Picti Agathyrsi. Some men suppose that the auncient inhabitaunces of the south part of Scotlande, toyning to the marches of Englande, called Picti, were of the sayde people Agathyrsi.
Agaue, es, The daughter of Cadmus, which slue hir sonne Pentheus, because he contemned the drunken feastes called Bacchanalia.
Aganni, A people of the North partes of the worlde.
Agauus, One of the sonnes of Priamus.
Agbatana, The citie commonly called Egbatana or Ecbatana.
Agdistis, The Grekes feygned to be a Deuill, common of the seede of Jupiter, which fell from him when he slept, who had the members both of man and woman: of whome other Deuils being afearde, byd cut of the mans instrument, and thzue it away, whereof byd spzing an Almonde tree, and brought forth Almondes when tyme serued. It is also an hill, at the foote whereof standeth the citie Pessinus.
Agesidamus. A famous Wzestler.
Agedicum, Otherwyse called Agendium, the citie of Sens in Fraunce.
Agenor, oris, A king of Phenicia, sonne of Belus, and father of Europa (whome Jupiter rauished) and of Cadmus, who buylded the citie of Thebes. Also the sonne of Antenor.
Agenoreus, a, um, Of Agenor.
Agenorides, Cadmus, The sonne of Agenor.
Agerochus, The sonne of Neleus.
Agerona, The goddesse of industrie and diligence.
Agesias Cyrenaicus, A Philosopher, whome Ptolomeus forbad to teache in any schoole, because that in perswading the immoztalitie of the soule, hee caused manye to slea themselues.
Agesilaus, King of Lacedemonie, from his childehoode was of excellent vertues, as in truth, iustice, temperaunce, noble courage, liberalitie, and continencie. Wherfore hee was so much honoured, and prospered so well, that he subdued to the Lacedemonians innumerable cities and countreys in Asia, and Greece. When one demaunded a thing of him, which was uniust, saying, that hee had promised it: he answered: If it were iust, I promysed: if it were vniust, I spake, but I promysed it not. When the Lacedemonians had giuen vnto him the treasour of Agis, which was king before him, he incontinent dyd distribute it to them, whome he knewe poorest. When it was demaunded, why he laye no richer than a priuate personne, hee answered: a Prince ought to excell all other men in temperaunce, and moderate liuing, and not in delicacie. He spake wyth no woman, except hys wyfe, but eyther in the temple, or else before all men, thinking those two places to be voyde of suspition: the one for holynesse, the other for witnesses.
Agesinates, A people of Aquitayne.
Agesipholis, A captayne of Lacedemonie.
Aggeus, A worde of Hebrue, in English merie, foleirne, or compassing. It was the name of a Prophete, one of the twelue that prophecied in the tyme of Zorobabell, king of the Jewes about. 550. yeares before the incarnation of Christ.
Aginnum, The towne of Angolesme in Fraunce.
Agis, The sonne of Eurypstenes, and king of Lacedemonians: whome they slue because he would haue restored again the lawes of Lycurgus.
Agla, A towne in Portugale.

Aglia,

Aglaia, One of the three graces, which is interpreted brightnesse, clearnesse, beautie, pleasure, or maiestie.

Aglais, idis, The daughter of Megacles, notable for hir gluttonie.

Aglaonice, A womans name, the daughter of Hemon, a Sorceresse.

Aglaope, One of the three Mermaidens.

Aglaophron, A famous painter.

Aglauros, Was daughter to Erichtheus, king of Athens, whome Ouid feigneth to be turned (by Mercurie) into a stone.

Aglaus Psophidius, A man, which by the Oracle of Apollo, was iudged more happie, than the great king Gyges.

Agni cornu, A promontorie nere to the mouth of Nylus called Bolbiticum.

Agnicis, A ryuer running into Tigris.

Agnites, The surname of Aesculapius.

Agno, One of Iupiters nources.

Agoce, ces, The name of a Citie.

Agonax, The mayster of Sorcerie.

Agonensis porta, A gate at Rome, called also Colina.

Agonis, idis, A woman of Lilybeta.

Agonius, was named a God, which had preheminence ouer things to be done.

Agoracritus, A famous caruer or ymage maker.

Agoraus, An ymage of Mercurie, which was in Pharis a citie of Achaia, set in the middle of the market place, out of which poole the Deuill gaue answeres in forme following. Before the face of the poole was an aultar of stone, whereunto were bounden with leade, certaine Lampes of Brasse. He that came for an answeare, burned frankincense on the aulter, and made his prayers, and after pitted Opie vpon the lampes, and dyd put into the Pooles hande, a peece of brasse money of that countrie, and then secretly whispered in the Images eare: whatsoeuer he wolde demande, and forthwith, stopping his owne eares, went out of the market place, and then opened his eares, and what voyce soeuer he heard first, he tooke it for a sure counsayle in all thinges that he wolde doe.

Agragatus, A king of Persia, called after Cyrus.

Agræ, A place without the citie of Athens, dedicate to Ceres. Also a kynde of Souldiours, and a Towne of Arcadie.

Agragas, An hyll in Sicilie compassed with a wall, in the top whereof standeth a Towne, called also Agrigentum.

Agragantinus, a, um, Of Agragas.

Agrani, A great citie of Mesopotamia, destroyed by the Persians.

Agrigentinus, a, um, Of the towne of Agrigentine.

Agrigentum, ti, A Citie in Sicilie, which the Grekes doe call Acragaritem, and the countrie Acragen. The people there buylded sumptuously, and fedde delicatly. And therefore Plato sayde of them in bourde: The Agrigentines did buylde as they shoulde lyue euer, and did eate as they shoulde alwaye dye. Of this citie was Prince Phalaris, the most cruell tyranne. Of whome shall be spoken in the letter P.

Agrij, A people called also Cynamolgi.

Agriophagi, A people in the weast part of Ethiope, which lyue onelye by the flesh of Panthers, and Lyons.

Agripenses, A people of Bythinia.

Agrippa, æ, The name of sundrye kinges: of whome one most excellent, the sonne of Brutobolus, was by Tiberius the Emperour, cast in prysone, and afterwarde deliuered by Caligula, who made him king of Iewes, setting a crowne of Golde on his heade, and for his chayne of yron, gaue him a chayne of Golde of the same weight. And being returned into his countrey, at the first he lyued honourably, and did many good deedes: But at the last, being elenate in pryde, and suffering himselfe to be honoured and wondered at as a God, he was sodenly stricken by an Aungell, in the presence of an infinite number of people: wherewith his bodye swelled, and wormes issued out thereof, wyth intolerable paynes, and horrible grenche. In the which torments he lyued vpon his flattering Counsaylours and seruauntes, and sayde: Lo, I, whome you called a God, am now in the paynes of death. And in this wyse he dyed, being of age, lxij. yeares.

Agrippias, adis, A citie called before Anthedon.

Agrippina, Daughter of noble Germanicus, sister to Caligula (and by him abused) was first maryed to Domitius, by whome she had Nero. After the death of Domitius, she was maryed to Claudius, whome, with his sonne Britannicus, she poysoned, to the intent to make hir sonne Nero Emperour. But hir falshode, abhomination, and crueltie, was not vnpunished. For some after, hir owne sonne Nero, notwithstanding that he ioyned hir with him in equall authoritie, and (as some men suppose) abused hir carnally, hauing hir in most mortall hate, caused hir to be most cruelly slayne.

Agrippina, Mother to the sayde Agrippina, was daughter of Mr. Agrippa, and wife to Germanicus, whome Tiberius, by the commandement of Octauian, had declared to be his heyre apparant to the Empyre. And notwithstanding, was after poysoned by consent of Tiberius. For whose death the sayde Agrippina take such heauinesse, that she determined to dye by abstenyng from meate. And although the Emperour caused meate to be put into hir throte, she would not receyue it, but in that voluntarie abstinence finally dyed.

Agrippina Colonia, The Citie of Colepne in Germanie.

Agrius, The neuew of Mars. Also the sonne of Ulysses by Circe.

Agron, A king of Illiria. Also a famous Philition of Athens.

Aguntij, People of Aguntum.

Aguntum, A towne in Sicilie.

Agurium, lake Agyrini.

Agycus, The surname of Apollo.

Agylla, A towne of Tuscane, called after Cære.

Agylleus, A wrestler, exceeding great of bodie.

Agyrini, seu Agyrienses, People of the Citie in Sicilie called Agurium, seu Agyrium.

A H

Aherna, A citie of Hertruria.

A I

Aiax, (The sonne of Thelamon by Hesione, daughter of Laomedon king of Troy) was the strongest man of all the Grekes next to Achilles: but after Achilles was slayne, Aiax contending with Ulysses for Achilles armour, and Ulysses by force of eloquence, obteyning sentence on his part, became madde. And in this furye slue many beastes, supposing them to bee Ulysses and his companie. There was also an other Aiax, sonne of Oileus, king of Locrenses in Grece, wonderfull swifte, and expert in handling a speare. This man when Troy was sacked, did violate the noble virgin Cassandra, in the temple of Pallas. Wherefore, as he returned homeward, on the sea, he and his shipes were burned wyth lyghtning. Hee was before the incarnation. 1190. yeares.

Ailoth, Was a Citie in Judea, buylded by Ozias, king of Iewes.

Aioth, The second Iudge of the Hebrues: A bigge man, and baliaunt of courage, and had equall strength and aptnesse in both handes: of this man reade in the booke of kings.

A L

Alaba, bæ, A Citie of Spaine.

Alabanda, dæ, A Citie in Grece, in the Countrey of Ionia.

Alabandes, & Alabandici, People of Alabanda.

Alabandicus, & Alabandiacus, a, um, of the citie Alabanda.

Alabenses, vel Alabonenses, People of the citie of Alaba.

Alabys, One of the chiefest riuers of Sicilie.

Alachroæ.

Alachroæ, A people called also Lotophagi.

Alaci, A towne of Affrike.

Alæ, arum, A citie of Cilicia.

Alæsa, A towne of Sicilie.

Alaleomenium, A towne of Boeotia.

Alalia, A citie of the plande of Cyrnus.

Alanitcus, A gouife of the red sea.

Alana, A citie of Ethiope.

Alani, People of Scithia, nigh to the ryuer Ister or Danubius.

Alania, A region of Scythia in Europe, which stretcheth to the great fennes of Meotis.

Alante, A citie of Archadie, another of Macedonie.

Alanus, The Riuer of Scithia, whereof the people called Alani, take their name.

Alapeni, A people of Arabie.

Alaricus, King of Gothes, besieged Rome, and burned it, in the yeare of our Lorde. 408. In which siege such famine was in the citie, that the mothers were costrened with hunger to eate their owne children. There was also another Alaricus, which was banquished by Clodoueus king of Fraunce, the yeere of our Lord. 510. In whose tyme the part of Fraunce, called Gallia Narbonensis, and all Spayne, were in the possession of the Gothes.

Alastor, One of the horses of Pluto. Also the name of a companion of Sarpedon, king of Lycia, whome Ulisses slue at the siege of Troye.

Alata, tæ, A citie of Arabie.

Alatium, A towne of Hierapolis, called also Elatium.

Alatrium, A citie of Campaine.

Alatrinates, A people of Campaine.

Alata castra, A citie in Scotlande, called Edenburgh, or the castell of Maydens.

Alauna, A towne in Bryttaine.

Alauni, Two ryuers in Bryttaine.

Alaunij, A people in Scythia.

Alauorsi, People of the vttermost part of the North.

Alazon, onis, A ruer that deuideth Albania from Iberia, and runneth into the ryuer Cyrus.

Alba, bæ, A citie nigh to Rome, which was buylded by Ascanius, sonne of Eneas. There was another citie in Lumbardie called Alba. In Spayne an other called Virgao. Alba is also a ryuer in Spayne.

Alba Aemilius, A mans name.

Alba Heluorum, A citie of Narbon in Fraunce.

Albana, A citie in Arabie.

Albanenses, were certayne heretikes, in the yeare of our Lorde, 1120. This sect helde sundrye hereties. One was, that ỹ soule of man after his death, was put into an other bodie. An other, ỹ baptisme was of none efficacie. The thirde, that there were two Gods, one good, and another euill. And that of the good God, proceeded good things, and of the euil God, euill thinges. The fourth, that in hell were none other paynes than bee in this worlde. The fift that the generall iudgement is past. The sixt, that it is not lawefull for anye man to sweare. The seuenth, that man hath no freewill, called in latine Liberum arbitrium. The eight, that the matter whereof the worlde was made, was not made of God, but is coeternall with God. The ninth, that there is no originall sinne, and that children be not borne in originall sinne. Also that sinne commeth not of freewill, but of the Deuill. The tenth, they denyed, that the bodye shoulde ryse: Some arise at the date of iudgement. The eleuenth, they abiected all the olde testament as a vaine thing, and of none authoritie.

Albani, People of Alba in Italy.

Albania, Is a country in Asia, hauing on the east the Sea Caspium: on the west Iberia: on the north the hilles Caucasus. The people there were first poore and simple and as shepeperdes: not hauing knowledge of money, nor of any number aboue one hundred. Vsing by exchaunge, not knowing weight, measure nor husbandry, and yet ready in warres. They honoured for gods the Sunne and the Moone, hauing among them (as Strabo wryteth) xxvj. languages, and as many kinges. Of these people are supposed to come the Albanoises, that dwell in Morea, sometime called Peloponesus, which be now vnder the Turkes, or vnder the great Cane.

Albanus, A ryuer, and hyll not farre from the citie of Rome. Also the name of two cities, one in Macedonia, the other in Armenia.

Albanus, a, um, Of Albanie in Italy.

Albani patres, The senatours of Alba.

Alba Pompeia, A citye in Italy.

Albatenius, A learned man, that translated Galene into the Arabian tongue.

Albenses, People of Alba in Lumbardie.

Albi montes, A place in the ile of Candie, where it neuer rayneth.

Albia, A ruer that passeth through the Realme of Boemia.

Albici, A people nere to Massilia.

Albigenses, were heretikes, which began by Tolouse in Fraunce, the yeare of our Lord, a hundred and twentie which held the heresies of the Albanenses, touching the soule, Baptisme, God, and the generall resurrection. Moreouer, that it was not lawfull for Christian men to eate flesh.

Albiminium, A citie of Liguria, called now Vintimia.

Albinga, A towne in Liguria, called in olde time Albigaunum.

Albinus, The name of an Emperour. Also the surname of diuers Romaynes.

Albion, and Bergion, (Two Gyants, the sonnes of Neptune, slaine by Hercules.

Albion, (The most auncient name of this Ile) conteyneth Englande and Scotlande: of the beginning of which name hath bene sundrie opinions: one late reigned by him, which first printed the English Chronicle wherin is neyther similitude of troth, reason, nor honestie: I meane the fable of the fifte daughters of one Diocletian king of Syria, where neuer any other bystorie maketh mention of a king of Syria, so named. Also that name is Greke, and no part of the language of Syria. Moreouer, the coming of them from Syria in a hyp or boat without any mariners thorow the sea called Mediterraneum, into the Ocean, and so finally to finde thys Ile, and to inhabite it, and haue generation by decaie, is both impossible, and much reproche for thys noble Realme, to scribe hir first name & habitation, to such inuentours. In other opinion is (which hath a more honest similitude) that it was named Albion, ab albis rupibus, of whyte rockes, because that vnto them, that come by sea, from the east or south, the banks and rockes of this Ile doe appeare whyte. Of this opinion haue I most mervaple, because it is written of great learned men. First Albion is no latin woyde, nor hath the analogie, that is to say, the proporcion or similitude of latin. For who hath founde this sillable, on, at the end of a latin woyde? And if it shoulde haue bene so called for the whyte colour of the rockes, men shoulde haue called it Alba, or Albus, or Album. In Italye were townes called Alba, and in Asia a countrey called Albania, and neyther of them toke their beginning of whyte rockes or walles, as ye maye reade in bookes of Cosmographye: nor the water of the ryuer called Albis, semeth anye whyter than other water. But if where auncient remembrace of the beginning of things lacketh, it may be lefull for men to vse their coniectures, than may mine be as well accepted as Plinies (although he incomparably excelled me in Wisedome and learning) hereafter if it maye appeare, that my coniectures shall approch more neere to the similitude of truth. Wherefore I will also set forth mine opinion, onely to the intent to exclude fables, lacking eyther honestie or reasonable similitudes. When the Grekes beganne first to prosper, and their Cities became populous, and waxed puyssaunt, they which trauayled on the seas, and also the Iles in the seas, called Helespontus, Aegeum, and Creticum, after that that they knewe perfectly the course of sayling, and had rounded therby myghte, they by little and little attempted to search and find out the commodities of outwarde countries: and lyke as Spaniardes and Portugalles haue late done, they experienced to seke out countryes before vnknowne. And at last passing the streites of Marrocke, they entred into the great Occean Sea, where they founde dyuers and many Iles. Among which, they perceyuing this Ile to bee not onelye the greatest in circuite, but also most plenteous of euerye thing necessarie to man, the ayre most wholesome and temperate, the earth most apt to bring forth all things that maye sustayne, the fleshe of beastes and muttons, most sweete and delicate, the woll most fine, not lacking any kinde of mettall, hauing aboundaunce of wood and timber to build with, also great and fayre ryuers, with great lakes or meres of freshe water, and as well in them as in the sea, wherewith the countrie is enuironed, was great plentie of fishes, of diuers sortes most apt to be eaten: they wondering and reioysing at their good and fortunate arriuall, named this Ile in Greeke Olbion, which in English signifieth happie, in Latine Felix, like as part of Arabia, which is most fertile, is called Arabia Foelix. But in processe of time, by reason of sundrie people hauing diuers languages, no meruayle though one letter were chaunged, and the first letter O, turned into A. And so for Olbion, it was at the last called Albion, which worde hath no maner of signification. This chaunging of letters is not vnlikely, since at this present tyme the northerne men of this realme doe vse A, in wordes, where southren men vse O, as a bone, a stane, a bare, a band: for a bone, a stone, a bore, a bond. And among the Greekes were like alterations of letters. And it maye be more easily borne, that one bowell maye be chaunged in a worde, and specially A, into O, which in some mans mouth, soundeth oftentimes like, than that a sillable impertinent to the proportion of latine, shoulde be vnaptly added to. Notwithstanding Pomponius Mela maketh mention of a Gyaunt called Albion, whome Hercules slue in Gallia, which was sonne of Neptunus, who nought withmore reason bee deemed the first giuer of this name to this Ile, than that the other surmises shoulde be lykely. If any man can finde matter more certayne, concerning the begynning of this Ile, I will not be offended, but congratulate with him his good fortune and diligence.

Albis, A riuer in Boemia, which commeth to the Citie of Sraag. It is also a ryuer in Germany.

Albium, A towne of Lumbardie.

Albius Tibullus, A Poet.

Albocilla, A womans name.

Albula. The olde name of the ryuer Tyber. Also a water in the field Tiburtinus, which was medicinable for loze eyes.

Album, A promontorie of Phœnicia, And another of Affricke.

Albunea, A wood and fountayne by the ryuer called Anio, in Italy. It is also the name of the tenth Sybill.

Alcæus, A famous Poet, of them, which are called Lyrici, (because they made songs to the harpe.) He was before the incarnation of Christ, 646. yeares. In Athens was another Poet of the same name. Alcæus was also the name of Nicmenas sonne, called after, Hercules. Also the father of Amphytrio. And furthermore, the sonne of Omphale and Hercules.

Alcamenes, A famous carue, or Image maker.

Alcander, One of the compaignions of Serpedon king of Lycia, slayne by Ulysses at the siege of Troye.

Alcanor, A mans name in Virgile.

Alcathoe, The Citie called also Megara.

Alcathous, The sonne of Pelops, who beyng suspected of the murther of his brother, fled to Megara.

Alce, Is the name of a Citie in Spayne, of an harlot, and of one of the hounds of Acteon.

Alcenor, A certayne Grecian.

Alces, Is a ryuer in Bithinia.

Alceste, seu Alcestis, vide Admetus.

Alcetas, The sonne of Tharipus.

Alceres, The sonne of Trymba, and king of Epyre, which for his tyrannie was slayne, with all his children.

Alchidas, One of the Rhodes, which was enamoured on the picture of Cupido, that was made by Praxiteles.

Alchione, An hyll of Macedonie.

Alchippe, A towne of the Persiens.

Alcibiades, vide Alcybiades.

Alcida, Was a terrible monster, which was slayne by Pallas.

Alcidamas, A famous wrestler. Also a Philosopher which wrote of musicke.

Alcidamus, An auncient Oratour of the Greekes.

Aldes, idem quod Hercules, So called of his graundfather Alcæus.

Alcimachus, A famous paynter.

Alcimedi, The daughter of Phylachus. Also the wyfe of Ieson, and mother of Jason.

Alcimedas, A tragicall Poet of Megaris.

Alcimedon, A cunning grauer.

Alcimus, A famous oratoz of Greece. Also a king of Lydia, for his excellencie and iustice greatly renowmed.

Alcinous, A king of a people called Phæaces, excellent in iustice, which had a fayre and magnifike Pallayce, with Orchardes that bare most plenteouslye fruites twyse in the yere. There was another of the same name, disciple of Plato.

*Alcinoi apologus. A prouerbe applyed to long tolde tales worthie no beliefe or credence.

Alcion, A Physition.

Alciphron, A Philosopher.

Alcippe, The daughter of Mars. Also another woman that brought forth an Olyphant. Also a woman mentioned in Theocritus.

Alcippus, A noble man of Sparta, which throughe enuie of lewde persons was banished the Citie.

Alcisthene, A woman very cunning in painting.

Alcithoe, A woman of Thebes, which for contemning the feastes of Bacchus, with hir sisters and other maydens, was turned into Battes or Ueremise.

Alcman, A famous Poet.

Alcmenes, A cunning grauer, or a maker of Images.

Alcmena, The daughter of Electrio, and wife to Amphytrio, on whome Jupiter begat Hercules.

Alcmeon, A Philosopher, scholer to Phithagoras, that first wrote of the nature of thinges. Also the sonne of Amphiaraus, and Eriphile, which slewe his mother, & therefore was vexed with Furies.

Alcon, Was a good archer of Creta, which beholding a Dragon readie to deuoure his sonne, did shoote so craftily, that as the Dragon was embracing the childe, the arrowe passed into his heart, and hurted not the childe, so that the Dragon immediately dyed. It was also the name of a Goldsmyth.

Alcybiades (A noble man of Athens, commen of the blood of Aiax Telamonius) in beauty, goodly personage, actiuitie, prowesse, eloquence, and sharpenesse of wit, excelled all men of his tyme. Insomuch, that into what country soeuer he came, he so adapted himselfe to the maners therof, that he was euerye where wonderfully beloued and honoured, speciallye of the wise man Socrates, who most entirely loued him. But with those most excellent qualities were ioyned sundry vices: That is to saye, intemperate and dissolute liuing in lecherye and ryote, deceyt, and inconstancie: so that all men meruayled, that in one man mought be such diuers natures. He atchieued many great enterpriles, as well for his countrye, as against it. Finallye, he was banished by the meane of Lysander king of Lacedemonia. And being in Phrygia, the house wherein he laye, was of purpose set on fire, which he escaped: & being halfe naked, valiantly defending himselfe against his enimies, at the last was slayne, and his heade brought to Pharnabazus, capitaine of the Persians. He flourished before the incarnation of Christ, 428. yeares.

Alcyone

Alcyone, The name of two Ladies, the one was wyfe to Ceyx, who seeing the bodie of hir husband cast on land, threw hirselfe into the sea, whome the Poetes feigne to be turned into a bryde of that name. The other was daughter to Eneue, called also Marpesia.

Alcyoneus, The name of a gyant.

Aldara, A citie in Spaine now called Almeria.

Aldualdubis, A countrie in Fraunce called Leodoun.

Alea, Is a citie of Arcadie.

Aleas, A king of Larissa in Thessaly, which for his tyrannie was slayne of the people.

Alebecerij, People of Narbon in Fraunce.

Alectryon, A capitayne of King Philips.

Alegenor, One of the foure sonnes of Boethus.

Alele, A citie of the Phazanians.

Alemanni, People of Germanie, called Almaines.

Alemannia, The countrie of Almaine.

Alemannus, ni, a riuer in Germanie.

Alemusij, People of Attica.

Aleon, A riuer.

Aleopetra, An Ile in Meotis.

Alesium, A towne in Boœa, buylded by Ulesius. It is also a fielde in Epyre, and a sea, a riuer, and a Promontorie.

Alesius, An hill of Arcadie.

Aletes, A man of Corinth.

Alethes, The name of a Troian.

Aleuni, The Salentines.

Alerrinates, A people of Italy.

Aleum, ti, A towne of the Salantines in Italy.

Aleus, the sonne of Apindas, which buylded the temple of Minerua at Tegea in Archadie.

Aleus, a, um, The adiectiue.

Alexamenus, The sleare of Tabis the Tyraunt of Lacedemonia.

Alexander, The name of many noble princes, but among other, one most excellent, the sonne of Philip king of Macedonie, who in his childehode was brought vp by Aristotle in learning, wherein he profited wonderfully, and was of such courage, that after the death of Philip his father, being but. xx. yeares olde, he enterprised to conquer all the worlde. And first gat Illyria, now called Slauonia: And after subuerted the citie of Thebes, brought in subiection all Greece, entred into Asia, and vanquished the great and puissaunt Darius king of Persia, and had his mother, his wife, and daughter prisoners, and neuer would company with any of them, notwithstanding they were exceeding fayre and beautifull. Finally, he conquered India, and all the east part of the world. And all this did he in little more than xii. yeares. But when he had pacified the worlde from all rebellions, he fell into such crueltie & pride (leeping his most trustie counsaylours in his furie, and commaunding himselfe to be called a God) that he became odious to his owne people: who desiring his destruction, at the last when he was in his most glory at the Citie of Babylon (where he abode the Imbassadours from all realmes) at supper with one of his phisitions, was poysoned by drinking out of a cup, which was supposed to be made of an horses hoofe, and was thought to bee done by the deuice of Aristotle, sometyme his mayster, and Antipater his lieutenant in Macedonia, whome a little before he had grieuously threatned. Thus Alexander, abounding in excellent vertues & notable vices, after most happie fortune, by his outragious pride and crueltie, shortned his life, being at his death little aboue xxxij. yeares olde, which was afore the incarnation of Christ, 322. yeares.

Alexander Seuerus, was emperour of Rome, the yeare of our Lord. 224. A man from his childehode of wonderfull grauitie & prudence. For where the citie of Rome was before brought by his cosin the monstruous Emperour Heliogabalus, into all abhomination of liuing and dissolution of maners: he by his vertue, prudence, and iustice, reduced it vnto a perfect publike weale, reformed the order of his armie, established lawes, reformed honestie, expelled vicious persons and byl-tours, aduaunced men of vertue and learning to great offices and dignities, reuiued the Senate, prepared also a great and noble counsaylie about his person, and so hated corrupted iudges, that he did not onely put them to torments, but when any came in his presence, was readie with his two fingers to put out their eyes. And yet this noble and gentle prince, by the false treason of one Maximinus, whome of a muletter he had made a great captayne, was in a sedaine commotion slayne of his owne people at Maguntia in Germanie, with his mother Mammea, a wyse Lady and a vertuous. Some suppose it was, because that by hir counsayle, he became auaritious, and was not so liberall as he and other Emperours had bene before.

Alexandra, Called also Cassandra, the daughter of Priamus. Also the wife of Alexander a king of the Iewes.

Alexandria, The name of diuers Cities, one in Egypt, buylded by the great Alexander, 320. yeares before the incarnation of Christ, in the space of. xxv. dayes, although it contayned within the Walles sixe myles in length. It was made in the forme of a mantel, deuyded with two hyghe wayes, one crossing ouer the other for easie conueying of carrage euery way, being in breadth 100. foote. Which wayes laye in such wyse, that the wholesome windes blew abundantly in the citie. This citie was set betweene the sennes of Nilus, and the sea, nigh vnto the noble hauen Pharus. In this citie euery king of Aegypt after Alexander, buylded a royall palace, whereby it shewed so beautifull and magnificent, that the lyke was not in the worlde. Many excellent and learned men were borne, and brought vp in that citie, as Philo the Iewe, Origenes, Clemens, Antoninus, Didimus, Maximus, Theophilus, and Athanasius were there Bishops. S. Marke the Euangelist preached there, and was obeyned bishop by the Apostles. It was destroyed by the Romaines, and rebuilded by Traianus the Emperour. Afterwarde the yeare of our Lord. 230. Peter brother to the king of Cyprus, with certayne Frenchemen and Catalones, efsones destroyed and robbed it, so that to this day it was neuer reduced vnto the first estate. Nowe is it in subiection to the Turkes. There is an other Citie called Alexandria in Lumbardie, an other in Asia, and an other in Scythia.

Alexandrinus, a, um, Of Alexandria.

Alexandrium, A citie in Iurie.

Alexandropolis, A Citie of Barthia, buylded by great Alexander.

Alexia, A citie in Fraunce, now called Leulleis in Burgoyn. Also the towne called Treas in the Countrye of Troys.

Alexis, A comicall Poet. Also a famous caruer. It was the name of Pollios seruaunt, of whome Virgile speaketh.

Alexius, The name of two emperours of Constantinople. Also there was one Alexius, the sonne of Ephemianus a noble senatour of Rome, who hauing a wife of excellent beautie for the loue of God left hir, and secretlye went sundrie pilgrimages in the habit of a poore man. And after much patience and long pouertie, returned to his fathers house, being there vnknowne till after his death that he was discloled by a letter which was founde in his hand. He his burying God shewed many wonderfull myracles. Ihon being present Honorius and Arcadius, Emperours of Rome, the yeare of our Lorde. 410.

Algarbe, A part of the kingdome of Portugal, and is called Caput S. Vincentij, or Funfter Berne, the vttermost part of all the lande: it was once called Colimbrica.

Algidensis, se. Of the citie called Algidum.

Algidum, A citie in Italy situate on an high hill.

Algidus, A mountayne xii. myles from Rome.

Algida silua, A wood at the foot of that mountayne.

Alia, vel Allia, A ryuer not farre from Rome. Where the hoil of the Romaynes was vtterly destroied by Brennus.

nus, who (we say) was a Briton, sonne to Molmitius, king of this Realme.
Alen, Iles in the sea of Aethiope.
Alartum, A towne of Boeotia.
Alastra, A towne called also Alindra.
Alba, A citie of the Sammites.
Alphani, vel Albani. People of Aliphe.
Aliphe, es, A citie of Campania and also of Acerra, which the ryuer Clanius oft enbonageth.
Alphirei, People of Arcadia.
Alsita, A citie of the Ilande Corsica, called at this daye Amassa.
Allante, tes, vel Allas, lantis, A towne of Macedonie, & of Arcadie, called also Alantium, and Allanteum, and the people Allantenses.
Allobroges, People of Sauoy and Daulphiny.
Allorriges, A people of Spayne.
Almedessos, A towne of Thrace.
Almo, almonis, masculine. A ryuer neere to Rome, where the priests of Cybele vsed to wash them, when they had done their bloudie sacrifice. It is also the name of a man, and of a towne in Cheshire.
Almopia, Part of Macedonie.
Almops, opis, A Gygant, the sonne of Neptune and Damantis: of whome the Countrey of Almopia was named.
Almus, mi, The sonne of Silyphius.
Alocus, Was the name of a Gygant, sonne of Titan, on whose wyfe Neptune begat two sonnes Oetus and Ephialtes, which were called also Aloidæ, and were great gygants.
Alogiani, were heretikes, which denyed, that the sonne of God was Logos, which some doe interpreate into latin Verbum, some Sermo. And therefore they reiected the Gospell of Saint John, and his Apocalipsis, saying, that they were not his wozks.
Alonæ, A citie of Spaine, called commonly Alicante.
Alone, In Ilande.
Alonesus, The name of a Citie, and of an Ilande.
Aloni, A people of Asia, neere to whome the ryuer Zerbis, runneth into Tigris.
Alontigiceli, A people of Spayne.
Alontium, or Aluntium, A towne of Sicilie.
Alope, The daughter of Cercion, after whome a Citie in Thessalie was so called.
Alopece, In Ilande in Pontus Euxinus.
Alopeconesus, A Citie in Asia, and after some an Ilande and a Citie of Hellespont.
Aloros, A citie of Macedonie.
Alostigi, A people of Spayne.
Alpes, pium, pibus, fœm.gen. The Mountaynes, which depart Italy and Fraunce.
Alpesa, A towne in Spayne.
Alphenus, A Coblers name in Horace.
Alpheias, The name of Arethusa, daughter of Alpheus.
Alphesibœa, The daughter of the ryuer Phlægeus, whome Alemeon toke to wyfe.
Alpheus, A ryuer of Achaia, by the citie of Pisa. Also the name of a Mountayne.
Alpheus, a, um, Of that ryuer.
Alphion, A lake or meere in Pyrrhea.
Alphionia, The Temple [illegible] and a wode at the mouth of the ryuer Aspheus.
Alphito, A womans name.
Alcellus, The surname of Romulus, the first founder of Rome.
Alcæa, Is the daughter of Thestius, and wyfe of Meneus king of Calydonia, which repenting the slaughter of hir sonne Meleager, slue hir selfe.
Alulia, A towne in Lumbardie, called at this day Alciola.
Alinates, People of Alinum.
Alinum, An olde citie by the riuer of Venice, called nowe Torcello.
Aluerni, A certayne people of Aquitaine, hauing their beginning of the Troyans.
Alyacmon, A riuer of Macedonie.

Alyattes, The father of king Crœsus.
Alyba, A countrie not farre from Mysia, where (as Homerus doth wryte) were mynes of siluer.
Alysius, The name of Bacchus.
Alysonij, A people of Scythia.
Alyssos, or Alyssus, A well of Archadie, the water whereof healeth them that be bitten with mad dogges.
Alyxathoe, The daughter of Dymas.
Alyzia, A citie of Acarnania, xb. furlongs from the sea.

A M

Amadoca, A Citie of Sarmatia in Europe.
Amadoci, Certayn hilles. Also people of the same country.
Amæa, A name of Ceres.
Amalchium, A part of the Occean sea towarde the North.
Amelech, A wozde of Hebzue, which may be interpreted, a people lycking or striking. It was the name of a king of Siria, which resisted the people of Israell, when they came out of Egypt, and slue many of them. Wherfore he was afterwarde slayne by the commaundement of God. It is somtime taken for the Countrie, whereof Amalec was king.
Amalecitæ, The people of Amalec, whom God commaunded Saule to destroy vtterly. And bycause he did not, he was reiected of God.
Amalthea, A woman, which with hir sister called Melissa, nourished Jupiter with the milke of a Goate. It is also the name of Prophetesse.
Aman, A name of Hebzue, which signifieth troubling or murmuring. Of that name was one of the house of Agag, whome Assuerus king of Persia, and Medea, exalted aboue all his lozdes and counsaylers, and willed all thinges to be done as they wouldc commaunde. Of whose pride and punishment ye may reade in the buke of Hester.
Amanicæ pilæ, The streights or entries of the mountayne Amanus.
Amanoides, A promontozie in Cilicia.
Amantes, A people of Hungarie.
Amanthes, After Calepine, but moze verily Hammanienses, People of Aphziche, in the furthermost part of Aethiope, who haue such plentie of pretious stones, and salt, that thereof they make great houses. Among them is founde the Carbuncle.
Amantia, A citie of Macedonie.
Amanum, An hauen in the higher Spayne.
Amanus, A mans name. Also one of the Persians Gods, and a part of the mountayne Taurus, neere to Cilicia.
Amara, A citie in Arabia foelix.
Amaracus, was the name of a pong man, which (as Poetes feygne) was turned into that herbe.
Amaramis, The father of Mopsus.
Amaranthi, People of the countrie of Colchos, wherein was a theape that bare the golden fleece.
Amarbi, People in the Occean sea by Scythia.
Amardi, People of Hircania,
Amardus, A ruer of Mede.
Amariacæ, A people neere to Hircania.
Amarispus, A ryuer, reade Arispus.
Amarni, People neere to the Hircancs.
Amarusia, æ, fœm.gen. The name of Diana among the Athenienses.
Amarynthus, thi, m.gen. A riuer that bounderh vpon Archadie. Also a towne in Euboea.
Amasa, A name of Hebzue, signifieth the people that spareth, or lifting vp the people. It was the name of a noble man, sonne of Abigael, sister to Dauid. Also a Capitayne, whome Joab slue, in killing and saluting him, vnder the colour of friendship.
Amasenus, ni, m.g. A riuer in Italie. In other in Sicilie.
Amasia, A citie in Germanie called Marburge. Also a riuer betweene Rheine and Albis.
Amasias, (A name of Hebzue) signifieth the strength of the Lozde. Of that name was one king of Judea, sonne of Joas. 853. yeares before the incarnation of Christ, he reigned. 29. yeares. A man very eloquent, and at the beginning beginning of his reigne, of much humanitie towarde all men, and obserued competently the commaundements of God. But yet he did not vtterly take away Idolatrie. He was long time fortunate, and waxed ryche: but at last he forgat God, and became prowde: and not contented with his estate, he wrote vnto Joas, king of the Israelites, commaunding him and his people to be vnder his subiection. But Joas after defiance, gathered an armie, and went against Amasias, among whose men fell such a sodaine feare, that, all trembling, they fled ere euer they came to strokes. Amasias was taken and brought to Joas, who threatned to kill hym, except he caused the gates of Jerusalem to be opened against him, which was done. Notwithstanding Joas caused. 400. cubites of the wall to be beaten downe, and entred into the city that way in a Chariot, leading Amasias with him as a prisoner, and toke all the treasure of the Temple, and of the kinges house, and caused it to be brought into Samaria. Afterward, being deliuered, his owne people slue hym.

Amasis, A noble king of Egypt: he made a lawe, that euery peare eche man should make a reckoning to the head officers of his realme, howe and by what occupation he liued, and he that did not so, should be put to death.
Amianus, or Amilius, The ryuer in Germanie commonlye called Emis.
Amalli, People about Mœotis.
Amastris, The principall citie of Paphlagonia. Also an other in Bithynia, called commonly Sopastro.
Amata, The wyfe of a king of Latines, and sister of the Goddesse Venilia. Also the name of a virgin Vestale, when they were first admitted.
Amatæ, People of Indie.
Amatæi, People of Arabie.
Amath, The sonne of Chanaan.
Amathuntæus, and Amathusiacus, a, um, Of or perteyning to the Citie Amathus.
Amathus, untis, A citie in Cyprus dedicate to Venus, of the which that Ilande was called Amathusia.
Amathus, thi, A ryuer running by the citie Pylos, where Nestor was borne. It is also the father of Aerias, which builded the temple of Venus in Cyprus.
Amathusia, The Ile of Cyprus.
Amaxia, A citie of Cilicia.
Amaxitos, A citie of Dozis.
Amaxitus, A citie of Phrygia.
Amaxobij, People of Sarmatia, so called of waines, which they vsed in stede of houses.
Amazones, wome of Scythia, which wanne a great part of Asia. They slue all the men children, and kept the women children, of whome they burned the right pap, because it should not let them to throw their Iauelins, or to shute. For their beginning and factions, reade Iustine. Amazones, be sometime taken for poore people that liue barely.
Amazonicus, a, um, Pertaining to the Amazones.
Amazonicus, ci, A country called after Cesaria. It is also the name of the mountaine Taurus.
Amazonides, idem quod Amazones.
Amazonius, a, um, idem quod Amazonicus.
Amazonius, nij, An hill in Cappadocia, whereby runneth the ryuer Thermodon.
Ambantæ, People of Asia.
Ambarri, People of the country of Lyons in Fraunce.
Ambasle, A people of Asia.
Ambastium, A ryuer in Asia.
Ambe, es, A citie in Arabie.
Ambiani, seu Ambienses, People in Fraunce about Languedok called Amboise, some suppose it to be Amiens.
Ambigatus, A king of the Galles, which sent his two nephewes, Bellouesus and Sigouesus, to seeke aduentures in straunge Countryes.
Ambilates, People in little Britaine, called Darenchis.
Ambracia, A citie in Epyre, in a countrey, wherof the people be called Thesproti. This citie was first called Eponia, and Paralia. Of thys Citie was named a goulfe or bodome called Sinus Ambracienſis, which is as well by nature as by arte, made wonderfull strong, hauing a double wall, and inclosed on both sides with fennes, hauing none entrie, but one narrow way.

Ambracienses, and Ambraciotæ, People of Ambracia.
Ambratius, a, um, Of Ambracia.
Ambrosius, sij, m.gen. The name of diuers men: of which one most excellent, was bishop of Millaine, the yeare of our Lozde. 373. a Romaine borne of a noble and auncient house, and had bene Consull. As this man (being sent by Valentinianus the Emperour to Millaine, to pacifie a sedition) perswaded the people to concorde: sodenely the voyce of an infant was heard of all men, which cryed: Ambrosius is worthy to be bishop: which voyce so feruently sygred the people, that they all consented to make hym their Bishop, notwithstanding he was not yet baptised, but newelye instructed in the faith. And though he instantly refused, they compelled him to take it vpon him. And forthwith all the people of Lumbardie agreed in one opinion of the faith. He was of such holines, such gentelenes, such excellent wisdome and learning, that not onely in his tyme, but also after his death, he was throughout the worlde, had in honour and reuerence. A rare fozme of election, and as rare a thing it is to finde a bishop or priest of Ambrosius qualities, although he were halfe a papmme, and a temporal man when he was choosen bishop: wherat they may be ashamed, that be chyefelyest in their infancie, and xx. yeares or more priestes, ere they be Bishops, and yet some not worthie to occupie that reuerende office.
Ambrysus, The name of two cities, the one in Phocis, the other in Boeotia.
Ambuariti, A people of a part of Wasband.
Ambulatri, A people of Guian in Fraunce.
Amelas, A towne of Lycia.
Amelius, A philosopher, the disciple of Plotine, and mayster of Porphyrius.
Ameria, An olde citie in Italy.
America, A countrye late founde in the west part of the worlde by Americus Vesputius, the yeare of oure Lozde. 1477.
Amerinus, a, um, Of Ameria.
Ameriola, A city in Italy.
Amestratini, People of Sicilie.
Amicena, A country of Cappadotia.
Amilcar, The name of two noble capitaines of Carthage, one in great Alexanders time, the other Annibals father.
Aminçum, Called also Salernum, a towne of Campaine in Italy.
Amipsias, A comicall poet of Athens.
Amisus, A towne of Galatia.
Amiternini, The Sabines.
Amiternum, ni, A towne in Campania, where Sallust was borne, nowe called Aquila.
Amiternus, a, um, Of that towne.
Amithaon, The father of Melampus.
Amithoscita, A countrye in Arabie.
Amitinenses, A people of Italy.
Ammanethus, An Ilande of Arabie.
Aminienses, People of Spaine.
Ammon, In hebzue name, signifying, the sonne of my people. The sonne of Lot (whom he begat on his yong daughter, when he was dzunke) was so called. Of this Ammon came the people in Syria, Ammonite, whome Josephus both call Ammanite. By thys name was Jupiter also worshipped in Egypt.
Ammonius, The name of a philosopher, who was maister to Origine.
Ammus, A ryuer in the Ilande Dolica in Arabie.
Amor, The first sonne of Herebus and Nox, whome the poets feigne to be a God.
Amorgos, An Ilande.
Amorrhei, A wozde of hebzue, signifying cruell rebells or great barlars. Of that name was a people, which were neighbours to the Jewes, and oftentimes subdued by them, and at the last, king Salomon made them tributaries to him.

Amos, Father of the prophet Esay, it signifieth strong or puissaunt.

Amos, One of the twelue prophets: it signifieth burdened or charged. The first hath in the beginning the letter Aleph. The other hath the letter Ain. This man (borne in the towne called Thecue) was a shepeheard, and sent by God into Samaria. And when he had there prophecied against tenne trybes, and somewhat spake of the other two, Amasias called him oftentimes to bee beaten: but when hee coulde not resist the holy ghost, Ozyzias, sonne of king Amasias, caused a great nayle to be thrust into his temples: and being halfe deade, was carried into his owne countrye, where hee some after dyed.

Ampeliotæ, A certaine nation in Affrike.

Ampeloesba, A towne neere to Syria.

Ampelos, A citie of Candie, and a towne of Macedonie. Also a childe, whome Bacchus loued, and after hys death, turned into a starre: also in Greake it signifieth a vine.

Ampelus, An Ilande, or promontorie in Samos.

Ampelusia, An Ile called nowe Tinge. Also a promontorie of Affrike.

Amphiaraus, Sonne of Oileus, an Argiue borne, was a southsayer, whome Adrastus, king of Argiues, woulde haue taken with him, when he made warre against the Thebanes: but knowing that he should not returne, he hyd himselfe. At the last being discouered by hys wife, he was compelled to go with the king. And the first day that he came to Thebes, the earth opened, and swalowed him.

Amphictiones, A noble counsayle in Greece, assembled at a place called Thermopylæ, wherein were the twelue syndrie people of Greece, Iones, Dores, Perrhebi, Bœoti, Magnetes, Achæi, Phthiotæ, Melienses, Dolopes, Aenianes, Delphi, and Phocenies. Of this counsayle wrote Suidas, Strabo, lib. 9. Dionysius, 14.

Amphigenia, A citie.

Amphilochius, A philosopher.

Amphimedon, One of the Centaures.

Amphimone, A nymph.

Amphion, A man which with natural eloquence, brought rude and wilde people to a ciuile forme of liuing. And (as some suppose) founde first harmonie.

Amphionius, a, um, Of Amphion.

Amphipolis, A citie nigh to Macedonie.

Amphroe, A nymph or mayden of the ryuers.

Amphisa, A ryuer in Phocis, a country of Greece.

Amphissa, A citie of Locris in Greece.

Amphistratus, A certaine grauer or Image maker.

Amphitoe, es, fœ. A nymph or mayden.

Amphitrio, onis, The husbande of Alcmena, mother of Hercules.

Amphitrite, tes, fœ. Was daughter to Nereus, and wyfe to Neptunus, God of the sea. And sometime it is taken for the sea.

Amphitus, Castor and Pollux chariot man.

Amphryssus, A ryuer in Thessaly, by which Apollo kept the sheepe of Admetus. Also a citie.

Ampycides, æ, Mopsius, the sonne of Ampycus.

Amsanctus, A well in Italy, which after some, issueth out of hell.

Amulius, King of the Latines, sonne of Procas, great vncle of Romulus and Remus.

Amyrus, quasi sine rasura, The surname of Iupiter among the Campaynes.

Amycla, One of Niobes daughters.

Amyclas, The sonne of Lacedemon.

Amyclæ, A citie in Lacedemonia, where Castor and Pollux were borne: an other in Italy.

Amycleus, a, um, Of that citie.

Amycus, The sonne of Neptune, and king of the Webzitians, that was slaine of Pollux.

Amydon, A citie of Peonia.

Amymone, The daughter of king Danaus, on whome Neptune begat Nauplius. Also a well in Argos, which hath the name of that woman.

Amyntas, A shepeherdes name in Virgill.

Amynthas, Was the .xb. king of Macedonie.

Amyntor, A gouernour of the people called Dolopes.

Amyson, A citie in the realme of Pontus.

Amythaon, The father of Melampus.

A N

Ana, A ryuer in Spaine, which deuideth the Realme of Granato, from Portugall. It springeth in the hithermost part of Spaine called Amycanus ager. And sometime spreadeth it selfe into great pondes or meres. Sometime scant appearing in little brookes, or else hidden vnder the grounde. At the last it falleth into the Spanishe sea. It is called Guadiana.

Anabaptistæ, A sect of heretikes, which began in Germany about the peare of our Lorde. 1524. Whereof the first authour was Balthasar, which taught, that Baptisme dyd nothyng profyte children, but that they ought christened to be baptised, when they come to yeares of discretion. Wherefore they be called Anabaptistæ, which doth signifie rebaptisours.

Anacharsis, A philosopher of great wisedome, albeit hee was borne in the barbarous countrey of Scythia: hee (as Plinie supposeth) found first the Potters wheele. And being in the time that Solon made lawes to the Athenienses, said: The lawes were lyke to cobwebbs, which tyed fast little flyes, and the great brake, and went cleane thorowe them: In likewyse the poore and meane men, are fast wounden in the penalties and daungers of lawes, but Lordes and men of great authority, dayly breake them, and are not corrected.

Anacreon, An olde poet, which sung to the harpe: he was borne in the towne of Ionia, called Teum. This man being aged, was strangled with the kernell of a repin, and so dyed.

Anadyomene, A name of Venus.

Anæa, A citye in Caria. Also one of the Amazones, after whome it was named.

Anaetis, idis, A Goddesse that was worshypped in Lydia, and of the Armenians.

Anagnia, A citie, wherein Anthonie caused money to bee copned.

Anaitæ, The inhabitants of Anaitis.

Anaitis, A countrey of Armenie.

Anandatus, One of the Persians Goddys.

Ananias, The cloude or diuination of the Lord. It was the name of one of the three hebrue children, which by the commaundement of Nabuchodonosor, were put in the fornayce of fyre, and came swyth swythonte damage. Also it was the name of one of the Capitaines of king Ozias. Also of one of the disciples of the Apostles, which with Sapphira his wife solde his lande and brought a portion thereof to the Apostles, and kept backe the residue. Wherefore being rebuked of saint Peter, they both fell downe deade, for that they woulde haue deceyued the holy ghost. Of that name was an other disciple of Christ, which baptised saint Paule. Also a bishop that commaunded saint Paule to be stryken on the mouth, when he preached.

Anaphe, An Ilande.

Anapias, A mans name.

Anâpis, A ryuer in Sicilie, ten furlongs from the citie of Siracusis.

Anatiborum, Pzouance in Fraunce.

Anatolius, Was bishop of Laodicea, the yeare of our Lord 278. A very holy man, and of great learning.

Anauros, A ryuer in Thessalia.

Anausis, One of Medeas sweers. Also the father of Perses.

Anax, The sonne of Cælum and Terra.

Anaxagoras, A famous philosopher, noble of blonde, but more noble in vertue and wisdome: which abandoning all his possessions, gaue him wholy to the studie of naturall philosophie. And when one sayde to him: Hast thou no care for thy country? He answered, yes verily: I haue exceeding care for my country, pointing vp his finger to heauen. Also when he had beene long out of his country, and was eftsones returned, and beheld his possessions destroyed, he sayde: I had not beene safe, except these things had beene lost.

Anaxarchus, A philosopher, falling in the indignation of a tyrant, called Nicocreon, king of Cyprus, was by him apprehended, and put into a great morter of stone, where he was beaten or pounde with yron pestelles: which torment taking pacientlye, hee doubled these wordes worthie of remembraunce: Beate on, beate on Anaxarchus sonne bag: for Anaxarchus thou beatest not: accounting his bodie but a bag full of winde.

Anaxilaus, King of the Rhegines, which builded the city of Messana in Sicilie.

Anaximander, A philosopher, which first founde the discription of the compasse of the sea and lande, and made first the sphere.

Anaximenes, A philosopher, disciple of Anaximander, who sayde, that the beginning of all thinges was the ayre. And that the starres did moue infinitely, not ouer the earth, but about it.

Anaxylides, A philosopher, which sayd, that Platos mother conceyued onely by a vision of Apollo, without carnall copulation.

Anazarba, A towne in Cilicia, where Dioscorides the noble Philition was borne.

Ancæus, Neptunus sonne, and (as Hyginus saith) a companion of the voyage to attaine the golden fleece. This man being greatly geuen to husbandrie in planting a vineyarde, much ouercharged his seruauntes with labour. Wherefore one of them, as an vnlucky prophete, sayde, he should neuer liue to drinke of the fruite of that vineyarde. When the grapes were ripe, Ancæus with much toy gathered the fruite, and causing it to be prest, had some of the wine foorthwith to be brought vnto him. Then vpbrayding his stubborne seruaunt with his false prophecie, he lyfted the cuppe towarde hys mouth. To whome the seruaunt answered, much myshap may chaunce vpon a foame betweene the cup and the lippe before a man can drinke. With those wordes, one commeth running in and crying, that a wilde boze was gotten into the vineyarde, and spoyled it. Ancæus casting a syde the cuppe before hee had dronke, made sporte to chase away the boze, of which immediately after he was slaine, and fulfilled his seruaunts prophecie.

Ancæus, The sonne of Neptune and Astypalæa.

Anchaces, The name of a capitaine in the host of Perseus against his brother Aegeus king of Colchis.

Anchemolus, The Sonne of Rutus king of the Marrubicens.

Anchesmus, An hyll in the country of Athens, whereon stode an Image of Iupiter.

Anchiale, A citye in Cilicia, buylded by Sardanapalus, where also was his sepulchre.

Anchisæus, a, um, Of Anchises.

Anchises, The father of Æneas.

Anchisiades, patronymicum, The sonne of Anchises.

Anchurus, The sonne Midas king of Phrygia, which willingly cast himselfe into a gaping of the earth, for the safegarde of hys countrey, as Curtius did afterwarde among the Romaines.

Anco, A place at Sardis, appointed for the Ministers of voluptie, as bittaylers, common harlots, and such like. Anco, is also a deepe darcke prison at Athenes. The Lydians called their brothell houses Ancones.

Ancon, Is a part of the ryuer of Mitus. Also a noble citie and hauen in Italy, in the countrey Picenum, which standeth vpon the sea Adriaticum: and was so called, because the sea bankes there, doe bend in fourme like to an arme with the elbow. It was first builded by people of Syracusis, afore the incarnation of Christ. 179. yeares. And the hauen was augmented by the noble Traianus emperour of Rome. After it was destroyed by Saracins, and eftsones builded and inhabited, and is now a famous citie.

Ancus Martius, The fourth king of Rome, sonne to the daughter of Numa Pompilius, and succeeded Tullus Hostilius, afore the incarnation of Christ. 642. yeares. He as well in ciuile policie, as martiall prowesse, was equall to any before him. Also he enlarged the citie, and made a bridge ouer Tiberis, and a prison in the middes of the citie to the terrour of offenders, which did than daily encrease.

Ancyra, The name of two cities, the one in Phrygia, the other in Galatia.

Ancyrus, a, um, Of Ancyra.

Andegaui, The people of Angewe.

Andegauia, A country in Fraunce called Angewe.

Andera, ræ, The citie of Berwike.

Andes, The sayde people of Angew in Fraunce. It was also a village by Mantua in Italy, where Virgill the poet was borne. Wherefore he is sometime called Andinus vates.

Andreas, One of the .xii. Apostels, brother to Peter, preaching at a citie called Patras, in the country of Achaia, was imprisoned, beaten, and at last hanged on a crosse, whereon he preached two dayes, and then dyed.

Andricus, An hill in Cilicia.

Androchides, A man of base conditions.

Androdus, di, The man that the Lion saued, for plucking the stubbe out of his foote.

Androgeoneus, a, um, Of Androgeus.

Androgeus, The sonne of Minos, king of Crete, which by enuie was slaine by the Athenienses. For the which certaine yeares after, the sonnes of the Athenienses were sent to Crete, to be deliuered to the monster Minotaurus, which was afterwarde destroyed by Theseus. It was also the name of a noble Briton, when Iulius Cæsar came into this Realme of Britaine.

Androgynæ, arum, mas, gen. People in Affrike beyng of both kindes in one person, man and woman.

Andromache, ches, fœ. g. The wife of the valiaunt Hector.

Andromede, des, fœ. gen. The wife of Perses, whome hee saued from a monster of the sea, and was after (by Minerua) turned into a Starre.

Andromon, He that buylded the citie Colophon.

Andros, An Ile betweene Greece and Asia, directly against the citie Ephesus. Also a towne.

Anedius, An Emperour.

Angerona, or Angeronia, æ, fœ. g. The goddesse of silence: the mouth of hir Image was stopped and sealed.

Angyræ, People of Affrike, of whome the women, the first night they be maryed, doe accompanie with all men that come to the wedding, but euer after they be chast.

Angleria, Is nowe a castell in Lumbardie, which sometime was a citie fourtie myles from Mytalyne, set on a very high mountaine.

Anglia, The Realme of England, part of the Ile called Britannia: the people are called Angli, of a people of Saxonie, which were at that time most of reputation, and therefore their name longest continued, as well in the people as in the countrey: reade more thereof in Britannia.

Anguitia, The daughter of Aeeta, and sister of Circe, and Medea: She inuented remedies against poyson.

Ania, A Romaine woman, which being faire and yong, after hir husbande was deade, was counsayled to take another: but she would not consent therto. For if (said shee) I shall hap to haue as good as I haue had, I will not be in feare to lose him: if I shall haue an euill husbande, what shall I nede after a good man to suffer a shrewe?

Anien, enis, or Anio, vel Anienus, ni, mas, gen. A ryuer in Italye, in the fielde called Tiburtinum.

Anienus, a, um. Of Anio.

Anigrus, A ryuer in Thessalie, wherein the Centaures washed them when Hercules had wounded them.

Anius, A king of Delos.

Anna, A name of Hebrue, which ſignifieth gracious, pitifull, reſting, or giuing. Of this name haue beene many noble wemē. One was a Iewe, wife to Elcana, which being a long time barraine, by continuall prayer, at laſt obteyned of God to be fruitefull, and brought forth by hir huſband, the good and holy prophete Samuell, who afterwarde was the cheefe prieſt and biſhop of Iſraell. Another was an olde widowe and prophetiſſe in Hieruſalem, at the tyme when Chriſt was preſented in the temple. This woman ſerued God daye and nyght in prayer and faſting: and beholding Chriſt, declared all that was propheſyed of him. An other Anna, was daughter to Iſachar, of the tribe of Leui, or as Damaſcene ſaith, of the tribe of Iuda, and was maryed to Joachim of the ſame tribe, which beyng long barraine, at laſt brought forth the bleſſed virgin Marie. And after the death of Joachim, ſhe was maried to Cleophas, and after his death, to Solome.

Anna, Alſo the name of a Goddeſſe, the daughter of Belus, and ſiſter of Dido, Queene of Carthage.

Annas, Was biſhop among the Iewes, when Chriſt began to preach.

Anniball, ſeke Hanniball.

Annus, Is the proper name of an Egiptian, that firſt inuented the Ouen to bake breade in.

Anſer, The name of a Poet.

Antacires, A riuer in the ſide of Aſia, neere to the towne Tyrambis.

Antæus ſeke Antheus.

Antalcides, A Lacedemonian.

Antemne, A citty in Italy.

Antenor, tenoris, masculo. Was of aliaunce to Priamus: and after the deſtruction of Troye, he remained there with the Troians, which were left on lyue: and being driuen thence by the ſonnes of Hector, fled with 2000. Troyans, into the countrye called Venecia, where hee buylded the noble citie Patauium, called commonly Padua, and there reigned during his lyfe.

Antenorius, a, um, Of Antenor.

Anteros, otis, The ſonne of Venus and Mars.

Anteuerto, ti, e, ſæ. ge. A Goddeſſe of the Romaines, which foreſawe thinges to come.

Anthemion, A Troian, the father of Simoeſius.

Anthenodorus, A ſtoike Philoſopher: he floryſhed. xv. yeares before the incarnation of Chriſt. Of whom this wiſe ſentence proceded: Thou mayſt thinke thou art free from all couetouſneſſe, when thou art come to that poynt, that thou wilt deſire nothing of God, but that thou mayſt openly crawe.

Antheus, (The ſonne of Neptunus and Terra,) a man in Mauritania, of merueylous ſtrength, before the incarnation of Chriſt. 1588. yeares, with whome Hercules wraſtled: who perceyuing, that as often as he threwe him to the earth, hee eſtſones recouered his ſtrength: he at the laſt toke him in his armes, and lifted him aboue the grounde, and ſo helde him, till the ſoule went out of his bodie. Sabellicus writeth, that Sertorius founde the ſepulchre of Antheus, in a citie called Tigena, in Barbarie, which was in length. xl. cubites.

Anthos, One of Neſtors ſonnes.

Anthylla, A citie in Egypt.

Antia, The daughter of Amphionaſſa, and wife of Pyrrus king of the Argiues.

Antiates, People of Antium.

Anticlea, Ulyſſes mother.

Anticlus, One of the Grekes, which were incloſed in the braſen horſe, whereby the city of Troie was betrayed. And when the fraye Helene, miſtruſting that engine, came vnto it, and (feigning the voices of the Ladies of Greece) did ſpeake as euerye of them had ſpoken to theyr huſbandes, none of them regarded hir: onely Anticlus, thynking he heard the voyce of his wife Laodomia, would haue anſwered, had not Ulyſſes with his hande ſtopped his mouth, vntill Helene, commaunded by Pallas was departed: by occaſion wherof Anticlus was ſtrangled.

Anticyra, In Iſle ouer againſt the mountaine Oeta, of Theſſalie, where the herbe Elleborus groweth, which purgeth melancholye: there it maye be taken without any daunger. Whereof greewe this prouerbe, ſpoken to men in their melancholy.

*Nauiga ad Anticyras, Go ſayle to Anticyra, as who ſaith, pourge your Melancholy.

Anticyra, Is alſo a citie of Phocis.

Antidales, A certaine people in Plinii. 6. cap. 18.

Antidicomaritæ, A ſect of heretikes, which affirmed, that the bleſſed Virgin Mary (after ſhe had brought forth Chriſt) was carnally knowen of Joſeph, and had other children by him. The author of this hereſie was Heluidius, about the yeare of our Lorde. 406.

Antegenides, The name of a certaine bope.

Antigenidas, A minſtrell of Thebes, the ſcholer of Philoxenus. Plinii. 16. ca. 36. Valer. lib. 3. ca. 7.

Antigone, es, The daughter of Laomedon and Priamus ſiſter, who beyng prowde of hir beautie, was of Juno turned into a Storke. Alſo a daughter of Oedipus king of Thebes.

Antigonia, A citie of Epyre, of Arcadie, of Macedonie, and of Bithinia.

Antigonus, King of Macedonie, and brother to great Alexander. Alſo a king of Aſia, an other of Iurie.

Antigoneles, Certaine people.

Anugragus, A certaine mountayne.

Antilochus, Neſtors ſonne.

Antimachus, A Greke Poet: of this name were diuers other.

Antinous, A yong ſtripling of marueilous beautie, whome Adrianus the Emperour loued.

Antiochia, A noble city in Syria, called firſt Epiphane, or Beblacaite was augmented by Seleuchus, ſonne to Antiochus, one of the companions of great Alexander, 330 yeares before the comming of Chriſt. He called it by his fathers name Antiochia. Though this citie runneth the ryuer Orontes. Of this citie was ſaint Peter the Apoſtle biſhop ſeuen yeares. And after him ſaint Luke the Euangeliſt, other ſeauen yeares. There was the firſt counſayle celebrate, where the name of chriſten men firſt began. This citie was in the handes of chriſten men. 1000. yeares. And there hath beene in ſucceſſion. 13. biſhops. It had within it. 366. churches. Antiochia is alſo a part of Syria, and an Ile in the ſea Mediterranean. There is an other Antioch in the ſea coaſt of Perſia, an other in Lybia, in Piſidea, in Cilicia, in Pieria, an other by Taurus, and in diuers other places. Vide. Pli.

Antiochis, chidis, A woman of Antioch.

Antiochus, A king of Syria, the fourth of that name was called the great Antiochus, afore the comming of chriſt. 212 yeares. He was alſo called Hierax (which ſignifieth a faulcon) for the rauenge he bled in taking from euery man his poſſeſſions and goodes. To this king came Annibal, after Carthage was deliuered: to whom Antiochus ſhewed hys armie gathered againſt the Romaines, marueylous richly armed with golde and ſiluer. And he (reioycing therein) demaunded of Anniball, if he thought it not ynough for the Romaynes, meaning the puiſſaunce of the armie. Anniball little eſteeming the ryches, anſwered in ſcorne: yes, although the Romaines of all other were moſt couetous. Fynally, the Romaines banyſhed both Antiochus and Anniball, who fledde to Pruſias king of Bithinia. Antiochus was conſtreyned to deſire peace, to relinquiſhe to the Romaines all his intereſt in Europa and Aſia, to leaue his ſonne Antiochus in hoſtage, he himſelfe to depart to the hill Taurus, and to bee content with the countrey thereabout. At laſt, being eſtſones ſtyrred with a couetous minde, to haue a great treaſure ſuppoſed to be in Perſide, the chiefe citie of Perſia, in the temple Nanea, or Fortuna, hee was deceyued by the prieſtes of the temple, and cut in ſmall peces, and caſt out to be deuoured of bydes. This was the end of that rauenous and couetous prince, when he had moſt gloriouſly rioufly reigned. 36. yeares.

Antiochus illuſtris, The noble Antiochus, ſonne to great Antiochus (left in hoſtage in Rome by his father) gaue his ſiſter in mariage to Ptolomeus king of Egipt, that by pretence of familiarity, he myght take his Realme from him, which he did. For comming vnto him vnder the colour of alyaunce, he ſlue Pthotome ſitting at ſupper. He alſo ſubdued the Iewes in Jeruſalem, and robbed the temple and citie, and did ſet vp Idols, and with ſundry torments compelled the Iewes to breake the lawes of God, and commit Idolatrie. But he eſcaped not vnpuniſhed. For when he had reigned eleuen yeares, he fell into an horrible ſickneſſe and torment, ſo that wormes iſſued aboundauntlye out of his bodye, which ſo corrupted hys fleſhe, that no man about hym might ſuſtaine the ſauor therof. At laſt he returning to the knowledge of god, died very contrite. Diuers other haue bene of that name, ſome kings, ſome philoſophers.

Antiopa, The daughter of Nycteus, and wyfe of Lycus king of Thebes in Aegypt.

Antipater, The name of diuers kings, as well of Macedoma, as of Judea. Alſo a noble Capitaine, whome great Alexander made his Lieutenant of Macedonia, whiles hee was in his conqueſt: who did manye valiaunt actes in the abſence of Alexander, and kept the Realmes and dominions of his maiſter in good ſtate through his wiſedome and proweſſe. But being at diſcention with Queene Olympias, ſhe wrote many great complaintes to hir ſonne againſt him. Fina lye (deſaeding the cruelties, as well of Alexander, as of hys mother) it is ſuppoſed, he conſented to the poyſoning of his maiſter.

Antipater, A philoſopher, and poet of Sidone, inſtructour to Cato Uticeſis. This man what day he was borne, the ſame day pearely, had he an ague ſo long as he liued, and in the ende, the ſame day in courſe dyed of the ſame diſeaſe. There was a famous Poet, diuers Philoſophers, and a ſophiſter of this name.

Antiphates, A king of the Læſtrigones, Melampus ſonne.

Antiphates, The baſtard ſonne of Sarpedon.

Antiphellus, A portion of Lycia.

Antiphon, An auncient Poet of Rammuſe.

Antiphonus, & Antiphus, The ſonnes of Priamus by Hecuba.

Antiphus, Of this name were diuers.

Antipodes, A people, the which doe inhabit the part of the worlde, in reſpect of the roundeneſſe thereof vnderneath vs, that their feete ſtande to be againſt oures.

Antipolis, A citie of Marbon in Fraunce, called commonly Ragni.

Antipyrgus, A citie of Marmarica, called commonly Luco.

Antiſſa, A towne in Lesbos. Alſo an yland ioyned to Lesbos.

Antiſthenes, A Philoſopher that taught Rhetorike, who, after that on a tyme by chaunce he had heard Socrates reade, ſayde vnto his Diſciples: Syrs, go your waye and ſeke you an other maiſter, for I haue founde one for my ſelfe. Forthwyth he ſolde all that euer hee had, and gaue it to the common weale, keping nothing to hymſelfe but a ſimple garment. He went dayly to Athens to heare Socrates, out of the hauen towne Piræus, which was. 40. furlonges of. Hee was rather ſharpe of wytte then deepely learned, a great louer of hardeneſſe and pacience: Diogenes hys maiſter, and chiefe of the Cynikes ſecte.

Antitaurus, An hill foze right againſt the mountaine Taurus.

Antium, A citie in the part of Italy called Latium, by the ſea ſide, the chiefe citie of the Volſciens.

Antœci, People that dwell in the Zone, contrary to Antichthones.

Antoninus, The Emperours ſonne Seuerus.

Antonius, The name of an auncient famille in Rome, of which, was Antonius the Oratour, and Antonius triumuir, which cauſed Cicero to be ſlayne. Of this name were diuers Emperours, and one eſpecially, called Antoninus Pius, which ſucceded Hadriane, the yeare of our Lorde. 1041. and reigned xxii. yeares, and thre Monethes, with Aurelius, and Lucius. His progenitours were Spanyardes, as Capitolinus ſayth. Hee was a marueylous good man, for he gouerned with ſuch moderation and gentleneſſe, that he was therefore called Pius, and father of the countrey. He was neuer cruell for any priuate or common cauſe. He vſed often this ſaying: He had leiffer ſaue one ſubiect, then deſtroy a thouſand enimies. For his deuout liuing, ſweetneſſe of maners, mercye, iuſtice, and temperaunce, hee was compared to Numa. Wherefore many kings and Princes of diuers nations, laying warre apart, by his commaundement, committed all their contentions vnto his iudgement, and held them therwith contented. yet was he not ſo deſirous of glorye or ryches, that hee wolde attaine therbnto by other mens domage. He died at the age of 70. yeares.

Antonius Muſa, Phiſition to Octauian the Emperour, deliuered him of a daungerous ſickneſſe, and therefore the Emperour cauſed his Image made of braſſe to bee ſet vp by the Image of Eſculapius. There is nowe liuing a Phiſition of that name in Ferrare, who is right likely to ſet forth a wonderful knowledge in phiſicke, if ambition or auarice let hym not, as it doth other men of great learning.

Antor, One of the Centaures.

Antronia, A certaine citie in the countrie Peloponneſus.

Anthropomorphitæ, A ſect of heretikes, who affyrmed, that God had a body and members as a man had. This ſect began in Aegipt about the yeare of our Lorde. 380.

Anubis, Anubis, vel anubidis, Was a God of the Aegiptians, whome they honoyed for Mercurius, in figure of a Dogge.

Anulus, A ryuer of Mauritania.

Anixus, A ryuer in Aſia, running out of the Mountaine Armenens into Meſopotamia.

Anxur, tam, maſ, quam, neut. g. A citie called alſo Tarafina.

Anxurus, The ſurname of Jupiter, becauſe he was neuer thauen.

Anydrus, An Iſlande.

Anyſis, A king of Aegypt.

Anytus, One of Athens, enemie to Socrates.

A O

Aon, The ſonne of Neptune.

Aonia, A part of the country of Boeotia.

Aonius, a, um, Of that country.

Aones, An auncient people of Boeotia.

Aoris, The ſonne of Aras, a great hunter and warriour.

Aorus, A Citie of Crete.

Aous, A ryuer.

Aornos, A citie of Epyre.

Aornus, A ryuer that runneth thzough the citie Phenæum, wherin is a fiſhe, called Pœcilus, that hath a voyce lyke a Thruſhe.

Aorſi, People of Aſia.

A P

Apæi, People of Ethiope.

Apamea, An yle in the ryuer Tygrys. Alſo a towne in Bithinia.

Apamia, Was a citie in the leſſe Aſia, through the middle wherof ranne the riuer Marſia. It was alſo the name of a citie in Parthia, an other in Phrygia.

Apathes, Philoſophers, which helde opinion, that a wiſe man had none affections or paſſions.

Apauortene, A countrye of Scithia, wherein is the Pyramide of Hercania.

Apella, læ, maſ, gen. A name wherby the Iewes were called in deriſion, as it were Sine pelle, becauſe the ſkinne of their yarde was cut of, whan they were circumciſed.

Apelles, An heretike in Grece, the yeare of our Lorde 174. Whoſe hereſie was, that he knewe not the God, which he worſhipped, and that Chriſt was not God in verie deede, but a fantaſie appearing to men as a man.

Apelles, An excellent paynter in the time of great Alexander, borne in the yle of Cos, of whom onely Alexander would be paynted. When he oped, he left an Image of Venus unperformed, which no man after him durst enterprise to finishe, for the incomparable beautye thereof.

Apelleus, a, um, Of Apelles.

Apenette, A citie of Puell, commonly called Mankredonia.

Apesus, untis, A mountayne in Greece.

Aphareus, The father of Lynceus.

Aphæsas, idem quod Apesus.

Aphedonites, People of Egypte.

Aphidnæ, arum, A place in the country of Athens.

Aphrica, æ, or, The thirde part of the worlde, which is feuered from Asia, on the east, by the ryuer Nylus, on the west from Europe, by the pyllers of Hercules. The hyther parte is nowe called Barbarie, the people Numides: The inner parte is called Libya, & Ethiopia.

Aphrica minor, Is in this wise bounded, on the west with Mauritane and the ryuer Duplaga, on the north with the see Mediterran, on the east with Cyrenaica, on the south with the deserres of Libya. In this are the cities Carthage, Utica, Exetha, and the Prouince of Numidie. Olde countrye and Mauritania, is nowe called Barbaria.

Aphricanus, A name giuen to two noble Romaines, called Scipiones, Hyperuie the one vanquished Anniball, and subdued Carthage: the other afterwarde vtterly subuerted and destroyed it.

Aphrodisium, An Image of Venus. Also a promontorie of Caria: an other of Spayne, called Labo de cruz, and a citie of Affrike.

Aphrodisius, A prelate, the disciple of saint Peter.

Aphrodite, es, The surname of Venus.

Aphthonius, A Sophister, which wrote exercises for children.

Apidanus, A ryuer in Thessaly.

Apina, næ, or Apinæ, arum, A city of Puel, the name whereof is vsed as a prouerbe.

Apis, Otherwise called Osiris, king of Argiues, and Iupiters sonne. He leauing the kingdome of Achaia to his brother Aegialeus, passed into Aegypt, where, when he had brought the rude people to a more ciuyle lyfe, and taught them the maner of planting vines to their great commoditie, with full consent of all, he was choisen to be their king. When he had a long time gouerned that country with great wisedome and clemencie, and had wrought many excellent benefites to his subiectes: In the ende, after his death, he was worshipped as a God among them vnder the forme of an Oxe, hauing this shape following: All the body black, the forehead white, a white marke on the back, double heared in the taile, and a knotte vnder the tongue. This Oxe might not lyue aboue a certayne number of yeares, which beyng finished, they drowned him in an holy well, which they kept for that purpose. Then proclaymyng vacation from all workes, they tare theyr clothes, rent theyr heare, and pitifully bewayled the losse of theyr Gode and when with great seeking they had founde an other of the same shape, they maruelously reioyced. This dumme God gaue signification of prophecye, not by Oracles of mouth as other did, but by taking or refusing of his meate. For the taking signified good successe in that was demaunded: the refusing, contrarywise.

Apitus, A Romayne, which delighted in delicate meates, so much, that he professed cookerie, and infected Rome with gluttonie, which before was the myrrour of temperaunce. And when he had consumed in gourmandise, Millies sestertium, which amounteth (after the computation of Sextilis) to two myllions, and 500000. crownes: which is after our rate, 830541. li. when he grewe in debt, and made his reckning, there was left but Centies sestertium, which amounteth to this rate in our money, 99505. li. s. shyllings, fearing in that substaunce to lyue in penurie, he willingly dranke poyson, and dyed.

Apœninus, An hyll that deuydeth all Italye into two partes. Vnde Apœnicola & Apœninigena.

Apollinaris, re, Of Apollo.

Apolinaris, The name of diuers men: one was Bysshop of Hierapolis, a citie in Asia, the yeare of our Lorde, 1045. a great learned man. He wrate a booke of the fayth of Chriſt: an other woorke against the gentiles, dedicated vnto Antonius the Emperour. Also against the heretikes called Cataphrigæ. An other of the same name was Bysshop of Laodicea, which also was a noble learned man, and wrate. xxx. bookes for our fayth against Porphyrius: notwithstanding he fell into heresie saying, that Chriſt receiued not flesh of the Vyrgin Marie: but that in the acte of his incarnation, some parte of the worde was conuerted into flesh. He sayde that Chriſtes soule was not of that parte, which kept the bodye lyuing, and therefore in his incarnation, he toke onely the body, and not the soule.

Apollinea, A citie in Lumbardie, nowe called Vercellæ.

Apollineus, a, um, Of Apollo.

Apollo, called also Phœbus, and Sol, The sonne of Iupiter, and Latona, borne at one birth with his sister Diana. When he came to age, he killed wyth his bowe the Serpent Pytho, and afterwarde the Cyclops, for that they had made the lightning wherewith his sonne Aesculapius, was cast into hel. For which acte, he beyng for a time by Iupiter deprined of his deitie, kept the beastes of Admetus king of Thessalie, by the ryuer Amphrysius. He first inuented the vse of phisicke, and thereby deserued the name of a God. He ouercame the cunning Minstrell Marsyas that prouoked him in contention of musicke: and when he had gotten the victory, fleaed him, and for his prowde attempt pulled of hys skinne. He is counted God of musicke, phisicke, poetry, and shooting: and hath by Poets giuen him a tryple name and power. In heauen he is called Sol, in earth Liber pater, in hell Apollo. He flourisheth alway with perpetuall youth, and therefore is described without a bearde.

Apollonia, A virgin, borne in Alexandria, who, for confessing the fayth of Chriſt, the yeare of our Lorde, 265. had all hir teeth pulled out of hir heade. And after, when the tyraunt menaced hir, except she woulde blaspheme Chriſt, she shoulde be burned in a great fyre thereforе prepared: after she had desired hirselfe, she brake from the ministers, and willingly leapt into the fyre.

Apollonis, Is also the name of a citie in Egypte, nowe called Valonia. An other in Creta. An other in Syria. Also a towne in Thracia.

Appolloniate, People of Apollonia.

Appollonensis, se, Of Apollonia.

Apollonius, The name of diuers learned men, one borne in Greece, about the yeare of our Lorde, 90. in his infancie so profited in learning, that being but a childe, he was a great Phylosopher, and followed the lore of Pythagoras, going alway in linnen, and neuer eating anye thing that had lyfe. And notwithstanding he was excellent lye learned in the mistical knowledge of Philosophie and naturall magike, yet to haue more knowledge, he went into Aegypt, Persia, Ethiope, and India, to learne of the Bragmanes, and Gymnosophistes, and returned into Greece and Rome, where he was had in great admiration, for the meruayles that he shewed. And at last, being aboue the age of 80. yeares, in a great assemble of people, was sodenly conueighed away, no man knoweth howe nor whether, as Philostratus, who writeth his life, saith. Also saint Hierome maketh abundantly mention of him in his prologue to the olde testament. There were of this name three great Phisitions: One called Apollonius Memphites, the disciple of Erasistratus: he first of any Phisition wrate of the partes of mans body. The other two were of Antioche, the father and the sonne.

Aponus,

Aponus, A place in Italy, neere to Pauy, where be hoate bathes, holesome for many diseases.

Apoxyómenus, ni, masc. gen. The name of a picture or table in Rome.

Appias, appiadis, patronimicum, fœ, gen. Of Appius.

Appiades, Were among the Paynims these Goddesses, Venus, Pallas, Pax, Concordia, Vesta. Of these doe make mention, Ouidius de arte amandi. 2. & de remedio amoris, Et Tullius, 3. fami. epistolarum.

Appia via, The name of an high way or causey, from Rome to Campanie.

Appianus, A noble Hystorian, borne in Alexandria, wrote most excellent woorkes of the Romaines ciuile warres, which bookes I counsayle all them that be studious in Tullius woorkes, to reade diligentlye, whereby they shall vnderstande many thinges, that else they can not well vnderstande.

Appion, A famous Grammarian, borne in Aegypt, against whome Iosephus wrote his woorke, De antiquitate Iudeorum.

Appius Claudius Cecus, An oratour of Rome.

Appœninus, The part of the Mountaines of Alpes, which begin at Genes, and deinde Italy, and extendeth vnto the sea betwene Naples and Sicile.

Appulia, Lake Apulia.

Appulus, Lake Apulus.

Aprunum, A part of Italy, the people wherof were sometime called Samnites, against whome the auncyent Romaines had warres long tyme. In it be these cities, Aquileia, Adria, Sulmo, Ortona, Arpinum, Aquinum, and other.

Aptorus, An Ile in the Venetian sea, and a citie in Ponte, nowe called Archani.

Aptera, orum, A citie in the country of Lycia, and a towne in Crete.

Apuani, People of Liguria.

Apuchi, A temple in the country Cyrenaica.

Apuleius, A philosopher borne in Affrike, flourished in Athens, and wrote in Latin diuers woorkes, as De vita & moribus Platonis, & de deo socratis, in a right eloquent and temperate stile. In his booke called Floridorum, & de Asino aureo, he wrote so affectately and flourishingly, that he is more to be mocked then praysed. He made also a ryght commendable booke of the names and vertues of herbes. He was aboute the yeare of our Lorde, three hundred.

Apulia, Puell, a part of Italy, bordering on the sea Adriaticum, a country populous, and hath in it many townes and castelles, aboundance of corne, wine, oyle, and good courriers for the warre. The chiefe Citie thereof is Brundusium. There is also the mount of saint Michaell, called Garganus. This country is called by other names, as Iapygia, Messapia, Calabria, & Salentina. The people are called Apuli.

Apulus, a, um, Of that country.

Aquæ Augustæ, A towne in Gascoyne, called Baiona.

Aquæ calidæ, A citie in England called Bathe. An other in Spayne called Vich.

Aquæ Sextiæ, A towne in Prouance, now called Aquelis.

Aquila, The name of one borne in the country of Ponte, of a Gentile becomen a Iewe, which translated the olde testament the second time out of Ebrewe into Greeke.

Aquila, A citie of the Brutians, buylded by the Lumbardes.

Aquileia, vel Aquilegia, An auncient citie in the part of Italie called Forum Iulij, or Fricul: sometime of such estimation: that therein was kept the great Mart of all Europe: And the Emperour Dranian, delighted principally to repaire thither often. Afterwarde it was destroyed by the Hunnes, and the inhabitauntes fledde thence, and were the first that began to buylde the citye of Venice. But nowe it is so simple, that none dwell there but fishers, and a fewe shepeheardes, and is called Algar.

Aquinum, ni, A towne in Italy.

Aquisgranum, A towne in Germanie, called Aquisgrane or Aix.

Aquitania, Guyan, accounted to be the thirde part of Fraunce, hath on the west, the Ocean sea: on the north the ryuer of Loyre, or (as Cæsar wryteth) the ryuer of Gerond: on the east, the part of Fraunce called Lugdunensis: on the South: the Mountaines Pyrenei, which deuide Fraunce from Spayne. Albeit a part thereof conteyneth Gascoyne, Foix, Bygot, and a fewe countryes more.

Aquitanus, or Aquitanicus, a, um, Of Guyan.

Aquites, The name of a people.

Aquula, A towne in Hetruria.

Arabarches, A Lorde in Arabie.

Arabia, In Hebrue Saba, is a countrye in Asia, deuyded into three regions, Petrea Deserta, and Fœlix. Petrea (signifying stony) marcheth on Aegypt, and Iudea. Prime caieth it Nabathea. The chiefe city therof is Petra, now called Arach. In holy scripture it is called Petra Deserti. By this countrey the children of Israell passed out of Aegypt. It is (as Strabo writeth) plaine, enuironed with rockes of a great height, wherein be many springs of freshe water, without that circuite, towarde Iudea, the more part of the countrey is desert without water. There is the great Mountaine Sina, called of Ptholome Melanes, where the olde law was giuen to Moyses, and where the bodie of the holye virgin Katherine is buryed. Also another Mountayne called Casius, where the great Pompeius is buried. Arabia deserta, of Strabo called Saneus, hath on the south, the mountaines of Arabia fœlix: on the north, Mesopotamia: on the west, Petrea. The people of thys countrey haue no certaine habitation, but dwell in tentes. Arabia fœlix, on the south, lyeth betweene the two seas Arabicum, and Persicum, which is so plentyfull, that it bringeth forth corne and fruites twise in the yeare. They haue plentie of all fruite and cattell, except Horses, Mules, and Swine: Of all Foules, except geese, cockes, and hennes. Also there groweth all kinde of spices and sweete gummes. The townes are vnwalled, bycause the people doe liue alwaye in peace.

Arabicus, and Arabius, a, um, Of Arabie.

Arabis, or Arbis, A ryuer.

Arábrica, A towne in Portugall.

Arabs, bis, One that dwelleth in Arabie.

Aráchne, The name of a woman, which first inuented spinning of lynnen, and making of Nettes.

Arachosia, A country in Asia.

Arachius, A great Ryuer in the vttermoste borders of Egypte.

Aracynthus, A mountaine in Boeotia in Greece, or after other, in Athens, in Arcadie, or Aearnanie, where Minerua was specially honoyed.

Araduca. A citye in Spayne, called commonly Arzua.

Aradus, A citie in the Ile Tripolis, towarde Syria. Where (as Possidonius writeth) was sene a Serpent lying deade, in length 125. paces, and of such greatnesse, that he might deuoure a man on horsebacke, and euery scale of his chinne was greater then any shielde.

Araæ, Certaine Rockes in the Sea betwene Affrike and Sardinia, where the Affricanes and the Romaines made a league.

Aræ flauiæ, A ryuer in Germanie called Neckelingen.

Aragus, A riuer neere to the Massagetæ.

Aram, Was brother to Abraham.

Aramæi, The Scythians.

Arar, or Araris, A ryuer in Fraunce, called nowe Sagona, which is so quyet, that vnneath it may be perceyued which way it runneth. Not farre from Lions: it falleth into the ryuer Rhone. Ouer this ryuer Iulius Cæsar made a bridge in one day.

Ararus, A ryuer in Scythia, which runneth through the realme of Armenie.

Arath,

Arath, ℣ country in Armenie, wonderfull fertile.

Aráus, ℣ poet in Asia, before the incarnation. 246. yeres, among diuers other workes, wrote certeine verses of Astrologie, which were translated by Tullie, and also by Germanicus, the sonne adoptiue of Tiberius the Emperour.

Araurus, ℣ ryuer of Fraunce called also Rauraris.

Arausio, ℣ citie called commonly Aurenge.

Araxes, ℣ riuer in Armenia, ouer which great Alexander made a bridge: and likewise did Augustus the Emperour.

Arba, ℣ citie and an Ilande of Illiria.

Arbea, ℣ citie in Iudea, where a dam and other three patriarkes were buried.

Arbela, ℣ countrye in Persia. Q. Curtius sayth, it is a citie of Mesopotamie, where great Alexander vanquished the power of Darius king of Persia.

Arbies, ℣ people of Indie.

Arbúscula, læ, The proper name of a woman.

Arca, ℣ citie in Syria.

Arcadia, ℣ country in Greece, set in the middle of Peloponnesus, or Morea, so called of Arcas, the sonne of Iupiter, who reigned there. It was also called Pelasgia, Parrhasia, and Lycaonia. There was the Bagpype first inuented. Also the great fenne Lernea, where Hercules slue the monster Hydra, as there, with the riuer Erymanthus, and a mountaine of the same name. There is also founde the stone Asbeston, which being once hote, may neuer be quenched, and is of the colour of Iron.

Archadicus, or Archadius, a, um, Of Arcadie.

Archas, adis, or chados, One of Arcadie.

Archas, The sonne of Iupiter and Calisto, daughter of Lycaon, (before the incarnation, 1470. yeares) hearing that his mother (being a virgin consecrate) was defloured by Iupiter, when he was begotten, and therefore expelled of the other virgins, wolde haue slayne her: who being afearde of him, flodde into wolderneſſe, and hid her, tyll she and her sonne were reconcyled by Iupiter. Afterwarde, they both being dead, the Patrynus feygned, that they were translated among the starres, set nighe to the pole artike, and the mother called Vrſa minor, and the sonne Vrſa maior.

Arcéſilas, ℣ philosopher, the scholer of Polæmon.

There was also of that name a cunning keruer of Images, specially the Image of Diana.

Arcesilaus, One of the fiue Capitaines of Bœotia, that came to Troy. Also a Philosopher of the sect of the Academikes, and scholar to Crantor.

Archander, Danaus wyues father.

Archédicus, ℣ comicall Poet.

Archelaus, The name of diuers famous men. One a philosopher, the disciple of Anaxagoras, borne at Miletum, mayster to Socrates, brought first naturall philosophie out of Ionia to Athens. Of this name were diuers kings: One of Macedonia (whome Plato called a Tyranne) slaine by Cratena his minion. When he hyred the famous painter Zeuſis to paint his palace: Socrates sayde merily, he did it to prouoke men to resort vnto him: though they would not come for his sake, yet at the least they should gladly come to beholde his faire house. Also when he had with him at supper diuers learned men, a Poet desyred of him a summe of money, which he caused to be brought, and sowthwyth gaue it to Euripides, who did not alike it, saying, thou art worthy to haue it, and he to desire it.

Archemorus, Sonne of Lycurgus king of Nemæa, was slayne by an Adder, as his Nourse layde him in the grasse by a ryuers side. For whose sake were made certayne playes, called Nemei. He was also called Opheltes, but Archeptólemus, Was Charyot man to Hector of Troy.

Archias, Called also A. Licinius, ℣ Poet of Antioch, much fauoured and honoured of the noble men of Rome, especially of Lucullus and Tullie, who defended hym in a noble oration, wherein he speaketh much to the commendation of Poetrie. It was also the name of hym that buylded Syracusis.

Archibius, ℣ Grammarian of Alexandria.

Archidamus, (℣ noble man of Sparta) being demaunded, how much money would serue to the warre of Peloponnesus: aunswered, that warre fought for no certaunetie.

Archidemus, ℣ mans name. Aristoph, in ranis.

Archigenes, The name of a famous physitian.

Archilochus, ℣ Poet of Lacedemonia, that wrate in the kinde of verſes, Iambici, wherein he was so vehement, that where Licambes, his wyues father, toke from hym his wife, and marryed hir to another man, he so rated him with verſes, that he compelled him for sorowe and indignation, to hang himselfe. He was before the incarnation, 650. yeares.

Archimedes, ℣ famous Geometrician of Syracusis, in Sicilie, who by his Arte did long time reſiſt Marcellus, Captaine of the Romaines, that besieged the citie. Finally the citie being wonne, he, sent for by Marcellus, was founde drawing figures of Geometrie in the grounde, wherunto he was so attentiue, that when he was boden to come to Marcellus, he aunswered; When he had finished the figure, he wolde come. At which aunswere, the messenger disdayning, slue hym. For which dede, Marcellus was exceding sorye. Some suppose, he first inuented the making of materiall spheres and globes. He made a Dowe of wode, which had in it such equall popse, that it wolde hang in the ayre by a long space. He made also an hyzologe, wherein might be seene the true course of the heauens and Spheres. He was afore the incarnation, 192. yeares.

Architas, ℣ noble Philosopher of Tarentum, the disciple of Pythagoras, and Capitaine of the inuincible armie of the Tarentines. He was mayster to Plato in Geometrie, whome he also deliuered from Dionysius the tyrant of Sicilie. He was before the incarnation of Christ about. 370. yeres. There was a cunning Carpenter of the same name.

Arcitenens, éntis, The surname of Apollo, which is alway painted with a bow in his hande.

Ardalides, The surname of the Muses, after Ardalus the sonne of Vulcan.

Ardea, ardeæ, ℣ citie in Latio, being from Rome about xviij. myles. In it was the palaice of Turnus, whome Eneas vanquished: and the people there were called Rutili.

Ardeas, atis, and Ardeatinus, a, um, Of the citie Ardea.

Ardis, The sonne of Gyges king of Lidia.

Ardiscos, ℣ ryuer of Scythia.

Arduenna, ℣ great wod in Gallia Belgica, which was in length. 500. myles, comming from the riuer of Rheine, through the lande of Luke, vnto the citie of Tourney.

Arecomici, People of Narbone in Fraunce.

Arelate, ℣ citie in Fraunce, called Dzelance. Also an other in Nozica, called Lynze.

Aremórica, The countrie of Aquitaine in Fraunce.

Arena, ℣ citie in Peloponnesus.

Arcopagitæ, Iudges, which sate in a place by Athens, to iudge causes of murder, and weighty thinges, concerning the common weale. It is vsed sometime for other seuere and vncorrupted iudges.

Areopagus, The Village of Mars, where the saide iudges did sit in iudgement.

Areopolis, ℣ citie in Arabie, called also Bloch.

Ariopolitæ, The inhabitants of Areopolis.

Areta, The daughter of Aristippus, the Philosopher, which succeeded him in his schole. She taught, that the pleasure, which most delighted the bodye, was the chiefe goodnesse.

Arete, in latine, Virtus, in Englishe, vertue. It was also the name of the wyfe of Alcinous, king of Phæacis, of whome Homere writeth in Odyssea.

Arethúsa, The companion of Diana. It is also the name of a Fountaine in Sicilie, and of an other in Mytia. Also a towne in Græce, a citie in Eubœa, and an other in in Syria.

Arethulis, The name of the citie Syracusis, neare to the Fountayne Arethusa.

Arethyſſa, & Arethusa, ℣ ryuer in the great Armenie.

Aretinus, a, um, Of the citie Aretium.

Arétium, ℣ citie in Tuscan, called Arezo. 50. myles from Perusc.

Arcus, The sonne of Neſtor and Euridices.

Arganthonius, ℣n hyll nyghe to Bithynia, by the citie of Bzusias: nyghe therunto is a well, where Hylas the companion of Hercules was sodainely taken awaye by the Nymphes, when he was at that well to fetche water.

Arganthonius, ℣ king of a citie in Boeotia. Also another in Spaine, which lyued 120. yeres, or after some. 300. yeares.

Argentina, ℣ fayre citie in Germany, on the west side of the ryuer of Rhene, called Strausburgh. It was also called Argentoratum.

Argæa, Places in Rome, where certaine auncient Grekes were buryed.

Argæus, ℣ verye high hill, on the top whereof is alwaye Snowe.

Argeus, a, um, Of the citie of Argos.

Argi, Grecians.

Argi, ℣ citie of Italy buylded by Diomedes, called after Argiripa.

Argia, Daughter to Adrastus king of Argiues, and wyfe of Polynices. This woman was of so louing affection towarde hir husbande, that, when he togither with his brother Etheocles was slayne in battayle, she doubted not cuen in the night tyme among great heapes of dead men, to seeke out hir husbandes bodye to burye it, being accompanied onely with hir husbandes sister Antigone: who of like affection towarde hir brethren, stole priuily in the night out of Thebes, to burye theyr dead bodies to interrement, contrary to the cruell commaundement of the tyran Creon. For which acte, not long after, both of them were put to death of the sayde Creon. Wherefore in reuengement of his wycked cruelti, Theseus made warre vpon the Thebanes, and punished Creon with iuſt and worthy death for his impietie.

Argiæ, plu. ℣ citie in Laconia.

Argiphontes, The name of Mercurius, bycause he slue Argus.

Argiletum, The sepulchre of Argus. It is also a strete in Rome, where bokesellers dwelled.

Argilus, ℣ citie of Emathia, neare to the mouth of the ryuer Strymon.

Arginusæ, Three little yles in Asia, by the yles of Mitele and Lesbos.

Argiripa, Looke Argi.

Argis, aduer. At the citie of Argos.

Argissa, ℣ citie of Thessaly, neare to Peneum.

Argiuus, ℣ Grecian.

Argólicus, a, um, Of Argos.

Argonautæ, Were the companions of Iason, which sayled wyth him vnto Colchos, as Castor, Pollux, Hercules, Telamon, Orpheus, Zetus, Calais, and manye other noble men, as well of bloude, as in prowesse. This voyage was before the incarnation, 1254. yeres.

Argopelasgus, One of Theſſaly.

Argos, ℣ country and citie in Thessalia, where Inachus reigned. In this country be the famous Mountaines of Olympus and Osſa. Also Argos was a citye not farre from Athens, another in Achaia. It was also the name of Ulysses dogge.

Argulus, The sonne of Impetus.

Argúra, ℣ citie of Thessalia.

Argus, The sonne of Aristor, the fift king of Argiues, which made the ship, wherein Iason and other sayled to Colchos. The Poets feigne, that he had an hundred eies, signifying thereby his wisedome and circumspection. Moreouer that Juno appointed him to keepe Io, whome she had transformed into a Cowe. But Mercurius (beyng sent by Iupiter) with his swete harmony brought Argus on sleepe, slue him, tooke Io from him, and brought hir into Egypt. Than Juno toke Argus eyes, and set them in the Peacocks tayle, wherefore the Peacocke is called Auis Iunonia.

Argyra, ℣ citie in Sicilie, where Diodorus Siculus was borne.

Argyraſpidæ, masculine. Men bearing shyeldes of Syluer. These were great Alexanders soudiours, which were after his death, retayned of diuers Princes, as the Launce knightes be.

Argyríni, ℣ certaine people in Egypte.

Argyrippa, ℣ citie of Puell, buylded by Diomedes.

Argyrondes, ℣ ryuer in Etolia, in colour lyke Syluer.

Aria, ℣ country in Asia, bounded on the north with Margiana, and a part of Bactria. Thace was once called by this name.

Ariabignes, The sonne of Darius by the daughter of Gobryas, one of the Admirals of Xerxes naule.

Ariadne, nes, fœm. gen. ℣ Ladye the wyfe of Theseus whome he forsoke, notwithstanding she had saued hys lyfe.

Ariadneus, a, um, Of Ariadne.

Ariannes, ℣ famous citie in Armenie.

Ariapythes, ℣ king of Scythia.

Ariarathes, ℣ king of Capadocia, vnder whom that countrie was first allyed with the Romaines.

Ariaches, ℣ mans name.

Aricandos, ℣ ryuer of Lycia, whereof a citie there is called Aricanda.

Aricia, ℣ citie in Italy, ten myles from Rome, called now Ricia castellum. Also the wyfe of Hyppolitus.

Aricinus, a, um, Of Aricia.

Aricinum nemus, ℣ wod by the sayde citie, where Numa, the king of Romaines, feigned to speake with Egeria the Fayry.

Aricinus lacus, ℣ bowke by Aricia, called Speculum Dianæ.

Aricomiſſi, ℣ people of Fraunce nere to the riuer Rhone, called also Arecomici, and Volcæ.

Arij, ℣ people of Scythia.

Arimaſpi, People of Scythia, which haue but one eye, and that in their forehead. They fight continually with Griphons, or Gripes. Herodotus saith, they haue two eies, but they vse to winke with the one, that they may haue the other more redyall, when they fight.

Ariminenſis, One of Ariminum.

Ariminum, ℣n olde citie in Flaminia, a country of Italy by the ryuer of Rubucion, called now Rimino.

Arimpæi, People vnder the dominion of Muscouites, which lyue alwaye in wodes, and be gentle and iuſt in maners. They eate nothing but berries and mast.

Arimus, ℣ king of Mysia, or Meonia.

Ariobárzanes, ℣ king of Cappadocia, who aided Pompey in his laſt battayle against Cæsar.

Arion, ℣ famous harper, whom the mariners would haue cast into the sea to haue hys money: but he desiring them to let him playe a long on his harpe ere he dyed, afterwarde leapt into the water, and a Dolphyn receyuing him on his backe, brought him to land alyue. It is also one Bryaxus Chariot horses.

Arionius, a, um, Of Arion.

Arisbe, or after some Arisba, ℣ citie in the Countrey of Troy, and also in Lesbos.

Ariſtarchus, ℣ Grammarian vnder Ptolomie, surnamed Philometer, whose sonne he instructed. He wrote aboue 1000. workes, and died, being of the age of. 72. yeares, killing himselfe with ouermuch abstinence to cure the dropſie. Of him Aelianus writeth, that he was of so exact iudgement, that no verse was esteemed to bee Homers, but that he had allowed.

Ariſtæus, ℣ poilos sonne by Cyrene the nymph. He first inuented the vſe of Bees, hemie, rennette to make cheese with, pasturing, hunting, and many other things, as Iustine writeth. The Poets deuised that fable: that Aristæus, was in loue with Eurydice Orpheus hys daughter, who running from him, chaunced to be slaine of

of a serpent: in reuengement whereof, the Nymphes killed all Aristeus Bees. He therefore called to his mother for helpe to recouer his great losse, and by hir was brought to Proteus his Oracle, who tolde him the cause of his great mishap, and willed him by sacrifice to please and pacifie Eurydice. Which thing when he dyd, killing foure Bulles, and as many Heighfers, out of the sacrifices brake forth a great number of Bees, and so Aristæus, recouered his swarmes againe. Virg.

Aristæus, A Poet in the time of Cyrus of Persia.

Aristides, A noble man of Athens, in wisedome, iustice & temperaunce, excellent. He in the gouernaunce of the cõmon weale of Athens, was ioyned with Themistocles, a man of great prowesse and ryches, who saide in the counsayle, he knewe a thing, which was expedient to the common weale, but not necessary to be openlye known, and desired to haue one appointed, to whome he should disclose it. The counsayle appointed Aristides: to whome he shewed, that the name of the Lacedemonians mought be shortly set on fire, and so shoulde their puissaunce be abated. Thus hearde, Aristides returned to the counsayle, and sayde: The abuse of Themistocles is profitable, but not honest. The Athenienses hearing it was not honest, iudged it mought not be profitable, and would not haue it than disclosed. Such credence had they in Aristides. Also notwithstanding the Thebenteines had exiled him, onely bicause he excelled in iustice, yet at his departing he prayed to God, that whatsoeuer they desired, mought come to good effect and conclusion. And called againe from exyle, hee neuer remembred anye olde displeasure, in so much that he alwaye honoured Themistocles, wyth whome he euer contended in the weale publike. Of his temperaunce this is a great token, that though he had borne in the greatest dignity and offices in the common weale, yet died he so poore, that he left not to burye him worshipfully. And his daughters were married at the charge of the citie. And to his sonne Lisimachus was giuen by the people one hundred Minæ, which amounteth of our money, to 339. pound, xj. shillinges. viij. pence. Oh, howe maye chyldren men be ashamed, when they reade this storye, beholding in his temperaunce, iustice and charitie, a more resemblaunce of Chyldes doctrine, than in them that wil doe nothing vnlyked, and measure iustice by their affections? Of this name were foure other. He was alyue the incarnation. 474. yeares.

Aristides, A Christian philosopher in Athens, the yeare of our Lorde. 132. made an elegant defence for chrystes Religion, and deliuered it to Adian the Emperour, wherewith he was so perswaded, that he gaue commaundment to the proconsull of Asia, that he shoulde put no christen man to death, except he were conuict of some notable cryme.

Aristippus, Disciple to Socrates, put the chiefe godnesse in voluptie or pleasure: wherefore Diogenes called him the royall dogge, because he alway followed them that were riche, and taught for money. On a tyme, being on the sea in a storme, and the shippe in perill, hee was sore afearde. After the perill was past, men asked of him, why he feared so much, sence he was a philosopher. The perill sayde he, in losse of an ignozant knaue, and of a noble philosopher is not of lyke estimation. His followers were called Cirenaici. His sect by other disciples of Socrates, and noble philosophers, was vterly extermynate. He had a daughter called Arete, excellently learned. He was afore Christ, 366. yeares.

Aristo, onis, Platos father. Also a philosopher, disciple of Zeno.

Aristóbolus, Sonne of Hircanus, captaine and chiefe bysshop of the Iewes, was. 92. yeares afore the comming of Christ. This man attempted to translate the dignitie of a bysshop, into the dignitie of a king: and he first, after the retourning from the captiuitie of Babylon, toke on him to weare a crowne. He subdued the people called Iturei in Syria, and compelled them to be circumcised: But by the yll counsayle of his brother Antigonus, he put his mother and yonger brethren in prison, and after slue his saide brother Antigonus, in rashing him. For which crueltie God so strake hym, that his bowels were rent in his belly, and he vomited vp all the bloude in his bodie, and so dyed. Also Aristobulus was one of the seuenty, that translated the Bible into Greeke. An other was an hystoriographer, in the time of great Alexander.

Aristocles, The name of diuers philosophers.

Aristochides, A tyrannе of Orchomenon. Also a famous paynter.

Aristodemus, The name of sundry learned men: of which one instructed Pompeys children.

Aristogenes, A physition of Thrace. Also another of the same science, seruant to Chrysippus, the philosopher.

Aristogiton, An orator of Athens, which for his lewde behauiour was called dogge. Also one of the slears of Pisistratus.

Aristolaus, A certaine painter, scholer to Pausias.

Aristómache, es, The wife of Dionisius the tyrant. Also the wyfe of Dion.

Aristomachus, A man that was all his life time in loue with Bees. A nother of that name wrote of the making of wine.

Aristomenes, A most iust capitaine of Athens. He (as Hierome wryteth) on a time espying the Lacedemonians his enmyes celebrating a solemne feast or wake in the night, by force toke away. xij. beautifull maydens as a pray, with all haste that night making speede out of the Lacedemonians boundes. In the way, when certaine of his company, would haue rauished the maydens, he first, so much as he couldе, abuertised them not to worke that villannie: but when their rage wouldе not be stayed by any counsayle, he killed certain of them, and by that terrour repressed the other. Not long after, when the maydens were raunsomed and sent for home, they perceyuing Aristomenes to bee accused for the death of those, that in their defence hee had slaine, would not in any wise retourne to their countrye, but continually laye prostrate at the Iudges gate, vntyll they had obteyned pardon for the defender and preseruer of their chastitie. This Aristomenes was of witte so subtile and craftie, that sundry times he entered as a spie into the citie of Lacedemon, and beyng once ouertwise taken and cast in prison, escaped the daunger. At the last being put to death, and his bodie opened, hys heart was found to be hearie.

Ariston, onis, A certaine greuer of Images. Also a famous lawyer.

Aristonicus, A Grammarian of Alexandria, and an Eunuche of Ptholomeus, which was a valiaunt capitaine.

Aristónimus, A comicall poet, ouerlyer of Philodelphus librarie.

Aristophanes, A poet most eloquent in the tongue of the Athenians, although he was borne at the Rhodes. He wrote 54. comedies, wherein he shared not them, which then lyued. He was in displeasure with Socrates, and therefore he reprehendeth him in his Comedie called the Clowdes. He was also a Grammarian of Byzance.

Aristophon, A painters name.

Aristorides, Argus the sonne of Aristor.

Aristótelés, Sonne of Nicomachus the physition, borne in Stragera, in Greece, consumed his youth riotously. He was after scholer to the noble Plato. xx. yeares continually. He excelled all men in sharpenesse of witte and knowledge in dyuers sciences: wherefore kyng Philip of Macedonie sent him his sonne Alexander to teache, saying: He thanked God, that he had a sonne borne in his time. This man began a sect, the followers whereof were called Peripatetici. Hee taught after Platos death. xxiij. yeares. He yong banished out of Athens, bycause it was supposed, he deemed not well of theyr goddes. It is written that he died by this occasion. As he went by the sea side, he perceyued fishermen sitting and dowing of somewhat. And when he asked what they dyd, they tolde him a riddle, which when by long studie he couldе not assoyle: for shame and sorrowe hee dyed. Of him Quintilian writeth thus. What saye you by Aristotle, whome I wote not whether I may iudge more excellent in knowledge of thinges, in aboundance of writing, in sweetenesse of Eloquence, in sharpenesse of witte, or else in diuersitie of workes. He was little of personage, crookebacked, yll shapen, and stutting. He was 345. yeares before Christes incarnation.

Aristotelicus, and Aristotelius, a, um, Of Aristotle.

Aristoxenus, A famous Philosopher and Philition, the scholar of Aristotle, and dyuers other learned men. Another of that name was in Cyrena, so curious in gardening, that euery night hee vsed to cast mulle on hys learcle, to make them sauour more pleasantly.

Armilla, A lake in Armenia the greater.

Arnus, A ryuer in Aria, nere to Bactria.

Armalcar, The ryuer Euphrates.

Armènia, The name of two regions: Maior and Minor, Armènia maior, hath on the north, Colchis, Iberia, and Albania: on the west, part of Cappadocia: on the east, part of the Hyrcane sea: on the south, Mesopotamia, and the mountaine Taurus. Armènia minor, hath on the north and west part Cappadocia: on the east the noble ryuer Euphrates, and Armenia maior: on the south part, the mountaine Taurus.

Armeni, People of Armenia, which were christened of late yeares, but nowe they be subiectes to the Turkes. They in some thinges varyed from the Church of the Latines and Greekes. They haue one great Bysshop, whome they call Catholicum. They keepe holy neyther the natiuitie of Christ, nor his baptisme, saying. Hee needed not to be pourged or clensed of sinne. Also they take from all sacraments the vertue to conferre grace. They ministred baptise those that come from the church of the latines to them, saying, that they be not of the catholyke fayth. They say that no man may be christened, vnlesse hee receyue the sacrament of the auitare: and that infantes made not to be baptised, affirming that in them is no originall sinne. That the holye ghost procedeth of the father and not of the sonne. That the sacrament of the auitare may not be consecrate of breade cleane vnleuen leauen. Also in the consecration they put no water to the wine. Moreouer they say, that the receyuing of the sacrament profiteth onely to the bodye. That when Christ descended into hell, he ledde with him all the soules that were there. That matrimonye is no sacrament, and may be dissolued at the will of the man or woman. That Christ did rise the Saterday after good Friday. All theyr are sayde to be their opinions, and are condemned as errours by sundry counsels.

Arnon, A ryuer that commeth from the hilles of Arabie, and deuideth Moabitide, from Amonitide, after Calepine.

Armorica, The auncyent name of Byptaine in Fraunce.

Arnates, A people of Italy.

Arna, A countrey where the Boeotians inhabited.

Arne, A citie nere to the goulfe called Maliacum.

Arnobius, A noble Rhetorician of Affrike, mayster to Lactantius. He wrate against the Gentyles, the yeare of our Lorde. 305. Whose exposition we haue vpon the Psalter.

Arnus, A swift ryuer in Italy, which runneth by the city of Florence, called vulgarly Arno.

Aróma, The name of a citie.

Arpandes, A Lieutenant of Aegypt vnder Cambyses.

Arpinàs, ātis, A man or woman of Arpinum.

Arpinum, An auncient towne in Italy, famous and noble by the byrth of Plautus, Tullius, and Marius.

Arrianus, A poet in the time of Tiberius. Also an hystoriographer, which wrate the gestes of Alexander the great.

Arminensis synodus, A generall counsayle kept at Arimi-num, in Italy, the yere of our Lorde. 360. the 22. yeare of the reigne of the Emperour Constantius: where the Greekes allayed by their subtil wittes to condemne the noble counsayle of Nice: but by the wisedome of the Latines, that disputation was deferred, and at a generall counsayle at Rome, the opinions of the Arrians were condemned.

Arrius, An heretike, a Priest in the church of Alexandria, the yere of our Lorde, 320. He was a sayre personage, had a verie sharpe witte, and was greatlye esteemed. But falling into pryde and ambition of honour, he purposed and helde this heresie, that the sonne was not equall to the father in deitie, nor of the same substance, but was a meere creature. Vnto this errour he induced a great part of the worlde than christened, as well noble Clearkes as other. For the which was called the great counsayle of Nice, the Emperour Constantinus magnus, being present, with. 318. Bishops: where it was (after long disputation) determined, that the sonne is equall, and of one substance with the father, as touching the diuinitie. Which decree was approued by the Emperour. And Arrius, wyth fiue Byshops, which obstinately perseuered in their heresie, were banished. Afterward Arrius finished his life with an horrible death. For as he was disputing, being prouoked to the stole, in execrating nature, he poured out all his bowels, and so dyed.

Arrius, or rather Arrianus, an hystorian, borne in Nicomedia: among other woorkes he wrate in Greeke the lyfe of great Alexander. This man for his learning and vertue obteyned great honours at Rome of the Emperours Hadrian and Antonine, in so much that he was once Consull. There was one Arrius a philosopher in Alexandria, in the time of Augustus: and an other verye familier with Cicero.

Arsaces, was the generall name of the kings of Parthia.

Arsàcia, The name of a citie of Mede.

Arsanca, A citie of Germanie called Cleppern.

Arsenária, A citie of Mauritania, called Arze.

Arsichina, A citie in Germanie, now called Bzomp.

Arsichoras, A king of Sardis in the time of Iunibali.

Arsinoë, The wyfe of Lysimachus, king of Macedonie. Also a citie in Cyprus, called commonly Trochara.

Arsonium, A citie of Germanie, called Pyrninisya.

Artabanus, A king of Parthia, the last of Arsaces stock, whome Artaxerres slue, and restored the kingdome to the Persians, 538. yeares, after Darius was subdued by Alexander.

Artabazes, vel Artabasdes, A king of Armenie, Sonne of Mithridates, a man excellently learned.

Artabicia, One of the pleas of Byzopontis.

Artabri, A people by the Pyomontoyp called Artabrum.

Artabrum, A promontoype in Spayne.

Artace, A citie of the Mylesians in Asia. Also a towne of Bithynia, called Carpi.

Artacena, A country of Syria.

Artacha, An hyll full of trees, in the yle of the Cyzicenians.

Artachæas, A capitaine in the armie of Xerxes.

Artanes, A king of Armenie, surnamed Sophenus. Also a ryuer running into Iller.

Artaphernes, One of Darius Capitaines, vanquished of the Grekes nere to Marathon.

Artanum, A citie of Germany, called Herbipolis. Wirtzbourg.

Artaxa, A king of Armenie, of whome Tigranes descended.

Artàxata, orum. n.g. The chiefe citie of Armenie the great, at the ryuer Araxis.

Artaxerxes, A name whereby many kings of Persia were called: Of whom one is named in the byble Assuerus: An other, which was his sonne by Hester, called also Ochus: An other called Longimanus, bycause hys armes and handes were so long, that standing vpryght, he mought touch his knees with his handes. He was benigne and loued peace, and therefore was he well beloued of all his people. He was before the incarnation 485. yeares, and had to surname Memnon.

Artaxiasata, A citie of Armenie.

Arteatæ, People of Persia.

Artembares, A noble man of the Medes.

Artimidorus, A learned man, verie familiar with Brutus, who deliuered a booke to Cæsar, of the conſpiracie againſt him, the ſame daye that he was ſlayne, willyng him to reade it forthwith: but he negleated it, to hys owne confuſion.

Artemis, idis, Is a name of Diana.

Artemiſia, The name of a noble Princeſſe, wyfe to Mauſolus, king of Caria, of a notable chaſtitie, and excelled ſo in loue towarde hyr husbande, that when he was deade, ſhe cauſed his heart to be dyed in a veſſell of gold: and to poulder, & by tittle and litle dyd drynke it vp, ſaying: Their two hearts ſhould neuer depart a ſunder, and that ſhe thought there might be no worthy ſepulchre made for it, but hir owne bodie. Notwythſtandyng ſhe made for his bodie ſuch a ſepulchre, that for the excellent workmanſhip beautie, and coſtlynes, it was taken for one of the maruelles of the worlde: and for the noble fame thereof, all ſumptuous and great ſepulchres, were afterwarde called Mauſolæa. Shee founde alſo the herbe Artemiſia, called in Latine Damaſonium, of great vertue in woundes diſeaſes.

Artemiſium, A promontorie of Euboea, and an ymage of Diana.

Artemiſius, The moneth of May among the Macedonians. Alſo an hyll in Arcadie.

Arte nita, A famous citie, 500. furlongs from Seleucia.

Artemius, A mountaine of Achaia in Argo.

Artemon, The proper name of diuers men.

Artemon, An heretike, which affyrmed, that Chriſt was but pure man, taking hys beginning in the Virgin Marie. This hereſie, being once condemned, was ſtirred vp by Paulus Samoſatenus.

Arthurus, A king of England, whom it was called Britannia, a man of excellent prowes, who, in xv. great battailes againſt the Saxons, vanquiſhed them, and finally dryue the moſt part of them out of this Realme. He ſubdued Scotland and Ireland, at that time being wel inhabited, and in culture. And after kept an honorable houſe of valiant and noble perſonages, wherein was ſuch magnificence, that it gaue occaſion to Frenchmen and Spaniardes, to exerciſe theſe writes in auaunting of Arthurs maieſtie with incredible fables: Which is no more to be marueiled at, than the ſemblable inuentions and fantaſies of the Grekes. Albeit thys Arthur was a verye noble and famous prince, yet of them, which wrate hyſtories about hys tyme, he was vnremembred. He flouriſhed about the yeare of our Lorde. 510.

Artigis, A citie in Spayne called alſo Alhama.

Artomici, People of a countrye in Fraunce called Armiſtake.

Artotyritæ, People, which did offer to theyr God, breade and cheſe.

Aruales fratres, were ſuppoſed to be the foſter brethren of Romulus, to whome he gaue the dignitie of prieſthode, to make ſacrifice for growing and increaſe of corne, and preſeruation of the corne fieldes.

Aruerni, People of Fraunce nere to the ryuer of Leyre.

Aruiſium, An hill on the ſea coaſt, of the yle called Chium, where growe the wines called Aruiſia vina, nowe Maruiſia vina, Malmeſey.

Arúnca, A towne in Italy.

Arupenum, A towne in Fraunce.

Arupinus, A citie in Pannonie.

Arxata, A citie of Armenie.

A S

Aſa, In the language of Syria, ſignifieth a phiſition, or a healer of ſickneſſes. Of that name was the fifth king of Juda, the ſonne of Abia, who reigned. 41. yeares. He honored God, deſtroyed Idols, and was fortunate in battayle, ſo that he is compared to king Dauid, for his perſonage and vertuous qualities. He ſlue the king of Aethyope, wyth an infinite number of hys people. He was before the incarnation. 973. yeares.

Aſachæ, A people in the mountaines of Aethiope fiue dayes iourney from the ſea, who lyue onely by the hunting of Elephantes.

Aſachus, A ryuer in Macedonie, running by Heraclia, at the foote of the mountaine Dete.

Aſæ, A towne or people of Peloponneſus.

Aſæa, A certaine hyll.

Aſæus, A Greke that was ſlaine of Hercules.

Aſaph, An hebrue word, ſignifying gathering or finiſhing. Of this name was a ſinging man in the houſe of God, to whome king Dauid aſſygned certayne tytles of hys Pſalmes.

Asbeſtæ, A people of Lybia, where was an Oracle of Ammon.

Asbolus, The name of an hounde in Ouid.

Asbotus, A citie in Theſſaly.

Aſca, alias, Aſcu, A citie in Sicilie, buylded by Elymu, as prince of Troy.

Aſcalaphus, The ſonne of Mars and Aſtiocles. Alſo the ſonne of Acheron, and the Nymph Orphnes, which was tourned into an Owle.

Aſcalingium, The citie of Hilderhem.

Aſcalon, An hebrue worde ſignifying a poyſing or a ballance or fire of infamie. And it is the name of a citie in the higher Idumea, from Hieruſalem. 90. myles, as Egeſippus ſaith. The people of this citie were called Aſcalonitæ.

Aſcalus, The brother of Tantalus, and ſonne of Hymenæus.

Aſcancalis, The citie of Swetz in Germanie.

Aſcania, One of the yles called Cyclades. Alſo a country in Aſia, and a citie, and a mere or marſhe in Troas.

Aſcanius, The ſonne of Aeneas the Troian, and Creuſa hys wyfe, daughter to king Priamus of Troy: who comming into Italy with his father, ſuſtayned ſundrye labours: And finally, after hys father, reigned ouer the Latines, with Syluius Poſthumus, hys brother in lawe, and buylded the citie of Alba Longa. He was alſo called Julus: he reigned, xbiij. yeares. Of thys name was a ryuer in Phrygia, of the which Aſcanius was named.

Aſciburgium, The cytie of Emeriche in Germanie.

Aſcyræ, Arabyans.

Aſclepiades, A famous phiſition. Alſo a philoſopher, which beyng blind, was demaunded in ſcorne, what his blindneſſe pfoited him? he aunſwered, that he had the more compane by one boy that led him. It is alſo the name of an hyſtoriographer of Cyprus, and diuers other men.

Aſclepiodorus, A paynter in the tyme of Apelles. Alſo one of Alexandria, which was excellent in the mathematicalles, and knowledge of herbes and ſtones.

Aſconius Pedianus, The excellent expoſitour of the Orations of Tullie, when he was. 73. yeares olde, became blinde, and lyued afterward. 12. yeares in the great eſtimation and honour. He flouriſhed about the time of Nero the Emperour.

Aſcra, A towne in Boeotia, by the mountaine Helicon. In this towne was borne Heſiodus the famous poet: and therefore he is ſometime called Aſcræus.

Aſcruium, Called alſo Aſcriuium, A citie in Liburnia.

Aſculum, A citie in Pucil in Italy, where Curius and Fabritius diſcomfited Pyrrhus.

Aſdrubal, A name of diuers noble men in Carthage, of which, one maryed the ſiſter of Annibal: He ruled the citie of Carthage, and ſent Anniball into Spayne, and there exerciſed him in continuall labours. At the laſt, in the middle of his friendes and ſeruauntes, hee was ſlaine by a Moyſante ſlaue, whoſe maiſter he had ſlaine a little before. This ſlaue feared death ſo little, that when he was put vnto moſt horrible tormentes, he being in them, ſhewed alway a laughing countenaunce.

Aſellius Sempronius, An hyſtoriographer in the tyme of Scipio Aemilianus.

Aſia, æ, fœ. gen. The thirde part of the worlde, deuyded from Europa by the ſea called Boſphorus Thracius, and the great ryuer of Tanais: And from Affrike by the famous ryuer Nylus: and is in quantitie ſuppoſed to be as great, as both Europa and Affrike. Aſia minor, is a part of the other Aſia, which is nowe called Turkey, and contayneth in it theſe realmes, Pontus, Bithynia, Phrigia, Caria, Lycia, Lidia, and Lycaonia. Aſia is alſo a mere, fenne, or marſhe, nere to the ryuer Capſtrus.

Aſiáticus, Aſiacus, Aſiánus, & Aſius, a, um, Of or pertaining to Aſia.

Aſiáticus, A ſurname giuen to one of the Scipions, becauſe he ſubdued the leſſe Aſia.

Aſine, vel Aſina: A citie of Peloponneſus, nere to Meſſena. Aſine, Is alſo one of the Iles called Sporades, in the ſea Icariaticum.

Aſinius Pollio, A noble ſenatour and oratour Romayne, whom the emperour Octauian ſpecially fauoured: he was very eloquent, but noted of too much affectation, which take away the grace of his orations. He was in iudgement very exquiſite, and vſed to reprooue other, much better learned then himſelfe: as Tullie, Cæſar, Salluſt, and Liuie. He made the firſt common libarie, wherein he ſet the Image of Varro, and had victorie ouer the people of Dalmatia. To his honour the Poet Virgill made one of his Egloges. He liued. 80. yeares.

Aſinius Gallus, Sonne of Pollio, a man of great learning: he wrote a booke, wherein he compared and preferred his father to Tullie: This booke was afterwarde aunſwered by Claudius the Emperour. Tiberius the Emperor commaunded him to be ſlaine, for what cauſe it doth not appeare.

Aſis, A mountaine in Umbria.

Aſis terra, Is vſed for Aſia.

Aſiſium, A towne, whereof the people be called Aſiſinates.

Aſius, The ſonne of Dymas. Alſo a ryuer in Italy called Elino.

Aſmodeus, The name of a Deuill, and ſignifyeth a deſtroyer, or abundance of ſinne, or meaſuring fire.

Aſophis, A country in the province of Achaia.

Aſopis, idis, The daughter of Aſopus.

Aſopus, A ryuer in Siciponia, that runneth out of Phrygia. An other in Peloponneſus, nere to Coxinthe.

Aſorus, A ryuer running by the citie Heraclea.

Aſpaſia, A woman of Miletum in Greece, notably learned in Rhetorike: the loued and taught the eloquent Pericles Duke of Athens. Wherefore, notwithſtandyng, ſhe was a captiue, he toke hir to his wife. It is written, that ſhe was one of the concubines of Cyrus kyng of Perſia. And afterwarde by hir procurement, for diſpleaſure that ſhe bare to them, ſhe cauſed the Athenienſes to make warre againſt the Peloponnenſes.

Aſpaſius, The name of diuers learned men.

Aſpendius, A certaine Harper.

Aſpendus, A citie of Pamphilia.

Aſphaltites, or Aſphaltum, A lake of Syria, called Mare Mortuum: therein is the lyme myxte wyth bytumstone, called Bitumen, or Aſphaltum, wherein no lyuely thyng can byowne. Some ſuppoſe, that in that place ſtode the cities of Sodoma and Gomorrha.

Aſplendon, A citie of Phocis.

Aſporenus, An hyll in Aſia, nere to Pergamus.

Aſſabinus, A God among the Aethiopians.

Aſſacani, A country of Indie, wherein is the city Magoſa.

Aſſaracus, The ſonne of Tros, king of Troyans.

Aſſiſia, One of the names of Pallas, and Minerua.

Aſſuérus, A king of Perſians, who is alſo called Artaxerxes and Memnon.

Aſſur, A citie in Iudea, buylded by king Salomon.

Aſſyria, A region in Aſia, called nowe Syria, in Engliſh Surry, which marcheth on the Eaſt, vpon Indie: on the weſt, vppon the noble Ryuer of Tygris: on the ſouth, it hath the countrey Media: on the north the hill Caucaſus.

Aſſyrius, a, um, Of Aſſyria.

Aſta, A towne in Spaine. Alſo an olde towne in Liguria.

Aſtaboras, A ryuer in Aegypt.

Aſtaces, A ryuer running into Ponte.

Aſtacœni, People of India.

Aſtacus, A citie of Aſia, ſo named of Aſtacus, the ſonne of Neptunus and Olbia. Alſo a towne of Megaris, and a citie in Acarnania.

Aſtapus, A ryuer in Aſia, by which the people Rizophagi dwelled.

Aſtaroth, A name of Hebrue which ſignifieth ryches or flockes. Alſo making ſearch, or the mouth of the law. It was the name of an idol, which the Iewes honoured. Alſo the name of a citie in Syria, which was giuen to the children of Gerſon, of the kindred of Manalites. Alſo of a countrey, whereof mencion is made. Geneſeos. 14.

Aſtarte, A Goddeſſe of the Aſſyrians, which (after Cicero) was the fourth Venus, that was maryed to Adonis, to whome Salomon, to pleaſe his concubyne, wayted an Aultar.

Aſter, Aſtri, maſc. gen. Platos ſtruaunt.

Aſtéria, æ, fœm. gen. The name of the Iles of Delos and Rhodes.

Aſterie, was daughter to Cœus, and ſiſter to Latona, of whome Iupiter in likeneſſe of an Eagle begat Hercules: ſhe was tourned into a Quayle, and after into a ſtone.

Aſterion, A citie of Theſſalie: an other of Surrye. Alſo a ryuer of Achaia, running into the wood Nemæa. It was alſo the ſonne of Cometa, that followed Jaſon into Colchis.

Aſteris, or Aſteria, An yle betweene Samos and Ithaca. It is alſo a citie in Spaine, and the name of Titans daughter, the ſiſter of Latona.

Aſteruſia, An hill in the ſouth part of Crete.

Aſtice, A countrey of Thrace.

Aſticla, idem quod Aſtypalea.

Aſtigi, A citie of Spaine.

Aſtinome, The daughter of Chryſes, which Homer calleth Chryſeis.

Aſtióchia, The mother of Tlepolemus.

Aſtomi, People in the furthermoſt partes of Indie toward the Eaſt, which haue no mouthes, all their bodye hearie, and are arrayed wyth coten gathered on the leaues of trees. They eate no meate, but lyue onelye with ſweete ſauours of roſes, herbes, and fruites, and are quickly killed with any yll ſauour. Plin.

Aſtræa, The daughter of Aſtræus and Aurora, or after ſome, of Iupiter and Themis. It is taken for iuſtice, as the worde doth ſignifie. She deteſting the naughtie and vniuſt liuing of men, flewe to heauen, and was turned into the ſigne called Libra.

Aſtræus, One of the gyganter that rebelled againſt the Goddes.

Aſtrophe, One of the ſtarres called Pleiades.

Aſturúris, A nowne poſſeſſiue, and ſignifieth, of Aſturia: as Aſtur homo, a man of Aſturia.

Aſtura, A towne and ryuer in Italy.

Aſturia, A country in Spaine betweene Galicia and Portugal, which ſometime was famous for mines of gold, and ambling hackneyes called Aſturcones.

Aſturica Auguſta, A citie in Spayne called Aſtorga.

Aſtúricus, a, um, Of Aſturia.

Aſtyages, The laſt king of Medes, father to Mandana, the mother of noble king Cyrus, who was. 597. yeares before the incarnation, reigned. 38. yeares, and at laſt was depoſed by Cyrus. In other Apyages was by the Gorgons heade of Perſeus tourned into a marble ſtone.

Aſtyalus, A Troyan ſlaine by Neoptolemus.

Aſtyanax, actis, Was ſonne of Hector, by Andromache, whome after the winning of Troy, the Grekes cruelly threwe downe from a towre, ſo that his brayns cleaued to the walles.

Aſtycratia, The daughter of Eolus.

Aſtydamas, The name of two tragicall poets of Athens,

the father and sonne.

Astynous, A Tropan slaine by Diomedes.

Astyochia, The daughter of Laoz, which was rauyshed by Mars.

Astypalea, An yle in the Sea Aegeum. It is also a mountayne in Creta, an other by Athens.

Astypaleius, a, um, Of that yle.

Astychis, A king of Aegipt.

Astlas, The name of a southsayer.

Astylus, An Image, whereunto men were wont to runne for succour, as to a sanctuary.

A T

Ata, tæ, oz Ate, tes, in latine Noxa detrimentum, the name of a hurtfull spirite, alway wozking yll to men.

Atabyris, The auncient name of the Rhodes.

Arabyris, A very highe Mountaine in Rhodes.

Ataceni, People of Arabia.

Atacini, People of Narbone in Fraunce.

Atalanta, A mayden (daughter to Jasius a prince of Arcadia) came with diuers noble men of Greece into Etolia, to slea the great Boare which destroyed that countrey: the same Boare did first strike and wounde. But afterwarde he was slaine by Meleager, sonne of the king of Aetolia, who loued Atalanta, and toke hir to his wife, and had by hir a sonne called Parthenopæus, which was slayne at the battayle of Thebes. In other Atalanta, daughter of Cancus, king of the yle Scyros, contended in running wyth them that came to wowe hir. Whom she had vanquished and put manye to death (for that was the wager, oz else to haue hir) at last a noble yong man called Hyppomenes, (whiles they were running) threwe at sundrye times three apples of Scilde from him. in taking by whereof, he was tarved, and so ouerrunne. Ouid writeth, that as they two medled togyther in the temple of Cybele, the Goddesse hauing therat indignation, transformed them both into Lyons.

Atalantæus, a, um, Of Atalanta.

Atargata. Called also Atergatis, A Goddesse of the Syrians.

Atarna, A citie of Mysia in Asia.

Atarnes, The brother of king Darius.

Atax, A famous ryuer in Narbone. Also one that inhabiteth about that ryuer.

Atella, Looke Atrella.

Atergatis, Called also Athara Dercето, and Dagon. A monstruous Goddesse of the Sidonians, whose Image in the vpper part represented a woman, in the neather part like a fishe. This was the mother of Queene Semiramis, who toke the losse of hir chastitie so greuously, that she cast hir selfe headlong into a pole. And because hir body could not be founde, they beleued that she was transformed into a fishe. Wherefore the people of that countrey wouldе not eate any fishe.

Aternus, A ryuer in Italy.

Atesis, idem quod Athesis.

Ateste, A citie in the country of Venice.

Athalia, Daughter of cursed Queene Iesabell, and mother to king Ioab, being also mischieuous, hearing that hir sonne Ochozias was slayne, and Jozam (with all his housholde) destroyed, she being inflamed with desire to reigne, laying apart all womanly pittie, determined to destroy vtterly all the posteritie of Dauid. But through the goodnesse of God, Joas, the sonne of Ochozias, an infant, was vnwares to hir conueyed awaye by Iosabeth his aunt, and hid in the house of Ioiades the bysshop, and there kept sixe yeares. After this cursed woman Athalia, had reigned ouer Jerusalem seuen yeares, Joas (which was supposed to be slayne) was by Ioiades made king: whereof she being aduertised, and crying to the people to slea Joas, was taken of the men of warre, and shamefully drawne vnto the gate of the citie, called Mularia, and there slayne. She was before the incarnation. 900. yeares.

Athamanes, People of Epyrus.

Athamas, Aeolus his sonne, and king of Thebes, maryed Nephyles, and on hir begat Helles and Phyxeus. But when Nephyles was by Liber pater cast in furie, and ranne into the woodes, Athamas maryed Jno the daughter of Cadmus: who as a cruel stepmother with so many and grieuous complaints brought Helles and Phixeus in hatred of their father, that for safegarde of themselues, they toke the Ramme with the golden fleese. And sitting on his backe, swamme ouer the sea at Helespont, where Helles was drowned, a gaue name vnto the sea. Wherfore Juno being angry with Jno the stepmother, cast Athamas into a furie oz madnesse: who in his rage seing Jno his wife comming towarde him with hir two children, thought it had beene a Lionesse & hir whelpes, & therfore caught fiercely Learchus one of the children, and dashed him against the stones: which thing Jno seing, fled away with Melicertus hir other sonne, and cast hir selfe downe of an huge rocke, and so the cruell stepmother ended hir lyfe.

Athamanteus, a, um, Of Athamas.

Athamanticus, a, um, idem.

Athamantis, idos, fœ. gen. Jno, oz Leucothea, wyfe of Athamas.

Athanasius, The Bysshop of Alexandria, the peare of our Lozde, 348. A man of holy life, and great learning, sustayned manye and great persecutions of the Arrians. For when in the counsayle (holden at Laodicia) hee had confounded them with most puissaunt arguments, he stirred almost all the worlde against him, wherefore he fled. And sixe yeares continually he abode hyd in a dyke Cesterne, where he neuer sawe the sunne shyne. Then was he discouered by a Mayden, and fled eftsoones by the helpe of God, wandring about the world, notwithstanding Princes, their people and hostes, did continually persecute him, so that he might scace finde anye place to abyde in. Also a common harlot was brought against him, which affirmed, that he had accompanyed with hir. But hee alwaye sustayning all things with a wonderfull patience, at last dyed, the yeare of our Lozde. 379.

Athara, looke Atergatis.

Athenæ, The famous citie of Athens, betweene Macedonia, and Achaia in the sea coast, that once was called Actæ, and after Attica. This (as Hyginus sayth) was first buylded by Cecrops, and called Cecropia, afterwarde by Mopsius, Mopsopia, and last of all, Athenes of Minerua, whome the Greekes call Athenam. For they report, when Neptune and Minerua contended for the name, that it was agreed betweene them, that he shoulde haue the name, that gaue vnto mankind the worthiest and most profitable gift. Whereupon Neptune brought forth an hosse, and Minerua an Olyue tree. The matter being put to voyces, which was the most profitable. Neptune was cast by one voyce, and gaue place vnto Minerua. This Vniuersitie was the inuentour and deuisour of all liberall artes and Sciences, and the mother oz nourse of al auncient Philosophers, Ozatours, and Poets, and therefore was called, as it were, the marte towne of all good learning, whether they resozted to studie out of all partes of the worlde.

Athæneon, A famous painter, that learned of Glaucion of Corynth.

Athæneum, A place in Rome, where all sciences were read.

Athenæus, A learned philosopher in ỹ time of Augustus, borne at Selecucia in Cilicia. In other was a Grammarian vnder M. Antonius, which wrote a booke de Dipnosophistis.

Athene, nes, The name of Minerua.

Athenodorus, A philosopher, which left with Octauian the Emperour this lesson, When he tooke his leaue of him: Noble prince, when you be wroth, neyther saye nor doe anye thing, vntill you haue perused the .xxiij. Greeke letters, and remembred the order of their places, where they stand: that the passion of yre, by withdrawing your mind to another thing, may languish and vanishe away.

Athenopolis, A towne of the Halisthians.

Athesinus, A ryuer running out of the lake Apennium, and falling into Ister.

Athesis, A ryuer in the country of Venice, running by the citie of Trent, and through Verona, and so passeth into the sea Adriaticum.

Athlochari, People of Scythia in Asia.

Athos, oz Athon, An hyll of Thrace, of a wonderfull height.

Athrax, The father of Hippodamia: also a ryuer of Etolia, and a citie in Thessalia.

Auna, a towne of the Lucans in Italy, the people whereof be called Atinates.

Atlantes, Mores dwelling about the hyll Atlas.

Atlanteus, and Atlanticus, a, um, Of Atlas.

Atlanticæ insulæ, Two Ilandes in the borders of Lybia, which they call the fortunate yles. Seldome raine is in them, and very temperate, swete windes, and bringing pleasaunt and holesome dewes: the greunde barrie and fertile of it selfe without mans trauayle, bringeth forth swete and delectable fruits vnto the yle people. The ayre holesome and temperate, without verye great change in the times of the yeare. For the Northen windes passing through the deserres of Lybia, before they come to those yles, are much broken and abated in their sharpenesse. Those windes that come from the sea coast, are seldome, and bring temperate showers.

Atlantides, The seuen daughters of Atlas. Also certaine starres.

Atlantis, An Iland fiue dayes sayling from the hill Atlas, after which it is named.

Atlas, antis, Of this name were three. One king of Italy, and father of Electra. An other of Arcadia, father of Hyas. The thirde of Mauritania, called the greatest, the brother of Prometheus, who, as the Greekes suppose, dyd first finde out the course of the starres, by an excellent imagination. Wherefore the Poetes fayned, that he sustayned the firmament with his shoulders. It is supposed he was about. 1599. yeares afore the incarnation. It is also the name of an hill in Barbaria, high and small, which pearceth the clowdes. Atlas is also a great ryuer in the north part of the worlde, running into Ister.

Atlantis nepos, Mercurie.

Atlantiades idem.

Atosla, The daughter of king Cyrus.

Atracius, a, um, The adiectiue of Atrax.

Atricia, ars, Arte magike.

Atramitæ, People of Arabia felix.

Atrani, People of Italy, mencioned of Plato.

Atrax, acis, A ryuer of Aetolia, whereof a certaine people are called Atraces.

Atrebates, A people of a country in Fraunce called Artois.

Atreus, The sonne of Pelops and Hippodamia, king of Mycene, founde first the Eclipse of the Sunne: and because his brother Thiestes had lyen wyth his wyfe, he slue and rosted his sayd brothers children, and made him to eate them: who knowing it, and asking therfore vengeaunce, had answere made by the God Apollo, that if he did carnally knowe his owne daughter Pelopia, he should get on hir a sonne, which shoulde reuenge him. So begat he Egisthus, who afterwarde slue his vncle Atreus, and in lykewyse his eldest sonne Agamemnon. This was before the incarnation. 1258. yeares.

Atreus, a, um, The adiectiue of Atreus.

Atria, A towne in the country of Venice, called also Adria, wherof the sea Adriaticum was named.

Atridæ, In the plurall number: Agamemnon and Menelaus.

Atrydes, æ. patronymicum. Of Atreus.

Atropatus, A capitaine of the Medes, after whom a part of the country was called Atropatia.

Atropos, One of the fatall Ladyes, which is feigned to breake the threade of lyfe.

Atta, A port. Also a Citie in Arabia felix.

Attacum, A towne of Spaine.

Attalia, A citie of Pamphilia.

Attalus, A king in the lesse Asia, marueylous ryche, of whome all magnifike and stately thinges are called Attalica.

Atteius Philologus, A learned mã very familiar first with Sallust, and after with Pollio.

Attella, oz Atella, A towne in Italy, where was a great and famous theatre.

Atellanus, a, um, and Atellanius, of Atella.

Atthis, idis. fœ. gen. Was daughter of Cranaus, whome some suppose to haue giuen the name to the countrey called Attica.

Attica, A countrey in Greece, wherein stode the famous citie of Athens, the nource of all sciences.

Attice, An aduerbe signifying in the eloquence of speach, of Athens.

Atticismos, A peculiar phrase oz eleganeie of the Athens tongue.

Atticisso, To speake in the Athens tongue.

Atticus, attica, um, Of Athens.

Attila, looke Attyla.

Attilius Regulus, A noble Consull of Rome, vanquished at rentimes the Carthaginenses, was at last taken by a sleight, and being bounden was sent to Rome, that for him they might exchaunge a great number of prisoners of theyr people. But at his comming, he exhorted the Romaines, not to make such exchaunge, considering his age and debilitie. And so with a glad will he returned to his enimies, knowing that he shoulde be cruelly put to death. So much loued he his countrey. Wherefore at his returne, the Carthaginenses caused his eye lydes to be cut of, that he moughte neuer sleepe, and then to be put in an hollowe tree, beyng stocked full of nayles, the poynts inwarde, where he continued till he dyed.

Attis, looke Athis.

Attrebates, looke Atrebates.

Attropatia, oz Atropatia, A part of the countrey of Media.

Attyla, of some called Athyla, A valiant Scythian prince, after he had subdued Pannonia, entered into Italy, destroyed ỹ citie Aquileia, & came towarde Rome. Wherof the Emperour Valentinianus being aferde, sent vnto him Leo the bysshop of Rome, with the Consuls and certaine Senatours, who submitted themselues vnto him. And when his host supposed, he would haue them in contempt, and continue his iourney to destroy Rome, he pardoning them, departed: whereat all men marueyled. But he being demaunded why he had so done, answered, that whiles the Bysshop and Senatours spake vnto him, he beheld standing on eyther hande of him, a men of armes of excellent personage, euerye of them holding a naked swearde ouer him, manacing to slea him, if he spake any vnfitting woode, oz did make anye further attemptate. Wherefore he discharged the Romaines with gentle language, perswading his host to holde them content. Afterwarde he entred into Germanie, wasting the countrey: and in his returne towarde Hungarie, he maryed a wyfe. In which mariage he so excellciuelye fylled himselfe with meates and wynes, that thereby he fell in a bloding, and so dyed, after the incarnation. 401. yeares. And at the beginning he called him selfe the scourge of God.

Attuacuum, The towne of Antwarpe in Brabant.

Atura, A towne of Aquitaine.

Aturius, A ryuer in Fraunce, called bulgarly, Ledou.

Atys, A childe of wonderfull beautie, beloued of Cybele the mother of Goddes, & was turned into a pyne tree. He was also a king of Lydia, descending lineally from Hercules, and Omphale. Also a ryuer of Sicelie.

A V

Auantici, A people of Fraunce.

Auaricum, Bierron in Berry, in the royaline of Fraunce.

Auctolicus, A thefe that tranſformed himſelfe into diuers ſhapes.

Auctonus, The ſonne of Apollo and Cyrene.

Aucula, or Aquila, A towne in Thuſcane, called Aquapendens.

Auella, or Auellinum, A towne of Campaine in Italy.

Auentinus, An hyll at Rome.

Auentinus, a,um, Of that hyll.

Auentiorum colonia, or Auenio, Auenion, a citie in Prouaunce.

Auerni, People of the countrey in Fraunce called Auergne.

Auernus,ni,maſſcgen. and in the plurall number, Auerna, orum,neutrgen. A lake in Campaine,which was dedicate vnto Pluto king of hell, where men ſuppoſe to bee an entrie or paſſage to hell.

Auernus,a,um, and Auernalis,le, Of Auernus : ſometime of hell.

Auerrois, A great philoſopher, and phyſition, enimie to Auicen, and alſo to Chriſt. And for hys great commentes written vpon Ariſtotle, he named Commentator. He was aboute the yeare of our Lorde, 1145.

Auſidena,æ, A towne of Italy.

Auſidius, A mans name.

Auſidus, A ryuer in the country of Naples in Italy.

Auga,vel Auge,es, The mother of Telephus by Hercules. She, when hir father vnderſtode that hoe was with childe, was giuen to a ſhypman to be caſt into the ſea. But before it was done, ſhe was deliuered of a chylde, which was hidden in the buſhes, and afterwarde found by ſhepheardes, and brought to Coythus, who kept it as his owne,and named it Telephus, becauſe it was founde ſucking an hynde. Auga hir ſelfe was giuen to certaine merchauntes that brought hir into Caria,and preſented hir to king Theuthras, which had hyr in great eſtimation,and toke hir to his wife.

Augea, A citie of Laconia : An other in Laconia.

Augea, king of Elis one of Jaſons companions to attaine the golden fleece. He had an oxe ſtalle that ſhoulde receyue 3000.oxen, and had not beene cleanſed or ryddē in 30.yeares. Wherefore he thinking it a matter vnpoſſible,hired Hercules to cleanſe it : who conueying into it the ryuer Alpheus,with the water thereof did eaſily ridde away the dung gathered by ſo many oxen. 30. yeares ſpace. Which otherwyſe vneath wyth any labour he coulde haue atchieued. In the ende, when he required the rewarde that was couenaunted, Augea began to hark and finde quarrels, taking Phileus hys owne ſonne to be arbiter or vmpier betweene them. Phileus gaue iudgement wyth Hercules againſt his father: for which doyng hee chaſed hym out of hys realme into Duiychium. Hercules thereat ſore diſpleaſed, gathering a power, ſpoyled and ſacked the citie Elis, kylled Augea,and bringing Phyleus, out of baniſhment, made him king in his fathers rowme.

Augias, the ſonne of Phoybas,or after ſome of Nyſeus, or Epochus : out of his eyes appeared as it were ſunne beames. Other affirme that this Augias was king of Epires, or Eliderſes, ſthat Euriſtcus cauſed Hercules to make cleane his ſtable, wherein was an huge heape of dung.

Auguſta Cæſarea, A city in Spayne, vpon the riuer Iberus.

Auguſta Emerita, A citie in Portugall.

Auguſta Taurinorum, Turine.

Auguſta Treuirorum, The citie of Trier, or Treues.

Auguſta Rauricum, A citie in Almaine, called Baſile, or Baſilea.

Auguſta Vindelicorum, A goodly and beautifull citye in Germaine,called Auſbourgh.

Auguſta Veſtonum, Soyſſon in Campaine.

Auguſta Gemella, A citie in Spaine.

Auguſtæ, The ſurname of diuers Empereſſes of Rome.

Auguſtinus, The famous Doctor in Chryſten Church, borne in Affrike, in a towne called Gathenſis, was of ſuch excellent witte, that in his childehode he learned all the ſeuen liberall ſciences,without an inſtructor. He was wonderfully learned, ſpecially in the doctrine of Plato: whereby he was the rather induced to imbrace the Chriſtian fayth. He fauoured the errours of the Manichees : but by the continuall prayer of hys good mother Monica, and the perſwaſion of ſaint Ambroſe, he was at laſt conuerted to the true fayth. They both replenished with the holye Ghoſt, dyd ſing together the Pſalme Te deum, aunſwering mutually the one to the other. Afterwarde in prayer, wepting, and preachyng, he ſo much profited, that he was had in great reuerence of all men, and wrote moe bookes than euer did anye in the Church of the Latines. He liued 76. yeares, & was biſhop 40. yeres. & died in the yeare of our Lorde, 437.

Auguſtodunum, The citie of Autun in Fraunce.

Auguſtonemetum, Reuers in Fraunce.

Auguſtorium, The citie of Poyters.

Auguſtus, The ſeconde Emperour of Rome, ſonne of Octauius a Senatour, and nephew to Julius Cæſar, whome he ſucceeded. This man was wiſe, curteous, liberall, and of much moderation and clemencie. when he had ouercome Alexandria, and the Citizens, for that they had ſtubburnelye rebelled, did take for nothing but extremity, he, taking with him his friende Arius of the ſame citie, went vp into an high place, and layde vnto them : friendes, I pardon your offence and ſpare your citie, firſt, for the greatneſſe and nobleneſſe of it : ſecondly for Alexanders ſake that founded it, and thirdlye at the contemplacion of this my friende Arius, your countreyman. Where by he both ſhewed a ſingular example of clemencie, and to his friende got great loue and eſtimation. Hearing on a time that great Alexander (after that hee had conquered the moſt part of the worlde, before he was 33. yeres of age) did doubt wyth himſelfe what he might doe all the reſidue of hys lyfe : he greatelye maruayled that ſo noble a prince dyd not count it a farre harder matter well to gouerne that he had gotten, then by might and force ſtill to increaſe hys dominion. In the 42. yere of this Emperours regne, our ſauiour Chriſt was borne, when that Auguſtus had confirmed ſuch a generall peace in the worlde, as neuer was but once before, from the beguyning of the Romaine Empyre.

Auia, or rather Luia, A citie in Spaine,called Villalon.

Auicenna, or Abicena, A famous phyſition, whome ſome ſuppoſe to bee of a citie in Spaine called Haſpalis, or Cluile. Some name hym prince of Aboalim. Some ſay he was king of Bithynia. He was excellently learned, and wrote in the Arabiae tongue many noble workes of Philoſophie naturall and metaphyſike. Hee comprehended phyſicke in fiue bookes, wherein he called himſelfe the interpretour of Galene. He was about the yeare of our Lorde, 1151. And was (as ſome ſuppoſe) poyſoned by Auerrois, whome he ſiue before he dyed.

Auidienus, A mans name in Horace, which was ryche, and yet a very niggarde.

Auierci, People of a citie in Normandie,called Roane.

Auierci, People of Orlyaunce in Fraunce.

Auliſ,lis,or lidis, A little countrey or ſhire in Boeotia, in Greece. It was alſo a great citie and hauen, where the princes of Greece aſſembled togither, and conſpired the deſtruction of Troy.

Aulocrene,nes, A countrey wherein was the plaine trée, on which Marſyas, being vanquiſhed of Apollo, was hanged.

Aulon, The name of a mountaine and citie in Calabria, where groweth excellent good wynes. Alſo of two other Cities, the one in Macedonia, the other in Cilicia.

Aulus, A name vſed among the Romaines.

Auo, or Auus, A ryuer in the hither Spaine.

Auras, A great ryuer in Europe, falling into Iſter.

Aurélia, A family in Rome.

Auriga,æ, A ſigne in the firmament vpon the hornes of the Bull, that hath topiced to it one cleere ſtarre. In the hande hand of Auriga be two ſtarres, called Hædi, whoſe riſing and going downe doth oftentimes cauſe great tempeſts.

Aurigda, A cyte of Cyrene, called Zodra.

Aurora, The daughter of Titan, and Terra.

Aurunca, A citie buylded by Uſon.

Aurunci, or Arunci, An auncient people in Italy.

Ausa, A citie of Spaine.

Auſci, People of the citie Aux, in Guyan.

Auſcij,idem quod Aurelij.

Auſer, or Auſeris, A ryuer in Italy, neere the citie Luca.

Auſus,tudis, The countrey called Hus, where Job dwelled.

Auſones, Were the auncyent kings of Italy.

Auſonia, The part of Italy, wherein ſtandeth Benceuent. and Caiea,ſo called of Auſon, the ſonne of Ulyſſes and Calypſo. Afterwarde all Italy was called Auſonia, and the people Auſonij.

Auſonius,a,um, and Auſon, Of Auſonia.

Auſonius, A Sophiſter. Alſo a Poet of Burdeux in Gaſcoyne.

Auſtráuia, An yle in the Occean Sea, towarde the nozth part of the worlde, called Gleſaria.

Auſtria, Is a great countrey, on the vttermoſt eaſt part of Germanie, ſometime called Pannonia ſuperior. It bounderh Eaſtwarde vpon the realme of Hungarie : Weſtwarde, vpon the countrey called Noricum, and Tauriſcum : Southwarde, vpon Italy : Nozthwarde, it is incloſed wyth the great ryuer Danubius or Iſter, in Dutche Donow. In it is the noble citie Vienna, ſette vpon the ſayde ryuer. There is alſo a famous vniuerſitie, where eſpecially the mathematicall ſciences are moſt exactly taught.

Authe, One of the ſeuen daughters of the Spaunt Alcyoneus, whome Hercules ſlue.

Autini, or rather Auteri, The Iriſhe men.

Autóchthones, People which began in the countrey where they inhabit: which name was giuen to the of Athens.

Autololes, A people of Mauritania.

Autólycus, The ſonne of Mercurie or Deucalion, and Graundfather to Ulyſſes by the mother ſide : famous for his thefte. There was one Autolycus ſeiowe to Jaſon, an other was a noble Wreſtler.

Automala,vel Automalax, A citie of Cyrene, called alſo Pentapolis.

Automedon,ontis, Achilles Chariot man.

Autómolæ, A people which came out of Egypt into Ethiope. Among the Greekes it doth ſignifie runnagates, or runnawayes.

Autonoë,es, The daughter of Cadmus and Hermione, wife of Ariſtæus, and mother of Acteon, which after hir is called Autonoëius.

Auricum, The citie of Charters in Fraunce.

Auximum, A citie of Picenum in Italy, called commonlye Oſimum.

Axantos, An yle in the Occean ſea beneath Englande and Irelande. Plin. li. 4. ca. 16.

Axiaces, A ryuer called alſo Hypanis.

Axiocus, A philoſopher, to whome Plato wrote a booke of death.

Axion, The brother of Alphesiboea.

Axium, A citie of Mylia, called commonly Chilia.

Axius, A ryuer in Macedonia.

Axon, A ryuer of the Jones in Aſia.

Axona, A ryuer in Fraunce, in the borders of Reynes, called Deine.

Axones, People of Fraunce.

Axos, A citie in Thace.

Axus, idem quod Axius.

Axylus, A man of Phrygia, verye happie in all thinges pertayning to the lyfe of man, who vſed great humanitie towarde ſtraungers.

Azan, An hill in Arcadie, where Cybele the mother of the Goddes was honored.

Azana, A country of Ethiope towarde the red ſea.

Azanes, People of Arcadie.

Azanæa, A region of Arcadie, barraine and vnable to be tilled : loke the prouerbe, Azanæa mala.

Azania, Azanium, or Azeanum, A citie of the leſſe Aſia.

Azanium, A well, the water whereof being drunke, cauſeth men to hate the ſauour and taſte of wine.

Azeſia, A name of Proſerpina.

Azzis, A citie in the leſſe Armenie, neere to Euphrates.

Azotus, A citie in Syria. Alſo an other of Achaia.

BAal, In the tongue of Syria, ſignifieth Lorde, and is attributed to Jupiter. After ſome interpretation it ſignifieth, hauing dominions, ſubiection, or poſſeſſion. It was an ydoll, that the Samaritanes and Moabites wo; ſhipped Babba, A towne of Mauritania,called Iulia Campeſtris.

Babaches, One of the names of Bacchus.

Babel, Signifieth confuſion or mixture. It was the name of a tower buylded by Nemroth, before the incarnation 2744. yeares. At the buylding hereof was the firſt confuſion of tongues. This was done in the land of Senaar, in the country of Chaldea.

Babylas, A famous Biſhop of Antioche.

Babylon, A great citie in Chaldee and ſignifieth confuſion, or tranſlatiō. Where was a tower buylded by Nemroth, in height fiue myles. 120. paces. Afterwarde being enlarged by Semiramis, it conteyned in compaſſe. 60. myles. The walles were in heigit. 300 foote, in thicknelle of breadth. 75. foote, and had. 100. gates of braſſe. There ranne through the middle of it, the famous ryuer Euphrates. It is alſo a towne, or rather a great citie in Egypt.

Babylonia, The country where ſ citie of Babylon ſtandeth the nozth it is bounded with Meſopotamia : on the weſt with Arabie the deſerte on the eaſt, with Suſiana: on the ſouth, with the red ſea. In this country is Chaldea.

Babylónycus, and Babylonius, a, um, Of or pertayning to Babylon.

Babyrſa, A ſtrong towne of Aſia, in the countrey Auropatia, neere to the citie Artaxata.

Babys, A ſwyfty minſtrell, Marſyas brother.

Bacales, People in the ſea coaſtes of Lydia.

Bacchæ,arum, women which ſacrificed to Bacchus.

Bacchemon, The ſonne of Perſeus and Andromede.

Bacchánal,or Bacchanále,lis,neu.gē. The place where the ſolemnitie of Bacchus was kept.

Baccheis,idis, A woman belonging to Bacchus.

Bacchíadæ, People which came out of Corinth into Sicilie, and had their firſt beginning of Bacchis, the daughter of Dyonyſius.

Bácchicus, or Bacchiéius, a, um, Of Bacchus.

Bácchides, A capitaine that betrayed the citie Sinopis to Lucullus.

Bacchius, A ſwoorde player. Alſo a Corinthian, who married the daughter of Cypſelus, the king of Megarence.

Bacchius,a,um, Of Bacchus.

Bacchus,chi, called alſo Liber, Dionyſius, Oſiris, Priapus, Leneus, Bromius, and Broimus, The ſonne of Jupiter, by Semele. The poets feigne, that after Jupiter had gotten Semele with childe, ſhe deſired him to compame with hir, like as he did with Juno, in his diuine maieſtie : wherefore he bringing with him his thunder and lightning, came to hir, but ſhee not able to ſuſteine his preſence, fell in trauayle, was deliuered long before hir time, and dyed. Jupiter tooke and deliuered the childe to Mercurius, who by his commaundement carped it vnto Nyſa, where he was nourished vp by the Nymphes. Lyke fonliſhely other imagined, that Jupiter made an hole in hys thygh to put in the chylde, where it remayned vntyll the full tyme of hys byrth. This man among the Greekes did ſet vines and make wyne. Alſo he firſt yoked oxen in the plough, and gathering

ring vnto him a great number of people, went a great part of the woꝛlde, destroying monsters and tyrannes, and conquered the countrey of Inde: but his people corrupting in wyne, and drynking superfluously therof, fell to fighting among themselues. Wherefore he pro-uided, that when they dranke, they should haue in theyr handes nothyng but canes or other light thinges.

Bacres, A name of Bacchus.

Bactra, orum, A citie in the furthest part of Persia, the people wherof are called Bactri & Bactriani: in whom is such inhumanitie, that when their parents be very sicke or olde, they throwe them vnto fierce dogges, which doe rent them in peces, and deuoure them. The women of that countrey vse passing gorgeous apparel, with swete ointments and other ryche attyre, and are of the seruantes farre more obeyed and reuerenced then the men are. They neuer come abroade but on horsebacke, with riche ornamentes of pretyous stones and Jewelles. Chastitie they regarde not, but make themselues common, both to their seruauntes, and to straungers, they husbandes finding no fault thereat, ouer whome they seeme to haue dominion.

Bactriani, The people of that countrey.

Bactriāna, A countrey wherin were sometime a thousand cities. It is bounded on the west, with Margiane: on the North, with Sogdione, deuyded from it with the ryuer Oxo: on the South with Aria, and Paropanisade.

Bactros, A ryuer of the Bactrians, whereof a citie is called Bactrum.

Badacum, A citie of Noxice, or of Bauarie, named at this day Salzaburgensis, Of the ryuer Salza.

Badas, A ryuer of Surry, neere wherunto Memnon was buryed.

Bæton, A citie of Spaine, nowe called Tarifa.

Bæuecus, luke Benacus.

Bænis, A great ryuer in Portugall.

Bætæ, A countrey in Spaine, which taketh his name of the ryuer Bætis, running through it. It was also called Turdetania, and is the South parte of Spayne, where be nowe the cities of Cybile and Cyzduba, and the realme of Granado, and extendeth to the pilers of Hercules. It hath on the North, Portugall, beyng deuyded from it with the ryuer Guadiana: on the west, the maine Occean Sea: on the South, the streightes of Marroke, and the middle sea: on the east, as it were a lyne drawne from the citie Balearia, vnto Ina.

Bæticola, A dweller by the ryuer Bætis.

Bætiræ, A citie of Narbon in Fraunce, called Beziers, some wryte Bæterræ, some Biterræ, other Blitera.

Bætis, A ryuer in Spaine by Granado, called now Guadalquener.

Bætulon, A ryuer in Spayne called also Bethalon, commonly Beson.

Baganum, The city of Turney.

Bagoas, An Eunuche, whome great Alexander hyghlye loued.

Bagrada, Bagradas, or Bengrada, A ryuer in Affryke, by the citie called Vtica, where Attilius Regulus, and the host of the Romaynes, slue a serpent, which was in length, 120. fote.

Bahal, or Baal, The vvell of Tyre.

Baiæ, arum, A towne in Campania, on the sea side, betweene Puteolis, and Misenum, for temperatenesse of ayre, and fayrenesse of buylding, much haunted of the auncient Romaynes. There are hote waters naturall, both pleasaunt and wholesome. Therefore it is supposed all other hote Bathes naturall were called Baiæ.

Bairon, An historiographer, which wrote an abridgement of the gestes of great Alexander.

Baius, The companion of Vlysses, buried in Campania: after whome the towne Baiæ was named.

Bal, idem quod Baal.

Balaam, Signifieth the age of the people, the deuouring or destruction of them. It was the name of a sothsayer, whome Balac the king of Moabites, desired to curse the Israelites, who by the waye was lette by an aungell, that the Asse whereon he rode, did beholde, and asked why he did beate him. And then he himselfe perceyued the Aungell, who bade him go to Balac, and speake nothing, but that he commaunded hym. And so finally, he blessed the Israelites, contrary to the expectation of Balac.

Balanæa, A towne not farre from Laodicia.

Balbina, A virgin in Rome, martyred vnder Traiane.

Baldraca, A pope maybe, that wouldе in no wise be corrupt by Otho the Emperour, notwithstanding all hys great offers and promises.

Beleardus, A christen philosopher in Fraunce, disagreeing in some pointes from the Church of the Latines.

Baleares, Two plandes in the Spanish sea, thirty myles dystaunt one from the other: the one called Maiorica, towarde the East, ten myles in length: the other named Minorica, onely sixe myles. Flozus wryteth, that the custome is in those plandes, that when the children are hungrye, their mothers set vp their breakefast on the ende of an high beame or pole, so that they cannot come vnto it vntill they strike it downe with their slinges: by which practise the people of those countreyes become verye cunning in that feate. There was in those plandes so great stoze of Cunnyes, that, as Plinie wryteth, they were fayne to desire ayde of men of Augustus the Emperour to destroy them, for feare they wouldе haue vtterly vndermined their landes.

Baleâris, re, and Beleâricus, a, um, Of or belonging to those yles.

Balesium, A towne on the sea coast in Italy, not farre frō Brundyse.

Balinienses, People of Latium, called also Trebulani.

Ballio, onis, The name of a Bawde in Plautus, of whom other Bawdes be called Balliones.

Ballienus, Catilines Vncle.

Ballonoti, or Bellonoti, People of Scythia in Europe.

Balsa, A citie in Portugall, called also Taula.

Baltia, An yle in the Germaine sea.

Bambotum, A ryuer of Mauritania.

Bambyca, A citie of Mesopotamia, called also Edesa and Sacra.

Bambyce, A citie in Syria.

Banasa, A towne in Affryke, called also Valentia.

Bannomanna, An yle, a dayes tourney from Scythia.

Banurri, Inhabitaunts of the countrey called Tingitana.

Bara, An yle not farre from Brundyse.

Barachum, A towne in Cyzene.

Baracura, A port towne in Inde, called also Bangella.

Baragasa, A towne in Ethiope.

Baramalacum, A towne of the people called Nabathei, in Affrike.

Bárathrum, thri, A place in hel. Also a dungeon in Athens, where prisoners were kept.

Barbaria, A countrey, where dwelleth people rude and beastly: sometyme euery countrey, except Greece and Italy.

Barbésula, A towne in Spaine called Barbesul. Also a ryuer that runneth by that towne.

Barcei, People neere to Carthage.

Barce, A citie in Affrike called also Ptolomais. It was the name of Sichæus nurse, and a Queene of Lybia. Also a promontozie.

Barcenis, A wood in Germanie, beyonde the ryuer Rhene, called Sylua nigra, which deuideth the Swaues from the Cheruscians.

Barcha, The surname of Amilcar, Hanniballes father.

Barcino, A citie in Spaine, called commonly Barcelona.

Bardasanes, A bishop of Mesopotamia, which wrot against Marcion in the Syzian tongue.

Barderate, A citie in Fraunce.

Bardesanes, An excellent Astronomer.

Bardi, were certaine Witches or prophetes in Gallia.

Barduli, People of Biscaie in Spaine, called also Turduli, and Tapari.

Barca, A towne in Spaine.

Bargeni, People of Affrike.

Bargus, A ryuer of Thrace.

Bargylia, orum, A citie in Caria.

Bargylus, An hill in Asia.

Baria, A place among the Sabines.

Bariona, Johnlon, or the son of John, as Barptholomens, Ptolomeus sonne, whereby it seemeth, that Bar, in the tongue of Syria or Hebzue, signifieth a sonne.

Barium, A town of Puel in Italy, called cōmonly Barry.

Barnichius, A ryuer in Peloponnesus.

Barnus, untis, A towne in Macedonia, neere to Heraclea.

Barra, A towne of the Dzobians in Italy.

Barrus, A mans name in Horace, which was an exceeding great detractour.

Barum, A certaine citie.

Barutis, or Barutum, luke Beritos.

Basabocatis, People of Aquitaine in Fraunce.

Basan, A countrey beyonde the ryuer of Jozdan in Judea, which was deuyded to two of the trybes. It may be interpreted, most fertile and fatte.

Bascropeda, A countrey of the Medes, neere Marmonia.

Basilæa, A citie in Germanie, called Basile.

Basilei, People of Sarmatia, surnamed Iasiges, and Vrgi.

Basilia, An yle in the Northy Occean sea.

Basilicus sinus, A bolome of the sea neere Ionia.

Basilidæ, A people of Scythia in Europe, hauing theyr beginning of Hercules and Echidna.

Basilides, An heretike, which affirmed that Christ was not crucified, but Symon Cyrenus: who (as the Euangelistes wryte) was constrayned to beare the crosse, when our Sauiour waxed faynt throughy effusion of bloud by his scourging. He sayde it was none offence to denie Christ in the time of persecution. Hee denyed the last resurrection. Against whose heresies a learned man, named Agrippa Castor wrote certaine bokes, which were after in great price among the Christians. He was about the peare of our Lorde, 110.

Basilidiani, The followers of Basilides.

Basilius, A man of incomparable vertue and learning, borne in Capadocia, of a noble house. His parents (as Gregorius Nazianzenus, wryteth) were christians: his father was named Basilius Magnus, by which name hee was also called. His father taught him alwell Grammer, as other learnings called Quadriuiales. After hee went to Cesaria, and from thence to Constantinople, where he learned Rhetozike, Logike, and philosophie moze perfectly. From thence he came to Athens, where he disputing with diuers great learned men, finally vanquished them. But whiles he exactly studied in philosophie, Gregozie Nazianzene, being then wholly dedicate to the study of scripture, a seruice of God, louing Basil intirely, came into the schole where he read in a chaire, and taking him by the hande, brought him to a monastery, where laying apart all bokes of philosophie, hee onely intended to the reading of holy scripture. At the last, being led by the spirite of God, they deuided themselues. Basile going about the countrey Pontus, taught the people the true fayth. After he was Bishop of Cesaria, and exiled by Valens the Emperour, who fauoured the Arrians heresie. He was of such a reuerent grauitie, with humblenesse, that the people loued him, the Emperour and men in authozitie feared him, so that hee was restoured reuoked from exile. When other of the true fayth were put out of the countrey, Basile onely for feare was reserued. He was about the peare of our Lozde, 367. There were two other Bishops of the same name, one of Ancyra, in the time of Constantine: he wrote against Marcellus: An other of Cilicia, vnder Anastasius.

Basilus, Is also a ryuer in Asia.

Basilus, One of the sleers of Cæsar. Also a notable pyrate.

Basiltani, People of Spaine, called also Basiuli.

Bassareus, A name of Bacchus.

Bassaricus, a, um, Of Bacchus.

Bassaris, idis, A priest of Bacchus.

Bassianus, A byshop in the tyme of Imbzose, borne at Syracusa.

Bassus, The name of diuers learned men.

Basternæ, or Bastarnæ, People on the north side of Thrace, about the ryuer of Ister or Danubius.

Bastuli, People of Spaine, neere to the Turdulians.

Bata, A towne, and an hauen in Asia.

Batala, An auncient citie in Italy.

Batalus, A certaine effeminate person. The name of a ryp-baude poet. Also the surname of Demosthenes, gyuen to him of his foes, when he was a childe.

Batauia, A countrey in lowe Germanie, called Holland.

Batauus, a, um, Of Hollande.

Batea, The daughter of Teucrus, and wife of Dardanus

Bathyllus, A yong man of Samos, beloued of Anacreon the poet. Also a famous scoffer and dauncer.

Batia, The tumbe of Ilus in Troie.

Batina, after some Bantina, A towne of Puell in Italy.

Battalus, The name of an effeminate and wanton Syp-strell.

Batton, A comicall poet.

Battus, His name that builded Cyzene, of whome the women of Cyzene be called Battiade. Herodotus wryteth, that the Libians call a king Battus.

Battus, The name of a certaine heardman, that Mercurie turned into a touchstone, called Index. For when Apollo kept king Admetus his cattell, Mercurie stole away certaine of them, that wandered somewhat farre from the residue of the heard, no man espying him but onelye this Battus, that then was in the fielde. Wherefore Mercurie spied him to keepe his counsayle, and the lower to doe it, gaue him a fayre cowe. But after hee was departed, mustrusting that he would bewzay him, Mercurie to trie and proue him, chaunged his shape, and returning to Battus, inquired for such cattell, promising to his rewarde, if he could tell, a faire bull and a cowe. He for couetousnesse of the double rewarde tolde him, and pointed with his finger where they were. Wherefore Mercurie, to punnishe his vnfaythfulnesse in bewzaping, turned him into the stone Index.

Batulus, A towne in Campanie.

Bauaria, Called also Baloaria, in Dutch, Berne: in French Bauiere, a countrey in hyghe Germanie, lying in the East: on the south it boundeth on the Mountaines of Alpes, which deuide Germany from Italy: On the west, lieth the country called Sueuia, in Dutch Swaue: On the east Austria, called in Dutche Oustrike: On the North, the realme of Boheme.

Bauari, vel Baioarij, People of Bauiere.

Baucis, An olde poze woman, wife to Philemon, who only, when Jupiter and Mercurie trauapled through the countrey of Phrygia, did vouchsafe to entertaine them in their house. Wherefore, because Jupiter for the vncurtesie of that lande, had determyned to destroy it, and let it bee swallowed by an earthquake, hee aduertised Philemon and Baucis, if they would saue themselues, to follower him. They following Jupiters aduice, when they came to the toppe of an hill not farre of, looked backe and sawe all the countrey drowned in a marice, sauing their owne cottage: which in their sight was turned into a temple. Then they beyng willed by Jupiter, in rewarde of their courtesie in entertainement, to desire what rewarde they would, requested onely to be made ministers in that newe erected temple, and that the one of them might not die before the other, but both to ende their liues together. Which thing he graunting, sent them to their countrey againe, where after they had passed the residue of their liues a good time, in the ende they were turned into two trees. Ouid.

Bauius, and Meuius, Two spitefull Poets which enuyed Virgile.

Bauli, A towne in Italy, betweene Baiæ, and Messenum.

B E

Bebeus, A notable backbiter, or tale bearer.

Bebryces, People of Asia, which toke their beginning of one

one of the daughters of Danaus.
Bebrycium, or Bebryacum, A towne in Italy, betweene Cremona and Verona.
Bebrytia, A country called the great Phrygia.
Bebrytius,a,ium,& Bebryx,icis, Of the countrey of great Phrygia.
Bebryx, An auncient king of the mountaynes called Pyrenæi.
Becher, A country of Scythia,after Caleppne.
Beda, A famous learned man of this realme: for his modestie,vertuous lyfe, and learning,surnamed Worshipfull Bede.
Beduni,Certaine heretikes among the Sarasins,which worship the sunne at his rysing, and they affirme all things to chaunce by destinie. wherefore they vse to fight in battaile vnarmed,saying,that death can not be eschewed.
Beelphegor, A gaping idoll.
Beelsebub, An idoll called God of flies.
Beelsephon, Lorde of the North, an idoll set vp in the places of ẽpaill.
Beemoth, The deuill, and signifieth a beast.
Beergios, One of the sonnes of Neptunus, whome Hercules banquished.
Bela, A king of Hungarie.
Belbina, An yle in the goulfe,called Argolicum.
Belerium, or Bolorium promontorium, Is a place in Cornewall, called saint Burien.
Belga, One of the countrey Belgica.
Belgæ, The people that inhabite the countreyes and townes,inclosed with the Ocean sea, and the ryuers of Rhene, Marne, and Seyne, wherein be the Cyties of Tryre, Colepne, Magunce, and Reynes. Also the countreyes of Flaunders, Hollande, Gelder, Iuliers, Cleues, Hennawe, part of Friselande, Picardie,the greatest part of Campaine, and all the forrest of Ardenne. It was sometime called Gallia Belgica.
Belgicus,a,um, Of that Countrey.
Belgium, The towne of Beauuoisine.
Belial, The deuill,which is interpreted Apostata,without yoke.
Belides,patronymicum, fœmi, The Nieces of Belus,and daughters of Danaus, beyng fiftie in number, which Aegyptus Danaus his brother, required to be maryed to his fiftie sonnes. But Danaus refused it, because he vnderstode by Oracle, that he should be slaine of his daughters husband. Afterwarde being constrayned by his brother,he condiscended to his request. And the very night that they were maryed, counsayled hys daughters, that they shoulde arme themselues priuily wyth knyues, and euery one of them in the night, kyll theyr newe maryed husbandes. The maydens espying conuenient tyme, followed theyr fathers counsayle, sauyng onely Hypermnestra, that saued and let scape hir husbande Lynceus. This Lynceus (not long after) to reuenge his brethrens death, killed Danaus, and in hys place regned king of Argiues. In punishment of this cruell murdur, the Poets feigne that the daughters of Danaus were put to this continual labour,to fill with water a great tunne full of holes, so that it ranne out faster than they coulde poure it in. Wherof ryseth this prouerbe. Danaidum dolium, spoken of an vnsatiable man,whose greedie desire is neuer satisfied.
Belisarius, A famous and noble capitaine vnder the Emperour Iustinian. He ouerthrewe the Persians in the east, banquished the Vandales in Affrike, subdued the Gothes in Italy, and the seconde tyme, in Affrike repressed the Vandalles, killing their king Guntarith. Thus man for the great succesfe of his noble prowesse, beyng suspected of Iustinian to affect the Empyre, was cruelly bereft of both his eyes. wherefore when hee coulde not any waye reuenge the Emperours crueltye and vnkyndenesse, he buylded himselfe a little cottage without the citie,where euer after he begged his liuing of wayfaryng men that passed by: oftentymes saying, O gentle friende, giue one halfepenie to poore Belisarius,whome cruell enuie and not iust desert hath bereft of his sight.
Bella, A towne in Campaine.
Bellerophontes,sieu Bellerophon, The sonne of Glaucus king of Ephyra, a man of much beautie and prowesse, was ardently beloued of Sthenobœa, the wyfe of Prœtus king of Ephyra, next after Glaucus. When she desired him to commit aduoutrie with hir, hee fearing the vengeance of Iupiter, God of hospitalitye, and remembryng the friendship hir husband had shewed him,refused,and put hir away from him: which she disdayning,and being in a wood rage, accused him to hyr husbande, that he had rauished hir: but he lyke a sober man, wouldne not slea him in his owne house, but deliuering him letters to his wyues father, sent hym into Lycia. Who perceyuing the minde of Prœtus, encouraged,and sent Bellerophon to destroye the two monsters,Solymos,and Chymæra, that he mought be slaine vnder the coulour of a valiaunt enterpryse. But he,atchieued it nobly,returned with honour.
* Belerephontis literas, affert. A prouerbe, when one bringeth letters against himselfe.
Bellerophonteus,a,um, Of Belerophon.
Bellica, A pyller in the temple of Bellona, called Goddesse of battaile,whereat they vsed, when warres were proclaymed,to cast a Jauelin.
Bello, A citie in Spayne.
Bellocassij,A countrey in Fraunce,nowe called Bayeux.
Bellóna, The Goddesse of Battaile.
Bellonarij, The priestes of Bellona.
Bellóuacum, A citie in Fraunce, nowe named Beauuois, the people whereof be called Bellouaci.
Bellon, A towne,and a ryuer in Spaine.
Belides, The sonne or Nephewe of Belus.
Belis, Bélidis, The daughter or neece of Belus.
Belunum, A towne in the countrey of Venice in Italy.
Belus, An auncyent king of Assyria,to whome the first ymage or idoll to be honoured, was made. There was an other Belus of Aegypt: An other the father of Dido. It is also a ryuer in Syria,which hath sande of the nature of glasse,and turneth all other mettall that commeth into it,into Glasse.
Bemarchius, A learned man of Cappadocia, which wrote the gestes of Constantine.
Bembina, A towne of Nemea.
Bembinadia, The country called Nemea.
Bembinus,a,um, Of Nemea.
Benacus,lacus, A lake in Italy called Garde.
Berecynthia, The mother of the Gods, called also Cybele.
Berecynthius,a,um, Of Phrygia, or of Cybele.
Berecynthium,cornu, An hyorne where with the priestes of Cybele were sturred to a rage or furye.
Berecynthia tibia, A pype vsed in the sacrifice of Cybele.
Berecynthus, A mountaine and towne in Phrygia, where Cybele was worshipped, whereof she was named Berecynthia.
Berengarius, A French man, which affirmed, that in the sacrament of the auitar was not the very body of christ in the substaunce of flesche and bloud. Afterward he was forced to recant. And in the counsayle of Laterane, hys opinion, as an errour was condemned, the yeare of our Lorde,1082.
Berenici,or Beronice,es, A woman of excellent beauty wife to Ptolomeus Lagus. Of that name were dyuers other women. It is also a towne of Affrike.
Berenices crines, Seauen starres lyke a tryangle, at the tayle of the Lyon.
Bergidum, A citie of Spaine called Tergell.
Bergion, A gyant, the sonne of Neptune, slaine by Hercules.
Bergomum, The citie Bergemo in Italy.
Berillus, A bishop of Bosterna in Affrike. which erred in certaine poynters, and was reduced to the Church by Origine.
Berito, A famous citie of Phœnicia. called now Barutus.
Bernaba, A citie in Spaine called Benauarie.

Beroa,

Beroa, A citie in Thessalie.
Beroë, The nurse of Semele, the mother of Bacchus.
Beronice, lyke Berenice.
Berosus, A cunning Astronomer of Chaldeie.
Barsabe, A citie in Judea,called also Puteus iuramenti,the pitte of the othe, where Abraham dwelled. It is the confines of the lande of beheste.
Bessa, A citie in Phocis,an other in Peloponnesus.
Bessara, A citie of Illyria.
Bessi, People of Thrace, famous for their theft and robbery.
Bessippo, An hauen in Spaine.
Bessyga, An hauen or haure towne in India, whereof the people are called Bessygitæ. There is also a ryuer called Bessygas.
Bethania, A towne, two myles from Hierusalem, on the syde of the mounte Oliuet.
Bethasj,People dwelling about the towne of Mastreight within the diocesse of Luke in Germanie.
Bethdagon, The temple of Dagon.
Bethel, A citie in Samaria, where the people dwelled, which were called Iebusari.
Bethlecm, The citie where Dauid the prophet was borne and bred. Our Sauiour also was borne there. There died Rachell the wife of Jacob the patriarche. It was assigned to the tribe of Juda being distaunt from Hierusalem sixe myles, and was first called Euphrata, and signifieth in the Hebrue tongue, the house of breade.
Bethlaida, or Bethesda, A great ponde in Hierusalẽ, wherein the priestes washed the sheepe which shoulde be sacrificed, and may be interpreted, the house of cattle. Also the name of a towne, where Peter & Philip, the Apostles were borne.
Bethsamis, A citie in Galilie, where Christ did many myracles.
Bethsamitæ, People of Bethsamis.
Bethsura, & Bethuræ, A strong fortresse of the Jewes.
Betica, Betis, Beticus, Beticula, lyke Bætica.
Bætica, The thirde part of Spayne, called now Granate, lyke Bætica.
Bethphage, A towne in Judea, & may be interpreted the house of a mouth or a Jawe.
Betere, A towne called Beseres in Guyen.
Betulo, A towne in Spayne called Belon. Also a ryuer.

B I

Bianor, oris, A man surnamed Oenus, who buylded Mantua.
Bias,Prienæus, One of the seauen wise men of Greece, beholding his countrey taken by enemies fled: other men carying with them such goodes as they might beare,he was demaunded whye hee toke nothing with hym: whereto he aunswered: Truely I carie all my goodes with me: meanyng vertue and doctrine, reputing the goodes of fortune none of his.
Bibia, A citie in Spayne, called nowe Baesa.
Bibaga, An yle in India, where is great plentie of Oysters, and Muscles.
Bibla, The wife of Duillius the Romaine, which was of suche chastitie, that she was at that time an example, when it was a thing monstruous to heare of vnchastitie.
Bibracte, People of the countrey called Beuraye Dauxtume.
Bibractæ, A towne in Fraunce,called Beaulme.
Bibrax,acis, A towne in Fraunce,in the county of Rochel, called Baie.
Bibulus, A Romaine that was Consull with Cæsar.
Bicurgium, A citie in Almaine, called Herford.
Bidental, A place where they vsed to sacrifice sheepe, when any house was burned with lightning.
Biducenses, People of Normandie.
Biendium, An hauen in Spaine.
Bigargitani, People of Spaine.
Bigerones, People of Guian in Fraunce.
Bigerra, A citie in Spaine,called commonly Beiar.

Bilbilis, A towne in Spaine.
Bilia, A noble woman in Rome, and wyfe of one Hiero, when an enemie of hir husbands falling out with hym, vpbrayded hym that his breath stanke, and had an yll sauour: he beyng therewith abashed, because he neuer perceyued it himselfe, when he came home, quarelled and chyde with his wife,for that shee neuer tolde him therof. Syr sayde shee, I had thought all mens breathes had so sauoured. Thereby giuing him to vnderstande, that she neuer came so nighe to anye other man, as to discerne whether hys breath were otherwyse then hyr husbandes was.
Billis, A ryuer in Asia,not farre from Heraclea.
Bimembres, Substantiuely, is taken for the Centaures.
Bion, The name of a Philosopher.
Bipedimni, People of Guyan in Fraunce.
Bisaltæ, A people in Scythia.
Bisalus, or Bisalpis, The mayden whome Neptune rauished,turning himselfe into a Ramme.
Biscargis, A citie in Spaine.
Biston, The sonne of Mars, which buylded Bistonia,a citie in Thrace,whereof the Thracians were called Bistonij, or Bistones, and their country Bistonia.
Bistonis, A citie, and also a great mere or pole in the country of Thrace.
Bistonius,a,um, Of Thrace.
Bistutor, The surname of Mars,because he taketh double reuengement.
Bituigis, A ryuer in Germanie.
Bithus, The name of a swoorde player.
Bithynia, A realme in Asia,which nowe the Turke hath. On the north, it hath the sea called Ponticum: on the south,Mysia,and Phrygia: it was called also Bebrycia, and Mygdonia.
Bithynicus,and Bithynus,a,um, Of Bithynia.
Bithynium, A citie in Bithynia.
Biton, Brother to Cleobis, and sonne of Argia. Of these two brethren, this hystorie is tolde: When there mother beyng mynistresse in the temple of a Goddesse, should with great speede go to the temple in a Chariot, (as the maner was) and hir horses could not be feand, hir two sonnes of childely pitie vouched safe themselues to annoynt their bodies, and drawe their mother to the temple. For which gentle affection, the mother desired of the Goddesse which she serued, to giue hyr children the greatest benefite that God might giue to man. After the feast when the mother with hir children in the night did take their rest, in the morning hir two sonnes were founde dead. Whereby it was gathered that the greatest benefite that man coulde haue, was,in the myddes of his glory and prayse to ende hys frayle lyfe: that the vnconstancie of tickle fortune might not distaine any part of that before he had gotten.
Bituitus, Was a king of the Biuernes in Fraunce.
Biturges, Bourges in Fraunce.
Bitúrgia, A city of the Thuscanes, called now Malliarum.
Bizia, A strong holde or fortresse of the kings of Thrace.
Bizon. A citie of Thrace.

B L

Blanda, A citie in Italy.
Blandæ, A towne in Spaine called Blanes.
Blanduria, A countrey in Italy,where Horace the poet had lande.
Blasion, An yle in the mouth of the ryuer Rhene.
Blemmiæ, or Blemmyes, Monstrous people in Ethiope towarde the south, which haue no heade, but their eyes and mouth be in their breastes.
Bleptæ, A people in Affrike, which haue their vysages in their breastes.
Blerani, A people in Italy.
Bliteræ, A citie of Harbon, called somtyme Septumanorum colonia.

B O

Boa,æ, A serpent in Italy, so great and large, that on a tyme tyme when one was killed, a childe was founde whole in his belly, as Plinie writeth.

Boágrius, A ryuer of Locris.
Bobium, A towne on the cliffe of the mountaine Appenninus.
Bocalum, A towne of Arcadie.
Bocatus, A learned man.
Bocchus, A king of Mauritania and Getulia, which deliuered Jugurtha bounde, to Sylla.
Bocchoria, called also Concordienses, People of Portugal.
Bocchyris, A kynges name of Aegypt famous for hys iustice.
Bocenses, People of Sardinie.
Bochiana, A towne of the Troglodites.
Boderia, Called of Tacitus Bodotria, A creeke of the Brytaine sea.
Bodin comagum, A towne in Italy, called also Industria.
Bodincas, The ryuer Pow in Italy.
Boea, A towne of Peloponnesus, in the goulfe Argolicum.
Bœbe, es, A citie and lake of Thessaly.
Bœbeis, ĕidos, A lake of Thessaly, and a place by it named after Bœbus, the sonne of Glaphyrus.
Boemia, A realme called Beme, inclosed with the bounds of Germanie, hauing on the east, Hungary: on the south Bauier: on the west, the countrey Nozicum: on the northeast Polonia. It is equall in length and breadth, eche of them being about three dayes iourney. It is enuironed with a famous forest Sylua Hercynia. Through the middle thereof passeth the great ryuer Albis, and the riuer Multania. Upon the ryuage whereof is sette the chiefe citie Braga or Praga. The language there is the Slauopne tongue. Notwithstanding in the churches the people are taught in the dutche tongue, in the churchyardes they are taught in the Beame tongue. They vary from the Romaine Church in sundrye opinions, and doe scorne all ceremonies. In some places it is sayde, they priuily obserue the sect of the Adamites and Waldenses in the acte of lecherye: whereof it is written in the worde Adamitæ.
Bocodurum, A citie in Almaine, nowe called Pataula, or Passauve.
Boëtia, Is a country in Grece, wherein was the city of Thebes: now it is called Vandalia. It was sometime called Aonia, Mesapia, Ogygia, Cadmeis, and Hyantis.
Bœotus, or Bœotius, a, um, Of Boeotia.
Boetius, A learned man and Senatour of Rome, in the time of Theodoricus.
Boetus, A ryuer in Spaine.
Bogadium, A citie in Germanie, called vulgarly Fostlepsy.
Boges, A Persian, which being besieged of the Athenienses, slue first his wife and children, and after hymselfe.
Bogudiana, A part of the prouynce in Affrike, called Tingitana.
Bogus, A king of the Mauritaynes, which was with Antonie at the battayle of Actium.
Bohemia, lykt Boemia.
Bohilla, A towne in Italy.
Boianum, A citie of the Samnites in Italy, called nowe Bouianum.
Boij, People of Burbon in Fraunce, and Bauer in Almaine.
Boin, A towne in Cyrene.
Boion, A towne of Dozis in Greece.
Bola, A towne of Campaine in Italy.
Bolbitinum, One of the mouthes of Nylus.
Bolbulæ, A towne and an Iland in the sea Mediterraneum.
Bolentium, A towne in Hungarie, called Rachell spurge.
Bolingæ, People of Asia.
Bomarei, Also people of Asia.
Bombos, A countrey of Cilicia.
Bombus, i, m. e. The name of a certaine deuinour.
Bomilcar, The sonne of Amilcar, a Duke of Carthage, which was hanged on a Gybbet in the middest of Carthage.

Bona, dea, Was she that some called Batia, Fauna, or Semea, of whome Varro writeth, that neuer man did see hyr, nor heard hyr named but onely hir husbande.
Bonni, Certaine hilles in Scotia.
Bononia, A towne of Hetruria.
Bononiénsis, se, Of Bononia.
Bonosus, An Emperour of Rome, a sonne of a scholemayster. He was so great a drinker and quaffer, as neuer any was knowne but he. Of hym Aurelius writeth, that he was borne not to lead a life, but to lyft a pot. When straunge ambassadours came vnto hym, of purpose hee would drinke and quaffe vnto them, to make them drunke: to the ende that then he might the soner cause them to vtter secretes. When hee was ouercome by Probus his successor, hee hanged himselfe, whereat men scoffed and sayde: it was a tankerde and no man that hung there.
Boosceræ, A citie of Hellesponte.
Boosira, A citie of Cyprus.
Boötes, tis, and æ, also Boötus, ti, A starre that followeth Charles Wayne.
Borama. A citie of Phenicia.
Borbetomagus, or Vormatia, A towne in Almaine, called Wormes.
Borcani, People of Italy.
Borcobe, A citie of Thrace.
Boreostoma, matis, One of the mouthes of Danubius.
Borion, A promontorie of Affrike.
Boron, A towne of Troglodites.
Borsippa, A towne of Babylon, where is much wull wrought.
Borysthenes, A great ryuer in the countrey of Scythia. Also a towne.
Borysthenides, People dwelling by Borysthenes.
Bosphoranus, or Bosphorius, a, um, Of Bosphorus.
Bosphorus, The name of a part of the sea, which lyeth in twoo sundrye coastes. One by Constantinople, an other more northwarde.
Bosra, Bozzra, or Bozra, A citie of Idumea.
Botrys, A towne of Syria.
Botiæ, People of Thrace.
Bouianum, An olde towne in Italy.
Bouillæ, arum, A towne not farre from Rome.

B R

Brabasthenes, An hill, tenne myles from Lacedemonia.
Brachara, A citie in Spaine, nowe called Bracha.
Brachata Gallia, Narbon in Fraunce.
Brachodes, A city in Affrike, called Monexi.
Brachmanes, Philosophers of India.
Bractia, An yle of Illyricum.
Bragada, A ryuer neere to Utica in Affrike.
Bragæ, Certaine desert plandes.
Brana, A towne of the Turdulians in Spayne.
Branchidæ, Certaine priestes of Apollo, in Polideum, a towne in Ionia.
Branchosi, People of Asia.
Brannouices, People of a countrey in Fraunce, called Le bate de Bozoane.
Brasidas, A capitaine of Lacedemonia.
Bratia, An yle in the prouince of Mœsia.
Brauron, or Braulon, A towne in the countrey of Athens, where was a chappell of Diana.
Brauum, The citie of Burgus in Spaine.
Breges, Briges, and Phryges, idem.
Brigmenteni, People of Troas.
Brenda, The towne of Brundise in Italy.
Brennus, A capitaine of the Gailes, that buylded the citie Bzennon by Venice, which afterward was called Verone. This man breaking into Italy with a mightie armie, ouerthrewe the Romaynes at the ryuer Allia, and afterwarde pressing on to the citie, toke it and burned it all sauing the capitol or castell. Whether the youth of the nobilitie sledde for succour. When they assaulted that also, the Romaynes agreed with them, that for a certaine number of talents in golde, they shoulde rayse their siege and depart. Therefore while the golde was weighing, the capitaine Bzennus pulled oute hys swoorde, and commaunded them to counterpoyse that with golde also. But when the Romaines refused it as a matter vniuit, and the Gailes stoode in altercation with them, in the meane time Camillus a banished man, that in his absence was made Dictatour, had gathered a companie of them that fled out of the citie, and sodainely setteth vpon the Gailes. Then vpon the sodaine, being much abashed, to saue themselues, left the golde, and with great losse of men betooke themselues to flight. Camillus, eagerlye pursuing them, draue them cleane out of Italy. Bzennus not long after entering into the Temple of Apollo at Delphos to spoyle it, by the displeasure and reuengement of the God, killed himselfe.
Brepium, A promontorie of Achaia.
Brecina, Called nowe Brintum, the citie Brindes, in Italy.
Bretoleum, A towne of Portugall now called Britium.
Breuci, A people of Hungarie, by the ryuer Sauue.
Breuni, People of the Alpes.
Briareus, A giant, which was of an exceeding greatnesse, and had an hundred armes. He was also called Aegeon.
Bria, adis, A citie of the country Pisidia, in Asia.
Brigantes, were auncient people in the North part of Englande.
Brigantium, A citie in Galitia, called Compostella.
Brigetium, A citie of Spaine, nowe called Oniodo.
Brigiani, People of the Alpes.
Brilessus, An hill in the country of Athens.
Brisetum, A mountaine in Athens.
Britabritæ, People of Asia.
Britis, eidis, A faire damosell that was giuen to Achilles, and taken from hym by Agamemnon: wherevpon grewe great trouble in the Gracian hoste, at the siege of Troy.
Brisseus, a, um, Of Briseis the surneme of Bacchus.
Britannia, The most noble yle of the worlde, wherein be conteyned England and Scotland. It lyeth from Germany, west: from Fraunce and Spaine, west northwest. The forme thereof is like a triangle, and (as some haue written) like the blade of a gleyue. The length is extended into the North to the furthermost part of Scotlande, called Calidonia, which Plinius, Solinus, and Martianus, doe agree to be. 800. myles. The breath of it (after Martianus) is. 300. Italyan myles. The narrowest distaunce betweene thys Ile and Calepes sandes (called of Plinie Gesloriacum in Gallia) is 50. Italyan myles. It is nowe gessed to be 30. englyshe myles. Of the first naming of this Ile, to yet no certaine determination, for asmuch as there remayneth no auncyent hystorie, making thereof remembraunce, the olde Brytons bookes (such as were) being all destroyed by the Saxons: who endeuoured themselues to extinct vtterly the honorable renowne wyth the name of Brytons, like as the Gothes delt with the Romaines. Also the part of Titus Liuius, where the conquest of Brytaine is remembred, with the hystories of Iulius Rufticus, and dyuers other noble Wryters, that wrote specially of this countrey, are vtterly perished. Such as remaine, as the Comentaries of Julius Cæsar, Cornelius Tacitus, Diodorus Siculus, and they that wrote of Cosmographie, haue omitted the originall begynning of the name. The hystorye of Eylbas the Brytan cannot be founde, who was after the Saxons, had inuaded thys Realme: and therefore moughte lacke such bookes as shoulde best instruct hym. As for Beda semeth to haue seene nothing wrytten of that matter. For where he layth, that this Ile toke the name Britannia, of the inhabytants of Brytaine in Fraunce, it is nothing lyke to be true. For that country was (not long before the time of Beda) named Armorica & Armoricus tractus, when this Ile was called of most auncient wryters Britannia, and (as Solinus writeth) seemed to be an other worlde, for as much as the West part of Gallia, was thought to be the vttermost part of this worlde. Also Julius Cæsar writeth that the places of thys Ile, were vnknowne to French men sauing to a fewe marchauntes: and yet they knew no farther, then the sea coast towarde Fraunce. Moreouer the same Brytons affyrme, that it was left among them in remembraunce, that the innermost part of the countrey, was inhabited of them, which had their first beginning in the same Ile. This well considered, with the authoritie of the wryter, both an excellent Prince and also a great learned man, and was himselfe in thys Ile, it is not to be doubted, but that he most diligently searched for the true knowledge of the auncientie therof. And if he moughte haue founden, that the inhabytaunts had come of the stocke of Encas, of whose progenie he himselfe came, he woulde haue reioyced much, for the prowesse and valiant courage, which he commended in them. Moreouer, that the name came of Bzutus (whome our wryters ymagined to discende of Eneas the Trojan) is no more lykely, than that thys Ile was called Albion of Dioclesians daughter, or of white rockes. All the olde Latin hystoriens agree, that the sonne of Syluius, the seconde in succession from Eneas, and of them named the sonne of Ascanius, was Eneas, called also Siluius, whereunto the Grekes doe also accorde: but they name Spinius to be brother to Ascanius, and borne after the death of Eneas, and was therefore called Posthumus. But neyther the Romaynes nor the Grekes doe write of any man called Bzutus, before Julius Bzutus, which expelled Tarquinius out of Rome. Which name was also gyuen to him (by the sonnes of Tarquine) in derision, because they toke him to be foolishe and dull witted. Moreouer there is so much diuersitie betweene Britannia, and Brutus, that it semeth against reason, that the one should procede of the other. For if Bzutus had borne the grace of the first name to this Ile, he woulde haue called it Brutia, or Brutica, rather then Britannia, which hath no maner proportion or analegie with Brutus. But nowe will I (as I haue done in the worde Albion) declare a resonable cause of conieture, why this Ile was named Britannia. About. 30. yeares since, it happened in Wilshire, at Iuy Church, about two miles from Sarisbury, as men digged to make a foundation, they found an hollowe stone couered with an other stone, wherein they founde a booke, hauing in it little aboue. xx. leaues (as they sayde) of perye thicke velume, wherein was something wrytten. But when it was shewed to priestes and Chanons, which were there, they couldc not reade it. Wherefore after they had tossed it from one to another (by the meanes whereof it was torne) they did neglect and cast it aside. Long after, a piece thereof happened to come to my handes: which notwithstanding it was all to rent and defaced, I shewed to maister Richarde Pace, then chiefe Secretarie to the kynges most royall Maiestie, whereof he exceedingly reioyced. But because it was partely rent, partly defaced and blourred with werte which had fallen on it, he could not find any one sentence perfite. Notwithstanding, after long beholding, hee shewed me, it seemed that the sayde booke conteyned some auncient monument of this Ile, and that he perceyued thys worde Peytania, to be put for Britannia. But at that tyme he sayde no more to me. Afterwarde, I giuing much studie and diligence to the reading of hystoryes, considering whereof thys worde Britannia first came, finding that all the Iles in this part of the Ocean, were called Britannicæ, after my first coniecture of Albion, remembring the Lad writing, and by chaunce finding in Suidas, that Prytania in Greke, with a circumflexed aspiration, both signifie mettalles, fayres, and markets, also reuenues belonging to the comenon treasure: I then conceyued this opinion, that the Grekes flourishing in wisedome, prowesse, and experience of sayling, beyng entered into the Ocean sea, founde in the Iles great plentye of tynne, leade, yron, haselle, and in dyuers places golde and siluer in great quantitie, quantitie, they called all those yles by this generall name Prytania, signifying the place, by that which came out of it, as one wouldc say, hee went to market, when he goeth to Antwarpe, or Barrow: or to the fayre, when hee goeth to Sturbridge: or to his reuenues, whe he goeth to any place, from whence his reuenues, doe come. And yet, because this yle excelled all the other in euery condition, it was of some priuiledge called Albion, that is to saye, more happie or richer. This coniecture approcheth more nigre the true similitude, than the other inuentions, except there be any auncient hystory before y time of Geffrey of Monmouth or Beda, which may more probably confute that I haue declared. To such will I gladly giue place. Finally I thought it alwaies more honorable, to haue receyued the first name by such occasion as I haue rehersed, and the generation of the inhabitants of this lande, to bee either equall with the most auncient, or mixed with the most wise and valiaunt people of Grece, vanquishers and subduers of Troians, than to take the name and first generation of a vaine fable, or of a man, if any such were, which after he had slayne his father, wandered about the worlde, vncertaine where to dwell. Also to auaunt vs to come of the Troyans, cawlers of theyr owne countreyes destruction, by fauouring the aduoutrie of Paris and Helena, of whome neuer proceeded any other notable monument, but that they were also breakers of their othe and promise. Yet this folye is founde almost in all people, which contende to haue their progenitours come first from Troy. Which fantastic map well be laughed at, among wise men. The faith of Christ was first receyued in this Realme, after the incarnation. 156. yeares.

Britannicus, a, um, Of Britayne.

Britannus, ni, & Brito, onis, A man of that countrye: an Englishe man.

Britona, A nimph of Crete, which fearing to be rauished of Minos, cast hir selfe into the water.

Brixellum, A towne in Italy, betweene Mantua & Cremona.

Brixia, or Bressa, A citie in Italy. Also a ryuer in Asia.

Brixillum, A towne by Mutina.

Bromius, mij. One of the names of Bacchus.

Bromus, One of the Centaures.

Brontes, A Cyclop, one of Vulcanes seruaunts, and is interpreted thunder.

Bronteus, The surname of Jupiter.

Broteas, One of the Lapithes.

Brotheus, The sonne of Vulcane, who beyng mocked for his pleasauntnesse, burned himselfe in the fire.

Brullitæ, People of Ephesus.

Brundulum, An hauen of the ryuer Aresis.

Brundusium, A citie in the realme of Naples.

Brusa, A citie of Bythynia, buylded by Annibal.

Brutij, A people in the extreeme bordors of Italy. They once were the shepheardes and heardmen of the Lucanes, whose yoke of bondage they shooke of, and toke their place of habitation on the further side of the ryuer Laus. These people were therefore called of the Romaines Bruttij, because they were of Bruttish and beastly heart and courage. Which name was giuen them in time of the seconde warre of Carthage, when they forsoke the Romaines, and submytted themselues to Annibal. For this theyr traytorous and vnfaythfull dealing, they were neuer after in estimation and dignitie, but elway forced to such toyle as was meete for slaues and drudges.

Brutius, a, um, Of the Bruttians.

Brutij, People of the realme of Naples ioyning to Sicile.

Brutus, The name of a family in Rome, whereof were diuers verie notable men.

Bryazon, A ryuer in Bythynia.

Brygion, A citie of Macedonie.

Bryxi, People of Thrace.

Bryxani, People of Scythia.

Brysea, A citie of Laconia.

Brysæus, A name of Bacchus.

B V

Búbalus, A painter of Clazomene.

Bubastis, A citie in Egypt, wherein was a temple of Diana.

Bubasus, A country of Caria.

Bubeium, A countrye of Cyrene.

Bubessius, A gouffe of the sea in Caria.

Bubitani, A people of Campaine.

Bubinda, A ryuer in Irelande.

Bubo, A citie in Lycia.

Bubóna, or Bubónia, The Goddesse of Oxen.

Buca, A towne in Italy.

Bucillarij, orum, Were certaine souldiours of the Romaines in the east parts, which after they were dimissed, lyued by robbing and stealing.

Bucellarius, rij, m. gen. One of Gallogræcia.

Bucéphalus, cephali, m. gen. An horse, which would suffer no man to come on his backe, but onely great king Alexander: who sitting on him, did marueylous battayles, and escaped wonderfull daungers. Finallye being xxx. yeares olde, he dyed, not of any wounde, but onely by extreme labours and sundry byrpises. Ouer whom Alexander buylded the citie called Bucephala, after the horses name. This citie is in India, where Alexander vanquished Porus.

Buchia, A place of Ionia.

Bucia, A citie in Sicilie called now Butera.

Bucinna, A little yle in the Sicilian sea.

Bucolion, The sonne of Laomedon.

Buda, A notable city in Hungary, now called Osen, which vnder the walles of it towarde the northwest side hath two fountaines or springes, running out of a meane hill: the one of the which is passing colde and sauoureth of Brimstone, the other so hote, that one cannot suffer his finger in it. In the hote bath are great store of fishes an handfull long, which when they are sodde, haue no taste at all.

Budéa, A citie in Magnesia, an other in Phrygia.

Budore, Two Flanders by Candie.

Budorgis, The citie Bretzlan in Germanie.

Budoris, A city in Almaine called Heidelbergh, belonging to the Palsgraue, or Countie Palatine.

Buges, A ryuer of Scythia in Europe.

Bulgari, A people in the country of Mœsia, towarde Danubius.

Bulis, The name of a citie.

Bullaregia, A towne in Affrike.

Bullenses, A towne and people of Locris.

Bullcum, A towne in England called Witlan.

Bullidensis, A towne of Macedonie.

Bulua, A citie of Liburnia, now called Budea.

Bunitium, A towne in Germanie called Sund.

Bura, A citie in the gonlfe by Corinth, which was swallowed of the sea.

Burchana, A famous yle in Pontus.

Burdegala, vel Burdigala, Burdeux in Gascoyne.

Burgundia, Burgoyne.

Burgundiones, Burgonions.

Buris, A citie of Achaia.

Buris, Lake Bura.

Bursaonenses, People of Spayne.

Burtina, A towne of Spaine, called also Burbastro.

Busiris, A citie of Egypt, in the dominion of Busiris: the Aegyptians call it Solis vrbs, the Greekes call it Thebe.

Busiris, riis, or siridis, The sonne of Neptunus, which the begot on Libya the daughter of Epaphus, who fedde his horses with mens flesh, and was slaine at last by Hercules, as he would haue slaine him.

Butes, The sonne of Amycus king of Bebrytia, who for the crueltie of his father, beyng expelled oute of the realme, came into Sicilie, and was with great fauour entertayned of the famous strumpet Lycaste. By hir afterwarde he had a sonne called Eryx. Thys Lycaste for for his passing beautie and fauour was called Venus: wherof rose the opinnon and fable, that Butes on Venus begat the famous Champyon Eryx. Butes is also the sonne of Teleops, and a ryuer in Scythia.

Buthos, A towne of Aegypt.

Buthrotum, or Buthrotum, A towne in Epyre.

Buthus, A certayne wrestler.

Butua, An yle neere to Candie.

Butua, A citie in Liburnia.

Buxentinenses, People of Calabre in Italy.

Buxentum, A towne that the Greekes call Pyxonta.

Buze, People of Indie.

Buzeri, People of the countrey Themiscyra in Asia.

Buzigeus, An hill of Thessalie.

B Y

Byblesia, A citie of Asia.

Byblis, A little rounde yle in the sea Mediterranean. Also the daughter of Myletus, who being inamoured on hir owne brother Caunus, and of him neglected, died for sorrowe.

Byblus, A citie of Phœnicia, called nowe Gaeta.

Bycus, A ryuer of Sarmatia, called nowe Buges.

Byrsa, A castell in the middes of the citie of Carthage, in the toppe wherof was Aesculapius his temple. Of the beginning of this castell it is thus written. Dido arriuing first on the coastes of Lybia, was forbidden there to rest by Hyarbas king of that countrey, fearing least she with hir company would occupie some great part of his dominion. She therefore craftily desyred to buy of him onely so much ground as might be compassed with a beastes hyde, which thing when shee had obteyned, shee did cut the beastes hyde into small thonges, and therewithall compassed xxij. furlonges called Stadia, on the which shee buylded the citie after named. Carthage. The Castell she called, after the beastes hyde Byrsa.

Byzacium, A countrey of Affrike.

Byzantium, A citie of Thrace, now called Constantineple sometime buylded by Pausanias Duke of Spartanes, the inhabitantes wherof were called Byzantij. Afterwarde it was augmented by Constantyne the Emperour, and was the chiefe and heade of all the Empire orientall. It is nowe vnder the Turke, who wanne it in the peace. 1453.

Byzenus, The sonne of Neptunus, who vsed such a liberte in speach, that thereof grewe this prouerbe, Byzeni lybertas.

Byzeri, or Byzeres, Lake Buzeri.

C A

CAbala, A tradition of the Iewes, left among them by Moyses without wryting, but from the father to the sonne, and so continually in their generations, wherein is concluded the vnderstanding as well of the secretes of nature, as the mysticall sense included in the wordes of holy scripture.

Cabalaca, A towne of Albania in Asia.

Cabalia, A countrey of the lesse Asia, the people wherof be called Cabalij.

Cabalinus fons, The well called also Hellicon, aboute which was the most haunt of the nyne Muses.

Cabellio, The towne of Caualllon in Narbon.

Cabera, The daughter of Prothycus, which had three sonnes by Vulcane, called Caberi, or Cabiri, and as many daughters, called Caberidæ.

Caberon, A ryuer in Asia.

Cabiri, The sonnes of Cabera.

Cabullinum, A citie in Fraunce.

Cabyle, A citie in Thrace.

Cabyria, A citie in the lower Asia, although Cabyrij bee people in India.

Cacidini, People of Scythia.

Cacirini, People of Sicilie.

Cacus, A famous shepheard of great and mighty strength, who, beside other notable robberies, stole some of the Oxen that Hercules brought in hys heard oute of Spaine, after he had slaine the cruell tyranne Geryon. At which time, that the tracke of the beastes might not be espyed, this Cacus drew the Oxen backwarde by the tayles into hys caue. Hercules therefore missing some of the number of his beastes, went towarde the nexte denne to seeke them. But, because he sawe all the steps fromwarde, he mistrusted not the place. Afterwarde passing by the same denne with hys droue of beastes, those that Cacus had stollen wanting their company, as the nature of them is, did bellow: which thyng Hercules perceyuing made towarde the caue, and when Cacus would haue stopped him from entrance, with his club slue him. This Cacus of Poetes is imagined to bee Vulcanes sonne, and to cast fire and smoke out of hys mouth, of personage bigge, and of strength mightye and terrybie, which happily they feigned, because hee was dreadfull to the country where he abode, and spoyled all places with swoorde and fire.

Caduceij, People of Media.

Cadi, A citie of Phrygia.

Cadicus, An hill in Candie.

Cadmea, The citie of Thebes.

Cadmeides, patronimicum.

Cadmeius, a, um, & Cadmeus, a, um, Of Cadmus.

Cadmea victoria, A prouerbe applyed to that victorye, whereof commeth more harme then good, or that it were better to lose then to get. Reade hereof in Chil. Erasmi.

Cadmus, A prince, the sonne of Agenor, and brother to Europa: who buylded Thebes, and brought out of Phœnicia into Greece, sixteene letters, and founde out the fusing and casting of mettailes. Thys man (as Poets fayne) was sent by his father Agenor to seeke his sister Europa, whom Jupiter vnder the fourme of a white Bull, had stollen away and carped into Crete. When he coulde not finde his sister, nor durst for feare of his fathers displeasure returne home into his countrey, he staied in Boetia, not farre from the Mountayne Parnassus. In that place certaine of his companie, that he sent for water, were slayne of a Serpent: which Serpent Cadmus afterwarde did slea, and sowed his teeth in the earth, whereof sodainely rose vp a number of armed men. They all immediately fyghting one with another, killed themselues, sauing fiue that accompanyed Cadmus in buylding hys newe citie of Thebes. In the ende Cadmus being driuen out of his kingdome by Amphion and Zethus, fledde to the Illyrians: where, by the power of the Gods, he was turned into a serpent. There was an other Cadmus, the first that euer wrote in prose. Also an hyll in Asia.

Caduei, People of Caria.

Caduci, Cahors in Fraunce.

Cadytis, A great citie Syria.

Cæa, or Cæos, and after some Cea, An yle in the Sea called Aegeum, where sylke wormes were first founde. It is the countrey of Hippocrates, the prince of phisitions.

Cæcilius, The name of diuers notable men: one was so ryche, that notwithstanding a great part of his goodes was destroyed with emil warre, yet he had left. 4116. seruantes. 360. yoke of Oxen: of other cattell. 257000. in money. 6000. HS.

Cæcinos, An hill in Sicilie.

Cæcubum, A towne of Campaine in Italy, where is made good wine.

Cæcubus, a, um, The adiectiue.

Cæculus, was counted Vulcanes son. As his mother sat by the fire, a sparke happened to light into her lappe: by which (she sayde) she was conceyued with child. When hir full time was come, shee was deliuered of a sonne: whom, because he had verye small eyes, shee called Cæculus. Of him the family of Cæcilians in Rome, would seeme to haue their beginning.

Cædicus, The name of an exceeding ryche man.

Cædiciæ, Certaine houses or tauernes, buylded by one

Cæditius.
Cæix, vide Ceyx.
Cælemon, People of Umbria.
Cælius, The surname of Atlas, whome Poets feigne to beare vp heauen.
Cælicum, A place where was a temple of Diana.
Cælimontanus, a, um, Of the hill Cælius.
Cælius, The name of yours notable men: of which one was an Oratour, an other a Pretor of Rome.
Cælius mons, One of the seauen hilles that Romulus enclosed.
Cælos, An hauen in Thrace.
Cælus, The father of Saturnus and Titan.
Cæne, A cape about the goulfe of Laconia, and a little yle in the Sycilian sea.
Cæneus, A very expert warriour of Thessalie.
Cænica, A countrey of Thrace.
Cænina, A towne of Latium.
Cænis, A promontory of Italy.
Cænis, The daughter of Elatheus, one of the Lapithes, who being rauished of Neptune, obteyned to be turned into a man, and had the gyft, that no weapon coulde wounde hir.
Cænites, An hauen of Achaia.
Cæpori, People of Spayne.
Cære, bindeclined, and Cærete, tis, n.g. Was an auncient citie of Tuscia.
Cæretanus amnis, A ryuer that ranne by the city called Cære.
Cæretum, A towne of Umbria.
Cærites, People of the citie Cære.
Cæsar, The surname of the house of the Iulians in Rome, eyther becaule the first of that stocke was cutte out of his mothers wombe, or for that he had Cæsios, oculos, terrible glittering eyes, or (as some wyll) grapeyes. Of this name most notable was Iulius Cæsar, Consull and companion in office with Bibulus, in the 695. yeare after Rome was buylded. In nineteene yeares space this man conquered and subdued to the Romane Empyre all the countrey of Fraunce, bounded within the mountaynes Pyrenei, and the Alpes, with the ryuers Rhodanus & Rhyne. First of all the Romaines, he making a bridge ouer Rhyne, assaulted the Germaines, and put them to much scathe. He entered thys countrey of Britayne also, and made a part of it tributarie. In the ende, when he coulde not obteyne of the Senate, in consideration of his valiaunt actes, to bee chosen Consull in his absence, he tourned his power against hys countrey, by force intending to winne that, which by fayre meanes he coulde not obtayne: therfore he comming vppon a sodaine without resistance, gotte into his handes Lumbardie, Pice, Umbria, and Tuskane, and caused Pompey to flye out of Italye into Greece. Then, he striking backe into Spaine, ouercame there the great armye that Pompey had left in the guyding of three Capitaines, Petreius, Afranius, and Varro. This thing beyng atchieued with such prosperous successe, he went into Greece against Pompey, whom in a great battayle in the fields of Pharsalia hee ouerthrew. Afterward he vanquished king Ptolomie in Egipt, Scipio and Juba in Affrike, and Pompeies sonne in Spaine, and for his victories triumphed fyue tymes. Of this man and Pompey it was sayd, that they were of so haute courages, that the one coulde not abide an equall, the other a superiour: which their immoderate affections and desire of superioritie, brake out in the ende, to a most dreadfull ciuill warre, wherewyth all the worlde almost was vexed and troubled, not onely with the losse of many thousand soudiours, but also of a great number of worthye and noble men of great fame and renoume.
Cæsar Augusta, A citye in the realme of Arragon, called also Sarragossa. It was first called Numantia. Pet Ptolomeus and Strabo call it Augusta Cæsarea.
Cæsarea, A citye of the country of Palestine. Also of Mauritania. An other of Cappadocia, an other Paunia.

Cæsarius, a, um, and Cæsariānus, a, um, Pertayning to Cæsar.
Cæsarienses, People of Jonia. Plin. lib. 5. cap. 25.
Cæsarium, A marr towne in Aegypt.
Cæsarobrienses, People of Portugall.
Cæsenna, A city in Italie, the people whereof bee called Cæsennates.
Cæsobris, A citie of Portugall, called also Cezimbra.
Cæus, a, um, Of the yle called Cea.
Cæyx, ceycis, A king of Thrace, vide Halcyon.
Caffiani, Idolatours dwelling in Indie the more, which worship Deuils in most terrible figure, beleeuing, that they are permitted of God, to punishe or spare men at their pleasure, wherefore vnto them they sacrifice their children, and sometime themselues. They haue many wyues, but they company not with them, vntil they be deloured by other hyred for that purpose. Also they suffer their preestes to haue carnall company with their wyues in their absence. They haue bulles and kyne in great reuerence, but they neuer eate flesshe, their sustinaunce is rice, suger, and diuers sweete rotes, they drinke the lycour that commeth of tree dates.
Caiani, Heretikes that worship Caine, saying that he was made of the one vertue or power, that is, of the deuill, and Abell of the other, and that the vertue of Caine preuayled so, that he slue Abell. They saye Judas was a godly man, and his acte a benefite to mankinde: for by perceyuing how much the passion of Christ should preuayle, delinered him to the Jewes, that by hys death man might be redeemed. They affirme that the olde lawe was naught, and denie the generall resurrection.
Caianus, a, um, Of Caius.
Caici, People of Germanie, dwelling by the Rheyne.
Caicus, A riuer of Phrygia, which runneth out of Mysia. Also one of the companions of Eneas.
Caieta, A citie and hauen in Campaine. Seruius in. 10. Aeneidos.
Cain, The first sonne of Adam, who had to wyfe his owne sister, which of Philo is named Themech: hee first buylded cities. And for enuie he slue his brother Abell: wherefore beyng in desperation, he continually wandered, and his bodie trembled. Finally hee was slaine by Lamech, when he was of the age of 730. yeares, after Philo.
Cainas, A ryuer in Scythia, which runneth into Ganges.
Caius, A proper name of a man.
Caius Cæsar Octauianus, lorde in Augustus.
Cálaber, a, um, Of Calabre.
* Calabri hospitis xenia, A prouerbe spoken of small tryfling gifres, more troublesome than pleasant.
Calabra, A conuocation place, where matters concerning deuotion were treated.
Calabria, A countrey lopning to Naples, called before Magna Græcia. The inhabitaunts of this countrey are reported to haue so great plentye of fruites, that they cannot well tell what to doe with them. Wherefore when their frendes & strangers come to their houses, vnder colour of gentlenesse they will presse vpon them verye earnestly to take some with them. Hereof ryseth the prouerbe, Calabri hospitis munera, for tryfling presentes of gifts, and such as be rather a burthen, than a pleasure to him that taketh them. Also an plande called before Messapia.
Calabris, calabre, vel Calabricus, ca, cum. Of Calabre.
Calæ, arum, A citie in Indie.
Calenum, vide Callenum.
Calagurium, A towne in Biskay.
Calegaritani, People of Calagurium.
Calais, The sonne of Boreas by his wife Orithya, whome poets feigne to haue wynges. He, togither with hys brother Zethus that in ryde maner had wings, accompayned the Argonautes to attayne the golden fleece. In thys voyage, for smuch as they were very courteously intertayned of king Phineus: in recompence of his bountie and gentlenesse, they appointed to dryue out out of his countrey the rauenous and monstrous fowles called Harpyes, which marueylously did annoy him in spoyling of his victayles and prouision. Wherefore by the helpe of their wynges, and cunning in shooting, they chased those foule Bydes into the plandes called Plote, and there were admonished by Iris the Goddes, that they should no farther chase Jupiters dogges. In the ende the two winged brothers were slaine of Hercules, and turned into wyndes, which commonly begin to blowe eyght dayes before the Canycular starre doth ryse in sommer, and thereiose are called Precurlores, and Prodromi.

Calamus, idis, A famous ingraucr. Plinius. libro, 34. cap. 7. But Suid calleth him Calais.
Calamulus, A towne in Locris.
Calamos, A towne in Asia, by the hyll Lybanus. Plin. lib. 5. cap. 20.
Calanus, A philosopher of Indie, who being of the age of 72. yeares, did in the presence of great Alexander, make a great bonefyre, and saying himselfe sicke, went into the roppe thereof, and burned him. elfe. Quint. Curtius. lib. 10. Strabo. lib. 15.
Calapis, A notable ryuer in Hungaria.
Calaris, A citie in Sardinia.
Calathas, The name of a citie.
Calathusa, A yle betweene Chersonnesus, and Samothracie.
Calatie, A citye of Italy.
Calatis, A citie of Thrace.
Calatus, The sonne of Jupiter and Antiope.
Calaurea, or Calauria, An pland in the sea Mediterranean, where Demosthenes poysoned himselfe.
Calbis, A ryuer of Caria.
Calchas, A Greeke southsayer, the sonne of Thestor, who went to Troy with the Grecians, and taught them by his cunning many thinges to come. When their naue at the first was stayed in Aulis, he instructed Agamemnon howe Diana hir wrath might be appeased. And afterwarde by seeing a Serpent clymbe into a tree, and eate vp yong sparrowes togither with their dammie, he declared that Troy should be tenne yeres in taking, when Troy was destroyed, as he returned homewarde by lande with Amphilochus, at the citie Colophon, he happened into the companie of the excellent southsayer Mopsus. Of whome because he was passed in his science he dyed for sorow.
Calce, A citie of Campaine.
Calciope, The sister of Abyrtus, and daughter of Aeta king of Colchos.
Calcos, A citie in Campaine.
Calecut, A famous citie in Indie the more, ioyning to the Indian sea, where is the greatest marte and recourse of marchaunts in all Indie, not onely from the countries adioyning, but also out of Araby, Syria, Ethiope, Lybya, and Egypt, for to sell and buy all maner of spyces, sweete gummes, muske, ambergrice, and myrobalanes. The king of that countrey hys reuenewe is inestimable: and although he weareth no garmentes, yet his necke, armes, and legges be adorned with diamondes, saphyrs, rubies emeraudes, and balapses, wonderfull great and faire. The king and people be Idolatours, called Caffiani, looke there.
Caledon, vide Calydon.
Calegia, The citie Wittenberg in Germanie.
Calena, næ. f. g. n. A towne in Englande called Oxford: wherein is the first and chefe vniuersitie of thyssenbome, flourishing in all kinde of learning.
Calendaris, The surname of Juno, to whom all Calendes were dedicated.
Caleni, People of Campaine.
Calenum, A citie in the countrey of Naples.
Cales, A towne or people in Campaine, where is verye good wyne, called Calenum vinum.
Calestra, A citie in the sea coast of Italy.
Caletæ, The towne of Calice. Also an plande by Samothracie.

Caletranus ager, A place in Italy.
Calcadnus, A ryuer in Cilicia.
Calicula, A towne in Spaine.
Caligula, An Emperour called also Caius, who succeeded Tyberius, and was sonne of the noble Germanicus, and had the name Caligula giuen to him by the men of warre which were with his father, because he being a childe in the campe, did weare little greaues, or harnesse bootes, called Caligæ. For his life looke Suetonius & Sabellicus.
Calinge, nat. gen. A people of India, where women bring forth children at v. yeares of age, and lyue not past viij yeares.
Calingij, People of Asia.
Calingon. n. ge. A promontorie of India.
Calinpaxa, f. g. A citie in Scythia.
Calinus, m. g. A certaine Image maker.
Caliphus, phi, mat. gen. Was the name of dignitie of the king of Aegypt, from the yeare of our Lorde. 704. vntil the yeare. 1050. that Almericus king of Hierusalem, made warre on Aegypt: and the Califfe sent to the Soudan of Babylon for succour. Which sent an armie with one Sarraco, who first expelled the christen men, and afterwarde did cast the Calife in prison, and taking on him the rule, caused himselfe to be called the Soudan or Aegypt. Caliphus is also the dignitie of him, that is the chiefe bishop of Machometes lawe.
Caliphis, or Calliphis, A citye of Thrace by Hellespont: an other in Macedonie. Also one of the yles called Aeolidæ.
Calirhoe, or rather Callirhoe, The name of two fountaynes: The one by Hierusalem, the water whereof is medicinable, and healeth manye sicknesses: the other is by Athens, and hath xx. heades. Also the name of a citie, and the daughter of Lycus.
Callisthenes, or rather Callisthenes. A philosopher, disciple to Aristotle, whome great Alexander toke with hym in his conquest, for his excellent learning and wysdome, and had him in great honour. But afterwarde Alexander imbracing the pryde of the Persians, and commaunding the Macedons to honour him prostrate, (after the maner of the Persians) and to call him the sonne of Jupiter, Callisthenes rebuked and dissuaded him from that folly. Wherefore Alexander commaunded his armes and legges to be cutte of, and lykewise his eares, nose, and lippes, and to be throwne into a dungeon: whose grieuous paynes and deformitie, one Lysimachus, a noble man, pitying, gaue to him poyson, wherewith he dyed.
Calisto, The daughter of Lycaon, and mother of Archas, which gaue the name to the country of Archadia, whom poets feigned to be tranformed into a Beare by Juno, after that Jupiter had defloured hir.
Calithoe, The name of a fountaine.
Callaici, People of Portugall.
Callaicus, a, um, Of that people.
Callet, A towne in Spaine.
Callias, A poet of Athens, the sonne of Lysimachus, which made ropes to get his liuing. It was also a noble capitaine of the Athenians, sent against Artaxerxes.
Callicles, A certaine Image maker.
Callicrates, m. g. A keruer, which in prooy carued Emmotes, and other small beastes so finelye, that the partes might scantly be seene. Also the name of a great rych man, and of a iudge in Athens.
Callidromus, A mountayne in Greece.
Callimachus, The name of a poet of Cyrene, the sonne of Battus, one of the ouerseers of Ptolomeus library. Also the name of a cunning grauer.
Callinicus, A sophister of Syria, which wrote the gestes of Alexander.
Calliope, pes, f. g. One of the nine Muses, which excelled all the other in sweetenesse of voyce. Of some she is taken for the Goddesse of Rhetorike: of other for the Goddesse of Poetrie.
Callipide, People of Scythia in Europe, by the ryuer

Hyppanis.

Callipo, A philosopher, which in his teaching ioyned boutupte with honestie.

Callipolis, vide Calipolis.

Callippus, One of Athens, which was slaine of the Syracusans of Sicilie, because he attempted tyranne, after Dionysius.

Callirhoë, The daughter of Lycus, a cruell tyranne, that vsed to sacrifice his guestes. Lykewise more in Calirhoë.

Callisthenes, vide Calistenes.

Callistratus, A certaine pmage maker.

Callon, An other pmage maker.

Calostoma, One of the mouthes of the ryuer Danubius.

Calpas, An hauen in Bythinia, or after Strabo, a ryuer.

Calpe, One of the mountaynes called Hercules pillers, by which is the passage out of the Spanishe sea, into the sea Mediterraneum. Also the name of a citie in Granado.

Calphurnia, A stoute and bouldegentlewoman of Rome, Shee so farre passed the bounder of womanly moderation and modestie, that shee came into the open courtes of iudgement, and there in pleading hir owne cause, was so importune and vnreasonable vpon the Iudges, as she gaue thereby occasion of a lawe to be made, that neuer woman after shoulde openlye pleade cause in courtes of iudgement.

Calpurni, People that had their beginning of Calpo the sonne of Numa.

Caluaria,æ,fœm.gen. A common place of buriall. Some men suppose that it was the place where Adam the first man was buryed.

Caluisius Sabinus, A verye ryche man in Rome, which had so small remembraunce, that sometime he forgat the name of Ulysses, sometime of Achilles, sometime of Palamed, which before he knewe as perfectlye as children doe their tutours. And because he would be seene to be learned, he founde this readie waye. He bought diuers slaues, of which, one had the workes of Homere by heart: an other Hesiodus: likewise to euery of the ix. Poetes called Lyrici, hee appointed a seruaunt to learne by heart. When he had gotten this companie, at supper they should sitte vnder the board at his feete. Of whom he receyuing verses, would appose them that sat with him, yet sometime he forgat the middle of the verse. Notwithstanding he thought he knewe as much as any in his house. A merye fellowe, called Satellius perceyuing his folly, exhorted him to waxe leane, sicke, and pale. Then sayde Caluisius, howe should I waxe leane, since vneth I maye lyue for feblenesse? Oh say not so (quoth Satellius) I pray you, se you not what a sort of tall fellowes you haue to your seruaunts?

Caluus, An auncient poet.

Calyba, A citie of Thrace.

Calycadnus, vide Calicadnus.

Calydium, A towne in Italy, in the way called Appia.

Calydne, or Calydna, A towne of Caria. Also one of the yles called Sporades.

Calydon, A citie of Actolia in Greece.

Calydonia sylua, A great forest in Scotland, wherin were white bulles and kine, which had manes lyke to Lyons.

Calypso, The daughter of Atlas, or after some, of Oceanus, and Tethys, a nymph or woman of the sea, which reigned in the yle Ogygia, and receyued Ulysses when he escaped drowning.

Camacæ, A people of Scythia.

Camæ, An other people of Scythia.

Camalodunum, A citie of Brytaine.

Camera, A citie of Candie.

Camarica, A towne of Spaine, called also Victoria.

Camarina, A marrice or fenne in Sicilie, by a citie of the same name, the stinking waters whereof, when they engendered a plague, the inhabitantes consulted with Apollo, whether it should be profitable for them to doe that marrice or no: to whome the Oracle answered, that it shoulde not be good for them. Notwythstanding the counsayle of the Oracle, they by trenches founde meanes to drie the marrice, by which place not long after their enimies entered and spoyled their citie, wherof rose this prouerbe. Camarinam ne moueas, that is, Be not cause of more mischefe to thy selfe.

Cambala,orum, A place in Asia, where be golde mynes.

Cambalidus mons, A part of the mountaine Caucasus.

Cambalu, A great citie in the countrey of Cathay, which is in circuite,xl.miles,strongly walled, and hath twelue gates. In the middle therof is the palaice of the great Cham or Canc of Cathay, called the palaice of iustice, which conteyneth in circuite foure myles, and in it be foure great pillers of fine golde.

Cambodunum, A citie in Westphalia, called Monachum, and Munchen, which late was destroyed, because the people maintained the heresie of the Anabaptistes.

Cambolectri, People of Narbon in Fraunce.

Cambuses, A citie of Ethiope.

Cambyses, A king of Persia, the sonne of Cyrus. It is also the name of a ryuer in the countrey of Hircania.

Camelani, People of Italy.

Camerina, idem quod Camarina.

Camerinum, A towne of Italy, in the countrey of Picenum.

Camers, An adiectiue of Camerinum.

Camertes, The inhabitaunts of Camerinum.

Camertinus,a,um, idem quod Camers.

Cameses, The companion of Janus.

Camilla, A woman of the Volscians, which ayded Turnus against Eneas and the Latines.

Camillus, The surname of a noble Romayne, which was Dictatour fiue times, and triumphed foure times, who was of so gentill a courage towarde his countrey, that notwithstanding the people of Rome had expelled him, yet when the Galles had taken the citie of Rome, and compelled the Romaines to redeeme their heades with golde, he perswading the people, called Ardeates, with whome he lyued in exyle, to succour the citie, entred with them ere any man was ware of his comming, and slue and discomfited the Galles, and saued or rather restoyed the citie from bondage. Hee was before the incarnation. 350. yeres. Of his actes read Val. Max. lib. 1. c.5, li.2.c.4.li.5.ca.3. Liuium, Decad.1.li.5.6.et.7.

Camirus, A citie in Rhodes.

Camœna,næ,fœ,gen. One of the ix. Muses.

Camœnæ,arum,fœ,gen. Their. Muses.

Campania, A countrey in the realme of Naples: which was accounted the most fertyle and pleasaunt countrey of all the worlde.

Campanus,a,um, Of Campania.

Camponi, People of Aquitaine.

Campsiani, People of Germanie.

Campus Martius, A fielde nighe Rome, and ioyning to the ryuer of Tyber, where the Romaynes not onely exercised themselues in running, leaping, wrastling, and swimming, but also had their assemblies for the election of great officers in the common weale.

Cana, A certaine promontorie.

Canaan, The sonne of Cam, the sonne of Noe, of whome commeth Cananæus.

Canace, The daughter of Aeolus, and sister of Macareus. When hir father vnderstode that thee was deliuered of a chylde, begotten by incest of hir owne brother, he cast the babe to be deuoured of Dogges, and by his garde sent his daughter a sword to kill hir selfe, what thee did, it is not written. But fearing extremitie, Macharcus fledde to Delphos, and there became Apollos priest.

Canaius, A ryuer of Aeolis.

Canan, The countrey called Arabia.

Cananæa, A part of Syria, now called Iudea.

Cananitis regio, idem.

Canariæ insulæ, Iles in the great Ocean 400. miles from Spaine, which some suppose to be those that of the olde wryters are called Insulæ fortunatæ: the newe names of them them be these, Lanzelota, Fortisventura, Magna canaria, Tenerife, Gomera, Palma, & Ferrea. In these yles of late yeres greuw great number of Canes, wherein was suger: but eyther by distemperaunce of weather, or by Comes, which some men suppose were brought thither, that commoditie is almost destroyed.

Canarij, People of Affrike.

Canas, A towne of Lycia.

Canastræum, A promontorie of Macedone, by the goulfe Thermaicus.

Canatha, A towne in the region of Decapolis, in Syria.

Cancer, One of the twelue signes, so called because in June when the sunne is in that signe, it beginneth by little and little to go backewarde from vs, in maner of the Crabbe fishe. This (saith Hyginus) was the terrible Crabbe that Juno sente vpon Hercules, as hee was fighting with the monster Hydra. Which, for so much as it did byte hym by the foote, Hercules killed, and Juno after placed it among the signes.

Canchlei, People of Arabie.

Candace,ces, and Candax,acis, A Queene of Aethiope.

Candaria, A promontorie in the yle of Cos.

Candauiæ, Mountaines in Macedone.

Candaules, A tyran of Sardis, which by foolishe dottage, thinking his wife the fayrest woman in the worlde, shewed hir naked to his familiar friende Gyges: for which cause he was afterwarde murdered by the same Gyges, through the counsell of his wife.

Candebera, A fort at the foote of the mountaine Carmelus.

Candei, People of Arabie, which vse to eate serpentes: and therefore be called Ophiophagi.

Candidum, A promontorie of the countrey Turgutana in Affrike.

Candyba, A citie in Lycia.

Cane, A towne of Troas.

Canicula,læ,fœ.gen. A starre whereof the Canicular and dogge dayes be named Dies caniculares.

Candia, A woman of Naples, whome Horace rateth as a witch or sorceresse.

Caninius, One that was Consull of Rome onely seauen houres.

Canis, A starre in the firmament, ryding the xxij. Calendes of August, and going downe within 40. dayes after. In which time, being called the Dogge dayes, this starre ioyning with the sunne in the myost of the firmamente, doubleth the heate. Wherof it taketh the name, because the heate so perchet as it may seme, as a Dogge to byte. Poetes feigne that thys was the Dogge that Jupiter appointed to watch Europa, and afterwarde for his diligent ministerie, set him in heauen as a starre.

Cannacas, A king of Phrygia, who foreseeing the deluge, made great lamentation.

Cannæ,arum, A towne in the countrey of Apulia in Italy, where a great hoste of the Romaynes was slayne by Anniball.

Cannenses, Men of the sayde towne.

Cannius, A poet in the tyme of Martiall, which was so merie of nature, that he laughed alwaye.

Canobus, The maister of Menelaus ship. Lykewise Canopus.

Canopus, A marueylous bright starre. Also hys name that was mayster of Menelaus shippes, which being dead in an yle, at the entre of Nilus, caused that yle to be called by hys name, and was there honored for a God. Of whome this pretie hystorie is remembred of Suidas. The people of diuers countreyes contending for the preeminence of their Goddis, agreed, that those gods, which were vanquished by anye notable experience, shoulde giue place to the vanquisher. A priest of Canopus, a wittie fellow, got a water pot full of small holes, and stopping the holes with wax, filled it full of water, painted it, made it in fourme of an yoll, and did craftily set it on the olde pmage, knowing that the Chaldees a honoring the sye for God, did carie it about into all countreyes, and consumed therewith al other goods, made of mettall and other matter. But when they came to Canopus, and did set the fire about him, the ware melted quickely, and the water distilling into the fyre, quenched it. wherefore Canopus was deemed vanquisher and chiefe of the Goddis.

Cantabri, People of a countrey in Spayne, called nowe Biscay.

Cantabricus,a,um, Of Biskay.

Cantarus, A comicall poet of Athens.

Cántharus, A signe in the firmament, cõteining thre starrs.

Canthus, The sonne of Abas, and companyon of Jason.

Cantiobis, The citie of Amberg in Germany.

Cantium, The countrey of Kent.

Canulcius, A tribune of the Romaines.

Canusinátus, a,um, Arrayed with the cloth made of the woll of Canusium.

Canusinus,a,um, Of Canusium.

Canusium, A town in the country of Apulia, where is verie fine woll, called Canusina lana, & is ruddy of colour.

Capaneus, Thre syllables, the husbande of Euadne, and one of the seuen Capitaines that besieged Thebes, where he first inuented scaling with ladders, and was there slaine with stones cast from the wall.

Capaneus, and Capanéius, The adiectiue.

Capara, A towne of Portugall, called commonly Caparea

Capélla,læ,fœ,ge. A certaine starre.

Capéna, A towne by Rome, by the Fountaine Aegeria. Also a gate in Rome, otherwyse called Appia porta, where is a water consecrated to Mercury, vsed in diuers ceremonies.

Capenátes, People of Capena.

Caper, and Caprus, pri. mal.gen. The name of an olde Grammarian. Also a ryuer running by Laodicia.

Capetus. The name of a king of Alba.

Caphareus, Thre syllables, a mountaine in Greece, by which the Grekes naute was sore afflicted, for the death of Palamedes.

Caphareus,a,um, Of Capharens.

Capharnaum, The cheefe citie in Galile.

Capheris, An yle by Samothrace.

Capillati, People of the Alpes.

Capissenæ, People of Asia, dwelling in the citie Capissa.

Capissa, An highe hill in Indie.

Cápito,ónis,mal.gen. A learned man that translated the Epitome of Liuie an Eutropius into Greke.

Capitolinus, The surname of him that founde the heade when the Capitoll shoulde be buylded.

Capitolinus,a,um, Of the pallace of the citie of Rome.

Capitólium,lij.n.g. The pallace of the citie of Rome, called the Capitoll.

Capitulum, A towne in Italy.

Capnobatæ, People called Mysi.

Capote, A mountayne in Asia.

Cappadocia, A countrey of Asia, hauing on the south Cilicia, and the mountaine Taurus: On the east, Armeny, and diuers other nations: On the north, the sea Euxinum: On the west, Galatia: and is deuided from Armeny the more, with the famous ryuer Euphrates. In this countrey are bredde plentie of excellent good horses. It was sometime called Alba Syria, because the people there be whyter than in the other Syria. The people thereof are called Cappadoces, whose conditions were reputed so yll, that among the common people, if one had beene seene to be of yll facion, they would say he was of Cappadocia. In that countrey were borne, Basilius Magnus, and Gregorius Nazianzenus, two holy Bishops and excellent doctors.

Cappagum, A towne in Spaine.

Cappadox,ocis, And Cappadocus, A man of the country of Capadocia.

Capparus, A dogges name notable, because he bewrayed the theefe, that robbed Aesculapius temple.

Capra,æ,fœ,ge. A signe in the firmament.

Capraria, An yle in the sea, called Ligusticum.

Caprasia, The mouth of the ryuer Po.

Capreæ. Certaine plandes by Naples.

Capria, A fenne in Pamphilia.

Capricórnus,ni,masgen. A ſigne in heauen, conteyning twentie darres.

Caprotina, The ſurname of Juno, vpon occaſion of thys itopie. After the citie of Rome had beene taken and ſpoyled by the Galles, and theyr power, thereby much broken, their neighbours and oppreſſers, thynking themſelues to haue a good occaſion to repeate that nowe ryſen citie, choſe to their capitaine one Lucius Poſtumius Dictatour of the citie Fidenæ. Hee, gathering a mighty armie, ſent an harrald to the Senate of Rome, charging them (if they would not haue the reſidue of their citie deſtroyed) to deliuer into their handes al their wyues and daughters. While this matter was doubtfully debated of the counſaiours, an handmayd named Philotis wyth all the reſidue of the bonde maydens of the citie araying themſelues in their maiſtreſſes apparell, tooke vpon them to goe to their enimies in place and perſon of their Ladyes and mayſtreſſes, if it might be, that way to ſaue theyr worſhip, and the good eſtate of their countrey.

Caprullon, An hauen by the mountaine Athos.

Capſitani, People of Zeugitana, in Affrike.

Capua, A citie in the realme of Naples.

Caput viridæ, A place in Aethiope, called there Mandanga.

Capys, A mans name that buylded Capua.

Caraibis, A ryuer of Scythia.

Caraca, A citie in Spaine, called Guadalayza.

Caralitanum, A promontorie of Sardinia.

Carambis, A great promontorie towarde the North part of the ſea Euxinus.

Carambuſis, A ryuer of Scythia, by the mountaines called Riphæi.

Carana, A towne of Pontc.

Caranus, A king of Macedonie. Alſo an hauen in Phœnicia.

Caraleni, People of the countrey Taurica.

Caraxus, The brother of Sappho.

Carbinia, A little plande by Italy.

Carbileſi, People of Thrace.

Carbilius, A man that among the Romeynes did firſt repudiate his wife for barrennelſe. An other of the ſame name, which had beene his ſeruaunt, was the firſt that did teach Grammer openly in Rome.

Carbo,ónis.masgen. The name of a Romaine.

Carbulo, A towne in Spaine.

Carcaſum, A towne of Narbon in Fraunce.

Carcathiocherta, A towne of the greater Armenie.

Carchédon, The citie of Carthage, and Carchedonij, the people thereof.

Carcina, A certaine citie.

Carcinites, A gonlfe in Scythia of Europe.

Cárcinus,ni,masgen. A ſigne in the firmament. Alſo the name of a poet.

Cardamyla, A citie in Argos, neere to Pylos.

Cárdia, A towne of Thrace.

Cardinea dea idem quod Carna.

Carenſes, People of Spaine.

Carentani, People of Italy.

Cares, The name of a Keruer, the ſcholer of Lyſippus.

Cares, People of Phrygia, of barbarous and ſcruile maners and faſhion.

Careſſus, A ryuer of Troy. Homere.12.Iliados.

Caretha, An yle, called alſo Dionyſia.

Caria, A region in Aſia, hauing on the north ſide, the great ryuer Meander: On the weſt, the great ſea Icarium: on the eaſt, Lycia, and dyuers other countreyes: Towarde the ſouth, the mountaine Taurus. The people thereof called Cares, were good men of warre, and therefore euery where retayned for ſouldiours, as Suyzars, or Stupcheners be nowe.

Cariatis,idis, A woman of Caria. Alſo the name of a citie of Peloponneſus.

Caricus, or Carius,a,um, Of the countrey of Caria.

Carille, A towne of Picenum, deſtroyed by Annibali.

Carinæ,arum, Certayne houſes within the temple of Tellus, made like the bottomes of ſhippes.

Carinæ,arum, A ſtreete in Rome, wherein Pompeie dwelled.

Carini, People of Germanie.

Carinthia, A countrey by Auſtryke, ioyning on the ſouth to the mountaines Alpes and Italy: On the eaſt and north to Styria. The election of a newe prince or gouernour there, is very ſtraunge. Pius writeth in hys Coſmographie, that in the towne called Sanct vit, is a great valley, where, in a meadowe is ſet a ſtone of marble, of a good height, where vpon aſcendeth an hyr bandman, vnto whome that office by enheritance belongeth: On his right hande ſtandeth a blacke cowe: on his left hande an yll fauoured mare. About him ſtandeth a great multitude of carles. On the other ſide of the meadow commeth the Duke, accompanyed with his noble men in their robes of eſtate. Before him geeth the earle of Goritia, the great mayſter of his houſe, bereyning. xij. banners, bearing the princes ſtandard. The other noble men followe with the prince, clad lyke an huſband man, with a hyepeerake in his hand, as he were a ſhepeherd. As ſone as the Carle on the marble ſtone, perceyueth him comming, he alſketh a loude in the Sclauoyn tongue, who is this, that commeth with ſo proud a gate? They that ſtande about, anſwere: It is the prince of thys countrey. Then ſayth he eftſoones: Is he a righteous Judge, ſeeking for the weale of the countrey, a free man borne, and worthie to haue honour? Is he a true chriſtian man, and defender of Chriſtes fayth? They all anſwere, yea, he is and ſhall be. Then ſaith the carle, By what right may he put me from this place? Then anſwereth the Earle of Goritia: Then ſhalt haue for thy place, ix. grotes, theſe two beaſtes, (the cowe and the mare) and the princes apparaile, which he did late put of. Alſo thy familie or kinne ſhall be free from all manor of tribute. Then the carle, giuing the prince a little blowe on his cheeke, bidderh him be a good iudge, and comming downe from the ſtone geeth him place, and ſo departeth, taking with him the cowe and the mare. Then the prince goeth vp on the ſtone, and holding a naked ſworde in his handc, brandiſhing it turneth to euery part of the ſtone, promiſing equall iudgement to all the people. Then is there brought to him colde water in an huſbandmans cappe, which he drinketh, ſignifying that hee condemneth drinking of wine. Then goeth he to a Church thereby: where, after he hath heard deuine ſeruice, he puttech of his ruſticall rayment, and putteth on apparell of honour. And dining with his nobilitie ſumptuouſly, he commeth eftſoones to the medowe, where he heareth matters, and miniſtreth iuſtice. The Duke of this countrey, is as it were chiefe mayſter of the game to the imperiall maieſtie.

Cariofuelites, People of the country of Lions in Fraunce.

Cariſa, A towne in Spaine called alſo Aurelia.

Carius, The ſonne of Jupiter and Danae.

Carmacæ, People of Aſia, neere Paxotis.

Carmani, People of Carmania.

Carmánia, A countrey in India, which is after Ptolome, deuided in two partes: one is verye fertile, the other is verye barraine. Carmania the deſert, hath on the weſt, Perſis: on the eaſt, Aria: on the north Parthia: on the ſouth, the other Carmania. The fertile Carmania, hath on the north, the deſert: on the eaſt, Sedroſia: on the weſt, Perſis: on the ſouth, the Indian ſea. Of this countrey I finde one thing worthie of remembraunce: Who ſo euer will marry, muſt firſt bring to the king there, the heade of an enimie: which he ſetteth vp in his palaice, but firſt he taketh out the tongue, and cauſeth it to be cut in pieces, and mingled with breade, and geueth part thereof to him that brought the heade. And if there be manye heades, hee deuydeth the tongues among his gentlemen, as moſt delicate meate.

Carmélus, or Carmélum, The name of two ſundrie hilles in Judea.

Carmenta, & Carmentis, The name of a Ladie, which had the ſpirite of prophecie, and gaue anſwere in verſes. She

She was alſo called Nicoſtrata, and was mother of Euander.

Carnion, A place in Meſſenia: the temple of Apollo in Laconia: a ryuer in Achaia: and a mountaine in Peloponneſus.

Carna,æ,ſig. was ſuppoſed to be the Goddeſſe of mans ryte: of hir they deliued the heart, liuer, and intrayles to be preſerued.

Carnapæ, People about Paxotis.

Carne, A towne of Phœnicia.

Carneades, A philoſopher, the follower of Chriſippus, and chefe of the ſect called Noui Academici. Of him Plinie and other wryte, that, when he went about to confute Zenoes bookes, he purged his bodie with Helleborus, that the corrupted humors ſhoulde not aſcende vnto his heade to trouble hys wytte and memorie. So carefully did this wiſe philoſopher prepare himſelfe to confounde the wrytings of that ſect, that in his opinion hee iudged erronius. He on a time was ſent with other as Ambaſſadour to Rome, and for his ſubtiltie and eloquence made the whole meſſage ſuſpected: for why. Cato, openly in the Senate aduertiſed men to take heede to him, who was of ſo excellent eloquence and ſkill in reaſoning, that he was able to perſwade, whatſoeuer he toke in hande.

Carni, The people of the countrey in Illmaine called Carinthia, belonging to the Duke of Auſtrike. It is alſo the name of an other people in Italy, in the countrey called Marca Tarniſia.

Carnoum, The middle region of all Fraunce.

Carnutum, A towne in the border of Germany.

Carnutes, People of a countrey in Fraunce, called Chartres.

Carnuti, People of Germanie.

Carodunum, The citie Cracau in Polonia, called alſo Cracouia.

Carolus, Surnamed the great, ſonne of king Pipine of Fraunce, and afterward Emperour of Rome. In ſundrie great battayles he ouerthrewe the Hunnes, Sagones, Lumbardes, and Bauarians. He ſubdued Guyenne, Gaſcoyne, and Guyan. Hee ſpoyled and ſacked Pannonie, and in Spaine fought manye notable battayles. Finally, both in peace and warre a very noble prince, had not the admiration of the ſea of Rome ouermuch amazed him.

Caronium, A citie in Spaine, called Cheroga.

Carpanetum, A place of Athens.

Carpaſium, A towne of the plande Cypres.

Carpathium, mare, The ſea ioyning to Egypt, wherein be the yles called Sporades.

Carpathos, or Carpathus, An yle agaynſt Egypt, the middeſt betweene Rhodes and Candie.

Carpatus, A mountaine of Sarmatia, called commonly Crapalz.

Carpentoracte, The citie of Carpentias in Narbone.

Carpetani, A people of Spaine.

Carpi, A people of Zeugitana, in Affrike.

Carpis, A ryuer in Scythia.

Carpócrates, An heretike, which denied Chriſt to be God, affirming that he was pure man, whoſe ſect were named Carpocratitæ, or Carpocratiani. They affirmed the worlde to be made by aungelles. They reiected the olde teſtament, and denied the generall reſurrection. They denyed that Chriſt was borne of the virgin Mary, ſaying, that he was gotten of the ſeede of Joſeph. Alſo that his bodie ſuffered, and that his ſoule onely was receyued into heauen. Hee lyued about the yeare of our Lorde. 142.

Carra,æ, A citie in Arabia.

Carraca, A citie in Italy, vnder the dominion of Venice, called commonly Caranas.

Carræ,arum, A citie of Meſopotamia, where Craſſus the ſenatour and Caracalla the Emperour was ſlaine.

Carrodunum, Lowe Carodunum.

Carſeolanus,a,um, Of the towne or people called Carſeoli.

Carſeoli, That towne and people.

Carteia, A towne in Spaine.

Cartenna, A towne in the prouince Tingitana.

Carthea, or Carthæa, A citie in the yle Ceos.

Carthaginienſis, or, after Pliſcian, Carthaginienſis,ſe, Of, or perteyning to Carthage.

Carthago,thaginis,tagen. A famous citie in Affrike called Carthage, almoſt enuyroned with the ſea: which citie was in compaſſe about the walles. 360. furlonges, which are. 45. Italyan myles: whereof vij. myles and an halfe ran in length on the ridge of an hyll, which went from ſea to ſea, where were ſet the ſtables of Elyphantes, a verye large place. Almoſt in the middle of the citie was a caſtle or tower called Byrſa, on the toppe whereof ſtoode Aeſculapius temple: vnderneath were hauens or hepes of the Caſtell, and a little rounde yle called Cothon, ſtanding as it were in a great ponde, about which were ſet the houſes that ſerued for the Marine of Carthage. This citie continued warres wyth the Romaines, xl. yeares, and had manye excellent men of warre, of whome Annibali was the moſt noble and famous. That citie had in fubication a great part of Affrike, Sicilie, the more part of Spayne, and the yles of the middle Sea. It was at laſt deſtroyed by Scipio, before the incarnation of Chriſt. 144. yeares. The countrey where it ſtoode, is nowe called Tunſe.

Cartheus, and Cartheius,a,um, The adiectiue of Carthæa.

Carthumandua, A Quene in this Britaine, of the people called Brigantes.

Cartris, A place of the Cynthiani.

Caruſij, People of Affrike by Ethiope.

Carya, The name of a citie in Greece.

Caryanda, A fenne and yle in Caria.

Caryſtæus, and Caryſtius,a,um, Of the yle Caryſte.

Caryſte,tes, and Caryſtos,u, An yle in the ſea called Euboicum, whereon is plentie of Marble of diuers colours. There groweth alſo a kynde of ſtones, whereof they make fine cloth, which being foule is purged by fyre.

Caſandra, An yle ouer againſt Perſis.

Caſcandrus, An yle by India.

Caſcarenes, People of Spayne.

Caſilini, A people, which being beſieged of the Carthaginenſes, ſuſtained their hunger a great ſpace with ſmall nutteo.

Caſilinum, A citie of Campaine in Italy.

Caſina, A Commodie of Plautus.

Caſinum, A towne in Italy.

Caſius, An hill in the borders of Aegypt: an other in Seleucia.

Caſmonates, People of Liguria.

Caſos, An yle by the ſea Carpathium. Alſo one of thoſe yles that be called Cyclades.

Caſperia, A citie in Italy. Alſo a womans name.

Caſperula, A towne of the Sabines.

Caſpij, A people nowe in Tartaria, ioyning to the Sea Caſpium, ſo inhumayne (as Strabo wryteth) that when their parentes exceede the age of. lxx. yeares, they in a cloſe place famiſhe them, and then they lay them in a deſert, beholding them a farre of. Il byrdes pluche them out of theyr clothes, and deuoure them, they account them bleſſed. If Dogges or wylde beaſtes doe it, they account it not ſo happy. But if both doe it, they eſteeme thoſe men vnhappy. Other wryte that they nourriſhe Dogges of purpole to deuoure them.

Caſpius, A part of the mountaine Taurus.

Caſpius, and Caſpiacus,a,um, Of Caſpius.

Caſpiæ portæ, Are broken places in the rocks of the mountaines of Caucaſus, towarde Hyrcania and Perſia, in length, as Plinius wryteth. vij. myles, as Solinus wryteth, eyght myles: In breadth ſo narow, that a carte may hardly paſſe thyough them. Martianus wryteth that thoſe gates were ſaſt ſhut with great yron beames, that no man ſhoulde paſſe. In the ſpring time and ſommer, all ſerpents doe repayre thither from all countries about, wherefore the paſſage that way is perylous.

Caſſandane, The daughter of Pharnaſpis, and mother of Cambyſes,

Cambyſes, A ſpages ſonne in lawe.

Caſſandra, Daughter of king Peyamus and Hecuba: Who for hir excellent fauour and beeutie, was beloued of Apollo, and ſuited by him, in recompence of hir virginitie, if ſhee would bee vnto his pleaſure, to wiſhe whatſoeuer ſhee would deſire. Shee therefore requeſted the gift of prophecie: which when Apollo had giuen hir, ſhe requited him with hir promiſe, and would not condiſcende to his deſire. Wherevpon Apollo, for ſo much as he could not forbee that he had giuen, annexed to hir this propertye, that, ſayde thee in prophecie neuer ſo truely, yet no man ſhoulde beleeue hir. Wherefore when ſhe diſcloſed the treaſon of the tymber horſe at the ſiege of Troy, and cryed, that the receyuing of it would bee the deſtruction of the citie, yet hir countrey men old not credite hir, vntill the euent of their owne miſerye proued hyr ſayinges true. In the ende of the Troiane warre, ſhe was taken by Aiax and rauiſhed in the temple of Minerua. In the parting of the prape, ſhee fell by lotte to Agamemnon, whome ſundrye times ſhee admoniſhed before hande to take heede of the treaſon of hys wyfe Clytemneſtra: but hir eſtemed hir wordes as tryfling fantaſies of a doting woman, vntill both hee and Caſſandra alſo, was ſlaine by the conſpiracie of Clytemneſtra and the aduoutrer Aegiſthus.

Caſſera, A towne of Macedonie.

Caſſia via, A waye or cauſey made by Caſſius the Romayne.

Caſſina, Lake Caſina.

Caſſinum, A towne of the Sabines. Alſo an olde market place in that towne.

Caſſiodorus, A learned man, teacher of Theodozicus king of Gothes.

Caſſiopa, An hauen on the ſouth part of Sicilie.

Caſſiope, Called alſo Caſſiopeia, The wife of Cepheius, and mother of Andromada, which contended in beauty with the Nymphes of the ſea, called Nereides, and was therefore turned into a ſigne in heauē, that hath twelue ſtarres and is figured like a woman ſitting in a chaire.

Caſſiterides, Be tenne yles in the Spaniſhe ſea, wherein was digged much tinne, and they be not farre from the weſt part of Spaine.

Caſſius, The proper name of diuers men. It is alſo the name of a mountaine, and of a citie in Egypt neere to Peluſium. Lake the prouerbe Caſſioticus nodus.

Caſtalides, The ſurname of the Muſes.

Caſtalius, A fountaine in the fore of the hill Parnaſſus, dedicated to the Muſes.

Caſtellani, li, The name of a countrey called Iuliers, or Guilke.

Caſtenes, A gulfe in the ſea by Conſtantinople.

Caſtianira, One of Peyamus wyues.

Caſtologi, People of Fraunce.

Caſtor, and Pollux, Two twinnes begotten on Leda by Jupiter (as poets feigne) in the fourme of a ſwanne. And therefore thoſe children were hatched in egges, when they came to age, they deliuered the ſeas from pyrates and rouers, and therefore being counted Gods of the ſea, were called on by mariners in time of daunger and tempeſt. Afterwarde they went with Jaſon to Colchos to winne the golden fleece: in which voyage Pollux killed Amicus king of Bebritia, that in ſ night trayterouſly wouldbe haue ſlaine him. At their returne, beſieging the citie Aphidna, in the abſence of Hercules, they wanne againe their ſiſter Helena that in time of their voyage he had ſtollen awaye, beyng then a verye yong mayden. In the ende when Caſtor (who is ſayde to bee mortall, becauſe he was not hatched of the ſame Egge that Pollux was) ended hys lyfe and dyed: Pollux beyng immortall, deſired of his Father Jupiter, that hee might part hys immortall ſtate with hys brother Caſtor. Which thing Jupiter graunted, and the two brothers lyued and dyed by courſe. Occaſion of this fable was taken of the ſtarres called Gemini, unto the which it is feigned, thoſe two brothers were turned. For the nature of them is, that when the one ryſeth the other goeth downe.

Caſtor, A philition, who taught that the herbe Piperitis, was good to drinke for the falling ſickneſſe.

Caſtrimonienſes, People of Italy.

Caſtritius, A noble man in the tyme of Sylla. And an Oratour vnder Adrian the Emperour.

Caſtrum nouum, A towne in Italy, by the mouth of Tyber.

Caſtulonenſes, People of the towne Caſtulon in Spaine, called commonly Caſtona.

Caſtentillani, People of Italy.

Caſuentum, A ryuer neere to the boſome of the ſea, called Tarentinum.

Caſurgis, A citie in Boeme, nowe called Praga.

Catabanes, People of Arabia deſerta.

Catebathmus, A place in Affrike ioyning to Aegipt, ſo named of the ſtipeneſſe or deſcending.

Cataduþa, A place by Nylus.

Cataduþi, A place in Ethiope.

Catana, A towne of Sicilie, the people whereof were called Catanei.

Cataphryges, Heretikes, which toke that name of one Montanus of Phrygia, an Archeheretike. Who affyrmed that the holy Ghoſt was giuen to them, and not to the Apoſtles. They baptized not in the name of the Trinitie, and vſed to baptiſe men after they were dead. They condemned the ſecond marryage. This ſect began in the yeare of our Lorde. 170.

Catari, People of Hungarie.

Catarnia, A countrey of Aſia.

Catarrhactes, A ryuer of Pamphilia.

Cathalanum, A towne in Fraunce called Chalon.

Cathari, were heretykes, which affirmed, that it was not lefull for a chriſten man to ſweare, for any cauſe, or at any tyme. They did alſo denie all the ſacraments of the church.

Cathay, A great region in the eaſt part of the worlde, extending to the eaſt Occean ſea: on the ſouth to the ouer India: and is alſo called Sinarum regio. It is deuided into nine Realmes: all be vnder the great Cham. This Countrey is wonderful ryche in golde and ſilke, abounding in grayne, wynes, and all other thinges neceſſary for mannes ſuſtenaunce. The people for the moſe part, honour Chriſt as God, but they are not baptiſed. They are curteous and reaſonable, & very cunning artificers.

Cathi, Lake Chatti.

Cathólicus, A name whereby the byſhop of the Armenians was called.

Cathón, One of the yles called Cyclades.

Cati, A well in Italy, by Tyber.

Catilina, A Romaine, notable for his conſpiracie.

Catillus, The ſonne of Amphiaraus, and brother of Tyburtus, in memorie of whome he builded the citie of Tybur.

Catina, æ, or Catine, es, A citie of Sicilie. Some called it Catana.

Catizi, The people called Pygmæi.

Cato, onis, was not firſt a ſurname, but a name of merye. For the auncyent Romaynes called him Cato, that was wiſe by much experience. Of this name, two were moſt excellent: Marcus Cato Cenſorius, becauſe he alwaies vſed the grauitie and rygour that was wont to be in the correctours of maners, called Cenſores. Alſo he himſelfe being Cenſor, was aboue all other moſt ſharpe and rygorus. Valerius, Max. ſayeth, that he was almoſt an olde man ere he learned latin letters, and than it ſeemeth he was olde ere he learned greeke. Yet notwithſtanding by gathering abridgementes out of Thucydides, and Demoſthenes woorkes, he became the greateſt Oratour of hys time, and was called the Romaine Demoſthenes. He being made Conſull, wan two cities in Spayne, then he had aboden dayes in that countrey. In which iourney hee reteyned to hymſelfe, nothing of all that was founde there, but meate and drynke ſonely. Hee made hys Souldiours ryche, geuing to euerye of them a pounde weight of ſiluer, ſaying:

ſaying: Better it were, that many Romaines returned to Rome with ſiluer, than a fewe with golde. He taught his owne ſonne Grammer, notwithſtanding hee had a ſeruaunt called Chyio, an excellent Grammarian, and taught a great ſchoole, ſaying: It is not conuenient, if my ſonne be ſlowe of learning, he ſhoulde be rebuked or puniſhed by the eares of him, that is of ſeruile condition. Hee alſo taught him the cuntil lawes, the exerciſe of all weapons, to ryde well, to fight with the fiſts, to taſtaine both colde and heate, to leape into waters, and ſwymme againſt ſwift ſtreames. Beyng Cenſor, hee ſpared none eſtate, whoſe maners he founde corrupted, or ſuperfluous in lyuing, whes by he brought into the citie a maruelous Image of vertue. His ſentences rehearſed by Plutarke bee wonderfull: of which I will remember three. Like as the byers, ſayd he, doe die moſt often that colour, which they doe perceyue moſt men delight in: ſo yong men doe moſt ſtudiouſlye haunt & imytate that, which they ſee olde men and counſaylours haue in moſt eſtimation. Hee blamed the people of Rome, for that they committed authozitie and offices oft tymes to one perſon, ſaying: They ſeemed not to eſteeme rule and authozitie, or elſe they ſuppoſed there were but fewe worthie of promotion. The one was a ſigne of contempt, the other diſcourage to good wittes, and rebuke to their countrey. When the Ambaſſadours were choſen to be ſent into Bithynia, of whome one had the goute, an other paine in his heade, and the thirde tymorius, Cato laughing ſayde in the Senate: The people of Rome ſendeth an Ambaſſade, which hath neither feete, heade, nor heart. The life of this and of the other Cato, are worthie to be oftentimes reade, ſpecially of counſaylers, and men in authozitie. Hee was beloze the incarnation. 182. yeares.

Cato Vticenſis. (ſo called becauſe he ſlue himſelfe in the towne Vtica, to whome the other Cato Cenſorius, was great grandfather) ſhewed a wonderfull conſtance and grauitie, euen in his childehode. Seldome merye or leene to laugh, and if he did, it was a very little ſmiling: not lightly angrie, but if he were, he was not ſone appeaſed. Hee was verye ſtudious in all mozall philoſophie, practiſing in his actes and liuing, that which hee read of vertue and honeſtie: and ſtudyed eloquence onelye to the intent, that in counſayling and reaſoning, he mought adde vnto philoſophye moze foꝛce and ornament, and yet would he not practiſe it openly. When one ſayde to him, men diſpayſe thyne obſtinate ſilence, he anſwered: I foꝛce not, ſo they diſpayſe not my liuing: but I will breake out of this ſilence, when I can ſpeake that is worthie to be ſpoken. Beyng Tribunus militum, he was ſent into Macedonie, wherewith hys maruelous grauitie, prudence, and painefulneſſe, he made all that were vnder him fierce and hardie againſt their enimies gentle to their fellowes, fearefull to doe iniurie, prompt to get prayſes, and himſelfe labouring with them, liuing his apparrell, feeding, and going like vnto them: he contrary to mens expectations (notwithſtanding his ſeueritie) wanne the hearttes of them, going on foote and talking with euery man. He was of ſuch conſtancie, and ſo farre from ambition and flattery, that neyther Pompey nor Ceſar, in their chiefe prayde, when all men, eyther for dread or fauor, inclined to theyr deſires, could perſwade him to agree to their mindes, in caſes where it ſeemed to be againſt the weale publike: neyther mought any manor menacing or dreadfull tokens moue him from that conſtancye. In ſo much, that when hee heard that Ceſar had vanquiſhed Pompey, and that his friendes wouldbe haue ſent to Ceſar to deſire his fauour, he anſwered: they which are vanquiſhed, oz haue any wiſe treſpaſſed, ought to make ſute, but he in all his life was neuer vanquiſhed, and in innocencie ſurmounted Ceſar, who in making warre againſt his owne countrey, had condemned himſelfe to haue done that thing. Which hee had often denyed. Finally, not for malice of Ceſar, but becauſe he would not beholde the weale publike deſtroyed, hee ſlue himſelfe at Vtica, hauing with him at ſupper, the cheefe beloze, the greateſt officers of that Citie, and manye of his friends. Alſo this ſentence being ſpoken amongſt other. Onely a good man is a free man, all yll men are bonde: when one happened to reaſon againſt it, Cato beeyng therwith chaufed, diſputed with the other ſo vehementlye and long, that all men ſuſpected that he wouldbe not long liue. He dyed beloze the incarnation 44. yeares.

Catoni, People of Scythia about Myotis.

Catti, Lake Chatti.

Catulária, æ, ſ. gen. One of the gates of Rome.

Catullus, The name of a Poet.

Catulus, A Romaine capitaine in the firſt warres of Carthage. Alſo an oratour that was conſull with Marius.

Conturiactorium, A citie called Carlile in England.

Caturiges, People of Italy.

Catus, The name of a noble and wiſe family in Rome.

Cauares, People of Narbon in Fraunce.

Cauca, A citie in Spaine, called commonly Quenca.

Caucaſus, An hill, one of the higheſt in all Aſia, ſituate aboue Iberia and Albania on the north part, and is a part of the mountaine Taurus: one of the partes of this hill deuiding India and Medea, ſtretcheth toward the rede ſea. Philoſtratus.

Cauche, Certaine fieldes by the ryuer Tygris.

Caudinus, a, um, Of Caudis.

Caudinæ furcæ, A place in Italy, where the Romaines were diſcomfited by the Samnites.

Caudis, oz Caudium, A towne of the Samnites.

Caulum, oz Caulon, A towne, which (as Plinie writeth) is ſcituate in the firſt region of Italy.

Caumas, A Centaure the ſonne of Ixion.

Caunus, A citie in Caria, by the ryuer Calbis. This city is very queiſie and daungerous to dwell in, both at other times of the yeare, and eſpecially in ſummer and Autumne, aſwel for the vntemperate heate of the ayre, as for the great abundance of fruites. Therefore it is reported that the ſcituation is very vnholeſom, and the ayre contagious. When Stratonicus a pleaſaunt Huſtitian and merye conceyted man beheld the inhabitaunts therof ſo wanne and yll coloured, he ſcoffed at them with this ſentence of Homere, Tale quidem genus eſt hominum, quale eſt foliorum. The men and the leaues of this countrey looke very lyke: that is, both wanne and pale without liuely colour. For which cauſe, when the people were much grieued, and bitterly rayled at hym: why, (ſayth he) may I not iuſtly call this a ſickely and queiſie citie, where deade men walke? With which aunſwere he farre more ſharpely nipped their deadelye colours and wearyſhe lokes than he had done beloze.

Caurium, A towne of Poztugall, called alſo Caura, commonly Corra.

Cauros, An yle, which was afterwarde called Andros.

Caycus, A ryuer in Phrygia.

Cayſter, oz Cayſtrus, A ryuer of Aſia.

Cayſtrius, a, um, Of Cayſter.

Cayſtros, A famous ryuer of Jonia, by the citie Epheſus.

Cea, Lake Cæa.

Ceadus, A Thracian which ayded the Troyans.

Cébes, étis, A philoſopher of Thebes.

Cebrenia, A place of Troy, called of ſome Cebynia.

Cebreni, People of that countrey, and alſo of Aſia.

Cebrenis, idis patronymicum femininum.

Cebriones, The baſtarde ſonne of king Peyamus.

Cecinna, A ryuer by Volaterne. Alſo the name of a Romane which fauoured the quarell of Pompey in the ciuile warre.

Cecropia, A towne that Cecrops buylded, which was after the caſtell of Athens.

Cecropidæ, Men of Athens.

Cecropis, idis, A woman comming of Cecrops.

Cecropius, a, um, Of Cecrops.

Cecrops, opis, maſc. An auncient king of Athens, whoſe ymage pmage was made hauyng two heades. He firſt in thoſe partes brought in the bande and knotte of mary-age, inuented pmages, buylded aulters, and offered ſa-crifices: which thynges before hym were neuer knowne in Greece. He was before the incarnation. 1589. yeares.

Cecyphalea, A promontorie of Peloponneſus.

Cedar, A region in Arabia.

Cedriæ tabernæ, Lake Cadriæ.

Cedras, A towne of Caria.

Ced.opolis, An other towne in Caria.

Cedros, An plande in the coaſtes of Germanie.

Celadon, One of them that was ſlayne at the marpage of Perſeus and Andromeda. Alſo a ryuer.

Celadſia, A litle ple in the ſea Adriaticum.

Celæno, One of the rauening byrdes, called commonly Harpyiæ.

Celeia, A towne of Norice, called commonly Cilia.

Celena, æ, A place in Campayne dedicate to Juno.

Celenæ, arum, Sometime the cheefe citie of Phrygia.

Celendris, A towne in Cilicia.

Celer, A mans name.

Celerina, People in the higher Spaine.

Celeus, Two ſyllables, a mans name.

Celmus, A man that nouriſhed vp Jupiter, whom he turned afterwarde into a Diamonde, becauſe he affyrmed him to be mortall.

Celon, Rauening people.

Celtenes, People of Spaine.

Celtes, A noble Romaine, which wrote of Phiſicke and huſbandrie, in moſt eloquent latine.

Celtæ, Frenchmen.

Celtaca, A citie in Spaine, in the countrey of Hiſpalis.

Celtiberi, People of that part of Spaine, which is called Biſkaie.

Celtiberia, Biſkaie.

Celtiberus, and Celtibericus, a, um, Of Biſcaie.

Celtica, The country of Lyons in Fraunce.

Celtici, People of Spaine, which take their beginning of the Frenchmen called Celtæ.

Celticum, A promontorie of Spaine.

Celtogallia, Is that part of Fraunce, which conteyneth Aquitaine, Lyons, Belgica, and Narbon: whereof the French king hath thoſe partes whole. Belgica for the moſe part is in the handes of the Emperour that nowe is. Leade of euerpche of them in their letters.

Cemelleo, A towne in Liguria.

Cemeneleum, A citie in the Alpes.

Cenchreæ, A towne of Peloponneſus by Cozinth.

Cenchris, idis, fœm. gen. The name of a towne or country of Greece.

Cenchrius, A ryuer in Jonia, by the wode Ozygia, where the poets feygne that Latona was waſhed of hir nourſe Ozygia, after ſhe had trauepled with child.

Cenæa, Called alſo Atalanta, the daughter of Cenæus.

Cenæum, A promontorie in Euboea, where Hercules creċ-ted an Aultar to Jupiter.

Cenæus, Lake Cæneus.

Cenina, A citie of Italy neare to Rome.

Centes, His name that buylded Cenina.

Cenomanni, People of Lumbardy. Alſo a people in Fraunce of a countrey called Maine.

Centaurus, and Centaúricus, a, um, Of the Centaures.

Centauri, People of Theſſalie by the mounte Pelion, which firſt deuiſed to breake horſes and make them for warre and other vſes: wherof it came to paſſe that they being ſene on horſebacke by their borderers, were thought to haue the vpper partes of theyr bodyes like men, and the neather like horſes, and therefore of their beginning poets fable in this wiſe. Jrion by the fa-uour of Jupiter being admitted to be at a banket in the preſence of the Gods, was enamoured on Juno, and moued hir to aduoutrie. Shee diſcloſed the thing to hir huſbande: who cauſing the tume to be appointed, in place of Juno, ſubſtituted a clowde factioned to hir fa-uour and figure. Jrion accompanying with that clowd, on it begat the Centaures: whiche therof were after called Nubigenæ. The moſt notable of the Centaures were theſe, Chiron, Eurytus, Amycus, Gryneus, Rhætus, Ar-neus, Lycidas, Medon, Pheſenor, &c. Alſo certaine great ſhips are called Centauri.

Centáurus, ri, A ryuer firſt called Euenus.

Centinum, A towne of Umbria in Italy.

Centrones, Mount Sineis, going into Lumbardie.

Centum peranea inſula, A litle towne in Jtaly.

Centuripe, or Centurupe, Sicilie.

Centuripini, People of Sicilie.

Ceos, Lake, Cea.

Cephalatomi, People of Colchis.

Cephalenia, An ple beyonde Cycepza, in the middle Sea, which is alſo called Ulyſſes ple, commonly Cephalonie.

Cephalœdis, A ryuer of Sicilie.

Cephalus, Aeolus ſon, that maryed Pzocris Erecktheus daughter. The Goddeſſe Aurora being rauiſhed with the loue of this yong mans beautie, when ſhee couide not eyther by fayre meanes or violence withdrawe him from the loue of his wife to followe hir appetite, ſhee ſent him home againe to his wife in the tourne of a Marchaunt, alluring him that he ſhoulde not finde hir in lyke maner faithfull and true to him. Wherefore at his comming he began to tryre hir, and with great gifts and liberall promyſes, aſſaulted hir chaſtitie. Pzocris beyng ouercome with richo rewards condiſcended vnto his requeſt. Then Cephalus taking againe hys owne ſhape and figure, greatly blamed hir lightneſſe and vn-kaythfulneſſe. Wherewith ſhe beyng much aſhamed and not able to cleare hir ſelfe, forſooke hir huſbande & lyued ſolitarie in the wodes. At the length ſhee beyng recon-ciled to hir huſbande, gaue to him the Dogge Lelapa, and a darte that ſhoulde neuer myſſe thyng that it was hurled at. Cephalus hauing thoſe ſo fit inſtruments, began to haunt the wodes, and gaue himſelfe much to hunting moze then he was wont: Jn ſo much that ye-re earely in the morning hee would leaue his wyues company and go into the wodes. Thus vnwonted ex-erciſe Pzocris much began to ſuſpect, and thought hir huſbande to be in loue with ſome Nymphe, whoſe company to attayne, he pretended that great delight of hunting. Wherfore to try this matter, ſhe followed him into the wodes. And Cephalus as fortune was, for heate and labour, lay vnder a tree to refreſhe himſelfe. She therefore thynking to eſpie him in his imbzaſings, moued hir ſelfe behinde a buſhe where he was. Whome Cephalus fearing to be ſome wylde braſt, caſt his vne-uitable darte and kylled hys deareſt beloued wyfe. Which after turned him to great ſozowe and heauineſſe of minde.

Cephalus, An ezatour of Athens.

Cephenes, num, Was ſometime the name of Perſeans, as Herodotus wzyteth.

Cepheus, Two ſyllables, the name of a king of Aethiope, the ſonne of Phœnix, and father to Andromeda.

Cephis, A famous pmage maker.

Cephiſia, A fountaine in the region Attica.

Cephiſis, A lake neare to the ſea Atlanticum.

Cephiſodorus, A tragicall port of Athens. Alſo a pain-ter. An other an pmage maker, the ſonne of Praxiteles.

Cephiſus, A ryuer of Baotia, where the temple of The-mis ſtoode, to which Deucalion & Pyrrha came to con-ſult howe to reſtore mankinde.

Cepio, A Conſull of Rome, who toke by aſſault a city in Fraunce called Tolouſe, where was found in the tem-ple great plentie of Golde: which being taken away, both he and all other that had anye part therof, dyed miſerably. Wherof growe this prouerbe. Aurum Tolo-ſanum habet, ſpoken when anye man had finiſhed his ipſe in great miſerie.

Cepos, A towne of Boſphorus.

Cerabaroa, A countrey late founde by the Spaniardes in the weſt Ocean, where all the men go naked, and haue their bodies painted with diuers figures. Wearing on-ly garlandes made of ſundzie flowers, inter with the clopes of Lyons and Tygres. Jn that countrey hath beene founde plentie of golde.

Ceramicke,

Ceramicus, A place in Athens, where men beyng ſlaine in battaile, were buryed. Alſo an other place where com-men women dwelled: and a gouffe in the ſea, not farre from Halycarnaſſus.

Ceramium, A place in Rome, where Cicero and Hilo had houſes.

Ceraſtæ, Certaine ples by Aethiope.

Ceraſtis, The auncient name of the ple of Cypres.

Ceraſus, untis, A towne of Cappadocia, called commonly Jeraſano.

Ceratus, A citie in Cardie.

Ceraunij, and Ceraunia, Hilles in Epyre, by the citie Tm-bracia. Alſo hilles in Jrmenie, atour Nycotis.

Ceraunus, The ſurname of one of the Ptolomes. Alſo a ryuer in Cappadocia.

Cerbalus, A ryuer of Jtalia.

Cerbereus, a, um, Of Cerberus.

Cerberus, A dogge with three heades, which (as poets feygne) was porter of hell, whome Hercules drewe out from thence.

Cercaphus, A mans name.

Cercalorum, A towne in Aegypt.

Cerceis, The name of a Nymph, daughter of Oceanus, and Thetis.

Cercetæ, People of the leſſe Aſia, called of Pomponius, Cercetici.

Cercetij, Hilles of Theſſaly.

Cercina, An ple in the middle ſea, and a citye of the ſame name.

Cercinitis, A very litle ple by Carthage.

Cercion, A king of Theſſaly.

Cercius idem quod Circius.

Cercopeni, A certaine people.

Cercyon, A famous robber and theefe in the countrey of Athens, of ſuch might and ſtrength of bodie, that hee would bende downe great bigge trees, and to the ſame binding wayfaryng men that he robbed, with extreme tozment rent them in peces. He had a daughter named Alope, who being rauiſhed by Neptune, brought forth a ſonne called Hippothes. Which thing when hir fa-ther Cercyon vnderſtode by the telling of the nourſe, he toke the matter ſo grieuouſly, that he left the childe in the woddes to be deuoured of wilde beaſtes, and ra-miſhed hys daughter to death in pyſon. Thys cruell Cercyon in the ende was ouercome by Theſeus, who tyed him to two trees which were bended, and rented him in peces, as he was wont to vſe other.

Cercyræ, People oft grieued with ſedicions: of whome growe this prouerbe Cercirea ſentica.

Cerdo, onis, An heretike, which affirmed that Chriſt was neuer borne of a woman, and that he had no fleſhe, nor ſuffered any paſſion, but feygned to ſuffer. Alſo hee taught, that the God which was declared by the lawe and prophetes to be God, was not the father of our ſa-uiour Chriſt: for he was knowne, the other was vn-knowne: the one was iuſt, the other was good. Alſo hee ſayde the olde teſtament was naught: that ſome crea-tures are pll of themſelfe, and that they were not made by that God, that was the chiefe goodneſſe, but of an o-ther, the beginning of all pll, whome he named the prin-cipall miſchefe. He was about the yeare of our Lorde, 144, whoſe hereſies be all condemned by the generall conſent of all Chriſtendome.

Cerdonia, A citie in Jtaly.

Cerealis, A towne in Spaine called alſo Ebura.

Cerealis, le, Pertayning to Ceres the Goddeſſe.

Cerealia, orum, n. gen. Solemne feaſtes and ſacrifices de-dicated to Ceres by Triptolemus.

Ceres, cereris, The daughter of Saturnus and Ops, cal-led alſo Iſis, was wife of Oſyris king of Aegypt, who (as the Greekes ſuppoſe) dyd firſt inuent the ſowyng of wheate and barley, which before did growe wilde a-mong other herbes. Alſo that he did firſt make lawes, wherebp iuſtice ſhould be equally miniſtred to all men, pyolence and wzong being by feare taken awaye. Hero-dotus wzyteth, that the Aegyptians affirme Ceres and Bacchus to beare the cheefe rule in hell. This Ceres as poets feigne, had a daughter by Jupiter named Proſerpina, whom Pluto God of hell caryed awaye by ſtealth as ſhe was walking, wherefore Ceres in great ſozrow vgbring torches at the Mount Aetna, trauepled ouer all the wozlde almoſt to ſeeke hir daughter. At the length ſhe was tolde by Arethuſa the Nymph, that hir daughter was in hell, and ſtoine away by Pluto: She therefore going to Jupiter complayned of the vniuſt dealing of his brother Pluto, and at the length obtey-ned that hir daughter ſhoulde retourne againe on thys condition, that while ſhe was in hell ſhe taſted of no fruite. In the ende when Ceres hoped well to recouer hir daughter, one Aſcalaphus bewzayed that while Proſerpina walked in Plutos Ozchardc, ſhe pluckcd a pomgranate, and taſted one graine of it, vpon which detection it couide not be that Proſerpina ſhoulde re-turne, wherefore Ceres in reuengement of his blab-blithe tongue, turned Aſcalaphus into an Owle. But Jupiter to cuict his ſiſters minde, graunted that hys daughter halfe the yeares ſpace ſhoulde be in heauen with the Goddes, the other halfe yeare in hell with hir huſbande.

Ceretani, and Cerretani, A people in Spaine.

Cerinthes, thi, A towne in the plande Euboea. Alſo an he-retyk which liued in the Apoſtles time: Lake Che-rinthus.

Cerites, A people, which the Romaines banquiſhed, and ordeyned that they ſhould make no lawes among them.

Cermorium, A towne of Macedonie.

Cerna, or Cerne, An ple in the ſea of Aethiope.

Cernetani, A people of Jtaly, called alſo Mariani.

Cerriaria, A place in Aquitaine.

Ceſcus, A citie in Pamphilia, or in Cilicia.

Ceſena, A towne in Jtaly.

Ceſſero, The citie Caſtres in Narbon.

Ceſſa, A towne in Jberia.

Ceſtria, A towne of Epyre.

Ceſtrus, A ryuer of Pamphilia.

Cethegus, A name of certaine Romaines, whereof one con-ſpired with Catiline to deſtroy his countrey.

Cetij, People in Aſia.

Cetius, A mountaine in Noricum, called commonly Ka-lenberge, or Calembzig.

C H

Chaa, A citie of Peloponneſus by the fielde called Epha-ſius.

Chaam, Called alſo Gog Chaam, is the name of dignitie of the great Emperour of Tartarians, called the great Chanc of Cathay, or Cambalu, whoſe dominion exten-deth from the furtheſt part of the eaſt, vnto the coun-trey of Ruſſy northweſt, and ſo vnto the north ſea: on the ſouthealt, vnto the ſouth or Jndian ſea: on the ſouthweſt, vnto Perſia: ſo that by the charte appea-reth, there is vnder him as much mayne lande vnthin little, as is the reſidue of all Aſia, Europa, and Affrica.

Chabrias, A noble capitaine and Philoſopher of the Athe-nienſes.

Charremon, A Greeke poet.

Charrephon, A philoſopher of Athens, the diſciple of So-crates.

Charis, A ſoulphe myntſtreil.

Charronea, A towne of Baotia.

Chala, A towne of Aegypt.

Chalcon, An hauen of Locris.

Chalame, A citie of Perſie, which nowe is called Aetiſ-phon.

Chalaſtra, A citie by the boſome of the ſea called Termeum.

Chalce, An ple and a towne by Rhodes.

Chalcedon, A citie in Aſia, againſt Conſtantinople.

Chalceritis, An ple in Pontus.

Chalcia, One of the plandes called Cyclades.

Chalcidicus, a, um, Of Chalcis.

Chalciope, The wife of Phryxus, and ſiſter to Medea.

Chalcis, idis, fœm. gen. The name of a citie in Greece. Alſo so of an ple.

Chalcis,is,ice,gen. In plande by the mouth of the ryuer Rhynoacus in Ilia.

Chaldæa, A countrey which (as Strabo wryteth) toyneth to Arabia, and to the sea Persicum. Solinus and Plinius name that countrey Chaldea, where the great citie of Babylon stode. In the newe chartes, it is set in this wise: on the west, it toyneth on Mesopotamia: on the north, vpon Assyria, and Media: on the east, vppon Persia: on the south vpon Arabia Deserta, and so it is farre from Iudea. They haue a proper language, somewhat lyke to Hebrue, but their letters are vnlyke to any other. Strabo nameth the countrey, where the people Chalybes dwell, Chaldea.

Chaldei, We taken for great Astronomers, of the countrey of Assyria.

Chalestra, A citie in Thessaly, on the sea coast.

Chalybes, A people in the isle Asia, in the countrey called Pontus, which digge great plentie of Iron, and go naked. It is also the name of a ryuer in Spaine.

Chaones, People of the countrey of Epyre in Greece: the countrey is called Chaonia.

Chaos, neut.gen. Undecliyed, a confuse matter without forme, made first of nothing, whereof poets supposed all other things to procede. Sometime it is taken for hell.

Charadrus, A mere or pole by Cilicia, nere to the ryuer Charadrus.

Charax,acis, masc.gen. A place where the Carthaginenses kept their Warre.

Charaxes, The brother of Sappho.

Chares,retis, A capitaine in Athens. Also a caruer, the scholer of Lysippus.

Charetes, A duke of Athens, which would promise euery thing, and naught performe.

Charilus, A capitaine of Lacedæmonia.

Charisius, An orator of Athens.

Charites, The graces, which were supposed to be the daughters of Iupiter, three in number, whose names were Aglaia, Thalia, and Euphrosyne. And where in speaking or wryting appeared to be a maruelous delectation or sweetenesse, it was sayde, that therein was a grace, in Greeke, Charis. Some men suppose that there were three Graces, deuised to signifie that men ought to be both bountifull and gracious to other, and secondly to take benefites at other mens handes, and thirdely, thankefulnye to requyte benefites receyued: Which are three sundrie acts in the vse of lyberalitye. Other say they imagined three graces to signifie liberal thankefulnesse, and that we shoulde plentifully requite benefite with vantage more than we receyued. Wherefore they paynt the Graces in this maner, that the ones backe shoulde be towarde vs, and hir face fromwarde, as proceeding from vs, the other two towarde vs: noting double thanke to be due for the benefite we haue done. They were also painted naked, to doe men to witte, that pleasures shoulde be done vnfaynedly wythout cloke or dissimulation: they were made yong, to note that the memorie of a benefite shoulde in no tyme weare away and decaye: they were diskriued laughing, because pleasures ought to be done with a cheerefull and glad minde: finally their armes were painted as it were linked one within an other, to teach that kindnes shoulde be vndissoluble, and one benefite so to prouoke an other, as it may make the league of loue and friendeship sure and perpetuall.

Charmione, The handmayde of Cleopatra, that willingly dyed with hir maystresse.

Charmonia, A citie of Spaine.

Charon,tis, Was named of the Paynims, the boateman that carped soules ouer the riuer ryuers of hell. Acheron, Styx, and Cocytus. It is also the name of three historiographers.

Charonia, A countrey by Hierapolis.

Charonium, A certaine denne, consecrate to Pluto and Juno.

Charopes, A Troyan, the sonne of Hippasus.

Charundas, The name of a man, which gaue lawes to the Athenians.

Charybdis, A goulfe of the sea by Sicile, wherin is daungerous sayling, by reason of streames flowing contrarye eche against other, whereby ships be therein deuoured.

Chatti, called also Cathi, and Catti, People of Germanie.

Chelidoniæ, Two planors ouer against the mountayne Taurus

Chelidonium, nij. neut.gen. An elbowe of the mountayne Taurus, lying into the sea.

Chelonates, A promontorye of Achaia.

Chelonophagi, A people of Carmania, which lyue by eating Tortoyses, where are founde so great that they couer their caues with the shelles.

Chemmis, An plande in Aegypt, which swimmeth and is driuen hyther and thither with the windes, notwithstanding that in it are woodes and an huge temple of Apollo. Pomponius Mela.lib.i. Herodotus calleth it Echeemmis.

Cheops, A king of Aegypt, which made the great steple at Memphis, wherein were so many men worlyng, that he spent onely in persley, onyons and garlike, 1060. talents, which (if it were the great talent) amounted of our money to 2505500. poundes.

Chephren, The brother of Cheops, and reigned after him.

Cherilus, An vnlearned poet, that wrote the Atheniens victorye against Xerxes, and the gestes of great Alexander. And of all his great worke there were but. lxv. verses allowed. For the which he was rewarded with seuen peeces of golde: and for eche other verse he had a good bucket. He dyed in prison for hungar.

Cherinthus, An heretyke, which affyrmed, that Christ shoulde come and reigne in the worlde the space of 1000. yeares, and during that time men shoulde liue in all carnall delytes, and afterwarde come vp to heauen, where they shoulde euer liue in the pleasures of gluttonie, and leacherie. Hee denyed Christ to bee any other than pure man. He receyued onely the gospell of Saint Mathew, and reiected the other Euangelistes, and the actes of the Apostles. He was about the yeare of our Lorde. 88.

Chernitus, A childe of excellent fauour, who abandoned himselfe to the filthie imbracing of men.

Cherronesus idem quod Peninsula, The part of Greece nowe called Morea. It is sometime taken for the north part of the great Asia. It is also called Chersonesus.

Chersidamas, A Troyan.

Cherubin, One of the holy orders of aungels, wherein is the science diuine and mysticall.

Cherusci, A people of Germanie.

Chia, A maydens name in Horace, and a certaine plande.

Chidnæi, People about Pontus.

Chidorus, A ryuer of Macedonie.

Chiliastæ, Were chyldren men, which helde this opinion, that Christ shoulde come personally, and reigne as a king in this worlde, a thousande yeares: of which opinion was Lactantius.

Chilo,onis, masc.gen. One of the seuen wise men of Greece. Hee lyued in Lacedæmon, and dyed for ioy: for whose death all Greece mourned.

Chimera,ræ, fœm. gen. A mountaine in Lycia, out of the which issueth fire. It is also a monster hauing three heads, one like a Lyon, an other lyke a Goate, the third like a Dragon. After Homere, it is a beast inuincible.

Chimerij, A people bordering on the Amazones: and all people dwelling in colde countreyes are called Chimerij.

Chimerium, An hill in Thessaly.

Chione,es, A famous harlotte.

Chios, Lorke Chius.

Chirocrates, The name of a famous Carpenter.

Chirogylium, An plande.

Chiron,onis, The name of a man. Who did first finde the vertues of herbes: He taught Esculapius physicke. Apollo to harpe, and Hercules astronomie. He was maister ster to Achilles, and excelled all other men in his time in vertue and iustice.

Chius, An ple by Greece in the sea Ægeum, which (as Strabo wryteth) is in compasse. 900. furlonges, which is an hundred Italyan myles. In this ple doe growe verye good malmeseyes, and other hote wynes. Some Greeke authours wryte, that it cannot be remembred, that within that countrey, was any auoutrye committed, or vnlawfull companying of women among themselues.

Chius ad Coum, A prouerbe, noting a very vnequal comparison, as an ape to a hyre.

Chius, (after some) is a citie of Caria, an other of Eubœa, an other of Rhodes by Triopia.

Chius, a,um, Of Chius.

Chloris, Chloridis, fœ. gen. The daughter of Amphion, wyfe of Neleus, and mother of Nestor. Also the Goddesse of flowers, otherwise called Flora.

Choaspes, A famous ryuer in Asia, which runneth into the great ryuer Tygris.

Choatæ, A people about Libyotis.

Chobar, Signifieth all the great floudes that are in the region of Chaldea.

Chœrilus, Lorke Cherilus.

Choraliстria, Phyllis, A woman that Propertius loued, which daunced finely.

Chorannei, Certaine men that liue in woodes in Persia, which are so swift that they take Hartes with running.

Chorineus, A mans name which was a good Archer.

Choroebus, Was one of Athens, which did first inuent the making of earthen vessell. Also the name of a yong man mencioned of Virgill.

Chosroes, A king of the Persians, excellently well learned.

Chrestus, The name of a noble Sophyster of Bizance.

Christodorus, A poet of Aegypt, in the time of Anastatius the Emperour: an other of Thebes.

Chromis, The sonne of Hercules. Also a boy mencioned of Virgill.

Chromius, One of Argos, of whome Herodotus wryteth.

Chrysa, A citie of Phrygia, and an plande of Indie. Also a ryuer in the countrey of Syracuse.

Chrysaor, The sonne of Neptune, begotten of the heade of Medusa.

Chrysas, A ryuer, that the Paganes worshipped for a God.

Chryse, An ple which Plinie and Solinus doe set out in the mouth of the famous ryuer Indus, where (as Ptartanus wryteth) is such abundaunce of fine golde, that thereof the ple toke hys name. For Chrysos, is in Englishe golde. It is also a citie in Lemnus.

Chryses, A prophete among the Gentiles. Also a mayden giuen by the Greekes to Agamemnon at the bataple of Troy.

Chrysippus, A noble philosopher, borne in Cilicia, in the towne Solæ, as Solinus wryteth, but Laertius writeth, that he was borne in Tarsus: he was of the sect called Stoici.

Chrysoceras, A promontorye of Thrace by Byzance.

Chrysogonus, One whome Sylla the Romane of a bondman made free. Also a gentleman of Rome martyred vnder the Emperour Diocletian.

Chrysopolis, A citie of Bithynia.

Chrysorthoas, A ryuer that runneth by Damascus in Syria.

Chrysothemis, The daughter of Agamemnon and Clytemnestra.

Chrysostomus, The name of a famous bishop of Constantinople, and also of an hystorian, which were so called for their eloquence. For Chrysostomus is in Englishe, a golden mouth.

Chryxus, The nephewe of Brennus, vnder whome the Galles inuaded Rome.

Cibarci, People of Spaine.

Cibéle, or rather Cybéle, es, and after some Cybelle, The daughter of Minos, king of Creta: She was cast out into the desert, nourished with beastes, and founde by a woman that kept sheepe, and by hir nourished, after she became maruelous fayre and wyse: she founde first the pype and tabour, and cimbals among the Greekes: moreouer the education of children, all which she so tenderly loued, that for the death of a child, called Attis, She became madde. She was wyfe to Saturne, and named of Papinius the mother of the Gods, and after hyr death was honoured for a Goddesse. She was also called Rhea, Vesta, Pessinuncia, Berecynthia, Ops, & Terra. Hir ymage being specially honoured in a citie of Phrygia called Pessinus, was by the counsell of Sybilla, fetched thence by Scipio Nasica, and brought to Rome, and had there in great reuerence.

Cibotus, A citie of Asia, called also Apamia.

Cibyra, A citie of Phrygia.

Cibyratæ, People of that citie.

Cicero,onis, masc.gen. The surname of Marcus Tullius: Whose diuine eloquence, abundant learning, sharpenesse of witte, dexteritie in acts, and most ardent loue to the common weale of his countrey, cannot be sufficiently expressed by a mortall mans tongue or penne. He liued ally descended from the auncient kinges of the Volscians: albeit time and occasion wearing out dignities in blond, his name continued long in the state of worshyp. His auncesteours were called Ciceornes, because Tullus Appius, a noble king of the Volscians, had on his nose, a marke lyke a chyche pease, called Cicer. In his childehode, hee so excelled all other children in wytte, that their fathers moued with this fame, went purposely to the schoole to behold and heare him. He so profited in the eloquence of Greeke and Latin, that not one-lye his compenyons were in a merueylous admiration of him, but also Apollonius (the most excellent orator at that time) hearing him, and not speaking a great space, sayd at the last: Truely Cicero, I prayse thee, and marueyle at thee: but I lament the fortune of the Greekes, when I consider, that by thee, learning and eloquence, which were left vnto vs onely, are euen nowe translated vnto the Romaynes: which saying was afterwarde founde true. For lorke what subtilte was in Logike, what commoditie in moral Philosophye, what secrete knowledge in Philosophie naturall, hee knewe it (as Tacitus writeth) and declared it in Latine most eloquently. And hee being but a verye ponge man, came to practise in Rome, studyed abundantlye the ciuile lawes, was marueylouslye occupied in greate weighthie causes. And after hee was Senatour, was continually (as it seemed) most busie about the weale publike. Yet he that exactly readeth his workes, shall thynke he neuer did any thing but read great authours, and wryte bookes. For there was no philosopher, no orator, no poet before his time that escaped him, as both in his bookes sufficiently appeare. And yet howe manye bookes made he? since wee haue not the thirde part of them, yet such as we haue, if any man nowe did wryte so much, and so well, we shoulde thinke hym to haue spent the more part of his time in wryting. And noble Cicero, [redacted], haue manye thinges dyd hee explode by his wisedome and diligence, in most weighthie affayres, as well in warre as peace? howe did he by his dexteritie and prudence saue the citie and people of Rome from the most pernicious confederacie and rebellion of Catiline, and other of the nobilitie, which went about to destroy the weale publike, and robbe the citie? howe preserued he the same citie and people, after the death of Cæsar, that they were not oppressed by Marcus Antonius? For his incomparable acts, the whole Senate and people gaue to him. first before anye, the name of father of the countrey. What trouble and myserie susteyned he, being cryed by the procurement of Clodius, only for? putting of the said rebelles to death? Such is the rewarde of people vnstable. Likewise for dryuing Antonius out of Rome, and by his sharpe orations,cauſing him to be proclaymed enimie to the weale publike: he made ſentence ſo much his enimie, that in the treatie of peace betweene him and Deianius, hee demaunded Cicero, to do with him his pleaſure. Which thing graunted of the vnkinde Deianius (whome Cicero had brought vp, and by his meanes cauſed to bee made chiefe gouernour of Rome) Antonye ſent one Herennius (whome Cicero had ſaued from death by his eloquence) to murther him as he ſlepte. Which thing when Cicero perceyued, hee abode his comming. And lying in an hoyſe litter for weakeneſſe, he did with conſtant eyes prepare his throte to Herennius: who did (al other men abhorring) ſtrike of his head, and handes, and brought them to Antonie: who reioyſing thereat, cauſed the heade and handes to bee ſet ouer the place of ciuile iudgements of Rome, which daily beholden of the Senate and people of Rome, was lamented. He flouriſhed about.xl. yeares before the incarnation. For his life and acres reade Plutarch. de vitis. Corn. Nepos, Appian, Sabel. Apoth. Eraſm.

Ciceroniânus,a,um, Of Cicero, or that ſtudyeth to followe Cicero.

Cicheus, A ryuer.

Cicimeni, People about Mœotis.

Cicones, A people of Thrace, dwelling by the ryuer Hebrus.

Ciconus, The name of him that buylded Brixia.

Cicuta, The name of a notable diuerer.

Cilicia, A countrey in Aſia, partly incloſed with the higheſt part of the mountaine Taurus, and hardeſt to paſſe by. Strabo deuideth Cilicia into two partes, one called Trachea, that is to ſay, rough or rockie: the other Campeſtris, that is to ſay, plaine. Joſephus writeth, that it was of olde time called Tarſus, of Tarſis one of the ſonnes of Japhet, the yongeſt ſonne of Noe. Herodotus ſaith, the people were called Cilices of Cilix, the ſonne of Agenor king of Phœnicia, where before it was called Hyppateus. Saint Hierome interpreteth Cilicia, a congregation, a lamentation, an aſſumption, a lamentable taking or bonnie. The people were by nature inclyned to lying and ſtealing, whereof grewe this prouerbe.

* Cilix non facile verum dicit, The Cilician not lyghtly ſayth truth. A prouerbe applyed to a couetous man, which alwaye lyeth for his particuler aduauntage, as nowe a dayes moſt men doe which lyue onely by ſelling.

Cilicenſis,ſe, Of Cilicia.

Cilniſſus,a,um, Idem.

Cilix,icis, An inhabitaunt of Cilicia. Alſo the ſonne of Phœnix.

Cilla, A citie neere to Thebes.

Cillicon,contis, A traytours name.

Cimas, An yle by the ryuer Iſter.

Cimbri, People that inhabited Denmarke, and Norwaie, who had a marueylous cuſtome: Their wiues folowed them in warres, women cunning in diuination, whole heares were white, and likewiſe their gownes, vnder the which they had launde clothes, made faſt with pinnes and taches, being gyrt with girdelles of braſſe, and went bare footed. Alwayes as priſoners were taken, they with naked ſwordes beate them to the ground, and drewe them to a braſen cauldron, which conteyned fiftie amphoras, and hauing an haulte place made for the purpoſe, went vp quickly, and lyfting vp on highe the men that were taken, did cut their throates ouer the Cauldron, and by the dropping of the bloude declared their prophecies. Some other opening mens bellyes, ſearched their bowels, and prophecied victorie vnto the people.

Cimbria, The countrey nowe called Denmarke.

Cimbricus,a,um, Of Cimbria.

Cimmerij, People inhabiting the furtheſt part of Europe, not farre from the fennes called Paludes Meotidis, about the ſea Boſphorus Cimmerius, neyeheſt from Grœcia. Plinie and other affirme, that by the farre diſtaunce of the ſunne from it, that countrey is alway verye darke: Wherof happened this prouerbe.

Cimmerijs tenebris atrior, Blacker than the darkeneſſe of Cimmeria: applyed to nicely darkeneſſe, dulneſſe of witte, or lacke of wiſedome.

Cimmerij, Were alſo people of Italy, in the countrey betweene Baiæ, and Cumæ, which was ſo inuironed wyth hilles, that the ſunne came not to it, neyther in the morning, nor at night. There was ſuppoſed to be a deſcence vnto hell. And the people dwelled onely in Caues.

Cimmeris, A citie of the countrey of Troy.

Cimolis, A citie of Paphlagonia. Alſo of Galatia, called commonly Cymoli.

Cimolus,a,um, Of the citie Cimolis.

Cimon, A noble man of Athens, Miltiades ſonne.

Cincia, A place in Rome.

Cincinnâtus, The name of a Senatour in Rome, which being called from the ploigh, was made Dictatour.

Cincius, The name of certaine Senatours of Rome.

Cineas. A man of Theſſaly, whome Pyrrhus entirely loued.

Cineſias, A learned man of Thebes.

Cinga, A ryuer that runneth out of the Mountaynes Pirenes.

Cingulum, A citie of Picene in Italy, from whence the Hoyſes come, which are called Cingulani.

Cinna, A citie of Spaine. Alſo the name of a Romaine, which exceeded in crueltie, and was in the ciuile warre topned with Marius.

Cinxia, A ſurname of Juno.

Cinyphius,a,um, Of or by the ryuer called Cinyps.

Cinyps nyphis, A ryuer of Lybia.

Cinyras, A king of Phœnicia: an other of Cypres, which bnwares had to doe with his daughter Myrrha, which is called after him, Cinyreia.

Cios, An hauen or port towne of Phrygia, and a ryuer of the ſame name.

Cirannus, A man of Lycia, the companion of Sarpedon.

Circe, The daughter of Sol, by Perſis the daughter of Oceanus: She knewe the marueylous operations of ſundrie herbes, and howe to cure all poyſons. At the laſt ſhe ſlue hir husband, king of Scythes, with poyſon, and bered the people with much tyrannie: wherefore ſhe was expelled the countrey, and fledde into a deſert yle in the Occean ſea. Homere nameth hir the ſiſter of Aeta, and ſheweth howe diuers of Ulliſes companions, arryuing in the yle where Circe dwelled, were by hyr transformed into ſwine. And after by the interceſſion of Ulyſſes, ſhee reſtored them to their priſtinate fourme, more beautifull and yong in ſight, than they were before.

Circes domus, A towne of Campaine, called alſo Circeum.

Circeienſes, The inhabitaunts of Circeum.

Circeium iugum, A mountaine of Campaine.

Circéus,a,um, Of Circe.

Circius,cij, An plande in Myſia.

Circumpadanus,a,um, That dwelleth about the riuer Pow in Italy.

Circus,i,maſc.gen. A place in Rome walled about, wherin was fighting with the fiſtes, & running with horſes. About it were ſundrie galleryes, where the ſenatours and gentlemen beheld the paſtime. The playes vſed there, were called Circenſes ludi, as it were among ſwordes, for as much as before there were any ſuch places made as Circus was, the homely antiquitie vſed thoſe games in the open fielde, enuyroned with ryuers and ſwordes, the poyntes vpwarde, that on euery part a coward was in daunger.

Diris,ris,f.gen. The name of Scylla, the daughter of king Niſus.

Cirrha, A citie of Phocis.

Cirrhæus, The ſurname of Apollo, ſo named after that citie.

Cirta, A citie of Numidia.

Cirtiſcus, A famous ryuer of Scythia.

Ciſalpina Gallia, called alſo Gallia Togata, & Citerior Gallia, was ſometime ꝑ countrey. Which is from the mountaines Alpes, vnto the ryuer Rubicon: nowe called Lumbardie.

Lumbardie.

Ciſamus, A citie of Candie, called nowe Ephitiſa.

Ciſpennina, A part of Italy.

Ciſſanthi, A people of Scythes.

Ciſpius, A mountaine in Rome.

Ciſſa, A ryuer of Pontus, called Niſſa.

Ciſſeus, A king of Thrace, father of Hecuba Quéne of Troy, of whome ſhee is called Ciſſeis.

Ciſſena, A citie of Aeolis.

Citanos, One of the yles called Cyclades.

Citarij, People of Sicilie.

Citariſta, or Citariſtes, Lowke Cithariſta.

Citerior Gallia, Lowke Ciſalpina Gallia.

Citharon,onis, A king of Platææ in Greece, who abuſed Jupiter (when Juno in an anger was gone from hym into Bœotia) to make an ymage of woodde, and clad rychly in the apparayle of a bryde, to be ſet in a chariot, and to publiſhe among the people, that Jupiter was determined to marry Platea, the daughter of Aſopus. As thys ymage was ſolemnelye carryed. Juno inflamed with ielouſie, mette the chariote, and entering therevnto, did rent the clothes and apparayle about the ymage, and finding an ymage of tree, and no bryde, deſpyted at the inuention wherewith ſhee was begouyled. And tourning hir anger into laughing, was foythwith reconciled vnto Jupiter.

Citheron, An alſo an hill in Theſſaly, dedicated to Bacchus.

Cithariſta,æ, An angle of Harbon in Fraunce by Marſilles, lying out into the ſea.

Citium, A towne of Cypres.

Citorus, A mountaine of Paphlagonia, where groweth plenty of bore trees.

Citium, A towne of Cypres.

Cius, A ryuer in Thrace. Alſo a citie of the ſame name.

Cizicus, A citie in Aſia the leſſe.

Claon, A ryuer in Phrygia.

Clampetiæ, A place in Italy.

Clanius, A ryuer of Campayne, neere to a citie called Acerræ.

Clariæ, People of Thrace.

Clarium, A towne in Greece, where Apollo was honoured, and thereof called Clarius. There was an hole in the grounde, out of which ranne a little bzoke, whereof he that dzanke, gaue marueylous anſweres, but he lyued not long after.

Claros, A citie in Greece, where was an Oracle of Apollo.

Clarus,ri,m.gen. A ryuer which runneth from the mountaine Alpes into the ryuer Danubius.

Claterna, A citie in Italy.

Claudia, A gentlewoman of Rome, which for hir curious appareple, was informed to be vnchaſte. But when the ymage of Cybele, called mother of the Goddes, was brought out of Phrygia to Rome, in a Barge by the ryuer of Tyber, it happened to ſticke ſo faſt in a ſhalowe place, that it might not be remoued wyth anye force. This mayden, kneeling downe, deſired the Goddeſſe, that as ſhe being a cleane virgin, and falſlye ſlaundered, the ſame ymage wouldee vouchſafe to followe hyr to the citie. And then ſhe onely tying hir girdell to the Barge, eaſily dzewe it to the lande, which all the youth of the citie were not able to doe.

Claudia, Is alſo a towne of Noricum, called alſo Claudiuium.

Claudianus, A famous poet.

Claudiopolis, A citie of Cappadocia.

Claudiuium, A citie in Norice, called commonly Cloſternewburge.

Claudius, The proper name of diuers Romaynes, and alſo the ſurname of a noble familye in Rome, which were euer repugnant to the actes of the common people.

Clauena, The duchie of Cleues.

Clazomenæ, A citie of Jonie, which Paralus buylded, called before Cepma.

Clazomenia, An plande, which is called Marathuſa.

Cleanthes, The name of a noble philoſopher: which was ſo poore, that in the night tyme he gat his liuing by carying of water, and in the day, ſtudyed philoſophie. Hee ſucceeded Zeno in his ſchole.

Clearchus, The name of a Philoſopher. There was a noble capitaine of the ſame name, of whome Zenophon wryteth in the expedition of Cyrus the leſſe: he wrote thoſe thinges, which he learned of Zeno, in ore bones, and tyle thearbes, for lacke of money to buy paper.

Cleobis, and Biton, The ſonnes of Argia, which dzewe their mother to the temple in a wayne.

Cleobulus. One of the ſeaven ſages of Greece, whoſe daughter called Cleobulina, was an excellent poetrice, and made a booke of riddelles, contayned in three thouſande verſes.

Cleódamas, The name of a Geometrician in the tyme of Plato, and of an other of Theſſaly, which wrote of hoyſbozkeeping.

Cleombrotus, The ſonne of Pauſanias, capitaine of the Lacedemonians. Alſo a yong man which after he had read Plato his wozkes, conceyued ſuch an hope of immoztalitie of the ſoule, that he leapt into the ſea, notwithſtanding he had no miſfortune in all his life.

Cleomédes, A wzaſtler of exceding ſtrength and greatneſſe of bodie, who, being put beſide the pzyſe at the games of Olympya, fell mad. Afterwarde, comming into a ſchoole where children were, he pluckede downe a pyller that ſtaped vp the houſe, and killed the children. And when men ſought for him to be puniſhed, he fledde into a ſeller vnder, & on the inſide helde a tying ſo ſtrongly againſt the mouth of it, that a great number were not able by force to breake it open: wherefore they digged the place about, and when they came on the inſide, Cleomedes was vanyſhed awaye, and neuer after could be ſeene, either alyue or dzade.

Cleomenes, A capitaine of the Lacedemonians, and a riotous perſon in the time of Cicero and Verres.

Cleon, A capitaine of the Athenens, enimie to Nicias. Alſo a poet and ozatour of the ſame name.

Cleonæ,arum,f.fig. & Cleone,es, fe.gen.ſing. A towne in Greece, betweene Argos and Corinth, where Hercules ſlue a Lyon.

Cleonæus,a,um, Of Cleonæ.

Cleopâtra, The name of diuers great Ladyes, ſpecially ye Quenes of Aegypt. Of whome one excelling in pleaſantneſſe and ſhzewdneſſe of witte, firſt allured vnto hir Julius Cæſar, afterwarde Marcus Antonius, companion in the Empyze wyth Augustus, whome ſhee bzought into ſuch dotage, that in following hir appetite, he alſyzed vnto the whole Empyze: wherefore he was afterwarde deſtroyed by Augustus. This woman ſo exceeded in ſumptuous gluttonie, that ſhee putting an excellent pearle into tarre vineger (wherin being reſolued) receyued it into hir bodie, beyng eſtemed at Centies, HS. which is of our money, 9000.li. This Lady after the death of Antonie, incloſed hyr ſelfe in a tombe, and hauing two ſerpentes ſucking at hir pappes ſo dyed.

Cleoparrus, A capitaine of Corynth.

Cleophantus, A famous philition. Alſo a cunning painter of Corynthe.

Cleophon, A tragicall poet of Athens.

Cleoſtratus, An auncient philoſopher, which was the firſt that wrote of the celeſtiall figures.

Clepſydra,æ, The name of a fountaine in Athens.

Clima,atis,neu.gen. Is a portion of the woylde betweene South and Noyth, wherein is daryation of reme in length of the day the ſpace of halfe an houre, which is ſet out in tables and chartes of Coſmographie.

Climax, A certaine philoſopher of Pithagoras ſect. Alſo a Muſitian.

Clio, The name of one of the Muſes.

Clipea, A towne in the leſſe Affrike, called alſo Clupea, and Clypea, commonly Quipia.

Clitarchus, An hiſtoziographer, that was with great A lexander, and wrote his acts.

Clœliæ, arum, fœ. gen. plu. The name of a place in Rome.
Clitermia, or Cliternum. A towne in Italy, by the mountaine Garganus, called commonly Celano.
Clitomachus, A philotopher borne at Carthage, and dyſciple of Carneades. Alſo a notable wraſtler, which was ſo chaſte, that if he heard in company any filthie worde ſpoken, he would foꝛthwith ryſe from the table and depart.
Clitoris, vel Clitorium, A citie of Arcadie, by the which is a denne, from whence ſpringeth out a water, of the which who ſo drinketh, doth euer after hate wine.
Clitumnus, ni, A ryuer in Italy, of which if beaſts drinke, the pong that they bring forth are white.
Cloanthus, A Tropan, the company of Æneas.
Clodia, A noble woman of Rome.
Clodij torum, A towne in Italy.
Clodius, The name of diuers Romaines, whereof two by theyr yll acts gat ſpecyall remembꝛaunce. One was ſonne to Eſopus, the player in Tragedyes, unto whom his father left marueylous great ryches, which he ſhoꝛtly conſumed in banketting, wherein he was ſo ſumptuous, that unto them which ſupped with him, he would giue pearles of great value, reſolued in vineger to eate. In other Clodius, of a noble houſe of the Romaynes ſo hated Tullie, foꝛ bearing witneſſe againſt him, when he was accuſed foꝛ committing adulterye with Pompeia the wife of Julius Cæſar, that afterwarde, beyng Tribune of the people, he neuer ceaſſed to ſtyrre the people againſt Tullie, untyll he compelled hym to goe into exile.
Cloëlia, A mayden in Rome, which being in hoſtage wyth other to the king Poꝛſena, deceyued hyr keepers, and ſwamme ouer the ryuer Tyber to the citie.
Clonius, A captayne of the Bœotians, which came to ayde the Tropans.
Cloris, or Chloris, A mayden or nymph, which was maryed to Zephyrus, unto whome was aſſygned foꝛ hir dowꝛye, to haue the rule ouer flowers.
Clota, A creeke in the Britaine ſea.
Clotho, One of the fatall Ladyes, hauyng power ouer mans lyfe, in diſſoluing thereof. Alſo other the daughter of Jupiter, and Goddeſſe of the ſea.
Cluentius, A Romaine, whome Cicero defended in an eloquent oration.
Clunia, A towne in Spayne.
Clunienſis, A countie in Spayne.
Clupea, æ, ſ. g. or Clypea, A citie of Affrike, nere to Carthage.
Clusini, People of Hetruria.
Clusinus, The ſurname of Janus, becauſe that in the time of peace, the gates of his temple were ſhutte.
Cluſiolum, was an olde towne of Umbria.
Cluſium, A citie in the middle of Tuſcia, in the whych Poꝛſena was buried.
Clymene, The mother of Pꝛometheus, daughter of Oceanus and Tethys.
Clymenëides, The ſiſters of Phaeton, named after theyr mother Clymene.
Clypea, vide Clipea.
Clytemneſtra, The wife of Agamemnon, the daughter of Tyndarus and Leda.
Clytia, vel Clitie, A mayden which Apollo loued.
Clytius, A yong man loued of Sydon. Alſo the ſonne of Laomedon, and bꝛother to Pꝛiamus.

C N

Cn. vel Cneus, The ſurname of diuers Romaynes.
Cnemides, A place in Thrace.
Cnidos, or Gnidos, A citie of Caria, where Venus was woꝛſhipped. Alſo a pꝛomontoꝛie in the ſame place.

C O

Coa, A towne in Arabia foelix.
Coaſpis, A ryuer of ỹ Medes, which runneth into Tygris.
Coaſtræ, People of India, where bee trees ſo high that a man can not ſhute to the teppe.
Cocalus, A king of Sicilie, to whome Dedalus fled out of Creta, when Minos purſued him.
Cocanicus, A ryuer in Sicilie, whereof a certayne kinde of ſalt is called Cocanicus.
Cocles, A Romayne, which at the ſiege of Rome, kept backe Poꝛſena and all his armie, till the bꝛydge was bꝛoken behinde hym. Liu. Decad. 1. li. 2.
Cocnithum, A great pꝛomontoꝛie in Italy.
Coctix, A part of the mountaines Alpes.
Cocytia, Sacrifices that were done in honour of Pꝛoſerpina Queene of hell.
Cocytus, A ryuer of hell.
Codanonia, An yle of Germanie.
Codanus, A goulfe in Germanie, abone the ryuer Albis, hauyng many plandes in it.
Codera, A ſickle by Tyber.
Codrus dri, The pꝛoper name of a king of Athens, who to ſaue his countrey, willingly loſt his lyfe. Alſo a verye pooꝛe man, whoſe name is growne to a pꝛouerbe.
*Codro pauperior, Pooꝛer than Codrus.
Cœa, Of Politian is uſed foꝛ Coa, Of the yle of Cos.
Cœle, A name of Syria.
Cœlos, An hauen in Thracia.
Cœmba, A citie of Gedroſia, called nowe Cambaia.
Cœnoeum, The citie of Lubembergh in Germanie.
Cœnoſus, The name of an hauen.
Cœos, vide Cœa.
Cœus, The name of a gigant, ſonne of Titan and Terra.
Colaicum, A pꝛomontoꝛie of the plande Taprobana.
Colapiani, People of Pannonie.
Colaſtis, The ſcholer of Lyſippus, which made the ymage called Colloſſus at Rhodes. 70. cubites high.
Colaxes, The ſonne of Jupiter and Oza, which was ſlaine by Jaſon.
Colchi, People of Aſia, wherof the countrey is of Strabo, called Colchis, by the ſea ſide called Pontus, where the toppe of an hill Caucaſus turneth to the Mountaines Riphei, the one ſide bending to the ſea Euxinum, and the ſenne called Mæotis, the other ſide towarde the ſea Caſpyum. In this Cuntrey is the famous ryuer Phaſis. And it was the countrey of Medea wife to Jaſon.
Colchis, Is ſometyme a woman borne in that countrey.
Colchiacus, & Colchicus, a, um Of Colchis.
Colchus, a, um, idem quod Colchiacus.
Colidos, An yſande in the Occean of Indie, conſecrate to Venus, which was ſo high, that no birde flew up to it.
Collatia, A towne by Rome, whereof one of the gates of the citie was called Colatina.
Collatina dea, Was ſuppoſed to bee the Goddeſſe ouer ſmall hilles.
Collatina porta, The name of a gate in Rome.
Collatinus, The name of a noble Romaine, which was huſbande to the chaſte Lucres.
Collina porta, A gate at Rome.
Collonæus, A place where Sophocles the poet was borne.
Colônus, ni. m. ge. An high place in Athens, where Neptune was woꝛſhipped.
Cólophon, ônis, A citie of Jonia in Græce, where was the temple of Apollo called Clarius, and Homere the famous poet was borne.
Colophonij, People of Colophon.
Colórbaſus, The name of an heretike, which taught that all mans lyfe was gouerned by the ſeauen Planets.
Coloſſe, A citie of Phꝛygia, wheꝛin in the time of Nero was ouerthꝛowne with an earthquake.
Colotes, The name of a painter.
Colpe, A citie in Jonia.
Colube, A citie of India.
Colubraria, An yle in the middle ſea.
Columella, The name of one that wrote of huſbandrie moſt eloquently, in the daies of the emperour Claudius.
Columna, æ, A citie in Bꝛutium.
Columnæ Herculis, Two mountaines, one at the vttermoſt part of Spaine, the other in the vttermoſt weſt part of Affrike, where nowe are the ſtreites of Cyuill or Gybarroche. Some holde opinion, that they are two yles in the ſayde ſtreites, one of them in Europe, and the other in Affrike. Some (as Strabo ſayth) affirme them to be in deede two pyllours of braſſe, in the yle of Gades, belonging to Spayne, ſet in the temple of Hercules, in the honour of him, where they that trauepled by the middle ſea, and were come to the vttermoſt part thereof, and entering into the Occean ſea, came and did ſacrifice to Hercules: which opinyon Poſſidonius thought to be moſt true.
Colori, Are two great circles in the Sphere, which doe declare the tyme called Aequinoctia, & Solſtitia, that is to ſay, when the day and night be equall in length: alſo when the day is longeſt and the night at moſt length.
Comagene, A part of Syria.
Comana, A citie in the greater Cappadocia, an other in Pontus. The people are called Comani.
Comani, A people of Aſia, beyonde the Scythes.
Comata, A ſhepeheardes name in Theocrite.
Combe, A mayden that inuented the armour of Æneas.
Comenſes, People of Comum in Fraunce.
Cométes, The father of Aſterion, one of the Argonautes.
Commorientes, The name of a comedie in Plautus.
Comum, mi, neu. gen. A citie in Fraunce on this ſide the mountaines, the inhabytaunts wherof are called Comenſes.
Comus, The God of banketting or rere ſuppers.
Concana, A citie in Spaine, the people wherof be called Concani.
Concilium Antiochenum, The generall councel holden at Antioche in Syria, in the yeare of our Lorde 346.
Concilium Arminenſe, A generall councell holden at Ariminum in Italy, the yeare of our Lorde. 361. In the which, the articles of the counſell of Nice were confirmed.
Concilium Arelatenſe, A generall councell holden at Arleance, the yeare of our Lorde. 314.
Concilium Baſilienſe, A generall councel holden at Baſile, the yeare of our Lorde. 1345.
Conſilium Calcedonenſe, A generall councell holden at Calcedon in Bithynia, the yeare of our Lord. 453. In the which counſell the hereſies of Neſtorius, and Eutiches, were condemned, and all the bookes of the Manicheis hereſies were burned.
Concilium Carthaginenſe, A generall councell holden at Carthage in Affrike, the yeare of our Lorde. 419.
Concilium Conſtantiæ, A generall councel holden at Conſtance in Heluetia, the yeare of our Lorde, 1414. and endured three yeares and more.
Concilium Conſtantinopolitanum, A councell holden at Conſtantinople, the yeare of our Lorde, 869.
Concilium Ferrarienſe, A generall councell holden at the citie in Ferraria in Italy, where the Churches of the Latines and Greekes, became one Church, in the yeare of our Lorde. 1438.
Concilium Lateranenſe, A generall counſell holden at Rome, in the palace of the Biſhop of Rome, called Lateranum, the yeare of our Lorde. 1215.
Concilium Lugdunenſe, A generall councell holden at Lions in Fraunce, in the yeare of our Lorde, 1273. where the Greikes accorded with the Latines, in proceeding of the holy Ghoſt, from the father and the ſonne in dyuinitie.
Concilium Nicenum, The firſt generall councell, which was holden at Nicea, a citie in Bythinia, the yeare of our Lorde. 327.
Concordia, A citie in Italy, an other in Spaine. Alſo a Goddeſſe of the Romaines.
Condalus, A Lieutenant of king Mauſolus of Caria, was a marueylous deuiſour to weſt money from men by craftie meanes. Foꝛ he perceyuing that the people of Lyſia (where he was Lieutenant) did much delight in keeping their heare and trimme buſhes, on a time feyned that he had receyued letters from king Mauſolus, that all the people of Lyſia ſhoulde cutte off their heare and ſende to him. Wherewith perceyuing that, they were allowed, he ſayde, if they woulde charge themſelues with a peece of money, that he would finde meanes, that mens heare ſhoulde be bꝛought in Greece, and ſent to the king to ſatiſfie his minde, and they ſhould keepe theyr heare ſtyll theyr trymme buſhes. By tyys meanes he bꝛought from them a marueylous ſumme of money, which they were content to paye, rather then to poll their heades.
Condaæ, The citie of Rhenes in Britaine.
Condigramma, A towne of Carmania.
Conduincum, Hauntes in Fraunce.
Congedus, A ryuer in Spayne, nere to the towne called Bilbilis.
Connas, A dronken minſtrell, that after was a great doer in the playes of Olympus in Græce: he was ofe victour, and yet verye pooꝛe.
Connus, Socrates maiſter in Muſicke.
Conon, onis, A famous capitaine of Athens.
Conorenenſes, People of Narbone in Fraunce.
Conſaburenſes, People of Spayne.
Conſentia, A citie of the Bꝛuttians.
Conſentini, People of that citie.
Conſilinum, A towne of Italy nere to Tarentum.
Conſoranni, People of Aquitaine in Fraunce.
Conſtantinopolis, A citie in Thrace, ſometime called Byzantium, and afoꝛe that, Lygos. It ſtoyneth to the Sea Pontus Euxinus, on the narroweſt part betweene Europa and Aſia. It was ſometime the chiefe paliace of the moſt chriſten Emperour Conſtantine, and is nowe the pompeous denne of the great Turke, enemie to Chꝛiſtes faith. It was taken of the Turkes the yeare of our Lorde. 1452. Mahumetes being great Turke, and Conſtantine Emperour of Greece.
Conſtantinus, The name of diuers Emperours: The moſt excellent was ſonne of Conſtantius, a noble and valiaunt pꝛince, felowe in the Empyre with Maximinus, and of Helene, a woman bozne in Englande, then called Britaine. After he had attained the Monarchie, he daily moſt ſtudiouſly laboured to augment the fayth of Chꝛiſt: notwithſtanding in his time were diuers hereſies, and hoꝛrible contentions among the Biſhops, which he did either diſſolue, or at the leaſt waye, reuerently moderate with a wonderfull temperaunce. Hee ꝛepigned. xxx. yeares, and was buryed in Conſtantinople. He died in the yeare of our Lorde. 330.
Conſualia, orum, n. g. Places dedicated to Conſus, the God of counſayle.
Conſuanetes, People of the Alpes.
Conſus, ſi. m. gen. The God of counſayle.
Coon, The eldeſt ſonne of Antenor.
Coos, vel Cos, vel, Co, vel Coum, The name of an yle nigh to the Rhodes.
Copæ, arum, A citie of the Bœotians.
Cophantus, An hill of Bactria, in India, which euer burneth.
Copheſ, A ryuer in India.
Cora, A citie that Dardanus buylded, of the which the inhabitaunts are called Corani.
Coracefius, A part of the hill Taurus.
Corafini, People of Aſia.
Corax, A learned man of Sicilie, who wrote firſt of Rhetozike. He conuersaunted with Lyſias to teach him hys ſcience, under this condition, to haue halfe his money before hande, and the reſidue, when he firſt by pleading ouercame and obteyned any cauſe in iudgement. Lyſias in pꝛocelle of time pꝛofyted much in eloquence, and yet would not take vpon hym any cauſe to pleade. Which thing when he was thought to do of purpoſe to defeate hys mayſter of the reſidue of his money, Corax ſued him in the lawe, and concluded the ſumme of his accuſation in this ſubtile argument: I carne thou, ſoiſthe pong man that thou art, that which waye ſoeuer the matter nowe falleth cut in iudgement, thou muſt paye me my money: Foꝛ if thou ouercome and call me, then is my money due, by the bargaine that was betweene vs: If I ouercome,and the Iudges condemne thée to pay it,then is it due by lawe. To this aunswered Pylias: Haply sir norlo,(ratly he)but vnderstand you (being so wyse a man as you are) that you can haue the money of me by neyther meanes. For if you ouercome in iudgement,then by the agreement betweene vs, can you require no money: for our bargain was,you should haue it when I did first ouercome in iudgement:but if I cast you, howe can you lawfully aske money at my handes,being quyted and discharged by the sentence of the Iudges. Which when the Iudges heard, beyng in admiration of the yong mans witte, sayde: Κορακὸς κοράκῳ κοκὸν ὠὸν, that is,Mali corui malum ouum, A curst Crowe hath hatched a lyke vnto egge: a craftye mayster hath bred as craftie a scholler: alluding in the Greke prouerbe to the name of Corax. Also Corax is an hill in Sarmatia,and a ryuer running out of the hyll Caucatus.

yyyy

Coraxi, People of Colchis.

Coraxicus, ꝑ part of the hill Taurus.

Corcyra,ræ.f.gen. In yle in Greece.

Corcyreus, a,um, One of that yle.

Cordilio, A Stoyke philosopher, so seuere, that he contemned the acquaintance and friendshippe of kinges and great princes.

Cordiſtæ, A certaine nation,that abhorreth golde, neyther will they bring it into their region, nor suffer other to be spoyled of it.

Corduba, A citie in Spaine, where Lucan the poet, and both the Senecaes were borne.

Cordus, One of the maysters of Alexander Seuerus: Also an hystoriographer.

Corela, In yland in Greece.

Corice, Two yslandes by Peloponnesus.

Corinium, A towne of Dalmatia, called nowe Corninium. Also a towne in Englande,otherwyse called Claudiana castra, & Claudiocestria, Glocester.

Corianus, A poet,which wrote of Troy before Homere.

Corinthius, and Corinthiacus,a,um, That which is of the Citie of Corinth.

Corinthus, A famous, riche and great citie in Achaia, scituate in the narrow streit entering into Peloponnesus nowe called Morea. By reason of the commodious situation for resort of marchaundize out of all countreyes, it was the greatest marte towne in all the worlde, and thereby rose to so great wealth and power,that the Romaynes began to suspect and feare them. wherefore on a tyme,when with prowde wordes they abused the Romaine Ambassadours,or (as Strabo writeth) cast vryne on their heades as they passed thyough the city,the Romaines taking therewyth great displeasure, sent their captaine Mummius against them,who besieged the city, & within short space so destroyed it, that scantly any token of so noble a citie lyythin fewe yeares remayned. In the burning of it,so many riche and costly ymages, of sundrie sortes of Mettall were melted, that thereof after was founde a kinde of precious hasle called Aes Corinthium, which long time after was had in great estimation.

Coriolanus, A noble man of Rome.

Coriolj, A towne of Latium.

Coritus, An hill of Thessaly: and a king, on whose wyfe Jupiter begat Dardanus.

Corna,næ, The name of two cities.

Cornelia, The proper name of diuers noble women: Of which, one was sister to Scipio, mother of Tyberius Gracchus, and Caius Gracchus, who beyng men of excellent eloquence in the latine tong, were taught onely of their mother. This woman was of a meruelous temperaunce. For on a tyme beyng in companie with other Ladyes of Rome,(beholding hir meane apparayle) was demaunded, if shee had no better rayment: Shee,pointing to hyr two sonnes, which then went before hyr,answered: Loe here is my fresh apparayle, wherein I delyte.

Cornelius, The proper name of diuers noble Romaines, of whome mention shall be made in their surnames.

Corniculum, Was sometyme a towne in Italy.

Cornificius, A learned man in the time of Salust.

Cornucopiæ, A horne that Hercules plucked from Achelous which horne the nymphes of immortall Ladyes filled with sweete flowers and fruites. There is another opinion thereof, which is this: It was the horne of a Goat,with whose mylke Jupiter was nourished in Creta of two maidens. Idyalica, & Ida, otherwise called Amalthea, & Melissa,daughters of Melisseus king of Creta: which horne Jupiter gaue to his nurses for a rewarde, hauing therewith thys commoditie, that whatsoeuer thyng they wished for, it should abundantly come out of that horne: whereof came a prouerbe, When men would declare plenty of any thing,they signifie it in these two wordes Copiæ cornu.

Cornutus, The name of a learned man in the time of Nero,of whom,together with Musonius the philosopher, he was slaine.

Corœbus, Lorde Chorœbus.

Corona, The signe of Ariadne in the firmament, which hath,xx.starres in fourme of a crowne.

Corone, A towne in Grece in the partes nowe named Morea.

Coronea, A citie in Beœotia,where no moles breede,if any be brought thither, he dyeth.

Coronis, The daughter of Leucippus, of whome Apollo begat Æsculapius.

Corsica, An yle in the middle sea,betweene Gean and the yle of Sardinia called Cors: It is now vnder the citie of Gean.

Corsicum mare, The sea about the yle of Cors.

Cortina, A citie of Creta.

Cortona, A citie in Tuscane.

Cortyna,or Gortyna, A citie in the yle of Candie.

Coruncanius, A Romayne,which first of any of the common people was made their high bishop.

Corunus, The name of a noble orator. Reade more of him in Messala.

Coruis, A place in Thessaly,into the which transgressours were hurled downe headlong.

Corybantes, The priestes of the ydole Cybéle, which as madde men,wagging their heads and daunsing,playing on Cymballes, ranne about the streates,prouoking other to doe the like. They first inhabited the mounte Ida in Phrygia, and afterwarde passing into Crete, toke for their abyding an hill, which of their olde habitation they called also Ida: where (as poets feigne) they priuily nourished Jupiter, when his father Saturne commaunded hym to be slaine, and continually played on tymbelles and dzumslades, that the noyse of the childe crying might not be heard.

Coribántius,a,um, Pertayning to the sacrifices of those priestes.

Corybas,antis, The sonne of Jason and Cybele.

Corycia, A promontorye of Crete, and an hauen in Aethiope.

Corycides, The surname of the Muses,of an hil or denne in Parnassus by Delphi, called Corycius.

Córicon, A promontorie or elbowe of Pamphilia, vnder the which, the citie Attalia is scituate.

Corycos,or Corycus, The name of a mountaine and citye in Sicilie, by the which is a caue called Corycius.

Corycus, A mountaine and hauen of Pamphilia, of the which certaine rouers on the sea,were named Coryci, whose falsehode in beguiling the marchauntes resorting thither,is growen to a prouerbe: and of them, all craftie and lyly sppes,and searchers out of matters are called Coryci.

*Coryceus, auſculauit, A prouerbe,spoken when a thing greatly dissembled and kept secrete, is by some spie disclosed.

Corydon, A shepeheardes name in Theocrite and Virgile.

Corydus, The name of a Parasite.

Corythus, A towne in Tuscane,nere to Aretium.

Cos, Lorde Coos.

Cosmus,mi, A proper name.

Cossa, A towne of Umbria.

Cossus, The name of a certaine Romayne.

Cossyra, or Cossura, An yle of the middle sea by Affrike.

Cotiæ, The Alpes.

Cotiso, A king of the Danes.

Coton, An hauen made with stone. Also a towne in Syria, of the which a certaine kinde of small syngres are called plurally, Cotona, Coctona, or Cottona.

Cotta, An oratour of Rome, greatly commended of Cicero.

Corylum, A place in the Mountaine of Ida, out of the which runne three great ryuers, Scamander, Granicus, and Aesopus.

Coys, A king of Thrace, which in the ciuile warre fauoured the part of Pompey.

Counum, A towne in Dozier shire, called Dozchester.

Counos, The yle of Sheppey in Kent.

Cous, a,um, Of the yle of Cos.

C R

Cragus, A mountaine of Lycia dedicate to Apollo.

Cranaus, A king of Athens, who succeeded Cecrops.

Craneum, A place of exercise at Corinth.

Crancus, The first king of Macedon: betweene him and Alexander Magnus reigned xxxvij. kinges, about the space of 500. yeares.

Crantor,oris, The name of a philosopher.

Crassus, The surname of diuers noble Romaines. One, named Lucius Crassus (next to Tullie) was the most excellent oratour among the Romaines: of whome,and Quintus Scæuola, Tullie writeth in this wise: Think not (I say) Brutus, that in this citie were euer two more excellent persons. For where it is well knowne, that of all counsellours, the one (Scæuola) was most eloquent: the other, (Crassus) was in counselling most excellent. Likewise in all other thinges they were vnlike one to another: but so as ye could not tell, vnto which of them ye would wishe to be like. For Crassus of all delicate and tolp, was the most sober: Scæuola of all that were sober, was the most freshe and pleasant. Crassus with gentilnesse had sufficient seuerity, in the great severity of Scæuola lacked no gentilnesse.

Crassus, called Marcus, Was the richest priuate person of the Romaines: he had in his treasure, 7100. talents, which amounteth of our money to, 1100350.li. or more truely after the computation and valuation of Tonstal, to, 852000.li. sterling, besides that he had giuen the x. part of his moueables to Hercules in offering, and had made a feast to all the people of Rome, appointing to euery man the rate of three Minas. He would saye, he ought not to be called a riche man, except he could with his yearely rent maintaine a legion, which commonly conteyned. 6000. footemen, and 500. men of armes. By which wordes it may be well supposed, that where Plinie estemeth the rychesse of Crassus to be, 20000. Sestertia, which in the rate of our money is, 13065.li. the same summe was the yearely reuenues of Marcus Crassus, euerye Sestertium, beyng vj. li. xj. s. ix. d. ob. Which reuenues were not oneyse of hys possessions, graine, fruite, and cattaile, but also of the labours of bondmen, which he did let to hyre, they being instructed in all maner sciences and artes: of whome were, 500. Carpenters, of all the other a much greater number. All that they gayned came to his coffers. Moreouer hee practised vsurie, lending lightly to all men that would borowe, but if they breake promise with him, he was in exacting therof extreme and rigorous. He gotte infinite substance by men attainted in ye time of Sylla. He was exceeding couetous & vnstable. but beyng much liberalty and affability towarde the people: he was alwaye in great estimatio among them: he was eloquent, & would pleade in euery common cause. Finallye, being stirred with couetousnesse and enuie, at the great honours that Cæsar and Pompey had obteyned, hee procured warre against the Parthians, by whom both he and his sonne with 30000. Romaynes were slayne, many also were taken, which as Plutarch writeth, happened by hys negligence, being more industrious about the gathering of money, than in gouerning his armie. He died before the incarnation of Christ, 51. yeares.

Cratéra,ræ, or Crater,téris, A great hole on the top of the marueylous hill Aetna in Sicilie, out of the which, issue flames of fire.

Craterus, One of great Alexanders companions.

Crates, A philosopher,which,to the intent he might more quietly studie philosophie, threwe all his goodes into the sea, saying: Hence with a mischiefe,ye disgracious appetites, I had leuer drowne you, than you should drowne me: supposing he mought not haue vertue and ryches togyther. Suidas and Laertius write that he made money of all the substaunce that he had, and put it in the handes of a banker, willing him, if his children proued to bee philosophers, to giue the money to hys poore countreymen: saying, that philosophers hauing wit and learning did neede no ryches: but if they proued vnlearned, then to deliuer them the stocke of money that he left behinde him, for their reliefe.

Crathis, The name of two ryuers, the one in Greece, the other in Calabet.

Cratilus, The name of a philosopher, to whome Plato wrate a booke.

Cratinas, A ryuer in Affrike.

Cratinus, A poet which wrote comedies.

Crattppus, The name of a philosopher.

Cremera, A ryuer of Tuscia.

Cremona, A towne of Italy.

Creon, The sonne of Menœceus, and father to Iocasta, who, after that Oedipus had vnwittingly killed hys father, did take vpon him the kingdome of Thebes. But forsomuch as the monster Sphinx did with great crueltie spoyle all the countrey about, nor any other remedie could be found of that great miserie, but that one must dissolue the doubtfull ryddle that Sphinx proposed, This Creon caused proclamation to be made ouer all Greece, that whosoeuer could doe it, should haue the olde Queene Iocasta to hys wyfe, and that hee would willingly also parte vp the kingdome of Thebes vnto him. This large offer caused many to attempt the thing, but when they could not rightly doe it, they were cruelly slaine by the monster. At the last Oedipus the vnknowne sonne of Iocasta, moued with the fame hereof commeth from Corinthe thyther, and by his wisedome dissolued the ryddle: which thing Sphinx toke so grieuously, that he cast himselfe downe an hill, and brake his necke. By this meanes Oedipus gat the kingdome of Thebes, and vnwittingly maryed his owne mother Iocasta. Whereas he had not long before also ignorantly killed his father Laius. Which thinges when hee dyd afterwarde vnderstande, hee conceyued so great sorrowe, that he pulled out his owne eyes, and would also often tymes haue slaine himselfe, had not his daughter Antigone kept him. Wherefore hee willingly went in banishment to Athens, leauing his kingdome to Eteocles and Polynices his two sonnes, to occupie the same by course. But when Eteocles being the elder, after the first yeare would not admit his brother Polynices to reigne, vpon that occasion great and cruell warre was raysed betweene the Thebanes and the Argiues. In which, when it happened both the brothers, meeting in the battaile, to be slaine eche of other, Creon toke on him the kingdome againe. Finally for his outragious crueltie, as well in other thinges, as in murdering Antigone and Argia, Theseus of Athens made warre vpon him, and slue him. In other of the same name was king of Corinthe, whose daughter Creusa Jason maryed when he forsooke Medea. Also a mountaine of the yle of Lesbos.

Creontiades, The sonne of Hercules, by Megara the daughter of Creon of Thebes.

Creophilus, The name of a poet, whome some affirme to be be mayſter to Homere.

Crepſa, A citie of Luburnia, called alſo Crexa.
Cres, cretis, One of Creta.
Creſcens, A nymph of the ſea.
Creſſa, A woman of Creta. Alſo an hauen of Caria, ouer againſt Rhodes.
Creta, æ, for. g. and Crete, tes, An yle lying betweene Peloponneſus and the Rhodes. It hath on the north part of the ſea Aegeum, and Cretenſe: on the ſouth, the ſea of Aegypt and Affrike. It is nowe called Candie. In this yle was Jupiter nouriſhed, whome the paynims named their chiefe God. There Minos regned, and Radamanthus gouerned vnder him with moſt exquiſite iuſtice: of whoſe lawes other countreyes take their firſt paterne: yet notwithſtanding the people of that countrey were noted to be vicious, and ſhameleſs lyers, as Epimenides wrote in a verſe, recyted by ſaint Paule, in his Epiſtle to Titus, ſaying: Cretes alway bene lyers, vngracious beaſtes, and ſlouthfull panches. This is nowe vnder the Turke.
Cretéus, Creſſius, & Crétcus, a, um, Of Creta.
Cretheus, The ſonne of Eolus, which begat Aeſon, Pheremedon, and Amythaon, on Tyros, the daughter of his brother Salmoneus.
Crethon, The ſonne of Diocles.
*Cretizare cum Cretenſibus, A prouerbe vſed where a craftie man will deceyue him that is craftie, a theefe ſteale from a theefe, or a lyer beſoye them that vſe to make leaſings.
Creuſa, The daughter of Creon king of Cozinth, whom Jaſon maryed. She was afterwarde burned in hir palace by the wylde lyze that Medea in maner of a preſent did ſende hir incloſed in a Cakher, becauſe Jaſon had forſaken hyz, to marry this Creuſa. It is alſo the wife of Aeneas, daughter of Pryamus and Hecuba, whome (as Virgile ſayth) Aeneas loſt in the ſtreetes of Troye as he kaped with his father and hys ſonne. Other write, that he killed hir by couenant made with the Grecians, that none of Priamus his ſtocke myght remaine alyue.
Creuſis, A towne of Boetia.
Crimiſſa, A citie mencioned of Strabo.
Crimiſſus, A ryuer of Greece.
Criſſa, A towne buylded by Criſſus the ſonne of Phocus.
Criſpus, The name of Salluſt
Critheis, The daughter of Ireellis, the mother of Homer.
Critias, One of the thirtie tyzaunts of Athens.
Crito, A philoſopher of Athens, familier with Socrates.
Critobulus, A phiſition, of whome Plinie ſpeaketh Lib. 7.
Critolaus, A philoſopher of Athens, and a Capitaine of Achaia, which deſtroyed the citie of Cozinth.
Crobialon, A towne in Paphlagonia, whereby runneth the ryuer Parthenius.
Crobylus, A ruffian baude, ſo naughtie, that of him grewe a prouerbe, Crobyli iugum.
Crocodilon, A towne of Phenicia.
Crocodilus, An hill of Cilicia.
Crocus, The ſonne of Eumenes, the nourſe of the Muſes, who was turned by Jupiter into the ſigne called Sagittarius. Some write his name Crotus, or Croton.
Creſus, A king of Lydia, ſonne of Halyattes, who ſubdued many great countreyes in Aſia and Grece, and gathered innumerable rycheſſe. He on a tyme demaunded of Solon, who was the happieſt man that euer he did ſee. He ſayde, Tellus, a man of Athens, who had honeſt and god ſonnes: and they alſo had likewyſe god children: all which he ſawe in his life: and when he had lyued a god time honeſtly, at the laſt, fighting againſt and vanquiſhing the enemies of his countrey, he dyed a fayze death, and was in the ſame place honourably buryed of the Atheniens. When Creſus aſked, who was moſt happye next Tellus, he ſayde, Cleobis and Biton, which were Argiues, and had a competent liuing, and in all games, in proouing of ſtrength, they obteyned the price. Creſus, being abaſhed, ſayde vnto Solon: My friende of Athens, ſeeſt thou ſo little by our felicitye.

that thou preferreſt beſoye vs theſe priuate perſons. Solon anſwered: Truely Creſus, in yecceſſe of time, many thinges are ſene, which men ſhould not ſee: & many things be ſuffered, that men ſhould not ſuffer. And ſpeaking much of mans calamitie, at the laſt hee concluded, ſaying: The ende of euerye thing is to be lokked on, whereto it ſhall come. For God pincheth by by the noſes many men, vnto whome he gaue all fortune at pleaſure. Creſus made hereto no countenaunce, but eſteeming Solon for a fole, conſidering hee paſſed ſo lighe vppon thinges, which apperech god, let him depart. A god ſpace after, Creſus by the comfort of Apollocs anſwere at Delphos, attempting warre againſt Cyzus king of Perſia, was at the laſt taken of him: who cauſed a great pyle of wode to bee made readie, and Creſus gyued, to be ſet on the toppe thereof: Then ſoꝛthwith Creſus remembzing the woꝛdes of Solon: that no man liuing was bleſſed, oꝛ on all partes happye, lamenting, cryed: O Solon, Solon, Solon: which Cyzus hearing, cauſed to bee demaunded of him, who it was that he named. Creſus with much difficultie tolde what he was, and declared all that beſoye is rehearſed. Which when Cyzus had hearde, recognifing himſelfe to be alſo a man, ſoze repented that he went about to burne him, which was equall to hymſelfe in honoz and rycheſſe: and commaunded him to be taken from the fire, which then began to flame: and ſo with great difficultie hee was deliuered. Afterwarde Cyzus entertayned him honozably, and vſed his counſayle, which in many thinges he founde verp profitable.
Cromis, He to whome Hercules gaue the hoꝛſes of Diomedes, which woulde eate men.
Cromna, A citie of Paphlagonia.
Cronciades, One of Hercules ſonnes, by Megara the daughter of Creon.
Cronia, orum, neu. gen. plu. num. The feaſtes dedicate to Saturnus, which were alſo called Saturnalia, in the which, little yzelentes and gyftes were ſent from one to another.
Crónium, Is the noꝛth ſea, called Mare concretum, oꝛ Glaciale, the frozen ſea.
Cronius, One of the Centaures.
Cronos, Saturnus.
Croto, oꝛ Croton, fœm. gen. An auncient citie in Italy, in the gouife called Tarentinum, the countrey of Milo the famous wꝛaſtler.
Crotus, Lake Crocus.
Crunos, An hauen of Thrace.
Cruſtuminum, A towne in Italy.

C T

Creatus, The father of Amphimachus, one of the Capitaines of the Grecians at the ſiege of Troy.
Creſias, An oratour of Sicile.
Creſiphon, The name of a wozkeman, which made the great temple of Diana at Epheſus, a wozke wonderfull and renowmed through the woꝛld, which was after burned by one Heroſtratus, onely becauſe he would for ſome deede be ſpoken of. It is alſo the name of him that perſwaded the Atheniens to crowne Demoſthenes in the Theater.
Creſiphon, Is alſo a towne in Parthia.
Creſippus, The ſonne of Chabzias.

C V

Cuma, oꝛ Come, es, A towne of Jonia, in the leſſe Aſia whereof Sybilla Cumæa was named.
Cumæ, arum, A citie in Campania.
Cumani, Are alſo a people in Eolis, about Leſbos, of whom the prouerbe goeth, Sero ſapiunt Cumani.
Cumanus, oꝛ Cumæus, A man of that citie.
Cumueni, Wꝛoge in Fraunce.
Cunctátor, óris, maſ. gen. The ſurname of the woꝛthie Romaine capitaine Fabius Maximus, giuen to him becauſe that by long delayes, and ſkirmiſhing onely nowe and and then, he greatly miniſhed the puiſſaunce & ſtrength of Anniball, againſt whome he was ſent, and made him moze eaſie to be ouercome.

Cuneus ager, A promontoꝛie of Poꝛtugall.
Cuniculariæ, Little yles in the middle ſea.
Cunina, The Goddeſſe of Infantes.
Cupra, A towne in Italy.
Curcura, An yſande in the ſea Adyzatike.
Cures curium, plu. A citie of the Sabynes.
Curétes, The prieſtes of Cybele, which firſt inhabited Iſalye. They were alſo called Corybantes. There were other people ſo called, which were neꝛt to Aetolia. Alſo other in Daimatia, now called Sclauonia Curétes called alſo Idei dactili, were ſixe brethren in Creta, vnto whom Rhea cauſed hir ſonne Jupiter to be bzought, fearing the yre of Saturne hir huſbande: theyr names were theſe, Hercules, Iolaus, Paonius, Epimedes, Iaſius, and Idas.
Curetis, Was the olde name of an yle called Creta.
Curia hoſtilia, Was a place buylded by Tullus Hoſtilius, king of Romaines, where the Senate did ſitte aboute the affayres of the citie of Rome.
Curiális, le, Of that court oꝛ counſayle houſe.
Curiatus, a, um, The adiecture.
Curio, ónis, Of Curro, is taken for the place where prieſts conſulted concerning diuine ceremonies. Alſo it was the ſurname of a famile in Rome, whereof were many excellent oꝛatours.
Curius, The ſurname of diuers noble Romayns: one was called Marcus Curius, a man of marueylous honeſtye, conſtancie and grauitie. He, after many great victozies, (beyng capitaine) againſt the Samnites, Sabynes, and the noble king Pyzrhus, deuided among the people the fieldes, appointing to euery man xl. acres, and receyued by their conſentes, as much to himſelfe. And when they would haue giuen to him moze, he refuſed it ſaying: He was an yll Citizen, that thought it not ynough for him, that was ynough for other. When the Ambaſſadeurs of the Samnites brought him a great ſumme of golde, he ſitting by the fire, boyling of rapes, ſayde vnto them: I had rather eate in mine earthen diſhe, and to haue dominon ouer them that haue ſo much golde, than to be ryche my ſelfe. When hee was accuſed of withholding of money, he brought forth a treen barrell, which he occupyed when he did ſacrifice, and tolde a ſolemne othe, that of all the pzay that was gotten of them, whome he vanquiſhed, he kept no moze but that barrell to his owne vſe.
Curtius, A famous Romayne, which, for the weale of hys Countrey, caſt hymſelfe into a gaping Caue of the earth.

C Y

Cyane, es, A mayden of Syzacuſa, who being rauiſhed of hir owne father, bzewe him afterwarde by the heare to be ſacrificed: and was hir ſelfe killed vpon his bodie, to ceaſe the peſtilence that Bacchus had ſent for that abhominable acte.
Cyaneæ, Ilandes oꝛ rather rockes vnder Boſphozus Thracius.
Cyaneæ, oꝛ Cyanea, A nymph, the daughter of the ryuer Xzander.
Cyanippus, One of Syzacuſe, who, becauſe he contemned the ceremonies of Bacchus, was caſt into ſuch a dyuinkenneſſe, that in the darke by violence he rauiſhed hys owne daughter Cyane. She, by a ring that (in ſtruggling with him) ſhee pulled of his finger, vnderſtandyng the authour of that bzede to be hir owne father, foz the tyme diſſimuled hir griefe. But after, when in a great plague, the people of the citie alked Apollo which way that terrible plague might be ſtayed, he anſwered, if they did take punihſment on ſo foule a villanie, as not long beſoye was emong them committed. All men maruepling who oꝛ why thing that might bee, then Cyane vnderſtanding onely what the God did meane, firſt layd hande on hir father Cyanippus, and by the heare dzewe him to the aultare to be ſacrificed, and afterwarde alſo in their yzcience killed hir ſelfe.

Cyaxares, The ſonne of Phraoztes, king of Perſia and Media, and father to Aſtyages.
Cybéle, les, oꝛ Cybéles, lis, oꝛ after ſome Cybelle, Lake Cybele.
Cyclades, The fiftie yles in the ſea called Aegeum.
Cycloborus, A ryuer of Attica ſwift and violent.
Cyclops, ópis, maſ. gen. A Cyclope. Theſe Cyclops were an auncient people inhabiting the yle of Sycile, which were lyke gygantes, hauing but one eye in their foꝛeheades.
Cyclus, cli, maſ. gen. A rounde place in Athens, where things were ſolde.
Cycnus, A capitaine of the Ligurians, who bewailing the death of Phaeton, was turned into a ſwanne.
Cydias, A painter which painted the Argonautes.
Cydippe, A mayden whome a yong man called Acontius loued, and ſignified the ſame vnto hir by wzyting on a fayze Apple, which he ſent to hir.
Cydnus, A ryuer in Cilicia, which runneth from the great mountaine Taurus, and paſſeth through the citie Tharſos: which ryuer is ſo colde, that when the great Alexander in his iourney againſt Darius went into it to refreſhe him, he was ſo mzotified with cold in all hys bodie, that he ſhoulde haue dyed, had not that excellent and faithfull phiſition Philip recouered him.
Cydon, One of the notable townes of Candie. Alſo a man of Cozinthe, which kept ſo great hoſpitalitie, that therof gzewe a prouerbe.
Cydonea, An yle by Leſbos.
Cyleno, The daughter of Atlas, and mother of Mercurius.
Cylicrani, A people of Spayne.
Cyllarus, The hoꝛſe of Caſtor.
Cylleborus, The ſonne Sthelenus.
Cyllene, An hill of Archadie, where they ſay Mercurius was nouriſhed.
Cyllenius, One of the names of Mercurie.
Cymbrica Cherſoneſus, The countrey of Denmarke.
Cyme, A citie of Aeolis.
Cymes, Sybel, called Cumæa.
Cyminus, A lake in Italy.
Cymodoce, The daughter of Oceanus and Tethis.
Cymothoe, The daughter of Nereus, and wyfe to Neptune.
Cynæthium, A citie in Archadie.
Cyneas, An excellent wiſe man, who beyng ſent from king Pyzrhus ambaſſadour to Rome, the next day after he came thither, he ſaluted the whole Senate and gentlemen by their names. Seneca in prologo libri, 1. Declaſayth, that hee ſaluted the Senate, and all the people ſtanding about to beholde him by their names.
Cynegirus, A capitaine of Athens.
Cynice, es, ſ. g. The ſect of philoſophers, called Cynici.
Cynici, were a ſect of Philoſophers, which ſignifieth doggiſhe, foz the ſimilitude of their condicions. For they barked at all men, and occuppied women openly, and vſed without any pzouiſion. The firſt authour thereof was Antiſthenes, and next him followed Diogenes.
Cyniphis, oꝛ Cyniphos, A ryuer of Affrike, by the which are bzedde great Goates.
Cyniphius, a, um, Of that ryuer.
Cynocéphali, People vnder the great Chane, hauing heades like dogges.
Cynopolis, A citie, where Anubis was honoured.
Cynos, A citie in Locris.
Cynoſarges, A place in Athens, where children which were baſtardes were exerciſed.
Cinthia, One of the names of Diana.
Cynthus, An hill of the yſande Delos, where Apollo and Diana were borne.
Cypariſſa, A citie of Achaia.
Cypariſſus, The ſonne of Telephus, which bewayling the death of a tame Hynde, ſlaine by his louer Syluanus, was turned into a Cypres tree.
Cypria, was one of the names of Venus.

Cyprias

Cyprius,a,um, Of the ile of Cyprꝛs.

Cyprus, An ile in the ſea called Carpathium, againſt the countrey called Syria: on the north,it hath Cilicia:on the ſouth, and the eaſt, Aegypt. It is in length. after the deſcription of Strabo. 175. miles, after.viij.furlongs to the mile: Some ſuppoſe it was at the firſt a portion of Syria, deuided by earthquakes. This countrey abounderh in wyne, oyle, mettall, vitriole, and canes, whereof ſugar is made. Alſo Venus was there had in great reuerence, in ſo much that men before they did ſet forth their daughters in marryage, offered them to ſuch ſtraungers as came into the countrey,to be by them deflowred,and afterwarde maryed them to huſbandes.

Cypſella, A towne of Thrace.

Cypſelus, A king of Corinthes, father of Periander, one of the ſeauen ſages of Greece.

Cyprſia, A citie in Galatia, called Caroſa.

Cyrcilus, A man of Athens, who was ſtoned to death,for perſwading them to yelde the citie of Xerxes.

Cyrenaica, A countrey in Affrike,called alſo Pentapolitana. It hath on the weſt,the great Syrtis, and the iſle Affrike: on the north,the part of the middle ſea called Lybicum: on the eaſt, Marmarike: on the ſouth, the deſertes of Lybia. In this were the notable cities, Beronice, Arſinoe, Ptolomais.&c.

Cyrenaica ſecta, A ſect of Philoſophers, who affirmed the chiefe felicitie to be in carnall delectation, of whome Ariſtippus was chiefe.

Cyrene,es,or Cyrenæ,arum, A famous citie in Libia. Alſo a citie in the ile of Cyprus.

Cyreneus, A man of that citie.

Cyrillus, The name of diuers learned biſhops, of the which one wrote againſt Neſtorius.

Cyrnus, The ile, which is called Corſica, or Corſe, the people whereof are called Cirnij.

Cyrrheſtis, A Goddeſſe,worſhipped in the countrey called Cyrreſtica.

Cyrrha, A towne of Phocis, by the which be the fieldes, called Cyrrhæi campi.

Cyrthea, A citie in the mountaine of Helicon.

Cyrus, The name of two princes, the one in Armenia,the other in Media.

Cyrus, A noble king of Perſia,the ſonne of Cambyſes and Mandanes,the daughter of Aſtyages, king of Media. This man excelled all men of his time in godly perſonage,gentilneſſe,proweſſe,liberalitie,wiſedome and memorie. Solinus writeth, that of the exceeding multitude of men which were in his hoſt, he ſo retayned the names, that he called euery man by his proper name, when he ſpake vnto them. The reſidue of his wonderfull vertues be written by Xenophon moſt eloquentlye in Greeke. At the laſt beeyng inſatiable in couetyng countreyes,he was ſlaine by Tomyris,Queene of Scithia,with 200000. Perſians: Of him reade Iuſtine, Lib.1. Herod.lib.1.and Solin.Valer.Max.lib.8.cap.7.

Cyſſus,vel Cythus, The name of a ryuer.

Cyte,es, A towne of Colchis.

Cyteus, or Cyteius,a,um, Of Colchis,or of Medea.

Cyteorum, A towne of Cappadocia.

Cythéra,orum,neu.gen. An ile againſt Candie,and a citie in the ſame, dedicated to Venus.

Cythére,es, and Cytherea, æ. One of the names of Venus.

Cytheris, An harlottte, loued of Cornelius Gallus the Poet.

Cytharon, A Foreſt or wood in Boœotia, conſecrated to the Muſes.

Cythnos, One of the yles called Cyclades.

Cytorus, Lauke Citorus.

Cyzicenus, A philoſopher of Athens, excellent in Geometrie.

Cyzicum, A famous citie of Bithinia, ſo named of the kyng Cyzicus.

Cyzicus. The name of an yle by Greece. Alſo a citie of Propontis.

Dæ,arum, People of Scythia.

Dacia, A countrey beyonde Hungarie, it hath on the north,Sarmatia of Europe: on the weſt, the Iazigians of Auſtenceſt: on the ſouth,Myſiam ſuperiorem,and Dunaw: on the eaſt,the lower Myſiam, and Dunaw: they call it nowe Tranſyluaniam. They doe not well, which call Denmarke by this name,which is Dania.

Dácicus,a,um, Pertayning to the countrey called Dacia.

Dacus ci, One of the countrey of Dacia.

Dacus, and Dacius,a,um,idem quod Dacicus.

Dædala,neut.gen. Were feaſtes celebrated yearely in the honour of the reconcyling of Juno to Jupiter: Reade before in Citheron. Alſo Dædala, was the generall denomination of pmages wrought, of whome it ſeemeth to come, that Dædalus toke his name. Alſo it is a town of Lycia, where Dædalus was buryed.

Dædalus, The name of an excellent Carpenter of Athens, which firſt founde the Saw, the Twibile,and the Iugour,and made the place in Crete,called Labyrinthus.

Dædalus,la,lum, and Dædaleus,a,um, Of Dædalus.

Dædicæ, A certaine people of Scythia, on the part of Aſia.

Demogorgon, onis, Whome paynims called the God of the earth, firſt creatour of the earth.

Dæmon,monis, Is one of the names of Saturne.

Dætor, A Troyan menconed in Homere.

Dai, People of Perſia, which were all ſhepeheardes and graſiers.

Dahæ, People of Scythia,baliaunt and cruell in battaile.

Dalida,vel Dahla, An harlotte dwelling in Gaza, in the countrey of the Philiſtians, which deceyued the ſtrong Sampſon.

Dalmatia, A part of the great countrey called Illiria or Sclauonia. It hath on the weſt, Croatia: on the eaſt, Boſſina: on the north, the great Mountaine Albanus mons, and the countrey called Seruia: on the ſouth the ſea Adriaticum, or the goulfe of Venice.

Dalmata,æ, A man of that countrey.

Dalmaticus,a,um, Of Dalmatia.

Damaſcene, A part of Syria, called alſo Meſopotamia.

Damaſcénus,a,um, Of Damaſcus.

Damaſcius, An hiſtoyographer,which in the time of Herodotus, wrote of things done before the warre of Peloponnelus.

Damaſcus, A famous citie in Syria, ſuppoſed to bee the firſt that euer was inhabited.

Damaſithymus, One of Xerxes capitaines.

Damaris, The Prieſt of the Temple of the Goddeſſe Damia.

Damia, One of the names of the Goddeſſe Cybele.

Damianus, A ſophiſter of Epheſus.

Damocles, One of the flatterers of Dionyſius.

Damœtas, A ſhepeheardes name in Virgile.

Democrates, A Phyſition.

Damocrita, A matrone of Rome, wyfe to a noble Citizen called Alcippus. This woman, whē hir huſband was expelled the city by certain of the cōtrary faction, was not onely forbidden to followe him into baniſhment, whome ſhee loued moſt entirely: but hir daughters alſo were reſtrayned from marryage, that no iſſue myght diſcende of them to reuenge the crueltye ſhewed to Alcippus. Wherefore Damocrita thinking ſome way to be reuenged, on a tyme when all the noble women accoyding to their cuſtome, ſhould come togither into an houſe to ſolemnize a ſacrifice, Damocrita wyth hir daughters, minding to burne all that were within,locked the doore, and with the wood prepared for the ſacrifice, began to ſette the houſe on fire. But when a multitude of men came to quench the fire, Damocrita to preuent the crueltie of hir enemies, firſt killed hir daughters,and afterwarde hir ſelfe.

Damon, & Pythias, Two philoſophers of Pythagoras his ſect, in the league of friendſhip beyng eche to other moſt faythfull. For when Dyonyſe the tyranne of Syracuſe, had condemned the one of them to death, and he had required certayne dayes reſpyte to go home and diſpoſe ſuch thynges as he had: the other became ſuretie for him on this condition, that if his friende returned not, he would be content to ſuffer death for him. But when he at the day appointed accoyding to his promiſe did returne: the tyranne wondred at theyr faithfulneſſe,pardoned the offender, and requeſted that he myght be receyued as thirde into their knotte and league of amitie.

Damophila, A woman of Greece, excellencly well learned.

Damoſtratus, A philoſopher that wrote of fiſhes.

Damoxenus, A poet of Athens.

Dan, A towne, which is in the boundes of Judea, on the north part.

Danae, The daughter of Acriſius, king of Argiues,vnto whome (beyng cloſed in a ſtrong tower) Jupiter came in the foyme of a ſhower of golden raine in at the houſe top, and gat on hir Perſeus, who was afterward a baliaunt knight. Hee gaue the name firſt to the countrey and people of Perſia. By this fable is ſignified, that Jupiter ſent treaſure priuily vnto Danae, and alſo to them that had the keeping of hir,wherewith they being corrupted, ſuffered Jupiter to enter into the tower,and accomplith his pleaſure. The fable declareth the yoyce of money, and gyftes in aſſaulting of chaſtitie.

Danaides, The daughters of Danaus.

Danaus, King of Argiues, of whome the countrey of Achaia,was after named Danaa,and all the Greekiſh Danai. He begat fiftie daughters: which of their graundfathers name was called Belides, and of their father Danaides. They all in one night killed their huſbandes, the ſonnes of their vncle Aegyptus, ſauyng onely Hypermneſtra, which ſaued hir huſbande Lynceus. Vide Belides.

Dandarica, The countrey of the people called Dandaridæ.

Dani, People of Germanie, called now Daci.

Daniel,elis, An holy prophet of the tribe of Juda, a noble man borne,beyng a yong childe, was brought to Babilon,and became a man of ſuch temperance, that among the Iewes,he was taken to bee Euuchus, or a man geided. Hee continually bewayled Hieruſalem, and in faſtinges refrayned all maner concupiſcence. In foyme of bodie, he was dric and leane, but in the fauour of God he was beautifull. By hys prayer he reſtored Nabuchodonoſor to his firſt figure, where he was tranſformed of God into a monſtruous beaſt, notwithſtanding, that a little before, hee by the ſame Nabuchodonoſor king of Babylon,was throwne into a dungeon among hungrie Lions,which neuer wouldo touche him to hurt him. Hee being afterwarde deliuered, prophecyed both of the comming of Chriſt, and of the Empyres of Babilon, Media, Perſia, Greece, and Romanes: And finally lyed at Babylon, and there was buryed: he lued before the incarnation of Chriſt.619.yeares.

Dantes, A poet of Florence.

Dantiſcum, A towne of Polonia.

Danubius, A famous ryuer called Danowe (after the deſcription of Plinie) hath his beginning in Germanie, out of an hill called Arnoba, and paſſing by countreyes innumerable, retayneth his name: but as ſone as hee entereth into Illiria, hee is called Iſter, and receyueth into him ix.other ryuers, well nighe the halfe of them beyng nauigable. Finally,being in ſixe wonderful great armes,he falleth into the ſea called Pontus. The ſame is affirmed by Tacitus, ſaying that he taketh the hyll, where Danow ſpringeth, Arbona,and not Arnoba.

Daphnis,idis, The ſonne of Mercurie. Alſo a delectable place without the citie of Antioche: and the name of a portion of Lycia by the ſea ſide.

Daphnites, One of the names of Apollo.

Daradus, A ryuer of Lybia, nowe called Darat.

Dardania, The countrey where Troy ſtande, or the towne of Troy.

Dardánides, dæ, One of the ſtocke of Dardanus.

Dardanis,idis, A woman of Troy.

Dardanus,a,um, Of Troy.

Dárdanus, The name of a prince, reigning in that part of Phrygia, where Troy ſtode, which was of him called Dardania.

Dares, An hyſtoriographer of Phrygia,which wrote of the battayle of Troy.

Dariæus, The name of a king of Perſia, in the time of Tyberius, Caius, and Claudius,the Emperours.

Dariorigum, Vannes in Britaine.

Darius, The name of diuers kinges of Perſia.

Daruernum, Douer.

Darus, A ryuer of Hungarie,called Mora.

Daſchylos, A towne in Bithynia.

Daſſaretæ, People of Thrace.

Daſylus, The name of king Gyges.

Datarius,a,um, An officer in Rome, which ſubſcribed the date of letters.

Dates, One of Darius Capitaines.

Dathus, A place in Theſſaly, neere to Strymon, where plentie of golde is founde.

Datylus, A right honourable man of Athens.

Daulia,or Daulis, A towne of Phocis, vnder the dominion of king Tereus.

Daunia, A part of Italy, nowe called Apulia.

Dauni, A people of Italy.

Daunifer, A capitaine of Darius.

Debæ, People of Arabia fœlix.

Debris, A towne in Aethiopia,where are the people called Garamantes, in the which towne is a well,whereof the water is in the day time as colde as yce, and in the night boyling hote,the countrey being the hoteſt part of all Aethiope.

Decápolis, A country in Judea,beyond the riuer of Flome Jordane,conteyning ten cities.

Decelia, One of the twelue cities ordeyned and diſpoſed by Cecrops.

Deceij, Were men of a noble houſe of the Romaynes,of whome two dyed willingly for their country.

Decoontes, The ſonne of Hercules,by Megara,the daughter of Creon.

Deianira, Daughter of Oeneus king of Aetolia, and wyfe to Hercules. On a time when Hercules ſhoulde paſſe the riuer Euenus in Aetolia,which at that time was exceadingly riſen, Neſſus the Centaure beyng in companie, vndertoke fakelye to conuey ouer Deianira. Wherefore Hercules committing his wife to Neſſus, ſtoutly aduentured himſelf to ſwim ouer the ryuer: but when he was on the other ſide, perceyuing that the falſe Centaure would haue rauiſhed his wife, he ſhotte at him one of his arrowes that were poyſoned with the bloud of Hydra. Then Neſſus,beyng wounded to death,and deſiring to be reuenged on Hercules, gaue to Deianira, his garment imbrued with his owne bloud,falſely perſwadyng hyr,that it had the ſtrength to allure one to loue: and if hir huſbande ſhoulde giue himſelfe to the loue of any other woman, that it would withdrawe him from hir. The woman ouer light of credite receyued the gift, and afterwarde when ſhee heard that hir huſbande being in Eubœa, was intangled in the loue of Iole, daughter of Eurytus, ſhe ſent to him the garment imbrewed with the bloud of Neſſus, by hir ſeruant Lycha. Hercules thinking no yll, intending to doe ſacrifice, put on the garment: but ſhortly after he was ſo extremely tormented, that he fell madde and in the mountaine Oeta, in a great fire burned himſelfe. Which when Deianira byd heare to haue happened ſo much contrarye to hir expectation,conceyuing extreame ſorrowe, ſhee killed hir ſelfe with Hercules his Clubbe.

Deidamia, The concubine of Achilles, on whome he begat Pyrrhus.

Deioces, A king of the Medes, the ſonne of Phraortes.

Deiopeia, A nymph menconed of Virgill.

Deiotarus, A king of Galatia.

Delphobe, A nymph the daughter of Glaucus a God of the sea

Delphobus, The sonne of Priamus and Hecuba.

Delphyle, The mother of Diomedes, wyfe of Tydeus, and daughter of Adrastus.

Delphylus, The sonne of Polymnestor, a king of Thrace. Also the sonne of Sthenelus.

Delia, One of the names of Diana.

Deliacus, a, um, Of the yle of Delos.

Delius, a, um, Idem.

* Delius natator, was one perſite in swimming. wherefore came a prouerbe, that when a thing was spoken or written, harde to be vnderstande, and required a cunning expositor, they wolde saye. Delio natatore egit, it requireth a cunning or subtill expositor.

Delminium, A towne of Dalmatia, nowe called Demna.

Delos, An yle by Greece, where Apollo and Diana were borne, and is one of the yles called Cyclades.

Delphi, A citie and people in Greece, where was the oracle of Apollo.

Delphicus, a, um, Of that citie, or of Apollo.

Delphicum oraculum, The answere made at the temple of Apollo in Delphos.

Delphos, A citie in the countrey called Phocis, on a mountaine in Greece called Parnassus: there was the great and famous temple of Apollo called Delphicus, where the deuill gaue answeres by women, which there serued for the purpose.

Delta, Is the letter D, in Greeke. It also signifyeth the number of foure, as in the letters it signified. v. hundred. Also at Memphis, the most famous citie of Aegypt, the ryuer called Nylus, maketh a place in the fourme of this letter, which is this Δ. wherefore that place is called Delta.

Demades, A great Oratour in Athens, which in sodayne orations without any studie, excelled Demosthenes: into much (as Plutarche writeth) when Demosthenes, was constrayned to speake to the people vnprouided beyng tymorous, sometime stayed in the middle of hys oration. Demades would arise out of his place and finishe that oration, which Demosthenes had begunne. He was of so corrupt maners, y Antipater was wont to say of him, when he was olde and decrepite, he was lyke to beastes offered in sacrifice, of whome remayned but their tongues and bellyes. Finally, the ende of hys auarice, prodigalitie, flattery, and falsehode was thys: comming vnder colour of friendship into Macedonie, where in dede he had secretly conspired with Antigonus, enimie to Antipater king of that countrey, he and his sonne were taken by Cassander (chefe capitaine of Antipaters armie) and first his sonne Demea was slayne in his armes, that the blood tyrang into his face, and then himselfe (after many reproches, touching hys treason and vnkindenesse) was cruelly kilde.

Demaratus, A capitaine of the Lacedemonians. Also the father of Tarquine the prowde.

Demeter, The name of Ceres.

Demetrias, A towne of Thessaly.

Demetrius, The proper name of dyuers Greekes: one, a king of Macedonie, was of so goodly stature, excellent fauour and beautie, that no painter or caruer mought truely counterfeyte him. For it seemed, there were in his visage both terribleneſſe and mercye, grauitie and gentleneſſe, wherewith was toyned a princely maieſtie. He was in tyme of creation of all kinges most pleasaunt: when great affayres were in hand, he surmounted all other in studie, diligence, and wisedome. He had his father and mother in wonderfull reuerence. Notwithstanding he was much noted of incontinencie, he was full of prowesse and valiaunt: he deliuered Greece from Ptholomeus tyrannie, and vanquished him on the sea. He also subdued Athens, and all the countrey of Boeotia, with the citie of Thebes. He had warre at one time with Ptholomeus king of Aegypt, Lysimachus king of Asia, Seleuchus king of Syria, and Pyrrhus the king of Epyrus, and ofttentimes vanquished theyr armyes: But in conclusion, being vanquished by Seleuchus, hee was also by him committed to an honourable pryson, that is to saye, kept in a towne of Syria, called Cheronetus, where he had appointed vnto him fayre pasayres, pleasaunt Orchardes, and gardeynes, and the companye of such as he liked: where, with ydlenesse and excesse of voluptuous pleasure, he fell sicke, and dyed, of the age of. lxxij. yeares.

Demetrius Phalereus, A noble philosopher and oratour, disciple to Theophrastus, of whome Tullie sayth: he was a subtile disputer, but no vehement oratour, yet was he sweete and delectable. For his excellent vertues he gouerned the Athenens xenne yeares. And bycause he had greatlye enryched the citie of Athens in yearely reuenues, and adourned it with commodious buyldyng, the people in the honour of him did set vp 300. ano. 60. of his ymages, made in mettall. But afterward being absent, by the meanes of certaine enuious persons, the people condemned him to die, and also pulled downe his ymages, some they broke, some they solde, oncyse one was kept whole in the Capitell, whereof Demetrius hearing, sayde: yet haue they not plucked downe the vertue, for which they did set vp theyr ymages. This man caused Ptholomeus king of Aegypt, to make his great librarie, and to sende to the Jewes to haue their lawes and prophecyes translated into Greeke, who sent vnto him of euery tribe, twelue great learned men, who did accomplishe his desire and are called Septuaginta interpretes, although there were of them. lxxij. persons. He was afore the incarnation of Christ. 277. yeares.

Democedes, A notable physition, in the tyme of king Darius.

Demochares, An oratour of Athens, nephew to Demosthenes. He beeing sent to king Philip in ambassade, after he had declared his message, and the king had asked wherein they thought he might most pleasure the Athenens, sodainly sir sayth he, if it will please you to hang your selfe. Thus vncourteous answere when other were much grieued with it, the wyse Prince tooke in good part, and willed them to returne to the Athenens, and to aske of them, whether they thought more noble those that vsed so vncourteous and vnsemely language, or those, that patiently coulde heare it, and let the speakers returne without punishment.

Democides, A physition belonging to Polycrates, the tirranne of Samens. He wrote a booke of Physicke.

Democles, A notable flatterer, in the time of Dionysius the tyranne. This flatterer when he would oftentymes extoll beyonde measure the kinges felicitie, Dionise willing to giue him a tryall and proofe of it, caused him to be arrayed in princely robes, and so did set him at a table to be serued like a king. But tusk ouer his heade in the place where he should sitte, he caused a swoorde to be hanged by a small thaerde: which when Democles perceyued, hee coulde not for feare eyther taste of his pleasaunt meates, or take any comfort in his royall seruice. Whereby Dionysius did him to wit, that the lyfe of a tyrant in myddes of all princely pompe and royaltie, is continually in feare and daunger of death and extremitie.

Democoon, The bastarde sonne of Priamus.

Democrates, The name of a Carpenter, of a notable wyseller, and of a physition.

Democritus, An excellent philosopher, being a chylde, learned of the wise men of Chaldea astronomie and theyr diuinitie: afterwarde he went into Persia, to learne Geometry. After he returned to Athens, where he gaue his possessions & ryches innumerable vnto the weale publike, referring a litle a gardeyne, wherin he mought at more liberte searche out the secretes of nature. Hee wrote many wonderfull workes in naturall philosophie and physicke. When he behelde the citie of Athens, he continually laughed at their fonde diligence. Which spared no paines to get authoritie and ryches, that they were not sure to keepe: whiche laboured to get theye children children great possessions, who eyther dyed before theyr fathers, or else ouerliuing them, shortly spent away all that theye fathers left them. But the Athenens not perceyuing the cause of hys laughter, thinking him mad, caused Hippocrates the phisition to go vnto him. Who perceyuing the occasion of his laughter, sayd: Democritus is not madde, but the Athenens be madde, at whome he doth laugh. He was before the incarnation of Christ. 492. yeares.

Demodocus, The name of an Harper, of whome Homere maketh mention.

Demogorgus, An inchaunter, which was supposed to bee of such excellencie, that hee had authoritie ouer all spirites that made men afeard.

Demolchus, A poet of Syracuse.

Demonax, A philosopher in the tyme of Adrian the Emperour. he contrary to all other philosophers, eschewed tolitarnesse, and desired the company and friendship of men.

Demonica, A woman which for money betrayed Ephesus to Xenophus.

Demopolis, The sonne of Themistocles.

Demophon, or Demophoon, The sonne of Theseus and Phedra, king of Athens.

Demosthenes, The most excellent oratour of the Greekes, was first disciple of Plato, after he folowed Eubulides an oratour: and vsed such wonderfull diligence and labour, to attaine to the perfection of eloquence, that where he had an impediment in his pronunciation, hee by putting small stones in his mouth, and inforcyng to speake distinctably, at last attained to most perfite fourme of speaking. When king Philip besieged Athens, and sore distressed it, vpon certeine treatie offered them, hee required to haue deliuered vnto him tenne Oratours, of whome Demosthenes was one, and then would hee rayse his siege. Demosthenes hearing thys, and comming into the common counsayle, rehearsed this fable: On a time the wolues exhorted the sheepeheardes to be in league with them: wherevnto the sheepeheardes accorded: then the wolues required to haue deliuered vnto them their Mastyues, which were the cause of debate betweene them. The sheepeheards graunted therevnto, and deliuered vnto the wolues their dogges, the most vigilant keepers of their flockes. Afterwarde the wolues being without any feare, did not onely now and then eate a sheepe, to allay their hunger, but did also for theyr pleasure rent and teare other in pieces. In lyke wyse (sayde Demosthenes) king Philip, after hee hath taken from you your Oratours, which by theyr wyse aduertisementes haue hytherto preserued you from hys tyrannie, he will doe the semblable. Which the Athenens hearing, agreed to hys counsalye, and valiauntly defended the citie. Hee was afore the incarnation of Christ. 345. yeares.

Deo, The name of Ceres.

Derbices, People of Asia, about the sea called Mare Caspium, which haue this custome, that when their friends come to the age of. lxx. yeares, they slea them, and eate them, calling all theyr neighbours to the feast. Olde women they slay not, but doe onely strangle them, and afterward bury them. Semblably, if men die before the sayde age, they also doe burie them. They punishe euery offence, (be it neuer so little) with death.

Derce, A well, most colde in summer, betweene Bisbilis, and Sepobriga.

Dercetо, A Goddesse name of the Assyrians.

Dercyllus, One of the Capitaynes of Pyrrhus.

Derbæi, People of Greece in the borders of Thrace.

Deua, A ryuer in Scotland called Dee: and the towne called Dondee, is also Deua.

Deuana, Called also Diana castra, a towne in the nothy part of England called Dancaster.

Deucalion, The sonne of Prometheus, a man of great wisedome and vertue, who saued much of the people of Greece in the time of an vniuersall flowde, wherebye the moze part of Greece was drowned. The poets feigne that after the flood, he asked counsayle of the Goddesse Themis, howe mankynde myght bee reduced: and it was aunswered, if he and his wife Pyrrha, did cast the bones of their mother behynde them. Deucalion (beeyng very wittie) perceyued that the earth was mother of all things, and the stones the bones thereof. Therefore he threw stones behinde him, and they became men: and his wyfe dyd likewise, and they became women. But in deede he saued the people by bringing them to the hill called Parnasus. Her was before the comming of Christ. 1534. yeares.

Deuona, A towne in Almaine called Newemarke, betweene Nuremburg and Rentzburg.

Dexamene, A nymph of the sea.

Dexippus, A physition, the scholer of Hippocrates.

D I

Dia, An yle by Greece called Naxus.

Diagoras, A philosopher of Miletus, who had three sonnes notable in sundrie feates of actiuitie, all which in one day at the solemne games of Olympus with great glory wan their prizes. And when they imbraced their father there present, setting their Garlands on his head, and the people with ioyfull acclamations cast flowers on him, as the maner was, for exceeding ioy that he conceyued, euen in his sonnes armes he ended his lyfe. An other of the same name was a famous poet.

Diana, The daughter of Jupiter, which hearing the company of men, to the intent that she would not be moued with carnall lustes, did continually exercise her selfe in hunting wilde beastes, and for her chaste lyfe was honoured of the Paynims for a Goddesse: she is also taken for the moone.

Diaponi, Certaine dogges in Crete.

Dias, A physicyan of Ephesus, in the time of Philip king of Macedone.

Diaula, One of the foure notable pozches in Rome.

Dibutades, A potter of Corinthe, which taught first to make vessels of Chalke.

Dicæa, A citie in the gouffe called Thermaicus.

Dicæarchia, æ, fœm. gen. The citie called Puteoli.

Dichærarchus, chi. masc. gen. The name of a philosopher.

Dicæogenes, A certaine poet.

Dicæus, A mans name.

Dicte, es, An hyll in the yle of Candie, where Jupiter was nourished.

Dictynna, One of the names of Diana. Also a citie of Greece.

Dictynneus, An hyll wherein the temple of Diana was situate.

Dictys, One of the Centaures. Also an historiographer of Candie, which wrote the battayle of Troy.

Dictys, Jo also a fisher, which nourysshed Perseus.

Dido, or Elisa, Daughter of Belus, king of Tyre, shee was first maryed to Sichæus Hercules his vncle, whome, for couetousnesse of hys great rychesse, when hir brother Pygmalion had cruelly slayne, shee, with certaine that shee knewe to hate the conetous tyranne, fledde out of hir owne countrey into Affrike. where to buylde hir a castell, she bought as much lande as she coulde compasse with an Oxe hyde, as is before declared in Byrsa. Afterwarde when Iarbas king of Getulia, prefered hir mariage, and shee for tender loue of hir first husbande, refused to marry any other, she barbarous prince with force and warre would haue constrayned hir vnto it. But the noble gentlewoman, rather choosing valiauntlye to dye, than to appeare to forget the loue of hir first husbande, killed herselfe. Yet Virgill and other poets feigne that shee was enamoured on Aeneas, fleeing out of his countreyand by aduenture arriuing at hir city of Carthage, and afterwarde when shee perceyued that he would forsake hir and depart into Italy, that for sorrow therefor she killed herselfe. But by the credite of most certaine hystoyes, that is conuinced to be false. For Carthage began to bee buylded by Dido, 70. yeares after Rome, and Aeneas came into Italy before Rome was builded.

300. yeares and aboue, where his posteritie reigned in Alba.

Didymæ, arum, Iſlandes of Affrike, that bounded vpon Aegypt.

Didymaon, A famous maker of harneys.

Didyme, es, An Ile in the Sicilian Sea.

Didymeus, One of the names of Apollo.

Didymi, Certayne hilles in Arabia fœlix.

Didymus, a, um, Is in Latin Geminus, in Hebrue Thomas, in Engliſh, a twinne in birth, or double a man. It is alſo the name of diuers learned men, of which one being a Grammarian, wrote. 3500. bookes.

Dieſpiter, One of the names of Iupiter, quaſi dieipater.

Diouis, Iupiter.

Dindymene, and Dindyme, One of the names of Cybele, called the mother of the Gods.

Dindymus, The ridge of the hill of Ida in Phrigia.

Dinocrates, A philoſopher.

Diocles, A poet of Athens. Alſo a phiſition in the time of Darius Hiſtaſpis.

Diocleus, The ſonne of Ozſiliochus.

Diodorus, A philoſopher of Socrates ſect, and Diodozus Siculus a ſtorye wryter, and an other Diodozus a ſtoike philoſopher, of whome Cicero wryteth.

Diogenes, A famous philoſopher of their ſect, & for their vncurteous demeanour were called Cynike or doggiſh. He lined without any maner of prouiſion, from daye to day begging his meate and drinke. In the nightes he lay in the common porches and gallereyes of the citie, in the day time he vſed for his houſe a tunne, which he cõtinually ſate in. And when hee turned his tunne which waye hys pleaſure was, hee merily made his aduaunt, that his houſe wouldc turne with euery time. For in the winter he did ſet the mouth toward the ſouth, in the ſummer towarde the nozth, and which way ſoeuer the ſun did bende. Diogenes his tumbling palaice did turne it ſelfe. Great king Alexander on a time moued with the fame of this philoſopher, came to him as hee was ſitting in his tunne, and beyng in admiration of that contempt of the worlde, that in him appeared, like a noble Prince, bade him aſke at his hande what ſoeuer he wouldc deſyre. Syr quoth hee, then I praye you ſtande a ſyde, and take not from me, that you can not giue: meaning the warmenelle of the Sunne, towarde which at that time hee had tourned his Tunne. Alexander was not onelye nothynge dyſpleaſed with the vncurteous anſwere of thys currysh Philoſopher, but alſo ſayde openlye that if he were not Alexander, hee couldc fynde in hys heart to be Diogenes. He dyed beyng 90. yeares of age, and beyng at the poynt of death, willed his body to be left vnburyed: and when his frinds aſked him whyther he wouldc ſye about the grounde to be deuoured of byrdes and beaſts, no friendes fauth he, but laye you by me a little ſtaffe, that I may feare them awaye: thercin derybing theyr curioſitie, that ſeemed to be ſo carefull for burying the dead carkaſſe, as though there had bene great differenee, whether it were deuoured of beaſtes, or eaten and conſumed of wormes in the grounde.

Diogenianus, A gramarian of Heraclea.

Diognetus, A learned man, which wrate the expedition of Alexander.

Diomeda, The daughter of Phorbas.

Diomedea, An Ile, wherein Diomedes was buryed.

Diomedes, King of Aetolia, Tydeus his ſonne, who with the reſidue of the Grecians went to Troy, and there ſo manfullye behaued himſelfe, that next to Achilles and Aiax hee was counted the moſte valyaunt. For beſide that he ſlue in battayle ſundry famous kings, & fought hand to hand with Hector, and with Eneas, he wounded the God Mars, and the Goddes Venus, comming to reſcue hir ſonne, wherewyth ſhee taking great diſpleaſure, incenſed his wife Aegiala with ſo outragyous letcherie, that ſhe made hirſelfe common to all yong men that would offer hir diſhoneſtie. For ſhame wherof Diomedes after the warre ended would not returne home into his country, but ſayled into the part of Italy called Apulia, where one Daunus gaue him the one halfe of his kingdome. An other Diomedes was kyng of Thrace, which feeding his horſes with mens fleſhe, was afterwarde by Hercules caſt to them to be deuoured.

Dion Syracuſanus, A noble mans ſonne of Sicilie, called Hipparinus, brother to Ariſtomacha, wyfe to the elder Dionyſe. Wherefore hee was long tyme in fauour wyth hym, inſo much that Dionyſe commaunded hys officers, that they ſhoulde gyue to Dion all that he wouldc aſke. Reade this Dions lyfe and actes in Plutarke.

Dion Pruſieus, A Phyloſopher ſurnamed Chryſoſtomus, who vſed to go abzoade, beyng clade wyth a Lyons ſkinne. Traian the Emperour vſed him familiarlye, wyth whome he moſt commonlye aboade. He wzote in defence of Homere againſt Plato foure bookes, and other things beſides.

Dionæus, næa, næum, Pertcyning vnto Venus.

Dione, A Goddeſſe of the ſea, the mother of Venus.

Dionyſiópolis, A citie of Thrace.

Dionyſius, Reade in Bacchus. It is alſo the name of two kings of Sicilie, which for their cruelrie and auarice were called tyrannes: the firſt was ſonne of Hermocrates, a riche man of Sicilie, whome for hys valiauntneſſe in armes, the Sicilians ordayned to be their Capitaine againſt the Carthaginens, which inuaded them, and menaced to deſtroye theyr countrey, and take from them their libertie. But after the enimies were vanquiſhed, Dionyſe, which preſerued his countrey from bondage, of a benefactour became a cruell tyran. The other Dionyſe was ſonne vnto thys, like in conditions, but beter learned. He alſo made meanes to haue Plato come vnto him, & a good ſpace had him in much reuerence, and heard hys Leſſons in philoſophie. Fynaliye, ſuſpecting that he conſpired againſt him wyth Dion and other, whome he had expelled, vnneth at the deſire of Architas Prince of Tarentum, and other, he ſuffred him to returne to Athens. Of both theſe ye may read in Plutarke in the life of Dion, alſo in Iuſt. lib. 21 and many thinges notable in Eraſmi. Apoph.

Dionyſius Areopagita, A famous philoſopher of Athens, diſciple to ſaint Paule. He onely of all the Phyloſophers beleeued Paule preaching of Chriſt. And before whē he was in Aegypt, whither he went for learnings ſake, and there togither with Apollophanes his inſtructer, beyonde all compaſſe of reaſon, did ſee the Eclipſe, that was at the death of Chriſt: Eyther, ſayde he, the God of nature ſuffereth vyolence, or elſe the frame of thys worlde will be nowe diſſolued. He wzote to Timotheus Byſhop of Epheſus twelue bookes, De diuinis nominibus, of the heauenly Hierarchie, and many other wozkes, as Suidas witneſſeth.

Diophanes, A Rethoritian, the maiſter of Gracchus.

Diores, A mans name in Virgile.

Dioſcorides, called alſo Pedacius, and Phacas, a worſhipful knight of Aegypt: who ioyning learning with chyualry, being in the Romaines hoſte in diuers countreyes, in tymes vacant from battayle, made diligent ſearch for the ſygures and vertues of diuers herbes, and other things neceſſarie for medicine. and wzate moſt truely of them in Greeke, as Galene teſtifieth. He lyued vnder Cleopatra and Antonius.

Dioſcoron, An plande within the borders of Italy.

Dioſcippus, A notable wreſtlar. Alſo a ſouldiour of Alexander the great.

Dioſcurias, A citie of Colchis, in the which were ſometime people of thzee hundzed diuers nations.

Dioſpolis, A citie of Aegypt. There be foure other of the ſame name in Aegypt, but very ſmall Cities in compariſon of this.

Dipœnus, The brother of Scyllys, which two were the firſt inuenters of grauing in marble.

Dirce, A womans name, the wyfe of Lycus king of Thebans. Alſo an other of Babilon, which for ſpeakyng againſt againſt Pallas, was turned into a fiſhe.

Dirus, An highe hill of Mauretania, nowe called Atlas.

D O

Doclea, A citie of Liburnia.

Dodona, A citie in Greece, wherebp was a wode, in the which men thought that trees ſpake.

Dodone, The daughter of Iupiter and Europa.

Dodoneus, a, um, Of Dodona.

Dodonis, idis, One of Dodone.

Dodonides, Certayne Nymphes, the Nourſes of Liber pater.

Dolabella, A Romayne, Ciceroes ſonne in law.

Doliche, An plande called before Icaris.

Dolichiſte, An other plande.

Dolon, The proper name of a man of Troy, that was verie ſwift on fote.

Dolopeius, a, um, Of the people called Dolopes.

Dolopes, People of Theſſalie.

Domitianus, An Emperour of Rome, by nature brother vnto the gentle prince Titus, but in conditions and maners farre vnlike. When he was firſt admitted to the Empyre, he vſed much to be in a ſecret place alone, and there dyd nothyng but take flyes, and pryke them thzough with an needle. Wherefore, when it was demaunded of one Criſpus, why was with the Emperor, he prettily anſwered, not ſo much as a flye. As the beginning he ſeemed ſo much to abhorre murder, that hee myght ſcantly ſuffer an Oxe to be kylled for ſacrifice: but in the ende, following the ſteps of Nero, and Caligula, he became a moſt deteſtable and cruell tyranne, as well towarde all other, as towarde them that profeſſed the name of Chriſt.

Domitius, The name of diuers Romaynes.

Domnonij, People of the country in Englande, called Deuonſhyre.

Donatiſtæ, Heretikes that affirmed the congregation of Chriſtian people to be no where but wyth them, and that they onely perteyned to the Church. Wherefore thoſe that came from the catholike part to them, they dyd eftſones baptiſe. Alſo they affirmed, that in the church were no ill people, but onely good. The authour of this hereſie was Donatus, a Numidian, about the yeare of our Lozde. 353.

Donatus, i, maſ. gen. A Grammarian, maiſter to Saynt Hierom.

Donyſa, An yle in the ſea Aegeum.

Doria, and Dorica, Names of the countryes ioyning to Athens.

Doricus, a, um, Of Doria, or Dorica: as,

Dorica lingua, The language of the people called Dores, the firſt tongue of the Greekes.

Dorij, Dorienſes, or Dores, A people in Greece, ſo called of a people inhabiting by the mountayne Oeta, which wandering lyke to the Gothes, by force wanne certayne Countryes, and finally ſubdued the olde inhabitauntes.

Dorion, A towne of Achaia.

Doris, idis, The countrey by the hyll Oeta.

Doris, A nymph of the Sea, and is interpreted bytternelle.

Doriſcus, A place in Thrace, which contaynyth ſixſte 120000. men, by the which Xerxes numbzed hys great armie.

Dorius, A ryuer of Pozturgall.

Dorius, a, um, idem quod Doricus, a, um.

Dorpia, Were certaine dayes, which the Atheuens kept ſolemne, in open feaſting and banketting.

Dorticum, A citie in Myſia, by the ryuer Danubie.

Dorus, The ſonne of Neptune, which reigned in a part of Greece.

Dorycius, The Waſtarde ſonne of Priamus.

Dorylæum, or Dorylaum, A great citie of Phyrgia.

Dorylus, One of the Centaures.

D R

Dracus, A capitaine of Achaia, vanquiſhed by Lucius Mummius the Romaine.

Draco, onis, ma. ge. One that firſt gaue lawes to the Athemens, wherein hee appoynted death for euery ſmall faulte. Wherefore it was ſayde, hee wzate his lawes with the blood of men.

Dracongena, Of Poets was called the citie of Boeotia, becauſe it was builded by Cadmus, and the fiue men that ſprange of the Dragons teeth.

Drangiana, A prouince in Bria the more.

Drauſi, A people of Thrace, Which at the birth of children make great lamentation, & at the death make great ioy.

Drepanum, A citie in Italy, called nowe Trapani.

Drilon, A ryuer of Dalmatia, called commonly Drino.

Druides, dum, or Druidæ, arum, were ſometime in Fraunce called Gallia, one of the two eſtates, of like condition as the ſpirituaultie is nowe among vs. They had in great eſtimation wodes of great Okes, and in maruelous reuerence all thynges that grewe on Okes, ſpecialiye Miſſeldeen, affyrming that it was ſent from Heauen. Their ſacrifice was in thys fourme: Under an Oke, whereon grewe Miſſeldeen, they cauſed meate to be prepared and ſet, and two white Bulles to be brought forth, whoſe hornes were then firſt bounden, that is to ſay, were ſet firſt in the Plought or Wayne. Then the prieſt (being clad in white) clambe vp to the tree, and hauing a Bill of Golde in hys hande, did ſhredde or cut of the Miſſeldeen: then offered they the ſacrifice, prayeng, that the gyft that ſhoulde bee giuen, might bee to them that ſhoulde receyue it, proſperous and foztunate, ſuppoſing that the beaſt which was barren, if hee dranke of the Miſſeldeen, ſhoulde be fruitefull, and that it was a ſure remedie againſt all poyſon. It is ſuppoſed, that their ſuperſticyon came firſt out of this pls called Baptaine.

Druſomagus, A city of Rhetia, called commonly Rempten.

Druſus, The name of a Romayne, of right noble lynage and eloquence, but he was prowde and ambicious.

Dryas, The proper name of a man of Theſſaly, friende of Neſtor.

Dryades, were fayries of wodes.

Dryidæ, idem quod Druidæ.

Drylon, Lyke Drylon.

Drymodis, Afterward Pelaſgus, is nowe called Archaus.

Dryopes, People of Epirus.

D V

Dubis, A ryuer in Fraunce, called Le doux.

Ducona, The citie of Taoys in Fraunce.

Duellóna, æ, fœm. gen. In olde time called Bellona.

Duillius, A noble man of Rome that firſt in that citie tryumphed for a victorie gotten in a battayle on the ſea. When he was an olde man, in clyming wyth his enimie it was caſt in his teeth that hee had an yll ſauouryng breath. Wherewyth he beyng ſomewhat abaſhed, went home to his wyfe and chylde wyth hyr that he neuer tolde him of it, Syr layde ſhee, ſo wouldc I haue done, had I not thought that all mennes breathes had ſauoured in lyke maner. So farre were honeſt matrones in thoſe dayes from clypping, kiſſing, and wanton daliaunce with ſtraungers.

Dulichium, An Ile in the ſea Maliake, or (as ſome ſaye) Ionium.

Dulópolis, A citie of Aethiope, called by an other name, Acanthus.

Dunium, The towne of Dozchester.

Dunum, A countrey in Englande called Durham.

Duram, Some thinke to be the name of a ryuer nere vnto which the Egyptes made the tower Babell. Some will it to be a fielde, as in Daniel.

Durias, or Turia, The name of a ryuer nere to Valentia, called commonly Duero.

Durocotorum, The citie of Rheymes in Fraunce.

Dynamene, A certaine nymph.
Dyrrhachium, A citie in Sicelia, which was firſt called Epidamnus. It is nowe called Durazo.

E A

EAnus, the God of the yeare, whome the Phœnicians paynted, a ſerpent with his taple in his mouth.
Eantes, The name of a ſtoppe myxter, that was in thys age that Pigmalion reigned in the eaſt part.
Eaſo, The citie called laſt Serbaſtian, in Spayne.

E B

Ebionitæ, Heretykes, which demed Chriſt to be God, and affirmed, that all parties of the olde lawe, ought to be kept with the newe lawe. They receyued onely the goſpell of ſaint Mathew, and reiected the other, and alſo all the epiſtles of ſaint Paule. The authour of that ſecte was one Ebion, about the yeare of our Lorde. 88.
Eblana, A citie in Irelande, called Dublin, or Deuelin.
Eboracum, or Eburacum, ci, A Citie in Englande called yorke.
Eboſus, In the betweene Sardinia and Affrike, the earth whereof, will ſuffer no venemous thing to lyue: where is ſuch trade of Conies, that they deſtroy the Iles next adioyning.
Ebron, A mountaine in Paleſtina.
Ebrus, or Hebrus, A ryuer of Thrace, running from the mountaine Rhodope, in the grauell whereof are founde little rapes or perres of golde.
Ebudes, Iles in the ſea about Englande, I ſuppoſe nighe Wales and the weſt countrey, where the people lyue by white meate and fiſhe.
Ebuleus, The ſonne of Iupiter and Proſerpina.
Ebura, A citie of Portugall, nowe called Ebora.
Eburini, People of Lucania.
Eburones, People of the country called Liege or Luke, beyonde Brabant.
Eburonices, A people of Fraunce.
Eburum, A citie of Germany, called commonly Olmuntz.

E C

Ecameda, The daughter of the valiaunt Irſinous, which at the battaile of Troy was giuen to Hector.
Ecbatana, The chiefe citie of the realme of Medea. There is a citie in Syria of the ſame name, ſometime called Epiphania, and may be written Egbatana.
Echemon, Priamus ſonne, ſlaine by Diomedes.
Echeneus, A very courteous and gentle perſon, of the people called Phæaces.
Echinades, Beene plandes in a ryuer in Greece, called Achelous, which deuideth Aetolia, from Acarnania.
Echineis, An yle in the ſea Aegeum.
Echinon, A citie of Thrace.
Echioni, Thebanes ſo called of Echion, one of the fiue that holpe Cadmus to buylde Thebes.

E D

Edeſſa, A citie beyonde the ryuer of Euphrates.
Edom, Eſau was ſo called, and the countrey where he reigned.
Edomus, An hyll next vnto Pangeum, in the bozders of Theſſalie.
Edon, onis, maſ. gen. A mountaine of Thrace.
Edones, A people of Scythia.
Edoni, or Edonij, People of Thrace, or in the bozders of Macedonie, neere to Threce.
Edonides, were women, which being ſtirred with a diuine furour, did celebrate the myſteries of Bacchus.
Edonis, idis, A citie of Aeolis, and a countrey of Thrace.
Edonius, a, um, Of Edonis.
Edonus, idem quod Edon.
Edonus, a, um, Of Thrace.
Edri, In yle on the eaſt part of Irelande, which Plinie calleth Andros.

E G E L E M

Egeria, A nymph, the daughter of Oceanus and Tethys.
Eetion, Andromaches father, that reigned at Thebes in Cilicia.

E G

Egelaſte, A towne in the higher Spaine.
Egeria, In yoall, to whome women with childe did offer, ſuppoſing that thereby they ſhoulde trauaile eaſily.
Egeſinus, A philoſopher, the ſchoter of Euander.
Egeſta, A citie in Sicilie, which Eneas buylded. Alſo the daughter of Hippotes the Troyan, mother of Acheſtes.
Eioneus, One of the Princes of Greece, which came to Troy: an other of Thrace, which ayded the Troyanes.

E L

Elæa, A citie of Aſia, an other of Italy: the people where of be called Eleatæ, or Eliatæ. It is alſo a citie of Phrygia, an other of Bithynia.
Elamitæ, Be called the princes of the Perſians, of Elam the ſonne of Sem, as Joſephus ſayth.
Elebes, A citie in Fraunce, called commonly Schelestade.
Eldana, A citie in Spaine, called Duennes.
Elea, A citie in the countrey of Lucania.
Eleates, A man of that citie.
Electra, The daughter of Oceanus and Tethys. She had a daughter of the ſame name, on whome Iupiter begat Dardanus.
Electrion, The father of Amphytrio, and ſonne of Perſeus.
Electrides, Certaine yles in the ſea Adriaticum.
Electrius, a, um, Of Electra.
Elei, People in Greece, in the Countrey ſometime called Peloponneſus, nowe Morea.
Eleleus, One of the names of Bacchus.
Elephantina, A citie of Egypt.
Elephantis, An plande in the ryuer Nilus.
Eleus, untis, A citie of Thrace.
Eleus, One of the names of Bacchus.
Eleuſinius, a, um, Of the citie Eleuſis.
Mater Eleuſina, Ceres.
Eleuſina, ſacra, Ceremonies of Ceres the goddeſſe.
Eleuſis, A citie in Greece, not farre from Athens, where Eleuſius reigned.
Eleutherius, The name of a man. It ſignifieth, free, gentill.
Eleutheros, A ryuer by the towne of Orthoſia.
Elicius, a, um, That draweth or allureth out, the ſurname of Iupiter.
Elis, A citie of Peloponneſus: an other of Achaia.
Eliſa, One of the names of Dido.
Elops, One of the Centaures.
Elorus, A citie of Sicilie.
Elpenor, A companion of Ulliſſes, which with other, Circe turned into hogges.
Elpes, The wife of Boetius.
Eluſa, An yle againſt Cyppes.
Eluſis & Eluſin, A citie in the prouince of Attica, not farre from Athens.
Elymais, A countrey neere Perſia.
Eliſij campi, The ſame place that is called Elyſium.
Elyſium, A place of pleaſure, where poetes did ſuppoſe the ſoules of good men to dwell.
Elyſius, a, um, The Adiectiue.

E M

Emath, A citie that is nowe called Antiochе.
Emathia, A part of the realme of Macedonie.
Emathius, a, um, Of Amathia.
Emaus, A noble citie of Paleſtine, which is nowe called Nicopolis.
Emerita Auguſta, A citie of Portugall, called now Merida.
Emmanuel, An hebrue name, and is interpreted, God is with vs.
Emmaus, Luke Emaus.
Emodus, An hill, which about the bozders of Indie, is deuided uided into boughtes.

E M E N

Empedocles, A poet of Agrigentum, that wrote of natural philoſophie in verſes. He was of that minde and opynion, that no liuing thing ought to bee eaten: that all things had their beginning of amitie and diſcorde: that the ſoule was not in the heade or heart, but diſperſed throughout al the bloude: and that men were moſt ſenſible in thoſe partes, where the ſoule was moſt. The report is that, to the ende he might be counted by hys wodaine departure a God immortall, he ſtole priuily in the nyght from hys company, and caſt himſelfe into the burning mouth of the mountaine Aetna, but his yron pattenes or pantofles being caſt vp againe by vehemence of the flame, bewrayed which way he was become.
Empanda, A Goddeſſe that had tuition of thoſe thinges that are abroade.
Emporiæ, A citie of Spaine, called commonlye Caſtellon Dempurias.
Empuſa, A certayne ghoſt, which in variable formes appeared. Demoſthenes ſayth, that Aeſchines mother was called Empuſa.

E N

Encænia, Was among the Jewes, the feaſt of dedication of their temple.
Enceladus, A gigant, the ſonne of Terra, which was ſtryken with the lightning of Jupiter, and buryed vnder the hill Aetna.
Endymion, The name of a man, which found the courſe of the mone: wherefore the Poetes feigned that the mone loued him, and diſcended downe to kiſſe him while he ſlept.
Engaddi, A citie in Judea, from whence the precyous bealme commeth.
Emochi, or Hemochi, A fierce and wylde people of Sarmatia, neere to Pontus, which had their beginning of Rhecas, and Amphitratus, the Chariot men of Caſtor and Pollux.
Eniopeus, Heroes Chariot man, whome Diomedes ſlue.
Enipeus, A ryuer of Theſſaly, neere to the which the battayle was fought betweene Ceſar and Pompey.
Enna, A citie of Sicilie, ſcituate in an high place, and is counted to be the very middle of that countrey.
Enneacrunos, A fountaine in Athens, made by Piſiſtratus.
Ennius, An olde Latine Poet, borne at Tarentum, a city nowe in the Realme of Naples, as ſome ſuppoſe in a towne called Rudiæ in Italy, and was brought to the citie of Rome by Cato the Cenſour. For hys learning and moſt honeſt conditions, he was entirely beloued of Scipio Africain: wherefore he cauſed his Image to be ſet on his ſepulchre. He made manye bookes in ſundrie kinds of verſes, but the title that he liked was very auncient and homely, but they contained graue and ſubſtantiall ſentences of great wiſedome. He dyed at the age of lxx. yeares.
Enoſigeus, The ſurname of Neptunus.
Enoch, A mans name in holy Scripture.
Enoma, or Ennona, A citie of Dalmatia.
Enope, A citye neere to Pylos.
Enos, A great citie, nyghe to the Mountayne Lybanus, before Noes floude, wherein dwelled Gygants, which had dominion ouer all the worlde, from the ſunne goyng downe, to the ſunne ryſing. They truſted in the greatneſſe of their bodies, and ſtrength, inuented armour and weapons, oppreſſed all men, and giuyng themſelues to all bodily luſtes, found pauilions, inſtruments of muſike, and all wanton pleaſures. They did alſo eate men, procured deliuerance of children before the tyme, and prepared them vnto delicate meates. They companied carnallye wyth their owne mothers, ſiſters, daughters, men and beaſtes: and all myſchyefe they did committe, deſpyſers of GOD and all religyon.
Enyo, enyus, The name of Bellona.
Enyalius, The ſonne of Bellona.

E P A

Eon, onis, The tree whereof the ſhip Argo was made for Jaſon.
Eous, i, m.g. One of the hoyſes of the ſunne. It is vſed for the day ſtarre.

E P

Epagris, One of the yles called Cyclades.
Epaminondas, A Theban borne, ſonne of an honeſt gentleman called Polymnus, in ſundry qualities excellent, as well of the bodie as of the minde, in all kindes of muſicke perfitely inſtructed, & daunced exceadingly well. He wraſtled, & ranne no man better. In armes ſtrong, hardie and valyaunt. In martiall politie, equall to any then lyuing: wonderfull well learned in Philoſophie, eſpecially in that Pythagoras taught, the moſt difficile and pure doctrine, conteyning moſt ſecret and diuine myſteries, whereunto he added moſt noble vertues. For he was temperate, wiſe, of great grauitie, vſing time wiſely, of courage inuincible, ſo diligent in obſeruing truth, that hee wouldе at no tyme lye, neither in earneſt nor in game. Hee was contynent, mercifull, wonderfull pacyent, ſuffering wrongs both of the people, and of his frendes. He was ſecret and truſtie, ſo faithfull and louing to his friendes, that when any of them were taken in warres, or any of their daughters ready to be maryed, and they not able to ſet them forth, according to their degrees: he wouldе aſſemble the reſidue of his friendes, and exhort them to giue vnto him that lacked, according to their powers. Hee himſelfe would liberally giue to the quantity of his ſubſtaunce, which was but little, although he were in great authoritie (for he refuſed all rewardes ſauing thankes only) and when hee had made a good ſumme of that which was graunted, before hee receyued it, hee brought him that ſhould haue it, vnto the gyuers, that hee mought receyue it of them, and know how much he was bound vnto euery of them. He oftentimes refuſed great ſumes of money and ryche preſentes ſent to him by Princes, (although he were poore) ſaying: If the thing were honeſt which he was required to doe, he wouldе doe it becauſe it was good, without any rewarde. If it were yll, or not honeſt, all the gydes of the worlde ſhoulde not make him doe it: If it were profitable to his countrie, he was bounden and ready to doe it freely. If it were otherwiſe, all the ryches in the worlde mought not counterpeyſe the loue that hee bare to hys common weale. In eloquence no Thebane mought bee compared vnto him, and his ſentences were graue, and very compendious, whereby in counſailes he banquyſhed and put to rebuke great and famous orators. In battaile he ouercame the Athenens, and the Lacedemonians, and in one day had the victorie of all Greece. At the laſt in the battaile of Mantinea, betweene the Thebans, and the Lacedemonians, he was ſtriken & wounded to death wyth a long ſpeare, the heade remayning ſtill in his bodye: yet receyued hee lyfe, vntill it was tolde him that his hoſte had the victorie. Then ſayde he, I haue lyued long enough, for I die vnuanquiſhed. The yron being drawne out of his body, he died, before the incarnation of Chriſt. 371. yeare. This one thyng is well to be conſidered (as Plobius ſaith) the citie of Thebes, before Epaminondas was borne, and alſo after he was dead, was vnder the rule and ſubiection of other people. But during the time that he was a gouernour in the weale publike, the citie was head & gouernour of all Greece: whereby it maye bee well perceyued, that one ſuch noble man is more than a whole citie.
Epaphus, The ſonne of Iupiter and Io, or Iſis, that buylded Memphis in Aegypt.
Epeirus, A countrey, which hath on the north Macedonie: on the weſt and ſouth, the Adriatike and Ionike Sea: on the eaſt Achaia. In this reigned the famous Pyrrhus. It hath lying to it the yles Corſun Ithaca, and Zacynthus. &c. Thys Countrey is nowe vnder the Turke.

Epeus, The ſonne of Endymion, which made the horſe that was conueyghed into Troy.

Ephestiades, Certayne ples called of the latines Vulcaniæ, and Aeoliæ.

Ephesus, Ephesi, A noble auncient city in Asia the leſſe. It is interpreted by ſaint Hieromē, my will. There runneth by it a great ryuer called Cayſtros, out of which be deryued many other ryuers. In thys cite was the famous temple of Diana, numbred among the ſeauen wonders of the worlde, edified by all Asia, in an hundred and twentie yeares, and was ſet in a Fenne or Marſhe grounde, the foundation being firſt layde with coales, troaden or rammed harde, then fleeces of woll layde thereon: and all this was to ſaue it from earthquakes. The Temple was in length. 425. foote, in breadth. 220. In it were. 127. pillours, euery of them 60. foote high, made by kinges: the roofe was of Ceder trees, and the doores of Cypres. A lewde perſon, of purpoſe to get a renoume in hiſtoryes, (being couetous of glorie, and hauing none excellent qualitie to attayne thereunto) puttyng wilde fire into the roofe, did burne thys temple. His name was Herostratus (as Strabo wryteth) wherefore proceded a prouerbe.

Herostrati gloria, Applyed vnto them that ſeeke for a renoume or prayſe of a miſchieuous acte.

Ephiates, and Otus. Two ſonnes of Neptune, which as Poetes doe feigne, did growe euery moneth, nine cubits, and trulting to theyr length, intended to ouerthrowe heauen.

Ephorus, The name of a wryter of hyſtories, Scholar to Ariſtotle.

Ephyra, æ, or Ephire, es, A towne of Achaia, which now is called Corinthus. Alſo a Nymph, the daughter of Oceanus and Tethys.

Ephyreias, adis, A woman of Corynthe.

Ephyris, A citie of Laconia.

Epia, æ, A towne of Achaia, the people whereof were called Epij.

Epicharmus, The name of an excellent Phyloſopher of Syracuſe.

Epicterus, The name of a Stoike philoſopher.

Epicuréus, and Epicúrius, a, um, Pertayning to the Epicures.

Epicurus, The chiefe of that ſect, that of his name were called Epicurei. He eſtéemed the chiefe felicitie and ende of all perfáunceſſe to conſiſt in pleaſure, nor of the body as Ariſtippus did, but of the ſoule and minde. Lucrecius, affirmeth that as the ſunne in bryghtneſſe paſſeth all other ſtarres, ſo did Epicurus in worthyneſſe excel all other philoſophers. His life is reported to be of marueilous ſobrietie and continence: but that name of pleaſure, wherein he placed felicitie, cauſed all voluptuous and ſenſuall Phyloſophers, of hym to be called Epicureos.

Epidamnus, A towne in the ſouthweſt part of Gréece, on the ſea ſide, called afterwarde Dyrrachium.

Epidaurus, or Epidaurium, A citie in Gréece, in the countrey called Achaia, wherein was a famous temple dedicated vnto Aeſculapius, to the which a great multitude of ſicke people did reſorte, and ſome in their ſléepe had ſhewed vnto them that Medicine whereby they ſhoulde be cured of their ſickeneſſe.

Epigenes, A Phyloſopher of Byzance.

Epigoni, The ſurname of them that were the cauſers of the ſeconde warre of Thebes.

Epij, Certaine people called afterwarde Elidenſes.

Epimachus, A mans name.

Epimenides, A noble Phyloſopher in the yle of Creta: who beyng a yong man, and ſent by his father to ſeeke a ſhéepe, for wearineſſe and heate of the day, went into a denne or hollowe place in an hyll to reſt hym: where he ſlept continually. 47. yeares: and then beyng awaked, went forth to ſéeke his ſhéepe, and not fyndyng him, returned home. And finding an other man dwelling in the houſe, which was his fathers, and beholding euery thing altered, he went into the citie, where at the laſt he founde his yonger brother, being a man of great yeares, of whome he knew all that was happened, and after became a marueylous Phyloſopher, and wrate of the nature of things, and of the diuine generation, and had the gift of prophecie, as ſome ſuppoſe. He lyued (as Laertius wryteth) 179. yeares, after other mens ſayings. 194. yeares. And was before the incarnation of Chriſt. 147. yeares.

Epimetheus, The ſonne of Japetus, and brother of Prometheus.

Epiphanes, Notable or famous: It was the ſurname of Antiochus the moſt cruell tyranne.

Epiróta, æ, One of Epyre.

Epiróticus, a, um, Of the countrey called Epirus.

Epirus, A regyon in the ſouthweſt part of Gréece, lyke Epeirus.

Epiſtrophus, A king of Phocis.

Epopos, The name of a Mountaine.

Eporedia, A citie of the Salaſſiens.

E Q

Equeſtris, Newcaſtell in Fraunce.

Equitius, The proper name of a man, and ſurname of a familie in Rome.

E R

Erasinus, The name of a ryuer in Achaia.

Eraſiſtratus, A noble Phyſition of the houſe of Ariſtotle: who for healing king Antiochus, receyued of Ptolomeus his ſonne. 100. talentes, which doe amount of our money, to 14000. 375. li. He was before the incarnation of Chriſt. 243. yeares.

Erate, es, A nymph, the daughter of Oceanus and Tethys.

Erato, The name of one of the Muſes, which had preheminence ouer louers. It is ſometime taken for Calliope.

Eratoſthenes, The name of a philoſopher.

Ercinia, or Hercynia, A wonderfull great wode in Germany, lyke Hercinia.

Ercius, One of the names of Jupiter.

Erebeus, a, um, Of Erebus.

Erebus, bi, mas. gen. A part of hell, or one of the riuers of hell.

Erechtheus, A king of Athens.

Erembi, People in Arabia, which go naked.

Erichthon, One of Theſſaly, which for contemning Ceres, was made ſo hungrye, that he dyd eate the parts of his owne body.

Eretria, A famous citie of the yle Euboea.

Eretum, ti, A ſtreete in the Sabines towne.

Ereuthalion, A man of huge greatneſſe, which was ſlaine by Neſtor.

Ergáçylus, The proper name of a man.

Erganica, A towne of Spaine.

Erginus, A tyranne, whome Hercules ſubdued and ſlue. Alſo a ryuer of Thrace.

Eriboea, Juno the ſtepmother of Mercurie. Alſo a citie of Macedonie.

Ericates, A mans name.

Ericis portus, A towne of Lyguria, called alſo Delphini portus.

Erictho, A woman of Theſſaly.

Erichthonius, æ Erictheus, The firſt king of Athens, which inuented e Chariot.

Eridanus, ni, A ryuer in Italy, nowe called Padus, in Italian Po, nighe to the citie called Parauium, ſo named of Eridanus, called alſo Phaëton, which was drowned in the ſame.

Erigone, The daughter of Icarius, ſiſter of Penelope, which was turned by the goddes into the ſigne called Virgo.

Erimanthus, Lyke Erymanthus.

Erineon, A citie in Doris.

Erinnys, nyos, or nyis, ſæ. ge. The name of one of the furyes of hell.

Friphia,

Eriphia, æ, fem. gen. A certaine wreche.

Eriphyle, The wife of Amphiaraus, and ſiſter of Adraſtus, which betrayed hir huſbande for an ouche of golde, at the ſiege of Thebes.

Eriphyla, The name of an Ilande.

Erichthon, Lyke Erechthon.

Ero, A mayde of Seſtus, who ſéeyng Leander of Abydus hir louer drowned, in ſwimming ouer the ſea of Hellesponte to come to hir, caſt hir ſelfe downe from an highe tower into the ſame water, and ſo dyed the ſame death.

Eropia, One of the yles Cyclades, called alſo Aſis, and afterwarde Syphnus.

Eros, otis, A mans name.

Erychus, A mountaine in Sicilie, where was a temple of Venus, of the which ſhe was called Erycyna.

Erymantheus, and Erymanthius, a, um, Of Erymanthus.

Erimanthis, idos, Arcadie.

Erimanthus, vrſa, The daughter of Lycaon, which was turned into a Beare.

Erymanthus, A mountaine in Arcadie, where Hercules ouercame a Boare that deſtroyed the fieldes. There are alſo a wood and a ryuer of the ſame name.

Erythea, An yle in the ſea Gaditanum, where is ſuch temperatenеſſe of ayre, that men liue exceadingly long.

Erytheus, A king of Athens.

Erythra, A citie of Aſia.

Erythrea, One of the Sybilles. Alſo the countrey out of the which Hercules droue his heardе of beaſtes.

Erythræum mare, The red ſea, ſo called of the king Erythra, which in Engliſhe ſignifieth red. For in deede the water of that ſea is of the colour of water, as ouers great authours, and alſo experience doth affirme.

Erythrys, A ryuer, the water whereof maketh heare to growe.

Eryx, cis, The name of a mountaine in Sicilie, and of a citie thereon buylded, wherein was edified a temple to Venus, wherof Venus is called Erycina.

Eryx, was alſo the ſonnes of Butes and Venus: or after ſome, of Neptunus and Venus, which was ſlaine by Hercules, and gaue name to the aforeſayde hyll, in the which he was buryed.

E S

Eſaias, A Prophete of the tribe of Juda, in whome was ſuch abundaunce of the ſpirite of prophecie, that hee prophecied ſo much of Chriſt, that he ſeemed rather to be an Euangeliſt than a prophete. He was of ſuch holyneſſe, that (in the time of kyng Ezechias, when a cite was beſieged) by his prayer he obteyned of God, that water ſprang vp in little quantitie, ſo that the people did not periſhe for lacke of water. And when the enemyes had wonne the citie and beſieged Seloum, as often as the Jewes came for water, the water ranne out of the earth abundantly, and they toke water: but the ſtraungers when they came, could not finde it. Thys holy man, for his liberty of ſpeach, in rebuking the ſinne of the princes and the people, and prophecying of the vengeaunce of God vpon that country and people, was cut in two partes with a ſawe, and buryed vnder an Oke: but afterwarde he was tranſlated and layde by the ſepulchre of kinges. He was before the incarnation of Chriſt, 800. yeares.

Eſau, The ſonne of Iſaac, and brother of Jacob.

Eſis, A ryuer in Italy not farre from Rauenna.

Eſquiliæ, Lyke Exquiliæ.

Eſſedones, A people, which doe eate their friendes when they be deade, and drinke in the ſkulles of their heades.

Eſſeni, or Eſſei, People inhabiting in Judea towarde the weſt, which doe lyue wythout women, and contemne golde, ſiluer, and all other ryches. They liue by eatyng of Dates. There reſort continually vnto them, by the prouidence of God, men from diuers partes, ſo that their companie neuer fayleth. But none is receyued, vnleſſe the merite of his vertue and chaſtitie doe auaunce him.

E T

Etearchus, A king of Oaxus, a citie of Crete.

Eteocles, The elder ſonne of Oedipus, by his owne mother Jocaſta. Betweene whome and his brother Polinices thus agreement was made, that after the departure of their father, they ſhould reigne yerely by courſe. But Eteocles, after his yeare was enued, would not ſuffer his brother to ſucceade. Wherefore Polynices, beyng ayded of Tydeus, a king wiues father Adraſtus, made cruell warre vppon hys brother, in which they both meeting in the fielde, were eche of other ſlaine. Afterwarde, when both their bodyes were burned in the fire, the report goeth, that the flame parted it ſelfe, and went a ſunder, as a ſigne of ſuch deadly hatred betweene the two brothers, that as their mindes being diuide, ſo their bodyes being deade, could neuer agree. Of thys hatred ſuch ſtroppes remayned in the poſteritie, that the warre was afterwardes continued moſt deadly by the offspring of them, which at thys firſt warre were ſlaine. A notable example was this of ſuch miſchiefe, as commonly by diuine prouidence followeth them that are begotten in inceſt, againſt the courſe of nature.

Etéſiæ, árum, fœ. Winds which doe commonly blowe in ſommer, about the caniculer dayes.

Etéſius, a, um, Pertayning to thoſe winds.

Ethalia, An yle in the ſea called Mare Liguſticum, which is by Geane.

Ethálion, A mans name, which was turned into a Dolphin.

Ethcocles, Lyke Eteocles.

Ethruria, Lyke Hetruria.

Ethruſcus, Lyke Herruſcus.

E V

Euadne, The daughter of Thebe, and the wife of Capaneus: which loued hir huſband ſo feruently, that when ſhe heard that he was ſlaine at Thebes, thee fell neare deade in a ſowne, and after when his funerall was celebrated, ſhe leapt into the fire.

Euæmon, The father of Eurypylus, which came with the Grecians to Troy.

Euænetus, Lyke Euenetus.

Euan, The name of Bacchus.

Euander, or Euandrus, The proper name of Carmentis ſonne, who by his mothers counſayle flewe his father, and leauing his owne country Archadia, came into Italy, and entering into the mouth of Tyber, and expelling the inhabitaunts, reſted on the hill Palatine, where he began to buylde the towne, Palantcum.

Euandrus, a, um, Of Euander.

Euarchus, A ryuer of Scythian Europe.

Euboea, An yle in the Greake ſea, and the name of the citie ſituated in the ſame. It is nowe called Negro pont: in that is the citie Chalcis, where Ariſtotle died.

Euboeus, and Euboicus, a, um, Of Euboea.

Eubulus, The name of an hyſtorie wryter, and is interpreted prudent. Alſo a Citizen of Athens, who was contemne to Demoſthenes.

Eucarpia, a citie of Phrygia, where growe great plentie of very large grapes.

Euchion, The name of Bacchus.

Euclides, The name of a famous Geometrician, ſcholer to Socrates.

Eucrates, A wyly Mariners name.

Eudemon, The countrey of Arabia foelix.

Eudamidas, The ſonne of Archidamus, and brother of Agis.

Eudora, A nymph, Oceanus and Tethys daughter.

Eudorus, The ſonne of Mercurie and Polymela.

Eudoxus, The ſonne of Aeſchines, an excellent Geometrician, Aſtronomer, and Phyſition, ſcholler to Socrates and Plato.

Euemenius, A mans name. Who was very familiar with Philip, and his ſonne great Alexander.

Euenetus, or Euænetus, A captaine of the Lacedemonians, which which with Themiſtocles kept the paſſages of Theſſaly againſt Xerxes.

Euenus, A ryuer deſcending from Thæce, and deuiding Calydon. Alſo a philoſopher, which affirmed fire to be the beſt ſauſe for all meates.

Euergetes, The ſurname of one of the Ptolomeys.

Euganei, People ſometime of Venice.

Euganei montes, Mountaines in Italy by Padowe.

Euganeus, a, um, Of thoſe hilles.

Euhyas, ádis, ſg. A woman prieſt of Bacchus.

Euhyus, The name of Bacchus.

Euilla, or Heulach. A Countrey in the Orient, about the which the ryuer Phiſon, which we call Ganges, that commeth out of Paradiſe, doth runne.

Eumæus, The ſwineheard which conducted Vlyſſes to his houſe, when he returned to his countrey.

Eumelis, A notable Augurian or ſoothſayer.

Eumelus, The ſonne of Admetus, king of Theſſaly, gotten on Alceſte his wife. Alſo the name of a Trojan.

Eumenides, Furyes of hell.

Eumilus, A capitaine of the Grekes that went to the ſiege of Troy.

Eumolpidæ, Were certaine prieſtes or magiſtrates of Athens, ordayned in the honour of king Eumolpus.

Eumolpus, A man of Athens, whome Suidas wryteth to be the ſonne of Muſæus the Poet.

Eumónides, A manis name of Thebes.

Euneus, The ſonne of Jaſon by Hypſyphyle.

Eunica, A maydens name in Theocritus.

Eunómius, A great hereticke, of Arrius ſect, wherevnto he added of his owne malice, that the ſonne was in euery thing vnlike vnto the father, and that the holy ghoſt had no medling with the father nor the ſonne. Moreouer he affirmed, that all that kept the fayth that he taught, ſhoulde be ſaued, had they committed neuer ſo great a ſinne, and continued therein. He was about the yeare of our Lorde. 353.

Euonymos, One of the yles called Aeoliæ.

Eupalia, A towne in Locris, which ſome call Eupalion, and ſome Eupolion.

Euphorbus, A Trojan, the ſonne of Panthus, which wounded Patroclus, and was ſlaine by Achilles. Alſo a ſhepheardes name.

Euphorion, A poets name of Chalcedon, whome Gallus did tranſlate.

Euphratés, One of the ryuers that come out of Paradyſe, which paſſeth thzough the citie of Babylon. Alſo a philoſophers name.

Euphrósyne, The proper name of a woman. Alſo the name of one of the thzee Graces, called Charites.

Eupilis, A lake in Lumbardie.

Eupolis, An auncient poet, which in his comedies ſharply tayed the vices of the people.

Eupompus, A very cunning man in Arithmetike & Geometrie. Alſo a famous painter, which taught Pamphilus Apelles mayſter.

Euporus, Caius Graechus ſeruant, which at his bidding did ſlea him. and after killed himſelfe.

Euprosopon, A promontoxie in Phoenicia.

Euripides, A famous poet, that lyued in the tyme of Archelaus kyng of Macedonie, who had him in paſſing great eſtimation. He wzote. 75. comedyes, and was of ſo chaſte lyfe, and ſo much abhozzyng the companye of women, that he was of that occaſion ſurnamed Myſogynes, that is, enimie to womankind. He was by miſzotune ſlaine of Archelaus hys dogges: foz which thing the king was very ſozze, and commaunded his bones to be gathered togither, and honourablye to be interred in the citie Pella, repelling the Ambaſſadours of the Athenians, which (foz honours ſake) made great ſute to haue his bones tranſlated to hys natiue Citie of Athens.

Euripus, A part of the ſea, betweene Aulis, an Hauen of Boeotia, and the yle Eubœa, which ebbeth and floweth fourtytymes in a day, wyth ſo ſwift a ſtreame, that it rapeth wyth it ſhippes wyth full ſayle againſt the winde: and yet theze dayes euery Moneth ſtode ſtyll, and mooued not.

Euronotus, A northeaſt winde.

Europa, The thirde part of the woxlde, deuided from Aſia with the great ſeas Helleſpontus, Propontis, Boſphorus, Thracius, and Pontus Euxinus, and hath the vttermoſt boundes, in the noxtheaſt, the ryuer Tanais. And from Aſtike it is deuided by the middle ſea. It was alſo the name of a faire mayden, daughter of Agenoz king of Phœnicia, whome Jupiter (tranſformyng himſelfe into the foxme of a Bull,) did rauiſhe, as Poets wzite: which of ſome is interpzeted, that Jupiter carzyed hyz away by foxce in a ſhippe, in the decke oz maſte whereof was a Banner oz Streamer, wherein was painted a Bull.

Eurotas, A ryuer that runneth before the towne of Lacedemonia.

Eurus, The eaſt winde.

Euryale, The daughter of king Minos. There was an other of that name, the daughter of Prætus, king of Argues. In other was one of the Gozgons.

Euryalus, The name of one of the princes of Peloponneſus. Virgil feigneth a Trojan to be ſo called.

Eurybates, A man of Ithaca, Agamemnons ſeruant.

Eurybatus, The name of dyuers men: one was a famous robber and theefe, of whome commeth this woxde Eurybatizare, to ſteale away priuilye from them that haue him in keeping.

Eurybia, A nymphe.

Eurybiades, One of Xerxes Capitaines.

Eurycles, A ſoothſayer oz diuinour.

Euryclea, A mayden, the daughter of Piſenoxis.

Eurycrátides, One of the Lacedemonians.

Eurycyon, A certaine goldeſmythes name.

Eurydamas, A Trojan, an interpzeter of dzeames.

Eurydame, was the wyfe of Leurythides king of Spartanes.

Eurydémus, The father of Pedzites.

Eurydice, The wife of Orpheus.

Eurydomene, A nymph of the ſea.

Eurylochus, The king of Phlegya, which deſtroyed Thebes before Cadmus buylded it.

Eurymachus, One of Penelopes wooers.

Eurymedon, The ſonne of Faunus. Alſo a riuer of Pamphylia.

Eurymides, A ſoothſayer among the Cyclops, which tolde to Polyphemus all that to him happened afterwardes by Vlyſſes.

Eurynome, The wyfe of Ozchamus, and alſo the daughter of Apollo.

Eurynomus, A deuill, who (as the auncient Grekes ſuppoſed) did eate and conſume the fleſhe of deade men, leauing the bones bare: whome they painted in a terzyble figure, hauing long teeth oz tuſkes, ſitting in the ſkinne of a Vulture, of colour betweene blacke and blewe.

Euryon, The daughter of Tympnas king of Macedonie.

Eurypylus, One of the ſonnes of Hercules, that reigned in the yle of Cous, an other the ſonne of Euæmon, which both were at the ſiege of Troy.

Euryſtheus, A king of Greece, enimie to Hercules, which commaunded him to doe many of his enterpzyſes.

Eurythus, A king of Oechalia, which denyed to giue his daughter to Hercules.

Eurytion, One of the Argonautes: an other was the ſonne of Lycaon.

Euſtachius, A martyz, famous in the time of Traiane the Emperour, & one of his court. As he was paſſing the time in hunting and chaſing of an Haxte, he ſawe betweene the heartes hoznes, the ſigne of the Croſſe, and heazde the voyce of the beaſt crying vnto him, Cur me perſequeris, which thing he comming home declared to his wife and children, and turned them to the fayth of Chziſt. Both he and his wife Theophila were burned in a braſen Bull, in the reigne of Adziane the Emperour.

Euſtachius.

Euſtathius, A learned man, which wrote a Chzonicle from the tyme of Eneas, to Anaſtaſius the Emperour. An other was a learned biſhop of Antioche, which wzote againſt Arius. An other of the ſame name wzote commentaryes on Homere and Dionyſius.

Euſtephus, A philoſopher of Pyrhodilia.

Euſtratius, A philoſopher, which wzote Commentaryes vpon Ariſtotles Ethikes.

Euterpe, One of the Muſes, and is interpzeted iocund oz pleaſant.

Euthydemus, A philoſopher of Maſſilia, A Collonius mayſter.

Euthimus, A famous capitaine, oz mighzie champion.

Eutices, oz Eutiches, An hereticke, an abbot of a Monaſterie in Conſtantinople, about the yeare of our Lozde. 450. He affirmed that Chziſt had but one onely nature, that is to ſay, diuine, oz of God like as he was one perſon. This hereſie was condemned in the counſaile of Epheſus, and Eutices ſent into exile.

Eutichydes, A famous pinage maker.

Eutrápelus, A mans name, and is interpzeted gentle and pleaſant.

Eutropius, A mans name, who perſwaded Ceſar to make a lawe, wherby he himſelfe periſhed.

Eccleſi. hiſtor. There was an other Eutropius Saint Auguſtines ſcholer.

Eutyches, Looke Eutices.

Euxinus pontus, A part of the ſea, which deuideth Europa from Aſia.

E X

Exampeus, A fountaine in Scithia.

Excétra, æ, ſg. A ſzpent, of whome the head being cut of, thzee came vp foz it. It was alſo called Hydra.

Exceſtides, One of whome foz his immoderate going on pilgzymage, grewe a prouerbe.

Exquiliæ quilarum, A mountaine in Rome, where watche was kept.

Exquilius, oz Equilius mons, idem.

Exquilius, oz Exquilinus, a, um, Of the hyll Exquiliæ.

E Z

Ezechiel, (A prophete of the countrey Sarra in Syzia, of the lyne of byſhoppes) had marꝛeylous reuelations and viſions, and by him God ſhewed many great myzacles. Foz in the time of a great ſcarſitie, he by prayer obteyned of God abundance of fiſhe, wherby the people were ſufficiently refreſhed. Alſo when the people were oppreſſed, he ſtode and made them crumpes ſo abaſhed with miracles and wonderfull ſigztes, that they ceaſſed of their enterpzyſe. Being in the countrey of Chaldee, he tolde the people of many thinges done in the temple of Jeruſalem. He brought the people out of Chaldee to Jeruſalem, to the repzoch of the Infidelles. He bezying in Babylon, iudged the tzybe of Dan and Gad, foz that they had wickedly done againſt the Lozde, in perſecuting them, which beleeued in the law. And he ſhewed vnto them a terrible token: Foz Doders deuoured their children, and all their cattell. In the laſt, he was ſlaine at Babilon by the Duke of the people, becauſe he reproued him of Idolotrie. He was buryed in the ſelde Maur, in the Monument of Sem and Aryhazad, progenitours of Abraham. He propheſied of the returne of the children of Iſraell, and alſo of the commyng of Chziſt. He lined before the incarnation of Chziſt. 617. yeares.

F A

FAbaris, A ryuer in Italy, running by the Sabines.

Fabianus, The proper name of a man.

Fabius, The ſurname of a noble houſe of the Romaynes, which hed firſt that name of ſowing oz ſetting of beanes, as Cicero, of the graine called Cicer, Piſo, of peaſon, Porcius, of ſwyne. Of this name were diuers valiant capytaines, and wiſe counſaylours: of whome, one was called Fabius Maximus, who in his youth exerciſed both eloquence and ꝓwoeſſe: and thereby he after became, as well in armes as in counſayle, a capitaine moſt excellent: and ſubduing many countreyes to the Romaynes, he triumphed fiue tymes. Beyng made Dictatour againſt Anniball, he ſo tempered prudence wyth manhode oz ꝓwoeſſe, that by detraxing of battayle, and trayning Annibal from place to place, and at ſundzye aduantages ſkirmyſhing wyth hym, he wynned hys puyſſaunce, and preſerued the publyke weale of hys countrey, where Minutius (enuying him) in fighting with Anniball, was vanquiſhed, and had beene ſlayne wyth all his armie had not Fabius come to his ſuccour and reſcous, who deliuered his aduerſarye and all hys trayne, and cauſed Anniball to retyre: who ſayde then to his hoſt: Did not I tell you before that this clowde woulde at the laſt bzing vs a ſtozme? calling Fabius a clowde, bycauſe of hys houering on the hylles. This man was before the incarnation of Chziſt. 200. yeares and ſomewhat more.

Fabius Quintilianus, Reade after in Quintilianus.

Frabraterra, A towne of Campaine.

Fabritianus, A mans name.

Fabritius, A noble Romayne, who being wonderful pore, refuſed a great ſumme of money ſent to hym by king Pyzrhus, touching him with his handes all his members, and ſaying vnto the kinges meſſengers: As long as he moughte rule all that, which he touched, he could lacke nothing. This man was a paterne and example of noble powerne, in them that in Rome were of greateſt authoritie and eſtimation. He had but one diſhe and a ſalticſter of ſiluer, that to the honour of the goddes, he vſed in ſacrifice, and yet the diſhe had a ſute made of hoznes: his daughters foz pouerte of their father, had their dowzie of the common treaſure: and ſo went they to marzage, bearing with them the honour of their pzyuate family, but the rycheſſe of the common weale.

Fabulinus, Was ſuppoſed of the papynns to be a god, which had the rule ouer children when they beganne to ſpeake.

Fagueal, A chappell in Rome, wherein was a beeche tree conſecrated to Jupiter.

Falacrium, A promontoxy of Sicilie, called nowe Mgiazo.

Falernus, A countrey in campaine, nowe in the Realme of Naples, wherein grewe the beſt wines of Italy, called Falernum Montiſfalcon.

Falifci, An auncient people of Hetruria, which when they were once beſieged of Camillus the Romayne, a ſchoolemayſter that had the inſtruction of the noble mens chyldzen, vnder pzetence of walking, went out of the citie, and by litle and litle trayned the yong gentlemen into the Romayne campe, and there pzeſted them to the Capitaine Camillus, thinking thereby to haue gotten both great thanke, and a large reward: But the noble Camillus, deteſting the mans falſehode and vntruth towarde the nobilitie of hys Countrey, cauſed hym to be ſtripped naked, and with zoddes to be beaten home into the citie by his owne ſcholers, that he ſhoulde haue betrayed and deliuered as captiues. wyth which example of iuſtice and honour, he eaſilye wzought that which with foxce of armes he coulde not bring to paſſe. Foz the Faliſcians moued wyth the admyzation of that noble act, foz thwyth did yelde themſelues, and became ſubiect to the Romaynes.

Fanenſes, and Faneſtres, People of a towne called Fana, in a countrey of Italy called Marca Anchonitana, in latine Picenum.

Faneſij, People in the Noxth part of the woxlde, whoſe eares be ſo great, that wyth them they couer all theyr bodyes.

Fanestris, A towne not farre from the ryuer Metaneus.

Fannius, The name of dyuers oxatours and noble men of Rome.

Fanum fortunæ, A citte of Italy.

Farfarus, oz farfar, A ryuer of Syzia.

Faſcelis, A name of Diane.

Fatua

Fauarica, called also Bona dea, The name of the earth, so called, bycause children when they be borne, doe not vtter any voyce, before they haue touched the earth.

Fauentum, & citie in Italy, called commonly Faenza. In other of Spayne.

Fauentinus, A man of Fauentia.

Fauinum, A certaine people.

Fauj, People which succede of Hercules.

Faulcæ, Certaine seliers in the court of the Capitoll at Rome, where were wont to be layde the banners of the Romaynes, which were borne in warres. Also therin was layde the treasure and money, which the priestes of the Temples in the Capitoll did employe about thinges necessary to their superstition and ceremonyes.

Fauna, idem quod Fatua.

Fauni, were named of the Poetes, rusticall Goddes, and monstruous beastes like vnto men.

Faunus, An auncient kyng of the olde Latines, sonne of Picus. He was also called Fatuelus, and was father of Latinus, which reigned in Latium, whose wyfe was called Fatua, or Fauna.

Fauorinus, A notable philosopher, in the tyme of Adriane the Emperour, who did hate him extremely. Wherefore he was wont to say of himselfe, there were in him three great wonders: One, that he being a frenchman borne, spake the Greeke tongue well: the seconde, that being an Eunuke or Gelding, he was suspected of aduoutry: and thirdly, that he did liue, being the Emperours extreme enimie.

Faustulus, A shepeheard, which was the fosterfather of Romulus, and Remus.

Faustus, The sonne of Sylla.

Februus, A name of Pluto called God of hell.

Felsina, æ, A citie in Italy, nowe called Bononia.

Felrum, A towne in Italy in the countrey called Marchia Tarusina.

Fenestella, læ, masc.gen. The proper name of a stoyre wryter, which flourished in the dayes of Tiberius Cæsar: But Eusebius affirmeth that he dyed in the time of Augustus.

Feralia, orum, neu.gen.plu. A day dedicate to the infernall gods, to pacifie them towarde the soules departed. They were also sacrifices made for soules.

Ferentinum, A citie which (after Plinie) standeth in the first region of Italy.

Ferentum, A citie in Apulia.

Feretrius, The name of Iupiter, giuen by Romulus for carying of spoyles. For when he had ouercome his enimies the Ceninenses, he toke theyr spoyles, and in a solemne pageant caryed them vp to the Capitoll, where he dedicated them to Iupiter Feretrius, and afterward buylded a temple in the same place.

Feretrus, A mountaine, of the which the house of Pheretre was named.

Feronia, The goddesse of woods. It was also the goddesse of seruauntes, in whose temple (the heade beyng shauen) they were wont to receyue a capped cappe, in token that they were infranchised. It is also a Citie vnder the hill Sozacte.

Ferraria, Ferrer, a citie in Italy. Also a promontoyre in Spaine.

Fescenninum, A towne of Campaine, where verses sung at marryages were first inuented.

Festus, A mans name, familiar with Domitian.

Fesulæ, arum, f.g.plu. An olde citie in Tuscane, not farre from Florence.

Fidena, æ, or Fidenæ, arum, A towne of the Sabines in Italy.

Fidenates, People of that towne.

Fidiculanus, A noble senatour of Rome.

Fidius deus, A God among the Romaines, sonne of Iupiter.

Filistim, A countrey that is nowe called Ascalon.

Fimbria, The name of a Romaine, which was very prowd and seditious.

Firmum castellum, A citie of Italy.

Fiscellus, li, A little hill in Italy, not farre from Tyber.

Flaminia, A countrey in Italy, called also Aemilia, and commonly Romandiola: in which are the cities of Bononia, Fauentia, Imola, Rauenna, and Ariminum.

Flaminia via, The high way from the citie of Rome vnto the citie of Ariminum.

Flaminius, The name of dyuers Romaines, of which one beyng Consull, was ouerthrowne by Annibal at Trasimenus.

Flandria, A country called Flaunders.

Flauinium, A place in Italy.

Flauius, uij, The name of a familie in Rome, of the which were Vespasianus, Titus, and Domitian.

Fleuo, vel Fleuus, One of the mouthes of the ryuer Rhine. Also a towne by the same ryuer.

Flori, A notable harlotte, which with the abuse of hyr bodie, hauing gotten exceeding great ryches, at hir death left the people of Rome hyr heyre, and appointed a great summe of money to lye in a stocke, wyth the vsury whereof yearely to hir remembraunce should be kept certayne playes called Floralia. Thys bycause in processe of tyme it seemed to the Senate a foule matter, they cloked it with this deuise, feigning that Flora was a Goddesse that had the tuition of flowers, and that she with such games must be worshipped, for the better encrease of flowers, fruites and hearbes. These playes were set forth with all tokens of dishonestie both in wordes and gestures by common harlots goyng in the streete, in such sort as they might worthily seeme to bee kept in remembraunce of hir that they had theyr first beginning of.

Florentia, A citie in Italy called Florence, sometime called Fluentia.

Florianus, An Emperour of Rome.

Florius, A ryuer in Spaine.

Fluentia, The auncient name of the citie called Florence in Italy.

Fluonia, The name of Juno.

Fobij, idem quod Fabij, verbum obsoletum.

Focunates, People of the Alpes.

Fons solis, A fountaine in Cyzenaica, which in the daye tyme is colde, and in the night hote.

Fonteia, A Virgine Vestall, sister of Ponteius, the Romaine.

Forcus, The proper name of a man.

Fori, orum, m.g.plur. Stages or Galleryes, from whence the noble men of Rome beheld the playes called Circenses.

Foriculus, A God among the Romaynes.

Formiæ, A towne in Campaine, now called Nola.

Formio, A ryuer of Istria, called commonly Celano.

Fornices, Arches in Rome, made in the memorie of anye noble victorie or triumph.

Fortunatæ insulæ, The foztunate Iles, which were in the great Occean sea and of Plinie are named to be sixe, of Solinus three, of Ptolomie two, which he calleth also the Iles of the Gods, for the holesomnesse of the ayre, and windes blowing there: also the plentie of good fruites and fertilitie of the grounde. It is thought of some men to be those Iles which are now called Canaria, distant from Spaine, toward the west. 1200. miles, after the account of Petrus Martir. Of these Iles are founden to be seuen in number. First, about the yeare of our Lorde. 1405. a French man called Betanhor, at the comaundement of Catherine, then Queene of Castell, found two of them, and called the one Launcelot, and the other Forte ventum. Some after one Fernandus Peraria and his wife founde other two, and called the one Ferream, and the other Gomeram. After that the great Canaria was found by Petrus de vera, and Machaei de Moxica. Last of all, by commaundement of Fernando, and Elizabeth late King and Quene of Spayne, Teneriphe, and Palma, were found by Alphonsus, Lugo. So that nowe all the seuen Iles, be vnder the dominion of the king of Spayne. Notwithstanding some suppose, that there be not the Iles which were called Fortunatæ, but rather those more south, called nowe of the Portugalles, Insulæ capitis viridis.

Fortule, a citie of Italy.

Forum Liuij, A citie of Italy called Forli.

Forum Cornelij, A towne in Italy called Imola.

Forum Iulij, A regyon or countrey of Italy, which was sometime called Lapidea, nowe it is called Frioll.

Forum Claudij, Tarentasia in Italy.

Fossæ Marianæ, A citie in the prouince of Narbon.

Fossæ Papyrianæ, A citie in Italy called Fosso nouum.

Fossum Semproni, A towne in Italy called Fossenbozne. Also Fauentia.

Francones, People of Germanie.

Fratres Aruales, Reade before in Aruales.

Fregellæ, A little towne in Italy, sometime a noble citie.

Frentani, People of Italy.

Fretum Herculeum. A narrow sea betweene Spaine and the countrey of Mores, called the straytes of Marrocke.

Frisij, People of Hollande, whereof the countrey is called Friselande.

Fronto, A learned man, instructour of M. Antonius.

Frusino, A citie of Campaine.

Frusinum, A citie of Campaine called Frusinona.

Frutinal, A temple of Venus.

Fucinus, A lake in Italy.

Fugalia, orum, n. g. plu. A feast among the Romaines, in remembraunce of dryuing out of the kinges, and expelling of Tarquinius, solemnised in the Wenerie of Feburarie.

Fulco, A Duke of Angewe, the fifth king of Hierusalem.

Fulginates, A people of Italy.

Fulginates, People of Illyria.

Fuluiaster, He that imitateth the maners of Fuluius.

Fuluius, The name of a Romaine.

Furiæ, Goddesses of furie, and the daughters of Nox, and Acheron. There were of them three: Alecto, Tisiphone, and Megera. Poetes feigned that these furies dwelled in hell: but the meaning of olde writers was, that they were nothing but the wyzingings, tozments, and gnawings of yll consciences that vexed naughtie men.

Furialis, le, Of, or pertaining to the furies.

Furnianus, a, um, Of Furnius.

Furnius, One that inuented certaine vessels, which were therefore called Furniana vasa.

Fusidius, The name of an orator.

GAba, A towne in Galile.

Gabaa, A citie of Syria.

Gabales, A people of Aquitaine in Fraunce.

Gabalum, A towne in Fraunce nighe to Narbone, where very good cheese was made.

Gabalus, The name of Heliogabalus, before he was Emperour.

Gabaon, A citie in the holy lande, nighe to Rama, where Salomon doing sacrifice, spake with God.

Gabaonitæ, Men of that Citie.

Gabba, A citie in Syria.

Gabij, orum, A Citie in Italy, which the Romaines destroyed.

Gabinensis, & Gabinus, a, um, Of the people called Gabij.

Gabinius, A Romaine Imbassadour, which restored Ptolome to his kingdome.

Gabriel, The name of an Aungell: It signifieth the puissaunce or might of God.

Gaddir, A citie of Spayne.

Gades, dium, fœ.gen. plu. Two Iles in the further part of Spaine beyonde Granate, which in worthinesse of men, before tyme haue excelled. For at one tyme there were in Rome. 500. men of this countrey citizens of the order and state of gentlemen. In the lesse of those two Flandres, it is reported that Grasse is so battle, as the milke of the Beastes doth cast no whey, nor can haue any cheese made of it, vnlesse it be mixed with much water. It is written moreouer, that vnlesse the beastes there feeding be often let blonde, they will within. xxx. dayes be stykied, and dye with fatte. Which fertilitie maye seeme to gyue occasion of the fable of Geryons beastes that Hercules droue awaye.

Gaderes, A citie of Syria, not farre from Ascalon.

Gadira, A place neere to the vttermost bounds of Spayne: to which when Hercules came, and could passe no further, he set vp there his pillours.

Gaditanus, a, um, Of, or belonging to the Iles Gades.

Gaditanum fretum, The entre out of the Occean sea, into the sea called Mediterraneum, hauing Spaine on the northside, and the Mores on the south.

Geon, or Githon, A great ryuer, which runneth through Aethiope and Aegipt, and is nowe called Nylus.

Gagates, or Gages, A ryuer in Lycia where the stone Geate was first founde.

Galanthis, The handmayde of Alcmena, by whose craft she brought forth Hercules, when she was let by Juno and Lucina: in despite whereof, she was turned into a Weesill, called in Greeke Gale.

Galata, An Ile not farre from Melita.

Galatæ, or Gallogreci, People of Galacia.

Galateæ, A nymph or mayden of the sea, and was daughter of Nereus and Doris.

Galatia, or Gallogræcia, A countrey in the lesse Asia, toyning to Bithynia and Lycia.

Galba, A Romayne, which in his time was verye eloquent.

Galenus, The sonne of Nicon, a famous Geometrician. In physicke he was so excellent, as he may iustly seeme to be raysed by diuine prouidence, at that time to make perfite that noble arte, and to confounde the manyfolde sectes and errours, with which as then it was defaced. Vntill he was, xv. yeares of age, he was brought vppe by his father in Grammer, Logike, and Arithmetike. Afterwarde he gaue himselfe to more graue studyes of philosophie, and therein marueylously profyted. So sone as he was. xvij. yeares olde, his father was by a dreame admonished to set his sonne to the study of physicke: in which arte within fewe yeares he so notably pzeuayled, that he not onelye passed all his equalles in learning, but with the admiration of all men, his masters also that taught him. When that in Greece none coulde bee founde at whose hande he might further learne, he trauepled ouer many countreyes to learne and vnderstande the nature of simples, and other matter perteining to the science that he professed. After his sundrie traueples, by that he was. xxvij. yeares of age, beyng well furnished with many profitable simples, hee returned to his countrey Pergamus, alwaye endeuouring to make other partakers of those thinges, that by his great labours he himselfe had learned. By occasion of a sedition raysed in his countrey, after fewe yeares hee went to Rome, where, by his great learning and marueylous cures that he wrought, he procured fauour and loue of good men, spite and enuie of the malycious, but the admiration of all that knewe hym, both good and euill. Vntill he was xxvij. yeares olde, he was of body much in daunger to sickenesse. But the residue of his life, by good order and diet, he continued in most perfite health, vnlesse it were sometime the grudging of a Feuer for a dayes space. In witte and reasoning he was sharpe, earnest, and subtile. In maners so courteous, milde, milde,and gentle,that he neuer corrected his seruaunts, otherwise than with modest chastising in wordes. Towarde his patientes comfortable, pleasaunt, and pitifull. Wt such constaunce and graunte,that he with the hope and moderation of mynde,did alwaye sustayne aduersitie and reproffe,rite, honour and reproch, loue and displeasure. So little he esteemed vaine glorye, that he would not haue set his owne name to the most famous workes that he wrote of all partes of physicke. In teaching his arte and science,beside his notable eloquence and learning, he died so excellent order and methode, that his workes are wondrously esteemed of all that knowe what learning meaneth. So much her tendred hys owne natiue countrey, that he chose rather in hys latter tyme to lyue there in meane estate, than with the Emperours at Rome in great estimation and dignitye. In fine he died, being of age. 70. yeares, or as some wryte. 140. and flourished especially in the time of Marcus Antonius, Commodus, and Pertinax the Emperours,about the yeare of our Lorde.160.

Galcius, A ryuer of Calaber, by the citie Tarentum.

Galilæa, A countrey which marcheth on Syria, Arabia, and Egypt.

Gallecia, A region in Spaine.

Gallia, A noble region,set betweene Spayne and Germany, and on the east, bordereth on the mountaynes Alpes. That which toyneth to Germany, was called Belgica, and was conteyned betweene the ryuers Scalde, and Sequana, or Seyne. That part, which marcheth to the mountaynes, was called Celtica, or Lugdunensis, and was conteyned betweene the Ryuers Seyne and Garunna,or Geronne. That which bordereth on Spaine, called Aquitania, was bounded wyth the mountaynes Pyrenæi. Cæsar bounded the part called Celtica, with the ryuers Rhene, and Geronde: and Aquitania, with the hilles Pyrenæi, and the ryuer of Gerondе. Agrippa describeth Gallia betweene the ryuer Rhene, the mountaines Pyrenæi, the Ocean sea, and the mountaynes Gebenna,and Iura.Moreouer,that which is now called Lumbardie, was called Gallia Cisalpina.

Gallicânus, a, um,Gallicus, a, um, and Gallus, a, um. Of Fraunce.

Gallogræcia, A countrey in Asia, called also Galatia, the people thereof be called Gallogræci.

Gallonius, A sumptuous and a voluptuous person, of whome Cicero maketh mencion.

Gallus, li. m.g. A French man. A priest of Cybele. Also a ryuer in Phrygia,the water whereof if it be dronke vnmoderately, maketh one madde.

Gallus, a, um, Of Fraunce.

Gamale, A towne in Judæa.

Gamphasantes, A wylde people of Aethiope, which can handle no maner of weapon.

Gandari, People in the east part of Asia, by the Ryuer Indus.

Gangabæ, Slaues and Porters that cary burdens among the Persians.

Gangaridæ, People betweene Assyria and India,not farre from the ryuer Ganges.

Ganges, A great ryuer that deuideth India,called in holy Scripture Phison, one of the foure ryuers which come out of Paradice. Iosephus, doth interprete it Inundation. The breadth thereof (as Solinus writeth) is in the narowest place viij. myles, in the brodest. xx. myles. Arrianus wryteth, that where it is narowest, it is in breadth. 100. furlongs, which is. viij. myles. In many places it spreadeth so wyde, that where the grounde is most playne, nor any highe place appeareth, no man may descerne any thing on the other side. In the shalowest place it is. 100. foote deepe. There runneth into it. xbij. great ryuers, euery of them able to beare a shippe. In this ryuer of Ganges is an Ile, and therein a great citie, called Palybotra, the country is named Phrasia, the king whereof, as Plinie writeth. lib.6.cap. 19. hath alwayes in wages. 600000. fotemenne. 30000.horsemen, and 9000. Elephantes.

Gangéticus, a, um, Of that ryuer.

Gangética tellus, India.

Ganyctor, A mans name.

Ganymédes, A Troyane childe, which was feigned to be rauished of Jupiter, and made his butler.

Garamantes, People of Affrike, in the middle of Libye, which are blacke Moores.

Garamanticus, a, um, Of the people Garamantes.

Garamantes, A certaine king, whose daughter Garamantis, Jupiter rauished, and on hir begot Hiarbas.

Garganus, An hyll in Apulia, called nowe Mons sancti Angeli.

Gárgarus, ri, m.g. and Gargara, orum, neu.gen. The top of the mountayne Ida. Also a lake of Phrygia, out of the which issueth the ryuers Scamander and Simois.

Gargittius, The dogge, which kept the oxen of Geryon, whome Hercules slue when he stole them.

Garumna, æ, f. g. A ryuer in Fraunce called Geronde.

Gaurus, An hyll in Campania.

Gaza, æ, fœm.gen. A citie in Palestine.

G E

Gebbanitæ, A people dwelling in Arabia deserta, by the redde sea.

Gebenna, A citie in Sauoy, called also Geneua,where among the women specially, reigneth a disease called Bronchocæle, which is a boining or swelling vnder their chinnes. Also Solinus nameth the part of Alpes, toyning to Sauoy, Gebenna.

Gebuseus, The sonne of Canaan, of whom the olde inhabitaunts of Hierusalem were called Gebusei.

Gedanum, A towne of Germany in the mouth of the riuer Visula, called nowe Dantz.

Gedeon, The name of a Iudge in Israell.

Gedrosia, A countrey in Asia.

Gehenna, A name in the Scripture giuen to hell, vppon this occasion. At the rote of the mountayne Moza by Hierusalem, is a valley and small plaine fielde, fertile and pleasaunt, and in it a groue dedicated to the deuill Bahal. In this groue or wode, the people of Israell fallen to Idolatrie, became so foolish, that they burned theyr children, or dedicated and consecrated them to the deuill. The place it selfe was called Gehennon, that is, the valley of Hennon, and for the wickednesse therein vsed, God threatned that he would fyll the place with dead mens carkaisses, so that it shoulde no more be called Topher and Baal, but Polyandrium. Wherefore the euerlasting punishmentes appointed for euill men, are noted by the name of that place.

Gela, A citie in Sicilie.

Gellius, A learned man, whose workes remayne at this day.

Gello, A maydens name.

Geloi, or Gelones, A people nowe called Tartarians.

Gelon, One that attempted to poyson king Pyrrhus.

Gelos, A port or hauen of Caria.

Gemellipera, The name of Latona.

Geminus, The name of a man, which in Hebrue and englishe is Thomas.

Gemini, A signe in the firmament, of Castor and Pollux.

Gemoniæ scalæ, A place from whence the bodyes of persons condemned were throwne downe at Rome.

Genetum, ti, A promontory, wherin is a temple dedicated vnto Iupiter.

Geneua, Looke Gebenna.

Genezareth, A great mere or ponde in the lande of promission, called also Mare Tyberiadis.

Gens Aelia, A kinred compase of many families.

Gentius, idis, A king of Illyria,called now Sclauony,which was the first finder of the hearbe called Gentian.

Genua, A great citie called Geane.

Georgi, People of Asia, hauing that name of tylling the earth.

Geræa, A citie of Portugall, called Caceres.

Gergonia, A towne in Guyen, standing on an high hill.

Germania, A countrey called of some Duchelande, of some Almayne.

Almayne. It is described by Ptolome the xj. chapter, to be bounded on the west, with the ryuer of Rhene: on the North, with the sea Germanicus oceanus: the fourth-west part, with the riuer Donowe: the East side is bounded with the bending of Donowe, vnto the hylles of Sarmatia. The name of Germanie extendeth nowe further, for therein are contayned many great countreies and cities, which sometime were part of Gallia Belgica, that is to saye, from the ryuer of Rhene westwarde, vnto our sea Mare Britannicum.

Germâni, People of Germany, or Germaines.

Germánicus, ci, m. gene. A noble man of Rome, father to Caligula the Emperour.

Germánicus, a, um, Of Germany.

Gerra, æ, fœ. gene. The name of three cities: One in Syria, another nere to Thrachonitis, the thirde in Arabia fœlix.

Gerrus, A ryuer in Scythia.

Gerunda, A citie in Spayne called Girona.

Gerúsa, A citie of Sarmatia, called now saint Georges.

Gerúsia, æ, fœm.gen. A place where the counsell was assembled at Lacedemonia, like as the Senate house was at Rome.

Geryon, or Geryones, A king of Spayne, whome Hercules did slea, and toke from hym certayne bulles & kyne of notable greatnesse.

Gesodumum, A citie of Norrice,called Baltzbourg.

Gesforiacum, As some suppose, was the towne, which is now named Calais: Lapland sayth Bologne.

Gessus, A ryuer of Ionio.

Getæ, People which some suppose to be those, which are in Norwaye and Gothia. Some saye that they be more in the Northeast in Scythia pertayning to Europa: some thynke that it is the people of the countreys Valachia and Transyluania.

Getúli, A people of Affrike.

Getúlus, a, um, and Getúlicus,a, um, Of the people Getúli.

G I

Giarus, A little yle in the sea Ionium, whervnto men condemned were exiled.

Giganteus, a, um, Of, or belonging to Gigantes.

Gigantomachia, A battayle which Gigantes prepared against the Goddes, as Poets feigned.

Gigas, antis, masculin. gener. A gyaunt, a man or woman farre exceeding the common stature of men,of whome as well holye Scripture, as other credible writers doe make mention. Plutarchus wryteth, that Sertorius, a Romayne captayne, being in Mauritania, brake downe the sepulchre of Antheus,and therin was found the body of a man, of such monstruous greatnesse, that the same capitayne moued with a reuerent feare,caused the monument to be reedified. Plinie writeth, that in Creta, an hyll fell downe,and there was founde the bodie of a man, in length xlvj. cubites,which was supposed of some to be the bodie of Orion, of some the bodie of Etion. Sabellicus affirmeth,it was reported to him of a credible person, that in the south part of Candie,was founde vnder a great tree, the heade of a man as great as a wine vessell called Dolium. Howe great that vessell is at Venice, where Sabellicus wrate, I can not tell: with vs it is taken to be the greatest vessell, which was sometime a tunne. But he sayth, one of the teeth of that heade remayneth at Venice, of wonderfull greatnesse, by the which they that see it may make some gesse to the greatnesse of the head. Solinus remembreth,that in the warres,which the Romaynes had in Candie, in a great rage of water, the grounde being broken by, there was founde the bodye of a man, in length. xxvij. cubites: which Flaccus & Metellus (then capitaynes of the Romaynes hoste) beholding, wondered, which they before would not beleue, when they onely heard it reported. And here in Englande at a monastery of regular chanons, called Twy Church, two myles from the citie of Sarisburie, were seene the bones of a dead man, founde deepe in the grounde where they digged stone, which being ioyned together, was in length. xiij. foote and x. ynches. Whereof one of the teeth was in quantitie of a great walnut.

Gilo, A citie, the people whereof be called Gilonites.

Gillus, A certayne man of Tarentum.

Gion, A great riuer in Aegypt, otherwise called Nilus.

G L

Glaſialis Polus, The northerne pole in the firmament.

Glandomyrum, A citie in Spayne, called nowe Mondaucdo.

Glaucus, The sonne of Hippolochus, which came to Troy to ayde king Priamus. He was so foolish, that he made chaunge with Diomedes, and for his brasen harneyse, gaue to him his harneyse of golde: whereof ryseth this prouerbe, Glauci & Diomedis permutatio: whereby we note passing great odds in exchaunge. It is also the name of a fisher, who taking fishe and casting them downe on the banke, perceyued that some as they had tasted of a certayne hearbe that there dyd growe, they leapt from him agayne into the sea: whereat he greatly marueyling, tasted himselfe of the sayde hearbe, and forthwith leapt also into the sea, where, as Poetes feigne, he became one of the sea gods.

Gleſſaria, An yle in the North sea called Mare Germanicum.

Glycerium, rij, f, g. A womans name in Terence.

Glycon, A mans name in Horace. Also the phisition of Panfa the Romayne, which was suspected to haue poysoned his maister.

G N

Gneus, The name of certayne noble Romaynes.

Gnidius, a, um, Of the citie Gnidus.

Gnidus, A citie of Lycia.

Gnosis, gnosidos, A woman of the citie Gnosos.

Gnosius, Gnosius, & Gnosiacus, a, um, Of the citie Gnosos.

Gnosos, A citie in Candie.

Gnostici, Detestable heretiques, who on good Frydaye, about the sunne sette, assembled men and young women togither, not sparing daughters nor sisters. After nyne monethes passed, they met agayne in the same place,and then they plucked the children newly borne from theyr mothers, & cutting them in peeces, and receyuing theyr bloud in pots and cuppes, they burned the bodye into ashes, which they did mixe with the bloud, and preserued it to put into their meates and drinkes. They also affirmed, that neyther the lawe of nature, nor lawes made by men,were good, and that the vertues were nothing.

G O

Gobeum, A towne in Fraunce, called Lesour.

Gobrias, A noble Persian in the time of Darius.

Golias, A puissaunt king of the Philistians, whome David, being yet a childe, slewe, when the Iewes were afrayde to fight with him man for man. His stature was (as the Byble rehearseth) vj.cubites, and a spanne, which was x. foote, lacking three ynches, accompting it with the foote of men liuing at that tyme, which doubtedly were more than they be nowe. His Habergeon weyghed fiue thousande speles, which is 2000. and 500. ounces. And the ysen of his speare, weyghed 600. speles, which is 300. ounces: whereby his greatnesse and strength may be conceaued, to exceede any man liuing in this time.

Gomorrha, & Gomorrhum, A citie in Judæa, which was consumed for horrible sinne agaynst nature.

Gonnus, A citie in the vpper part of Thessaly.

Gordianus, The name of three Emperours, the father, the sonne, and the Nephewe.

Gordium, The principall citie of Phrygia.

Gordius, A poore husbandman of Phrygia, (hauing but two yoke of Oxen) in the tyme of a sedition in the countrey. Was by answere made of an Oracle, chosen king there. When he came with his wayne, where the counsayle was kept,and being made king, and causing the kdition to ceasse: he made his yokes to be hanged vp in the temple of Iupiter, the cordes thereof being made in such knottes, that it semed vnpossible to be vndone.

Gorgias, A famous Rhetorician in the tyme of Socrates, who inuented the craft to dispute and aunswere sodainly to euerye question or matter that was proposed in a contynuall oration: And by teaching Rhetorike, became so riche, that he was the first that dyd set an ymage of golde in the temple of Appollo at Delphos. He being of age 108. yeares, surmounted almost all men of his time in bodily strength, perfectnesse of senses, quicknesse of wit, and stedinesse of memorie.

Gorgones, Monstruous women, which were vanquished by Perseus.

Gorgóneus, a, um, Pertaynyng to Gorgones.

Gorgónius, The name of a nasty fellow in Horace.

Gorgophorus, a, um, That beareth the Gorgons: the surname of Pallas, bycause she had the heade of Medusa painted in her shielde.

Gorgythion, A Troyane sonne of Priamus and Castiánira.

Gortyna, or Gortys, A citie of Candie.

Gortynius, a, um, Of that citie.

Gothia, or Gothia, A ple by Denmarke called Gutland, not farre from Norwey.

Gothi, and Gothi, People, of whome the first came out of Gutlande, vnto whome resorted a great multitude of other people, as well out of the countreys nowe called Prussia, Liuonia, Russia, and Tartaria, as diuers other partes, called sometyme Scythia: and making sundry kinges, did depopulate and bring in subiection the more part of Europa, and finally destroyed Rome, and inhabited the part of Italy now called Lumbardie: & likewyse inuaded the reames of Castile and Arragon.

Gracchanus, a, um, Of Gracchus.

Gracchúris, A citie of Italy.

Gracchus Sempronius, The father of Caius & Tiberius, who being sent as Proconsull into Spaine, subdued the Celtiberians, and to the remembrance of his noble acte, repayred agayne their towne Iliercis, and called it of hys name Gracchuris. His wife was the noble woman Cornelia, for hir chastitie, learning, and sober womanheade famous through all the World. On whom he begat Tiberius and Caius, yong gentlemen of excellent witte, and passing eloquence, but in their tyme so much geuen to maintayne the Commons of Rome agaynst the Nobile, that to the great vnquietnesse of all the Empyre, they published the seditious lawes of distributing of landes from the nobles, portionmeale among the commoners: whereby they rayled the Nobilitie agaynst them, and wrought in the ende theyr owne confusion. For Tiberius was first slayne in a commotion within the citie, by the noble man Publius Nasica, and hys brother Caius two yeares after him, by the commaundement of the Consell Opimius. These two gentle men, were brought vp and instructed in learning and eloquence by theyr owne mother Cornelia, and therein became so excellent, that in that age was none lyke to them.

Graduícola, One that weyleyerly Wars.

Gradíuus, One of the names of Mars.

Græcánicus, a, um, Come out of Greece.

Grecia, æ, feem.gen. (The fourthayne of prowesse and doctrine, and nourse of eloquence) a great and famous countrey, contayning these noble regions, Epirus, Acarnania, Aetolia, Phocis, Locris, Achaia, Messenia, Laconia, Argos, Megaris Attica, Boeotia, Doris, Phthiotia, Thessalia, Magnesia, Macedonia, and Thracia: All the which of late yeares were vnder the yoke of Chyistes religion, and now also, to the great discomfort of all perfit Christen men, are vnder the most cruell subiection and seruitude of the great tyranne the Turke, and become barbarous, liuing in the beastly superstition of the false prophete Mahomet.

Græciensis, ciense, Of Greece, or comming out of Greece.

Græculus, a, um, A diminutiue of Græcus.

Græcus, ci, m.g. A man borne in Greece.

Græcus, a, um, Of Greece.

Graiúgena, æ, com. gen. A Greke.

Granata, A realme and citie in Spaine, lyeing to the sea called Mare Mediterraneum, which was vnder the subiection of the Moores eyght hundred yeares. At the last, by the great wisedome, politie, and prowesse of Ferdinando, and Elizabeth, of famous memorie, late kyng Maryne of Spaine, was ceriously reduced vnto Christ and stendome, and the Moores expelled.

Granicus, ci, mas.gen. A ryuer of Bithynia, at the which great Alexander ouerthrew and put to flyght the power of Darius.

Gratiæ, The Graces: lyke Charites.

Gratidia, The name of a woman of Naples in Horace, whome he calleth Canidia.

Graunonarium, A citie in Almayne, called Bandbergh.

Grauiscæ, A castell of the Tuscanes.

Gronij, People of Spayne.

Gryllus, li, m. g. Xenophons sonne.

Gryneus, a, um, Of Grynia.

Grynia, A towne of Aeolia, in the bozdery of Ionia.

Gyarus, i, or Gyra, æ. Lyke Giarus.

Gyas, The name of a Troyane.

Gygeus, A lake of Lydia.

Gygemorus, A litle hill not farre from Thessaly.

Gyges, The sonne of Dascylus, one of the seruauntes of Candaules, king of Lydia (as Herodotus writeth) or his companion (as Trogus rehearseth) was also king of Lydia, by this meanes: Candaules had a wyfe, whom for the inordinate loue he bare to hir, he supposed to be the fayrest woman liuing. On a tyme he praysed his wyues beautie vnto Gyges, adding thereto, that he might the better beleeue him, he would cause him to see hir naked. But Gyges refused, dissuading as much as he coulde Candaules from that folly, with ryght wyse exhortations. But Candaules obstinately persisting in his foolish fantasie, bad Gyges in a secrete place, where he beheld his wyfe naked, going to bed. And as Gyges departed, the Ladie beheilde him. And finally the matter disclosed vnto hir by hir husbande, she intended to be reuenged. For in that countrey it was an inuiolable reproche to a man or woman, to be seene naked. Wherefore calling vnto hir such of hyr seruauntes, as she specially trusted, she sent for Gyges: who beyng come, she proposed vnto him this election, either he himselfe to be slayne, or else to promise to slea Candaules, and take hir to his wyfe, and the realme with hir: which he abhorring, and a good whyle resisting with sundrye persuasions, at the last he chose, rather than to die himselfe, to slea Candaules, as he did lying in his bedde, by the meanes of the Quene. Whome he take to his wife, and was king of Lydia. Plato libro. 2. de iusto, telleth that Gyges had a ring, of such vertue, that when the broder parte thereof was tourned to the palme of hys hande, he was seene of no man, but he might see all thinges: and when he tourned the ring on the contrarye part, he was himselfe seene openly: by meanes wherof he slue Candaules, and committed aduultery with hys wife. There was also an other Gyges, a great graunt, and brother of Briareus.

Gymnosophistæ, Philosophers of Indie, which went alwayes naked.

Gyndes, A great ryuer of Assyria, which Cyrus caused be deuided into xlvi. channelles or streames.

Gytheum, A towne which Hercules and Appollo buylded togither, and the inhabitaunts of the same towne be called Gytheates.

HAbessus, A citie of Lycia.

Habraham, A noble Patriarke, and is interpreted father of many nations.

Hadramitani, People of Sicilie.

Hadria, æ, feem.gen. A citie of Italy on the sea side, by the which the sea betweene Italy and Slauonie, was named Mare Hadriaticum.

Hadria, æ, mas.gen. A bosome or goulfe of the sea, or the sea it selfe, called Hadriaticum.

Hadriónopolis, A citie of Thrace.

Hadriánus, A noble Emperour, in all sciences excellently learned. Hee was after Chystes incarnation, 109. yeares, and reigned xxi. yeares.

Hæbudes, Tre. b. yles beyond Scotland two daies sayling.

Hædui, People of Fraunce, which be nowe called Burgonions, and Burgonoiles.

Hædi, Certaine starres.

Hæmodes, An hill of Lycia.

Hæmon, A Thebane, which loued Antigone.

Hæmonia, The countrey called Thessaly.

Hæmus, Lyke Aemus.

Halalcómene, or Halalcomenæ, A towne of Boeotia.

Halcyon græce, and (as Varro saith) Halcedo. Latinè, The daughter of Neptunus, and wife of Ceyx, whome hee beholding to be drowned, for sorrow drowned hir selfe. Wherefore the Poets write, that they were both transformed into birdes, and called Halcyones.

Halcyóneus, a, um, Of Halcyon.

Halesína, A citie of Sicilie.

Halesína regio, A countrey wherein is a well, the water whereof being alwayes quiet and plaine, if one standing by it doe play on a thaulme, or other lyke Pype, the water in the well will rise as it daunced, insomuch, that at the last it will mount and runne ouer the brim of the well: and the pype ceassing, the water will sodainly fall and become quiet.

Halesus, A ryuer and hill not farre from Aetna.

Halia, A nymph of the sea.

Haliacmon, A riuer of Macedonie.

Halicarnassus, A citie of Caria, whiche was sometyme chiefe of all the countrey.

Halizones, People of Paphlagonie, so called bicause they are enuironed about with the sea.

Haloneſos, An yle in the sea Aegeum, neere to Thrace.

Halycarnasus, Lyke Halicarnassus.

Halys, A great ryuer of Paphlagonia.

Hamadriades, Nymphes or fayries of the woodes.

Hamaxa, æ, sf. g. A planet called the seuen starres.

Hamaxampeus, Part of the ryuer Hypanis.

Hamaxobii, or Hamaxobitæ, A people of Sarmatia, so called for that they dyd carres in the stede of houses.

Hamilcar, Lyke Amilcar.

Hammon, mónis, m.g. Iupiter in the Aegyptian tongue.

Hanapis, A ryuer of Scythia.

Hannibal, The sonne of Hamilcar, the most noble and valiaunt capitaine of the Carthaginenses, who making warre with the Romaines. xvi. yeares, contended with them in prowesse and pollicie, winning from them their dominions in Spaine and Italy. Finally, being vanquished by Scipio, he fledde to Antiochus king of Asia, afterwarde to Prusias king of Bythinia, of whome vnder the colour of amitie, he was betrayed, and should haue beene deliuered to Flaminius, that tyme Ambassadour to Prusias: but Hanniball perceiuing it, chosing rather to die, than to come into the handes of the Romaines, toke poyson, which he kept for that purpose, saying, let vs deliuer the Romaines from the care and feare which they haue of vs, with a fewe more wordes of indignation and so dyed, before he might be deliuered. Some write this name without H.

Hanno, A noble man of Carthage, which perswaded them to make peace with the Romaines, but he coulde not be heard.

Harma, A billage in Boeotia vnfrequented: the worde signifieth a Cart or Chariote. Loke the pronerbe, Vbi per Harma fulgurauit.

Harmodius, & Aristogiton, Two noble citizens of Athens.

Harmodotus, The name of a poet.

Harmonides, A Troian Carpenter, which made the shippe that brought Paris into Greece.

Harmosini, Certaine magistrates in Sparta which chastised the frowardnesse of women towarde their husbandes.

Harpagium, The towne, where (as the grekes feigne) Ganymedes was taken away.

Harpalice, A womans name, the daughter of Harpalus king of Thrace, and Queene of Amazones.

Harpalus, A traytour, which forsoke Alexander, and fled to Athens.

Harpasa, A towne of Asia.

Harpocrates, The God of silence.

Harpyiæ, Monstruous bydes, hauing maydens vysages, and talons of a marueylous capacitie. Wherefore men that be rauenous and great gatherers of goodes, be named sometime Harpyie.

Hasdrubal, A noble captayne of Carthage.

Heautontimorúmenos, The name of one of the comedies of Terence, which is as much to say, as tormenting himselfe.

Hebe, hebes, The daughter of Juno, who was butlar to Iupiter before the rauishing of Ganymedes, and she was called of the paynims the goddesse of youth. Of hir beginning poetes deuised this fable. Apollo on a tyme bade his stepmother Juno to a banquet, where among other meates she was serued with wylde lettuce: of which after she had eaten very greadily, (where before she was euer barraine) sodainly she became fertile, and brought forth to hir husbande a daughter called Hebe, whom Iupiter for hir excellent fauour and beautie, made his cuppe bearer. But on a time when he was at a feast in Aethiope, and Hebe bringing his cup in a slipperie place chaunced to fall, and disclosed further of hir neather partes, then comitesse woulde haue to be shewen. Iupiter, to the great displeasure of his wife Juno, remoued hir from that office, and appointed Ganymedes, to serue him at his cuppe.

Hebrei, Jewes which came of Abrahám.

Hebráicus, a, um, In Hebraitan, or of Hebrue.

Hebron, A billage by Hierusalem.

Hebrus, A riuer in Thrace, into the which Orpheus head was cast: It is nowe called Maiza.

Hecale, The name of a very poore woman.

Hecameda, The daughter of Arsinous, which was giuen to Nestor by the Grekes.

Hecate, A name of Diana, Juno, or Proserpina. It is also the name of the daughter of Perses, a woman of notable cruelnesse, which poysoned hir owne father. Another Hecate, was daughter to Perseus and Asteria.

Hecatompylos, The chiefe citie of Parthia, which had an hundred gates.

Hector, King Priamus his sonne by Hecuba, the most valiaunt of all the Troianes, and the terrour of the Grecians besieging his countrey. For so long as he liued, Troy coulde neuer be taken. In the ende he was slaine by Achilles, and by a chariote drawne on the grounde about the walles of the citie in the sight of his miserable father and mother. After, his body through the great wrath and displeasure of Achylles, for the death of his deare friende Patroclus, was left vnburied. xi. dayes: at the length it was graunted to his father to be buried, but so that he payed a great summe of money for the same.

Hecuba, The wyfe of Priamus king of Troy, daughter of Cysseus, king of Thracia, a woman of noble courage, and most vnhappie fortune. For hauing all hir sonnes and husbande slaine, hir fayre daughter Polyxena killed vpon the graue of Achylles, hir other daughter Cassandra taken prisoner, beholding the noble citie of Troy burned, hir selfe in captiuitie, hir youngest sonne Polydorus killed: shee finally waxed madde, and dio bite and strike all men that she mette. Wherefore she was called dogge, and at the last was hir selfe killed with stones by the Grekes.

Hecubę ſepulchrum, A promontorie of Thrace.
Hecyra, The name of a comedie in Terence.
Hedui, People in Fraunce, now called Burgonions, lyke Hędui.
Hegeſias, A philoſopher of the ſect called Cyrenaica, who with his eloquence did ſo vehemently ſet forth the incommodities of mans life, that many which heard him, killed themſelues.
Hegeſiphyle, The daughter of Olorus king of Thrace.
Hegeſippus, A ſtorie writer.
Hegeſiſtratus, One of Ephesus.
Hegetinatia, A citie of Germany called Gnitz.
Helei, A famous people of Peloponneſus, which had the rule of the plates called Olympici.
Hélena, æ, or Helene, es, (The daughter of Jupiter, and Leda wife to Tyndarus king of Lacedemonie) for hir wonderfull beautie, was twiſe rauiſhed. Firſt at the age of nine yeres by Theſeus: afterwarde by Paris the Troiane, then being wife vnto Menelaus, which was the onely occaſion of the tenne yeres ſiege, and finall deſtruction of the moſt famous citie of Trope, with the death and loſſe of moſt noble princes, and of people innumerable. Lyke moze in Troia.
Hélenus, The ſonne of king Priamus, excellent in the gift of prophecie, whom ſome repoꝛt to haue bene ſaued of the Grecians, becauſe he tolde them in what places they might moſt eaſily winne the citie. Afterwarde alſo when other Grecians departed from Troie after it was taken, this Helenus propheſying of their ſhippwracke, perſwaded Pyrrhus not to take the ſea, wherefoze he was not oncly ſaued by him, but alſo brought into Greece, and died very nobly. For after that Pyrrhus had taken Hermione from Orestes, he maried Andꝛomache Hectoꝛs wife vnto this Helenus, and gaue him a part of his kingdome alſo, which he afterward named Chaonia.
Heliades, The ſiſters of Phaeton, and daughters of Phœbus and Clymene, that is to ſaie Phaethuſa, Lampetia, and Lampetuſa: which lamented ſo much the death of their brother Phaeton, that therewith they died and were tranſformed (as poets feigne) into trees, out of the which runneth the gumme called Electrum, in Engliſhe, ambze, wherof beades were made.
Helias, The prophete of Thesbis of the countrey of Arabie, a Leuite of the tribe of Aaron. He dweit in Galilad: for Thesbis was an habitacion dedicated vnto prieſts. In the time of his birth, his father Sobac did ſee in a viſion, that men apparelled in white did call the childe, threwe him into the fire, and gaue to him a flame of fire to eate. The father riſing vp, went to Hierusalem, and ſhewed his viſion to the prieſtes: and he that gaue aunſwere, ſaide vnto him: beware thou diſcloſe it not. The habitacion of this childe ſhall be light, and his worde a demonſtration, and ſhall iudge Iſraell in the ſworde and fire. This is that Elias, that brought fire thrise out of heauen, and bare raine in his tongue, and was taken vp into heauen in a fierie ſtorme. That which is written moze of Elias in the Byble, maye be there read.
Helice, A citie of Achaia, ſwallowed vp of the ſea.
Helicon, A mountaine of Boeotia, dedicate to the Muſes.
Heliócopis, The name of a Nymph.
Heliodorus, A famous Rhetoꝛitian among the Grekes.
Helíogabalus, Supposed to be the baſtarde ſonne of Antonius Caracalla Emperour of Rome, and (as Lampridius writeth in his life) of Semiamira: oꝛ (as Egnatius writeth) of Scenides, his coſen: he was made Emperour after Macrinus, and Diadumenus, being but a boy of. xbi. peres olde. He ſo much exceded in deteſtable leacherie and promoting of vile perſons, and ryballdes, that finally he was hated of all men, and at laſt ſlayne and drawne through the citie of Rome, and throwen into the riuer of Tyber. Albeit he was warned afoze of Aſtronomers, that he ſhoulde dye a violent death: and therefoze had prouided ropes of ſilke (if nede were) to hang himſelfe, ſwoꝛds of goide to kill himſelfe, ſtrong poiſons in Iacinctes and Emeraudes, to poyſon himſelfe, if he were inforced. Moꝛeouer, he made a very high towre, haning the flooꝛe of boardes couered with plates of golde, and bozdered with pꝛecious ſtones, from the which he ſwolde throwe himſelfe downe, when he were purſued. But all this nothing auayled, foꝛ he was ſlain by knaues.

Heliópolis, A citie in Greece called alſo Corinthus. Another in Egipt: an other in Sicilie, where Chyꝛyſippus was bozne.
Helis, Lyke Elis.
Heliſſeus, The pꝛophete of Abelmuth, of the lande of Rubim: when he was bozne in Galgalis, the Cowe of golde in Beiom cryed ſo lowde, that ſhe was hearde at Hierusalem. And the pꝛieſt ſayde, that it ſignified, that a pꝛophete was bozne that day, which ſhoulde diſſolue and breake in peces Images kerued and caſt of metall. Many marueyles almightie God ſhewed by him, which ye may reade in the Bible.
Helius, A mans name.
Hellas, adis, A riuer and countrey of Achaia: Greece was ſo called of Hellen, Deucalions ſonne.
Helle, The daughter of Athamas king of Thebans, which was drowned with hir brother Phyxus in the ſea by Bysance.
Hellen, The ſonne of Deucalion, of whome the Grekes were named Hellenes.
Helleſpontus, Is the firſt part of the ſea, which deuideth Europa from Aſia, and is in breadth but. bij. furlonges, which lacketh one furlong of a myle. It is nowe called Brachium ſancti Georgij.
Heloi, In Hebzue ſignifieth God almightie.
Helórus, A riuer in Sicilie. Alſo the ſonne of the ryuer Iſter, ſlaine by Aiax.
Heluetij, People called Swicers, oꝛ Suyches by deſire of warres, enmies to all mankind, ſubiects neither to God noꝛ to Pꝛince, and ready foꝛ money, to ſerue as well Turkes as chriſtian princes.
Helymus, and Panopes, The companions of Aceſtes king of Sicilie.
Hemereſios, A table, which Pamphilus, Apelles maiſter, painted in one day.
Hemiſphérium, ij, n. gen. Halfe the compaſſe of the vſible heauen oꝛ firmament.
Hemodes, Certaine yles in the Douche ſea.
Hemus, A great mountaine in Thrace, nigh to the ſea Pꝛopontis, which is. bj. myles in height.
Henetia, was ſometime vſed foꝛ Venetia.
Heniochi, Lyke Eniochi.
Heptagonię, The name of a place.
Heptaphónes, A certaine hauen, oꝛ rather a walking place, oꝛ place of exercise at Olympia.
Heptápolis, lis, was ſometyme the name of Aegipt, by reaſon of ſeuen cities that were firſt in it.
Heptáporus, A riuer by Troie.
Hera, ræ, fœ. ge. The name of Juno.
Heraclea, A towne in the confines of Europe, an other in Italy, an other in Sicilie: an other of Pontus, called now Naxioportus. It is alſo a citie of Lydia, wher of the touchestone is called Heraclius lapis.
Heracleo, A notable theefe oꝛ robber.
Heracleon, A Grammarian of Aegipt, which wꝛate commentaries vpon Homere and other.
Heracleópolis, The name of thꝛe cities, one in Aegypt, an other not farre from Peluſium, the thirde not farre from the mouth of Nylus.
Heracleotes, æ, One of Heraclea.
Heracleoticus and Heraclius, a, um, Of Heraclea.
Heracleus, The name of diuers Emperours of Rome.
Heraclides, The name of a philoſopher of Pontus, alſo philoſopher of Lycia, a grammarian of Sicilie, and a famous painter of Macedonie.
Heraclitus, A philoſopher, which alwayes wept when he beheld the people, conſidering howe buſie they were to gather treaſure, and howe negligent in the well bringing vp of thꝛe children: his wꝛokes of a purpoſe were obſcure and hꝛde to be vnderſtande. When hee was olde, he fell into a dꝛopſie, in which neglecting phiſitions, he wꝛapped himſelfe in cowe dunge, and ſo lying a ſiege in the ſunne, was tozne and deuoured of dogges. He had no maiſter, but by his owne nature and diligence pꝛocured to great knowledge: He liued in tyme of the laſt Darius, and wꝛote many thinges of philoſophie in verſe. Anſtotle doth often vſe his teſtimonie. An other of that name was an excellent runner.
Heibna, A citie of Sicilie, called ſaint Nicolas.
Hereeus, a, um, One of the ſurnames of Jupiter.
Hercinia, A great wodde in Germanye, the which is in breadth nyne dayes iourney, and in length foꝛtie dayes iourney, as Cæſar wꝛyteth, Pomponius Mela affirmeth it to be foꝛtie dayes iourney in length.
Herculanum, A towne of Campanye.
Herculanus, oꝛ Herculeus, a, um, Of Hercules.
Herculanus nodus, A certayne knotte harde to be vndone, wherby a ſubtil queſtion oꝛ ſyllogiſmus may be ſignified. Feſtus Pompeius wꝛiteth that in olde tyme the cuſtome was, that when the newe maryed bꝛyde went to bed, ſhe ſhoulde be gyat with a woollen gyrdell, knitte with Hercules knotte, which the husbande foꝛ good luche ſhoulde vnlose in the bed, that he might be foꝛtunate in getting of children. For Hercules is repoꝛted to haue. xx. ſonnes, and one daughter, as Triſtotle wꝛiteth. De natura animalium. lib. 7. cap. 6.
Herculana pars, and Herculeus queſtus, Hercules his part: it was the cuſtome of men in olde tyme, to auowe the tenth part of their goodes vnto Hercules, and that tenth part was called Herculana pars.
Hercules, Lyke Hercules.
Herculeius, A Romayne, whiche fauoured the part of Marius.
Hercules, Seemeth to be a generall name giuen to men excelling in ſtrength all other of their time. Cicero de natura deorum wꝛiteth, that amongeſt auncient wꝛiters were found ſixe Hercules. Varro affirmeth, there were thꝛe and foꝛtie. Finally, there is no notable mention made but of two, the one called Hercules Aegyptius, oꝛ Libycus, which is ſuppoſed to be Oſyris, of whome is written hereafter. The other (long after him) was ſonne of Jupiter and Alcmena, called Alcides by his pꝛoper name. And foꝛ his incomparable ſtrength and labouꝛes (taken foꝛ the common profite of mankinde) hee was named alſo Hercules. Albeit Beroſus affirmeth Hercules to be the ſonne of Oſyris, and king of Aegypt, and was called Hercules Libycus, becauſe hee conquered Libya. Sayne Hierome on the tenth chapiter of Geneſis wꝛiteth, that this Hercules perfourmed the twelue notable labouꝛs, which poetes wꝛyte of, and not Alcides, ſonne of Alcmena. The firſt labour (as Diodoꝛus wꝛiteth) was the ſleaping of a Lyon in the wode Nemea, that farre exceded all other Lyons in greatneſſe, which nought nor be ſlayne with meteall, nor ſtone: wherefoze he was conſtrayned to ſlea him with his handes. The ſecond labour was the killing of Hydra the monſter, in the fennes of Lerna, which had an hundred neckes with ſerpentine heades, and when one was ſtricken of, there dio aryſe eftſones two other heades. The thirde labour was the taſing of the great wilde Boze of Erymanthus, which waſted the countrey of Archadia, and all people dzad him. But finally Hercules toke him alyue, and bearing him on his ſhoulders, bꝛought him vnto king Euriſtheus. The fourth labour was the battaile which he had alone with the great number of men called Centauri, that were of great ſtrength and ſwiftnes horſes: all them hee ſlue, when they aſſaulted him. The fifte was the taking of the great harte in running, which foꝛ his ſwiftneſſe had his hornes gylted. The ſixt was the deſtruction of the birdes Stymphalides, which conſumed the fruites and grapes of the countreys adioyning. The ſeuenth was the making cleane of the Oxe ſtall of Augea king of Elis, which would receyue. 3000. oxen at once, and had not bene cleaned of ſyde in 30. yeares: ſo that it might ſeme impoſſible to haue it cleaned: the which notwithſtanding Hercules perfourmed by wiſedome, conueying into it the ryuer Alpheus: which by the twiſt courſe of the ſtreame, in one day caryed away the dung, without any repzoche vnto Hercules. The eyght was the bꝛynging of a Bull from Creta vnto Greece, drawing him a long the ſea. The ninth was the taking of Diomedes king of Thracia, and caſting him to his hoyſes, who feding them with mans fleſhe, was himſelf of them deuoured. And after Hercules breaking thoſe wylde hoyſes, and making them gentle, bꝛought them to Euriſtheus. The tenth labour was his voiage into Spayne, and ſleaping of Geryon and his ſonnes, and taking the great kine, which he gaue to a king in that countrey, who continually afterwarde, did yearely offer in ſacrifice, to the honour of Hercules one of the Bulles, that came of thoſe kyne. The eleuenth was his goyng into hell, and fetching thence Theſeus and Pirithous, and bꝛinging with him in a chaine Cerberus, the dogge of hell, hauing thꝛee heades. The twelfth and laſt labour was the taking of the golden Appples, out of the gardeynes Heſperides, and ſleaing the terrible Dꝛagon, which continually watching kept thoſe Appples, which were called golden foꝛ the beautie of them. Some ſay they were thꝛee, whoſe fleeces were of the colour of golde, and the dꝛagon ſignifieth the diligence and ſtrength of the ſhepheaꝛde, which kept them. Theſe were the twelue labours of Hercules, wherebi grewe this pꝛouerbe.
* Herculei labores, Where the labours doe ſeme impoſſible to be atchieued.
* Herculis cothurnus, Was vſed foꝛ a pꝛouerbe, wherin a thing of little importaunce was ſet foꝛth with great eloquence oꝛ other thing ſolemne, moze apt foꝛ a greater matter, as one ſhoulde put Hercules hoſen on a childes legges. Wherewith accoꝛded the ſaying of the wyſe king Ageſilaus, when one commended to him a Rhetoꝛician, which by his cꝛafte eloquence made trifles and ſmall things to ſeme great. The king anſwered: that ſowter deſerueth no pꝛaiſe, which putteth a great ſhaue on a very little foꝛte: meaning thereby, that the wordes ſhould ag well accoꝛde with the matter, as the garment with the perſon. This is ſo common a vice nowe a dayes among ſtudentes of eloquence, that in wꝛyting and ſpeaking, they ſeme to pꝛepare the hoſe before they knowe the meaſure of the legge, wherevon they will put it.
Hercules Gallus, As Lucianus wꝛiteth, was in the olde tyme in Fraunce, an Image made lyke an olde man, with a balde heade, and vnkempt, his heare very white, the ſkinne of his face ꝛyuelled, and as it were burned with the ſunne, bearing on him a Lyons ſkinne, and bearing in his right hande a great clubbe, in his lefte hande a bowe, a quiuer at his backe, drawing after him a multitude of people, tyed by their eares with a little chayne wꝛought with ambze and golde, but they were ſo eaſily tyed, that laughing and with good cheere they willingly followed, and as it ſeemed, would not be loſed: and the other ende of the chayne was tyed at Hercules tong, who looked towardes them with a laughing countenaunce. This Image ſignified eloquence, which foꝛ the puiſſaunce therof, reſembled rather Hercules then Mercurie. And his age betokened, that foꝛ the moſt part eloquence is ſubſtantiall and vehement. That Hercules, oꝛ rather eloquence drayeth men by the eares tyed to his tongue, ſignifieth the affinitie betweene the tongue and the eare: and their glad and voluntarie following, ſignifieth with what delectation eloquence drayeth men vnto his perſwaſions and exhoꝛtations.
Herculis Portus, A citie of the Maſſilitans, called now Villa Franca.
Herculis turris, A citie of Cyzene, called Zuayra.
Hercynia, Lyke Hercinia.
Herebus, The deepeſt place in hell. Lyke Erebus.

Herillus, A Philosopher of Chalcedonie, the scholler of Zeno, which did put the chiefe goodnesse in science and knowledge.

Herlinus, One of the Centaures.

Herma,æ, An Image of Mercurius.

Hermæa, After Ptolomie, the vttermost citie of the Iesse Affrike. After Mela,a promontorie of Mercurie,called Cabo de Nubia.

Hermaphroditus, The sonne of Mercurie and Venus.

Hermagoras, A famous Rhetorician of Aetolia.

Hermathena,Two Images together of Mercurie and Minerua.

Hermeas, A famous capitayne vnder Antiochus magnus.

Hermenij, A people by Colchos.

Hermes,mis,or mētis, Mercurie.

Hermes trismegitus, The name of a famous Philosopher of Aegypt.

Hermiona, A towne of Greece.

Hermione, The daughter of Menelaus and Helene,being a childe, was by Tyndarus, the father of Menelaus, in his absence affianced to Orestes, the sonne of Agamemnon: but afterwarde she was maryed by hir father vnto Pyrrhus,sonne of Achilles, whome Orestes did slea, wedded Hermione,and had by hir thre sonnes, Tessamenes, Cozinthus, and Orestes the ponger. There was an other, Hermione, daughter of Mars and Venus, and wyfe of Cadmus, whome the Poets feigned to be (with hir husbande) tourned into a serpent.

Hermiones,People in the vttermost borders of Germany, called nowe Pomerani.

Hermippus, A poet of Athens. Also a philosopher in the tyme of Adrian.

Hermocrates, A famous Sophister vnder the Emperour Heuerus.

Hermodorus, A philosopher of Ephesus,which caused the twelue tables to be made. Also a philosopher of Sicilie, the scholler of Plato.

Hermogenes, The proper name of a famous Rhetorician.

Hermolaus, A Grammarian of Constantinople.An other of the same name, conspired against Alexander.

Hermon, A little hill that standeth on Iordan.

Hermópolis, The name of a citie that Hercules buylded.

Hermus, A ryuer, which in the middes parteth the sicilies of Smirne, and falleth from the hyll Dorylao , and deuideth Phrygia from Caria, wherein Virgile supposed to be golden sande.

Hernici, People of Campaine.

Hero, Looke Ero.

Herodes, The sonne of Antipater, which in the tenth yeare of Augustus, was of the Romaynes declared king of the Iewes: and he reigned. 37. yeares. To winne the fauour of the Iewes, he pulled downe the temple that after the captiuitie was builded by Zorababell, Iehoshua, and Esdra, and with exceding great charges buylded an other to the figure and paterne of that which Salomon erected. That yeare that Christ was borne, he both killed all his wiues kindred, and his owne two sonnes Aristobolus, and Alexander, and also put to death the Pharisees that prophecied to him that hys kingdome shoulde not long continue. Of that name were diuers other kinges, of whome Iosephus writeth abundantly.

Herodianus, A noble historian, whiche in Greke wrote most eloquently and truly the ipues of the Emperours, from Marcus Autonius philosophus, to Gordianus the ponger, which booke is most eloquently translated into Latine by Angelus Politianus.

Heródotus, Was a noble historian, borne in the citie of Halicarnassus in Asia. He wrote most eloquently a generall historie of the actes done in Europa and Asia, by the space of two hundred and fortie yeares, vntill the warres among the Grekes,called Bellum Peloponnesiacum,which Thucidides,with an equal stile wrote and performed. He flourished before the incarnation of Christ two hundred yeares.

Hieron, A nozatour of Athens.

Herostratus, A proze foolishe man , who to haue a perpetuall fame,burned the most famous temple of Diana at Ephesus , and after confessed himselfe and was put to death.

Herssilia, The wyfe of Romulus the first kinge of Romaines.

Hesichius, A learned man in the time of Anastasius the emperour,which wrate an historie,as wel of the Romaine Emperours, as of other nations.

Hesione, Was daughter of Lacedemon king of Troy,and sister to Priamus, whom Hercules at the first destruction of Troye gaue in marriage to Telamon , a noble prince of the Grekes.

Hesiodus, An auncient poete of the Grekes, which first wrate of husbandrie, whome Virgile followed in hys Georgikes.

Hesperia, Italy.

Hesperia vltima, Spayne.

Hesperides, The thre daughters of Atlas, which kept the gardens, wherein grewe the golden Apples , that were taken away by Hercules.

Hesperidum horti, The gardens wherein were the golden apples, now called Orenges.

Hesperum, A promontorie in Affrike.

Hesperus,i,m.g. The west starre, that followeth the sunne going downe: the euening starre.

Hesseni, called also Esseni, & Essei, People of Palestine, which wouldе neuer eate Pigeous, and lyued wythout the companie of women.

Hestiæa, Is a part of Thessaly, sayth Strabo and Pthotone, and in Homere it is a towne of Euboea. Stephanus sayeth,it is a citie in Arcarnania.

Hetruria,The countrey of Tuscane,wherein is the citie of Florence.

Hethburgum,gi, Edenburgh in Scotlande.

Hetruscus, a,um, Of the countrey called Hetruria : as Hetrusca disciplina, A certayne doctrine taught in Tuscan, concerning the interpetation of lightninges,tokens in the firmament, and thinges monstrucus, which was of such estimation among auncient Romaynes, that it was decreed by an ordinaunce of the Senate, that into fire partes of that countrey shoulde be sent sire sonnes of noble men to learne that arte.

Heuilath, Looke Euilla.

H I

Hiarbas, The sonne of Jupiter , which was king of the Getulpans , and made warre against Dido queene of Carthage.

Hiberia, and Hiberus, Looke Iberia.

Hibernia, The yle called Irelande , betweene Englande and Spayne , in the Occean sea. On the East, it hath Englande wythin one dayes sayling : on the south, it hath Fraunce : Spayne on the west , distaunt three dayes sayling : on the north,the maine occean sea. It is not farre from Scotlande.

Hibla, Looke Hybla.

Hidruntum, A towne of Calabet , called commonlye Otronto.

Hiera, An yle betweene Sicilie and Liparis, dedicated to Vulcane. Also the name of a way, and of a woman, the wife of Telephus king of Mysia , which in beautie was supposed to excede Helena.

Hierapolis, A citie of Asia, ouer against Laodicea, where were certayne bathes, the water whereof would sone harden and congeale into the stone called Tophus. There is also a certayne caue in the earth , into which if any liuing creature doe enter,immediatly it dyeth. Before the mouth of it , is a little valley of halfe an akers compasse. So darke, that scantly the ground may be seene. Strabo writeth, that for experience he did let into this Caue certayne sparrowes , which fortwith dyd fall downe dead. About that citie also is a water that dieth wooll of a purple colour.

Hieremias,

Hieremias, A Prophete borne(as Epiphanius writeth)at Anathoth,s , and slayne by his people at Taphnas in Aegypt. But afterwarde the Aegyptians had hym in great honour, and buryed hym in the place where Pharaos palatice stode. For he draue thence serpentes and Crocodiles. This prophete before the alteration of the temple, toke the arke or holye coffer, and that which was in it,and caused a stone to swallowe it by, saying to the Priestes and auncient men that were present , our Lorde is departed from Sina to heauen , and shall returne with an holy puissaunce, and this shal be the signe of his comming , when all people shall honour a tree. He sayde moreouer vnto them : Neuer man shall open this arke, neyther Priest nor prophete , except Moyses the elect of God. The tables within it,no man shall beholde, except Baron. And at the resurrection first this arke shall rise, and shall come out of the stone, and shall be set in Mount Sina,and all saintes shall resort thervnto, there to receyue the Lorde, and shall slee from the enimie which would haue destroyed them. And he sealed the stone , writing thereon the name of our Lorde. The signe was lyke as it were grauen in yron, and a cloude then couered the stone,but no man knoweth that place.

Hieri, People beyonde thofe which are called Sauromatæ, which be balde and flat nosed, euen from the natiuitie, They are very iust people, and neuer warre one on an other.

Hiero, onis, A king of Sicilie , which was lyke a priuate person.very rude and homely,and of his nature intractable and fierce. But after he became sicke, and ceassed from businesse, (the feuer nowe and then taking hym) he became a man of good maners and honourable. And in the meane tyme that he was not vexed wyth the feuer, he fell to learning. wherefore being recouered, he vsed the companie of Simonides, Pindarus,and Bacchides, most excellent poetes at that tyme lyuing : who in their writinges brought his name in an honourable remembraunce. An other of that name of Athens,was familiar friende and scholar vnto Nicias.

Hierocops, Iuple in Cypres nere to Paphus.

Hieronymus, The most noble and famous interpretour of holy scripture. He was after the incarnation of Christ about. 387. yeares, as he himselfe writeth. Hee was borne in a towne called Strido , which was in the confines of Hungarie , and Dalmatia. Hys fathers name was Eusebius. There was an Hystoriographer, and a philosopher of Rhodes of thys name. Also a tyran of Sicilie, the sonne of Hiero.

Hierosolyma,æ, and Hierosolyma, orum, Or after the Hebrues Hierusalem, the chiefe citte of Iudea (as Eusebius writeth)in compasse about sixe myles and an halfe. And as the same author sayeth, lib. 9. Preparationis euangelicę, cap. vltimo , it was called Hieron Salomonis, that is to say,Salomons temple. And after, by corruption of speache , was called Hierusalem and Hierosolyma. But Lyranus,on the. xxbii. chap. of Genesis, writeth,that it was first built by Melchisedech, and by him called Salem, that is to say, peaceable : For so much as he was king of peace and iustice. Also that it was called Solyma, Luza, also Bethel, Hierus, Hierosolyma, & Aelia. Albeit Iosephus de bello Iudaico, lib. 7. cap. 26. affirmeth , that the first buylder thereof was Chanam which made there a temple , and called it Hierosolyma, where before it was called Solyma. Saint Hierome De locis Actorum apostolorum, sayeth, that the citie was called Aelia of Aelius Adrianus the Emperour, which ettunes repayred it , after that it was destroyed by Titus,and made it larger. It was sine tymes wasted, and at the last destroyed by Titus, after the incarnation of Christ. 71. yeares.

Hierosolymarius, The surname of Pompey, for conquering of Hierusalem.

Hierotheus, The proper name of a man.

Hilaria, plur. The eyght calendes of April, when the day and night haue equall houres, and the day beginneth to increase.

Hilarus, The proper name of a man.

Hillus, The sonne of Hercules by Deianyra.

Himera, A ryuer in Sicilie , diuided into two partes,the one freshe water,the other salt.

Hipparchus, A notable Astronomer that wrote against Plato. Also a comicall poet. It is also the sonne of Pisistratus the tyranne.

Hippasus, A philosopher,the scholar of Pythagoras.

Hippe, The daughter of Chiron the Centaure.

Hipperides, An oratour of Athens, enuie to Demosthenes.

Hippias, A Rhetorician (as Apuleius saith Floridorum.) excelled all men in the multitude of crafres , and was equall to any man in eloquence. Hee came on a tyme to Pisa,to the great triumph called Olympicum, and euery thing that he did weare vpon him , was of his owne making,his shoes,patents,and coate wrought of the finest threde , with thre threde stitches , a baudrike of baudken , with chaungeable colours and sundrye pictures, a mantell of white ouer all, a ryng on his finger with a stone , where was a signet most perfectly wrought. All this did he work with his owne handes. Also he carped with him a little ople bottell with a narrowe mouth,and the residue rounde and flat, with a little instrument to strike sweete from his body hanging there at. He played excellently on euery instrument, and sang his owne verses in all kindes, which no man could amende. In all parts of Logike,Rhetorike,and Philosophie, hee banquished manye, and was banquished of none. He ranne,wrestled, and did other feates of actiuitie, that all men beholding him were therewith asshed. Finallye, he seemed not to be ignoraunt , weake or vnable in any thing. Notwithstanding Plato in two dialogues bringeth in Socrates disputing wyth him. In the one in searching what beautie is, in the other what a lye is , He concludeth and prooueth Hippias to be an arrogant and ignorant sole , for as much as praysing beautie, he wyste not what beautie was. and boasting that he before any other man could deserne a wife from a true man, he could not make of them a definition. By this it appeareth howe much the common iudgement of men varyeth,and is inferiour to the iudgement of a perfite wise man,as Socrates was.

Hippius Tyrius, Was he that first made shippes , whiche serue onely for burdeynes, called in Latine Naues oneratiæ.

Hippo, m.g. The name of two cities in Affrike : of one of them saint Augustine was Bishop.

Hippocentauri, Were a people in Thessalie by the mount Pelion, which were also called Centauri, the whiche were the first that were seene in Greece ryding vpon horses : wherof came the fable,that Centauri were halfe men and halfe horses.

Hippocrates, The name of a most excellent phisition scholar to Democrates, and lyued in the time of Perdiccas king of Macedonie in hys court. Artaxerxes king of Persia, wrote of this Hippocrates in this maner to Hystanes his lieuetenaunt of Hellespont , as Suidas witnesseth. The great king Artaxerxes to his lieuetenaunt Hystanes , sendeth greeting. I haue hearde of the fame of the notable phisition Hippocrates. See therefore that thou giue him as much money as he will desire, with all other things necessarie, and sende him to me. He shalbe in as great honour with me,as the best in all Persia. &c. He dyed being. 104. yeares of age, there were also of the same name and stocke sine other, all notable and famous in phisicke, but this, farre passed them all.

Hippocrene, A fountayne in Boeotia, dedicated to Apollo, and the nine Muses.

Hippodamia, or Hippodame,The daughter of Oenomaus, king of Arcadia, vnto whome it was told by the southsayer, that when his daughter did marry, he should dye. Therefore when she came to the yeares of marryage : he ordeyned a ppce of running with Chariots,and caused to

to be proclaymed, that whosoeuer did vanquilhe him therein, should haue his daughter to wife: and he that was vanquilhed by him, should die. Many of these wowers were slaine. At last Pelops desiring to haue the fayde mayden, promised priuily to Myrtilus which draue the kings Chariot, that if he did winne the price, Myrtilus should lye with Hippodamia the first night: vpon the which couenaunt Myrtilus made the axeltree of waxe, by occasion whereof the Chariote fell downe and was broken. Wherefore Oenomaus slue himselfe, and Pelops enioyed the Lady and the Realme. When Myrtilus asked that which was promised him, Pelops threwe him into the sea next adioyning, which thereof was euer after called Mare Myrtoum. There was an other Ladie called Hippodamia, which was wife to Pirithous, for whome the battayle was betweene the people called Centauri, and them which were named Lapythæ.

Hippódamus, mi, masc. gen. A learned man of Miletus, which wrote first of the good state and gouernaunce of a citie.

Hippodorus, A prince of Athens, which to seeme gentle to the people, vied great securitie towards his owne children and kinsfolke.

Hippolochus, Bellerophons sonne, father of Glaucus. An other of the same name, was the sonne of Antimachus the Tropan.

Hippolyte, The wife of Acastus king of Magnesia. An other was Queene of Amazones, whom Hercules vanquished, and gaue hir to Theseus.

Hippolytus, The sonne of Theseus, who at the complaint of Phædra his stepmother, was pursued with his father, and he in a Chariote, fleeing, was ouerthrowne among the sharpe stones, and rent all to peeces. Afterwarde Æsculapius reuiued and restored him to life. Wherefore hee wouldee be called Virbius, that is to say, twise a man, for as much as he had twise liued.

Hippómachus, The name of a famous Pypstrell.

Hippomenes, The nephewe of Neptune, which ouercame Atalanta in running. Loke Atalanta.

Hippona, A Goddesse, whome Horsekeepers did worshippe.

Hipponax, A greeke poete borne in Ephesus, who was deformed in visage, but in style sharpe and vehement: in so much as when a cunning paynter, named Bupalus, had paynted his yll fauoured face, to make men laugh at it: Hipponax made against him such vengeable verses, that for anger and shame he caused hym to hang himselfe in his house.

Hippopodes, People in the Scythicke Ocean, which haue feete like horses.

Hippus, A ryuer in Asia running into Phasis.

Hipsicratea, The wife of Mithridates.

Hira, A citie by the sea side, not farre from Pylos.

Hirpię, Certaine families not farre from Rome, whiche doing sacrifice to Apollo, went vpon the fyre, and were not hurt therewith.

Hirtius, A consull of Rome, which was vanquilhed in battayle by Antonie.

Hismaelita, A Saracin.

Hispalis, vel Hispalum, A citie in Spayne, nowe called Sibilia, or Seuille.

Hispánia, A countrey in the west part of Europe, called Spayne, sometyme called Iberia, and Hesperia. It is inuironed on the south part with the sea Mare Mediterraneum, which departeth Europe from Affrike: on the north part, with the sea Mare Cantabricum: on the west, with the great Ocean sea: on the east with the mountaines Pyrenei, and the part of the realme of Fraunce called Aquitania, & Narbonensis. This countrey is deuyded by Ptholomie into three Regions: Bethica, wherein is Granado, Seuill, Corduba, &c. Lusitania, wherein is Portugall, Gallecia, &c. Tarrhaconensis, wherein is Castile, Leons and Aragon. In this tyme it conteyneth fiue Realmes. Granado on the south part towarde Affrike: Portugall on the west: Gallecia, and Biskaie on the north: Arragon on the east: Castile and Leon in the middle. Much of the first part by reason of rockes, serpentes, and for lacke of water, is not fertile nor well inhabited. The north part by reason of much colde is not plentious. The south part is verie full fruytfull. It is in length (as Strabo writeth) 6000. furlongs, which is. 850. myles. In breadth 5000. furlongs, which is. 625. myles. Plinius (next vnto Italy) extolleth it in fertilitie, aboue all other countreys. Solinus compareth it with the best countreyes in plentie of grayne, wines, oyle, syluer, golde and yron. Statius and Claudius doe no lesse commende it.

Hispaniénsis, se, That was borne or bred in other countries, and inuyth in Spayne.

Hispánus, a, um, That is borne or bred in Spayne.

Hístiæa, A citie in Eubœa.

Histiæus, A tyranne of Miletus. Erasinus saith, it was a very wily and subtile man of the yle of Samos, a friend of Darius, of whose newe inuention of letters sending, Au. gell. writeth. lib. 17. cap. 9. Noct. Attic.

Histonium, A towne in Italie, not farre from the mounte Garganus.

Hœrychius, A Greeke very cunning in Image making.

Holus, alias, Homolus, An hyll of Thessaly.

Homericus, a, um, Of Homere.

Homeromastix, tigis, masc. gen. The reprocher of Homere. Generally Homeromastices, be taken for all reprochers and faile detractours of learned men.

Homérus, The chiefe of all poetes, whose proper name was Meleligenes. But because he was blinde, he was called Homérus, which in the tongue called Ionica, signifieth blinde. Cicero Tuscul. 5. inyth, it is written that Homere was blinde, yet see we his picture and not hys poeme. For what countrey, what marches, what hoste, what nauie, what motions of mindes, as well of men as of beastes, are expressed in such wyse, that he maketh vs to see that he saw not? Plutarchus in the booke which he wrote of him sayth, that in his two workes he comprehendeth both the partes of man. For in Ilias he describeth strength and valauntnesse of body, in Odyssea he both setforth a perfite paterne of the mynde. Notwithstanding for his vndiscrete fabling of Goddes and Goddesses, Plato excluded him out of his weale publyke.

Homole, An hyll of Magnesia.

Homolium, A towne of Magnesia.

Homolotti, A certayne people.

Homonæa, The proper name of a woman.

Honoraria, Playes made at Rome to the honour of Bacchus.

Horatius, A famous poete, borne at Venusium, a man excellent in sharpenesse of wit, and quicknesse of sentence: he was addict to Epicures sect, somewhat wanton in manners, though he with great libertie of speache noted the vices of other men in his verses called Satyræ. In balades to sing to the harpe (which were in. xxiv. sundrie kindes of verses) he passed all other that wrote in Latine. Hee was in good fauour with the Emperour Augustus, by the meanes of Mecœnas the Emperors minion, who toke in him for his myth and witte much delectation: to whome, and to Augustus, he wrote diuers Epistles in verse, comprehending great wisedome in compendious sentences: and died when he was. 57. yeares olde, as Eusebius writeth. He was after the incarnation of Christ about tenne yeares. Of his name were diuers notable Romaynes.

Horatius Cocles, A valiaunt Romayne in that tyme that Porsenna in the quarell of the Tarquines besieged the citie. When the citie was almost taken, and all other did flie away, this Horatius accompanyed only with two other, at a bridge that entered into Rome did kepe backe the whole armie of Porsenna, vntill the bridge was broken downe behynde him: and then in spyte of his his enimies, armed as he was, did swimme safe into the citie, and so preserued his countrey.

Horizon, zóntis, neu. g. A circle deuiding the halfe sphere or ouer part of the firmament, from the other halfe, where to our sight, it seemeth that the heauen toucheth the earth.

Horomasdes, Among the Chaldees was named the good God.

Horontes, Loke Orontes.

Horóscopus, pi, masc. gen. That part of the firmament, which euery houre ryseth from the east: Astronomers call it the ascendent.

Horténsia, æ, fœm. gen. The daughter of Hortensius, a woman most eloquent.

Hortensius, An excellent orator of Rome, of a wonderfull memorie.

Horus, An Aegyptian, which wrote and declared the secret mance of writing, which Aegyptians vsed, called Hieroglyphica. Horus was also the sonne of Isis.

Hosa, A ryuer of Tuscan, called nowe Martha.

Hospitalis Iupiter, The God of hospitalitie or entertainement, so called because straungers or guestes when they were yll intreated in their lodginges, called him to witnesse, desiring him to reuenge them.

Hungaria, Weade after in Pannonia.

Hunni, People which came out of Scythia, and inhabited Hungarie.

Hyacinthia festa, were solemne ceremonies done in the night.

Hyacinthus, A boy that Apollo loued, whome by misfortune he slewe, wherefore he turned him into a flowre of his owne name.

Hyades, Are seuen starres, whose names are Ambrosia, Eudóra, Pasithoe, Coronis, Plexaura, Pytho, & Tythe, they be erouious, and rapse stormes and windes. They goe downe the fourteenth Calendes of May. Poetes name them the daughters of Atlas, and Aetheria, wherefore they bene also called Atlantides. But because in lamenting their brother Hyas (slaine by a Lioneste, they wore ned away and dyed, and therefore were translated by Iupiter into the Firmament: They were afterwarde called Hyades, by the name of their brother. Some say, that they were the nourices of Bacchus, and were called Dodonides nymphæ, of a towne and forest called Dodona. The Romaynes called them Suculæ.

Hyale, A nymph, one of the companions of Diana.

Hyantius, and Hyanteus, a, um. Of Bœotia.

Hyas, ántis, One that was gouernour of Bœotia, of whome they were called Hyantes.

Hyas, hyadis, Loke Hyades.

Hyarbas, Loke Hiarbas.

Hyberia, A region in Asia, lopning to Armenia, enuyzoned with the mountaine Caucasus. It is also the olde name of Spaine.

Hybernia, æ, fœm. gen. Irelande.

Hybérnicus, a, um, of Irelande.

Hyberus, A great ryuer in Spaine, nigh to Tarrhacon.

Hyblæus, a, um. Of the mountaine or citie Hyble.

Hyble, es, or Hybla, æ, A citie in Sicile, and a mountaine nigh to it, whereon groweth plentie of Thyme. And therefore the honie that is there, is of all other most pleasaunt.

Hybræas, A certaine orator of the citie Nylasis, in Caria, whose father being a poore man, at his death left him nothing but one mule to carie wode. This man afterwarde giuing himselfe to the gouernment of the common weale, became of great estimation, and in authozitie next vnto Enthydamus. Whome, being otherwise a wittie man, when he sawe to bende himselfe to tirannie ouer his countrey men, he sayde openly and stoutely to him: Enthydamus, thou art in this citie a necessarie yll. For neyther can we lacke thee, nor very well lyue with thee.

Hydarnes, or Hydarnus, A noble man of Persia.

Hydaspes, A great riuer in Indie. Loke Idaspes.

Hydra, dræ, fœm. gen. A monster, with whome Hercules fought, and as soone as he had stricken of one head of the monster, an other sprang vp immediately.

* Hydram secare, To meddle with an endelesse matter, or where one mischiefe happeneth after another.

Hydrus, druntis, or Hydruntum, i, A citie in Calabria, by the sea side.

Hydrusa, A citie in the countrey of Athens. Also an Iland called Andros.

Hyela, A citie in the countrey of Oenotria.

Hygris, A citie of Sarmatia, called commonly Cabardy.

Hyla, æ, or Hylas, læ, The companion of Hercules, whom he lost in the borders of Ionia. For when Hercules fled out of Calidonia, and came with his wife Deianira, and his sonne Hyllus to the Dryopians, he desired of Theodamus some meat & drinke to refresh his yong sonne, being then verye hungrye. But the vncurteous man denied it, and would giue him none. Wherefore Hercules by violence toke one of his oxen, and kylling it caused the same to be dressed. In the meane tyme Theodamas raysed the people, and with such a power came against him, that Hercules was almoste put to the worste. But in the ende he got the victozie, slue Theodamas, and toke with him his companion Hylas, whome euer after he fauoured and loued as his owne. In sayling to Colchos for the golden fleece, when Hercules had broke his Oare, he went to lande with his beryng Hylas, in the woodes of Mysia to get him an other Oare. And with the great heate being very thirstie, he sent Hylas to the riuer Aesanius, thereby to fetch him some water. Where, because the banke was higher, then that he couldе well reache the water, he laye downe vpon the grounde, and with his arme and body stragned so farre, that he fell into the ryuer, and there was drowned. Whose losse Hercules toke so grieuously, that not knowing the misaduenture, he left the Argonautes, and went ouer all Mysia seeking and crying for Hylas.

Hylæa, A countrey, after which a part of the sea is called Hylæum.

Hylæus, A Centaure, whose incontinence was cause of the warres betweene the Lapithes and the Centaures.

Hylas, A lake of Withynia, in the which (as some suppose) Hyla Hercules companion was drowned.

Hyllus, The sonne of Hercules by Deianira.

Hylonome, A woman of the Centaures, which after hir husbande Cyllarus was dead, slewe hir selfe with his sworde.

Hymantopodes, A lame people in Aethiope, which haue clubbed or crooked feete.

Hymella, A certaine riuer.

Hymenæus, æi, masc. gen. The God of mariage.

Hymera, The name of a riuer.

Hymettus, An hill by Athens, where was hony of all other most precious.

Hymettius, a, um, Of the hyll Hymettus.

Hypacaris, A riuer of Scythia.

Hypæpa, A citie where were maruelous faire women.

Hypanis, A ryuer in Scythia. Vitruius saieth, lib. 8. cap. 3. it is in Pontus. M. Tull. Tusc. quest. lib. 1. sayeth, that Hypanis, from a part of Europe runneth into Pontus.

Hypparchus, A philosopher that wrote of the planets and tymes of the yeare.

Hypasis, Or as some doe write, Hypanis, Arianus calleth it Hyphasis, a great riuer, which runneth out of the mountaynes of Scythya, into Indie, and commeth into the famous riuer of Ganges: and is in breadth seuen furlonges, as Diodorus writeth, lib. 17. The streame thereof is so swift, that no man may passe ouer it by the space of fiue dayes sayling. The water is fresh: After that it commeth within foure dayes sayling of the sea, it is wonderfull bitter, by reason of a bitter fountayne, which which renneth into it. At this riuer the great Alexander finished his iourney, and went no further into India, but did there set vp twelue aultars of stone, euery of them fiftie cubites in greatnesse.

Hypata, A citie of Thessaly.

Hypatia, A woman of Alexandria, excellently learned in Astronomie, and diuers other sciences.

Hypatos, A riuer of Phœnicia.

Hypenor, A Troian, whome Diomedes slewe.

Hyperborei, People dwelling in the furthest part of the north, and, as some suppose, vnder the north pole called Polus Arcticus. Pomponius Mela writeth, that the countrey is but little, hauing the sunne ouer them, and is fertile of it self, the people very iust, liuing longer and more pleasantly than other men, alwaye without businesse or labour, knowing neither warre nore debate. Like to this doth Plinie write, lib 4. cap. 12. Solinus saieth, that some men doe appoint them rather to Asia, then to Europa. Other doe set them meane betweene the Sun going downe with the Antipodes (which are people hauing their feete against ours) & the sun rysing with vs. Finally, he saieth they be in Europa, where they haue fiue monethes continually day, and fiue other monethes continually night: the windes there be alwaies boisome. They know neither sickenesse nor vnquietnesse. wherefore Strabo writeth, lib. 15. that some men affirme, that they did liue a thousande yeares. Festus Pompeius wrate, that they exceeded the life of man, liuing aboue an hundred yeares. And therfore were they called Hyperborei, as it were exceeding the common terme of mans life, and when they be wearie and tedious of their life (as Mela and Solinus write) making good cheare with their neighbours, and hauing garlandes on their heades, they throwe themselues from a certaine rocke into the deepe sea, esteeming that to be the best death and fosme of burying.

Hyperechius, A grammarian of Alexandria.

Hyperides, One of the tenne orators of Athens, whose tongue was cut out by Antipater.

Hyperion, Some call the brother of Saturne, which gouerneth the course of the planets, and therefore is named father of the Sunne, the Mone, and the morowe. Sometime it is put for Phœbus.

Hypermnestra, One of the fiftie daughters of Danaus, which saued hir husbande Linus or Lynceus.

Hypsa, A riuer of Sicilie.

Hypsea, A blinde womans name in Horace.

Hypsenor, The sonne of Dolopion, which was slaine by Eurypylus at the siege of Troye.

Hypsicratea, The wife of king Mithridates, which followed him in all his warres, being armed like a knight.

Hypsiphyle, The daughter of Thoas king of Lemnos.

Hyrcania, A countrey in Asia.

Hercanus, a, um, Of Hyrcania.

Hyrcanum mare, The sea now called Mare abacuk, or Mare de Sala.

Hyrium, A citie of Apulia, called commonly Lesina.

Hyrtacus, A Troiane, father of Nisus, Æneas companion.

I A

IA, Was the ponger daughter of Atlas.

Iacchus, One of the names of Bacchus, called god of wines.

Iacob, A patriarke sonne to Isaac.

Iacobus, A proper name, in Englishe James.

Iadera, A towne of Illyricum.

Ialysos, A citie of Rhodes.

Iamblicus, A philosopher of Pythagoras sect, scholler of Porphyrius.

Iamesa, A creeke of the Britaine sea.

Iamino, A towne of the people called Baleares.

Iana, the name of Diana.

Ianaffy, A certaine nimphe.

Ianiculum, li, neu. gen. A part of Rome, and a mountaine in it. Also a gate of the same name.

Ianira, The daughter of Oceanus and Tethis.

Iantha, The sister of Janira.

Ianalis, le, Of Janus.

Ianus, Some suppose to be Saturne: some to be Japhet, one of the sonnes of Noe. Ianus was also a place in Rome, whither vsurers resorted.

Iapetus, The father of Prometheus, sonne of Cœlum and Terra.

Iapigia, A countrey in the realme of Naples, called Calabria.

Iapigium, A promontorie in Iapigia.

Iapis, The proper name of Aetolus.

Iāpix, Iapigis, The sonne of Dedalus, king of Calabria, which of him was called Iāpigia. Also a westerne wind, which commeth out of the partes of Apulia.

Iārbas, Loke Hiarbas.

Iārchas, The chiefe of the philosophers of Indie.

Iasiades, The sonne or nephewe of Iasius.

Iasis, Atalanta, The daughter of Iasius.

Iāsius, The brother of Dardanus, and sonne of Electra. Also Iasius is the father of Palinurus.

Iasonium, A promontorie of Cappadocia, called Saint Thomas.

Iasum, In pie of Caria, lying towarde the maine lande.

Iaua, A citie in Spaine called Lara.

Iaxamathæ, People about Maotis.

Iaxartes, A riuer of Scythia in Asia.

Iaxes, A riuer of Scythia.

Iazyges, People of Metanasta in Europe, on the South part of Germany, called nowe Septem castra, commonly Siebenburgh: at hath on the north, Armacia: on the west and south, Germany and Pannonie inferiour: on the east, Dacia.

I B

Ibernia, Loke Hibernia.

Ibēria, The auncient name of Spaine. Also an other countrey nigh to Armeny. It is of some writte with H.

Iberi, and Ibres, Spaniardes, or men of the other Iberia.

Ibēricus, a, um, Of Iberia.

Iberus, A riuer in Spaine.

Ibycus, A poetes name of Rhegium in Italy.

I C

Icadius, A notable robber.

Icaria, In pie in the sea Icarium, which is also called Icaros, Icaris patronymicum, Of Icarus.

Icarus, or Icarius, The father of the chast Penelope. There was an other Icarus, the sonne of Dedalus, who hauing winges, with his father slewe out of the pie of Crete: but when he slew higher than his father commaunded: the ware wherewith the feathers of his winges were glewed, melted with the heate of the Sunne. And the feathers falling of, Icarus was constrayned to fall into the sea, afterwarde called Mare Icarium. Also Icarus is a mountaine in the region of Athens.

Ichthiusa, The pie called Icaros.

Ichthiophagi, People by south Indie, which doe eate onely fishe, and also their cattell is fed therewith. They weare garmentes of fishe skinnes. Also (as Strabo writeth) Their houses be made with whales bones and oyster shelles. The ribbes of the fishes make the beames and rafters, of the iawes are made the doores, of the backe bones are made mosters, wherein the fishe is pounded, and dyed at the Sunne, and therof they make breade tungled with a little wheate. Arrianus lib. 8. writeth, that the ribbes of whales, (seene there, by the captaines of king Alexander) were about xxxbu. foote and a halfe long, wherewith their houses were buylded.

Ichthis, A promontorie in Achaia.

Iconium, A towne in the countrey of Cilicia: an other in Asia the lesse.

Icosium, A towne in Mauritania Cæsariensis, buylded by the companions of Hercules.

Ictus, A famous phasitier of Tarentum, which to be the stronger, stronger, abstayned from women all his lyfe.

I D

Ida, æ, f. g. A mountayne which lyeth nigh Troy.

Idæi dactili, People called also Corybantes.

Ideus, a, um, Of the mountayne Ida.

Idālium, A mountayne and citie in the Ile of Cyprus, dedicated vnto Venus.

Idālius, a, um, Of that mountayne, or Venus.

Idanthyrsus, A famous king of Scythia, which subdued a great part of Asia.

Idas, æ, The husbande of Marpissa, a man of excellent fauour and beautie.

Idaspes, A ryuer running by Parthia and Indie, and at last falleth into the great ryuer called Indus. In this ryuer is founde much golde and precious stones.

Idicus, a, um, Of the mountayne Ida.

Idmon, A southsayer, the sonne of Apollo and Asteria.

Idomeneus, A king of Candie, which came with the Greekes to Troy. In his returne being troubled with tempestes, he vowed, that if he returned safe into his realme, he would offer whatsoeuer he met first. wherefore when he would haue offered his sonne, who first mette him at his landing: the people arose agaynst him, and dryue him out of the countrey. Then sayled he into Apulia, and buylded a citie, which he called Petilia, on the mountayne Salentinum in Calabre.

Idothea, The daughter of Proteus king of Egypte.

Idumæa, A region in Syria tayning to Egipt, and bordering vpon Palestine.

Idume, A citie in the countrey called Idumæa, about the which is great abundance of Palme or Date trees.

Idyia, The wyfe of Aeta king of Colchis.

I E

Iēna, A ryuer of Spaine.

Ierusalem, The chiefe citie of Judea, loke Hierosolyma.

Iēs, etis, A citie of Achaia, scituate vpon a promontorie of the same name.

Iesus, The sonne of God, and of the most pure virgin Marye. Although in the common translation of the Byble in latine, it seemeth there were byuers other Iewes so named: yet in the Hebrue tongue, as Beroaldus writeth in his booke De verbo mirifico, there was some diuersitie in the letters of the name of one Saniour, from them that were in the other called Iesus. For in his glorious and Wonderfull name, were the diuersis called Terragrammaton, with one consonant, called Schin, which is one S. of the Hebrues, wherein was a mystical or hyd signification of his humanitie, although the whole name be interpreted Sauiour: who being conceiued diuinitie with God the father, begotten of him before the worlde was created, and without time, willingly for the redemption of man descended into the bodye of the blessed virgin, and was conceyued in hir by the holy Ghost, the thirde person in Godhead, and of hir borne the 3962. yeare after the creation of the worlde: and being God and man, liued here xxxii. yeares in forme of pouertie, and then being betrayed by his owne disciple, was by the Iewes (his owne people) most cruelly nayled on the crosse, the yeare after the creatio of the world, 3994.

I G

Ignatius, An holy bishop of Antioche, the thirde after saint Peter, disciple to saint John the Euangelist. In the time of Traian he was condemned to be deuoured of beastes, and as he was leade towarde Rome with tenne men of warre, whome for their crueltie he called Leopardes, he by the way confirmed (if Chrisostom may in the feyth, as well by prayers as by sermons, laying in thys wyse: so that I may finde Christ and vnite him. I wolde there shoulde come hyther me fire, gibbets, beastes, crashing of bones, rentinge of all the bodye, and all the torments of the deuill, whereby I may receyue Christ. I am the wheate of Christ, to whome be grounde with beastes teeth, that I may be founde to be pure and fine manchet. He was martyred after the incarnation about 80. yeares.

Ignipotens, One of the surnames of Vulcanus.

I L

Ilba, or Ilua, An Iland in the Tuscane see, where is great plentie of yron.

Ilerda, A citie of Spaine called Leyda, or Leryda.

Ilia, The mother of Romulus and Rhemus.

Iliacus, a, um, Of Troy.

Ilias, adis, The worke of Homere of the siege of Troy.

* Ilias malorum, A prouerbe vsed when many and great mischefes and misfortunes happen to a man.

Iliberis, A citie in the prouince of Narbon.

Ilienses, Auncient people of the Ile Corsica.

Ilione, The proper name of the eldest daughter of Priamus.

Ilioneus, The proper name of a Troyan.

Ilissus, The name of a ryuer in the prouince of Athens.

Ilithyia, A name of Diana.

Ilium, The palace of Priamus. It is taken for Troy.

Ilius, a, um, Of Troy.

Ilixerris, A citie of Narbon, after Pomponius: after Ptolomie, the chefe citie of Grandze in Spaine.

Ilipula, An hill in Spaine, called commonly Ilipa, or Ilpa.

Ilipo, A citie of Spayne.

Ilitherris, A citie of Pyrenee.

Illyria, Illyris, or Illyrium, A countrey which hath on the north, both the countries Pannoniam superiorem and inferiorem: on the west, Histriam: on the east, Mysiam superiorem: on the south, the sea Hadriaticum. That countrey is now called Sclauonie, or Wendenlande.

Illyricus, a, um, Of Illyria.

Ilua, An Iland by Tuscane, loke Ilba.

Iluco, A towne in Europe.

Iluris, A citie of Iberia.

Ilus, The sonne of Tros king of Troyanes, that buylded Ilium.

I M

Imantopodes, A people of Aethiope, which haue crooked legges.

Imaus, A mountayne in India.

Imbrasus, a, um, Of the towne or Iland called Imbrus.

Imbrus, An Iland of Thrace, and a towne in the same is so called.

Imola, imolæ, A citie of Italie, sometyme called Forum Cornelij.

I N

Inaccessa, Called of the Greekes Aboros, An Iland in Aegypte, to the which is no commyng.

Inachia, The countrey of Peloponnesus.

Inachides, The sonne or nephewe of Inachus. Sometime one of Argos.

Inachis, The daughter or neece of Inachus.

Inachus, The first king of Argyues.

Inalpini, The people that dwell vpon the Alpes.

Inarime, An Ile in the Tuscane sea. Also a mountayne.

Incensimarium, rij, neut. ge. The name of the inner treasurie in the tēple of Saturne in Rome, where treasure was kept agaynst certaine necessitie and daunger. It was called also Cimeliarchium.

India, A great riche countrey, called in Englishe Inde, lying on the southeast partes of the worlde, which as Ptolomeus writeth, is deuided into two partes. The one is called Inde within the ryuer of Ganges, which on the west is bounded with Arachosia & Gedrosia, on the east, with the great ryuer called Ganges: on the north, with the hyll called Imaus: on the south, west, with part of the Indian sea. The other part of Inde without Ganges, is bounded on the west, with the syde ryuer Ganges: on the north, with part of Scythia & Serica: on the east, with the region called Cumarum: on the south, with the Indian sea. Alexander, great Alexanders anders admirall, affirmed (as Arrianus wryteth) that it was foure monethes iourney by the playnes of Inde. Megasthenes sayd, that the breadth of Indie from the east to the west, cōtaineth 16000. furlongs, which is 2102. myles. The length from the North, to the south 22000. furlongs, which is 2850. myles. Cteſias affirmeth it to be as much as the reſidue of Aſia. But Oneſicritus, which wrote the acts of Alexander, demeth it to be the thirde parte of Aſia. There are alwaye two ſommers, and fruites and grayne twiſe gathered. The windes be alwayes temperate, the beaſtes and foules much greater than in the other countreys, and of moze diuers kindes. The names of the countreys and cities there, be nowe otherwyſe than they were in the tyme of the auncient writers. They which be nowe knowne, ſhall be declared in their places, wyth the Mountaynes and Ryuers, which are great aboue all other.

Indus, i, m.g. A noble ryuer, that commeth from the great mountayne Taurus, and incloſeth Indie on the weſt, and runneth into the Indian ſea. Into this ryuer run xix. great and famous ryuers, the leaſt of them is moze than the great ryuer of Dunowe, where he is broadeſt. Strabo ſayth, that they, which doe wryte moſt moderately of Indus, doe affirme, that he is in breadth fifty furlonges, which is twelue myles and a halfe. The water thereof cauſeth great fertilitie when it ouerfloweth, and thereof many kindes of pleaſaunt and holſome fruites doe ſpring without labour.

Ingeniculus, A figure among the ſtarres, called now Hercules.

Inguinium, A citie in Liguria, auncient and riche.

Initia, orum, neut. gene. plur. num. Sacrifice done vnto Ceres.

Initiorum dies, Dayes on the which thoſe ſacrifices were kept.

Ino, huius Inus, The daughter of Cadmus, wife to Athamas king of Thebes, which (her huſbande being mad, and Learchus hir ſonne ſlayne) threwe herſelfe into the Sea.

Inous, a, um, Of Ino.

Inſubres, Lumbardes: peoperipe men of the Duchye of Melayne.

Interamna, A citie in Italy.

Inutrium, A towne in Almaine, called Inſprough.

Inuus, Is the ruſticall God of the Paynyms, called alſo Pan.

I O

Io, The daughter of Inachus.

Ioannes, A proper name of Hebzewe, and ſignifieth the grace of God.

Ioannes Baptiſta, Sonne of Zacharias, and Elizabeth, of the tribe of Leui, was ſanctified before he was borne, and declared by an Aungell, that his name ſhoulde be John. And becauſe his father did not forthwith beleeue it, he was ſpeecheleſſe vntill the eyght daye after the byrth of the childe, and that he had wzitten in Tables, his name is John: then was his mouth opened, and he ſpake glozyfying God, & made then the Pſalme: Benedictus dominus deus Iſraell. This John was of ſuch perfection and holineſſe, that our Sauiour Chriſt teſtified of him, that he went in the ſpirite and truth of Helias the Prophet: but yet was he moze than a prophete, & the meſſenger promiſed by the Prophete Malachias, that God woulde ſende, which ſhoulde prepare the way before him. Semblably John teſtified of Chriſt that he was the ſonne of God. John liued in wilderneſſe, his garment was of Camellus heares, his girdell of a skinne about his loynes, his meate Locuſtæ, & hony of the woodes. He baptized onely by water, teaching repentaunce and the approaching of the kingdome of heauen. But becauſe he ſpake to Herode, it was not lawfull for him to haue his brothers wife, he was by him put in priſon, and finally, at the petition of the daughter of Herodiades, who daunced before him (by the perſwation of Herodiades, who was his brothers wyfe) hys head was ſtriken of, and in a diſhe brought by the mayden vnto hir mother in open banket. Ioſephus antiquitatum. lib. 18. calleth him a very god man, who commaunded the Jewes to labour to get vertue, to keepe true religion towarde God, and by baptiſme to ioyne togither in one. Alſo he ſayth that many men thought, that in the battayle betweene Herode and Aretha, by the iuſt vengeaunce of God, for putting John Baptiſte to death, the hoſte of Herode was vtterly deſtroyed. He was borne ſomewhat before the natiuitie of Chriſt, and was put to death before Chriſte ſuffered his paſſion, one yeare.

Ioannes, Apoſtle and Euangeliſt, ſonne of Zebedæus, brother of James the Apoſtle, called the moze, was of Chriſt moſt tenderlye beloued, and in the tyme of the Emperour Domitian, was exiled into Pathmos, where he wzate the Apocalipſis. After the death of Domitian, in the tyme of Pertinax, he returned to Epheſus, and there remayning vnto the tyme of Traiane, he rayſed many Churches, did ſet them in order, and being of great age, died xviii. yeares after the paſſion of Chriſt, as Sophronius wziteth, and was buryed at Epheſus. Polycrates, an auncient and holy biſhop in Aſia, in his epiſtle to Victor biſhop of Rome, wziteth in this wyſe: Alſo John which layde his heade vpon our Lordes breaſt, who was the chiefe prieſt, and wore the pontificall plate or table, martyr and doctour of the Churche, ſlept at Epheſus. He wzate hys Goſpell laſt of all the Euangeliſtes, in the laſt ende of his lyfe, wherein he declareth the diuinitie of our Sauiour, moze than any of the other, which by the holy ghoſt was reſerued vnto him.

Iocaſta, was daughter of Creon, and firſt wyfe of Laius king of Thebes, after whoſe death ſhe being ignozant, maryed Oedipus hir naturall ſonne. After that hir ſonnes Polynices & Etheocles, which ſhe had by Oedipus, had one ſlayne the other in battayle, ſhe alſo killed hir ſelfe.

Iochabella, The name of Moyſes mother.

Iohel, A prophet borne in Bethon, in the lande of Rubim. He propheried much of Hieruſalem, and finall concluſion of the Gentiles.

Iol, A citie of Numidia.

Iolaus, The ſonne of Iphiclus, of whome the people of Sardinia were named Iolenſes.

Iolcos, A towne of Theſſaly.

Iole, The daughter of Eurytus king of Aetolia, whome Hercules loued ſo much, that he ſerued hir in a womans apparell, and ſpanne on a diſtaffe.

Ion, The name of a Greeke poete.

Ionas, A prophete of the countrey of Cariathamaum, not farre from Bzotus, a citie of the Greekes, nigh to the ſea in Syria, in the tyme of Helias, and was the ſonne of the poze widowe, and him did Helias reſtore vnto life for the hoſpitalitie of his mother, when he came to full age, he was by almightie God ſent to the great citie of Ninive in Aſſyria, and as he wouldе haue fled from the Lorde, and haue turned his iourney vnto Tharſus, he was deuoured of a Whale, and being at the laſt caſt vp into the lond out of the whales mouth, whē he had borne three dayes in his belly, he went forth and preached in Ninive, in ſuch wyſe, that the people by penance reſtrayned the ſwoorde of God, which was redie to ſtrike them. Afterwarde Jonas, vexed with heauineſſe of minde, returned to his countrey, nor there long abyding, taking with him his mother, went to the lande of Sur, and as he haunted the lande of Saar, he there byed, and was buryed in the grane of Cineæus the Judge. He prophecied that when men ſhoulde ſee in Hieruſalem much people come from the weſt partes of the woylde, then ſhoulde the citie be deſtroyed vnto the harde earth. Ionas, in hebzue ſignifieth a culuer, or a deſtroyer of people.

Ionia, A region in Greece of Aſia, wherein were the cities of Epheſus, Milenus, Priena, and other, and the people thereof of Ephesius, Milesius, Priena, and other, and the people thereof be called Ionæs, and the tongue Ionica, and the ſea toyning to it Mare Ionicum.

Ionicus, a, um, & Ionius, a, um, and Ioniacus, a, um, Of Ionia.

Iopas, A king of Affrike, one of Dydos wooers.

Ioppe, es, ſg. A citie of the countrey of Paleſtina, not farre from Jeruſalem, ſtanding by the ſea. This is a moſt auncient citie, for it was buylded before the vniuerſall floud. Some men doe ſuppoſe it to be the hauen which is called Port Jaffe.

Iordānis, A fayre ryuer in Iudæa, which diuideth Galilee from the reſidue of Iudæa, and falleth into the redde ſea.

Ios, An yle where Homer was buryed.

Ioſeph, The ſonne of Jacob the patriarke, was thzough enuie ſolde by his brethren vnto a marchaunt, who brought him into Aegypt, and gaue him to Putiphar, great maiſter of houſhoulde wyth king Pharao, whoſe wife burning in concupiſcence, becauſe Joſeph woulde not commit aduiterie with hir, cauſed him to be caſt into priſon, where he declaring to the kinges cup bearer the ſignification of his dzeame, was afterwarde by the ſame cup bearer remembzed vnto king Pharao, when her had dzeamed a dzeame, which her wouldе haue expounded. And he expounding the kinges dzeame, was made high ſtewarde of his Realme. So that by his moſt excellent wiſedome, ſuch aboundaunce of grayne was brought into the kings barnes, and there kept during the .vii. plentifull peres, that the .vii. peres of ſcarcitie next enſuing, it ſufficeth not onely to relieue all the people of Aegypt, but alſo refreſhed other countreyes, and made the king exceedingly riche. Moreouer, the brethzen of Joſeph, being ſent by Jacob their father to bye corne in Aegypt, not knowing their brother Joſeph, were by him ſundzie times apprehended, and compelled to fetch their yonger brother Beniamin: and at the laſt Joſeph diſcouering himſelfe vnto them, cauſed them to fetch him and their father into Aegipt, with all his familie, where they were honourably enterteyned of king Pharao and Joſeph. And Joſeph had there two ſonnes, Ephraim and Manaſſes, and liued an hundzed and tenne yeares. Joſeph ſignifieth increaſe, or a great officer. He died before the incarnation about. 1652. yeares.

Ioſephus, The ſonne of Mattathias, a prieſt of Hieruſalem, wzote in Greeke the battayle of the Jewes, and deſtruction of the citie by Veſpaſian and Titus, whereat he himſelfe was preſent. He wzote alſo of the antiquitie of the Jewes. He was among the Romaines had in ſuch reuerence and honour, that his ymage was ſet vp in the citie. He had the ſpirite of prophecie, and being priſoner, tolde vnto Veſpaſian, that he ſhoulde be Emperour of Rome. Alſo in his booke of antiquities, he wziteth in this wyſe: At this tyme was Jeſus, a wiſe man, if it be lawfull to call him a man, he was a doer of wonderfull wzakes, and a teacher of thoſe men, which willingly doe heare thinges that be true: he ioyned vnto him many Jewes, and alſo Gentiles: this man was Chriſt. When Pilate by the enuie of the chiefe men of our nation, had iudged him to be put on the croſſe, he forſooke not them, whome from the beginning he loued, but appeared to them the thirde day, eftſoones alyue, according as the prophetes by diuine inſpiration ſpake before of him and that innumerable myracles ſhoulde be done by him. Hitherto wzote Joſephus: wherebp appeareth his excellent wiſedome, and ſpeciall grace, which he had receyued: and it repugneth not much, that in his hart he embzaced the fayth of Chriſt. He was after the incarnation of Chriſt. 76. yeares.

Iotapata, A citie in Syria.

Iouianus Pontanus, A poet.

Iouiniani, Were men of armes, ſo called of Maximinian the Emperour, which did vaiaunttye in the countrey of Illyria.

I P

Iphianaſſa, The wyfe of Melampus, whome for hir beau-

I P I R I S

tie, Juno turned into furie or madneſſe. Alſo the daughter of Iganemnon and Clytemneſtra.

Iphiclus, Sonne of Alcmena, borne with Hercules at one birth, but Hercules was gotten by Jupiter, and Iphiclus by Amphitrio. And when two ſerpentes came to the cradell of Iphiclus, and ſlewe him: after when they came to Hercules, he toke in euery of his handes one, and ſlewe them. There was an other Iphiclus, the ſonne of Phylacus and Clymene, who (as Heſiodus ſayth) was ſo light and ſwift, that he ranne vppon the eares of wheate as they grewe, and did not hurt them. Alſo that he ranne on the water as well as on the lande. Reade Cœlium, Lectionum antiq. lib. 2. cap. 5.

Iphicrates, A noble man of Athens.

Iphidamas, The ſonne of Antenor.

Iphigenia, The daughter of king Agamemnon, whome he woulde haue offered in ſacrifice going to Troy: but the goddeſſe Diana being moued with pitie, accepted the offering of an hinde in ſtede of hir.

Iphimedia, The wife of Aloeus, and mother of the two gigantes Otus and Ephialtes.

Iphinaſſa, Idem quod Iphianaſſa.

Iphinous, One of the Centaures.

Iphis, The daughter of Lycus and Telethuſa, who the day of hir mariage was ſodaynly become a man, where as he had bene a woman euer before. For when Lycus taking a long iourney, perceyued his wife with childe, he ſtraitly commaunded hir, if it were a woman chylde, to deſtroy it: if it were a man chylde to keepe it, and bzing it vp. She being delitered of a mayde, and lothe eyther againſt nature to deſtroye hir owne chylde, or on the other ſide vtterly to diſobey hir huſbands commaundement, toke an indifferent waye, and fayned that ſhee had brought forth a ſonne, keeping it vp alwap in mans apparell. At the length when he came to age, his father appointed him to marry a mayde called Ianthes. Then Telethuſa perceyuing the matter couldе no longer be hyd, and fearing hir huſbands diſpleaſure, called to the gods for helpe, by whoſe power, ſhe was euen then turned to a man, whoſe figure to that day in apparell ſhee had reſembled.

Iphitus, The ſonne of Praxonidis, which firſt ordeyned the ſolemne playes called Olympia. Alſo the name of a Tropan.

I R

Iria flauia, A citie of Spayne.

Irpini, Certayne people.

Irus, ri, m.g. A begger, of whome Homere maketh mention, who was great and feeble, and being in Ithaca, the countrey of Ulyſſes, (he being abſent) conſumed his vitayles wyth the wwers of Penelope. Wherefore Ulyſſes at hys returne home, ſlewe him with his fiſt.

* Iro pauperior, As bery a begger as Iruſty: as poze as Job: in extreme neceſſitie.

I S

Is, A citie, eyght dayes iourney from Babilon.

Isca, The ryuer in Englande called Exe.

Iſæus, A famous Rhetozician, which inuented to make euery matter compendious.

Iſagora, A mans name.

Iſandrus, The ſonne of Bellerophon.

Iſāpis, A ryuer nigh to Celenna.

Iſara, A riuer comming out of the riuer of Meine, wher the hill called Cemanus is topned to the Reine, and ſo runneth by Duuentia into the gouffe of Venice.

Iſatis, An yle againſt Delia, called alſo Oenōtris.

Iſauria, A region in Aſia toyning to Cilicia. Some doe take it to be part of Cilicia.

Iſaurum, A citie in the countrey of Pamphylia.

Iſca, A citie in Denonſhire called Excester.

Iſchalis, A towne in Somerſetſhire called Ilcheſter.

Iſchomache, The name of Hippodamia.

Iſchópolis, A citie of Cappadocia called Tripolis.

Iſcis, Idem quod Iſaia.

Iſiacus, ci, The prieſt of the Goddeſſe Iſis.

Iſis, called alſo Io, one of the harlots of Iupiter, whome he turned into a Cowe for feare of Iuno his wife.

Iſmael, Was the ſonne of Abraham by Agar his whores maiden, of whome the Sarazens be called Iſmaelitæ, as they be called alſo Agareni.

Iſmarus, i, maſcgen. & plu. Iſmara, orum, A mountayne in Thracia.

Iſmene, The daughter of Oedipus.

Iſmenias, The name of an excellent Muſitrel, which plaied on the thaulkies.

Iſmenides, The women of Thebes.

Iſmenus, A riuer in the countrey of Bœotia, named of Iſmenus the ſonne of Pelaſgus.

Iſocrates, The name of a famous Orator, of wonderfull eloquence: out of whole ſchoole proceeded the moſt excellent Oratours of Greece.

Iſpalis, A citie in Spayne called nowe Siuile.

Iſpolum, A citie of the Vlumbrians, called now Iſpellum.

Iſrael, Signifieth a man ſeeing God. Alſo the name of Iacob the patriarke: and the people of the Iewes were called by that name. Howbeit ſometyme it was attributed onely to ten tribes, the tribes of Iuda and Beniamin being ſeuered from them.

Iſſa, An yle in the Venetian ſea, lopning to Slauonie.

Iſſus, A citie in Sicile, and a riuer of Syria.

Iſter, A great ryuer called Danubius, in dutche, Donowe. It commeth out of an hill in Germanie, called of Plinie Noba, of Ptolomie Arnoba, of Tacitus Arbona. It receyueth into it three ſcore riuers, whereof the more part be nauigable, and runneth by Swaue, Bauier, Owſtrike, Hungarie, Walachia, and ſo through Europe and falleth into the ſea called Pontus in ſeuen ſundrie places, as Solinus and Mela write. But Plinie and Tacitus affirme but five. Herodotus, Arrianus and other but foure. Whether it is in Germanye, it is called Danubius, and when it commeth into a part of Thrace called Iſtria, where it is bydeft, it is then called Iſter.

Iſthmus, mi, maſcgen. A narrow part of the countrey where two ſeas are but a finall diſtaunce aſunder, enclofing the lande on both ſides: in ſuch a place is ſet the citie of Corinthus in Greece. There be diuers ſuch places in Grecia, and of them were certayne playes called Iſthmia.

Iſtonium, A towne of Italy called Guaſto.

Iſtria, æ, A part of Italy, marching on Illyria, called nowe Slauonie.

Iſus, The ſonne of Priamus.

Italia, A noble countrey, which is inuironed on the weſt, with the mountaynes Alpes: on the north, with the ſea Adriaticum: on the eaſt, and the ſouth, with the ſea Mediterraneum, and Freturn Siculum. It alſo conteyneth theſe Regions, Liguria, Ethruria, Vmbria, Flaminia, Latium, Apulium, Campania, Apulia, Venetia, Picênum, Gallia Ciſalpina, called Lumbardie. The length thereof (after Plinie) is. 1020. myles: the breadth in ſome place betweene the two ſeas. 410. myles. It was ſometyme named Magna Græcia, becauſe it was inhabited with Greekes, as Pyrrhus writeth. Solinus reſembleth the figure thereof to an Oken leafe, extending more in length then in breadth, towarde the ende being dentled, as it were into two hornes, whereof the one lyeth towarde the ſea Ionium: the other loketh to the narrowe ſea of Sicilie, called Freum Siculum: in the narroweſt place it paſſeth not in breadth twentye myles.

Italica, A citie in Italy, which by an other name is called Confinum. There is another in Spayne, where Silius Italicus was borne.

Italienſis, A Citizen of Italica.

Italicus, a, um, Of Italy.

Italus, An Italian.

Ithaca, An yle lying before Ithalis, and was King of the countrey, who thereof was called Ithacus.

Ithome, A towne in Peloponneſus, an other in Theſſaly.

Ithonea, or Ithonia, A citie of Bœotia, of the which Pallas was called Ithonia.

Ithyphallus, The name of Priapus, the moſt diſhoneſt and abhominable Idoll.

Ithyra, A towne in the mountayne of Taurus towarde Parthia.

Ithyreus, a, um, Of Ithyra: ſometyme of Parthia: as Ithyreæ ſagittæ, Arrowes of the Parthians.

Iturriſſa, A citie of Spaine.

Ituria, A region in Arabia or Syria, of which the people are called Iturei.

Iymoneus, A valiaunt man, the ſonne of Hyperorchus.

Iys, The ſonne of Tereus, and Progne, who (as Poetes feigne) was turned into a Phelaunt.

Iuba, A king of Mauritania, in tyme of the ciuill warre a conſtant defender of Pompeys part: who after Pompey was ouercome, ioyned his power with Scipio, and in a great battayle refiſted Cæſar. But in the ende perceyuing himſelfe to be ouercome, rather then he wouldo come into his enimyes handes, Petreius and he valiauntly running eche at other, ſlue themſelues. Cæſar afterwarde brought his ſonne in triumph.

Iubar, iúbaris, n. gen. A ſtarre, which is alſo called Heſperus, and Lucifer.

Iudæa, A countrey in Aſia, which hath on the weſt, Mare Cyprium: on the north, Phœnicia, and Syria: on the eaſt, Arabia: on the ſouth, the lande of Aegypt. Iere ceyued that name of Iudas the ſonne of Iacob the patriarke, where before it was called Chananæa, of Chananæus, the fourth ſonne of Cham.

Iudæi, Not onely the people of Iudæa, but alſo they be ſo called, which doe obſerue their ſuperſtition. They were expelled out of this realme of Englande in the tyme of king Richarde the firſt, for their cruelties in ſlearing of chriſtien children, like as they haue beene out of Fraunce and Spayne: and now of late out of Portugall.

Iudaicus, a, um, Of Iudæa.

Iuernia, Irelande. Plinie calleth it Iuuerna.

Iugantinus deus, Was emonge Paynyms the God whome they ſuppoſed to haue auctho ritie ouer the ridges of hilles.

Iugárius, rij, m. g. A ſtreete in Rome, where was an autter of Iuno, at the which if any were wedded, they ſuppoſed that matrimonie to be moſt ſurely ioyned.

Iúgula, læ, fœm. gen. A celeſtiall ſigne called Orion.

Iugum, The ſigne called Libra.

Iugurtha, A king of Numidia, which warred vpon the Romaynes, and of them was ouercome.

Iugurthinus, a, um, Of Iugurth.

Iulia, A kindred, which proceeded from Aſcanius ſonne of Eneas, called Iulus. Alſo a towne of Calez in the countrey of Spayne.

Iuliánus, a, um, and Iulius, a, um, and Iúleus, a, um, Of Iulius.

Iuliobana, Gonneſſette in Fraunce.

Iuliobriga, A towne in Spayne called Logroino.

Iuliomagus, Angiers in Fraunce.

Iulis, A citie in the ple of Cæa, the countrey of Simonides the Poet.

Iulium Carnicum, A citie in the Dukedome of Auſtriche.

Iulius, The moneth of July, which toke his name of Iulius Cæſar.

Iulius Cæſar, The firſt and moſt famous Emperour of Rome. Vide Cæſar. His actes are briefly rehearſed of Plinie. lib. 7. cap. 25. The name of Iulius, deſcended of Aſcanius the ſonne of Eneas. To the honour of this man, the ſeuenth moneth of the yeare was called Iulius, which before was named Quintilis, becauſe it was the fifth from March, where the olde Romaynes beganne the yeare.

Iulus, Otherwiſe named Aſcanius, the ſonne of Eneas. Alſo the name of a long dedicated to Diana.

Iunganni,

Iunganni, People in the countrey of Liguria.

Iunius, A proper name of the Romaines, as Iunius Brutus, Iunius Columella. It is alſo a moneth called Iune. For when Romulus had firſt deuided the people into olde men and yong, called in Latine Maiores & Minores, he honoured them with two monethes, calling the one Manus, or May: the other Iunius, of yong men called in Latine, Iuuenes.

Iuno, The daughter of Saturne and Ops, ſiſter and wyfe of Iupiter, called alſo Héra.

Iuno monéta, Done after that the kings were expelled out of Rome, there was a great earthquake, at which tyme there was hearde in the Capitoll out of the chappell of Iuno, a voyce, warning them, that they ſhoulde make a full pacification of hir wrath: and ſo doing the earthquake ceaſſed. Of that warning, which in Latine is Monitio, ſhe was called Iuno monéta: and to the honour of hir was made one chappell in the Capitoll by Camillus, an other on the hyll called Iuentinus, wherin was ſet hir Idoll brought from the citie called Veiæ, deſtroyed by the Romaines: both theſe chappels were called Aedes Iunonis Monétæ.

Iunónius, a, um, Of Iuno.

Iunonícolæ, The ſurname of the Phaliſcians, becauſe they worſhipped Iuno.

Iunonígena, The ſurname of Vulcane.

Iunonia, One of the yles called Inſulæ fortunatæ.

Iupiter, Iupitris, or Iupiteris. Al. er Pyriſcian. nor Iouis, which cometh of the nominatiue caſe Iouis, The ſonne of Saturnus and Ops, king of Creta, who draue his father out of his realme, and was a man valiaunt and wyſe, but exceedingly giuen to lecherie, in deflouring as well maydens as wyues. Notwithſtanding for his proweſſe and wytte, after his death he was of all the Greekes honoured for a God, and called father and king of Goddes. His name was in ſuch eſtimation among the Gentiles or Paynyms, that they gaue to him ſoueraintie in all thinges. In ſo much as they alſo named him God of Hoſpitalitie. And therefore when any thing was violated, either by the good man of the houſe, or by his gueſt, they called on Iupiter Xenius: when truſt in friendſhip was broken, they called to take vengeance Iupiter Philius: when companions betrayed one another, Iupiter Hereus: when kinſmen, Iupiter Homogenus: when they which were in league togither deceyued eche other, then cryed they Iupiter Euhorcius.

Iura, A mountaine in Fraunce, which diuideth high Burgoyne from Swytzerlande. Some call it Vogeſus.

Iuſtinianus, An Emperour of Rome, who valiauntly ouercame the Sarazins, and forced them to be at league with him. Licontius being incyted by Galimcus patriarke of Conſtantinople, expelled this man out of the Empire, and in reproche cutting of his noſe, ſent him in baniſhment to Cherſona. Not long after by ayde of the Bulgares he was reſtored to the Empire, and euer after ſhewed extreme cruelties towarde his enimies and and their aides. For ſo oft as he moued his hande to wype the filth from his noſe, remembring the villanye that his aduerſaries had wrought him, hee commaunded one of them to be pulled out of preſon and put to death.

Iuſtinus, An Emperour, come of a poore kynrede (his mothers brother Iuſtinus Emperour before him being but a ſwyneheard) ſucceeded his vncle at the age of. xxiv. yeares in the Empire, and gouerned it nobly the ſpace of xl. yeres, augmenting it honorably. He cauſed the lawes ciuile, diſperſed in infinite volumes, to be reduced into 50. bookes (called the Digeſtes) and 4. bookes of Inſtitutes to be made, and likewyſe the Code, conteyning the decrees of the Emperours, although he himſelfe knewe no letters. An excellent Prince, if he had not bene corrupted with auarice, and the herſie of Eutyches. He was after the incarnation of Chriſt. 570. yeares.

Iuturna, The ſiſter of Turnus.

Iuuenalis, A poet, which wrote Satyres.

Iuuentas, tatis, & Iuuentus, tútis, fœm. gen. The Goddeſſe of youth.

Iuuerna, The olde name of Irelande, called of ſome Iuernia, & Hibernia. The Greekes call it Iuernion, & Ierna.

Ixion, A king of Theſſalye, who falſely ſtake promyſe with his wiues father, and threwe him into a pit of fire. He alſo called by Iupiter vnto a feaſt, ſtirred Iuno to commit aduiterie, which Iupiter perceyuing, made a cloude like vnto Iuno, and deliuered hir to him, on whome hee begat the people called Centauri. But when hee had auaunted, that he had companyed with Iuno, hee was driuen downe into hell, and there bounde to a wheele alwayes turning and full of Serpentes, as poetes feigne.

Ixioneus, a, um, Of Ixion.

Ixionides, Pirithous, the ſonne of Ixion.

Labatus, A mans name, often mencioned of Plutarch.

Labdacus, A king of Thebes, father of Laius, who was father of Oedipus.

Labeo, A mans name.

Laberius, A poet, a gentleman of Rome.

Labicanum, A towne in Italy.

Labici, The inhabitaunts of that towne.

Labiénus, A noble man of Rome, captaine vnder Cæſar in Fraunce. Alſo an hiſtoriographer.

Labicus, Was the name of the ſonne of Minos, who was named alſo Glaucus.

Labio, The ſurname of a Romayne.

Laboriæ, The name of a countrey in Italy, vulgarly called Terra laboris, the lande of labour.

Laborinus, A field in Campania, where the ſtubble of corne is ſo great, that the people doe burne it in ſtede of wood.

Labynetus, The ſonne of Nitocris Queene of Babilon, where afterwarde he alſo reigned.

Labyrinthus, A place made in ſuch wyſe, that who ſo euer came into it, couilde not iſſue out without a very perfite guide, or without a threde leading him. Wherof the bottome or clewe ſhould be left at the entrie. Of this name were three principall places: One in Aegypt (by the patrone wherof the other were made) deſcribed by Herodotus (who reporteth that he ſawe it) ſaying that it was aboue the great pole called Myrios, towarde the citie of Crocodiles. Strabo in his. xvij. booke, calleth the layde pole or meere Muris. Herodotus in Euterpe ſayeth, that firſt there were. xij. halles couered, fire towarde the north, and fire towarde the ſouth, all incloſed with one wall. Within the wall were houſes in two diuers ſortes: one for: vnder the ground another aboue ground ouer them, euery ſort being in number. 1500. The ouermoſt (as he ſayeth) he beheld, the neathermoſt hee mought not be ſuffered to ſee: but as he heard by report of them which ſawe it, he wrote. The ouermoſt, which he did beholde, exceeded all workes of mennes handes: for hee went from a hall into parlours, from parlours into chambers, from chambers into other ſollars, and from parlours into other halles. The beame which bare the ſtones was of ſtone, wrought with ymagery, euery hall enuironed with pillers of white ſtone. In the ende of that Labyrinthus ſtandeth a ſtone, large beneath, and ſmall on the toppe, called Pyramis, which is of length, xl. paces, in the which are wrought great Images, and thereat is the entrie vnder ground to the other Labyrinthus. In other Labyrinthus was in Creta, made by Dedalus, by the commaundement of Minos, for a priſon: but it was much leſſe then the other. Wut by diuers doores, enterings and iſſuings out, it deceyued them, which come into it. The thirde was in Italy, by a towne called Cluſium, made by king Porſena: and (as Plinie and Varro write) was of ſquare ſtone, the ſides. 50. foote brode in height. 50. foote. Into the which, who ſo euer went, without a clewe or bottom of threde, couilde neuer returne. On this place ſtode v. Pyramides or steples, one at euery corner, and one in the myddle, euery of them. 150. fote highe: on the toppes of them great bolles of brasse, and thereon horses with wynges, from which did hang chaynes, hauing belles at them which mooued with the wynde, rendred a sharpe sounde. Also vpon the foure bolles of brasse stode foure other Pyramides or sharpe pyllers, of an hundreth fote hygh, and on that which was in the myddle, stode one sharpe pyller, whose height Varro durst not rehearse, because it seemed a thing incredible. All these thynges were made by great kinges, which hauing abundaunce of treasure, and lacking learning, did sette their delyte in such vayne ostentation.

Lacæna, A woman of Lacedemonie.

Lacænus, a, um, Of Lacedemonie.

Laccobriga, A citie of Spaine.

Lacedemon, A noble citie in Grèece, called also Sparta, in the region of Achaia. The countrey is called Laconia.

Lacedæmonius, a, um, Of Lacedemonie.

Lachesis, One of the thræ Ladies called Parcæ, whome poets did feigne to haue the rule and continuance of mans lyfe.

Laciburgium, A citie in Germanie, called Rostokium.

Lacinium, An elbowe of lande, lying betweene the sea called Adriaticum, and the sea Ionium.

Lácinius, a, um, Of or belonging to that promontorie.

Lacippo, A citie in Spayne, called also Lapecia.

Lacon, ónis, A man of Lacedemonie.

Laconia, The country where Lacedemonie standeth.

Laconicus, a, um, Of the countrey Laconia.

Lacticinij, The surname of certaine Romaynes.

Lacus Lemanus, Losan in Sauoymountaine.

Lacydes, A philosopher of Cyrene.

Ladas, A man, who ranne so swiftly, that on the sande or dust, he left no print of his fote.

Ladon, A ryuer in Arcadie. Also one of Actæons dogges.

Leander, vide Leander.

Lælius, The familiar friende of Scipio Affrican.

Laërtes, A citie in Cilicia.

Laërtes, The sonne of Arcisius, and father of Ulysses.

Laërtiades, Ulysses the sonne of Laertes.

Laërtius, a, um, Of Laërtes.

Laërtius, The name of one which wrote the lyues of philosophers.

Læstrygones, were people which did eate mans flesh. Vide Lestrygones.

Lagia, One of the names of the yle of Delos.

Lagyges, People of Sarmatia.

Lagyra, A citie of Chersonesus.

Lais, A common harlotte in Grèece, who was of such excellent beautie, and therewyth so pleasaunt, that vnto hir out of all Grèece, there came to Corinthus, where she dwelled, men noble and ryche in great number, to companie with hir. On a tyme came to hir Demosthenes, the greatest orator of Grèece, and desired to lye with hir: of whome she asked for one night, a thousand Dragmas, which amounteth to the rate of our money at this present tyme, to. xxiij. l. xix. s. x. d. which Demosthenes hearing, departed, saying in this wyse, I will not repent me at that price, or, I will not buy repentaunce so dere. Some wryte, that shé demaunded 10000. Dragmas, which in our money ryseth to aboue 200. pounder.

Laius, A king of Thebes, and father of Oedipus, whome Oedipus vnwares slue in battayle, and wedded hys wife, which was also Oedipus mother, called Iocasta. Reade after in Oedipus.

Laletania, A countrey in Spayne, the people whereof bée called Laletani.

Lambotus, A ryuer in Affrike.

Lambrani, People dwelling about the riuer of Lambrus.

Lambrus, A ryuer of Lumbardie, which meeteth with the ryuer of Po, called Padus.

Lamia, The surname of a noble Romaine, and also of a famous harlotte.

Lamię, Be women, which beholding children, or giuing to them gyftes, doe alter the fourme of them: which children be afterwarde called Elfes, or taken with the faerie. And some such women will sucke the bloude from chyldren. They be also those, which be called Lamyes of the sayme, which doe allure yong men to companie carnally with them: and after that they be consumed in the acte of lecherie, they couet to deuour them.

Lamirus, The sonne of Hercules and Iole.

Lampetia, The daughter of Phœbus by Neera, which with hir sister Phaethusa, kept shéepe in Sicilie.

Lampeus, An hill in Arcadie.

Lampia, A ryuer in Arcadie.

Lampon, The name of an host. Also of a southsayer that did so sweare by a goose: whereof grewe a Prouerbe, Lampon iurat per auserem. Vide Erasmum in Adagijs.

Lampsacius, The sonne of Citie.

Lampsacium, A towne on the sea side called Hellespontus, in the side of Asia, where Priapus was honoured.

Lampsacénus, a, um, Of Lampsacum.

Lamyrus, vide Lamirus.

Langia, A fountaine in Nemæa, a countrey of Arcadie, where the host of Argyues was refreshed when they went against Thebes.

Laniuium, or Lanuuium, A citie in Italy belonging to the Romaynes.

Lanubium, A citie of the Latines, now called Lauinium.

Lanuuium, Looke Laniuium.

Laocoon, The sonne of Priamus.

Laodamas, One of the sonnes of king Alcinous.

Laodamia, The wyfe of Protesilaus. Also the daughter of Bellerophon, on whome Iupiter begat Sarpedon.

Laodicea, A citie in Syria, at the ryuer Lycus. Another at the mountayne Lybanus.

Laódice, or after some Laodoce, One of Priamus daughters, which was maryed to the sonne of Antenor, king of Thrace. In other Laódice, was the daughter of Agamemnon and Clytemnestra.

Laódocus, The sonne of Antenor the Troyan.

Laómedon, ontis, The father of Priamus.

Laomedontéus, a, um, & Laomedontius, a, um, Of Laómedon.

Lapethos, A citie in Cipres.

Lapithæ, People of Thessalie, of whome Pirithous was king.

Lapitheus, or Lapitheius, a, um, Of the Lapithes.

Lara, vel Larunda, A mayden, which shewed to Iuno the wanton pastymes of Iupiter with women: for the which Iupiter did cutte out hir tongue, and commaunded Mercurius to bring hir to hell: who begot on hir two sonnes, which were called Lares.

Laranda, A citie of Lycaonia.

Larentia, A famous harlotte, which because she made the people of Rome hir heire, they named hir a Goddesse, and called hir Flora. Looke Flora.

Lares, Gods which the Paynyms did suppose euery person had belonging vnto him: they were also called Penates.

Larina, The name of a famous woman of Italy.

Larine, A fountaine in Attica.

Larise, A citie of Aetolia.

Larinna, A towne of Boeotia.

Larissa, The name of diuers cities: one in Thessalia, whereof Achilles was called Larisseus: an other in Asia, whereof Iupiter was called Larisseus. The thirde in Italy, an other in Crete.

Larius, A lyake or a great pole by the citie of Comum.

Larodij, People of Scythia.

Larua, æ, sig. and Laruæ, arum, plur. A spirite, which appeareth in the night tyme. Some call it an hegge, some a goblin, some a ghost, or an elfe.

Larunda, vide Lara.

Laryna, vide Larina.

Lassia, An yle in the sea Aegeum. It was also called Anthos,

Lasthenia, A woman which was Platos scholler, comming alway into the schole in mans apparayle.

Lasus, A man in the tyme of Darius, that wrote first of musike.

musike.

Lateranus, The name of a Consull of Rome, of whose house was made a Church in the citie of Rome, of saint John, which is now called Laterancnsis.

Latiális, le, and Latiaris, re, Of the part of Italye, which was called Latium.

Latinæ, arum, Sacrifices to Iupiter, named of the Latins, who first did ordeyne them.

Latinensis, se, idem quod Latinus, a, um.

Latinus, a, um, Of the people called the Latines.

Latini, People of Latium, in Italy.

Latinus, ni, The proper name of the father in lawe to Aeneas.

Latium, tij, neut. gener. A part of Italy, betweéne the ryuers of Tyberis, and Lyris, wherein standeth the citie of Rome.

Latius, a, um, Of that countrey.

Látmus, a, um, Of Latmus.

Látmus, A mountaine in Ionia, where (as Poetes saye) the whome kyssed Endymion. Also a mountayne of Caria.

Latomiæ, or Latumiæ, arum, plur. Was a stronge pryson in the citie of Syracusis in Sicilia: an other in Sparta.

Latôna, The mother of Apollo and Diana.

Latonia, A Goddesse, called also Diana.

Latónius, a, um, Of Latóna.

Latonigenæ dij, Apollo and Diana.

Latóus, Apollo.

Lauce, An yle in the called Pontus.

Lauerna, A Goddesse, vnder whose protection theues were in Rome.

Laumia, The daughter of king Latinus, who was first betrothed to Turnus, and after gyuen in marryage to Eneas, which thing betweene the twoo Princes was cause of long and great warre: in the ende whereof Turnus was ouercome and slayne. Eneas also within thrée yeares after died, leauing his wyfe Laumia great with childe: who, fearing hir husbandes sonne Ascanius, fled away, and in the woods sojourned with the shepeheard Tyrrheus, and there was deliuered of a sonne, whome she called Iulus Syluius Posthumus, because after his fathers death he was borne in the woodes. But after a tyme Ascanius sent for hys mother in lawe, and placed hir in the kingdome, going himselfe to a citie that he builded, called Alba Longa.

Laumium, or Lanubium, A citie in Italy, called also Laurentum.

Laura, Such a place of pleasure at Samos, as Anco was at Sardis.

Laurens, tis, or Laurentis, te, Of the citie called Laurentum.

Laurentia, æ, fœ. gen. The wyfe of Faustulus, which nourished Romulus and Remus, and brought them vp in hir house as hir owne children. Because this woman was a strumpet, and of very euill lyfe, the shéepeheardes of that coast called hir Lupam: of which name was taken the occasion of that fable, that those founders of the citie of Rome, were by myracle nourished of a she wolfe, which in latine is also Lupa.

Laurentalia, Certaine feastes dedicated to Laurentia.

Laurentum, vide Lauinium.

Laureum, A place in the countrey of Grèece called Attica.

Laurion, A place in Attica, where siluer was digged.

Lauro lauinium, A citie in Italy by Laurentum.

Lausus, The sonne of Mezentius.

L E

Lea, An yland by Cyrenaica, a region of Affrike.

Leæna, A common woman of Athens, who (after Harmodius and Aristogiton had slaine Hipparchus the tyran) being tormented in sundrye sorpons, to the intent she should discouer the consperatores of that murder, spake not one worde, but byting in sunder hir tongue, she spit it in the face of Hyppias the tyranne, who caused hir to be tormented.

Leander, A yong man of the citie Abydus in Asia, on the sea coast of Hellespont. Hee was in loue wyth Hero, a beautifull maide of the towne Sestus, on the other side of the sea, ouer righ against Abydus. This man when he had oftentimes vsed in the night to swimme ouer the water to his loue Hero, at the last by misfortune of the winde rysing sodainly, the sea was made troublous, and he drowned. His carkasse was cast by at Sestus, which his loue Hero perceyuing out of a turret diu for ioye, threwe cast hirselfe into the sea.

Learchus, The sonne of Athamas and Juno, whome the father being madde, slue in the sterde of an Hart.

Lebadia, A citie of Boeotia.

Lebedus, A citie of Ionia.

Lebynthos, One of the yles called Cyclades.

Lectisternum, A solemnitie among the Paynyms, when in the honour of their Gods, Iupiter, Iuno, and Minerua, beddes were spreade in the temples, in the which first the yoels were layde, in the residue as many as myght lye and eate.

Lecton, One of the toppes of the mountaine called Ida.

Lectrum, A part of Asia lying into the sea.

Leda, The wife of Tyndarus king of Laconia. Whome (as poetes doe fable) Iupiter in the forme of a swanne did companie, and she brought forth two egges. of the one came Pollux and Helena. Which was rauished by Paris: of the other came Castor and Clytemnestra. Pollux and Castor be called Ledæi.

Legæa, One of the nymphes.

Legerda, A citie in great Armenie.

Legeo, onis, fœm. gen. A towne in Cornewall, nowe called Lesbard.

Legion, The chiefe citie of Castile called Leons.

Lemus, One of the fiue capitaynes of Boeotia, that went to Troy.

Leleges, or Lelegæ, People which were alway wandring, and inhabited sometyme in Thessaly. Some take them for the Thessalians.

Lelaps, lápis, One of Actæons dogges.

Lemánus, A pole into the which the ryuer of Roane runneth, called in French Lausane.

Lemnius, a, um, Of Lemnos.

Lemnos, One of the yles called Cyclades, wherein Vulcane was nourished. This yle was made famous by the Ladie Hypsiphile. For the women of Lemnos beyng in a furie, that their husbands were long absent in warres when they came home, conspiring together slue them all in one night, except Hypsiphile the kings daughter, who saued and conueyed awaye hir father Thoas. After when Iason going towarde the conquest of the golden fleece, came vnto Lemnos, she being in loue with him, conceyued by him twoo children twinnes: and when they were borne, the women of the countrey would haue put hir to death, for the sauing of hir father: but she in seeing was taken by Pyrates, and giuen to Lycurgus king of Nemea, whose sonne Opheltes shé nourished. But when the Argiues went to destroy Thebes, Hypsipile, while she went to shew to the Argiues a fountaine, left the childe lying on the grasse, who was slayne by a serpent. Wherefore when the father of the childe would haue put hir to death, the kings of the Argiues defended and saued hir. Some other write, that Hypsipile (when she perceiued Iason did not returne to hir againe, according to his promise) threw hirselfe into the sea, and was drowned.

Lemouices, Limosin in Fraunce.

Lémures, murum, fœm. ge plur. Spirites which doe walke night tyme horrible figures.

Lemuria, órum, ne. gen. plur. Feastes dedicated to these spirites.

Lenæum, The name of an holiday kept at Athens.

Lenæus, One of the names of Bacchus.

Lentulus, The name of a citizen of Rome.

Leo, A mans name of Byzaunce. Also a signe in the firmament.

Leochares, The name of an excellent grauer.

Leodamas, The proper name of a philosopher.

Leon, An other philosopher.

Leonides, A king of the Lacedemonians, which did incredible feates of warre against Xerxes king of Persia: and finally was slaine at the straytes called Thermopylæ, in defending Greece, with 4000. Grekes onely, against tenne hundred thousande of the hoste of Xerxes. There was also an other Leonides, which was tutour to king Alexander, when he was a childe.

Leontini, People of Sicilie.

Lepadusa, or Lopadusa, The ile of Sicilie.

Leprium, A citie of Achaia, an other in Troade.

Leptenaca, A promontorie of Indie.

Lepus, The name of two cities in Affrike the lesse.

Lerna, One of the iles called Sporades: the people thereof are called Lerij, of whose maners grewe a prouerbe Lerijmali.

Lernæus, a, um, Of Lerne, or Lerna.

Lerne, or Lerna, A lake or fenne in Achaia, about Argos, in the which was the serpent Hydra with many heads (as Poetes faigne.) In this lake the people of the cities of Argos and Micene, did throwe all the ordure and sweepinges of their stretes and houses, whereof came the prouerbe.

* Lerna malorum, whereby was signified an heape of mischiefe: or, any person in whole is all vice and abhominacion.

Leros, An ylande in the sea called Icarium.

Lertóia, A citie of Spaine, called nowe Tortosa.

Lesbos, An yle in the sea called Ægeum, wherein was the citie called Mytilene.

Lesbius, a, um, Of the yle of Lesbos.

Lestrum, A region of Indie.

Lestrygones, A people in the extreme part of Italy, in the confines of Campania, which did eate the companions of Ulysses, rosting them on broches.

Lestrygonius, a, um, Of that people.

Lethe, A ryuer of hell, the water whereof as sone as it is drunke, causeth a man to forget all thing that is passed. It is also a ryuer in Affrike.

Letheus, a, um, Of the riuer Lethe.

Leuca, A promontorie or cliboone of lande, nigh to Corinthus.

Leucadia, An yle by the balome of the sea called Ambracium.

Leucathiopes, A people of Affrike.

Leucas, adis, fg. A towne in the yle of Leucadia.

Leucaspis, A Trojan, which saylyng with Eneas toward Italy, perished in a tempest.

Leucates, A mountaine in Epire. Also an yle in the which is a temple of Apollo, whereof he is called Leucadius.

Leuce, A towne in the borders of Jonia. Also a lytle yslande of Pontus, in the sea Mediterraneum.

Leucippus, A philosopher.

Leucogæi, Certaine hilles in Italy by Naples.

Leucola, An yle by Cypres. Also a promontorie of Pamphilia.

Leucon, A king of Pontus, slayne of his brother Dyplocus for aduoutrie. Also an husbandeman of the same name.

Leucopetra, A promontorie of Sicilie.

Leucosia, An yle against Pestanum, in the sea Tyrrhenum.

Leucosyria, A countrey, which is now called Cappadocia.

Leucosyrorum cubitus, A place in Cappadocia.

Leucothea, The Goddesse which was called Matúta and Aurora.

Leucothoe, The daughter of Orchamus of Babilon, and Eurynoe, whome (being begotten with childe by Phœbus) hir father did burie alyue: but Phœbus (as poetes feigne) did transforme hir into a tree, out of the which runneth Frankincense.

Leuctra, plur. and Leuctrum, or Leuctra, sing. A towne of Beotia.

Leuctricus, a, um, Of Leuctra.

Leui, One of the sonnes of Jacob the Patriarke.

Leuiathan, A dragon of the sea. It is taken in holy scripture for the deuill.

Leuphana, A citie of Germany, called commonly Hanoker.

Leurychides, A kyng of Lacedemonie, enimie to Demaratus.

Lexouij, or Lexuuij, People in hygh Fraunce about Burdon.

L I

Lia, One of the wyues of Jacob the patriarke.

Liba, An yle in the Indian sea.

Libanius, The name of a great Rhetorician, in the tyme of Iulianus Apostata, which wrote arguments vpon the Orations of Demosthenes.

Libanus, A mountayne betweene Arabia and Phœnicia, wherein growe very high trees.

Libarnum, or Libarna, A citie in Liguria, called now Lauanium.

Libentina, One of the names of Venus or Proserpine.

Liber, liberi, The finder of wine, called also Bacchus and Dionysius.

Liberália, órum, neut. g. plur. A solemne or festiuall day, dedicate to Bacchus: the Grekes call it Dyonysia.

Libethra, A caue wherein was a well, called Libethros, where the Muses being conuersant, were therefore called Libéthrides.

Libéthrides, The Muses, or Ladies of sciences.

Libethrij, A people of Persia, bitterly rude and vnlearned.

Libethrus, A mountayne in Macedonia, where the Muses did dwell.

Libitina, æ, fœ. ge. A Goddesse, in whose temple were solde all things perteyning to sepultures or funeralles.

Libo, bonis, The name of a Citizen of Rome.

Libora, A citie in Spayne, called sometyme Elbora, nowe commonly Talauera.

Liburni, People of the countrey called Liburnia.

Liburnia, A part of Dalmatia or Sclauonie, nowe called Croatia.

Liburnus, a, um, Of Liburnia.

Libya, Was among the Grekes, the generall name of all Affrica: Notwithstading, it is of the Romaines taken onely for that part of Affrica, which is from Ægypt to the west Ocean, conteyning Cyrenaica, Affrica minor, Numidia, and Mauritania. The Spaniards doe commonly call them all Moores.

Libya interior, Is bounded on the North, with the two countreyes called Mauritania, with Affrike the lesse, and Cyrenaica: on the east, with Aethiope: on the south, with Aethiope the further: on the west, with the Ocean sea. In this countrey are the people called Garamantes, and Getulæ.

Libycinus, a, um, Of Libya.

Libycis, cidis, A towne of Judæa, on the east part of the riuer of Jordan.

Libycus, a, um, Of Libya.

Libyophœnices, People of Affrica.

Libys, and Libyssa, A man and woman of Libya.

Libyssa, A citie of Bithynia, called commonlye Polmen, where Annibal lyed.

Libystinus, a, um, The surname of Apollo.

Lica, æ, The name of one of Hercules companions.

Licambes, A citie of Lacedemonia.

Licianus, A poet in the tyme of Martiall.

Ligarius, The name of a Romaine.

Liger, ligeris, m. g. A riuer in Fraunce called Loire.

Liguria, A part of Italy, from the hyll called Apœninus, vnto the sea called Tuscum, also from the ryuer Varus, vnto the ryuer called Macra. In it be the cityes Genua, Sauona, Naulum, and Albigena.

Ligus, liguris, vel Ligur, guris, Of the countrey of Liguria: a Fauuens: of Jancway.

Ligústicum, or after some, Ligustinum mare, The sea that is by Jeane.

Ligusticus, a, um, Of Liguria.

Ligyes, Are people of Asia, which with Xerxes warred against the Grekes.

Ligystus, The sonne of Phaeton, of whome Ligyria was named.

Lilybæum, A towne or promontorie in Sicilie, where one of

of the Sybilles lyeth buryed.

Limosaltum, A citie of Germanie, called commonly Gnisna.

Limnus, An yle in the east part of Irelande. Plinie calleth it Silimnus.

Limonum, A towne of Poicters in Fraunce.

Limuici, or Limouices, Limosin in Poicters.

Lindos, or Lindus, A citie of Rhodes.

Lindum, A citie in Englande, which some doe suppose to be Lincolne some Linne.

Lingones, People of Fraunce, in the countrey called Langres.

Linternum, A towne in Campania, where Scipio Africanus died, and is buryed.

Linternus, a, um, Of Linternum.

Linternus, A ryuer in Campania.

Linus, The most auncient Poet, a Theban, whome Virgile calleth the sonne of Apollo, and Urania one of the nine Muses.

Lipara, æ, fœm. gen. An yle by Grece.

Liparis, A ryuer in Cilicia.

Liquentia, A ryuer in Lumbardie.

Lirimiris, A citie of Germanie.

Liris, A riuer in Campaine, by the towne called Minturnæ.

Lisus, A ryuer in Thracia, wich Herodotus wryteth, was dranke vp by the armie that Xerxes king of Persia led into Grece.

Lissus, A citie of Dalmatia. It is now called Alexium.

Lituania, A countrey which is part of Sarmatia, called Luten, and toyneth to Polonia on the north, and is vnder the king of Poole.

Livius, The prince of Latine historiens.

Livius Andronicus, The first Latine Poete, which wrote Comœdies or Tragydies in Latine, about the seconde warres of Carthage. Also he wrote xxij. bookes of the peerelye actes of the Romaynes, which were called Annales.

Livonia, A part of Sarmatia, beyonde Luten northward, hauing on the west, the sea called Germanicum.

Lixos, A towne and ryuer of Mauritania in Affrike.

Lixus, idem quod Lixos.

L O

Locoritum, A Citie of Germany, called now Trutonia, commonly Fogchem.

Locris, cridos, A countrey in Grece, neere vnto Phocis.

Locrenses, and Locri, People of Locris. There is also a citie of the Bructians so named.

Locrus, A citie in the vttermost part of Italy, which was named Magna Græcia.

Londinum, The noble Citie of London. Erasmus vpon the prouerbe Rhodij sacrificium, writeth, that Londinum is deduced of Lindus, a citie of Rhodes, which Stephanus calleth Lindonium.

Longa Alba, A citie in Italye, buylded by Ascanius the sonne of Eneas.

Longobardi, Lumbardes.

Longobardia, A region called Lumbardie, which is from the mountaynes Alpes, vnto the ryuer of Rubicon. It is also called Gallia Cisalpina, Citerior Gallia, and Gallia Togata.

Lotaringia, A countrey beyond Picardie and Normandie.

Lothoringia, A countrey called Loraine.

Lotóphagi, People in Affrike, which doe lyue by eatyng onely the fruite of a tree called Lotos.

Lotos, or Lotis, lotidis, A nymph, the daughter of Neptune, which sleeping from Priapus, was turned into a tree of that name.

Loxa, A riuer in Englande called Firth.

Loxias, One of the names of Apollo.

L V

Luca, A citie in Italy, of which the inhabitaunts are called Lucenses.

Lucani, People of the countrey of Lucania.

Lucania, A countrey belonging to the realme of Naples, betweene Pucill and Calabre.

Lucanus, A famous Poet, which wrote the battaple betweene Cæsar and Pompey.

Lucentia, A citie of Spayne.

Lucentum, A citie of Spayne called Sulana.

Luceres, The thirde part of the people of Rome, distributed by Tatius and Romulus.

Luceria, A citie of Apulia.

Lucerius, A king of Arcadia, which holp Romulus against Tatius.

Lucetia, One of the names of Juno.

Lucetius, A name of Jupiter.

Lucilius, The name of an olde Poet.

Lucina, One of the names of Juno and Diana, called the Goddesse of byrth.

Lucinia, idem quod Lucina.

Lucius, A mans name.

Lucomones, The Tuscians.

Lucretia, A noble woman of Rome, wyfe to Tarquinius Collatinus, and a singular patterne of chastitie, both to hir tyme, and to all ages following: whome Sextus Tarquinius, when by force meanes her could not obtaine, by force and violence did rauishe. For being intertayned for kyndredes sake in hir house, he brake into hir chamber, and with his swoorde drawne, menaced present death, vnlesse she would condescende vnto his pleasure, adding moreouer that he would kill one of hir seruauntes, and laye them in bed with hir, and so spreade abroade that hee toke them in aduoutrie and slue them. For feare of which shamefull reproche and infamie, rather then for dreade of death, as after appeared, she suffered the violence of the wicked aduouterer. But the next day she sent for hir husbande, that was absent, and the residue of hir kinsfolke and frendes, and in the presence of them all, pitifully bursting out in weping, declareth the cruell villanie of the tyranne: desiring them earnestly to seeke reuengment of the same, and therwith all pulleth out a knife, that for that purpose she had hyd vnder hir clothes, and stroke herselfe vnto the heart: affirming that the example of Lucrece shoulde neuer be a cloke for lyght women to excuse the vnhappthfull breech of wedlocke. With indignation of this horrible act, hyr father and kinsfolke being moued, raysed the people, and expelled both the proude king Tarquine and his whole flocke out of the citie for euer.

Lucretilis, An hill in the countrey of the Sabines.

Lucretius, A Latine Poet.

Lucrinum, A towne of Apulia.

Lucrinus, A mere or great water in Campania.

Lucratius Catulus. A Citizen of Rome.

Lucullus, A famous and noble man of Rome, in ryches, learning and martiall prowesse verye excellent. Being Questor, her dyd set forth exceding sumptuous games and sightes vnto the people. In hys Prætorship, he gouerned Affrike with great iustice. When he was sent as Capitayne against Mithridates into Asia, her deliuered his companion in office Cotta, that was besieged in Chalcedon: her relieued the citie Cyzicon, being in much daunger: he ouerthrewe Mithridates in a great battaple, & draue him out of his kingdome: he discomfited him the seconde tyme, when he was ayded of the mighte prince king Tigranes of Armenia and wonne cleane haue finished that warre, had not the fame of his couetousnesse caused him to be sent for home by the Romane. After his returne out of Asia, her gaue himselfe altogither to sumptuous and sensuall life. For in hys voyage against Mithridates, he got so great ryches and treasure, that her was not able to waste the same in most sumptuous buyldings of gorgeous houses, Ideries, galleries, and walkes, in making of fishe ponds, gardeyns, and other deuises of pleasure, in so straunge fashion and maner, as neuer before his tyme was seene: whereas dayly also her vsed such outragious fare, in feasting and banketting, that his delicatenesse and sensualitie is growne to a prouerbe. In the ende he being altered in his wittes, was committed to the tuition of his brother Ma. Lucullus.

Lucumo,

Lucumo, A mans name, of whome the Tuscians were called Lucumedi, and Lucumones.
Lucus, A citie in Spayne by Compostella, which is nowe called Lucensis. Also a promontorie of Hetruria, called commonly Petra sancta.
Lucus Augusti, A citie in Spayne called Oluca.
Lucuminum, Powys landes in Wales.
Lugdunum, ni, n. g. A citie in Fraunce called Lions.
Lugdunensis Gallia, The thirde part of Fraunce, called nowe the countrey of Lions. It hath on the nozth, the English sea: on the west, partly the Ocean, partly the countrey Guyan: on the east, the ryuer Seyne: on the south, Borbon.
Lugodunum, called also Traiectum, A citie in Hollande named Vtreche.
Luna, A towne of the Ligurians. Also a promontorie in Portugall.
Lunarium, A promontorie called nowe Mons louis, Schalæ,
Annibalis, and Mount.
Lupercal, A place at the foote of the Mount Palatine, dedicated to Pan the shepherdes God, in which certaine sacrifices and games were solemnised yerely in Febru-arie. In these sacrifices, Pans priestes and ministers, called Lupercj, ranne vp and downe the streetes of the ci-tie naked, striking the heades and bellies of women with a Goates skinne. By which ceremonie they were perswaded that barraine women were made fertyle. This maner is thought first to haue beene ordeyned by Euander comming into Italie, to the honour of the ruftcall God Pan, whome the people of Arcadie in like maner doe worship.
Lupercalia, The sacrifices and playes made to Pan.
Luperci, Ministers of that solemnitie.
Lupfurdum, A citie in Germanie called now Misna, bulgar-ly Meissen.
Lupia, A ruer in Germanie called Neccharum.
Lusitania, The realme called Portugall.
Lusius, A ruer of Arcadie.
Lusiæ, A citie of Calaber called commonly Leccio lezo.
Lutetia, The citie of Paris in Fraunce.

Lyæus, One of the names of Bacchus, called God of wynes.
Lyæus, a, um, Of Bacchus.
Lycæum, Looke Liceum.
Lycæus, A mountayne of Arcadie dedicated to Jupiter.
In that was also an autare erected to Jupiter, on the which when K. peacn the sonne of Pelasgus did sacrifice a chylde, he was for the same cruelty tourned into a wolfe.
Lycambes, A Thebane, whome Archilochus rating with verses, caused to hang himselfe.
Lycaon, aonis, A king of Arcadie, and sonne of Pelasgus, of whome Ouide writeth thus: Jupiter after he had heard great complaint of the wickednesse of mankinde, came downe into the worlde to vnderstande whether it were true or no. When he came to Arcadie to king Ly-caons palayce, and there had geuen by myracle some tokens of his Godhead, the people came in to worship him, and to doe sacrifice vnto him. But Lycaon derided their curiositie and sayde, that the same night he would vnderstande, whether he intertayned a God or a man.
Wherefore priuily in the night, he came into the chamber, and would haue murdered him. But when he sawe his wicked attempt coke no place, he assayed an other way. The next daye he killed yong Gentlemen of the Molossians, that were with him as pledges, and ser-ued the fleshe of one of them to Jupiter sitting at the table to trie whether he were a God or no. Her therefore detesting that horrible and wicked act with lightning fyred the pyannes pallayce, and turned himselfe into a wolfe.
Lycaones, People of Asia the lesse, neere to Lycia, as wryteth Ptolome.
Lycaonia, A countrey in Asia. After some wryters, it is a part of Arcadie.
Lycaste, One of the daughters of Priamus.
Lycastos, A citie of Candie.
Lyceum, A rich tories schole in Athens. Also a schole of Ciceros in his place at Tusculum.
Lyceus, Vide Lycæus.
Lychas, Hercules seruaunt.
Lycia, A countrey in Asia the lesse, betwene Pamphilia, and Caria, in the which are two great cities, Patara, and Myra.
Sometyme there were 70. cities.
Lycidas, The name of a Centaure, and of a shepeheard in Virgil.
Lycimnius, The brother of Astiochia.
Lycisicus, A boyes name in Horace.
Lycium, Idem quod Lyceum.
Lycius, One of the names of Apollo.
Lycophron, A Grammarian and wryter of Tragedyes of Chalcedonie.
Lycopolis, A citie of Aegypt.
Lycorias, The name of a nymphe.
Lycormas, A ruer running out of Aetolia.
Lyctonia, A citie of Crete.
Lyctus, A citie of Crete, named of Lyctus, the sonne of Lycaon.
Lycurgus, A noble man of Sparta, sonne of Polydectes, and brother to Eumonus kyng of Lacedemon, whome he succeeded in the kingdome, not knowing that he left his wife with childe. Which thing so sone as Lycurgus vnderstoode, he left the name of a king, and called himselfe gouernour or protector, when the yong prince came to age, he faythfully restored the kingdome to him.
But in the meane tyme, perceyuing the citie to be in pil lopne of gouernment, he deuised newe and wholsome lawes, which, when by the oracle of Apollo he had learned to be very profitable, he published the same. And after he had well inured the Lacedemonians to be obedience of them, feigning that he had a iourney to Delphos, he caused all the people to sweare that they should faythfully obey and kepe those lawes vntill his tyme as he returned. Going therefore to Delphos, when the oracle had signified, that Lacedemon should flourish so long as it kept his lawes, he determined neuer to returne into his countrey, but euer after lyued in banishment, and at his death commaunded his ashes to be cast into the see, that the Lacedemonians, by procuring to haue them, myght not thinke themselues discharged of the othe, that they had taken, but perpetually should be bounde to the keeping of those lawes, which he had de-uised.
Lycus, A ryuer in the countrey of Cæsarea. Also the name of diuers men.
Lydda, A citie of Judæa, called Rhama.
Lydia, A countrey in Asia, on the east toyning to Phrygia:
on the nozth, to Mysia: on the south, vpon part of Caria. In this region is the hyll called Tmolus, out of the which commeth the riche ryuer called Pactolus. Reade of of them in their owne places.
*Lydi mali, Poti hos Aegyptij, A prouerbe applyed where two euill persons be compared together and the one being founde very vngracious, the other deserueth the lesse disprayse.
Lydus, lyda, lydum, & Lydius, a, um, Of Lydia.
Lydus, The sonne of Hercules. An other the sonne of Atys, and brother of Tyrrhenus, of whome Lydia was named. An other Lydus was the sonne of Giges.
Lygdamum, The name of a towne.
Lygdamus, A Sicilian of the citie of Syracusis, a puissaunt wrestler, whose bones after his death were found to haue no marrowe.
Lymira, A ryuer and a citie of Lycia.
Lyncestius, a, um, Of the water of Lyncestis.
Lyncestus, A water which maketh men drunke like wine.
Lynceus, dyssyllabum. A man. Who (as Varro wryteth) coulde see shippes on the sea, an hundred and thyrtye myles from him. and did number them. Some wryte, that he coulde see through a wall: and therefore, they that haue very sharpe sightes, be sayde to haue Lynceos oculos, the eyes of Lynceus.

Linceus, A mans name, that first founde out the mettall mynes of brasse, siluer, and golde.
Linens, A king of Scythia.
Lyndus, A citie in the yle of Rhodes, where they did sacrifice to Hercules with reproches and curses.
Lyris, A ryuer of Campayne.
Lyrnessius, One of the citie of Troy.
Lyrseus, A well, out of the which issueth the ryuer of Ja-nachus.
Lysander, A king of Lacedemonia. When it was sayde to him for a reprochc, that he did more by subtilte, then by prowesse: hee did answere in this wyse: where the Lions skinne doth not auayle, a man must sowe on the a Foxes skinne vnto it. Notwithstanding, that practise is seldome commended in any noble man. But this Ly-sander was alwaye of that opinion that hee esteemed truth and playne dealing no longer then it stode with his commoditie. And therefore he confessed that truth was better then lying, but that the worthinesse of them both was to be measured by profite. When it was sayde to his charge that he had broken the league that in Miletus he was sworne vnto, Tush (sayth he) as children are to be trapped and deceyued with Apples and tryfles, so are men to be beguyled with othes.
Lysanias, An oratour of Greece.
Lysiades, A philosopher of Athens.
Lysias, An oratour most pleasaunt, of whome Quintilian speaketh.
Lysicrates, A man which in his olde age dyed his white heares blacke, that he might fœme yong.
Lysimachia, A citie in Hellespont, which fell downe with an earthquake.
Lysimachus, Agathocles sonne, one of the Capitaynes of king Alexander: who as he was of noble stocke, so was he in vertue more famous and noble. He so excellently loued learning and those that were the professors of the same, that when Callisthenes was cruelly impprisoned by Alexander, he oftentimes resorted to him, and bearde him dispute of vertue and learning: and at the request of the philosopher, brought to him a poysoned cuppe to ende his lyfe, rather then to abyde the miserie that he sustepned in the stinking dungeon. Which thing when Alexander did vnderstand, he toke it so grieuously, that he caused Lysimachus to be cast without weapon to be deuoured of a Lyon. But he as a valiaunt and stoute gentleman, folding his cloke togither about his arme, thrust his hand into the Lions mouth, and so killed him.
For which act he was after more esteemed of Alexander then euer he was before, and therefore aduaunced to great honour.
Lysippe, One of the daughters of Proetus kyng of Argyues.
Lysippus, An excellent kerucr.
Lysistratus, The brother of Lysippus.
Lysius, A ruer of Arcadie, called also Lusius.
Lyus, A ryuer of the lesse Asia.

M A

MAcæ, People of Arabia fœlix.
Macharcus, The sonne of Aeolus, which begatte a childe on his owne sister Canace, and for feare of his fathers displeasure, fledde his countrey and went to Delphos, where he became Apollos priest. Vide Canace.
Macharia, The daughter of Hercules. Also a fenne or ma-rice in Marathon.
Macarius, The name of a man, in Latine it signifieth blessed.
Macedo, onis, A man or woman of Macedonie. Also the sonne of Olyzis, of whome Macedonie was named.
Macedonia, æ, fœm. gen. A Realme in Greece. first called Aemathia. On the nozth, it boundeth (as Ptholome-us wryteth) vpon the sides of Dalmatia, Mysia superior, and Thracia: On the west, it stretcheth to the sea Ionium.

Plin describeth it to ioyne south, and west, to Thracia, and that the south side lyeth on the backes of Thessalia, and Magnetia: the nozth, on Paeonia, and Paphlago-nia. That it hath also on the south, Epirus: on the nozth, Illyria: which varyeth not much from Scyrnus, who sayth, that it is deuided from Thracia with the ryuer Strimon. It is now vnder the Turke.
Macedonicus, a, um, and Macedonus, Of Macedonie.
Macer Aemilius, An olde poet, which was in Ouids time, who (as he sayth) wrote of byrdes in verses, also of the vertue of herbes. But it was not he Macer, whose wozkes we nowe haue, of the vertue of herbes, but rather hee, whom the yonger Plinie prouoked to write some thing like vnto his vncle. Finally, that little booke of herbes, is right profitable in diuers places to be conned by hart of a yong scholler, which delyteth in that matter. Notwithstanding, the first Macer, wrote more eloquently, and is commended therefore of Quintilian. He wrote also of the battaile of Troy, and of venymous beastes.
Machabæus, The first of that name was Judas, the thirde sonne of Mathathias the Jewe, a valiaunt man in his sayth, and of an inuincible courage. In so much, that wyth three thousande men, hee banquished Lysias, the lieuetenant of king Antiochus, and his sonne, and with them fozte thousande fortemen, and seauen thousande horsemen, and slue of them, 5000. Afterwarde in Galilæa, he slue of the host of Timotheus (an other of the kinges capitaynes) first, 3000. and afterwarde, 8000.
After that by a bylage called Adasis, hee wyth a thousande fought wyth Nicanor, a capitaine of king Demetrius, and nine thousand wyth him. In the which battaile, Nicanor was slaine, and of the nine thousande almost none escaped. Finally, to much trusting to hys prosperitie in warres, in going against Bacchus (a ca-pitaine of king Demetrius, who had a great hoste) and taking with him but two thousande, of the which at the last remayned with him but onely eyght hundred: hee fought till it was night, and made a wonderfull slaughter of enimyes. But whyles hee enforced himselfe to come to Bacchus, the which was on the ryght wing of the battayle, he fought so nobly, that he scattered that wing, fleaing many about him. Finally, being enuironed with the left wyng, and stryken with many woundes, was slaine with much difficultie. Afore the incarnation of Christ about. 305. yeares.
Machaon, The sonne of Esculapius, an excellent Surgion.
Macidos, A citie of Thrace.
Macomacha, The name of a citie.
Macra, A ryuer, which runneth betweene the mountaynes of Liguria.
Macrobij, People in Affrike, the which of Pomponius be also called Meroeni. Their countrey is inuironed wyth the ryuer of Nilus, lyke an yleande. They lyue halfe as much longer as men doe here, and be fayre and goodly personages, reuerende. and louers of vertue. There is more golde then in Persia, and therefore that which is lesse precious, they doe more esteame decking themselues with ornaments of copper and brasse, and making gyues of golde. They doe lyue commonly an hundred and twentie yeares. and doe washe themselues in a fountayne which causeth their bodyes to smell lyke Violettes.
Macrobius, The name of a great learned man.
Macrocemnij, Mountaines by the ryuer of Ister.
Macrocephali, People by Bosphorus.
Macyberna, A citie of Sithonia.
Madagaster, An yle beyonde the furthest part of Aethiope, on the south part, found by the Portugalles, in the time of Emanuell king of Portugall. This yle is inqui-suite. 4000. myles, and is very rich. Therein be great Elephantes, Lions, Panthers, and such other beastes.
The inhabitaunts be of Mahomets sect.
Madaurense, A citie in Affrike.
Madian, A citie beyonde Arabia. on the south part. in the desart of the Sarasins, against the east parte of the redde

redde ſea.

Mæander, A ryuer of the countrey of Phrygia. Erasmus ſayth of Lydia: wyth hath many turnings and wyndings. And hereof all croked and ſubtyll turning wayes, meanes and deuiſes be called Mæandri. There is alſo of that name a mountaine in India.

* Mæandrimore, Crokedly: wynding in and out: ſubtilly.

Mædia, A citie in the realme of Thracia.

Mænacterion, The moneth of September.

Mænades, Furious women, which ſerued in the ſacrifice of Bacchus.

Mænala, neu.gen.plur. Of after ſome, Mænalum, ſing. An high mountaine in Arcadie.

Mænalius, For Arcadicus: as,

Mænalius aper, A Boze of Arcadia.

Mænalus, a,um, Of the mountaine Mænala.

Mæni, ij, Sellers, or people of Gellarland. Alſo Cleues.

Mænoles, One of the names of Bacchus.

Mæonia, A countrey in Aſia the leſſe, called alſo Lydia.

Mæonius, a,um, Of Mæonia. Homere the excellent Poete was called Mæonius, eyther becauſe he was borne in that countrey, or elſe that his fathers name was Mæon.

Mæonidæ, Men of Lydia.

Mæonis, A woman of Lydia.

Mæotæ, A people of Scythia.

Mæotis, otidis, or tidos, A great mére in the countrey of Scythia which is alwayes froſen.

Mæotidis paludes, Fennes, where into the ſayde riuer or mére runneth.

Magi, Among the Chaldées and Perſians, were men of excellent knowledge in philoſophie naturall and mathematicall, and knewe the hidde vertues and operations of thynges. The kinnes of the kinges of Perſia, were taught by them to gouerne and minister theyr publike weale, accoyding to the forme of the vniuerſall order and gouernance of the celeſtiall woylde. Such were Magi, or the three kinges that ſought Chriſt, and offered to him golde, myrre, and frankincenſe, adapting their preſent vnto the double nature of him, vnto whom they gaue it, who was both God and man, kyng and Prieſt.

Magna Græcia, The part of Italye from Laurentum, to Cumæ.

Magnata, A citie of Irelande.

Magnes, A poet of Athens.

Magnetia, A part of Macedonie.

Magnetis, Hippolyte the wife of Acaſtus king of Magneſia.

Magnetes, tum, Heade officers among the Macedonians.

Magnetes, or Magnetij, People of Magneſia.

Magnus portus, The hauen called Portſimouth in Englande.

Mago, The name of dyuers men: whereof one was Annibals brother.

Magog, The ſonne of Japhet.

Mahumethes, or Mahumetha, was borne in Arabia, (as the more part doe write) of a poore houſe or famuly, and firſt was a byer and ſeller of Camels. Afterwarde he fell acquainted with a Munke called Sergius, which was an heretike, by whoſe meanes he declared himſelfe to be a prophete, and toke on him to reforme as well the olde lawe as the newe, and made other lawes, the which for their pleaſauntneſſe, allured vnto them much people: So, gathering vnto him a great hoſte, firſt he walked Syria, and wanne Damaſcus the chiefe Citie therof. And hauing in his ayde the Arabians called Scenitæ, a valiaunt people (who had diſpleaſure againſt the Emperour Heraclius, becauſe he payed them not their wages) he wanne other great Realmes, and at the age of foure ſcore yeares, dyed (as ſome doe ſuppoſe) of the falling ſickneſſe, which he long tyme did diſſemble, ſeyning, that the Angell Gabriell was then ſent vnto him in meſſage, whoſe brightneſſe he might not ſuſtaine. He was buried at Medina, three dayes iourney from the redde ſea, an hundred myles from Mecha, where is now the chiefe temple of his lawe. He was after the incarnation of Chriſt, ſixe hundred yeares.

Maia, The mother of Mercurius. Alſo one of the ſtarres called Pleiades.

Malaca, A towne in Spayne.

Malchus, An hiſtoriographer.

Malea, A promontopie or hyll lying into the ſea by Laconia, which is daungerous for ſhippes to paſſe by.

Maleuentum, i, neut.gen. A citie in Campania called nowe Beneuentum.

Maleus, A mountaine in Indie.

Maliaca, A citie in Spaine called nowe Malgrado.

Maliacum mare, The ſea about Theſſalie.

Malica, A citie in Theſſaly.

Malimnus, An hyll of Sicilie.

Mallos, A citie in Silicia.

Maluauiſcus, Reade in Althea.

Mamercus, A Biſhop of Vienna, which firſt ordeyned the Rogation or proceſſion weeke, 444. yeres after Chriſt.

Mamers, In the Oſke tongue, the name of Mars.

Mamertes, A certaine man of Cyprus.

Mamertini, People in Campania.

Mamurius, A notable Smith or engrauer in the tyme of Numa.

Mamurra, A certaine gentleman of Rome.

Manaly, lapis, Is ſayde to be a doze of hell, by the which, ſoules aſcende to heauen. Alſo a ſtone by the temple of Mars, which when ỹ Romaines in a dzought dzought into the citie there followed alway rayne.

Manapia, A towne in Irelande called Waterford.

Mandane, Aſtyages daughter, mother to kyng Cyrus.

Mandanis, A famous philoſopher, of whyſe man of India, to whome Alexander ſent meſſengers, willing him to come to the feaſt of Jupiters ſonne, meaning himſelfe: declaring alſo if he obeyed and came to him, that hée ſhoulde haue great rewardes, if he woulde not, that hée ſhoulde be put to death. But the Philoſopher ſtoutely anſwered, that he neyther was Jupiters ſonne, nor yet Lorde of anye great part of the earth. As for the gyftes and rewardes of him, that was himſelfe vnſatiable, hée ſayde hée paſſed nothing at all, and yet hys threates & menacings he much leſſe regarded. For if hée lyued, his owne country could bzing out thinges ynough to furniſhe hys lyſe, ſo that hée ſhoulde néede nothing. and as for death, he ſayde he did not onely nothing feare it, but exceeding much deſire it, which hée was aſſured ſhould deliuer him from his olde wythered carkaſſe, and bring him to a lyfe farre more bleſſefull and happie.

Mandela, A village of the Sabines.

Mandonius, A Spaniſhe capitaine.

Mandrabulus, A man that found a great treaſure: on whom goeth a prouerbe.

Mandro, A poore chipman, which through proſperous foztune, grew at length to be a great capitaine.

Manes, An heretike, which affirmed himſelfe ſometyme to be lyke Chriſt, ſometyme to be the comforter that was promiſed to come.

Manethus Mendes, A prieſt of Egipt.

Mania, A citie of Perſia.

Mania, Was alſo among the gentils a Goddeſſe, called the mother of them which were called Lares, or Larue, vnto the which Goddeſſe they vſed a while to offer mennes heades in ſacrifice. But after by meanes of Junius Bzutus, which was Conſull, they chaunged that ſacrifice into garlyke heades, and the knoppes of popies.

Manich.æi, A ſect of Hereticks, ſo named of an Archheretyke called Manes.

Manilij, Men of a noble houſe among the Romaines.

Maniolæ, Iles againſt Indie, beyonde the ryuer of Ganges, where as be rockes of Adamant ſtones. Which doe drawe vnto them ſhippes that haue yron nayles.

Manius, The name of certaine Romaines.

Manliana, A citie of Portugall, an other of Tuſcane.

Manlius, The name of dyuers noble Romaines, but eſpecially one, which of the preſeruing of the Capitoll from the Gaules, was ſurnamed Capitolinus. Who before hée was .xxij. yeres olde, had taken harneſſe and ſpoyle from two enimies in battaple: firſt of all the horſemen of Rome, he deſerued a garlande for winning the walles of a citie beſieged. Sixe times he deſerued an holy garlande for reſcewing and ſauing the life of other citizens in battaple. Seuen and thirtie tymes he was rewarded by his capitaine with extraordinarie giftes for his other valiaunt actes: He had taken, xxvij. woundes in the fore part of his body. Hée reſcewed Pub. Seruilius, marſhall of the fielde, and valiauntly fighting to ſaue him, was wounded both on the ſhoulder, and on the thigh.

In ſine he preſerued and kept the Capitoll and eſtate of the Romaine citie from the Gaules. But at the ſame tyme being thought to attempt a kingdome among the Romaynes, he was caſt headlong downe from the wals of the ſame Caſtle or Capitoll, that by his ſtoute manhoode he had defended.

Mannus, The ſonne of Teuton, of whome the Almaynes diſcended.

Mantinea, A citie in Grece.

Mantius, The ſonne of Melampus.

Manto, The daughter of Tireſias the Thebane prophet, of whome the citie Mantua receyued hir name.

Mantua, A noble citie in Lumbardie, where Virgill the excellent Poet was borne.

Mantuanus, a,um, Of Mantua.

Mapeta, A citie of Sarmatia, called commonly Copa.

Marathon, A towne and a fielde in the countrey of Athens, diſtaunt from thence ten myles, where Theſeus ſlue a terrible Bul, and Miltiades vanquiſhed the Perſians.

Marathuſa, An yle, wherein is abundaunce of Fenell, and is alſo called Clazomenia.

Marcella, A womans name.

Marcellus, A proper name of diuers Romaynes, of whome one was ſiue tymes Conſull.

Marchia, A countrey in baſe Germanie.

Marchlas, or Marclylas, A notable robber in the woode, Dodonæa.

Marcomani, or Marcommanni, People in Germany, which are nowe ſuppoſed to be eyther of Boheme, or of Moratia.

Mardi, A people adioyning to Perſia.

Mardonius, One of Xerxes capitaines.

Mare Mediterraneum, The ſea, which commeth from the weſt Ocean, and entreth by the ſtraytes of Marrocke, and paſſeth betweene Spayne and Barbarie, deuyding Europa from Affrike, and entereth into Aſia, taking notwithſtanding diuers particuler names: as Balearicum, Liguſticum, Tirrhenum, Carpathium, Aegeum, &c.

Mare rubrum, The redde ſea, betweene Aegypt and Paleſtine.

Mareotis, otidis, A pole or mére in Aegipt. Alſo a part of Lybia, and a part of Epirus.

Margea, A certayn fountayne.

Margiana, A region in Aſia.

Margites, The name of a very fwle, after whome all notable fwles be ſo called.

Margus, A ryuer in Aſia.

Maria, æ, for.g. A proper name.

Mariaba, The chiefe citie in Saba.

Mariandini, People of Bithynia.

Mariandinum, A countrey in Aſia, where Hercules ouercame Cerberus.

Marianus, A hill in Spayne.

Marica, A certaine goddeſſe.

Maridunum, The towne of Caier Marthen in wales.

Marionus, Lunenburgh in Almayne.

Maris, A ryuer running into Aſter.

Marius, A valiaunt man, deſcended of a poore ſtocke in the citie Arpinas, and many yeares lyued an harde lyfe in the country. At the laſt comming to Rome, and giuing himſelfe to warrefare, he behaued himſelfe ſo valiauntly, that after other offices, he aſcended to bee Conſull, and ouercomming Jugurth, brought hym captiue, in triumph before his Chariot: and thereby inſued and planted in the Romaynes hearttes ſuch opinion of hys nobleneſſe and manhoode, that for feare of the greate tempeſt and trouble that was towarde of the fierce people called Cimbrians, he was choſen Conſull the yeres togither. Being Conſull the firſt tyme, hée ouercame and vtterly vanquiſhed the ſame people, and with great glorie triumphed for it. He was afterwarde in a ciuill battaple ouercome by Sylla, and in the fyght lyeing himſelfe among the flagges in a ditch, was eſpyed out and caſt in priſon. Whych tyme, when a ſtoute and ſterne Frenchman was ſent into the priſon to cut of his heade, wyth the naſeſſe of his countenaunce he did ſo feare him, that hée coulde not doe it, but rather holpe him to eſcape out of priſon. Wherefore he toke a lytle boate, and ſayling into Affrike, there pantyly kept himſelfe a long tyme. Afterward being called home by Cinna, he was choſen the ſeuenth tyme Conſull, and therein dyed, or as ſome write kylled himſelfe. This man hauing the diſeaſe of ſwollen baynes with melancholye blood in the legges called Varices, ſeld one of his legges to the ſurgeaunt (as the maner of the cure is) to cutte out thoſe baynes: and in the meane time neuer bad eyther ſtintte the bzowes, or ſhewe any token that he felt griefe therat. But when the ſurgeaunt woulde in lyke maner haue vſed the other legge, nay ſir, ſayth he, the curing of the diſeaſe is not worthy ſo much paine as a man muſt abide for it.

Marmarica, A countrey of Affrike, betweene Cyrene, Libya, and Aegypt, hauing on the north, the Aegyptian ſea.

Mardaridæ, People in Affrike, marching to Aegypt.

Maro, ronis, The name of the moſt excellent Poet Virgill.

Maronæus, a,um Of Maronia.

Marpeſius, An hyll in the yle called Parus.

Marpeſius, a,um, Of the ſame hill.

Marpiſſa, The daughter of Euenus, and wife of Idas.

Marrucini, People in Italy.

Mars, God of battaple, and onelye Junos ſonne wythout compaine of hir huſband. For when Juno was greatly diſpleaſed with hirſelfe, that Jupiter by ſtriking of his heade, without compaine of woman did bring ſorth Minerua, ſhe went toward Oceanus to learne how ſhe alſo might be deliuered of a childe without compaine of man. In the way being very weare, ſhe ſate downe at the gate of the Goddeſſe Flora, wife to Zephirus, who aſked hir the cauſe why ſhe went to Oceanus. Which when Juno had declared, ſhe ſayde that in the feldes of Olenus was a flower, which if ſhe did touch, ſhe ſhould forthwith conceyue without compaine of man. Juno prouing that, conceyued and brought forth a ſon, which ſhe called Mars. To him was the dominion of warre and battaple committed.

Marticola, A worſhipper of Mars.

Martigenus, a,um, Come of the kinde of Mars.

Marſi, People in Scythia.

Marſpiter, The father of Mars.

Marſia, A countrey in Italy. It is alſo a ryuer running by Apamea.

Marſus, and Marſicus, a,um, Of Marſia.

Marſyas, The name of a famous hiſtoriographer, and of certayne other men. Alſo a ryuer of Phrygia, named of one Marſyas a minſtrell.

Martia, Catos yonger daughter.

Martia, æ, fœm.gen. A water in Rome, very wholſome and excellent.

Martiális, le, Bozne vnder the Planet of Mars.

Martiális, maſgen. The name of a poet, who wzote Epigrammes.

Martiánus, a,um, Of Mars.

Martius, The name of dyuers Romaynes.

Martius Ancus, The fourth king of Rome, in religion and iuſtice very famous. He ſubdued the Latines, added the mountes Martius, and Auentinus, to the compaſſe of the citie, citie, builded walles rounde about Rome, gaue certaine woordes to the maintenaunce of the newe, appointed a tribute to be payed of fait pits, and firſt ordeyned a pryſon in the citie for punishment of offenders.

Martius, a, um, Pertεpyning to Mars.

Martius campus, A fielde at Rome dedicate to Mars, where the yong men of Rome did exercise themselfe. Also there were their aſſemblies, for the election of their great officers.

Martius menſis, The moneth of March.

Marullus, The name of a Romayne, enimie to Cæſar. Alſo of a Poet, and of a Grammarian.

Maſalia, A ruer of Creta.

Maſdoranus, A mountayne, which diuideth Parthia from Armenia.

Maſiniſſa, Luke Maſſiniſſa.

Maſſa, æ, m.g. A ryuer in Libya.

Maſſagetæ, A people in Aſia, which running on horſebacke through deſertes, doe drinke their horſe bloude mixte with mylke: they alſo doe eate their parentes, if they dye for age: but if they be ſicke, they caſt them to wylde beaſtes to be deuoured.

Maſſica, A countrey in the ſouth part of Spayne.

Maſſicum, ci, n.g. Wine of the mountayne Maſſicus.

Maſſicus, A mountayne in Campania, where is very good wine.

Maſſilia, A notable citie in Prouaunce called Marſiles. It was buylded. 620. yeares before the incarnation of Chriſt. This citie in tyme paſt ſo flouriſhed in all kinde of good learning, that the Romaynes leauing Athens, went to the vniuerſitie of Marſiles to learne. It was alſo both in tychniſe and martiall prowes of great fame, and alway of ſounde friendſhip towarde the good ſtate of the Romayne Empire.

Maſſilienſis, ſe, Maſſilitanus, and Maſſilioticus, a, um, Of Marſiles.

Maſſiniſſa, A king of Numidia, and great friend to the Ro-maynes.

Maſſilia, A Countreye in Affrike amonge the weſterne
Moores.

Maſſylus, Maſſylius, and Maſſyleus, a, um, Of Maſſylia.

Maſurius, The name of a famous lawyer, which wrote on the lawes ciuill.

Matinus, A hyll of Calabre.

Matrália, neut. gen. plur. The ſolemne feaſtes of Matuta.

Matiacum, A towne in Germanie.

Matúta, tæ, fœ.g. A Goddeſſe called of the Greekes Leucothea, and is often uſed for Aurora.

Mauors, órtis, The God Mars.

Mauortius, a, um, Pertεpyning to Mars.

Mauri, People called Moores.

Mauritania, The country now called Moriſco, or of Moores lying on the weſt part of Affrik, betweene the ſea called Mare Mediterraneum, on the north, & Libya on the ſouth.
Martianus ſayth, that in length it is tenne tymes eight and thirtie myles, which is three hundred and foure ſcore myles: and in breadth towarde the ſouth, foure hundred, three ſcore and ſeuen myles. It is diuided into two countreys, Tingitana, and Cæſarenſis. Tingitana hath on the weſt, the Occean ſea: on the north, the ſtrayt of Marrocke, called Fretum Herculeum, vnto the ryuer Maina: on the eaſt, Cæſarienſis: on the ſouth, Getulia, and Libya. Cæſarienſis, hath on the weſt, Tingitana: on the north, the ſea Sardoum, vnto the ryuer Ampſagus:
on the ſouth, the mountaynes of Libya, and the countrey of Getulia.

Maurus, a, um, and Mauruſius, a, um, Of Mauritania.

Mauſóle um, ſolei, n.g. A ſepulchre or tombe, which Artemiſia, made for hir huſbande Mauſolus, which for the excellent workemanſhip, was accompted for one of the ſeuen maruayles of the world: and for the famouſneſſe thereof euery great and notable ſepulchre is called Mauſoleum.

Mauſolus, The king of a Realme called Caria. Luke Artemiſia.

Maximus, The name of a cunning painter.

Mazaca, A citie in Cappadocia, vnder the hill Argeus. It is nowe called Cæſarea.

Mazax, A man of a certaine people in Affrike.

Mazeras, A ryuer, in the mouth of the ſea called Mare Hircanum.

Mazeres, A ſouldiour of king Cyprus.

M E

Meander, or Mæander, A ryuer in Phrygia, which by ſun-drie windings, at the laſt falleth into a creeke, which betweeth Miletus, and Priena in Greece.

Mearus, A riuer of Spayne.

Meciſtus, One of the companions of Aiax Telamonius.

Mecœnas, átis, A gentleman of Rome munion to Auguſtus the Emperour: and becauſe hee was the ſupporter of great learned men, all ſauourers and ſuccourers of learned men be ſo called.

Mecyberna, A towne of Macedonie.

Meda, A citie of Theſſaly.

Medea, A notable ſorcereſſe, daughter of king Oeta by his wyfe Hypſea. She intertayned the aduenturous Jaſon comming to Colchos to winne the golden fleece, and being rauiſhed with the loue of this goodly perſonage, taught him how to eſcape all thoſe daungers, that of ne-ceſſitie he muſt aduenture to winne his purpoſed ente-pryſe. After all which thinges atchieued, the ranne away with Jaſon, and toke with hir Abſyrtus hir yong brother. But Oetes ſore diſpleaſed, that he was ſo betrayed by his owne daughter, purſued them with ſuch ſpede, that he had well nere ouertaken them. Wherfore Medea ſeing that nothing could ſtay hir fathers haſte, fearing to be taken, killed the yong babe hir brother, and and ſcattered his limmes in the way as hir father ſhould paſſe, with ſorowe whereof and long ſeeking the parts of his yong ſonnes body the father was ſtayed, and Jaſon with Medea in the meane time eſcaped out his realme.
After long tourney ſhe came with Jaſon home to Theſ-ſaly, and by hir ſorcerie reſtored yong yeares agayne his olde father Æſon. In the ende Jaſon reiected hir, and maried Creuſa the kinges daughter of Corinthe.
Wherewith Medea ſore grieued, and yet pretending friendſhip, did ſende vnto Creuſa in maner of a preſent a gorgious baſket with ſwlde fire incloſed therin. Which when Creuſa did open, ſodainly it burned both hir and the pallayce where ſhe was.

Medeis, & Medeides, patronymica, fœm.gen. Of Medea.

Medera, ræ, fœm.gen. An yſlande in the Occean ſea ſcituate from Spayne ſouthweſt, being diſtaunt from the poynt of the lande of Spayne, called Caput ſancti Vincentij, almoſt. 100. myles.

Medeficaſtes, The baſtarde daughter of Priamus.

Media, A countrey in Aſia, hauing on the north, the ſea called Hircanum: on the weſt, Armenie the more, and Aſſyria: on the ſouth, Perſia: on the eaſt, Hircania, and Parthia.

Médicus, a, um, Of Media.

Mediolanium, A citie or towne in Englande, in Leyceſterſhire, called Manchyeſter.

Mediolanium, The citie of Dlyanence in Fraunce. Alſo a citie in Weſtphalia in Almaine, called Munſter: which (for as much as the people therof were infected with the hereſie of the Anabaptiſtes, and other deteſtable er-roures) was deſtroyed by the Princes of Almaine, about the yeare of our Lorde God, a thouſande, fiue hundred, thirtie and nine.

Mediolanum, The chiefe citie of Lumbardie, called Myllane.

Mediolum, A towne in Spayne.

Mediomatrices, Maſtright in Brabant.

Meditrina, The goddeſſe of phiſike.

Medod, One of the Centaures.

Medon, The baſtarde ſonne of Dileus. Alſo one of Penelopes ſwoers.

Medua, In hauen in Italy.

Meduacus, A ryuer about Venice, called nowe Brent.

Medullina, A mayden of Rome, which being rauiſhed by hir father, killed him in ſacrifice.

Meduſa,

Meduſa, A Ladie, of whome fables doe repoyt, that by Minerua hir heares were turned into adders, and they, which beheld hir, were turned into ſtones: whom Per-ſeus afterwarde ſlue. She is ſometyme taken for one of the furyes of hell.

Mega, A promontorie of Mauritania, called commonly One or Due.

Megabyzi, or Megalobyzi, Prieſtes of Diana, which alwayes were gelded.

Megæra, A furie or tormentour of hell, whome Paynims doe ſuppoſe to prouoke or ſtirre men to woodneſſe.

Megaleſia, The feſtiuall day dedicate to Cybele, called the mother of Goddes among Paynims.

Megalopolis, A great citie of Arcadie.

Megara, A citie belonging to Athens. It was alſo the name of one of Hercules wiues. Alſo an hill in Sicile, where is great plentie of Beſs.

Megareus, Megarcius, Megaricus, and Megarus, a, um, Of Megara.

Megaris, idis, A countrey in Achaia.

Meges, One of the princes of Greece, that went to Troy.

Melenæ, A towne in Arcadie.

Melænæ, The ple Colcopia.

Melamphillum, An ple in Aſia.

Melamphilus, An ple of Samothrace: and Samos is alſo called Melamphylus.

Melampus, A mans name. Alſo one of Bacchus dogges.

Melanes, A mountayne in Arabia deſerta, called now Mons Sinai, and Mons S. Catherinæ, of the Hebrues Sur deſer-tum.

Melanthia, The daughter of Deucalion, by Pyrrha hys wife.

Melanthius, The name of a Troyan, and of diuers other men.

Melanchus, One of them that Bacchus turned into Delphins.

Melas, The name of diuers riuers.

Meleager, or Meleagrus, The ſonne of Oeneus kyng of Calydon.

Meleagreæ, The citie called Calydon.

Melegina, An yle in the Venetian ſea.

Meles, etis, A riuer by Smyrna.

Meleſigenes, The proper name of Homer.

Meletius, A biſhop in Aegypt of Arrius ſect.

Melibœa, A citie in Theſſalie.

Melibœus, A hoꝛſeheardes name.

Melicerta, The ſonne of Athamas and Ino, whome the Gentiles did honour for one of the Goddes of the ſea. called alſo Palæmon.

Meligene, The ple Melite.

Meliſſa, A woman, who with hir ſiſter Amalthea, nourtſhed Jupiter.

Meliſſus, The name of him which firſt did ſacrifice vnto
Idols. Alſo the name of an auncient philoſopher.

Melita, ſiue Melite, An yle lying betweene Sicile & Affrike.
After Plinie, lib 3. cap. vlt. it lyeth betweene Corcyra nigra, and Illyricum, wherein is plentie of honie, and is nowe called Malta, wherein at this tyme the company of the knightes Hoſpytelers doe inhabite, as they did at the Rhodes.

Melixæus, a, um, and Melitenſis, ſe, Of that ple.

Melitæi canes, & Melitenſes, Pretie lyttle houndes in the which Ladyes take pleaſure and delyte, which were brought out of the ſayde ple of Melite.

Melitus, The name of him that accuſed Socrates.

Melizandrus, Hee that wrote the ſtorie of the warres betweene the Lapithes and the Centaures.

Mella, A riuer of Fraunce.

Mellene, A citie in Archadia.

Melo, A riuer called alſo Gehon and Nilus.

Meloboſis, A nymph, the daughter of Oceanus and Te-thys.

Melocabus, A citie in Germanie.

Meloeſſa, An yle by Sicile, in the which was great plen-tie of hoꝛſe.

Melonia, A Goddeſſe among the Romaines.

Melos, One of the yles called Cyclades.

Melpómene, One of the nine Muſes.

Melus, A towne of Theſſalie, beſieged and wonne by Hipcias the Athenian captaine, namely by famine, whereof grewe the prouerbe, Meliæa fames.

Memmius, A citie of Rome.

Memnon, The ſonne of Tithon, which came to the ayde of the Troians.

Memnonius, a, um, of Memnon: as,

Memnonix aues, Byrdes which were ſuppoſed to growe of the aſhes of Memnon.

Memphi, People of Memphis.

Memphites, patronymicum, maſ.gen.

Memphitis, patronymicum, fœm.gen.

Memphis, A great and famous citie in Aegypt.

Memphiticus, a, um, Of that citie.

Memphricus, A king of Bzptaine, which ſlue his brother
Phalys, that he might reigne after him.

Menæchmi, The name of a comedie in Plautus.

Menæchmus, A philoſopher of Platos ſect, which wrote vpon his booke De republica. Alſo an hiſtoriographer, that wrote the hiſtorie of Alexander Magnus.

Menalcas, A hoꝛſeheardes name.

Menalippe, The ſiſter of Antiope, Queene of Amazones, whome Hercules vanquiſhed.

Menalippides, The name of two poets.

Menalippus, The that ſlue Tydeus. Alſo other of that name was brother of Tydeus.

Menander, A famous poet, a Bzyter of Comedis. Alſo a notable heretike, which followed Simon Magus.

Menapij, People of the countrey called Gellarland, or Gylderlande, and Cleaue.

Menaria, An yle in the ſea betweene Carthage and Si-cilie.

Mendeſicum, One of the mouthes of Nilus.

Menecceus, The ſonne of Creon king of Thebes.

Menecina, A citie in Oenotria.

Menecis, The vttermoſt citie of Phocis, toward the weſt.

Menécrates, Was an arrogant and prowde phiſition, who becauſe hee chaunced to heale ſundrie perſons, of whoſe health men did diſpayre, and therefore in commending him, called him Jupiter: he after that, named himſelfe
Menecrates Iupiter.

Menelaus, Bzother to Agamemnon, and ſonne of Atreus.
Hee was king of Sparta, and huſbande of the beautifull Queene Helena. Whome, when Paris king Priamus his ſonne in his abſence had ſtolen awaye, he ſent
Ambaſſadours to require hir to be reſtored againe.
But when they returned in vaine, this Menelaus with his brother Agamemnon incited all the Princes of Greece with cruell war to reuenge that vilanie. Wherfore they aſſembling to the number of a thouſand ſhips, ſwore neuer to returne, vntill they had brought Troy to confuſion. After they had walted and deſtroyed all the countrey of Phrygia, they beſieged Troy the royall citie the ſpace well nere of tenne yeares, and after great ſlaughter both on the one part and the other, at the length by guile and treaſon, rather then by force and manhode, they wanne the citie, and burnt it to the grounde: and ſo recouered Menelaus againe his beautifull wyfe. Wyth whome hee taking ſhipping to returne, after eyght yeares trauayle on the ſeas and in ſtraunge countreyes, at the length came home to Sparta. So much to doe had he, ere he coulde bring home againe his fayre and famous ſtrumpet.

Meneleus, triſſyllabum, One of the Centaures. Alſo one of Acæons dogges.

Menes, The firſt that reigned ouer Aegypt.

Meneſtheus, was Duke of Athens, ſonne of Theſeus and Phædra. Alſo Diomedes charyot man.

Meneſthius, The ſonne of Erithous and Philomedusa.

Meneſtho, One of the nymphes.

Meninx, An yle againſt the leſſe Affrike.

Menippus Phœnix, A philoſopher. Alſo Menippus is the name of diuers other learned men, of which one was Ciceros maiſter.

Menius, The sonne of Lycaon, who cursing Iupiter, was striken with lightning.
Menimna, or Menlaria, A citie of Spayne, called commonly Murcia.
Menœtius, Patroclus father.
Menoles, The name of Dionysius.
Menophilus, An Eunuche to whome Mithridates (being ouercome by Pompeius) committed his daughter to kepe.
Menógada, A citie in Germanie, called now Egra.
Mentercosa, A citie of Spayne.
Mentiia, A citie of Spayne, called commonly Jaen.
Mentoas, The famous riuer which is now called Danubius
Mentor, onis, An excellent grauer of vessell.
Menus, A ryuer in Germanie. Also a man of Samnium, which loued exceeding ly solitarinesse.
Menuthias, An plande in the south part of the worlde called Medagaskar, or Insula sancti Georgij, the inhabitantes whereof follow Mahumet.
Meonia, A countrey of the lesse Asia, called after Lydia.
Meonides, A man of Meonia.
Mercurialis, le, Of Mercurie.
Mercuriales, A colledge or companie of men, institutted to the honour of Mercurie.
Mercurius, The sonne of Iupiter by Maia, whome poets feigne to haue wings on his heade and feete, to signifie, that talke (which is represented by the person of Mercurie) doth quickly passe through the ayre. Hee is feigned to be messenger of the Gods, bycause that by speach and wordes all thinges are declared. Hee was counted God of eloquence, marchandyce, feates of actiuitie, and theeft also. He first inuented the Harpe, and on his sister Venus begat Hermaphroditus that was both man and woman.
Meriones, A noble man of the Grecians.
Merius, A mountayne in the thirde part of Europe, beyonde Greece.
Mero, Was in scorne the name of Tiberius Nero, bicause he was so great a drinker of wine.
Meroe, A yle in the great riuer of Nilus in Aegipt.
Merope, Pleias the wife of Sisyphus.
Merópus, A mountaine in Greece by Thessaly.
Meros, A hill in Indie, at the foote whereof is the citie called Nysa.
Merrha, A place where Moyses, by casting in wood, made the pestilent and bytter waters wholsome.
Merrula, æ, sig. The name of dyuers men: one in Varro de re rustica.
Merus, i, masc. gener. An hill in India, dedicated vnto Bacchus.
Mesa, A ryuer that runneth by Brabant, the lande of Luke and Gelder, called the Maze.
Mesapia, A countrey ioyned also Apulia.
Mesapus, The sonne of Neptune, of whome the countrey Mesapia was so named.
Mesembria, A towne belonging to the Megarenses.
Mesia, A countrey ioyning to Hungarie: Myse.
Meson, Was one which first inuented to bring into comedyes, ferculuntes and cookes. Whereof it is supposed that in olde tyme, the cookes of cities and townes, were called Mesones, as straunge cookes were called Teniges. Caelius, antiq. lect. lib. 3. Meson was also a certayne Astronomer.
Mesopotamia, A countrey in the orient, lying betweene the two noble ryuers Tigris and Euphrates, and hath on the south, Babylon: and on the north, the great mountayne called Caucasus.
Messala Corninus, A noble Senatour of Rome, of whome Tulie in his booke of Orators, called Brutus, writeth in this wise: I may not omit to speake of the excellencie of Messala. Beware doe not thinke, that anye to lyke vnto him in constancie, care, and studie about the weale publike, also in eloquence. Wherein he wonderfully doth excell. And notwithstanding, being such a man, two yeares before hee dyed, hee so lost his remembraunce, that hee forgatte his owne name: which hath happened to dyuers other men of great wysedome and learning. He liued in the tyme of Julius Cæsar and Augustus Emperours.

Messalina, Wyfe to the Emperour Claudius, a woman of insatiable lechery.
Messana, A citie in Sicilie.
Messapia, Luke Calabria.
Messene, A citie of Achaia in Greece.
Messenij, The people of that citie.
Messenia, A region in Achaia, hauing .xbiij. mountaynes, in the which was a citie called Messene.
Mestheles, One of the capitaynes that came to ayde the Troyanes.
Mesuium, or Messuuium, A towne in Germanye called Mayntburg.
Metagónium, A promontorie or mountaine lying into the sea, which deuideth Africa from Numidia.
Metapontum, A citie in the realme of Naples.
Metapontini, People of that citie.
Metaurus, & Metaurum, A ryuer of Vmbria, which runneth into Flaminia.
Metellus, The proper name of dyuers noble Romaines.
Methone, A citie of Peloponnesus, called now Modona.
Methymna, A citie in the yle of Lesbos.
Methymneus, a, um, Of that citie.
Metiocus, The sonne of Miltiades Duke of Athens.
Metis, One of the daughters of Oceanus and Tethys.
Metulcus, Turnus charior man.
Metius Suffetius, (a capitayne of the people called Albani) was of Tullus Hostilius kyng of Romayns, called to battayle against the people Fidenates. He came but odding why his host should haue the victorie, he abstayned to fight. Wherefore Tullus, after that he had vanquished his enimies, caused Metius, to be tyed to sundrie horses, and to be drawne in peces. Also Metius, is the name of diuers other.
Metonia, Lake Methone.
Metra, A famous harlotte of Thessaly, the daughter of one Erisichthon.
Metrodórus, A philosophers name, scholler of Epicure. Also the name of certaine other philosophers.
Meuania, A citie in the part of Italy called Vmbria, wherein Propertius the poet was borne.
Meuenia, A citie in Wales, called saint Danids.
Meuius, A lowish poet, enimie to Virgil and Horace.
Mezentius, Father of Lausus, a wicked person, contemning the Gods.

M I

Michale, A sorceresse among the Centaures.
Micypsa, A king of Numidia, sonne of Masinissa.
Midas, The yche king of Phrygia, who, for his friendly intertaynement of the God Bacchus, being inuited to wishe what he would, with promise presently to obtayne the same, desired that what soeuer he touched might forthwith become golde. By which wishe graunted, he turned corselets and towers into golde. But when he came to eate his meate, and sawe that it also was made golde, being almost famished, he besought Bacchus agayne to take from him the graunt that hee had giuen him. Bacchus therefore inuited him to go washe himselfe in the riuer Pactolus: whereby the coloures king washed away his golden wishe, and the ryuer euer after had small sharpes of golde appearing in it. Afterwarde when the rusticall God Pan, chalenged to contende in musicke with Apollo, and Tmolus the iudge appointed of that controuersie had giuen sentence on Apolles side: All other that were present did allowe his iudgement as good and true, onely king Midas reprooued it, and in his estimation preferred Pan with his screaking pypes. wherewith Apollo being verye wroth, in reprooche of his grosse iudgement, made him to haue long eares like an Asse. But Midas kept them so secrete, that neuer man knewe it, saueing onely his Barber. Who not able to conceale so vncouthe and straunge straunge a thing, and yet not so bolde to publishe it for feare of the kinges displeasure, went into the fielde, and digging an hole in the grounde, cryed out Auces asininas habet rex Midas, that is, true it is that king Midas hath long eares like an Asse. In processe of tyme reedes did growe in that place: which, when they were blowne with the winde, did reede the same voyce that Midas his barber had there buried, and so (say poets) became it first knowne, that Midas had an Asses eares. By this vntrue poets signifie that Midas as a tyrannie, had many harkeners and tale bearers, by whome he vnderstoode al that was done or spoken of him in all partes of his dominion, as if he had long eares to heare what euery man had sayde.

Mieza, A towne in Macedonia.
Miliciades, Lorde Miltiades.
Miletus, A citie in Ionia: an other in Creete: an other in the yle of Lesbos. Miletus, is also the sonne of Sol and Pasiphae, which buylded that citie Miletus which is in Ionia.
Milesius, a, um, Of Miletus.
Miléum, A citie in the countrey of Athens.
Militiarium, i, n.g. A pyller in Rome, wherein were grauen all the wayes of Italy.
Milo, lónis, The name of one, which at the game of Olympus, vpryght his bare handes slue a Bull, and afterwarde carped him a furlong, and the same daye eate him euery morsell. Ie Was also a noble Romayne, for whome Tullie made an Oration, contayning incomparable eloquence.
Milo, Is also an hill in India.
Miltiades, A noble man of Athens, that in the fieldes of Marathon with ten thousand Grekes, discomfited and put to flight. 600000. Persians, and deliuered his countrey from great daunger. Afterwarde, being cast in arrearage of a certaine summe of money, he was by his vnkinde countreymen condemned to cruell payne, and dyed in fetters. Being deade, he wrought not be suffered to be buryed, vntyll his sonne had put on him the graces which his father did weare.
Milúius, uij, The name of a starre.
Milyas, A place in Asia.
Mimalion, A young man that loued Atalanta of Arcadie.
Mimallis, The name of an ylande.
Mimallones, or Mimallonides, dum, fœm. gen. Women seruing Bacchus.
Mimas, A mountaine in the lesse Asia, of the which the poets sayde Woman were named.
Mimmermus, ni, masc. gen. A writer of verses before the time of the seuen Wisemen.
Minas, The name of a gyant.
Minæi, People in Arabia, nyghe to the redde sea, where Frankincense chiefly groweth, and is of that place called Minæum.
Mincius, A ryuer of Italy, which compasseth the citie of Mantua, and runneth into the great ryuer of Po, called Padus.
Mineo, An other ryuer.
Minerua, The Goddesse of wisedome and all good artes and sciences, borne of Iupiters braine without any mother. For when Iupiter perceyued his wyfe Juno to be barraine that he might not be cleane without issue, he broke his head with his hand, and thence came forth the Goddesse Minerua. By which deuise poets giue men to vnderstande, that the knowledge of all good artes and sciences, proceedeth not of mans wytte, but out of the fountaine of Gods grace and wisedome. This Goddesse is called also Pallas, and Tritonia, and is thought first to haue inuented the craft of weauing and spinning, and the vse of Dines and Oyle and to haue obserued perpetuall virginitie.
* Sus Mineruam, Prouerbially spoken, where anybody of fole goeth about to teach a wyse and learned man.
Minerue, A promontorie of Campayne, called commonly Capo Minerue.
Mineus, A Theban, whose daughters were turned into battes or reremice.

Minius, An hill in Thessaly, called after Orchomenus.
Minius, A ryuer in Spaine.
Minoa, A citie in Sicilie, an other in the yle called Amorgos by Sicilie.
Minos, nos, A king of Creete, that first gaue them lawes, whome Papinius for his excellent iustice, supposed to be chiefe iudge of hell. This man, for that his sonne Androgeus of his excellent actiuitie, was cruelly murdered of the Athenians and citizens of Megara, made sharp and grieuous warre vpon those two cities. Wherfore he take by the treason of Scilla, the kinges daughter that was in loue with him. The Athenians he pressed so harde that he droue them to take peace on this condition, that yearely they should giue seuen of their gentlemens sons to be deuoured of the monster Minotaurus. From which cruell tribute they were afterwarde deliuered by Theseus, Vide Aegeus.
Minóius, and Minous, a, um, Of Minos.
Minóis, nóidis, patronymicum fœminum, Of Minos.
Minotaurus, ri, A monster in Creete, whome the poetes feigne to be borne of Pasiphae, the wife of king Minos, being part lyke a man, part like a Bull, which being inclosed in the place called Labyrinthus, was fedde with mans flesh. He was slaine by Theseus, with the helpe of Iriadne daughter of Minos.
Mintha, An hill, named of Mintha Plutos harlotte.
Minturnæ, A citie in Campania.
Minutia, æ, fœm gen. The name of a virgin Vestall.
Minyæ, People of Thessaly.
Minyeius A ryuer running out of Thessaly.
Minius, An hill of Thessaly.
Misanthropos, The surname of a man of Athens, called Timon, that hated the compasse of men.
Misenum, A promontorie by Cumæ.
Misenus, The sonne of Aeolus, Eneas trumpettour.
Misenus, An hill in Campania.
Mithra, The Persians so call the sunne, and also the chiefe priest of the sunne.
Mithriacæ, órum, n.g.plur. Ceremonies of the sunne.
Mithridátes, A puissaunt king of Pontus in Asia, of great strength both of body and minde, and of singular memorie. He spake perfitely .xxij. sundrie languages. Whyle the Romaines and Italians were at warre among themselues, he draue Nicomedes out of Bithynia, and Ariobarzanes from the kingdome of Cappadocia: he wanne Grecce and all the plandes, saueing Rhodes: In one night he caused all the Romaines in all Asia, were they Marchaunts or other, to be slayne. He cast in prysion Oppius their Proconsull, and Apulcius his lieutenaunt. This man was first ouercome by Sylla, after ouerthrown and discomfited by Lucullus, and lastly vterly vanquished by Pompey, and driuen to ende his life with poyson. He is noted of great cruelte: for he killed his wyfe, his mother, brother, and sister, their young sonnes, and as many daughters.
Mitérin, In plc. fiue dayes sayling out of Englande, wherein is great plentie of Tynne.
Mitylene, es, & Mitylenæ, arum, A citie in the yle of Lesbos.

M N

Mnas, The name of a pyrate in the tyme of Pompey.
Mnasea, A poet.
Mnemósyne, es, fœm. gen. The mother of the nine Muses and is interpreted memorie.
Mnesarcus, A famous philosopher.
Mnestheus, The name of a Troyan.

M O

Moab, A Citie in Arabie. Also the name of one of the sonnes of Loth, of whome the people are called Moabitæ.
Moconiacum, or Moguntia, The Citie of Mentz in Almaine.
Mœmagus, A towne of Fraunce called Nemours.

Mœnis, A ryuer in Germanie that runneth into Rhene.
Mœris, A logerer.
Mœſia, A prouince in Athens, nigh to Pontus.
Moga, A countrey in Aſia, called now Cæſarea.
Mogontia, A noble citie in Germanie, called Mentz.
Molorchus, A ſhepehearde in the woodde Nemea, which receyued Hercules when hee came thyther to kyll the Lion.
Moloſſia, A part of Epire.
Moloſſus, a, um, Of Moloſſia.
Molus, A mans name in Homer.
Moloch, Was an Idoll of the Ammonites, ſignifyng in Hebrue a gouernour or counſaylour. It was alſo called Molchum, ſometyme Milchom.
Moloſſa gens, People in the part of Greece called Epirus: they were alſo called Moloſſi.
Momus, The carping God of reprehenſion, ſonne of Nox, and Somnus, whoſe propertie it is (as poets feigne) neuer to doe or make anything himſelfe, but with curious eyes to beholde the doinges of other: and if anything were let paſſe, to carpe the ſame. Wherof all curious carpers of other mens doings are called Momi.
*Momo ſatisfacere, To content him, whom almoſt no man can pleaſe.
*Momo iudice decertare, To contend afore a rigorous and extreme Iudge, or him that will finde a fault quickelye.
Mona, Called of the Greekes Monna, is an yle nighe to Britayne, puiſſaunt of people in the tyme of Cornelius Tacitus, where they that fled from the Romaynes were ſuccoured: I ſuppoſe it to be the yle nowe called Man, and not Angleſey, for as much as that is ioined to Wales. There is alſo an other yle of that name in the riuer of Rhene, nigh to Friſelande, and not onely nighe to Britayne.
Monæda, and alſo Monarina, The yle of Man, by the eaſt part of Irelande.
Monacris, A mountayne in Arcadia.
Monæſis, A king of Parthia.
Monęta, æ, fœm. gen. A name of Iuno.
Monna, Lorke Mona.
Monodus, The ſonne of Pyrrhus, who in ſtede of teeth had but one bone, lyke as king Pyrrhus had.
Monœchus, In hauen of Liguria.
Monomeri, People in the eaſt part of the worlde, which haue but one legge, wherewith they go by leapes more ſwiftly then any beaſt.
Monoſceli, Men in Indie, which haue but one legge, ſo greate, that therewith they couer themſelues from the Sunne.
Mons feratus, A countrey in Italy.
Montanus, The name of a Poet.
Monycha, æ, The name of ſaint Auguſtines mother.
Mónychus, A gygant, one of the Centaures.
Monyma, The wife of king Mithridates, which after that hir huſbande was banquilhed, killed hirſelfe.
Monimus, A mans name.
Mopſopia, The countrey of Athens.
Mopſus, The name of a Poet. It is alſo a ſhepeheardes name.
Morini, People in Fraunce, dwelling about Turwane.
Morpheus diſſyllabum, The ſonne or ſeruaunt of the God Somnus.
Morta, Lorke Nona.
Mortuum mare, A great meare in Syria, wherein no heauy thing may ſinke.
Mortuetrum, A citie in Spayne, where Saguntus in olde tyme did ſtande.
Moſa fluuius, A ryuer which is called the Maze, and runneth betweene the duchie of Brabant, and the lande of Luke.
Moſca, A tyuer in Moſcouia.
Moſchea, æ, fg. A temple whereto the people which worſhipped Idols, haue recourſe to pray in, namely the temple of the Turkes and other Mahumetanes.
Moſcouia, A great countrey in the north part of the worlde beyonde Polonia, which conteyneth in length, 400. leagues and aboue. The people therof be called Moſcouitæ, in engliſh Moſcouites. They haue a great Duke, who nameth himſelfe Emperor of Ruſſie. They be chriſtened and doe obſerue the rytes of the Greekes. Their language is the tongue of Sclauone, which is alſo vſed in Boheme and Polle.

Moſcus, Is the chiefe citie of that countrey, through the which the ryuer of Moſca doth runne.
Moſcus, A region in Aſia, nigh to the ryuer of Phaſis, deuided into three partes. In the one doe dwell people called Colchi, in the ſeconde Hiberes, in the thirde Hermenij.
Moſes, Lorke Moyſes.
Moſinæcæ, or rather Moſinœci, People in the North part of Aſia.
Moyſes, or Moſes, Signifieth drawne vp or taken vp from the water. It was the name of a noble prophete, ſonne of Amram, of the tyde of Leui: who brought the Iſraelites from the bondage of Pharao king of Egypt, with moſt wonderfull myracles, and gouerned them with exceding wyſedome and patience. Hee dyed afore the incarnation of Chriſt, 1462. yeares, being of the age of. 120. yeares, his eyen being neuer dymmed, nor his teeth loſe.

Mugonia, A gate at Rome, whereby cattell did enter into the citie. It was alſo called Trigonia.
Mulciber, ciberis, One of the names of Vulcan, called God of fire.
Mulucha, A ryuer of Mauritania.
Munda, A citie of Spayne.
Munychia, órum, The ſolemnities of Pallas.
Munichia, In hill towarde Cherſonelus.
Munichiates, A citie in Arabea Petræa, where Mahumets ſepulchre is, called now Medina Talbani.
Murcea, æ, The Goddeſſe of ſloth.
Murgis, A bolome of the ſea in Spaine.
Murgitana regio, A countrey in the ſouth parts of Spaine.
Murroela, A citie of Pannonia.
Murrafius, or Murranus, An auncient king of the Latines, after whome all his ſucceſſours were ſo called.
Murtia, One of the names of Venus.
Murtius, An hill at Rome, called alſo Auentinus.
Muſæ, arum, The Muſes: which were maydens, whome poets feygned to be the daughters of Jupiter and Memorie, and that they were Ladyes and gouernours of poeſie and muſike. They were in number nine, or after ſome but three, ſome call them giuers of eloquence, and doe name them Goddeſſes.
Muſæum, ei, neut. gen. An houſe dedicated to the Muſes, ſuch a one was firſt made by the kings of Egypt, called Ptolomæi, in Alexandria.
Muſæus, a, um, Of the Muſes.
Muſæus, The name of three auncient poetes: one in the tyme of Orpheus, which went with Jaſon to the winning of the fleece of golde. An other of Thebes, the ſonne of Thamyras, before the battayle of Troy. The thirde of Epheſus, in the tyme of Epimenes and Attalus kinges of Pergamum.
Muſtela, A mans name, whome Cicero fauoured much.
Mutina, æ, fœm. gen. A citie in Italy, called in the vulgare tongue Modona, which is nowe vnder the ſubiection of the Duke of Ferrare, where was the great battayle betweene Auguſtus and Brutus.
Mutinenſis, ſe, Of Mutina.
Mutinenſis color, A naturall colour, as well of cloth neuer dyed.
Mutij, Were men of a noble famihe of the auncient Romaynes, in the which one was called Mutius Scævola: who at the tyme that Porſene kynge of Tuſcanes, layde ſiege to Rome, came in a beggers apparayle into the campe of Porſena, and intending to haue ſlayne the king, ſlue his ſecretarie. Wherefore hee was taken and brought to a great fire to be burned, into the which hee willingly willingly thruſt his hande that had failed to ſlea the king, and ſuffered it to be burned to aſhes, affirming that threſcore hym, there were three hundred that had vowed to make lyke attempte. Wherewith the king being abaſhed, and fearing their inuincible courage, made peace with the Romaynes, taking pledges of them: and rayſing his ſiege, departed, without moleſting of them euer after.

Mutunus, An Idoll who was alſo called Priapus.

Myagrus, called alſo Myodes, The God of Flies.
Mycale, The name of a ſorcereſſe in Ouid.
Mycénæ, arum, & Mycéna, æ, & Mycéne, enes, A citie in the part of Grecia called Peloponneſus, and a lyttle region where Agamemnon reigned, called nowe Mozea.
Mycenæus, a, um, Of Mycenæ.
Mycerinus, The ſonne of Cheops king of Egypt.
Mycon, The name of a famous painter.
Mycone, es, & Myconos, ni, One of the yles called Cyclades.
Myconij, People of that yle, which be naturally balde, and of them balde men be called Myconij.
Mydia, An yle named alſo Delos.
Mydon, Sonne of Arymnis, ſlaine by Antiochus, at the ſiege of Troy.
Mygdonia, A part of Macedonia, on the ſea ſide, where Niobe was turned into a ſtone. Ariſtotle ſayth, that it is a part of Phrygia, ioyning to Lydia. Solinus ſayth, it was called Bebrycia, and after Bithynia.
Mygdonides, The ſonne or nephewe of Mygdonus.
Mygdonis, idis, fœm. gen. The daughter or neece of Mygdonus.
Mygdonus, The brother of Otreus.
Myle, A certayne towne.
Mypſari, A people of Thrace, which yelded to Darius.
Myra, A citie in Lycia.
Myrina, A Queene of Amazones.
Myrlea, A towne of Bithynia.
Myrmecides, A cunning caruer of ſmall things.
Myrmidones, The people called alſo Hellenes, that accompanyed Achilles going to Troy. They were ſo named of Myrmice the mayde of Athens, whome for hir chaſtitie, witte, and diligence, Minerua greatly fauoured. But when ſhee had diſcloſed and made common counſell, the plough that Minerua had made in deſpite of Ceres, the Goddeſſe being angrie, turned hir into an Emmot or Pilmire. Strabo ſayth, they were called Myrmidones, becauſe they were payne full buſoandemen, and alwaye occupyed in digging and labouring lyke Emmots.
Myron, onis, The name of an excellent caruer.
Myrrha, The daughter of king Cinyras, which loued hir owne father filthily.
Myrſinus, A citie in Peloponneſus.
Myrſum, A towne in the part of Grece called Peloponneſus.
Myrtus, The father of Candaules.
Myrtilus, A chariot man of king Oenomaus. Lorke Hippodamia.
Myrtóum mare, A portion of the ſea, which is betweene the ſea called Aegeum, & Ionium.
Myſs, yos, The name of a cunning graner.
Myſia, A countrey towarde Greeklande, which is deuided into two partes, the higher and the lower. The higher hath on the north, Dacia: on the eaſt, Dalmatia: on the ſouth, Macedonie: on the weſt, Thrace: this is nowe called Seruia. The lower Myſia, hath on the weſt, Dacia: on the north, Sarmatia: on the eaſt, the ſea Euxine: on the ſouth, Thrace. This is now called Valachia, and Bulgaria. Pholomeus writeth of two countreys called Myſia, the more and the leſſe. and both in Aſia beyonde Bithynia. not farre from Troa.
Myſi, Certaine people.
*Myſorum poſtremus habetur, Prouerbially, he is negleckted and contemned: he is call at the cartes arſe.

Myſtillus, A Greeke name in Martiall.
Mythridates, Lorke Mithridates.
Myxus, A prieſt of Diana, glorious, and a ſtoute talker.

NAæra, The handemayde of Cleopatre, that willingly dyed with hir maiſtreſſe.
Nabathæa, A part of Arabia felix, lying betweene the Perſian ſea, and the redde ſea.
Nabathæi, People inhabiting the countrey called Arabia felix, bery conteinent, and in preparing and keeping their commodities, right prudent, as Strabo writeth: in whome it may trade more abundantly of their maners, not much expedient to be declared in this place.
Nabius, A riuer in Spaine.
Nabriaſſa, Or after ſome Nabriſſa, A citie in Spayne. It is nowe called Veneria.
Nabuchodonoſor, The ninth king of Babilon, or the thirde king of Chaldeys, named of Berolius. Nabugodroſus, of the Hebrues Nabuchadnezzar. He by the occaſion of his great and wonderfull dominions, fell into ſuch pryde, that he wouldе haue his Image honoured for God. Wherefore Almightye God, ſodenly transformed him into an horrible Monſter, hauing the heade of an Oxe, the feete of a Beare, the taple of a Lyon, and did eate hape as a beaſt. And after he had in that forme done penaunce, by the continuall prayers of Daniell the prophete, God being moued with mercie, reſtored him to his pryſtinate fourme, and afterwarde hee lyued well, and commaunded that the verye God of heauen ſhoulde be onely honoured. Hee was before the incarnation of Chriſt, 633. yeares. Hee regned. xlvij. yeares.
Næra, The proper name of a woman.
Nænia, A Goddeſſe.
Nævius, The name of a Poet.
Nævianus, a, um, Of Nævius.
Nagnia, called nowe Narnia, A citie in Italy.
Nagnata, A citie in Irelande.
Naides, Elfes or fayries, haunting ryuers and fountaynes.
Naim, A citie of Galilie.
Nais, naidis, A riuer in the eaſt, which runneth out of the mountayne Taurus, into the ſea called Pontus. Alſo a nymph of the water.
Naminta, People of Naunces.
Nannetes, A towne in little Britaine, called Nauntes.
Napatæi, People in Aethiope.
Napæi, People of the yle of Lesbos.
Napeæ, Goddeſſes of flowers, and woodes, or rather Elfes haunting woodes.
Napitæ, People of Scythia.
Nar, A riuer which runneth into Tyber. There is an other ryuer of that name in Germanie, which commeth out of the great tyuer Danubius, or Donow.
Narane, A tyuer in Dalmatia, about an hundred myles from Epidaurus.
Narbaſis, A towne in Spaine.
Narbo Martius, Called commonlye Narbona, a Citie in Fraunce.
Narbonenſis prouincia, A part of Gallia, hauing on the eaſt, the mountaynes Alpes: on the ſouth, Mare Gallicum: on the weſt, the Mountaynes Pyrenæi: on the north, the Mountayne Iura. It conteyneth the countreyes called Sauoy, Dolphyny, Prouance, and Languedoche. It was in the olde tyme called Gallia Bracchata.
Narciſſinus, a, um, Of Narciſſus.
Narciſſus, The ſonne of the ryuer Cephiſus, which was turned into the flower called Narciſſus. It is alſo a certaine riuer.
Naricia, An yle in the ſea Aegeum.
Narius, A riuer in Umbria.
Narna, or Narnia, A towne in Italy. Alſo a citie of Umbria.

Narniæ,or Narnienſes, People of Narnia.
Narnienſis ager, The countrey about Narnia, where the grounde with rapne waxeth dulſie, and in ꝺꝛie weather durrie.
Narona, A riuer in Dalmatia,called nowe Narenta.
Narſes, A mans name, an Eunuch of the Emperour Iuſtinian,which was a valiant and prudent captaine.
Nartes, People of Italy,called alſo Interamnates.
Narycium, A towne of the people called Locrenſes, where is plentie of excellent and good pitch.
Naſamones, People dwelling in the myddle of the ſandes of Libya. Among whome is founden the pꝛecious ſtone called a Carbuncle.
Naſamontius,and Naſamoniacus,a,um, Of the people Naſamones.
Naſica, The ſurname of a noble Romaine called Scipio.
Naſium, A citie in Fraunce called Nanſe.
Naſtes, The brother of Amphimachus,which came to help the Troyans.
Natio, The name of a Goddeſſe.
Matiſo, A riuer in the countrey of Uenice.
Naualia, A citie in Germanie.
Naucratis, A citie in Aegypt, the inhabitaunts whereof be called Naucratitæ.
Naulium, A towne in Liguria.
Naupactus, A towne of Achaia,taken from the Uenetians by the Turkes,called nowe Lepanthum.
Nauplius, A king of Euboea, and father to Palamedes, who vnderſtanding that by Ulyſſes craftie meanes, his ſonne was falſely condemned of treaſon, and ſtoned to death of the whole armie, deſirous to be reuenged on that crueltie, he went ouer all Greece alluring the wyues of all thoſe pꝛinces that were in warfare at Troy, to committe aduoutrie wyth other yong Gentlemen. Thinking by that meanes to ſet them togither by the eares, & make them to wꝛake confuſion to theuſelues. Afterwarde when Troy was ouercome, and the Grecians nauie on the ſea returning home, in a great tempeſt and darke night, on the toppe of the mount Caphæreus he made ſhewe of a fire to them, to allure them to come that way, by which meanes he bꝛought a great part of the nauie vpon daungerous rockes, and pitifully ꝺꝛowned them. But when he vnderſtode that Ulyſſes and Diomedes had eſcaped the daunger, for whoſe cauſe he chiefly vſed that deuiſe, for ſoꝛowe he caſt himſelfe headlong into the ſea.
Nauplíades, The ſonne or nephewe of Nauplius.
Naſpontus, A riuer in Slauonie.
Nauſicaë, es,and Nauſicaã,æ,f.gen. The daughter of Alcinous king of Phæacens,who finding Ulyſſes,after that hee had eſcaped ꝺꝛowning, bꝛought him to his fathers palayce.
Nauſithous, The ſonne of Neptunus, and father of Alcinous.
Naxius,a,um, Of Naxos.
Naxos, An yle in the ſea called Aegeum, one of the Cyclades, not farre from Paros, renowmed for the whyte Marble there growing.
Nazaræus,a,um, Of Nazareth. It ſignifieth a man ꝺeꝺicate onely to the ſeruice of God, or that had a ſpeciall vowe for a tyme.
Nazareth, A little towne in Galilea.
Nazara, A citie in Cappadocia, called alſo Cæſarea.

N E

Nea, An yle betweene Lemnos and Helleſpont.
Neæra, A womans name, mother of Phaethuſa, and Lampetia.
Neæthus, A riuer in Calaber.
Nealces, A famous painter.
Neápolis, A noble citie of Campania, ſet on the bordeꝛs of the ſea, called Mare Mediterraneum, and was firſt called Parthenope. Of this citie the countreyes of Campania, Apulia, and Calabria, be nowe called Regnum Neapolitanum, the Realme of Naples. There is alſo a citie of this name in Affrike,an other in Caria.

Nearchus, A yong man of excellent fauour and beautie.
Nebis, A riuer in Spaine,called of Strabo Ilenis.
Necos, A king of Aegypt.
Necrópolis, A citie of Aegypt,where Cleopatra ꝺyed.
Neleides, patronymicum. Of Neleus, as it were of the pꝛogenie of Neleus.
Neleus, The father of Duke Neſtor.
Neléus,and Neléius,a,um, Of Neleus.
Nemanſus, A citie of Narbon,called commonly Nimes.
Nemea, A wodde in Greece, where Hercules ſlue that hoꝛrible Lyon.
Nemeæus,a,um, Of Nemea.
Memertes, A ſayre of the ſea.
Nemeſis, The name of a Goddeſſe, whome the Poynims ſuppoſed to be the punither of grieuous offenꝺeꝛs: ſome call hir Iuſtyne. Eraſmus ſayth, Nemeſis is a Goddeſſe, the reuenger of inſolencie and arrogancie. She is called alſo Rhamnuſia, of Rhamnus, a village where hir temple was: and Adraſtia, of Adraſtus, the king, that firſt conſtituted to hir a temple.
Nemeti, People of a citie in Germanie,called Spyres.
Nemetobriga, A towne in Spaine,called Valdenebro.
Neemias, A Iewe,cupbearer to Artaxerxes king of Perſia: a man of great learning and holyneſſe: who being in great fauour with the ſayde king, obteyned both licence and ayde to reedifie the citie of Hieruſalem, afore the incarnation of Chriſt.447.yeares.
Nemrod, Is interpreted rebell, or gouernour ſtepping: He was the ſonne of Chus, ſonne of Cham, the ſeconde ſonne of Noe. He is of ſome ſwytten Nimrod, of ſome Nembroth. He was alſo called Saturnus Babylonicus, and was the firſt that toke on him to reigne ouer men, and attempted to buyld the great towꝛer of Babilon, intending to haue rayſed it aboue the clowdes, thinking thereby to haue eſcaped, if any ſloude ſhoulde eftſones haue happened. He was before the incarnation of Chriſt 2170.yeares, after the creation of the woꝛlde.1788. yeares.
Neobóle,or Neobúle, The daughter of Lycambes.
Neocles, A philoſopher of Athens.
Neodunum,A citie in Fraunce,in the countrey of Lyons, called Leonduil.
Neómagus, A towne in Fraunce,called Nemure. It was alſo a citie in Britannia, which ſome men ſuppoſe to be Cheſter.
Neóptolemus,mi,m.gen. The ſurname of Pyrrhus,which was the ſonne of Achilles.
Néperta, A citie in Tuſcane.
Néphele,les. The name of a woman,mother of Helle,which gaue the name to the ſea,called Helleſpontus.
Nephelcis, The daughter of Néphele.
Neptúnius,a,um, Of Neptune.
Neptúnus,ni,maſ.gen. The God of the ſea.
Neptunália,ôrum,n.g.plu. Feaſtes of Neptune.
Neptunine,nes, The daughter or neece of Neptune.
Nequinum, A citie in Italy,nowe called Narnia.
Nereides, Fayries of the ſea.
Nereus, A God of the ſea.
Nerine,nes, The daughter or neece of Nereus.
Nerio, nerienis, The wife of Mars.
Neritos, An yſlande in the middle ſea. Alſo an hill in the yle of Ithaca.
Neritius,a,um, Of Neritos. Ulyſſes was ſo called.
Nerium,rij,neu.gen. A promontorie or elbowe of lande in Gallecia, lying into the weſt ſea, not farre from Compoſtelle.
Nero, Called alſo Domitius, An Emperour, ſonne of Gn. Domitius Nero,adopted into the Empyre by Claudius, who maryed his mother Agrippina: although hee were bꝛought vp by the reuerend and wiſe Seneca,yet by the ineuitable corꝛuption of his nature, hee became hoꝛrible vicious, inſo much as he cauſed himſelfe to be gelded, and cut in the fourme of a woman, and ſo to be abuſed, and by his cruelties cauſed his owne mother to be ſlaine, and the citie of Rome to be burned,he in the meane tyme playing on an Harpe, and ſinging the deſtruction of Troy.

Troy. Finally he being hated of all men, was ſlayne in a cauſe,& hereto he ſtode, when he was but.xxxij.yeares olde,and had reigned.xiij.yeares,in the.lvij.yeare after the incarnation of Chriſt.
Nerny, People inhabiting in Tourney and the countrey adioyning.
Nerulani, People nigh to Rome.
Nerulonenſes, People in Campania.
Nerulum, A towne in Lucania.
Nerua, called alſo Cocceius, (a Gentile) was a god and noble Emperour. In the beginning of his reigne, he ſet at liberte all chriſten men, which were accuſed of hereſie. He ſo much exceeꝺed in liberalitie toward poꝛe men, that he thereby lacking treaſure, rauſed his apparaile, plate, and the ſtuffe to be ſolde for his moueables, and ꝺeꝛeyed that the children of poꝛe men, ſhoulde be kept with the common treaſure, and determined nothing by himſelfe, but onely by the conſent of excellent wyſe men: yet notwithſtanding his ſincerite and vertuous lyfe, hee lacked not traitoꝛs, whom he did cullerate & anderſtilp, and at the laſt ꝺyed of the age of xxxj. yeares, when he had reigned one yeare, and foure monethes, after the incarnation of Chriſt.99.yeares.
Nesa, A Countrey in the yle of Sicilie, coyning to Aetna.
Neſi, or Neſei, People of Scythia in Europe.
Neſia, A nymph of the ſea.
Neſium, or Neſis, An yle by Campania.
Neſſus, A Centaure, which rauiſhed Deianira Hercules wife: who being wounded to death, gaue to Deianira a poyſon, wherewith Hercules ſhirt being waſhed, and put on him, his body ꝺid rot with moſt hoꝛrible paynes, which he not ſuſteyning, did enter into a great fire, and let himſelfe be burned.
Neſtor, The ſonne of Neleus,and Chloyps. In the tyme of the Troyan warre, being then almoſt three hundred yeares olde,he went with the other Grecians to Troy, accompanied with fiftie ſhippes, and there by graue and wiſe counſaile,ſo much furthered and profited the Grecians affayres,that the Prince Agamemnon ſayꝺ openly, hee ſhoulde not ꝺoubt in ſhoꝛt ſpace to take Troy, if he had foꝛtuned to haue ten ſuch counſayloꝛs as Neſtoꝛ was. Foꝛ beſide his great wyſedome gathered by long experience, hee was ſo eloquent, that Homere affyrmeth his talke proceeꝺed from him ſweeter then any honie.
Neſtorides, The ſonne or nephew of Neſtoꝛ.
Neſtorius. A great hereticke, biſhop of Conſtantinople,the peere of our Lorde. 419. who denied Chriſt to be God. Of him the hereticks holding that opinion, were called Neſtoriani.
Neſtus, A riuer of Thrace.
Neuceria, A citie in Umbria,a part of Italy.
Neuola, A riuer in Umbria.
Neuri, People of Scythia, of whome it is written, that in Sommer they were turned into wolues.
Neuſtria, Normandie.

N I

Nixtos, A riuer in Sicilie.
Nicæarchus, A famous painter.
Nicandrus, or Nicander, A famous Poet, which wrote of poyſons.
Nicánor,nicánoris, A Grammarian of Alexandria, in the tyme of Adrian the Emperour.
Nicator,nicátoris,m.g. The ſurname of Seleucus,and ſignifieth a conquiſher.
Nicea,or Nicia, A citie in Withynia. Where was holden the holy counſayle againſt Arrius. In the which was preſent the noble Emperour Conſtantinus Magnus. There is an other citie of that name in Fraunce.
Nicepſus, A Greeke philitton and a great Magician about the yeare of our Lorde.650.
Nicetes, A ſophiſter in the time of Adrian,excellently learned.
Nicias, A noble man of Athens. It is alſo the name of certayne other.

Nico, One of the Tarentines that conſpyred againſt Annibali.
Nicocreon, A tyranne of Cypres.
Nicolaitæ,were hereticks, which toke that name of Nicolas,one of the ſeuen deacons in the time of the Apoſtles, who being blamed of them for ielouſie,bꝛought his wife who was faire,among all the diſciples,ſaying,that he ſo woulde,ſhould lye by hir,thinking thereby to purge himſelfe of ielouſie: wherof other pꝛimen taking occaſion, beleeued, that euery man might lawfully lye euery woman that he luſted. Which hereſie (as reaſon wolde) was condemned immediatly, but it is to be ſeaꝛcd, that it is not cleerely extinct.
Nicolaus, A mans name.
Nichomachus, The name of diuers men.
Nicomedes, A king of Bithynia.
Nicomedia, A noble citie in Bithynia, where Conſtantinus Magnus the Empeꝛour ꝺyed. It is nowe called of the Turkes Nichor.
Nichophanes, A cunning painter.
Nicopolis, A citie in Epire, where Octauian banquiſhed Antonie and Cleopatra.
Nicoſtrata, called alſo Carmentis, Was mother vnto Euander king of Latines,and a Prophetelle.
Nicoſtratus, A famous oratour of Macedonie. There was alſo a Poet, and a Muſitrell of the ſame name. Alſo an excellent player of Comedyes.
Nigidius figulus, An auncient Romaine, which was a philoſopher, of the ſect of Pythagoras, and wrote wonderfull ſubtilly, about the yeare of our Lorde. 42. he ꝺyed in exyle.
Niger, A ryuer of Libya.
Nigrinus, A mans name in Lucian.
Nigra, A fountaine in Arabia, which ſome ſuppoſe to be the heaꝺe of the famous riuer Nilus.
Nilgenus,a,um, Engendred,or bꝛed in,or of Nilus.
Nilótis,nilótidis,f.g. Of Nilus.
Nilus, A famous and great riuer, running thꝛough Aethiope, and Aegypt, and is ſuppoſed to be one of the ryuers of Paradyſe, called in holy ſcripture Gehon. Albeit to me it ſeemeth vnlykely, for as much as in Geneſis it is wꝛyten, that Gehon enuyꝛoneth all Aethiopia, where is no mention made, that it paſſeth thꝛough Aegypt, albeit that Aegypt and the ryuer Nilus were moꝛe nigh to Iuopiter, when he wꝛote the booke Geneſis, then Aethiope was. And alſo Nilus was famous foꝛ the bertue of the water thereof, which ouerflowing the countrey of Aegypt, made the grounde ſwonderfull fertyle many yeares after, ſo that wythout labouring, the earth bꝛought forth abundance of ſundrie graines and plantes, delectable and pꝛofitable. Alſo beaſtes of ſundrie kinders, wythout other fourme of generation: eſpecially when the ryuer came to the ꝺepeneſſe of xi. cubites. Lykewiſe when it exceeded not. viij. cubites, there ſucceeded much famine and ſcarſitie.
Nilíacus, & Nilóticus,a,um, Pertayning to the ryuer Nilus.
Nimblis, An yle in the ſea called Ionium.
Ninive,ſiue Niſibis, A citie in Aſſyria, buylded by Ninus, in compaſſe thꝛee ꝺayes iourney. There was an other citie of that name, in the coꝛner of Iudæa, towarde Arabia.
Ninos, A citie of Aſſyria, called alſo Ninus,and Ninive.
Ninus, A king of Aſſyria, and ſonne of Belus, was the firſt that made warre. He conquered vnto Indie,and vanquiſhed Zoroaſtres, kinge of Bactria, which firſt inuented arte Magike, and alſo cauſed firſt money to be current. He had to his wyfe Semiramis: he reigned 52. yeares, before the incarnation of Chriſt. 2055. yeares.
Niobe,bes, Daughter of Tantalus king of Phꝛygia, wife of Amphion, a woman of much wiſedome, who bꝛought foꝛth ſeuen ſonnes, and as many daughters of excellent beautie: wher of ſhe vaunted and pꝛeferred herſelfe before Latona, mother of Apollo and Diana. Wherefoꝛe Latona being angrie, commaunded Apollo to ſlea all all the sonnes, and Diana all the daughters. For which dede Niobe (through discomfort and heauinesse) lost hir speach, and remayned without mouing. Wherefore the Poets feigned, that she was transformed into a stone vpon the sepulchre of hir children.

Niphæus, A mans name in Virgil.

Niphates, A ryuer of the great Armenie.

Nireus, dissyllabum, The sonne of Charopus, the most beautifull of all the Grekes that came to Troy.

Nisa, A womans name in Virgil.

Nisa, A citie in Lydia. Also the name of diuers men.

Nisæe, The name of a nymph or fayrie.

Nisæus, A place in Media, where was a god hyede of faire hozses.

Nisæus, a, um, Of Nisus.

Nisus, A king of whome it is written, that he had one golden heare, the which caused him alwayes to be victorious. But his daughter called Scylla, stole away the fayde heare, and brought it to Minos hir fathers enimie, whome she loued, thinking by that meanes to please him: whereby hir father was banquished and slayne.

Nisyros, An yle nigh to Greece.

Nitriobriges, People of Narbon in Fraunce, nowe called Mount pelier.

Nitria, A countrey in Egypte, and the name of two cities aboue Memphis.

Nixus, i, A starre or planet in the firmament.

N O

Noctiluca, A name, whereby the moone is called.

Nodinus, A God, whome the auncient Romaynes worshipped.

Nodus Cælestis, Was of auncient Sorpters, taken for the signe of Pisces.

Noë, Signifieth rest, or ceassing from labour. It was the name of an holy patriarche, the sonne of Lamech, whome onely (with his wyfe and three sonnes) God elected to be preserued from the vniuersall floude, which Almightie God sent ouer the worlde, for the horrible sinnes of men then liuing. Noe (of the age of 600. yeares) by the commaundement of God made a great vessell, called in holy scripture an Arke, which conteyned in length 300. cubites (as S. Augustine sayth) geometricall, euery cubite contayning sixe common cubites, which is nine foote: so it was in length. 2700. foote, in breadth. 150. cubites, which was. 450. foote: in depenesse 30. cubites, which was. 270. foote: wherein were also saued of all kindes of beastes and fowles, male and female. And after the floude ceassed, the Arke remayned vpon an hill in Armenia called Cordiei. Noe liued after the floud. 350. yeares: after the creation of the worlde. 2007. yeares, and before the incarnation of of Christ. 1855. yeares. He was of the Gentiles called Ianus, and sometyme Vortumnus.

Noëmagus, A citie of Narbon in Fraunce, called Nion.

Noes, A ryuer in Thracia, which runneth into the ryuer called Danubius, by liter.

Nola, A towne in Italy.

Nolani, People of that towne.

Nomades, People in Scythia, which is in Europa, which feeding cattell onely, haue none other habitacion, but where the cattell doe tarrye. I suppose they bee the Tartarians, next to Polonia and Russie. They were also a people of Affrike, which afterwarde were called Numidæ.

Nomentana via, The way out of Rome, leading to Nomentum.

Nomentum, A towne in Italy not ferre from Rome.

Nomius, One of the names of Apollo.

Nona, The name of one of the three fatall Ladyes called Parcæ: the other two are Decima, & Morta. The Grekes call them, Clotho, Lachesis, and Atropos.

Nonacris, A place in Arcadie, where is licour to colde, that nothing can containe it but the houfe of a Mule.

Nonácrius, a, um, and Nonacrinus, a, um, Of that place, or of Arcadie.

Norba Cæsarea, A towne in Portugall called commonlye Alcanta.

Noricum, A countrey in Germanie. It is bounded on the west, with the ryuer Aenus, and Vindelicia: on the nozth, with Dunow: on the east, with Pannonia superior: on the south, with the Alpes. Thus and Vindelicia, be as partes of Bauaria.

Noricus, a, um, Of the countrey Noricum.

Normania, Normandie in Fraunce.

Normani, Norwans.

Norvegia, æ, fem. gen. A countrey beyond Denmarke, called Norway.

Notus, A towne in Aeolia. Also a promontorie in Irelande, called commonly Cabo de mar.

Notus, ti, The southerne winde.

Noua mœnia, A citie of Sarmatia, called commonly, Weissenburge.

Nouantum Cherfonesum, A place in the west part of Scotlande, called Cobermouth.

Nouatianus, A priest of Rome, and sometime Chaplyn to saint Cyprian, began an hereste, called Catharon, which was, that they which had renounced the fayth, shoulde not be receyued to pennance.

Nouellus, li, A mans name in Rome, which would thinke by that of the measures called Congij, and was therfore surnamed Tricongius.

Nouember, bris, m. g. The moneth of Nouember.

Nouemiæ, pler. A citie in Thracia, called also Amphipolis.

Nouiodunum, The name of diuers cities in Fraunce.

Nouium, A citie of Spayne, called commonly Noia.

Nouius, A riuer in Britaine, commonly called Cloit.

Nouocomensis, A citizen of Nouum Comum.

Nouum Comum, A citie in Lumbardie.

Noctes atticæ, The name of a booke, which Aulus Gellius made, so called, because he wrote it at Athens in winter tyme.

N V

Nubigenæ, masc. gen. The name of the Centaures, because they were begotten of a clowde in the fourme of Juno.

Nucetia, A towne in Campania.

Numa, The seconde king of the Romaines, next after Romulus. Hee was chosen by the people and Senate of Rome, of a poze Gentleman, dwelling in a towne of the Sabines, called Cures, for his excellent vertues and learning, being of the discipline of Pythagoras. He by his politicke and ceremonyes, brought the Romaynes (who during the tyme of Romulus, were continually occupyed in warres) in such a wonderfull quietnesse and honest sozme of liuing, that the countreyes enuironning them, by the space of. xl. yeares, did neuer moue warre against them. He first buylded the temple of Janus, which being opened did declare warre, being shut it signified peace. Hee ozdeyned the three high priestes called Flamen dialis, Martialis, and Quirinalis. Hee first consecrated virgines vestales, appoynted. 12. Salios, instituted dayes of iudgement and vacation, and deuided the yeare into twelue monethes. All which things that the people myght haue in moze estimation, hee feygned that hee beryued them by the instruction of the Goddesse oz nymph Aegeria.

Numana, A towne in Italy.

Numantia, A citie in Spayne about Biskaie, which was of such valiauntnesse, that being besieged of the Romaynes. xiij. yeares continually, yet they did not onely resist, hauing but foure thousande men to defende it, but also vanquished fozte thousande Romaynes. At the last it was destroyed by the last Scipio, after he had besieged it a long time. For when they had long sustained famine, and might not issue forth to fight in battaple, they burned themselues and all their goodes.

Numicius, A riuer not farre from Lauinium.

Numicus, A riuer in Italy, by the citie Lauinium, in the which Aeneas was drowned.

Numida,

Numida, A man oz woman of Numidia.

Numidia, A countrey betweene Carthage and Mauritania in Affrike, and nowe is called Barbaria, where Masinissa did sometyme reigne. In that countrey is founde most excellent Marble. The chiefe citie there was named Cirta, which was very strong, and so puissaunt of men, that in the tyme of Strabo, it might arme tenne thousande hozsemen, and xx. thousande fotemen.

Numitor, ôris, Father vnto Rhea, which was the mother of Romulus: his younger brother Amulius expelled him out of the kingdome, killed his sonne Laulus, chose his daughter Rhea, to be virgine Vestale, priuily in the darke rauished hir, and after when she was founde to be with chylde, (accozding to the lawes appoynted to those virgines) buryed hir quicke, and commaunded Romulus, and Remus, that were borne of hir, to be cast into Tyber: but they were cast to lande alyue, founde, and nourished vp by the kings shepheyearde Faustulus.

Nundina, æ, A Goddesse of the Romaynes.

Nursia, A citie of the Sabines, not farre from Rome, set on the hilles of Umbria.

Nursini, People of that citie.

N Y

Nycteis, idos, The daughter oz niece of Nycteus.

Nycteris, A name whereby Chærephon, the philosopher was called, for his exceeding leanneslle, that he gaue vnto ouermuch studie.

Nycteus, dissyllabum, A king the father of Antiope.

Nyctileia, Sacrifices by night done to Bacchus.

Nictileus, The surname of Bacchus, bycause his sacrifices were done in the night.

Nyctimene, The daughter of Nycteus, who after she had liyen with hir father, was turned into an Owle.

Nyctorix, oz after some Nitocris, A Queene of Babilon, after Semiramis.

Nymphæ, Maydens of the sea: Elues. Sometyme the Muses.

Nympheum, A promontorie oz hill of Prochonnesus, out of the which alwayes issueth fire.

Nympheus, A ryuer in Italy by Veiitre.

Nysa, A citie of Arabie, where Bacchus was nourished. Also a mountayne and a citie in India, buylded by Liber pater. One Nysa is in Boeotia, an other in Caria, and certaine other places.

Nysæa, A citie in India, at the foote of the mountaine Meron.

Nyseius, a, um, Of Nysa.

Nyseus dissyllabum, The name of Bacchus.

Nysias, adis, A woman of Nysa.

Nysigena, One borne in Nysa.

Nysius, The friende of Euryalus, very swift in running.

O A

Oaxis, A ryuer in the yle of Candie.

Oaxus, A citie in Candie.

O B

Obrion, One of the yles called fortunate.

Obris, The name of a ryuer.

O C

Ocalee, A citie of Boeotia.

Occasio, ônis, fœ. gen. The Goddesse of opportunitie, whose Image is thus deuised of Poetes: She standeth on a tumbling whele, with wynges on hir feete, turning hir selfe rounde very swiftly, on hir heade hauing all the heare bleste, and cleane balde behinde. Wherof imagination they signifie, that opportunitie is a thing, that soone passeth, and is cleane lost, vnlesse it be presently apprehended.

* Post hæc occasio calua, A prouerbe. Take occasion when it commeth, for hee that will not when he may, when he will he shall haue nay. The tyde tarryeth no man.

* Occasio præmenda, A prouerbe, when the sunne shineth, make hay: the tyde must be taken when it commeth.

Oceanius, a, um, Of the Occean sea.

Oceanus, The sonne of Cælum, and Vesta, the great God of the sea, and father of all the ryuers.

Océanus, i, masc. gen. The broade sea, called the Occean sea, which compasseth the worlde, and adderh to his name, the name of the countreys, by which it passeth: as,

Oceanus Britannicus, The sea next England and Scotland.

Oceanus Indicus, The Indian sea.

Ocellum, A citie in Spayne.

Ocheſius, A citie in Spayne.

Ochus, A ryuer which passeth through Lcarnania a countrey in Greece.

Ocnus, One in hell, whome Poetes feigne to doe nothing but winde and make ropes, and so fast as he hath twisted them, an Asse standeth and biteth it of. Wherof ryseth this prouerbe Ocnus funiculum torquet, spoken of one that taketh great paine to thinke, and hath a shrewd housewife at home, that spendeth as fast as he getteth: Ocnus, is also he that buylded Mantua.

Ocrinum, Saint Michaels mount in Cornewall.

Octapitarum promontorium, A place in Wales called saint Dauids.

Octauia, The sister of Augustus, and wyfe of Antonius, whome hee afterwarde forsoke. Another was daughter of Claudius the Emperour, and wyfe to Nero, who caused hir to be slayne.

Octauianus, The name of Augustus, before hee toke on him the Monarchie.

Octauius, The name of Augustus father, and of diuers other Romaines.

October, bris, mas. gen. The moneth of October.

Octoduri, Sein and Walois in Fraunce.

Ocyalus, A mans name in Homer.

Ocypete, One of the Harpeyes.

Ocyrhoë, A nymph the daughter of Oceanus.

Ocyron, A ryuer in Arcadie.

O D

Odices, A Centaure, one of the sonnes of Ixion.

Odius, A mans name in Homer.

Odrysæ, People of Thrace.

Odrysius, a, um, Of that people, or of Thrace.

Odyssea, æ, fœm. gen. A booke of Homere, conteyning the great and perilous trauayles of Ulysses.

Odytes, Lake Odites.

Oea, A citie in Affrike.

Oeagrus, A ryuer in the countrey of Thracia. Also the father of Orpheus the Poet.

Oeanthe, The name of a citie.

Oebades, King Darius hozsekeper, by whose politicke hee attayned to the kingdome of Persia.

Oebalia, The countrey in Greece called also Laconia.

Oebalides, patronym. m. g. pro genitil, A man of Laconia.

Oebalis, idis, patronym fœm.

Oebalius, a, um, Of Oebalia.

Oebalus, A king of Laconia.

Oechalia, A part of Laconia, and a citie of the same name.

Oecinyres, A man of Argos.

Oedipodionides, The daughter or niece of Oedipus.

Oedipodionius, a, um, Belonging to Oedipus.

Oedipus, The sonne of Laius and Iocasta, whose father vnderstanding by Oracle that he shoulde be slayne of his owne sonne, committed him being an infant to his shephearde to kyll him. But hee being mooued with pitie, and yet not so bolde to refuse and disobeye his maysters commaundement, made holes through the childes feete, and by a wyth, hung him on a tree, by that meanes thinking that he shoulde die for hunger. At which tyme happily one Phorbas king Polybius his heardman of Corinthe hauing occasion to passe that way, hearing the childe crie, saued it, and brought him as a great present to the Queene his Maisters that had no chylde. She esteming it to be sent hir of God by myracle, for that it was so goodly a babe, brought it vp tenderly as hir owne, & of his swollen feete called him Oedipus. Hee comming

comming to age, and vnderstanding that hee was not Polybius his sonne, determined to go seeke his father. Wherefore learning by oracle that at Phocis he shoulde meete with his father, he passed thither, and or his comming finding the people of the cite in an vproze and tumult, as it fortuned he toke part with certaine, and vnwares killed his owne father Laius, who was come thither to quiet the sedition. And so was the oracle fulfilled that signified he shoulde light on his father at Phocis. Then thinking himselfe to be deluded by the oracle, he went to Thebes. Where, bycause he was thought to be Polybius his sonne, and had disloured the riddle of Sphinx, he was made king of Thebes, and vnwittingly maryed the Queene Iocasta his owne mother, and had by hir foure children. Finally, hauing knowledge at length that by misfortune he had murdered his father, at Phocis, and by incest had knowne his owne mother, so sore it grieued him, that in reuengement thereof he pulled out his owne eyes, and lyued euer after in banishment, hauing his daughter Antigone to leade him, by whome he was afterwarde preserued when he would haue slaine himselfe.

Oenanthia, A cite of Sarmatie, called now S. Sophia.

Oeneus disfyllabum, The father of Meleager, and Deianira the last wyfe of Hercules: Hee was king of Calydonia.

Oeneus, a, um, and Oeneius, a, um, Of Oeneus.

Oenides, The sonne or nephew of Oeneus.

Oenisteria, Was a certaine sacrifice at Athens, made by yong men, newly bearded, which was done before they did cutte the heare that was long, which sacrifice was in this wyse: A certaine measure of wine was brought into the temple of Hercules, wherof the yong men dranke a lyttle, and gaue the residue to all other that were present.

Oenochema, A mountayne in Affrike.

Oenochônus, A ryuer running into Thessaly.

Oenomaus, King of Elis, and father to the beautifull Ladie Hippodamia. He had knowledge by oracle that he shoulde be slayne by his daughters husbande, who, for hir excellent beautie was at that tyme sued for by many noble men. But Oenomaus thinking to kepe his daughter from mariage, and trusting to exceeding swifte horses that he had, prepared this offer to the wowers which came to hir, that they shoulde contende with him in running with the Chariot, on this condition, to haue his daughter if they ouercame him, and to lese their liues if they by him were ouercome. Thirteene had for loue of the Ladie aduentured and lost their liues, The last came Pelops Tantalus his sonne, who with money corrupted Myrtilus the Chariot man, to leaue a wheele of Oenomaus his Chariot vnpinned, whereby in the race the wheele fell of, and Oenomaus with the fall of the Chariot was so sore bruised that immediatly he died, yeelding both the victorye and his daughter to Pelops, whome he also most earnestly desired to be reuenged on his false seruaunt Myrtilus, by whose practise he was betrayed. Wherefore when Myrtilus afterwarde with reprochfull wordes required his reward, Pelops threwe him headlong into the sea, as a due rewarde for him, that had beene false to his Prince and maister.

Oenone, The concubine of Paris, before that he rauished Helene.

Oenopia, An yle called also Aegina.

Oenopides, An Astronomer of Chyo.

Oenops, A mans name in Homer.

Oenotria, A countrey in Italy. Some write that Italy it selfe was so called, of Oenotrus, An Arcadian.

Oenotrides, Two yles nigh to Calabria.

Oenotrus, and Oenotrus, a, um, Of Oenotria.

Oeta, A mountayne betweene Thessaly and Macedonia, where is the sepulchre of Hercules.

Oeta, The father of Medea, wife of Iason.

Oethyni, People neere to Pontus.

Oetolycros, In the Scythian tongue, the name of Apollo.

Oetus, The brother of Ephialtes the gyaunt.

O G

Ogdolapis, A ryuer, which commeth out of the hilles called Tipes, and runneth to Rome.

Ogdous, A king of Aegypt, which first buylded the citie of Memphis.

Ogyga, An yle betweene Phœnicia and Syria, where Calypso dwelled, which decryued with hir Ilysses.

Ogyges, He that first buylded the citie of Thebes.

Ogygidæ, Thebans.

Ogygius, a, um, Made, or founde by Ogyges.

Ogyris, An yle in Syria.

O I

Oicles, The sonne of Antiphates.

Oileus, A king of Locris, father to Aiax.

Oilides, The sonne of Oileus.

O L

Olbia, A citie of Marbon called Eres.

Olcachires, The bosome of the sea in the province called Zeugitana.

Olearus, One of the yles called Cyclades.

Oleastrum, A towne of Spaine.

Olenus, ni, A vulcanes sonne.

Olenus, A citie in Arcadia, where the Goate, with whose mylke Iupiter was nourished, was brought by: and therefore the signe of starres (which was supposed to be the same Goate) is named Olenia.

Olenius, a, um, Of Olenus.

Oliba, A towne in Spaine, called commonly Olie.

Olicana, A towne in Englande, called Ryxbp.

Ollus, A manner name, that was a great marker of other mens faultes.

Olophernes, Chiefe Constable to the great Nabugodonosor king of Assyrians, a valyaunt captaine: notwythstanding (being ouercharged with wyne, and to muche trusting in the beautie and pleasaunt speach of the Hebrewe Ladie Iudith) he was by hir slaine in his bedde, and had his heade stryken of, and brought to his enimyes. Her was before the incarnation of Christ, 633. yeares.

Olympia, A citie betweene the hylles of Ossa, and Olympus.

Olympia, ôrum, Solemne playes & games kept in Greece, to the honour of Iupiter Olympicus, or (after some) in the honour of Hercules.

Olympiacus, a, um, Pertayning to those playes, or to the citie Olympia.

Olympias, adis, The name of Alexanders mother, and a wynde blowing in Bubœa. Olympias, is also the space of fiue yeares, wherebye the olde Greekes did accompt, as we doe nowe by the yeares of our Lorde: as, the first Olympias, the seconde, the thirde, &c. Glareanus sayeth, that Olympias is the space of foure yeares, and that they, whith take and sayde otherwise are deceyued.

Olympicus, a, um, Of Olympus.

Olympicum certamen, Was a game or playe kept on the hyll of Olympus, by all the princes and cities of Greece, euery fift yeare, in the honour of Hercules, who first begonne it. In the which were all these maistries prouued: Running on foote to a goale. Also running swyth and back again two furlongs. Also wrastling, fighting with fistes, running swyth horses, and leaping from the one to the other, coursing swyth Chariottes: running swyth Mares: but so as in the myddle of the course, he that did ryde should leape downe, and holding fast the bridle, should make an ende of his course. There was also contention and victorye of Poetes, Rhetoricians, Musitians, and subtyle disputers. In the place did growe a wylde Olyue tree, whereof Garlandes were made, and gyuen to the victours herebnto assembled: In the which tyme eyther warre was appoynted, or leagues concluded.

Olympionices,

Olympionices, or Olympionicus, He that hath had victorie in the games at Olympus.

Olympius, a, um, Of Olympus.

Olympus, A mountaine or hill in Greece, betweene Thessalia, and Macedonia, aboue the which appeareth no cloud, and therefore among the poets it is vsurped for heauen. Plutarchus in vita Aemilij, saith, that it is tenne furlonges in heighte.

Olynthus, A citie neere Athens.

Olyras, A ryuer in Greece, by the place called Thermopylæ.

Olysippum, A citie in Portugall, nowe called Vlisbona, in Englishe Lullebone.

O M

Ombrici, People neere to Illyricum.

Omphale, A mayden which was Queene of Lydia, whom Hercules did serue, and he caused him to spinne on a roche.

O N

Onchiston, A place in the marches of Thebes.

Onchicritus, A Philosopher, and an Hystoriographer of Aegina.

Onesimus, A learned man in the tyme of Constantinus Magnus.

Onobo, A citie of Spayne.

Onobalithura, An other citie of Spayne.

Onophrius, A certaine man, that so loued solitarinesse, that in the space of three score yeares he neuer sawe man, and by that continuall being in solitarinesse, became creeping on foote to see to. For his heare and bearde couered all the vpper part of his bodie, and his priuie partes beyng with barches and leaues of trees. He lyued thirtie yeares, and neuer did eate any thing but heardes and berryes. Panutius when he sawe him was afrayd of him, and thought he had beene a Satyre.

O O

Oonæ, Iles in the nozth Ocean, where the inhabitaunts doe liue with egges of foules.

Oopellum, A towne in Englande called Chester.

O P

Opheltes, The sonne of Lycurgus, slayne by a serpent. vide Lemnos.

Ophiogenes, People of Hellespont, which heale the stinging of serpentes with touching the place.

Ophion, One of Cadmus companions.

Ophioneus, The name of a great seyer.

Ophiophagi, People in Ethiopia, which doe eate serpents.

Ophiucus, The name of Esculapius, bycause they hee is ymagined to holde a serpent in his hande. Some write, that it is a signe in heauen, which some call Hercules, other Esculapius.

Ophiusa, An yslande, called sometyme Rhodos.

Opigena, Juno was so called of women, bycause they supposed that she holpe them in their trauayle.

Opis, opis, pen. prod. A Ladie companion to Diana. It is also a citie by the ryuer Tigris.

Opitergius, a, um, Of the towne of Carniers, called Opitergium.

Opites, The name of a Grecian, which Dictys sayne.

Oppia, A virgine vestale, which being conuicted of whoredome, was buryed quicke.

Oppianus, A certaine port.

Ops, opis, pen. cor. fœm. gen. The sister and wyfe of Saturne. Looke more in Cibele.

Opuntius, a, um, Of the citie Opus.

Opus, untis, A citie in Locris.

O R

Orbelon, A place in Thracia, where Orpheus did dwell.

Orbilius, A Grammarian of Beneuentum in Ciceros time.

Orbis obliquus, The Zodiake.

Orcas promontorium, The nozth ende of Scotlande.

Orcelis, A towne in Spaine called commonly Origuela.

Orchades, Thirtie plandes in the sea by Scotlande.

Orchamus, A king of Assyria, which buryed his daughter Leucothea quicke, bycause she was rauished of Apollo.

Orchoe, A citie of Babylon.

Orchomeneus, a, um, Of Orchomenus.

Orchomenus, A mountaine in Thessaly. Also a citie and a ryuer in Boeotia.

Orcanus, a, um, Of Orcus.

Orcus, A ryuer of hell. Also another in Thessaly. It is sometyme taken for hell.

Ordessus, A ryuer of Scythia.

Ordoluci, Hilles that doe deuyde Scotland and Englande: they be nowe called Cheuiet.

Ordouicum, vici, A citie in Wp taine, the people whereof were called Ordouices, whome Iulius Agricola subdued.

Oreades, Nymphes of the mountaines.

Orebatis, A citie of Persis.

Orestitropus, One of Acteons dogges.

Orestes, The sonne of Agamemnon and Clytemnestra. His sister Electra, when shee perceyued the aduouterer Aegisthus and his mother would haue slaine him, with his father, conueyed him priuily out of the waye, and kept him to his vncle Strophius kynge of Phocis, where hee was brought vp vntill he came to age: and then returning to Argos, with the consent of his sister Electra, in reuengement of his fathers death, slue both his mother Clytemnestra, & the aduouterer Aegisthus. Afterwarde also he killed Pyrrhus in the temple of Apollo, for that hee had maryed the Ladie Hermione that was before to him betrothed. For these murders Orestes was so cruelly tormented with furies, that he wandred madde in many countreys, and neuer coulde be holpen, before that by sacrifice he purged his cruell doinges at the auter of Diana in Taurica. In all his troubles and aduersities he had a faythfull friende named Pylades, that did alwaye accompanie and helpe him, and loued him so entierely that hee would haue gyuen his life for him. For when kyng Thoas boulred which of them was Orestes, being in feuour very like. Pylades sayde he was Orestes, to the myghe haue beene put to death for him, and Orestes againe for his part affirmed earnestly, as the truth was, that hee was Orestes, that his friende might not. For his sake wythout cessation his life. Wherefore these two are noted as an example of faythfull friendship.

Orestes, a, um, & Orestes.

Orestis, idis, A part of Macedonie.

Oretæ, People of Indie.

Oretes, A ryuer of Sicilie.

Oreto, or Ora, A towne of Spayne called Calatreua.

Oreus, A name of Bacchus.

Orge, A well in Marbone, wherein groweth a certayne herbe, which Oxen and Kine doe so greatly desire, that they thrust their heades wholye vnder the water to get it.

Orgia, ôrum, n. g. plur. Ceremonies or songes pertayning to infernall Gods, or to Bacchus.

Oribasius, A noble man, which was familiar with Iulianus the Emperour: he wrote 72. bookes of Physicke.

Oricus, a, um, Of Oricos.

Oricos, or Oricum, A citie of Epyre.

Origenes, called also Adamantius, (borne at Alexandria in Aegypt) Was scorne of one Leonides the martyr, a man of moste excellent doctrine and vertue from hys childhode: who being on slepe, his father came into the chamber, and taking away the clothes from hym, kyssed the breast of the infant, as a temple, hauing within it the holy ghost, and gaue thankes to God, that he had gyuen him such a sonne. When his father was martyred, Origen being but a yong childe, and very desirous of martyrdome ranne among other that were ledde to be slayne, and by all meanes proferd himselfe to die with them. But his mother (which kept him most entierely) perceiuing the matter, did first lamentably intreate him to withdrawe him, but his desire of martyrdome was the

the more increased thereby. Wherfore in the night when hee was in his bed, she stale away his clothes, so that in the morning when he would haue gone forth, he might not come by them: wherefore hee was constrayned to tarry at home. Of the which deceyte of his mother, hee complayned to his father in prison, desiring him to persist continually in his good purpose. After the death of his father, hee gaue himselfe continually to the studie of holy scripture, which he had tasted before by his fathers instructions. And yet, before hee was .xx. yeares olde, hee excelled all men of his tyme, as well in philosophie, as all other sciences. At the age of .xviij. yeares he expounded Genesis. Authours openyde, wherein he so entertained the holy scripture, that he conuerted manye great learned men to the fayth of Christ. Hys liuing was so strayte and vertuous, that he drewe many vnto him, and was among all men had in a wonderfull reuerence. Hee neuer ceased in all persecutions to comfort and confirme men in the imbracing of martyrdome, and did continually reade openly, and also wrote innumerable bookes in the expounding of holy scripture. He went into diuers countreys to preach, and for his great fame, Mammea the mother of the noble Emperour Alexander Seuerus, sent for him to Rome, and heard him, and (as some suppose) was by him conuerted. He obserued all the preceptes of the Gospell most straytly, in continuall fastinges and watchinges, hauing but one garment, going alwayes barefoote, counsayling all his hearers to renounce all that they had, and to giue it in almesse. Also he gelded himselfe, not onely to be the more chaste, but also, (because in the tyme of persecution, he taught the worde of God as well priuily as openly to men and women) to let the Paynyms to speake dishonestie of him, and those that repayred to his sermons and lessons: which although he did secretly, yet God would not haue it hyd, so that it came to the eare of Demetrius the Bysshop of Alexandria, who first wondered at the Romaske and vertus of the man, praysing the feruentnesse of hys fayth, sayde vnto him: Howe likest to thy doctrine and preaching, since thou hast left vnto thyne aduersaries none occasion of suspition. But afterward the same Demetrius stirred with enuie, layde it in reproche against him openly, finding nothing else wherewith to dispayse him. He that will knowe more of Origen, let him reade the first booke De historia Ecclesiastica, and saint Hierome De scripto eccle. He was after the incarnation of Christ 204. yeares.

Orion, orionis, The sonne of Neptunus. Some feygned, that when Epinous had lodged Jupiter, Mercurie, and Neptune, and had killed for them an Oxe, he desired the to geaunt him a sonne. Then those three pissed in the hyde of the Oxe, of the which (being laid on the ground) came Orion, as it were Vrion. For Ouros in Greeke is vrine. When Orion being an hunter, would haue dishonored Diana, he was slayne of a scorpion, and translated among the starres, and there is the signe called in latine Iugula.

Orithya, A nymph that encouraged men to runne.

Orithyia, The daughter of Erichtheus kyng of Athens, whome Boreas loued, and conueyed away with hym into Thrace. An other of this name was Queene of Amazons.

Orizon, ontis, masc. gen. Is the furthermost part of the firmament that mans eye can determine.

Ormenius, A citie of Magnesia.

Ornea, Sacrifices dedicated vnto Priapus.

Orneus, One of the Centaures.

Oroandes, An hill by the mountayne Imaus.

Oroatis, A ryuer in the bosome of the sea called Persicum, southwarde.

Oroba, A citie of Illyria.

Orobatis, A citie of Persis.

Orodes, A kyng of Parthia, who vanquished & slue Crassus the Romayne.

Oroetes, A Persian, which did hang Polycrates the tyranne of Samos.

Orontes, A ryuer by the citie of Antioche. Also a Trojan that came from Troy with Eneas.

Orontéus, a, um, Of Orontes.

Orosius, A worshipfull priest borne in Spayne, right eloquent and expert in hystories. Hee wrote seuen bookes against them that sayde, that the decay of the common weale of Rome happened by the doctrine of Christ. Hee was sent by saint Augustine, to saint Hierome, who was then in Judæa, to learne of him the reason of the state of the soule.

Orpheus, A Thracian borne, sonne of Oegrus, and Polymnia, or (as some write) of Apollo and Calliope, an auncient Poet and Harper most excellent. Hee (as the Poetes surmised) did wyth his Musicke delyte wylde beastes and infernall spirites, and moued stones wyth his sweete harmonie: whereby hee recouered his wyfe Eurydice, out of hell. At the last he was slayne wyth lightning, (or as some write) tozne in peeces by women, because that for the sozrowe of his wyfe Eurydice, he did not onely himselfe refuse the loue of many women, and lyued a sole lyfe, but also dissuaded other from the company of women.

Orphéus, a, um, Of Orpheus, sometyme for Thracius.

Orpheus, One of Plutoes horses.

Orsilochus, The sonne of the riuer Hypheus.

Orthocorybantij, People of Scythia in Asia.

Orthosia, A citie of Syria, called nowe Tortosa.

Orton, A citie of the Peligninns, called commonly Pietra de pirati.

Ortona, Idem.

Ortopla, A citie in Dalmatia.

Ortigya, The name of an yle in the sea Aegeum, called also Delos.

Dea Ortigya, Diana.

Osca, A towne in Spaine called commonly Guesca.

Oscela, A citie in the Alpes, called nowe Secusa.

Osci, People in Italy.

Osiris, siris, or Siridis, The sonne of Jupiter and Niobe, first kyng of Argyues: after leauing that realme to his brother, we went into Aegypt, & there reigned, and maryed Isis. Finally, he was slaine by Typhon his brother, and long sought for by Isis his wife, who at last finding hys bodye, buryed it in the yle Abatos, where the Aegyptians afterwarde finding an Oxe, supposed that Osiris was become a God, and taking that Oxe with them to the citie of Memphis, honoured him for a God, and calling him Apis, they ordeined to him certaine ceremonies. A lyttle wyple after, drowning him in the ryuer, they sought for an other lyke Oxe, with wayling and weeping: which being founden, they cryed with much gladnesse, and brought him into the citie. Hee was before the incarnation of Christ. 2012. yeares.

Ossa, An high mountaine in Thessaly.

Ossæus, a, um, Of that mountaine.

Ossonoba, A citie of Portugall.

Ostia, A towne nigh to Rome.

Ostiensis, A lyttle hauen at Rome.

Ostiensis, se, Of Ostia.

Ostiensis porta, A gate in Rome towarde Ostia.

Ostrogothi, East Gothes.

O T

Otanes, A noble man of Persia, which conspired wyth Darius agaynst the Magitian that vsurped the kingdome.

Othryades, A certaine Lacedemonian.

Othrys, A mountaine of Thessaly, where dwelled the people called Lapithæ.

Othrysius, a, um, Of Othrys.

Othus, or Oetus, A certaine gyant. Luke Ephialtes.

Otreus, The brother of Hecuba.

Otryades, A valiaunt man of Sparta. When the Citizens of Argos and Sparta, being at variaunce for a peece of lande, had agreed that .300. of eche side shoulde trie the matter by a combat, and whether part did ouercome, that they shoulde haue the lande, so it hapned, that all all on both sides were slaine, sauing this onely Otryades, and two of his enemies. The two Argiues hys enemyes hee chased and put to flight, and after hee had spoyled all his enemyes bodies, and carped the spaye to his campe, for shame that all his fellowes were slain, he would not returne home to Sparta, but wryting on his Targate this worde Vici, in the same place slue him selfe.

O V

Ouidius, surnamed Naso. Borne in Sulmo, brought vp in Rome, and diligently instructed in Latine letters from his tender age, he gaue most diligent studie to the making of verses, from the which he was withdrawne by his father, and put to learne Rhetorike, wherin a while he much profited, and was in the number of the best Oratours of that tyme, and was aduaunced to sundry authorities, and made a Senatour. Notwithstanding hee chiefly dedicated himselfe to poetrie, wherein by nature he was excellent in facilitie and abundaunce of sentences. He was in good fauour with the Emperour Augustus, of whom at the last he was exyled into Pontus, where he spent the rest of his life in a towne called Tomos, among people most barbarous, who notwithstanding lamented his death, for his courtesie and gentle maners. The cause of his exyle is vncertaine, sauing some suppose it was for abusing Julia, daughter of the Emperour Augustus, although ỹ pretence of the Emperour was for the making of the booke of the craft of loue, whereby yong mindes might be stirred to wantonnesse. He lyued at the tyme when Christ our Sauiour was conuersaunt with vs here on earth.

O X

Oxeas, Hercules sonne by Megara.

Oxellum, A citie in England called Chester.

Oxos, A ryuer in Asia, running through the desertes of Scythia.

Oxyrynchus, A citie in Aegypt, so called of the fishe Oxyrynchus, forasmuch as the Aegyptians worshipped two fishes for gods, that is to say, Lepidotus, and Oxyrynchus. Also two birdes, an Hawke, and the byrde Ibis. Also three beastes, an Oxe, a Dogge, and a Catte, and some honoured a Crocodyle, and some Ichneumon a lyttle beast that lyueth the Crocodyle: in the lande citie the fishe Oxyrynchus was specially worshipped.

P A

PAchiri, Certayne hilles in the lesse Asia.

Pachorus, A kyng of Parthia, slayne in Syria, after the death of Crassus.

Pachynus, A mountayne in Sicilie, on the sea syde, or an elbowe of the lande there, which nowe is called Cauo pasciuio.

Pachysos, A ryuer in Sicilie.

Paciciauus, The name of a certaine swozde player.

Pacinus, A mans name.

Pactolus, A ryuer in Lydia, hauing golden grauell.

Pacuuius, A famous wryter of Tragidies, borne at Brundusium in Calabria, sister sonne of Ennius the poet: hee is commended of Quintilian for the grauitie of his sentences, the ponderousnesse of hys wordes, and the authoritie of the personages which are in his Tragidies and Comedies. That his style for meth somewhat rude, is to be ascribed to the tyme, and not to his fault: hee lyued vntyll the age of. 90. yeares. Hee was before the comming of Christ. 131. yeares.

Padus, A famous ryuer in Italy, which is there named Po, Cato in originibus sayth, that the Tuscanes called it Botigon, the Ligurians Botigum. Plyne calleth it Bodincum, that is to say, hauing no bottome, the Greekes call it Eridanus. It commeth out of the hyll called Vesulus, which is in the highest part of the mountaynes called Alpes, and runneth by the marches of Liguria, and so passeth vnder the grounde, and ryseth eftsones in the countrey called Vibonensis, and carryeth with him. xxx. other Riuers into the Venetian Sea, named Adriaticum.

Padua, A citie in Italy called Panie.

Padula, A ryuer, which some saye is an arme of the ryuer Po.

Pæan, pæanis, masc. gen. An hymne in the prayse of Apollo. Sometyme the same Apollo.

Pæantius, a, um, Of Apollo.

Pædaretus, A mans name.

Pæon, onis, An excellent Philition.

Pæonia, A countrey in Europa, and is a part of Macedonie.

Pæstanus, a, um, Of the citie Pæstum.

Pæstonium, or Petouium, A citie of Bustriche, called commonly Betta.

Pæstum, A citie of Lucania, where groweth abundaunce of Roses.

Pagasa, A towne of Thessaly, which after was called Demetrias.

Pagasæus, and Pâgasius, a, um, Of Pagasa.

Pagyris, The name of a ryuer, and of a citie, of which the people are called Pagyritæ.

Palæmon, Palæmonis, A God of the sea. Also the sonne of Phineus, king of Arcadie. Also a Grammarian in the tyme of Tyberius, and a shrpehcardes name in Surgil.

Palæphatus, An auncient wryter in the time of Artexerres.

* Palæphatia papyrus, A booke consisting nothing but fables and tales, or things vncredible.

Palæpolis, A place not farre from Naples.

Palæstina, A countrey in Syria, lopning to Arabie, called in holy scripture Philistim.

Palamedes, The sonne of Nauplius kyng of Eubœa, a great enimie of Ulysses, by whom in the ende he was in false iudgement condemned and stoned to death. For when all the princes of Greece were appointed to go to Troy. Ulysses, loth to depart from his newe maryed wife, feigned himselfe madde, and the more to make men beleeue it, he yoked beastes of diuers kindes, and sowed salt. But Palamedes to trie his craftie dissimulation, layde his yong sonne Telemachus in the waye as the plough shoulde go, whome when Ulysses perceyued, hee lyfted vp the plough, that hee myght not hurt hym. Whereby his dissimulation being perceyued, he was taken to Troy whether he would or no. In discharge of this and certaine other matters. Ulysses being at Troy counterfeyteth letters from Priamus to Palamedes, wherein he gaue thankes for treason that hee condescended vnto, and made mention of a great summe of money that priuilye he had sent him. Which summe of money, Ulysses corrupting the seruauntes of Palamedes had caused to be hidde in the ground in his Tent. When these letters were apprehended and openly read, and Palamedes accused of treason, Ulysses seemeth to take part with him, and earnestly to affirme that he was guyltlesse, and the letters counterfeyted, and that the same might easily be tryed, if they did search his Tent. For if there were founde any such summe of money, as the letters specified, that Palamedes shoulde confesse himselfe to be guiltie, if not, as he was sure they shoulde not, that then it might well appeare he was vniustly accused. But when the search was made, the money was there founde digged in the grounde, and Palamedes thereupon condemned, and by the whole armie stoned to death. This man is reported to haue inuented certaine letters of the Greeke crosse rowe, and also the game of Chesses, and maners of weightes and poyses, and first to haue applyed the yeare to the course of the sunne, and monethes to the course of the moone. He first also deuised the array of battayle, the watchwordes and watches in the campe, especially by the example of Cranes, and therefore they are called Palamedes his birdes.

Palatina, A countrey by Rome.

Palatinus, a, um, Of Palatina.

Palantéum, A citie buylded on the hyll called Palatinus.

Palantia, A citie in Tragonia.
Palas, The daughter of Euander.
Palatinus mons, An hyll at Rome.
Palatium,tij,neu.gen. An hyll in Rome.
Palatual,or Palatual, A sacrifice done at Rome on the hyll called Palatinus.
Palinurus, A Pylott, consecrated to the Goddesse that had the nurture of the palayce in Rome.
Pales, The Goddesse of shepeheardes and pasture.
Palene, A citie so called of Pallena, the daughter of Sithon and wyfe of Clerus.
Palephaphos, A citie of Cypres,dedicate to Venus.
Palelcamander, A ryuer in Troy.
Palinurus, An Oratour.
Palicenus, A fountaine in Sicilia.
Palici, Two brothers,the sonnes of Jupiter & the nymphe Thalia, who fearing the displeasure of Juno, wyshed that the earth might open and swallow hir,which wyth was heard, and she softly receyued into the earth, not farre from the citie Catina. When the full tyme of byrth was come, the grounde opened againe, and brought into the worlde these two brethren Palici. In that place, the olde inhabitauntes of the countreye, were wont to shewe two mouthes or pooles called Delli,out of the which they came: which were had in so great reuerence,y persons suspected,when they swore to cleare themselfe,were brought thither. For if any man were suspected of theft, first he did put in sureties to restore it if he were conuicted,then was he brought to the brink of those pooles, to take his othe for his purgation. And if he swore truly,he leaped without harme, if hee swore falsly, he fell downe dead immediately.
Palilia, or Parilia,ôrum,n.g.plu. Shéepheardes holydayes, kept in the honour of Pales.
Palinurus, The maister of the ship wherein Eneeas came into Italy. Also an elbowe of the lande of Sicilie into the sea.
Palládium,dij,n.g. The Image of Pallas in Troy.
Palladius, A mans name which wrote of husbandrie. Also a carper,which was exceeding swift.
Palladius,a,um, That belongeth to Pallas.
Palantia, A towne in Spayne.
Pallas,antis, The sonne of Euander,sometime king of Latines. Also a graunt.
Pallas, adis, The daughter of Jupiter, called Goddesse of warrade,and also of wisedome.
Pallene, A countrey by Macedonie, and a citie in Achaia.
Palma, A towne of Spaine.
Palmaria, An yle in the Tuscane sea.
Palmyra, A great Castle or fort in the middle of Syria.
Palmyrina, A countrey in Syria.
Palsum, A ryuer in Baytaine.
Pamisus, One of the fiue principall ryuers of Thessalia.
Pámphagi, People of Aethiope, which doe eate of all maner of thinges.
Pamphalia,A region in the lesse Asia,lying on the south side of the mountain Taurus, and marcheth on the realmes of Phrygia,and Caria.
Pamphilus,a,um, Of Pamphilia.
Pámphilus, The name of Apeeles sonne, Platos scholler. Also a priest of Cesarea,which was martyred.
Pampilóna, A citie in the realme of Nauerre.
Panapanis,Called the God of shéepheards. He is thought to be Demogorgons sonne,and is thus described. In his forehead he hath hornes lyke the sunne beames, a long beard,his face redde lyke the cleere ayre,in his breast the starre Nebris, the neather part of his bodye rough, hys feete lyke a Goate,and alway is ymagined to laugh. He was worshipped especially in Arcadie.
Panætius, A Stoyke Philosopher.
Panætolium, An hyll of Aetolia. Also the whole countrey of the countrey of Aetolia.
Panætolicus,a,um, Of Panætolium.
Panathenæa,Were among the Athenians certaine solemne ceremonies. Wherof some were great, and kept euery fifth yeare, some were lesse, and they were yearely celebrated. They were sometyme called Athenæa.
Panchæi,People in the deserres of Libya, which eate serpentes.
Panchaia, A region in Arabie,called also Sabea.
Pancheus,and Panchaicus,a,um, Of Panchaia.
Panda, A citie in India,where the great Alexander buylded the third citie of his name, the vttermost ende of his tourney. Also in the same place were aultars buylded by Bacchus,and after by Hercules,then by the Quéene Semiramis,last by Cyrus.
Pandana porta, A gate of the citie of Rome,which was first opened, and last shut, for all thinges to be brought into the citie.
Pandatória, An yle in the sea Tyrrhenum.
Pandectæ,arum,fœm.gen.plur. The volume of the lawe ciuile,called the Digestes, and signifieth, comprehending all thinges.
Pandion,onis, The sonne of Erichtheus,king of Athens.
Pandiónia, The countrey of Athens.
Pandionius,a,um, One of the countrey of Athens.
Pandóra, A woman, vnto whome sundrie Gods gaue sundrie gifres. Pallas gaue hir wisedome, Venus beautie, Apollo musike, Mercurius eloquence. And therefore she was called Pandóra, which signifieth, hauing all gyfres. Hesiodus the Poet wryteth, that Jupiter sent hir into the worlde to deceyue mankynde. Also Deucalions mother.
Pandosia, A citie in Italy,another in Epire.
Pandosius, A poole in Arcadie.
Paneus, A towne and a ryuer of Colchis.
Pangæus, An elbowe of Thrace.
Panhormus, idem quod Panormus.
Panifcus, A God of the woddes.
Pannonia,The countrey now called Hungaria,which toke that name of an other Hungaria, nowe called Iulira : It lyeth in the north part of the worlde, not farre from the ryuer Tanais, and is tributarie to the Moscouites. The boundes of Hungarie are nowe much larger then they were of olde tyme , and hath on the west , Estrike and Beame : on the south, the part of Slauonie, that lyeth on the sea Adriaticum : on the east, Seruia : on the north, Polonia, and Moscouia. The countrey is ryght fertile of graine, and riche of golde and siluer : And as the inhabitauntes doe report, there is a ryuer, wherein if yron be oftentymes deeped, it will be turned into copper. This noble realme is nowe destroyed , and vnder the captiuitie of the Turkes, which is fore to be feared all christendome shall repent. For it was sometyme reputed the puyssaunt bulwarke of all christian realmes against the intollerable byolence of Saralyns and Turkes.
Pannonia superior, The countrey called Austria and Stiria. In this countrey standeth Vienna. Pannonia inferior hath on the north , Danow and Germanie : on the west, Pannonia superior : on the south, Liburnia : on the east, Iazyges. This countrey is almost wholy vnder the Hungares.
Pannones, Hungarians called also Pæones.
Panomphæus,a,um, A name of Jupiter,signifying that he heareth all mens voyces, or bicause he is worshipped of all men.
Panope, A citie in Phocis.
Panope,and Panopæa, A nymph of the sea.
Panormita, Panormitanus, and Panormius. One of Panormus.
Panormus, and Panormum, A citie in Sicilie, nowe called in Italian Palermo.
Pantaces, A ryuer in Samos.
Pantagias, A ryuer in Sicilie.
Pantanus, A pole of Puell in Italy.
Panthea, The wife of Abradata,a Persian.
Pantheon, A temple in Rome,of all the Goddes.
Panthesilea, A Quéene of Amazones.
Panthoides, The name of Pythagoras, which sayde, that he was once the sonne of Panthous the Tropan.
Panthous,or Panthus, A Tropan,the sonne of Otreus brother of Hecuba.
Panticapes, A ryuer of Scythia.
Panticapeum, A towne not farre from the same place.
Pantomatrium, A towne by the sea side in Candie.
Pantrepes, A ryuer of Scythia.
Paphages, A king of Ambracia.
Paphlago,onis, One of Paphlagonia.
Paphius,a,um, Of Paphos.
Paphlagonia, A countrey in the lesse Asia, ioyning to Galatia, where dwelled the people called Veneti, of whome came the Venetians. It is bounded on the east, wyth the ryuer called Halys, running out of the south betweene Syria and Paphlagonia.
Paphos, A citie in the yland of Cypres, which was dedicate to Venus,whereof she was called Paphia.
Paphus, He that buylded the citie Paphos.
Papia, A citie in Lumbardie,called Pauie.
Papinianus, A famous lawyer in the tyme of Seuerus the Emperour.
Papinius, A poet of Naples.
Pappus, A philosopher of Alexandria.
Papyrius, The name of a noble yong gentleman, who being a childe, (as the maner then was) came with his father into the Senate, at such tyme as it happened weightie and very secrete matters to be talked of. when he came home, his mother was very earnest with him, to knowe what matter was handled in the Senate that daye. He seeing none other shift, and yet loth to vtter the truth, sayde : forsooth mother, they debated that it myght be lawfull for one man to haue two wiues. She thinking it to be true, the next morning , when the Senate was agayne set,gathered together the noble women, and with admiration of all men commeth into the Senate, & there with a solemne tale requesteth, that by the same lawe,it might be lawfull for women also to haue two husbands. The Senate at the first wondred much at hir wordes : but when the matter was declared by the yong gentleman,they much praysed his wisedome and towardnesse, and with rebuke dimissed the women that shewed theselues so swift,and so curious to knowe that, which nothing appertayned to them.
Paradisus,i,masc.gen. or after some, fœm.gen. Paradice. It signifieth a gardeyne.
Paradísus, A towne in Syria.
Paræsitaceni, People in the vttermost borders of Medis.
Parætonium, A citie in Aegypt with a great hauen.
Parætonius, A great hauen of Cyrenaica. Also a towne of the same name.
Parallèli, Lynes in the Sphere of the worlde, equally distaunt, whereby the sunne passing, causeth variation in the houres of the day.
Paralus, His name that first inuented Galyes.
Parapotamia, A country nere to Tygris.
Parcæ , Ladyes of destinie. The names of them bee Clotho, Lachasis, and Atropos. The first of them is demed to beare the distaffe, the seconde to spinne out the threde of mannes lyfe so long as it doth continue, the thirde breaketh of the threde, and endeth the mans life. They are ymagined to be the daughters of Erebus, and Nox.
Parectonia, The mother of Plato the most noble Philosopher.
Parienna, A towne in Germanie called Frydeck.
Parilia, and Palilia, orum, neut. gen. plur. Festiuall dayes, which the Romaynes kept, for preseruation of their cattell.
Parion, A citie in Hellespont.
Paripti,Dogges among the Athenians as swift as horses.
Paris, King Priamus hys sonne of Troy, whose mother being with childe dreamed, that she was deliuered of a fire brande : which thing the southsayers interpreted, that the childe,she went with,should be the confusion of Troye. Wherefore, when he was borne , king Priamus commaunded hym to be destroyed, but Hecuba of motherly pitie, procured him to be priuily brought vp of a shepehearde in mount Ida. This man is alway deserued of Homere as a more pleasaunt carpet knight, then stoute warriour , and more delyghting in instrumentes and battaunce,then Martiall prowesse and Chiualrie. Wherefore poetes write of him, that when Juno, Pallas, and Venus , were at contreuersie for the golden apple, that lady Discorde did cast among them to be geuen to the fayrest, they were appointed by Jupiter to vse the iudgement of this Paris being then a shepehearde in Ida. Juno to haue the prayse , preferred him a noble kingdome, Pallas promysed the gift of wisedome and Venus the fayrest lasse, that then lyued in the earth. Paris not esteming either in Juno princely regiment, or in Pallas noble wisedome, as the learning of Venus, gaue to hir the pryce of greatest beautie. After he had long tyme lyued as a shepehearde, he was at the last knowne,and receiued into his fathers fauour, & vnder pretence of ambassade sailed into Greece, wherby his amarous behauiour in the court of king Menelaus, while he was absent , her allured his beautifull wife Helena to forsake hir husbande , and to go with him to Troy. Which vnceurteous villany in so noble a Prince as he was esteemed to be, the Greekes did take so grieuously, that they by othe conspired in reuengement thereof to make a voyage against Troy,and neuer to returne till they had brought that noble kingdome to confusion.
Parium, A citie in Asia,in the countrey of Mysia.
Parius,a,um, Of the yle Paros , from whence is brought marble stone called Parium marmor.
Parius lapis, A touche stone.
Parma, A citie in Italy.
Parmenides, A philosopher,the disciple of Anaxagoras.
Parmenio, One of Alexanders captaines.
Pármeno, A mans name in Terence.
Parmenses, The inhabitaunts of Parma in Italy.
Parnasides, The nine Muses,or ladies of sciences.
Parnasius,a,um, Of Parnasus.
Parnasus,or Parnassus, A mountaine in Greece,hauing two topues, vnder the which the nyne Muses did inhabite or dwell.
Parnes,nethis,masc.gen.or fœ.ge. An hyll in the countrey of Athens.
Parnus, One that for a boate, which he had lost sued euery body that he mette : whereof rose this prouerbe.
* Disceptare ob Parni scapham, To make great suite and businesse for matters of small value.
Paropamisadæ, People of Asia,by the hill Paropamisus.
Paropamisus, A mountaine ioyning to Imaus and the countrey called Bactra. It is also the name of a great riuer, that runneth through Scythia,out farre from the north Ocean, and some doe name it the Orabrean , or Iroken sea.
Paros,otis, An yle in the sea called Aegeum.
Parrhasia, A countrey in Greece,called also Arcadia.
Parrhasius,a,um, Of that countrey.
Parrhasidis,fœm.gen. A woman of Parrhasia. Calisto was so named.
Parrhasius,(An excellent paynter) contended with Zeuxis in cunning : Zeuxis brought forth a table, wherein he had so craftely painted grapes , that birdes flewe to them, and picked on them. Parrhasius brought forth an other table wherein was peynted one by a sheete, so finely wrought that men iudged it to be a very sheete. then Zeuxis required him to take away the sheete, and shewe forth his worke. Whereat Parrhasius laughed, and yelded to Zeuxis merily. Then Zeuxis perceyuing it, acknowledged his errour, and graunted the victorie vnto Parrhasius,saying : yesterday I deceyued birdes, but to day thou hast deceyued me being a creafted man.
Parthaon,onis, Father of Oeneus king of Aetolia.
Parthenius, A ryuer in Pontus and Bithynia. Also the name of a poet.
Parthénius,a,um, Of that ryuer.
Parthenope, The olde name of the citie of Naples. Also one of the Mearemaydes. Which drowned themselues, bycause they could not allure Vlysses to them.

Parthenopeius,a,um, Of Parthenope.
Parthenopæus, A kyng of Arcadie,the sonne of Mars and Menalippa,which was slayne at the siege of Troy.
Parthia, A countrey in Asia,which hath on the south, the rodde sea : on the north, the sea called Hircanum : on the east, the people called Arij, on the west, the realme called Media.
Parthi, People of that countrey.
Parthiarij, Marchaunts that bying thynges out of Parthia.
Párthicus,a,um, Of the countrey of Parthia.
Parthini, People of Macedonie.
Parthissus, A riuer on the north part of Germanie.
Parysatis, The daughter of king Cyrus,and mother of Artaxerxes.
Paseres, A iuggiers name.
Pasiphaë, es, or Pasiphaa, æ, The wyfe of Minos kyng of Crete, who hauing companye wyth a Bull, brought forth the monster called Minotaurus, which was halfe a man, and halfe a Bull. But Seruius wryteth that kyng Minos secretarie named Taurus, had companye with Pasiphae in the house of one Dædalus. Shee therfore being after delyuered, had two sonnes, one lyke to Minos, and the other to Taurus the kinges secretary: and that therupon Poets take occasion to deuyse the fable of the monster Minotaurus begotten on Pasiphaë, being by Dædalus inclosed in a timber Cowe.
Pasiphaeius,a,um, Of Pasiphaë.
Pasithea, One of the Graces, called Euphrosyne.
Pasitheles, A famous grauer borne in Grece.
Pasithoë, A nymph,the daughter of Oceanus & Tethys.
Pastóphori, Certayne Priestes in Aegept, perteyning to Isis.
Pastóphoros, A name of Uenus.
Patara, A citie in the country of Lycia,where Apollo was chiefly honoured.
Patauium, A citie in Italye, called Padua or Pauie,nigh vnto Uenice. Also a citie in Bithynia, called nowe Potmen.
Patauini, Men of the citie of Pauie.
Patauinitas, The propertie of the language of them that dwell at Pauie.
Paterniana,A towne of Spayne,called commonly Pastrana.
Patizites, A Persian, which made hys brother Smerdes king of Persia,after the death of Cambyses.
Patræ,arum, A citie in Achaia.
Patriánus,a,um, Of the citie Patræ.
Patriarcha,chæ,masc.gen. The name of dignitie of fiue chiefe Archebishoppes, as of Rome, Antioche, Alexandria, Hierusalem,and Constantinople.
Patriarchátus, The sayde dignitie of a Patriarche.
Patrocles, A flatterers name.
Patrôclus, A noble Grecian, sonne of Menætius, and vnder Chiron the Centaure in hys youth, brought vp together with Achilles, who euer after loued him most tenderly. Wherefore at the warre of Troy(when Achilles dyd keepe his tent, and would not fight, in displeasure that Agamemnon had taken Lady Bryseis from him) This Patroclus, the more to feare the Troyans, borowed the armour of Achilles, whome hee knewe they dradde full sore, and in the same fighting in the fielde, was slayne of Hector. For sorow wherof Achilles(that before could by no meanes be perswaded)to reuenge his friendes death as a fierce tyger came agayne into the fielde,and there meeting with Hector, after long fight, chased him on foote rounde about the walles of Troye, and at the last slew him, and in the sight of his wretched father Priamus, drue him by an hoyle taple, about the walls, and after twelue dayes space scantly with a great summe of money could be perswaded to suffer him to be buried.
Patragia, A riuer in Sicilie.
Patulcius, The name of Janus, bycause that in the time of warre the doores of his temple stode open.
Paulus, A name of diuers Romaynes: one was most excellent, named Paulus Aemilius, sonne of Lucius Paulus,

Hee ascending by all dignities vnto Conkull, was captayne of the warres in Spayne, where hee fought two battayles, wherein were slayne.3000.Spaniardes, and wonne.250. walled townes, and notwythstanding returned to Rome, not one grote the richer : for he was liberall and sumptuous, and not very rich. Afterwarde hee made warre agaynst the Ligurians, which were about Jeane, where hauing with him but only.8000. he put to flight. 30000. and brought them to subiection. Finally, hee fought against and vanquished Perses king of Macedonia, and brought him and his children prysoners to Rome, and tryumphed in this sourme. The Senatours apparayled in whyte silke, satte at stages about the market place,to beholde the triumphe: all the temples were set open, and filled wyth flowers and sweete perfumes : the triumphe was deuided into three daies. The first day vnneth sufficed to the beholding of ymages, as well painted, as wrought in stone and metall,by most excellent workemen,which were caried in.250.chariottes. The seconde day was brought forth the harnesse and artillary of the Macedons, and the apparaple of hostes, which was in such sort, that it was in a maner terrible to the banquithers to beholde. After followed.3000. men, which bare siluer coyne in 350. vessels of siluer, euery vessell being in weight three talentes, which was.240 li. after. 80. li. to euerye talent, euerye vessell was borne of foure men. Other did beare great cuppes and pottes of siluer. The thirde day the trumpettes came before blowing bloudie soundes. After them came. 120. oxen, theyr hornes gylte, and therupon were set fillettes and garlandes, and were led with yong men, gyrte and prepared to sacrifice them: and chyldren bare cuppes of golde and siluer, to serue to the sacrifice. After them followed they that bare money of golde in golden vesselles, euerye of them weyghing three talentes. Also the number of the vesselles were 240. Then followed they that caried the potte, which Aemilius had let make all of pyecious stones, weyghing tenne talentes,which was.800.li. Also they that bare all the plate of the kinges Antigonus, Seleucus, Thericius, & Perses,which was innumerable. After came the chariot,wherin was Perses harneys, with his diademe set therupon. Some after hys two sonnes, and one daughter ledde, and wyth them a great number of nourses, maisters and gouernours, weeping and holding vp their handes to the people. Wherof many were mooued to teares,so that the triumphe seemed to be mingled with gladnesse for the victorie, with heauinesse for compassion. After his children and seruaunts,followed forthwyth Perses in a blacke garment, trembling and troubled in spirite: whom insued a great company of his counsaylours and officers, beholdyng hym sorrowfully wyth teares, which more constrayned the Romaynes to weepe, for pitie that they had of his misery. After him were borne foure hundred crownes of golde, which were gyuen to Aemilius by the cities of Grece for hys vertue and prowesse. Then followed Aemilius himselfe, sitting in a chariot, very rychely apparayled, hauing a robe of purple tinket,and bearing in his hand a braunch of Laurell, as a man beside that honour worthye to be looked on. Then after came the men of warre, which had beene with him, in order of such bendes and companyes as belong to battayle, euerye of them bearyng in his hande a braunche of Laurell, and singing verses mixt wyth mery taunts: Some singyng the prayses of Aemilius, whome they beheelde, and wondred at for hys excellent qualities. But nowe beholde, Aemilius being in that state and condition, that nothing lacked in him that man coulde wish for: yet his lyfe was not without aduersities. Hee hauing foure sonnes, of the which he had gyuen two in adoption to Scipio Affricanus, and Fabius Maximus : the other two hee kepte at home with hym : The one of them died. v. dayes before the triumphe, beyng sixteene yeres olde : The other being twelue yeares olde,died the third day after the triumph. The which crueltye of fortune all men lamented, that had had brought so great heauinesse into the house replete with such gladnesse, reioycing,and noble renowme, and had medled teares,sorrowes,and lamentation with victorie, ioy, and triumph. But therefore Aemilius neuer abated his courage, but calling the people together, made to them a noble Oration, declaring that he was nothing deceyued by fortune, for almuch as when shee seemed to him most fauourable, he then more feared hyr then any thing else : and although shee had taken from him good sonnes, whome he appointed to succeede hym, yet since he had shewed his extreme malice to him and his blood, he had good hope now that the people of Rome shoulde reuayne prosperous without any perill. O noble heart, O valiaunt courage, worthy to be left in remembrance. Hee brought so much golde and siluer into the treasurie of the Romains, that there needed no taske to be set on the people, foure score yeares after and aboue: yet he left in patrimonie vnneath.492. li. and in treasure little or nothing. This historie I haue written for the notable thinges therein conteyned, with the vnsurenesse of prosperitie, wherin all men are blinded, that desire to haue it. One thing would be remembred. Although Aemilius were a fauourer of the nobilitie,yet was he better beloued of the people, then was Scipio, who onely studyed to serue their purposes. For his humanitie equally mixt wyth grauitie,he was brought to the earth, not wyth sumptuous preparation, but with loue and fauour, not onely of his countreymen, but also of his enimies. For as many of Liguria, Spayne, and Macedonia,as were then at Rome,they that were yong and strong did beare the corpes, the olde men followed, calling him benefactour,and conseruatour of their cities and countreyes.

Paulus, The Apostle of Christ,borne in Iudea,in a towne called Gitcalis, of the tribe of Beniamin, the towne being taken by the Romaynes, went wyth his parents to Tarsus a citie of Cilicia, and dwelled there. But afterwarde hee was sent by them to Hierusalem to learne the lawes, and was there taught of one Gamaliell, a great learned man. He being with other at the martyrdome of saint Stephen,receyued letters of the Bishop, willing him to go to Damascus, there to persecute them that beleeued in Christ. And in the way, he was by reuelation chaunged, from a persecutor to a vessell of election. Afterwarde when he had conuerted Sergius Paulus(then being Proconsull at Cyprus)to the faith of Christ, by him he was called Paulus, where before he was named Saulus. Finally, he suffered martyrdome by beheading after the passion of Christ. xxxij. yeares, and the. xiij. yeare of the reigne of Nero. Hæc Hieronymus & Sophronius. The residue of his lyfe appeareth in the actes of the Apostles. His learning and misticall sydome, is well shewed in his Epistles, in the which (as saint Peter sayth) be some thinges harde to be vnderstande, and that men vnlearned and inconstaunt doe depraue, lyke as they doe the other partes of Scripture, to their owne perdition.

Paulus Samosatenus, An horrible heritike, bishop of Antioche, a man of exceeding pride and intollerable vanitie, about the yeare of our Lorde.267. His heresie was that Christ began of our Ladie, & take his first beginning of the earth, and was a man onely of our common nature, which heresie was condemned by a generall councell holden at Antioche, and Paulus excommunicate by all the councell, and an other bysshop put in his place. And he by the commaundement of the Emperour Aurelianus was of the people pulled out of the Church.

Pausanias, The generall capitaine of the Lacedemonians, in the great battaile against Xerxes, and yet afterward he was condemned of treason.

Pausiacus,a,um, Of Pausias.

Pausias, A noble painter.

Pax Iulia, A towne of Portugall, called commonly Badoioz, or Pacensis.

Pedæus, Intenors baskarde sonne.
Pedana, A countrey by Rome.
Pedasus, The sonne of Bucolion. Also a citie by Pylos. Also one of Achilles hostes.
Pegasa, A towne of Thessalia.
Pegasea, The ship of the Argonautes was so called.
Pegaseus, and Pegasius, Of Pegasus.
Pegasicus sinus, A bosome of the sea in Thessalie.
Pegasides, The Muses.
Pegasus, si, masc.gen. An hoyse which was feigned to haue wynges. It is also a signe or number of Starres in heauen.
Pelagia, A womans name of Antioche.
Pelasgi, People which came out of Grece, and inhabited Italy. They be also Arcadians.
Pelasgia, A countrey in Grece, called sometyme Thessalia.
Pelasgias,adis, One of Pelasgia.
Pelasgicus,a,um, Of Arcadie.
Pelasgis, A countrey in Grece called Arcadie.
Pelethronij, The Lapithes were so called.
Pelethronium, A towne in Thessaly.
Peleus, The sonne of king Aeacus, and father of Achilles.
Pelias, adis, Of Achilles : vt, Pelias hasta, Achilles his speare.
Pelias,æ, A king of Thessaly, vncle to Jason.
Pelicus, A prince, of whome the people called Peligni, take their name.
Pelides, The surname of Achilles.
Peligni, People in Italy.which came out of Illyria.
Pelignus,a,um, Of that people.
Pelion,lij,neut.gen. An hill in Thessaly.
Pelius,and Peliacus,a,um, Of Pelion.
Pella, A citie in Macedonie.
Pellène, A verye auncient citie of Achaia.
Pelopeius,idis,and Pelopeias, The daughter or neece of Pelops.
Pelopidæ, They that descended of Pelops.
Pelopidas, A noble man of Lacedemonia.
Pelopius,and Pelopeius,a,um, Of Pelops.
Peloponnesius,and Peloponnesiacus,a,um, Of Morea.
Peloponnesus, A countrey in Grece,called now Morea: on the north, it hath the gulphe of Corinth, Isthmos, and the sea of Crete : on the west and South : the sea Adriatike : on the East, the sea of Crete : so that it is almost cleane enuironed with the sea. In it were the famous kingdomes of Mycenæ, of Argos, Lacedæmon, Arcadia, Sicyonia.&c. It is nowe vnder the Turke.
Pelops,pis, The sonne of Tantalus, who vanquished on hosseback in running, Oenomaus, father of Hippodamia,and wedded hir. Vide Oenomaus.
Pelórus,ri,masc.gen. or Peloris,idis,An hill in Sicilie on the sea side.
Pelusiotæ, The inhabitauntes of Pelusium.
Pelusium, A citie in Aegypt, and one of the mouthes of Nilus.
Penates, The Gentiles called Goddes of mans lyfe. The Nominatiue case singular is after some Penas, after other Penatis.
Peneleus, One of the fiue capitaines of Boeotia that came to Troy.
Penelope,es, or Penelopéa,æ, The daughter of Icarus, & wife of Ulysses,most chast, wyse, and constant aboue all the women of hir tyme, who in the. xx. yeares that hyr husbande was absent, being sought vppon by diuers wowers, which (would shee or no) abode in hir house, might neyther by fayre meanes nor menaces be induced to marry, or to consent to commit any folly. When hir wowers were very earnest to haue an answere, shee requested so much respite vntill she had wouen by a cloth that she was then in hande with. Which when they had granted, craftily in the night she vnwraued as much as she had wrought vp in the day,and so from time to tyme drawe them of without eyther answere, or much comming in their companie. Wherof ryseth this prouerbe.
•Penelopes telam retexere,Which signifieth to doe and vndoe: to take much labour in vayne.

Peneus, A ryuer in Grece, that deuideth the countreyes of Aeolis, and Achaia.
Pentapolis, A countrey betweene Palestina, and Arabia, wherein were the Cities of Sodome and Gomor, burned by the vengeaunce of God, for sinne against nature.
Pentelici Hermæ, were little Images of Mercurius made of Marble, called Pentelicus, which was one of the most fayrest stones that Images myght be made of.
Panthesilea, A Queene of Amazones, which was slaine at the siege of Troy.
Pentheus disyl. The sonne of Echion.
Penthylus, The sonne of Demoneus, which came to the ayde of Xerxes, with.xij. shippes, and was taken prysoner by the Grekes.
Peræa, The vttermost part of Iudæa, towarde Arabia and Aegypt.
Percosius, A soothsayer, which fauoured the Troyans.
Percosius, a, um, of the citie Percote.
Percote, A citie of the countrey of Troas.
Perdica, A part and a port of Lycia.
Perdiccas, A noble man of Macedonie.
Perdix, The name of a lame victualer of Aristophones.
Perga, A towne in Pamphylia, whereof Diana was called Pergæa.
Pérgama, órum, The towers of Troy. It is taken also for the citie of Troy.
Pergameus, a, um, and Pergamenus, a, um, Of Troy.
Pergamus, or Pergamum, A famous and riche citie in Asia the lesse, where Galen the most noble Phisition was borne.
Periander, One of the seuen wise men of Grece and king of Corinth.
Pericles, A noble and valiaunt capitaine of the Athenians, excellent in wytte and naturall eloquence: hee was instructed in phylosophie by Anaxagoras, so that thereby he attayned vnto maruelous great knowledge, noble courage and patience, insomuch that why. n a lewde person folowed him to his house, reuyling him all the way: when hee was come to his doore (then being night) Pericles commaunded one of his seruaunts to take a torch and bring him (who had rebuked him) home to hys house. Also he being in great estimation and authoritie among the people of Athens, wouldе neuer be at anye feastes or bankettings, nor receyue of any man, any presents or gifts, nor did go to euery assembly or councell or being there, did speake or reason in euery matter, but reserued himselfe to thinges of very great importaunce. And yet seemed hee then to be very timerous. But yet his eloquence was so excellent, his voyce and pronunciation so pleasaunt, his sentences so ponderous and vehement, that hee neuer spake, but that thereto all men consented. And therefore it is written of him, that hee did fulminate his wordes, that is to say, that they proceeded from him as thunder, and lyghtning. Hee was of such temperaunce, that although hee seemed to haue all the Athenians at his commaundement, yet he neuer encreased his owne reuenues the worth of one farthing, but augmented the common treasure exceedingly. And such spoyle as came to his part in the warres, he did imploy vppon grapne and pittaple, deuyding it among the people in the tyme of necessitie. Hee was vnfortunate onely in his owne children, his eldest sonne Xantippus persecuting him with sundrie displeasures, and openly mocking him. Notwithstanding (as it was reason) he died miserably before his father. Finally Pericles being sicke vnto death, the noble men came to comfort him, speaking softly they communed of his prowes, where he had victorie in nine great battayles. Hee hearing what they spake, sayde vnto them, that he much marueyled, that they so greatly extolled that thing, where of the more part pertayned to fortune, and had happened to ryuers other capitaines as well as to him, and that they spake nothing of that which was most to be praysed. For neuer man, sayde he, (by mine occasion) had cause to putte mourning garment vpon him. Plutarchus in vitis. Hee was alyue the incarnation of Christ. 441. yeares.

Periclymenes, Nestors brother.
Perillus, An artificer, which made a bull of brasse, wherein to (being glowing hote) men shoulde be put, that in tormenting of them, by their crying, a noyse should issue out lyke the lowing or bellowing of a bull. The which engine when Perillus had giuen vnto Phalaris the cruell tyrante: he caused him first to be put into it to proue his owne experience.
Perinthius, a, um, Of Heraclea.
Perinthus, A citie of Thrace, which nowe is called Heraclea.
Peripatetici, Philosophers of Aristoteles sect or opinion.
Periphas, A mans name in Virgil.
Perithous, Lorde Pirithous.
Permessus, aue Permessis, sidos, A ryuer in Grece, dedicate to the Muses.
Pero, The daughter of Neleus, and sister of Nestor, a woman of exceeding great beautie.
Perorsi, A people of Aethiopia.
Persa, A man or woman of the countrey of Persia.
Perseis, A nymph, one of the daughters of Oceanus.
Perseis, seidis, fœm. gen. Of Persia: as,
Perseides herbæ, id est, magicæ.
Persephone, The surname of Proserpina.
Persepolis, A citie in the countrey of Persia.
Perses, The sonne of Perseus and Andromeda, of whome came the Persians. Also a king of Macedonie, vanquished by Aemilius: Another was brother of Heliodus the Poet: In other, brother to Aeeta, father of Hecate.
Perseus, sei, and Persés, sis, or si. A noble knight, which deliuered a fayre Ladie (called Andromeda) from a whale, and also slewe Medusa, which turned men into stones. Of his father and mother lyke Danaë. Also it is a signe among the starres.
Persia, æ, Persis, Persidis, and Persida, dæ, A countrey in the east part of the world, which hath on the north, Media: on the west, Susiana: on the east, Carmania: on the south, the Persian sea, called Sinus Persicus: where now the Sophi reigneth.
Persicus, a, um, Of Persia.
* Persici apparatus, Sumptuous and rich prouision.
Persius, The name of two learned Romaynes.
Perusia, A citie in Italye, called commonlye Perugia, Perouse.
Perusinus, a, um, Of Perouse.
Pessennius, A mans name, a great friende of Ciceros.
Pessinuntia, Lorde Cibele.
Pessinuntius, a, um, Of or belonging to Cibele.
Pessinus, untis, A towne in Phrygia, where was a temple dedicate vnto Cibele.
Pestanæ, Certayne valleyes in Campania, where flowers doe spring twise in a yeare: whereof the most perfite roses be called Pestanæ rosæ.
Petalus, A mans name.
Petasati, were the surnames of Castor and Pollux.
Petilia, A citie in Lucania.
Petosiris, A famous Astronomer of Aegypt.
Petra, A towne in Sicilie by Hybla. Also a towne of Arabie, whereof Arabia Petræa is named.
Petræ Sirenum, A towne of Lucania.
Petracorij, A people of a place in Fraunce called commonly Perigort.
Petræa, A nymph of the sea.
Petronia, æ, A lyttle bridge running into the ryuer of Tyber. Also the wife of Vitellius the Emperour.
Petuscum, A part of the citie of Rome.
Peuce, An yle in the ryuer Ister.

P H

Phabiranum, A citie in Germany called Bremen.
Phæaces, People of the yle of Corcyra, vnder the dominion of Alcinous.
Phæacus, a, um, and Phæacius, a, um, Of the people Phæaces.
Phædimus, One of the sonnes of Amphion, and Niobe. Also a Poets name of Bizaunce.

Phædon,

Phædon, A noble man of Athens, slayne by the thirtie tyrannes. An other was a Philosopher, in whose name Plato made his booke of the immortalitie of the soule.
Phædra, The wife of Theseus, and stepmother to Hippolytus, daughter of Minos king of Creta.
Phædrus, One of Platos schollers.
Phæniana, A citie of Rhetia, called nowe Bchenhusium.
Phæstum, A citie of Crete.
Phæstus, the sonne of Borus, slayne at Troy. Also an hyll of Crete.
Phaëton, tontis, A woyde of three syllables, the sonne of Phœbus and Clymene, who with long desire, obteyned at the last of his father, that hee myght one day gouerne or leade the Chariot of the Sunne: but being vnable to that office, the horses ouerthrewe the Chariot, and burned all the worlde. Whereof Iupiter being afrayde, least he also shoulde be burned, stryking Phaeton with lyghtning, threwe him into the ryuer called Padus, and Eridanus.
Phaëtoniades, The sisters of Phaeton. Lorde Heliades.
Phaetóntius, or Phaëtonteus, a, um, Of Phaeton.
Phaëthusa, The sister of Lampetia and Lampetusa: these three were sisters of Phaeton, and daughters of Phœbus and Clymene. But Homer sayth, that Phaethusa and Lampetia were the daughters of Phœbus and Neæra.
Phago, A mans name, which was an exceeding glutton, and did eate in one day a whole boze, an hundred loues of breade, a sheepe and a pygge, and dranke thereto the vessell of wine called Orca, a butte or other lyke vessell.
Phalacrus, The sonne of Troius.
Phalantus, The chiefe capitaine of the bastardes that were expeld and put out of theyr countrey Lacedemonia.
Phalara, A towne in Attica.
Phalaris, A cruell tyranne of Agrigentine, who maruelously delighted in the deuyse of newe and straunge punishmentes. Wherefore one Perillus, a cunning workeman thinking to haue great thanks and a large reward, inuented a bull of brasse, into the which if one were put, and a fyre made vnderneath, the voyce of hys crying shoulde be lyke the bellowing of a bull. The tyranne in stede of reward, to trie this newe deuyse, first burned in it Perillus himselfe, and after him many other. But in the ende when his tyrannie became so outragious, as no longer might be suffered, his owne citizens fell vpon him, and putting him in the same brasen bull, with lyke torment as he had vsed other, made him to ende hys lyfe.
Phalera, In hauen in Attica.
Phalereus Demetrius, A Philosopher and gouernour of Athens.
Phalerium, A citie in Tuscane.
Phalernus, Reade before in Falernus.
Phalisci, A certaine people in Italy on the highest part of Tuscan, called nowe Mount Fiascon.
Phalora, A citie of Thessalie.
Phaneus, An hill of Chios, whereon vines are set.
Phanes, A mans name of Halicarnassus, which conducted Cambyses into Aegypt.
Phaneta, æ, One of the names of Bacchus.
Phanus, ni, A mans name.
Phaon, The name of a fayre young man.
Phare, A citie in Crete.
Pharao, onis, The name of all kinges in Aegypt vntyll the tyme of Salomon. In the Aegyptian tongue Pharao signifieth a king.
Pharia, An yle called nowe Lisna. Also a citie, whereof the people be called Pharienses.
Pharisæi, were among the Iewes certain men which professed a forme of liuing more streight and deuout than other of that people, and were therefore called by that name. For Phares in the Hebrue tongue signifieth deuided. They professed continence, virginitie, fasting, and abstayning from meate twyse in the weeke. They slept onely vpon bourdes, some vpon stones or else on thornes, to keepe them from slyzring of fleshlye appetyte.

They ware on their foreheades scrowles of parchment: wherein were wrytten the. x. commaundements gyuen by God to Moyses, which they call Phylacteria. They had in great reuerence their elders, insomuch that they wouldе not with a worde displease them, Notwithstanding they beleeued, that all things happened by constellation, and yet take they not away free wyll from man. They affirmed, that soules are immortall, and that God shall come in iudgement. Hereby they came in wonderfull credence with people, whereby they drewe to them great multitudes, and of them were ryuers good men, among whome was saint Paule, Nicodemus, and other which afterwarde were Christes disciples, although the multitude, taking that profession only for vaine glorie, peruerted that honest fourme of liuing into hypocrisie, deceyuing the people, whome Christ sharpely rebuked, and declared their folly. And yet with some of them (which by lykelyhode were good men) hee dyned, and otherwyle vsed them familiarly.
Pharius, a, um, Is put for Aegyptius.
Pharius, and Phariachius, cha, chum, Of Pharos.
Pharmacusæ, Two yles by Attica.
Pharnaces, or Pharnax, pharnacis, King Mithridates sonne whome Cæsar vanquished.
Pharos, A little yle in Aegypt against the mouth of Nilus, by the Citie Alexandria. In this yle was set a verye highe tower, wherein were great lyghtes all the night long, for the comfort and succor of them, which were in voyage, eyther on the sea, or on the lande. Whereof all other towers made for such purpose, are called Phari.
Pharphariades, Part of the mountaine Taurus.
Pharsalia, A countrey in Thessalia, where the battaile was betweene Cæsar and Pompey.
Pharsalos, A citie in Thessalie, nigh to the which was the great and sharpe battayle betweene Cæsar and Pompeius, where Pompeius was vanquished, and fledde. It is also called of Lucanus Pharsália.
Pharusij, or Pharusi, People of Libya, which are nowe exceeding poore.
Phase, A woyde of Hebrue, which significth passing ouer. It is commonly called Pascha, Easter.
Phaselis, A citie of Pamphilia, which was a refuge for Pirates.
Phasis, sis, or sidis, A great riuer in the countrey of Colchis, whereof (Erasmus sayth) the byrde kys is called Phasianus. Phasis is also a citie there.
Phauorinus, Lorde Fauorinus.
Phayllus, A mans name, that wouldе leape. 55. fote.
Phegeius, a, um, Of Phegeus.
Phegeus, The father of Alphesiboea, Themon, and Axion, of whome Alcmæon was purged for sleaing his mother Eriphyle.
Phemonoë, A mayden, prophetesse of Apollo in Delphos.
Pheneum, A towne of Arcadie.
Pheneatæ, People of that towne.
Pheræ, A citie of Thessalie. Also a place and towne of Achaia, and a towne of Attica, betweene Megara and Thebes.
Pherecides, A famous Philosopher and writer of Tragedies, which dyed of the louse sicknesse: he was Pythagoras maister. There was an other of that name before his tyme.
Phereclus, The sonne of Hermonides, which made the shippes wherein Paris sayled into Grece, when hee stale away Helen.
Pherecrates, A poet of Athens.
Pherenice, A womans name.
Pheretrius, A name of Iupiter.
Phiala, One of Dianas companions.
Phidias, An excellent workeman in making great Images of golde or Iuorie.
Phidiacus, a, um, Of Phidias.
Phila, æ, f. g. An yle of the French sea.
Philadelphia, A citie in Mysia ioyning to Lydia.
Philadelphus, called Ptolomeus, king of Aegypt, who made a Librarie, wherein were fiftie thousand bookes. He also caused caused the fiue bookes of Moyses to be translated into Greeke, by lxxij. interpreters doctours of the Iewes.

Phylæ, arum, In ple by Aegypt.

Philagrius, A philosopher of Cilicia.

Philemon, A comicall poet.

Philemi, were two bzethren of Carthage of whome it is wzitten that where they of Carthage, and they of Cyrene did striue for their boundes, it was agreed, that of eche citie two men should issue, and where as they mette thoulde be the boundes: then the sayde bzethren being sent, went a great way into the boundes of the other, ere they myght returne. And when they of Cyrene did see that they were preuented, they toke it displeasauntly, and menaced the two bzethren, that if they would not go back, they shoulde be put quicke into the earth: but they notwithstanding would not depart, wherefore they being burged on lyue, they countreymen made ouer them two auiters, which at this day be called Aræ Philenorum, which are nowe within the realme of Tunise.

Philesia, Temples dedicate to Apollo.

Philesius, A name of Apollo.

Philetas, A Grammarien in the time of Philip and Alexander, inst tutour to Ptolomæus Philadelphus.

Phileum, A citie in Frisland called commonly Groningen.

Philippi, A citie in Thessaly.

Philippicæ, Demosthenes Oyations against Philip, and Ciceros against Antonie.

Philippides, A comicall Poet.

Philippopolis, A citie of Macedonie.

Philippenses, Men of that citie.

Philippus, i, A king of Macedonie, sonne of Amyntas, father of great Alexander: A prince from hys childehode of excellent wit and power, of whome these notable thinges be remembred. After hee had banquished the Athenians at Charonea, he beganne to reioyce of his felicitie. But to the intent that he therefore shoulde not be the more prone to iniurpes towarde hys subiectes, nor to haue indignation at them, whom he banquished: he then and euer after caused a chylde to come to his chamber doze in the mozning and to say alowde, Philip, thou art a man moztall. Which hee obserued so constantlye, that hee neuer went out of his chamber, oz receyued any counsaylours oz suters, tyll the chylde had thzise spoken these wozdes, notwithstanding that he was a Paynime. Also where one named Machætas, had a matter in barpaunce before him, Philip taking ypttle hede, what was spoken, and sometyme sleping, at the last gaue iudgement against Machætas: who crying out with a lowde voyce, appealed. Wherewith Philip being sore moued, with a gricuous loke, sayde: to whome doest thou appeale? I appeale (sayde Machætas) vnto your selfe, but being better awaked, and taking hede what is spoken. Philip being throughly awaked, and hearing ctelwnes the matter, perceyued that Machætas had wzong, and would not reuerse the iudgement, but the summe of money, wherein Machætas was condemned, he payde of his owne treasure. In this man it is notable howe sundzie vertues were tempered with vyuers vices. He was a pzince moze giuen to costly pzouision of warrefare, then sumptuousnesse in banketting: and therefore his greatest rycheste was in the furniture and habiliments of warre. Hee was moze cunning to get rychesse, then circumspect to keepe them: and therefore, notwithstanding his continuall spoyles, hee was alwaye needie. Mercy and treacherie in lyke maner hee esteemed. No way seemed to him dishonourable, whereby he myght attaine victozie. Fayre language he would vse, where occasion serued, and likewyse pretende displeasure, where he hated not. In talke and conference crafftie, & moze would promise in wozdes then in dede performe. Were skylfull both in pleasaunt teasting, and also earnest debating of weightie affayres. Friendship he measured moze by profite, then by faythfull dealing. To pzetend fauour where he hated, and to set hatred betweene friendes, seeking for fauour on both sides, was his common custome. Wyth these things, was ioyned so excellent language and vtterance, as neyther readynesse of tongue wanted fine ornaments of eloquence, neyther flowing speache, sharpe inuention of wittie matter. In warre fore subtill and guylefull, wyse in counsayle, desirous to be loued, and well able to repzesse his anger: somewhat to much giuen to vyntking, and vpon the heate thereof diuers tymes in warre woulde fiercely set vpon his enimies, and offer himselfe to moze daunger then needed. Whereby hee was often wounded, and in perill of his lyfe. By these properties, hee layde the foundation of that Empyze of the worlde, which afterwarde was made perfite by hys famous sonne Alexander: who was both in vertues and vices moze notable then euer his father was. Hee was afoze the incarnation of Christ 358. yeares.

Philistæ, Certaine robbers among the Aegyptians, which embzace a man to the ende to strangle him.

Philistus, An historiographer.

Philo, A Philosopher of the sect Academike, and a Iewe, bozne at Alexandzia, a man of great eloquence and wisdome.

Philocles, A tragicall poet of Athens.

Philoctétes, The sonne of Pæan, was Hercules companion, and buried him, and had his arrowes that were poysoned with the gall of Hydra. Wherefore when it was declared afterwarde to the Grecians by the oracle of Apollo that Troy coulde not be taken, vnlesse they had the arrowes of Hercules, this Philoctetes, being found out, and asked where Hercules was, made answere, that he coulde not tell what was become of him. But when the Grecians were earnest on hym, he confessed that he was dead. Then was he himselfe caused to go to Troy, bycause hee only knewe the vse of those poysoned arrowes, and by misfozture did let fall one of the arrowes on his foote. Wherewith it so rankled, that a great part of his lyfe after he coulde not be cured of it: vntill at the last he was holpen by the Philition Machaon Aesculapius his sonne.

Philódamus, An noble man of the people called Lampsaceni.

Philolaus, One of Cozinth, which gaue lawes to the Thebanes.

Philoméla, æ, sœ.gen. King Pandions daughter of Athens whome Tereus king of Thzace, that had marzed his sister Pzogne, did rauishe, and that shee myght not disclose his villanie, cut out hir tongue, and cast hir in pzyson. But he being very cunning in wozking and imbozdering, did in such foze see out the whole matter in a garment, that any man might vnderstand it, and sent the same by a seruaunt to hir sister Pzogne, Tereus his wyfe. Who, although she were greatly moued with the matter, yet she did deferre the reuengement, vntill the solemne sacrifices of Bacchus. At which tyme, being accompanied, as the maner was, with a great number of other women, she taketh hir sister out of pzison, & bzingeth hir into the palayce. Where by hir counsayle she killed hir yong sonne Itys, and serued hir husbande wyth it at supper, and when he had therewith filled himselfe, in the ende, brought in the childes heade in a dishe, with sight whereof Tereus being in a great furie, ranne after his wife to haue slaine hir: but she with speede escaped from him, and as Poets feigne, was turned into a swallowe, and he into a lapwing. Philomela into a nightengale, and Itys into a pheasaunt.

Philonides, A great bigge lubber of Melite, so vtterly vnsyple and vnlearned, that of him grewe a prouerbe, Indoctior Philonide.

Philopœmenes, A famous capitaine of the people Achæi, which banquished the Lacedemonians and Messenians in diuers battayles.

Philóstratus, A learned man in the tyme of Seuerus the Emperour.

Philóxenus, The name of a Grammarian, of a Poet, of a famous paynter, and of a Parasite, which wished himselfe to haue a necke as long as a Crane, that he myght haue moze delectation in swete meates and dainkes.

Philyra, æ, A nymph, on whome Saturnus beget Chiron, who therefore is sometyme called Philyrides.

Phineus, A king of Arcadie, who by the instisement of his second wife, put out the eies of his sonnes, which he had by his first wife. But by the iust vengeaunce of God, he was also made blinde, and the foule rauenous birdes called Harpyiæ, defiled and deuoured the meate that was prepared for him. But those bzydes were at the last bzyuen away by Zetus and Calais, whome hee had curteously entertepned. In other Phineus was bzother of Cepheus, that was turned into a stone by Perseus. In other of that name an Athenian, was turned into a bird.

Phison, One of the ryuers of Paradyse, which some call Ganges, some Nilus.

Phlanates, People of Illyria.

Phlégeton, ontis, A ryuer in hell, which alway burneth.

Phlegetonæus, a, um, Of Phlegeton.

Phlegias, The sonne of Mars, a kyng of Thessalie, and father of Ixion.

Phlegon, One of the hozses of the Sunne.

Phlegra, græ, oz Phlegre, gres, A citie of Macedonie.

Phlegræus campus, After some a fielde in Thessalie, after some in Macedonie, after Plinie and Strabo in Campayne, by the citie Cumæ, where the gygants were ouercome by Hercules.

Phlegyas, Loke Phlegias.

Phlegyæ, People of Thessalie, named of Phlegias Ixions father, which were dispisers of God and man, and therfore destroyed with a deluge by Neptune.

Phlias, The sonne of Bacchus, that sayled into Colchis with Iason.

Phliasius, a, um, Phlius.

Phlius, untis, A place in Greece where Hebe was wozshipped.

Phloxenus, A Greeke Poet.

Phlobétor, oris, The sonne of Somnus.

Phocæ, arum, Iles nere to Crete.

Phocæa, A citie of the lesse Phygia, belonging to Athens, the people whereof buylded Massilia in Pzouance.

Phocais, caidis, patronymicum fœm. Of Phocæ.

Phoce, es, A citie of Bœotia.

Phocides, and Phóceï, They that buylded the citie of Massilia.

Phocenses, People of Phocis.

Phocéus, & Phocaicus, a, um, Pertepning to Phocæa.

Phocion, Disciple to Plato & Xenocrates, one of the chiefe gouernours of the citie of Athens, a man of such wonderfull grauitie and constancie, that hee was not lyghtly seene to chaunge his countenaunce, eyther to laughe oz to mourne, noz to haue hys handes out of his bapyte, except in warre: and when he was in the countrey, hee went alwap bareheaded, except it were in the colde winter, wherof there was no better token, than to see Phocion go shodde. His speach was shozt, graue, vehement, and full of quicke sentences: and therefore the most eloquent Oratour Demosthenes called him the hatchet that did cut of his wozdes. He was of such a constancie, that where Apollo at Delphos made answere, that one man in Athens was of a contrarie opinion to all the citie: when that was reported, Phocion rose vp and sayde: Leaue countreymen to search whome your God meaneth: for I am that one man, whom nothing likely, which is nowe done in the common wealc of this citie. When hee had made an oration to the people, and they prapsing him consented to him, hee turned to them that were next him, and sayde: Alas what haue I done, I feare least some suttish wozde hath escaped me vnwares: signifying, that the people seldome allowed anye thing that was good, oz not foolishe. On a tyme when hee reasoned contrarie to the minde of the people, wherefore they murmured, and would haue let him: It is at your pleasure countreymen, sayd he, to compell me to doe that that I woulde not, but to speake otherwise then I thinke, that no man lpking cancause me. He was so reuerend a personage, that the great king Alexander, in the beginning of his letters after he had banquished Darius saluted no man but him, and Antipater. Hee refused infinite treasure vnto him by Alexander, & although he had borne the generall capitayne of the Athenians in sundzy warres, and honourably archieued his enterpzises, yet was he best content to lyue pzyuely. Finally he was of his bzitunde countreymen condemned to death, whereto he went wyth the same countenaunce that he had in anythzitie. When one, which was condemned wyth him, lamented and feared to dye, Phocion turning to him, sayde: Why, art thou not glad, that thou shalt wyth Phocion? And when one of his friendes asked hym, if he woulde any thing to his sonne: I would (sayde hee) that such wzong as the Athenians doe to me, he shoulde not remember. What a wonderfull wozde of a Paynim was this? who followed Christes doctrine ere Christ was bozne. 333. yeares.

Phocusa, One of the yles called Sporades.

Phœbas, adis, sg. The name of a Pzophetesse.

Phœbe, bes, fœ.gen. The Goddesse Diana, and is taken for the mone.

Phœbéus, and Phœbeius, a, um, Of Apollo.

Phœbus, bi, m.g. Apollo the sonne of Jupiter and Latona, and is taken for the Sunne.

Phœmon, A pole in Arcadie.

Phœmonoé, The daughter of Phœbus, which first inuented the meeter called Heroicum.

Phœnices, People in Syzia.

Phœnicia, oz Phoenice, A region in Syzia, next to Judæa.

Phœniceus, a, um, and Phœnissius, a, um, Of Phœnicia.

Phœnissa, A woman of Phœnicia.

Phœnix, nicis, A little ryuer in Greece. It was also the bzother of Cadmus, oz after some Agenozs father, after whome Phœnicia was named, where hee regned. Also one which was tutour to Achilles.

Pholoé, A mountayne in Arcadia, full of swodde.

Pholus, One of the Centaures, the sonne of Ixion.

Phorbas, bantis, A shepeherde that founde Oedipus after that he was hanged vp by the feete.

Phorcus, One of the sonnes of Neptunus, which was taken for a God of the sea.

Phorcys, Medusas father, of whome she was called Phorcynis.

Phorcys, phorcydos, patrony. Of Phorcis.

Phormio, A capitaine of Athens, in the warre of Peloponnesus. Also a philosopher in the time of Annibali.

Phorinus, A comicall poet of Syzacuse in Sicilie.

Phoroneus, The most auncient king of Greece.

Phoroneus, a, um, Of Phoroneus.

Phoronides, patrony. mas. gen.

Phoronis, nidos, patrony. fœm. gen.

Phósphorus, ri, m.g. The day starre called Lucipher.

Phragmon, The name of an Image maker and paynter.

Phraortes, A king of India, a man of great temperaunce. In other Phaozres was king of Persia, who slue his owne father Herode.

Phregenia, A citie in Hetruria: an other in Latium.

Phrygia, A realme in Asia the lesse, hauing on the east, Cappadocia: on the south, Lycaonia: on the west, Troas: on the north, Galatia.

Phrygius, a, um, Of Phrygia.

Phrygium melos, A melodie oz tune in instruments, wherin seemed to be (as Lucianus sayth) a maner of drupnkurte, albeit Porphyrius calleth it barbarous. Cassiodorus sayth that the melodie, called Dorium, giueth wisdome, and chastitie: Phrygium, stzzeth to battayle, and inflameth the desire of furie: Aeolium, appeaseth the tempestes of the minde, and bzingeth in sleepe, Lydium, quickneth vnderstanding in them that be dull, and induceth appetite of celestiall things.

Phryne, A famous harlotte at Thebes.

Phrynichus, An Athenian wpter of Tragidyes.

Phrynondas, A man so double, so deceytfull and pll, that of him rose a prouerbe.

Phryx, gis, A man of Phrygia.

Phrvxus, The sonne of Athamas king of Thebes.

Phthia, A citie in Thessaly, Achilles countrey.

Phthiota, One that dwelleth in Phthia.

Phthiothia, One of the foure partes of Theſſaly.
Phthiróphagi, People dwelling nighe to the Greeke ſea, which lyued onely by fiſhe.
Phycus,untis, A promontoze of Cyprene.
Phylace, A citie of Theſſalie.
Phyleus, One of the Greeke capitaines that came to Troy.
Phyllis,lidis, The daughter of Lycurgus king of Thrace, whiche hung hir ſelfe, diſpayring of the comming of Demophoon: whome Poetes feigned to be turned into an Almon tree, wherefor that tree is called Phylla. Phyllis is alſo a riuer of Bithynia.
Phyllus, A citie of Theſſaly.
Phylodoce, A nymph.
Phyrrecuſa, An yle in the ſea Tyrrhenum.
Phython,oz Phyton, Lwke Python.

Picenum, A countrey in Italy called Marcha Anconitana.
Picenus,and Picentinus,a,um, Of Picenum.
Picentes,oz Picentini, People of that countrey.
Pictones, People of Poicters in Fraunce.
Picumnus, A God among the Romaynes.
Picus, The name of an olde king of Latines.
Pieria, A mountayne and citie of Boeotia, dedicate to the Muſes.
Pieria, A mayden borne at Hypos,a citie of Ionia, daughter of an honourable man, called Pyeres, of whome is this hiſtorie worthie of remembrance: There happened to be warre betweene the inhabitents of Miletus, and them of Hypos, but in ſuch gentle faſhion, that the woman of Hypos myght alway, on the ſolemne feaſt of Diana, come to Miletus, and doe ſacrifice to Diana, which was there chiefly honoured. Pieria comming thither with hir mother, one Phyggius the eldeſt ſonne of Nedeus duke of Miletus, beholding hir beautie, began to loue hir exceedingly, and after the maner of louers,deſiring to doe ſome thing thankefull to the mayde, demaunded what he might doe to hir moſt pleaſant and acceptable. The mayden being wittie,and alſo louing to hir countrey and friends,anſwered that to hir it ſhould be the greateſt plea ure, if he would endeuour himſelfe to bring to paſſe,that the might oftentimes with a great ſort of hir companions repaire to Miletus without any domage. Phygygus perceyuing that nothing mought ſo much content the mayden as peace,he calling the people togither, exhorted them to conclude a peace with thoſe of Hypos, to be with them in alyaunce: whereunto they accorded,and the name of Pieria was euer after in ſo honourable a remembrance, that all honeſt women vſed for a prouerbe,to wiſh ſo to be loued, as Phygygus loued Pieria.
Pierides, were daughters of one Pierus, which compared in ſinging with the Muſes: but being vanquiſhed, and going to the Muſes reprochfull woordes, they were by them turned into Pies. They be ſometime taken for the Muſes of an hill in Theſſalie,called Pieris,oz Pierus.
Pierides, The Muſes.
Pierius,a,um. Of the Muſes.
Pierus, The father of the foreſayde maydens Pierides.
Pigmalion, The ſonne of Belus, king of Tire,and brother of Dido.
Pigmalioneus.a,um, Of Pigmalion.
Pigres, The brother of Artemiſia.
Pilades, A gentleman of Phocæa, which was ſo faythfull a friende to Oreſtes (with whome he kept companie whiles he was mad) that he would neuer forſake him, but followed him into the countrey called Taurica, where ſtraungers were ſacrificed vnto Diana, where Oreſtes being apprehended, when he ſhould be ſlayne, Pylades would rather die for him,that he might eſcape.
Pilumnus,ni, maſ. gen. A man which founde the maner to dung lande,and to grinde corne.
Pimpla. A place by the mountayne called Parnaſus, of the which the Muſes be called Pimpleides.
Pimpleus,a,um, Of Pimpla.
Pinárij, An auncient houſe oz family in Italy, of the which were the prieſtes that ſacrificed to Hercules.
Pinarius,and Potitius, Two olde men, to whome Hercules reuealed how he would be woꝛſhipped.
Pindarus, A Theban Poet, and chiefe of them which were called Lyrici. Whereſoze Alexander, when he deſtroyed the citie of Thebes, cauſed the houſe of Pindarus to be preſerued, with all his familye. In other Pindarus was a tyranne of Epheſus.
Pindus, A mountaine in Theſſalia. Alſo a citie there.
Pintia, A towne in Spaine called Valladolite.
Pinton, An yle betweene Sardinia,and Corſica.
Piones, People in Myſia,nemed of the citie Pione.
Pipleus, An hyll called alſo Pimpleus.
Piquentum, A citie of Iſtria.
Piræa, A famous citie ſometime called Aminſus.
Piræeus, An hauen in Athens,which may receyue. 400. ſhippes. There is alſo an hauen of the ſame name at Cozinth.
Pirithous, The ſonne of Ixion, one of the Lapithes, and friend of Theſeus, with whom he went to hell, and was there deuoured of Cerberus.
Pirus, A prince of Thyace ſlaine at the ſiege of Troy.
Piſa, A citie in Greece, betweene the two mountaynes Olympus and Oſſa. Alſo a citie in Arcadia, from which came the people that inhabited Piſæ in Italy.
Piſæ,arum, A citie in Italy called Pize.
Piſani, People of the citie of Piſe.
Piſandrus, A poet of the citie Camirus in Rhodes, before the tyme of Heſiodus: an other Piſandrus was in the tyme of Alexander Magnus.
Piſaurenſis, That dwelleth in the citie Piſaurum.
Piſaurum, A citie in Italy,called Peſero.
Piſaurus, A riuer in Italy.
Piſces. One of the twelue ſignes.
Piſei, People of the citie Piſa in Greece.
Piſenor, A Centaure,the ſonne of Ixion.
Piſeus, Be thyt firſt inuented the byalen trumpet.
Piſidæ, People in Aſia, called before tyme Solymi, of Solymus, Jupiters ſonne.
Piſidia,æ, A countrey of the leſſe Aſia.
Piſiſtratus, A noble man of Athens, which chaunged the common weale of that citie from the rule of the people, to the rule of one gouernour,and therefore was called a tyranne: notwithſtanding, (as he wrote vnto Solon, which mynyſtred the popular eſtate) he ruled by their owne lawes, and was rightfous and gentle vnto the people.
Piſones, Men of a noble family oz houſe in Rome.
Piſtorium, A citie in Italy.
Piſtris,tris, A ſigne oz planet,called Cetus,and Piſtrix.
Piſtrix,tricis, Idem quod Piſtris.
Pitane, A citie of Aeolis in Aſia, the people whereof be called Pitanei,oz Pitanitæ.
Pithecuſa, An yle in the ſea againſt Campania,ſo called for the great plentie of Apes there breade,as ſome.
Pitheus, The ſonne of Pelops, which buylded the Citie Trœzen.
Pitho, oz Pithus, The Ladie and preſident of Eloquence to perſwade, called of Ennius, Suada, of Horace Suadela.
Pithodemus, A famous wreſtler.
Pithœgia,orum,ne.ge. A certayne ſacrifice. vſed in Greece, in the moneth of Januarie, at the tapping oz letting of wine abroche: in the which they gaue wine to their ſeruauntes and ſlaues.
Pithonoſcomes, A place in Aſia, where after the Ides of Auguſt, great flockes of Stoxkes doe aſſemble togither.
Pithumnus, A God among the Romaynes, which firſt inuented to grinde corne to make breade.
Pittacus, One of the ſeuen ſages of Græcia,and was of the citie Mitylene. His ſaying it was, that a wiſe man ſhould foreſee that misfortune came not: but if it came, to take it in good part.
Pityuſa, An yle by Græcia,called alſo Mylerus.

Placentia, A citie in Liguria.
Placentini, People of the citie Placentia.
Placia, A towne of Myſia.
Planaria, An yle beyonde Corſica.
Planaſia, An yle in the ſea Tyrrhenum.
Plancus, A noble man of Rome.
Plantanodes, A promontoze oz hyll in Achaia.
Plateæ, A citie in Boeotia,not farre from Thebes.
Plateenſes, People in the citie of Plateæ, in Greece.
Plato, The Prince of all philoſophers(in wiſedom,knowledge, vertue, and eloquence, farre exceeding all other Gentiles) was borne in Athens: his father was named Triſton (of an auncient and honourable houſe) his mother Pareœnia, deſcended from Solon. Lying in his cradell, Bees were founde to bryng honie into his mouth, wythout hurting the chylde: which diuinours did interpreete, to ſignifie, that from him ſhoulde flowe eloquence moſt ſweete and delectable. Socrates dreamed, the night before he was brought to him to be inſtructed, that he helde betweene his knees a white eggnet, who hauing feathers quickly growen, flewe vp toward heauen,and filled the ayre with moſt ſweete tunes: So the day after, Plato being brought by his father, Socrates beholding him well,ſayd: This is the bydle, whoſe Image I beheld the laſt night. His name was firſt Triſtocles, & after called Plato, becauſe (as ſome ſuppoſe) he was broade in the ſhoulders: other wyſe, becauſe he had a broade viſage. In his youth he exerciſed wraſtling and other feates of actiuitie: and till he was.xx. yeares olde, he gaue himſelfe to make amarous verſes, which, after he came to heare Socrates, he threw into the fire and burned, and then moſt ardently and attentiuely he yrde Socrates doctrine, during the tyme that he lyued. After that, he not onely hearde the moſt famous Philoſophers & Geometricians in Greece, but alſo went into Italy, into Affrike and Aegypt, to heare the myſticall ſciences. And it is thought, that he heard ſome of the Prophetes, ſince there be founden in his woꝛkes ſentences not abhoꝛring from our catholyke fayth. He was experte in martiall affayres, foꝛ he had fought in thoſe great battayles. He choſe a place by Athens,called Academia, where he taught: and therefoze his diſciples were called Academici. There was in him a marueilous ſharpneſſe of witte, with an incomparable dexterite in diſputing, and making of aunſweres: his conſtancie, temperaunce and grauitie, with curteſie in language, were of all other incomparable: he was ſo deſirous of knowledge, that he was ne leſſe ſtudious to learne, then he was to teache. Wherefoze being ſcoꝛned of one, which aſked of him how long he would be a ſcholer, ſo long (ſayde he) as I repent not to be wyſer and better. He is called Diuinus Plato, foꝛ his excellent doctrine, which contepneth many thinges (as ſaint Auguſtine fayth) which accoꝛde with holy ſcripture: ſo that therein is perceyued the firſt part of Geneſis, vnto Spiritus Domini ferebatur ſuper aquas, and the myſterie of thꝛee perſons in diuinitie is there expreſſed. He dyed woꝛthy of the age of 81. yeares, before the incarnation of Chꝛiſt. 342. yeares. Reade moꝛe of him in Dionyſius.
Plautius, A certayne Poet.
Plautus, A comicall Poet, borne in Umbria: when he had ſpent all his ſubſtance on players garments,and therby was brought to extreme pouerte, he was fayne foꝛ his liuing to ſerue a baker in turning a querne,oz handmill. When he was vacant from that labour, he woꝛte moſt eloquent and pleaſaunt comedies, wherein he was reputed ſo excellent, that Epius Stolo ſaide of him, he doubted not, but that if Muſes would ſpeake as Plautus did woꝛte, if they ſhoulde ſpeake Latine. He was in the tyme of Cato Cenſorius.
Pleiades, The ſeuen ſtarres, which mariners vſe in trying of coaſtes: Poetes feigne them to be the ſeuen daughters of Lycurgus,oz Atlas.

Pleias, pleiadis, Maia, the chiefe of the ſeuen ſiſters called Pleiades.
Pleione, The daughter of Oceanus,and wife of Atlas.
Plemmyrium, A ryuer in Sicilia.
Pleuron,onis, A citie of Aetolia.
Pleuronius,a,um, Of Pleuron.
Plexaura, A nymph,the daughter of Oceanus.
Plinius, The name of two noble learned men, the one woꝛte the moſt excellent woꝛke, called the hiſtorie of Nature: the other woꝛte eloquente Epiſtles, and an oration to Traiane in his commendation, which oration is called Panegyricus. There is alſo a woꝛke of the practiſe of phyſicke in the name of Plinius, but whether it were of the firſt Plinie oz no, it is not very certayne: ſome call him Valerianus.
Plithenes, The name of a certayne vnchaſte and wanton perſon.
Plitónicus, The name of a certaine learned man.
Ploteæ, Two ples of Troia,called alſo Strophades.
Plotina, A woman of great vertue and courage, wyfe to Traianus the Emperour.
Plotinus, A philoſopher of Platos ſect.
Plotius, A Rhetozician that taught Cicero.
Plotus, Lwke Plautus.
Ploxemus, A mans name.
Plutarchus, A noble Philoſopher in the tyme of Traiane.
Pluto, The ſonne of Saturnius and Ops, and brother to Jupiter and Neptune: which comming to the deuiſion of their fathers kingdome, the weſt part towarde the lower ſea fell to Pluto the yongeſt ſonne, the Eaſt part to Jupiter, and the Iſlandes to Neptune. Hereof began the Poets fable, that Jupiter was king and Godde of heauen, Pluto of hell, Neptune of the ſea.
Plutus, God of ryches, whome Poetes feygne to be lame when he commeth to a man, and to haue wynges when he departeth: by that deuyſe ſignifying, that richen are long in getting, but quickly vaniſhe away, if they be not well huſbanded. He is alſo imagined to be blinde, as moze often lighting on vnwoꝛthy men, and naughty perſons, then on ſuch, as foꝛ their vertue are moſt woꝛthy to be enriched.
Pluuiales Hedæ, Two ſtarres, that the ſigne Auriga holdeth in his hande.
Pluuiália,æ, One of the ples called Fortunatæ.

Podalirius, One of the ſonnes of Aeſculapius, and a great ſurgion: he came to the ſiege of Troy with his brother Machaon.
Podarge, One of the Harpies.
Pœan,antis, The father of Philoctetes, of whome he was called Pœantius.
Pœciaſium, A citie of Crete,called commonly Peculaio.
Pœcile,les,ſig. A place in Athens, where the Stoike philoſophers did reade and teache.
Pœmenis, A dogges name in Ouid.
Pœnicus,a,um, Of Affrike.reade Punicus.
Pœnus, ni, A man of the citie of Carthage, oz an Affricane.
Pœnus,a,um, Of Carthage,oz of Affrike.
Pola, A citie of Iſtria.
Pólemon, A Philoſopher of Athens, which was firſt a wanton and diſſolute perſon. An other Polemon, ſurnamed Helladicus, was a famous hiſtoꝛiographer.
Polemonium, A citie of Cappadocia, called commonlye Leona.
Polentia, A citie of Liguria,called commonly Palanza.
Polla, The wife of Lucan the poet.
Pollentia, A towne in one of the ples called Baleares: an other neere the Alpes,where as is excellent good wine.
Pollentinus,a,um, Of Pollentia.
Pollio, A noble man in Rome in the tyme of Auguſtus.
Pollux, lúcis, Was brother to Caſtoꝛ. both being borne at one burthen: which poetes feigne to come of one egge, layed oz brought forth of a woman, called Leda, wyth whome Jupiter companied in lykeneſſe of a ſwanne.

Polus

Polus Agrigentinus, A ſophiſter, the ſcholer of Gorgias.

Polyænus, A learned man in the tyme of Julius Cæſar: an other borne in Macedonie, which wrote of Thebes, and of the feates of warre.

Polybius, A learned man of Megalopolis in Arcadie, maiſter to Scipio Africane: he wrote the Romaine hiſtory in 40. bookes.

Polybotes, A gygant, whome Neptune ſlue.

Polycarpus, pi, m. g. A famous martyr.

Polycletus, A notable ymage maker, or greuer.

Polycrates, A tyranne of Samos: he was ſo fortunate, that he neuer ſuffred any aduerſitie or griefe: wherfore he at the laſt, dreading the chaunge of fortune, hauing a ryng with a ſtone of an excellent value, did caſte the ſame into the ſea, to the intent he ſhulde ſuffer ſome diſpleaſure, and ſo ſatiſfie fortune: but a fiſhe deuouring the ryng, was the ſame day taken of a fiſher, and giuen to the king, for the greatneſſe of the fiſh: which being opened, the ſayd ryng was founde, and brought to the king, wherat as well he, as all other about him, marueyled. Some after the ſame king was taken of Oronces a perſian, and hanged.

Polydamas, A Trojan, one of them that betrayed the citie with Aeneas & Antenor. Polydamas, was alſo a famous wraſtler, a man of great ſtrength.

Polydorus, The ſonne of kyng Priamus and Hecuba: who was by his father (in the tyme of the warres at Troye) ſent to Polymneſtor kyng of Thrace, with a greate ſumme of golde, to be kepte out of the perill of warres. But the citie of Troye being taken, Polymneſtor, to inioye the treaſure, ſlewe the childe: wherfore afterward quene Hecuba ſcratched out the eyes of Polymneſtor.

Polydora, A nymphe, the daughter of Oceanus. Alſo an yle of Propontis.

Polydectes, The ſonne of Magnetes, which nouriſhed Perſeus, the ſonne of Jupiter and Danaë.

Polygnotus, The name of an auncient peincter.

Polymedia, A towne in the countrey of Troas.

Polymneſtor, oris, A king of Thrace, to whom king Priamus ſent his ſon Polydorus, with a great ſum of golde.

Polymnia, One of the Muſes, which woyde ſignifieth, much memoyre.

Polynices, The ſonne of Oedipus, whe Eteocles.

Polyphémus, A Gygant that had one eye in his foreheade, which was put out by Ulyſſes.

Polyperes, The ſonne of Pirithous and Hippodamia.

Polyteba, A citie of Meſopotamia.

Polytes, One of king Priamus ſonnes, ſlaine by Pyrrhus, when Troy was taken.

Polyxena, The beautifull daughter of kyng Priamus, which after the deſtruction of Troye, was ſlayne by Pyrrhus on his fathers Tombe. For Homere writeth, that at the ſiege of the citie, Achilles eſpying this lady on the walles, was rauiſhed with hir beautie, and after meanes made requeſted to haue hir to hys wyfe. The matter was by the parentes agreed, and the place appoynted in the temple of Apollo, where in tyme of truce they ſhoulde meete and be maried. At that tyme traiterous Paris ſtanding priuilie behinde an Image, when he little minded any ſuch daunger, ſhot at Achilles, and killed him. Wherefore when Troy was wonne, and this lady Polyxena taken alyue, Achilles his ghoſt appeared in the nightes to the nobles of Greece, and required to haue that woman by death ſent vnto hym, vnder pretence of whoſe mariage he was ſo traiterouſly ſlaine. Of which crueltie his owne ſonne Pyrrhus, as before is ſhewed, was minider.

Polyxenus, One of the Greeke capitaines ſ came to Troy.

Polyxo, lyxus, One of ſ Amazons & prophetеſſe of Apollo.

Pomona, næ, f.g. The goddeſſe of fruite.

Pompeius, Called Magnus for his incomparable victories (whole father was called Pompeius Strabo) had ſo god a grace in hys yuſuge, that from hys childehode, he moued the people of Rome moſt entirely to fauoure him for his ſingular benеuolence, continencie of lyuing, martiall experience and knowledge, pleaſauntneſſe of ſpeache, ſidelitie of maners, and eaſineſſe in ſpeaking to. He neuer required any thyng without ſhamefaſtnes, nor graunted any thyng but with a glad countenaunce: in his viſage appeared alway both nobilitie and gentleneſſe ſo that in his youthhing youth, there ſhyned in him maners both princely and reuerende. Sylla, the cruell and prowde tyranne had hym in ſuch eſtimation, that where he would not aryſe to any other man, were he neuer ſo high in dignity, he met with Pompeius comming towarde him, and putting of his bonet, ſaluted hym by the name of great capitaine, called in latine at that tyme Imperator. He triumphed for his victories in Affrike, being almoſt a childe, not yet admitted into the Senate, contrarie to the auncient order of Rome: he vanquiſhed the valiaunt capitaine Serrorius, a man at that tyme moſt famous in prowеſſe, being an expert in Spayne, and before inuincible. He alſo vanquiſhed Mithridates, the great king of Pontus: and where a great number of the concubines of Mithridates, women of excellent beautie, were taken & brought vnto him, he wouldе not compay with any of them, but ſent them to their friends. He ſubdued thyſe Realmes, Armenia, Cappadocia, Paphlagonia, Media, Cilicia, Meſopotamia, Judæa, Arabia, Colchis, Iberia, Albania, and Syria: for the which he triumphed, after he had twiſe before triumphed for the winning of Spayne and Affrike. In this triumphe, he brought into the common treaſure of gold and ſyluer, in money and plate, 2000. talentes, which if they were common talents, amounteth to xx. hundred thouſand pounde: if they were the great talentes xxbij. hundred and xxbj. thouſande. 600. li. iij. s. iiij. d. in our money: beſides that was giuen to the men of warre, which had ſerued him, and that was to euerye one 1500. byalen pence, of our money bj. li. v. s. which in ſo greate an hoſte as pertеyned to the conqueſt of ſo many countreys, extended to a wonderfull ſumme of money, wherby may appeare the richeſſe of ſ Romaines. Afterward by the meditacion of the friends of both parties, Pompeie toke to wife Julia, the daughter of Julius Cæſar, which lyued not long, & the amitie betwene Pompeie and Cæſar decreaſed, and at the laſt, the unſatiable ambition of them both braſte out, the one not ſuſtapning the others honour, whereof came the warre ciuile, wherin Cæſar, with a fewer number banquiſhed Pompeie, who priuilie fledde by ſea into Egypt, where vnder the ſaefe conducte of the king Ptolomeus, he was ſlaine in a boate, his heade being ſtriken of, and his bodye caſt on the ſtronde, where it was purely buryed, when he had lyued, lx. yeares and aboue, and from hys youth in moſt high honour, wealth, and proſperitie, on whome it did ſeeme that foztune had powred all hir treaſure moſt prodigally.

Pompeianus, a, um, Of Pompeis parte, or a fauoured of Pompeius.

Pompeiopolis, A citie of Cilicia, called afterwarde Traianopolis.

Pompelon, The chiefe citie of Nauerre, called Pampilona.

Pompilius, The ſurname of Numa, the ſecond king of Romaynes.

Pomponia, Scipios mother.

Pomponius Atticus, An honorable Romaine, of a gentle and auncient houſe, from his childehode amiable of viſage with a ſweete voyce and pronunciation, and therewith hauing a ſharpe wit and apte vnto learning: for the diuiſion and partes takyng at Rome, he went and dwelled at Athens, wher the people moſt tenderly loued him as well for his honorable maners, as for his benefites towardes them: for being left riche by his fathers ſubſtaunce and great reuenues, he oftentimes releued the neceſſities of ſ common people. Wherefore he ſo ſ there had in a ſingular reuerence: and for his abode in Athens, and excellencie in their eloquence, he was called Articus. He did not only with his treaſure keepe the people out of bſure, but alſo in a time of ſcarſitie he gaue to euery citizen, bj. meaſures of wheate, called Medimni, which was of due meaſure ſiue buſhels and an halfe, one pecke, one gallon, and one quarte to euery one. Hee was beloued of euery man, and he was charitable to all men. When Cicero was in exyle, he gaue him 25 0000. Seſterrios, which amounteth of our money to bj. li. xij. s. iij. d. Sylla, notwithſtanding his great pride, had him in reuerence. He moſte loued Hortenſius and Cicero, princes of eloquence: and although he himſelfe were as well in the Latine tongue, as in Greeke, perfect as any man, yet would he neuer practiſe in matters, nor wouldе aſke or ſue for auctozitie. He relieued with his money contrary parties as Antonius and Brutus, one to the other moſtall enimies. He lent great ſummes of money without taking of vſurye, and holpe ladies, whoſe huſbandes were baniſhed as well with money, as with his counſayle and conſolation. Of Pompeie and Cæſar he was equally loued, when they were enimies togyther. Finally, his quiet lyuing was to no man annoyaunce, but to euery man thankefull. His houſe was pleaſant & not magnifike, neate, and not very ſumptuous: all his ſeruants were very well learned, red well, and write very fayre, nor there was ſo ſimple a boye in the houſe, but he coulde doe both: the reſidue were artificers, ſuche as made thynges neceſſary and conuenient for his houſe. When Auguſtus Cæſar moſt flouriſhed he made alyaunce with him for his excellent temperance and honeſtie in lyuing, for the which all noble men fauoured him. Alſo he maryed his wiues ſonne Tiberius (who was afterward emperour) to the daughter of Atticus, and no day eſcaped that the emperour wrote not vnto hym, ſemblably did Antonius the emperours enimy: ſuch grace had he to be fauoured of all men, to lyue out of the daunger of enuious auctozitie, to paſſe hys tyme in the moſt delectable parabiſe of knowledge, and to haue as well therof at vnbounty, as alſo lyuing ſufficient for the maintenance of his eſtate being a knight, and to ayde his friendes and countremen in their neceſſitie. When he had lyued 77. yeares, he dyed of a fiſtula, with a wonderfull patience, and voluntary abſtinence, and was buried at Rome, all good men following the coppy, and the people and all other lamenting. He wrate dyuers excellent workes in Greeke and Latine, which are perihed, to the inеſtimable detriment of them that be ſtudious.

Pontia, An yle in the ſea called Ligaſticum, on the South part of Italy, wherein Pilate was borne, and thereof was called Pontius Pilatus.

Ponticus, A ports name.

Ponticus, a, um, Of Pontus: or,

Pontica nux, A kynde of ſubeardes, which came from the countrey called Pontus in Aſia.

Portus, ti, m.g. The ſonne of Nereus, of whome the ſea Pontus is named.

Pontus, ti, The ſea, which is betweene the fenne called Maotis, and the yle Tenedos. It is alſo a great countrey toyning to the ſame ſea, which contеineth theſe realmes, Colchis, Cappadocia, Armenia, and dyuers other countreyes.

Popidi, The name of diuers Romaynes: one of them ſlue Cicero.

Poppea, Neroes ſeconde wyfe.

Poppeanus, a, um, Of Poppea, or that Poppea was wont to vſe.

Populonia, A citie of Hetruria, called now Plumbinum.

Populonium, A promontorie of the Tuſcians.

Porcia, A noble woman of Rome.

Porcius, The ſurname of the elder Cato.

Porphyrion, A gyaunies name.

Porphyrione, An yle in Propontis.

Porphyris, An yle in the gulfe Laconicum, called after Cythera.

Porphirius, A notable philoſopher, and enimy to chriſtian religion.

Porrima, The ſiſter of Carmenta Euanders mother.

Porſena, vel Porſenna, The name of a kyng that beſieged Rome, to haue brought in Tarquinius.

Porta Auguſta, A citie of Spayne called Torquemeda.

Portunus, A God of the ſea, and hath auction of the heauens. The Greekes call him Palæmon.

Porus, A king of India, whom Alexander vanquiſhed.

Poſidippus, A comicall poet.

Poſidium, A towne of Syria called commonly Pualo.

Poſidonius, The name of a Philoſopher, and certayne other learned men.

Poſthamia, A virgine veſtall.

Poſthumus, mi, The ſonne of Aeneas, by Lauinia, called alſo Syluius. Alſo the name of diuers other men.

Potamus, A towne of Attica.

Potentia, A citie in Italy called Sancta Maria de Loretto.

Potidæa, A citie of Macedonie, called before Caſſandria.

Poridius, A mans name.

Potina, A citie of Boeotia after ſome.

Potnia, A towne of Boeotia, not far from Thebes, where Glaucus the ſonne of Siſyphus did dwell.

Potitij, Was an auncient famille or kinrede among the olde Latines, whome Hercules called to his banket, after he had ſlayne Cacus: and they were afterward conſtituted the prieſtes of Hercules. Reade Feneſtella.

Potitius, Hercules prieſt, vide Pinarius.

P R

Practius, A citie of Pont.

Praeguti, People of Italy, called commonly Abruzi.

Præneſte, A citie in Italie.

Præneſtini, People of Præneſte.

Præneſtinus, a, um, Of Præneſte.

Præutium, A towne in Italy.

Prafij, People of India.

Praxalpes, A noble man of Perſia.

Praxiteles, An excellent caruer in ſtone.

Praxithea, æ, Che Abbeſſe.

Priamides, The ſonne or nephew of Pyramus.

Priamus, The ſonne of Laomedon, and king of Troye, a notable paterne and exampie of furtunes rewarde vncertaunte and mutabilitie. Neuer lyued Priace more adourned with proſperitie: Neuer was there man more wounded with aduerſitie. For, what benefite fare liuering foztune in wealth coulde ſhewe one, in his royall eſtate he enioyed it: what griefe and ſorowe hir frowning lookes coulde turne man to, in his wofull fall he felt it. Before the ſiege of Troye he flouriſhed a long tyme in great power, glory and riches, with many nations ſubiect to him, and hauing a great number of ſonnes and daughters, in his lyke tyme ryſen to great fame of prowеſſe, chiualrie, perſonage and beautie, hymſelfe a prince of great worthineſſe, and indued with ſundry noble qualities. In body ſtrong, and while youth flouriſhed, of much actiuitie, when age grewe on, reuerende and full of maieſtie. In counſayle, wyſe, in maners ſober and graue, as beſt might become hys princely perſon. When fortune began to chaunge hir copy, and the Grecians had beſet his royall citie, he lyued to ſee his power debated, his honour and glory decayed, his riches and treaſure waſted, his realmes ſpoyled, his ſubiectes pitifully killed, all his children ſlayne and put to villany before his face, his citie and palace burned to ſ ground and himſelfe finally in his laſt dayes end reuerend olde age diſpiteouſlye drawen by the heare of the heade, and ſlayne by Pyrrhus, on the body of his yong ſonne Polytes, by the auiter whither he had fledde for ſuccour, and ſo ended his tragicall lyfe and wofull dayes.

Priapus, An Idole, vnto whome the Paynyms committed their gardeyns to keepe. Alſo a citie of Helleſpont.

Priéne, A citie of Jonia.

Priſcianus, A notable Grammarian.

Priſcus, The name of diuers men.

Priuernum, A towne in Campania.

Probus Berytius, The name of a certayne grammarian.

Prochyta, æ, or Prochire, es, An yle in the ſea, in the gulfe or rode of Puteoli, which is a citie in Campania.

Procilius, A certayne grammarian.

Proclus, A noble philoſopher of Platoys ſecte.

Proconnésius, In yle in Pzopontis.
Procopius, A learned man bozne in Cæsarea. Also a tyzanne of Constantinopie, that rebelled agaynst Valens the emperour.
Procris, The daughter of Eurichtheus, and wyfe of Cephalus. Loke Cephalus.
Proculeius, A gentleman of Rome, very familiar with Augustus.
Procustes, A notable robber of Attica, slayne by Hercules, oz (as other say) by Theseus.
Procyon, A starre called the dogge starre, which appeareth in the canicular dayes.
Prodicus, A rhetozician, Theramenes mayster. Also a sophister.
Prœtus, A king of Argiues, the sonne of Abas.
Progne, The daughter of Pandion king of Athens, z wife to Tereus king of Thrace. Vide Philomela.
Prométheus, The sonne of Japetus, first inuented making of Images: wherfoze the Paynims supposed that he made men, and feigned that he went by into heauen, and there did steale fire to make hys Image haue lyfe, wherewith Jupiter being wzath, caused him to be bounden on the hill called Caucasus, and an Eagle standing by him eating his heart: by the which is signified, that he was studious and a great Astronomer.
Propertius, A Poet bozne in Mycania, a towne in Umbria.
Proprétides, The daughters of Amathunta.
Propontis, A sea betweene Greece and Asia.
Proſa, A certaine goddesse among the Romaynes.
Proſeleni, The Arcadians, which were supposed to be before the Moone.
Proſérpina, The wyfe of Pluto, daughter to Jupiter and Ceres: she is taken sometyme for the Moone.
Proſumurium, A place without the walles of Rome, where the byshops of the Gentyles made their diuinations, oz take their significations of thynges to come.
Prosópis, The name of an yland in the mouth of Nilus called Delta.
Proſymna, A citie in the which Juno was wozshipped.
Protagoras, A notable philosopher of Greece.
Prote, An yle in the sea Ionium.
Protéruia, æ, f.g. A sacrifice, wherein the maner was, that as much as was left vneaten, should be consumed with fire: wherof came this prouerbe.
* Proteruiam fecit, He hath consumed all that is left.
Protesilaus, A duke of the citie Phylace in Thessalye, who went with other to the siege of Troy. And when there was aunswere gyuen to the Troyanes, that whosoeuer did first take lande in the countrey of Troye, shoulde be slayne: Protesilaus with a valiaunt courage, arryued before any other, and was slayne by Hector: whose wife Laodamia wept so much for him (and wouldo neuer be comforted) that she died.
Proteus, The sonne of Oceanus and Tethys, called of the Paynyms the God of the sea, whome Homer nameth to be the heardman of the fishes called Phocæ, and also a prophet, notwithstanding he would not giue aunswer, but being constreigned by Ulisses. He also turned himselfe into sundry figures, sometyme beyng lyke a flame of fire, sometyme lyke a bull, an other tyme like a terrible serpent. Homerus in Odyss. Vergilius Georgicorum quar. In very deede he was king of Aegypt, in the time of Priamus king of Troy. Of him came this prouerbe,
* Proteo mutabilior, more chaungeable then Proteus, applyed to him that in his actes oz wozdes is vnstable.
Protheenor, One of the fiue capitaines of Boeotia that came to Troy.
Prothous, A capitayne of the Grekes, that came from Magnesia to Troy.
Protógenes, The name of an excellent peinter, whose most famous wozke was named Ialysius, and was dedicated in the temple of peace at Rome. Which table when he had painted, he lyned onely with Lupines soked in water, that he might not, with ỹ pleasantnesse of other meates, darken the quicknesse of his wittes and senses. In this table was a dog made marueilous lively, as which was painted both by great chaunce, and singular cunnyng. For, when he had satisfied himselfe in all other partes, he lyked not in any wise the some that he had made in the dogges mouth, which he had painted ouergreat, and oftentymes putting it out, and altering his pensill, couldo neuer doe it so exactly as he desired, for still it appeared to be painted, and not a right some in deede. Wherefore in great displeasure with himselfe, he slang his pensill out of hys hande vpon the place, with the sperkling wherof appeared so lively a some, as no man wouldo haue iudged to be made with mans hande. And so by chaunce made perfite hys wozke, that by no cunning he couldo bring to passe.

Protogenia, The daughter of Deucalion and Pyrrha.
Protoplastus, i, m.g. Adam was so called, byeause hee was first fourmed oz made.
Protótocos, Eue was so called, byeause shee was the first that brought forth children.
Prusa, A Citye in Greece, at the foote of the Mountayne Olympus.
Prusenses, The people of Prusa.
Prusias, A king of Bithynia, vnto whome Annibali fledde, after he was banished from Carthage.
Prylis, The sonne of Mercurie.
Prymnesia, A citie of Maxonia.
Prymno, A nymphe oz mayden of the sea, one of the daughters of Oceanus.
Prytaneum, The counsayle house in the Castell of Athens.

P S

Pſamate, A fountaine in Thebes. Also a citie and a mountaine. Also the daughter of Crotopus king of Argiues. An other was a nymph, daughter of Nereus.
Pſammenitus, A king of Aegypt, vanquished by Cambyses.
Pſammetichus, A king in Aegypt, in whose tyme, 200008. Aegyptians forsoke theyr Countrey, and went to the Aethiopes.
Pſappho, A man of Libya, who going about to be reputed a God, toke a great many of such byrdes as myght be brought to resemble mans speache, and taught them to vtter these wozdes, Magnus deus Pſappho, that is, the great God Pſappho. And when they had this learned, he cast them of into the mountaynes, where they both vsed those wozdes themselues, and taught other birdes to doe the like. Which thing the people hearing and not knowing the cause, but thinking it to be done by diuine power, began to wozship Pſappho, and consecrated him as a God.
Pſecas, pſecadis, fœm.gen. A nymphe, one of Dianas companions.
Pſellus, The name of an olde writer, which wzote of dyet.
Pſophis, The daughter of Eryx.
Pſylli, People in Libya, whose bodyes are venime to serpentes, and they also do cure the stinging and poysoning of Serpentes, by sucking the place which is venimed.
Pſyllum, A citie of Withynia, called commonly Picello.
Pyra, An yle not farre from Chios, wherof Homere wzyteth Odyssea. 3. Also a citie of the same name.

P T

Pteria, A citie in Cappadocia.
Pterophoros, A countrey by the mountaynes Riphæi.
Pthia, A part of Thessaly, where Achilles reigned.
Ptolomæus, The sonne of Lagus, a common souldiour of great authoryte vnder king Alexander, and after hys death reigned ouer Aegypt, Affrike, and a great part of Arabia. He ruled. 40. yeares, and of him many other kinges were after named Ptolomæi. He died in his greatest glozye, hauing not long before yelded vp his kingdome to his sonne named Ptolomeus Philadelphus. This Philadelphus was a man of great learning. disciple to the philosopher Strato, and builded the notable library at at Alexandria, furnished with all maner of wozkes, which to the great losse of learning, was burned in the first warre that the Romanes had with Alexandria. In other Ptolomeus liued in the time of Antonine the Emperour, who restored out of darkenesse the mathematicall sciences, and wzote diuers wozkes, of which some at this day be extant.

Ptolomais, maidis, The name of a citie in Phœnicia, first called Acha.

P V

Publicola, The surname of Valerius, which was one of the first Consulles of Rome, so called byeause he was a fauourer of the people.
Públipor, publiporis, Publius boy oz seruaunt.
Publius, The name of a Romayne, as Marcus is.
Pucinum, A towne of Histria.
Pucinum vinum, Wyne growing nighe to the goulfe of Venice, by the towne Pucinum.
Punicanus, a, um, Of Affrike, oz of Carthage: vt
Punicanæ fenestræ, Such windowes as they vse in Carthage.
Puniceus, a, um, Idem quod Punicus.
Punicus, a, um, Of Affrike, oz of Carthage: vt
Bellum Punicum, The warre that the Romaynes had with the Carthagimens.
Puppius, The name of a certayne poet.
Puteolanus, a, um, Of Puteoli.
Puteoli, A citie in Campania.

P Y

Pygmæi, A dwarfishe people in the vttermost mountaynes of Indie, as Plinie saith) inhabiting in a very holsome, fertile, and pleasaunt countrey. In height they are not passing one cubite, and their women the fift yeare of their age beare children, and in the eight they waxe olde. The report is, that ryding on Weathers and Goates, armed with bow and arrowes they go in the spring time in great companyes towarde the sea side, to destroy the neasts egges, and yong brydde of Cranes: which otherwise would increase to such multitudes, that they should not be able to resist them. Their houses in stede of tyle oz thetch, are couered with clay and egge sheiles.
Pygmalion, Loke Pigmalion.
Pylades, The sonne of Strophius, Orestes friende. Vide Pilades.
Pylæa, A place of Arcadie.
Pylæmenes, A Duke of the Paphlagonians, that came to Troy, and was slayne by Menelaus.
Pylene, A citie of Aetolia.
Pylos, An auncient citie of Achaia. Strabo wryteth, that there were many cities called Pylos, and each contended for Nestor.
Pylius, a, um, Of Pylos, oz of Nestor.
Pympleides, Loke Pimpleides, in Pimpla.
Pyracmon, One of the Cycloppes.
Pyræchmes, A mans name in Homer.
Pyramides, Certaine outragious buildings in Aegypt, in fourme of steeples foure square, made vp to such exceeding height, and so small vpwarde to the toppe, as it might seeme incredible to be wrought with mans hand: In the botome were the sepulchres of the kings. There were in that Countrey many of them, and buylded by Princes drowned in exceeding wealth, onely for a vaine ostentation, oz that they might not leaue ouer much stoze of treasure to their successors. Authours wzite that in the buylding of this kynde of monstruous townes in Aegypt, were bestowed. xb. thousande talentes onely on Onyons, Garlyke, and Cheese, for the labourers.
Pyramus, A yong man of Babilon, betweene whome and a mayden named Thysbe, was passing great loue, contrarie to the willes of their parentes: by whome they were so diligently kept, that notwithstanding their houses ioyned together, they couldo not eche enioy others companie. Wherefore by an hole in a wall they agreed both in the night to steale out of their fathers houses, and méete at a certaine place in the field. Thither came first Thysbe, who being in great feare of a Lionesse that she espyed by the Moone lyght, ranne into a caue there by, and for haste did let fall hir vpper garment, which the beast did rent and teare in peces. Not long after (while Thysbe was yet in the Caue) Pyramus comming to the place appointed, and seeing his loues garment torne and bloudie, thinking she had beene destroyed by some wilde beast, for sorrow drew out his swoorde, and slue him self. Thysbe, when hir feare was past, comming from the place, where as she hyd herselfe, and espying Pyramus in such maner slain, and the life not yet cleane out of his body, surmising how the matter came to passe, with many teares pitifully bewayling both their fortunes, with ỹ same swoorde ended hir lyfe, wherewith not long before he had killed himselfe, for whose sake she came thyther. Pyramus, is also a ryuer in Cilicia.

Pyrander, A man of Athens.
Pyreicus, A famous carucr of small Images.
Pyrenæi montes, Mountaines which doe deuide Fraunce from Spayne. It is also read Pyréne in the singuler number.
Pyrene, A certaine fountaine. Also the name of a mayden.
Pyréneus, tryly. A certaine king of Thrace.
Pyrethi, Certaine inchaunters of Cappadocia.
Pyréthia septa, Places inclosed, which had in ỹ middle of the an aulter, on ỹ which was kept fire continually burning Pyræus, Loke Piræus.
Pyrgi, Is thought to be an olde citie of Hetruria.
Pyrgoteles, The name of a cunning grauer in stones.
Pyrra, A citie of Lesbos.
Pyro, A nymph, the daughter of Oceanus.
Pyrodes, The name of him that first strake fire out of flint.
Pyrous, One of the horses of the sonne.
Pyrois, pyroéntis, idem.
Pyrule, A certaine plande, where fire was first founde.
Pyrrha, The wyfe of Deucalion. Also a citie of Caria. Erasmus saith it is a citie in the yle of Lesbos.
Pyrrhia, A womans name in Horace.
Pyrrhiadæ, Was the auncient name of the people called Molossi.
Pyrrho, The name of a Philosopher, whiche was first a paynter.
Pyrrhus, The sonne of Achilles by Deidamia. So named of his yealowe heare. He was also called Neoptolemus, byeause he was a yong souldiour, and came with his father to the warre of Troy, when he was but a childe. When Troy was taken, he killed Polytes and Priamus in reuengement of his fathers death. In the ende he was slain by Orestes, for that he had taken from him the Lade Hermione, that was before affianced to him.
Pyrrhus, A king of Epyre, by his mothers syde descended of Achilles, by his fathers of Hercules, a stoute warriour and valiaunt capitaine. He ayded the people of Tarentum, and the Samnites against the Romanes, and in certayne battayles ouerthrewe them, and wrought them much trouble. When his sonnes, being but yet children, asked him to which of them he wouldo leaue hys kingdome, to him (sayth hee) that shall haue the sharpest swoorde: gyuing them to vnderstande, that hee wouldo giue the succession of his principalitie to manhode, and not to age. By that spurre hee incensed hys children to contende which myght passe other in noble vertue and prowesse.
Pythágoras, A man of excellent witte, bozne in an yle called Samos, which countrey being subdued by the tyranne Polycrates, he forsoke and went into Aegipt and Babilonia, to learne mysticall sciences, and afterwarde came into Italy, where he continued the rest of his lyfe. Hee was the first that named himselfe a Philosopher. Where before men of great learning were called wyse men: and byeause he wouldo eschewe the note of arrogancie, when one demaunded of him what he was, he sayde, Philosophus, whiche signifieth a louer of wysedome. He was in sharpenesse of wit passing al other and found the subtile conclusions and misteries of Arithmetike, Muſike, and Geometrie. Plato wondreth at his Wiſedome: his doctrine was diuine and compendious: the which he teacheth to other, enioyned them to keepe ſilence fiue yeares, and beare him diligentlye, ere they demaunded of him any queſtion. He neuer would do ſacrifice with any bloud, he woulde eate nothing that had lyfe, and lyued in a maruelous abſtinence, and continence, and was in ſuch authoritie among hys diſciples, that when in diſputation they maintened their opinion, if on demaunded of them, Why it ſhoulde bee as they ſpake, they would anſwere onely, Ipſe dixit, he ſayde ſo, meaning Pythagoras: which anſwere was reputed as ſufficient, as if it had beene proued wyth an inuincible reaſon: ſo much in eſtimation was he for his approued truth and incomparable learning. He was noted to be expert in magyke: and therefore it is written of him, that nigh to the citie of Tarentum, he beheld an Oxe lyeing the toppes of beanes there growing, and treading them downe with his feete: wherefore he bade the heardman to abuſe his Oxe that he ſhould abſteyne from graine: the heardman laughing at him, ſayde, that he neuer learned to ſpeake as an Oxe: but thou (ſayde he) that ſeemeſt to haue experience therein, take mine off ce vpon thee. Forthwith Pythagoras went to the Oxe, and laying his mouth to his eare, whiſpered ſomewhat of his Arte. A marueylous thing, the Oxe, as if he had beene taught left eating of the corne, nor neuer after touched any: but many yeares after mildly walked in the citie, and woke hys meate onely of them that would gyue it him. Many lyke wonderfull things are written of him. Finally his diſciples, for their wyſedome and temperance, were alwayes had in great eſtimation. He was before the incarnation of Chriſt 522. yeares.

Pythagoricus, & Pythagoreus, One of the ſect of Pythagoras.

Pythagoriſta, tæ, m.g. He that counterfeyteth or imitateth the lyfe of Pythagoras.

Pytheum, Was the place in the which Apollo gaue anſwearес.

Pythias, A womans name.

Pythiz, pythiorum, n.g.plur. Playes made in the honour of Apollo.

Pythius, One of the names of Apollo.

Pythius, A Lydian, dwelling at a towne in Phrygia called Celene, who had ſuch abundance of golde, that he receyued Xerxes king of Perſia wyth all his whole armie, which was innumerable, and that with great magnificence: and offered moreouer, to gyue treaſure as well for proniſion, as alſo for wages, to haue had his ſonne diſcharged of the warres: which Xerxes taking diſpleaſantly, cauſed the yong man in his father ſight to be cut in ſunder. This man gaue alſo vnto Darius, father to Xerxes, a plane tree of golde, and a vine of the ſame metall: yet hee taking thought for hys ſonne, incloſed himſelfe in a ſepulchre, which he let make, and there finiſhed his life miſerably and in extreame lazow.

Pytho, A citie in the countrey called Phocis, the people whereof were named Delphi.

Pythodorus, A famous grauer.

Python, pythónis, m.& fœm. gen. A Dragon, which was ſlayne by Apollo.

Pythópolis, A citie of Aſia, in that part which is called Myſia: an other of Ceria.

Q V

QVadi, People of Weme, or Wermia, which did eate the fleſh of horſes and wolues.

Quadratus, A biſhop of Athens, diſciple of the Apoſtles, wheych had the gyft of prophecie.

Quadrubs, A name by the which the citie of Athens was called of Adrian the Poet: the worde ſignifieth a Citie, vnto the which doe come or are brought all the people being left in foure cities.

Quari, People of Narbon.

Quercus, A place where the Wiſclians ſlue a great number of the Pytenſes.

Quietalis, Was the name of Pluto called God of hell.

Quinquatria, orum, A feaſt dedicate to Pallas, which dured fiue dayes.

Quinquátrus, us, m.g. Idem.

Quinquatrus dies, A feaſt ſo called, becauſe it was after the fifc idus of March.

Quintana porta, The chiefe gate in the campe, which was called Prætorium, where the market was wont to bee kept.

Quintia porta, & Quintia prata, Was a gate, and meadowes at Rome, which take their name of one Quintus, a noble Conſull of Rome.

Quintilianus, The name of a notable Rhetorician.

Quintilis, The moneth of July.

Quintilius, A mans name, familiar with Virgyle and Horace.

Quintipor, poris, The boy or ſeruaunt of Quintus.

Quintius, and Quintus, The names of diuers Romaynes.

Quintius, a, um, Pertayning to Quintus.

Quirinális, le, Of or belonging to Romulus.

Quirinalis collis, An hyll at Rome, where the Temple of Romulus was ſet.

Quirinalis porta, The gate next to that hyll.

Quirinalia, orum, Dayes in the which men did ſacrifice vnto Romulus, called Quirinus.

Quirinus, The ſurname of Romulus.

Quiris, quiritis, or Quirites, quiritis, or hic & hæc Quiritis, A name wher eby the Romaynes were called, of their firſt king Romulus, called Quirinus, as it were Quirinus people.

R A

RAbirius, A gentleman of Rome. Alſo a Poet in Ouids time.

Radagaiſus, A certaine king of the Gothes.

Rage, A Towne and Caſtell in Englande called Notingham.

Ramnetes, The thirde part of the people of Rome in Romulus tyme. Ruminenſes, Idem.

Randuſcula porta, Looke Rauduſcula.

Rariduum Limogetis in Poito.

Ratiſpona, A citie in Almaine, called Rentzburgh.

Ratumenna, The name of a certaine chariot man.

Rauduſcula, A braſen gate of Rome.

Rauenna, A citie in Italy.

Rauennas, átis, omnis generis, That dwelleth, or is in Rauenna.

R E

Reate, tis, n.g. A citie in Italy.

Rediculi, A temple at Rome, wythout the gate called Capena, where Annibali being afrayde, retyred backe.

Regillus, The name of a ryuer in Italy.

Regium, A citie beyonde the mountaine towarde Italy called Rezo.

Regulus, The name of a Conſull of Rome, looke Atilius. Alſo a great Rhetorician in the tyme of Plinie.

Remona, The dwelling houſe of Remus.

Remoria, A place on the top of the hyll called Auentinus, where Remus ſlode, and by the flight of byrdes abuſed the buylding of Rome.

Remulinus ager, Remus fielde.

Remus, The brother of Romulus, by whome he was put to death, for that in ſcorne he leaped ouer the walles of the newe buylded citie: And ſo beganne Rome wyth bloudſhed and heynous murder by him committed, that was the firſt Founder of the Citie. After the death of Remus, the citie was (in puniſhment thereof) ſore vexed with a grieuous plague: and Apollo being aſked howe it myght be ſtayed, byd giue aunſwere, that the ghoſt of Remus muſt by ſome ſolemne ceremonie be pacified. Wherefore Romulus deuiſed, that, when ſo euer he did ſitte in royall throne to make any law or ordinaunce, there ſhoulde be ſet by him an other chayre of eſtate, eſtate, with a ſcepter, byademe, and other royall enſignes in it, that his brother being deade, might ſeeme in a ſoze to reigne with him, whome being alyue he woulde not abide to be partaker of his kingdome: and ſo wyth a ſhadowe woulde ſeeme to ſatiſfie that, which in deede hee coulde not ſuffer.

Renuntiata, An yle by Bethyope. ſo ryche, that the inhabitants do giue for an hoyſe by exchaunge a talent of gold.

R H

Rha, A ryuer of Sarmatia, called alſo Volga or Volcia.

Rhadamanthus, A king of Lycia, which was a ſtraight executer of Juſtice, and therefore was ſuppoſed of the Paynyms, to be afterwarde one of the iudges in hell.

Rhagúſium, A citie in Dalmatia.

Rhamnes, And Rhamnetes, Certayne gentlemen of Rome.

Rhamnus, nuntis, A famous village by Athens.

Rhamnuſia, The goddeſſe of vengeance. Looke Nemeſis.

Rhamnúſis, ſidis, Of Rhamnuſia.

Rhamnuſius, a, um, A man of the village called Rhamnus by Athens.

Rhamſinitus, The name of a certayne king of Aegypt, as Herodotus wryteth.

Rhaphia, A citie of Paleſtine, called of the Jewes Rhama.

Rhea, Looke Cibéle.

Rhea Syluia, The mother of Romulus and Remus, called alſo Ilia.

Rhebanus, A riuer in ỹ mouth of Boſphorus, in Thrace.

Rhebas, An other ryuer there.

Rhedones, Men of the citie of Reynes in Fraunce.

Rhegium, A citie in the borders of Italie towarde Sicilie. Alſo another citie not farre from Parma.

Rheginus, A man of the citie Rhegium in Calabze.

Rheginus, a, um, Of Rhegium.

Rhemi, People in Fraunce, called alſo Rhemenſes.

Rhene, One of the yles called Cycladeſ.

Rheni, órum, People dwelling by the Rheyne.

Rhenenſes, People dwelling on the ryuer of Rheyne.

Rhenenſe vinum, Rhenyſhe wine.

Rhenus, A notable ryuer in Germanie, called the Rheyne.

Rheſus, A kyng of Thrace, which came to the ayde of the Troyans, and was ſlayne of Diomedes: of whome a ryuer about Troy was called Rheſus.

Rheti, A people in Italie nere to the Alpes.

Rhetia, A countrey in Germanie, hauing on the weaſt the Heluetians: on the nozth it marcheth vpon Danubius: on the eaſt vpon the ryuer called Lycus: on the ſouth it ſheth vpon the mountaines called Alpes.

Rhetico, rheticonis, maſ. gener. A certayne Mountayne by Rhetia.

Rhéticus, a, um, Of Rhetia.

Rhetus, A gyaunt, whome Dionyſe being tourned into a Lyon, ſlue.

Rhexenor, The ſonne of Mauſithous.

Rhion, A promontoyre of Aetolia.

Rhitimna, A citie of Creete, called commonly Ireetina.

Rhodanus, A ryuer in Fraunce called the Rone.

Rhodia, A nymph, the daughter of Oceanus.

Rhodius, a, um, & Rhodinus, Of the Rhodes.

Rhodogune, The daughter of king Darius, which kylled hir nurſe, for perſwading hir to marry after hir firſt husbandes death.

Rhodophone, That part of Syria, that goeth ouer the mountayne Taurus.

Rhódope, A mountaine in Thracia.

Rhodopeius, a, um, Pertayning to that mountaine of Rhodope: or of Thrace.

Rhodopis, A famous Harlot of Thrace, of excellent beautie, and wonderfull ryche.

Rhodos, A famous yle in the ſea called Carpathium, lying beyonde Candy, hauing on the nozth the countrey called Lycia: on the ſouth Aegypt. In this yle were borne many excellent philoſophers and Rhetoricians: it was ſometyme puiſſaunt and ryche.

Rhoeteus, & Rhoeteius, a, um, For Troianus.

Rhoetus, A mountayne of Troy, where Aiax Telamonius was buried.

Rhoxia, A countrey by Polonia.

Rhoxolani, People on the nozth part of the riuer of Danubius or Donow.

Rhuteni, A people in Fraunce called Rhodes.

Rhymnus, A certayne ryuer.

Rhyndacus, A ryuer which runneth into the Sea called Pontus.

Rhynitalchus, A man of Thrace.

Rhynton, A certayne comicall Poet.

R I

Ricina, An yle by Irelande.

Rigiacum, A certaine citie.

Ripæ, ſeu Ripæi, Mountaynes in Arcadie.

Riphæi, Mountaynes in Scythia, where as is continuall winter, and ſnow with huge windes.

Ripheus, One of the Centaurres.

Rifinum, A citie of Lyburnia.

Ritius, A citie of Creete.

R O

Robigália, The ceremonies pertayning to Robigus, the preſeruatour of corne.

Robigo, ginis, f.g. Was honoured of the Romaynes for a goddeſſe, whome they ſuppoſed mought preſerue their corne from blaſting.

Robigus, The olde Romaynes named the God that preſerued corne from blaſting.

Roma, The citie of Rome.

Romanenſis, He that commeth from an other countrey, and dwelled at Rome.

Romania, A countrey called alſo Thracia.

Romanus, A Romayne.

Romanus, a, um, Of Rome.

Romandues, called now Veromandi, Vermandois.

Rómula, A tree, vnder the which Romulus and Remus were founde.

Romuleus, a, um, Of Romulus.

Romulidæ, The Romaynes.

Rómulus, As the Romayne ſtoppes affirme, the ſonne of Mars, by Ilia the daughter of Numitor, but more verily the ſonne of Amulius his great vncle, who of purpoſe rauiſhed Ilia in the darcke, being a virgin veſtale, to haue a quarrell to put hir to death. For king Numitor had a brother named Amulius, of nature wycked, fierce and cruell, who, not being content to take the kyngdome from his elder brother, and caſt him in priſon, did alſo murder his ſonne Laufus, and vnder colour of honour made his daughter Ilia a virgin veſtale vnder the bonde of perpetuall chaſtitie, that ſhee myght not haue any iſſue. But ſhee being afterwarde founde with chylde by Mars, as the Romaynes woulde haue men beleeue, was deliuered of two ſonnes: which Amulius commaunded to be caſt into Tyber, and theyr mother, according to the law of the veſtales, to be burned quicke.

But it happened at that tyme, the ryuer of Tyber was ſwollen ouer the bankes, ſo that men coulde not come to the depe of the channell. wherefore they that had the charge of drowning the chyldren, caſt them into the land flood. Where the water ſoftly falling, left them alyue, and ſo were they founde by Fauſtulus the kings ſhepeheard. Who brought them home to be kept and nouryſhed of his wyfe Laurentia, which becauſe ſhee was a ſtrumpet, was named of the ſhepheardes Lupa. Wherefore roſe the fable, that the Founders of the Romayne citie were nouriſhed of a ſhe woulfe. When theſe chyldren came after to age, being inſtructed by Fauſtulus of their ſtocke and beginning, they gathered togyther a bande of ſhepheardes, kylled Amulius, reſtored Numitor to his kyngdome, and on the mount Palatine, where they were brought vp, beganne to buylde them a newe Citie. And becauſe they were twynnes both of one age, there fell controuerſie betweene them, which ſhoulde giue name to their new citie: This contention so grewe, from woordes to tumulte and stroakes, that in the bickering Remus was slayne. Although the more common opinion be, that he was put to death, because scornefully he leapt ouer the newe walles of the citie. Romulus, being then king alone, peopled his citie, by erecting a sanctuarie for safegarde of all transgressours that would come thither: ordeyned an hundred Senatours called fathers: procured wiues for his people, by rape of all the maydens of the countrey, resorting thither to solemne games and playes: ouercame the people of Cenina, and slue their king: vanquished the Sabynes, and people of Antemna, and receyued them into his citie, with other diuers valiaunt actes. Which when hee had done, on a tyme calling an assembly at the marrice named Caprea, in a great tempest sodainly was gone, no man could tell how: as it was thought, for his sterne gouernement, murdered priuily of the Senatours, who to please the people fayned, that he was a god, and named him Quirinus. Vnder which name the Romains euer after worshipped him.

Rómulus, a, um, Of Romulus.

Roscius, A Romayne, and a player in commedies, whome for his excellencie in pronunciation and gesture, the noble Cicero, called his iewell, and so much delighted in him, that hee contended with him, whether Roscius coulde set forth one sentence in mo factions of gesture and countenaunce, or he expresse the same sentence in a more diuersitie of eloquent wordes. The excellencie of this man in his arte, howe it was esteemed and fauoured of all the Romaynes, trappereth well, in that they gaue to him for a continuall stipende, one thousande of their grotes for euery day: which amounteth of our money to sixteene pounde, thirteene shyllings and foure pence. And Lucius Sylla being Dictatour, gaue to him a ring of golde, which was the token of a knight at that tyme, as a coller or chayne of golde is at this tyme.

Rothómagus, The citie of Roan in Normandie.

Roxana The daughter of Darius, and concubine of Alexander, which being great with childe, was drowned by his sister Satyra.

Roxicum, A citie of the Ile Corsica, called commonly Rogela.

R V

Rubi, rubórum, A towne in Campania.

Rúbicon, conis, A ryuer in Italy, which deuydeth Gallia, from the part of Italy nowe called Romandiola, and in olde tyme Flaminea.

Rubigália, órum, Feastes ordeyned for the preseruation of corne from blasting.

Rubricatus, A ryuer in Spayne called Robygat.

Rudiæ, rudiarum, An olde towne in Apulia, where the poet Ennius was borne.

Rufinus, The name of certaine Romaines.

Rufrimacerix, A towne of Campaine.

Rufus, The name and surname of diuers Romaynes.

Rullus, A Romaine, which brought first a whole Yere to the table in seruice.

Rumia, A Goddesse, whome the Paynyms supposed to be beneficiall to womens breastes, and to sucking children.

Ruminalis ficus, A figge tree, vnder the which it is supposed, that a Wouffe gaue sucke to Romulus and Remus.

Runcina, The Goddesse of weeding.

Runsor, óris, One of the names of Pluto, called God of hell.

Ruscinum, Russilion, or Perpignian in Fraunce.

Rusticus, The proper name of a man.

Rutheni, People beyonde Liuonia, of whome the countrey is nowe called Russia. There be also people in Fraunce about Towers so called.

Rutilius, The name of diuers Romaines.

Rutuba, A ryuer in Liguria, running from the mountaine called Apenninus.

Rutuli, An auncient people in Italy, of whome Turnus was king, whome Eneas vanquished.

Rútulus, a, um, Of the People Rutuli.

Rutulus, A mans name.

Rutupiæ, An hauen in Kent called Sandwich.

Rutupinus, a, um, Of that hauen.

Rutupinum promontorium, A goze or elbowe of lande in Englande, lying into the sea about Sandwich.

S A

Sába, or Sabe, A great citie in Aethiope. Also the chiefe Scitie of the people called Sabæi, in Arabie: the woorde Saba, signifieth a misery.

Sabæa, or Saba, A countrey in the middle of Arabia toward the east, inuyronedabout with great rockes, wherein is a great woodde of precious trees, some of Cynamome and Casia, some bringing forth Frankensence and Myrre. The length of that wode is twenty of theyr miles called Schoeni, which comprehendeth of Italian miles, one hundred and sixtie. Plin. li. 12. Theophrastus. li. 9. de hist. plant. Solynus writeth, that the region bringing forth Frankensence, is from a towne there named Acramitæ. viij. mansions which in deede conteyneth. 224. miles, Mansio or Stathmos, being of. xxiij. Italian miles. The chiefe citie of that Realme is called Sabota.

Sabei, People of the realme of Sabea.

Sabeus, a, um, Of the people Sabæi.

Sabacus, The name of a certaine king of Aethiope.

Sabata, Sabatia, or Sabarium, A citie of Liguria, commonly called Sauona.

Sabatæ, A certaine pole.

Sabath, A proper name, whereof commeth Sabatheni, the name of a people.

Sabe, In the Syrian tongue, is the moneth of Februarie.

Sabelli, People dwelling in the mountaines betweene the Sabines and Marse in Italy.

Sabellus, and Sabellicus, a, um, Of the people Sabini, in Italy.

Sabidius, A Romaine, which was a notable glutton.

Sabim, Among the Arabians doth signifie God.

Sabini, People in Italy, betweene Latini, and Vmbri.

Sabinus, a, um, Of the Sabines.

Sabiusa, A gate at Rome, out at the which men went to the Sabines.

Sabota, or Sabora, A citie of Arabie.

Sabriana, A creeke in the Britaine sea.

Sabrina, A great ryuer in England called Seuerne, which runneth into the sea by Bristow. Ptolomæus calleth it Sabriana.

Sabura, ræ, A mans name.

Sabyllus, A tyranne of a citie in Sicille called Gela.

Sacæ, People of Scythia.

Sacarum, A countrey of Asia, beyonde the sea called Caspium, the people whereof haue no houses, but dwell in Caues.

Sacer mons, A hyll dedicate to Iupiter three myles from Rome, beyonde the ryuer called Anio: an other by Galatia, wherein golde is founde.

Sacra via, A streete in Rome, where peace was made betweene Romulus and Tatius, and through the which the vanquishers passed with their triumph to the Capitoll.

Sacrani, Certaine people of Italy.

Sacrum promontorium, A great mountaine or rocke in the Southwest part of Spayne, lying on the sea, called now Cape sainct Vincent.

Sadducæi, Were men of a certayne sect among the Iewes who helde opinion, that the soule was mortall, and that it dyed with the bodie: they were diuers in maners, and cruell to straungers.

Sadyattes, The sonne of Ardis, which reigned after his father in Lydia.

Sæpinum, A citie of the Samnites.

Sagaris, or Sagarus, A certayne ryuer.

Sagittárius, Sagittarij, masc. gen. One of the. xij. signes in the firmament.

Sagra, A ryuer in Italy.

Sagona, A ryuer in Fraunce called the Sone.

Saguntia, A citie of Spaine.

Saguntus, vel Saguntum, A citie in Spayne, beyonde the riuer of Iberus, about one myle from the sea: the people thereof, being in amitie with the Romaynes, were of late, faithfulnesse, that when Anniball had long besieged them, and brought them at the point to be famished: the chiefe of the citie made great fyers, and let cast into it their treasure, and many of them entered into the fire, and were wilfully burned, all the residue fought and were slayne, so that none escaped: whereof came thys prouerbe Saguntina fames, applyed to a great and horrible famine. In the place where this citie stode, is nowe the towne called Morueetrum.

Saij, A people of Thrace.

Sais, A citie in Aegypt, where is one of the entres into the ryuer of Nylus: the entry or port is called Saiticum.

Sala, A towne and riuer in Mauritania. Also a towne of Phrygia, Pannonia, and Armenia, and a ryuer of Germanie.

Salacia, The Goddesse of water.

Salambria, A citie of Cappadocia.

Salamin, Salamis, or Salamina, An yle by Athens.

Salaminius, Salaminiacus, and Salaminus, a, um, Of that yle: vt

Salaminia nauis, A shippe of Salamin.

Salanga, A promontorie of Irelande.

Salanga, A very hyghe hyll betweene great Britayne and Irelande, now called our Ladies hyll.

Salapia, A towne in Apulia.

Salapuius, A name gyuen to Caluus an Orator, which being of a chyldes personage, vsed much teasting and taunting merily.

Salaria via, An hie way, by which salt was caried to Rome

Salassij, People by the Inlubrians.

Salentia, The Citie of the Messapians.

Salentinum, A countrey in Italy.

Salentini, A people in Italy.

Salernum, A towne in Italy.

Salia, A ryuer in Spayne.

Saliaris, re, Perteyning to the priestes of Mars. Ve Saliaris cœna, A banket or supper made by the priests of Mars.

Salares virgines, Maydens, which were with the priestes of Mars and did sacrifice with the bishops, wearing on them core armours, and bishops mytres on their heads.

Salij. The Priestes of Mars in Rome, which daunced about the Citie, bearing Targates called Ancilia. Salij, be also people of Germanie, called Franci, and their countrey Franconia.

Salinæ, arum, A citie in Sicile.

Salinator, The name of a noble man of Rome.

Salinocanos, An hauen in Fraurce, called saint Paulus.

Salij, People of the Alpes, confynes to the Sowyters, and the people called Boij.

Salmácidus, a, um, Of the fountaine Salmacis.

Salmacis, A fountayne in Caria, where a nymphe finding Hermaphroditus, the sonne of Mercurie and Venus naked. Shee embracing him, desired of the Gods, that of them two might be made one bodie, and so it happened. Wch the people of Caria, be sometime called Salmacij.

Salmantica, A towne of Portugall.

Salmóneus, trisyllabum, A king of Elis, which taking vpon him to haue diuine honours done vnto him, and would seme to cast lightenings lyke vnto Iupiter, being ouerthrowne with lyghtning was cast into hell.

Salmonis, idis, Patronymicum fœmininum.

Salo, A ryuer called also Bilbilis, wherewith yron is tempered and made stronger.

Salomon, & Solomon, onis, Is interpreted peaceable: The name of a king of the Iewes, the sonne of king Dauid, who exceded all men in wysedome and knowledge, and neuertheless was by dotage on women, brought vnto Idolatrie.

Salomonius, a, um, Of Salomon.

Salon, A countrey of Bithynia, very commodious for the feeding of cattaile.

Salonæ, A citie in Liburnia, betweene Dalmatia and Illyzea.

Salonius, The sonne of Sollio.

Salopia, A towne and countrey in England called Shyrewsburie.

Salpiæ, A towne of Apulia.

Salsuse, A fountaine of salt water, of Marbon in Fraunce.

Saltiæ, People topning to the sea called Pontus Euxinus.

Salustius, A notable Historiographer, which wrote of the conspiracie of Catiline, and of the warre agaynst Jugurth.

Samara, An hyll in the east Ocean sea, at the further ende of the mountaine Caucasus.

Samaria, A countrey and citie in Syria topning to Judæa, which was the chiefe citie of the ten trybes of Israell, who being taken prysoners by the king of Syria, and led away captiues, thither were sent Paynims for them to enhabite the countrey, which were after called Samaritani, and they mixt the lawe of Moyses with idolatrie: the citie was afterwarde called Sebaste.

Samarobrini, People in Fraunce about Cambyte.

Sambicus, A mans name, which was, for spoyling of Diana hir temple, tormented a whole yeare most grieuously, and so dyed.

Same, An yle in the sea Ionium.

Samius, a, um, Of the yle of Samos.

Samnites, People of Samnium, a countrey in Italy called nowe Apruccium.

Samonium, A promontorie of Crete, ouer against the Rhodes.

Samos, The name of two Iles in the sea called Aegeum, One by Thracia, and therefore it is called Samothracia, the other lyeth against Ephesus.

Samosata, A citie of Asia by Euphrates.

Sanates, People dwelling about Rome.

Sancus, One of the names of Hercules.

Sandalarius, A name of Apollo.

Sandaliótis, An yle called nowe Sardinia.

Sanga, A ryuer in Portugall.

Sangaris, A ryuer of Galatia, which running through Phrygia falleth into the sea Propontis. It is commonly called Zagaie.

Sangarius puer, Ganymedes.

Sannaus, A ryuer or pole in Asia.

Santones, and Santoni, People of a countrey in Fraunce, called Xantongue.

Santonum portus, Rochell in Fraunce.

Santonum promontorium, A promontorie in Fraunce called Blaye.

Sapiri, People by Pontus.

Sapis, A ryuer of Italy.

Sapphicus, a, um, Of Sappho.

Sappho, A woman of the yle of Lesbos, a great Poetresse, who made verses called Lyrici: at the last, shee was taken with the loue of a yong man called Phaon, who running awaye from hir, shee not sustayning the anguishe of loue, threw hir selfe downe from an hill into the sea.

Saraca, A towne of Media.

Sarace, A citie in Colchis.

Sarcárius, A ryuer of Phrygia.

Sardanapalus, An Emperour of Assyria. So exceedingly geuen to effeminate wantonnesse and follie, as he maye seme to haue changed his sexe or kynde, and by nature being framed a man, in conditions to be a verye woman. For, hee was wonte continually in some inner part of his palace, to sitte in the compane of lyght women, arayed in womens apparayle, spinning and carding as they did, and in lyghtnesse of countenaunce and wanton gestures farre passing the most shameleese strumpets. Which light behauiour although he long cloked and hydde, vnder pretence of manlike, not suffering any to come to him, yet at the length it was spyed by one Arbaces his Lieutenaunt of Media, vpon speciall ciall fauour being let in vnto him. Whereat this Iroates a man of ſtoute courage, conceyued ſo great indignation, that ſhortly after he incenſed the people to rebellion: ſaying that it was a foule rebuke for martiall people vſed to handle armour and weapon, to be ſubiect to one that did ſpende his tyme in tolying of wull among harlots and lyght women. Wherefore they gathering a power made warre againſt Sardanapalus. Who being ouercome fledde to his palayce, and making a great fire, after he had caſt into it his Jewels and moſt precious ornaments, kept himſelfe alſo into it and ſo periſhed: in this onely following a man, that he ſerued valiauntly to dye.

Sardanis, A man of Lydia, which moued Cræſus to make warre againſt the Perſians.

Sardemiſos, A promontorie of the mountayne Taurus.

Sardi, People of Sardinia.

Sardinia, An yle in the ſea called Ligufticum by Geane, not paſſing ſeauen myles from Coſtica.

Sardinenſis, ſe, Sardus, and Sardóus, a, um, Of Sardinia.

Sardis, A citie in Lydia.

Sardonici, Certaine hilles of Liburnia, called Haranai.

Sarepta, A towne in Syria, where Helyp the prophet was borne.

Sareptanus, a, um, Of Sarepta.

Sargacæ, People in the north part of the worlde, ioyning to the great mere of Mæotis.

Sargapiſes, The ſonne of Tompyris, taken by king Cyrus.

Sarmata, A man of Sarmatia.

Sarmatia, A countrey of Europe, which bordereth on the north, vpon the ſea called Sarmaticum: on the weſt, vpon the ryuer Viſtula, and Germanie: on the ſouth vppon Sidenburgh, Dacia, and Myſia inferiour: on the eaſt vpon that Sarmatia, which is in Aſia, the riuer Tanais, and the marſhe Mæotis: vnder this be many countreys conteyned, Polonia, Rhuſſia, Fruſſia, Liuania, Liuonia, Moſcouia, &c. the greater part of this countrey is nowe vnder the king of Pole.

Sarmáticus, a, um, Of Sarmatia.

Sarmátice, Lyke one borne in Sarmatia.

Sarmatis, tidis, ſg. Of Sarmatia.

Sarmantus, A gentleman of Rome, in the time of Auguſtus which was a great ſcoffer.

Sarnus, A ryuer in Campania.

Sarónicus, A boſome of the ſea againſt Iſthmus.

Sarpedon, The king of Lycia, which came to the ayde of the Troians againſt the Grekes. Alſo a promontorie of Cilicia.

Sarracæni, A people of Arabia.

Sarra, A citie in Phœnitia, called ſometyme Tyrus.

Sarránus, a, um, Of that citie.

Sarraca, The name of two cities, whereof the one is in Media, the other in Arabia fœlici, or the riche Arabie.

Saraſtes, People in Campania.

Sarſina, An olde citie in Italy, where Plautus the writer of Comedies was borne.

Sarticum, An entrie into the ryuer of Nilus.

Saſon, An yle fiue myles from the citie of Brundiſium, in the realme of Napies.

Satagitæ, People in the countrey now called Tartarie.

Satan, The name of the Deuill. The worde ſignifyeth an aduerſarie.

Satarchæ, People in Scythia, which excluded from them the vſe of golde and ſilver.

Sataſpes, A Perſian, the ſonne of Teaſpes.

Satnois, A ryuer in Phrygia.

Satræ, People of Grece, by the ſea ſide of Thrace.

Saturnália, órum, neut. gen. plu. Fiue dayes aſſigned to Saturne in December, wherein men vſed to feaſt one another, and to ſende mutuall preſentes.

Saturnalícius, a, um, Pertayning to the feaſt of Saturne.

Saturnia, Was the name of a towne.

Saturniana colonia, A towne of Tuſcan.

Saturniniani, were heretykes, which affirmed, that onely ſeauen Angels made the worlde againſt the conſcience of God the father.

Saturnius, a, um, Of Saturnus.

Saturnius, A mountayne at Rome, which was afterwarde called Tarpeius.

Saturnus, The ſonne of Cælum and Veſta, who maried Ops, his owne ſiſter. His eldeſt brother named Titan, perceyuing his mother and ſiſters more bent to haue Saturne hys yonger brother to ſucceede in the kyngdome, yeilded his right therein to him for his owne lyfe tyme, on this condition, that he ſhoulde not bring vp any iſſue male, but the heritage ſhould come again to his children. Wherefore Saturne vpon this couenaunt made wyth his brother, vſed to kill and deuour all the men children, and brought vp onely the daughters. Ops therefore his wife hauing brought forth at one time Jupiter and Juno, ſhewed Juno to hir husbande, but Jupiter ſhe conueyed priuie to the Corybantes to be kept and brought vp. Likewyſe afterwarde being deliuered of Neptune, ſhe conueyed him alſo ſecretly to be nouriſhed, and laſtly ſaued by lyke meanes hir thirde ſonne Pluto. But when this was knowne by Titan, & his brother had kept vp his men children, and thereby the kingdome ſhould go from his line, his ſonnes and he ioyntly made warre vpon Saturne, in the ende wherof, Saturne and Ops his wife were taken and kept in priſon, vntill ſuch tyme as Jupiter comming to age, ouercame the Titanes, and deliuered his father and mother. But for ſo much as Saturne vnderſtode by Oracle, that he ſhoulde be driuen out of his kingdome by hys ſonnes, he layde wayte to deſtroye Jupiter. Wherefore Jupiter made warre on his father, and chaſed hym out of hys kingdome into Italy: where he hydde himſelfe a long tyme in that Countrey, which thereof was after called Latium.

Saturneianus, a, um, Of Saturum.

Saturum, and Saturum, A citie of Calabria, not farre from Tarentum.

Satyriacum, An Image of Priapus.

Satyri, Gods of the woddes: they were monſters hauing the heade of a man, the bodie of a Goate.

Satyrorum inſulæ, Thee Iles by India, the inhabitants whereof haue tayles lyke to the monſters called Satyri.

Sauo, A ryuer in Campaine.

Sauona, A ryuer of Liguria called Sauone.

Sauromatæ, People called alſo Sarmatæ, Ruſſes, Tartarians, Moſcouites, &c.

Saurus, A notable Image maker.

Saxoforátum, A Towne in the confines of Umbria and Picene.

Saxones, The people of Saxonie.

Saxonia, Saxonie.

S C

Scæa, An hauen at Troy, whereas was the ſepulchre of Laomedon.

Scæi, People in Thracia.

Scenitæ, People of Arabie, which dwell alway in tentes, couered with the heares of Goates: among whome if a ſwine or hogge be brought, it dyeth immediatly.

Scænopegia, orum, neut. gen. The feaſt of the tabernacles, wherein the Jewes did ſet vp tabernacles, or tentes, in ſimilitude of them wherin they dwelled when they came out of Jegypt.

Scæuola, A noble man of Rome.

Scalabiſcus, A citie of Portugall, called commonly Trugillo.

Scalde, A ryuer in Fraunce.

Scamander, dri, A Ryuer of Troye, deſcending from the mountaine Ida.

Scamandria, A towne by the hauen of Ilium, not farre from Troy.

Scamandrus, The ſonne of Hector and Andromache.

Scandinauia, or Scandia, An Ile in the north Occean ſea, the quantitie whereof was neuer founde.

Scapténſula, A place in Macedonia, where ſiluer was digged.

Scaptia, An olde citie in Italie, whereof came the tribe called Scaptia tribus.

Scardona,

S C

Scardona, A citie of Liburnia, called now Scardo.

Scauri, Wenne of an honorable houſe amonge the Romaynes.

Sceleratus campus, A field at Rome, where the Nunnes of Veſta were buryed quicke, if they were founde to lyue incontinently.

Sceenitæ, People of Arabia fœlix, Lyke Scænitæ.

Scenopégia, orum, plu. Lyke Scænopegia.

Sceptis, A citie in Phrygia.

Sceptici, Were a ſect of Philoſophers, which affyrmed nothing: the chiefe of that ſect were Pyrrho, and Herillus.

Scéptica, cæ, fœm. gen. The ſect of thoſe Philoſophers.

Schinis, The name of a notable and cruell robber, that was ſlayne by Theſeus.

Schinuſa, One of the Iles called Sporades.

Schœneus, called alſo Iaſius, A lyng of Arcadie, father of Atalanta.

Schœneius, a, um, Of Schœneus.

Schœnicis, idis, patronimicum fœm.

Scœnus, nunris, A ryuer by Athens: alſo an other in Arcadia.

Sciathos, A certaine Ile.

Scione, A towne of Macedonie.

Sciopodes, People which lying vpright, doe ſhadow themſelues with their feete: albeit euery one man hath but one legge, yet be they wonderfull ſwift.

Scipiadæ, and Scipionidæ, They which were of Scipiones progeme, the noble capitaines of the Romaynes.

Scipio, The ſurname of diuers noble Romaynes, of the whiche foure were moſt excellent, as well in martiall proweſſe, as in other moſt notable vertues. The one called Scipio Nauſica, ſonne of Gneius Scipio, who had wone both Conſull and triumphed: and being a verie yong man, was deemed of all the people of Rome to be the beſt man in that citie. Two other were brethren, the ſonnes of Publius Scipio. The one of them, L. Scipio, for the ſubduing of Aſia, was called Scipio Aſiaticus: the other, P. Cor. Scipio, for vanquiſhing Anniball, and the people of Africa, was named Scipio Africanus maior. This Publius Cor. Scipio, from his childehode was of a wonderfull towardenelle: for being but xvij. yeares olde, in a great battayle by Pisane in Lumbardie, he reſcued his father being enuironed with enimies, and in daung'r to be ſlayne. Alſo after the diſcomfiture at Cannæ, where the moſe part of the floure of thy nation was ſlaine, becauſe the reſidue of the yong men concluded to haue forſaken Italy, this Scipio drewe out his ſworde, and compelled them to ſweare, that they ſhoulde not leaue the citie, but defende it. After that his father and vncle were ſlaine, all men fearing to be Capitaynes in ſo daungerous warres, he ſtept forth with a noble courage, proffering himſelfe to take that charge in hande: wherevnto the Senate and people conſented, he being then but xxv. yeares olde, they behaldyng in hys perſonage and viſage a beautie incomparable, his countenaunce merry and gentle, and in his geſture and pace to be a wonderfull maieſtie, which was had in ſuch admiration throughout all the worlde, that after he had driuen Anniball out of Affrike, ſubdued the citie of Carthage, and conſtreyned the great king Antiochus to deſire peace of the Romaynes, the warres being ceaſſed, men came out of all countreys to Rome, onely to ſee and honour him. as one exceeding the ſtate of mortalitie: whereby ſuch enuie was ſtyred towarde hym, that hee was accuſed for detayning of certayne treaſure, which ſhoulde haue beene brought into the common treaſurie: but he with a noble and valiaunt courage came before the perſon, and remembryng what he had done for the weale publike, required them to go with him to the Capitoll to giue thankes to God for his victorie: and ſo departing, all the people followed him. and left the iudges alone. But notwithſtanding he ſo grieuouſly tooke the ingratitude of the Senate and people, that he abandoned all common affayres, and went out of the citie of Rome to a manour place, which he had at Linternum, and there ended his lyfe, when he had liued. liij. yeares. A notable remembraunce to them that doe truſt in fortune, or fauour of the people. The fourth was Scipio Africanus minor, ſonne of Paulus Aemilius: he ſubuerted Carthage and Numantia.

S C

Sciron, Lyke Scyron.

Scironia ſaxa, Rockes in the ſea by Athens.

Scitæ, People in the north part by ... ſia, which were cruell, and hard to be vanquiſhed: they be nowe called Ruſſians, Moſcouites, and Tartarians.

Scodra, A citie in Liburnia, called now Scutari.

Scolus, A village in Phocis, vnder the mountaine Cytheron, A place vnpleaſaunt, vnfruitfull, vntylled & rough: Stephanus bounderh it in Bœotia.

Scopas, The name of a notable grauer.

Scordona, An Ile lying towarde Dalmatia, called commonly Maleonſeglio.

Scórpio, ónis, m. gen. or Scorpius, pii, m. gen. A ſigne in the firmament.

Scotia, Scotlande, the part of Britannia from the ryuer of Twede to Catanes.

Scoti, Scottes. or Scottiſhe men, of whom ſaint Hierome writeth in this wiſe: Quid loquar de cæteris nationibus, quum ipſe adoleſcentulus in Gallia viderim Scotos, gentē Britannicam humanis veſci carnibus, & quum per ſylvas porcorum greges, & armentorum, pecudumq; repectant, paſtorum nates, & fœminarū papillas ſolere abſcindere, & has ſolas ciborum delitias arbitrari? What ſhall I ſpeake of other nations, ſince that when I was a boy, I ſawe in Fraunce Scottes, a people of Britayne, eate mens fleſhe, and when they founde in the forreſtes herdes of ſwine, beaſtes, and cattaile, they would cutte of the buttockes of the boyes, which kept them, and alſo the womens pappes, and take that to be the moſt deyntie and delicate meate.

Scotuſa, A citie of Theſſaly.

Scurgum, A citie of Germanie.

Scyathos, An yle and towne in the ſea Aegeum.

Scylace, A citie in Greece.

Scylaceum, A towne in the furthermoſt part of Italy, firſt builded and inhabited by men of Athens.

Scylatium, A citie of Apuſtians, called commonly Schilazo.

Scylax, A Phyſitian of Caria.

Scylla, A lady, daughter of Niſus king of the Megarenſes, which for loue of Minos, hir fathers enimie, ſtale a purple heere from hir fathers heade, which cauſed him to be vanquiſhed. But ſhe being forſaken of Minos, threw hirſelfe into the ſea, and was tranſformed into a birde of hir name. Scylla, is alſo a daungerous rocke in the ſea by Sicilie whereof came this ayr worde.

* Decidit in Scyllam cupiens vitare Charybdim, prouerbially, to fall into one daunger, while he couetetly to eſchewe an other.

Scyllæus, a, um, Of Scylla.

Scyllæum, A Promontorie or hill in the part of Græcia, nowe called Morea. Alſo a towne of the Apulians in Italy.

Scyllias, or Scyllis, The name of a Greke, which ſwimming vnder water, did cutte in ſunder the cables of the Perſians ſhippes.

Scyllus, luntis, A towne in Achaia.

Scylurus, The name of a man that had. lxxx. ſonnes, who when he dyed, called them before him and deliuered to euerye eche of them a ſheffe of arrowes, commaunding them to breake the ſheffe incontinent: which when they moughe not doe, he toke out of the ſheffes one arrowe after another, and brake them all tightly: declaring thereby vnto his ſonnes, that if they continued and agreed well together, they ſhould be puyſſaunt: and if they bared and were diſcurred, they ſhould be feable, and ſhortly deſtroyed.

Scymnus, ni, m. gen. A mans name.

Sceriades, women of the yle Scyros.

Scyritæ, People in India, which haue no noſes but in the ſtede of a noſe, they haue two holes in their viſage.

Scyricus, and Scyrius, a, um, Of Scyros.

Scyron

Scyron, A notable robber in the countreye of Attica, who wounde fit on a hygh rocke, and compell them that came by to washe his feete, or else to honour him: and when they had so done, he thewe them downe into the sea. Finally, hee was slayne by Theseus, and it was surmised, that his bones bring cast into the sea, were turned into great rockes, which of him were named Scyronia: and they be betweene Attica and Megaris, whereby the passage is harde.

Scyron, A certayne wynde, whose hurtfull blast, is of all Grece knowne onely to them of Athens.

Scyros, An yle in the sea called Aegeum, stonie and vnfruitfull, where Achylles was hyd by his mother in a womans apparayle, to the intent that hee shoulde not go with the Greekes against Troy.

Scytha, A man or woman of Scythia. Also Hercules sonne.

Scythes, One of Scythia. Also Jupiters sonne, which first inuented bowe and arrowes.

Scythia, A great countrey, which is deuided wyth the ryuer Tanais, and stretcheth into the east, so that one part thereof is in Europa, the other in Asia, and hath on the south part Sacas and Sagdianos, people vnder the king of Persia: and on the north part, be countreys vnknowne and desert: and is now vnder the dominion of the great Cane of Cathaie. The people of this Countrey are destroued to be cruell, sauage, and wilde. They lyed no boundes of their grounde. For they neyther husbanded their land, nor occupied any priuate houfe. Setled place of abyding they had none: but with their wiues & children wandred from place to place through wildernesses. Driuing droues of beastes before them, by which especially they lyued. Their wagons, wherein they carryed their wiues and children, being couered with leather, in winter and tempestuous weathering serued them for houses. Justice naturally and not by lawe they muche esteemed and vsed. For no offence was so grieuous among them as theft. Golde and siluer they as much despised, as other countreyes greedily desired. They feede most on mylke and honie, and as for wull and cloth, or the vse of apparayle they knewe not. They were called Scythæ, of Scythes, one of Hercules sonnes.

Scythicus, and Scythius, a, um, Of Scythia.

Scythis, Patronimicum fœm.

Scython, A mans name, which when he lysted was man or woman.

Scythópolis, A citie of Decapolitana in Syria.

Scythotauri, People of Scythia, which sacrifice strangers that come thither.

Sebaste, A citie in Syria called before Samaria.

Sebastópolis, A citie in Pontus, called saint Gregozies.

Sebennytum, A citie in Aegypt.

Sebethys, bethidis, fœ.gen. Of Sebethhos.

Sebéthos, A fountayne at Naples, which seruyth the citie, running thzough out the citie.

Sebinus, A pole, that the ryuer Lollius maketh.

Sebritæ, A people some tyme called Sembritæ.

Secundus, A philosopher of Athens.

Sedigitus, The name of Volcatius, a noble poet, which had vi. fingers on one hande.

Segesta, An olde towne in Sicilie. Also the name of a Goddesse.

Segestanus, a, um, That dwelleth in Segesta.

Segestia, The Goddesse called also Segesta.

Segmenta, Be certaine lynes ymagined by the which Cosmographers doe deuide the worlde into portions, which be called also Paralléli, whereby the distaunce of places is founde.

Segodunum, Rhodes in Fraunce.

Segodunum, Is also a noble citie in Almaine, nowe called Nurenberge.

Segobrida, A towne in the part of Spayne which is nowe called Biscay.

Segor, A citie, which was preserued by the prayer of Loth, when Sodome was destroyed by the vengeaunce of God.

Segusiani, or Seguiati, Bysse in Fraunce.

Segusium, The part of the Alpes called mount Syon.

Seia, The Goddesse called Segesta.

Seianus, A mans name.

Seir, A mountaine in the countrey of Edome, where Esau the brother of Jacob the patriarke dwelled.

Seius, A mans name.

Seleucia, The principall citie of Syria, which is. 30. furlonges from Babilonia.

Seleucus, A king of Syria, next after alexander the great.

Selinis, The name of thze ryuers in Greece.

Selinis, A ryuer by Lylibæum.

Selymbria, A citie in Propontis, neare to Bizaunce.

Semele, The daughter of Cadmus, and mother of Bacchus.

Semelēius, a, um, Of Semele.

Semiramis, A famous Queene of Assyria, wyfe to king Ninus, who, after the death of hir husbande, being loth on the one part to commit the charge of so great an empyze to the gouernment of hir yong sonne, and on the other, fearing that the fierce people would be loth to be gouerned by a woman, altered hir apparayle somewhat to the fashion of men, and toke on hir the person of hir sonne, to whome she was both in stature and fauour very like. But when by many notable enterpryses and valiaunt actes she had so much confirmed and inlarged hir Empire, as she might seme to haue passed the accompasse of enuie, she disclosed what she was, & why she had so done. Which thing knowne did not onely nothing appayze hir authozitie, but stzyred greater admiration towards hir. As she was on a time attyzing hir selfe, wzothe was hastily brought to hir, that the citie of Babilon rebelled. She being in a rage therewith, ranne forth with the one side of hir heare not dzessed vp, and with a power gaue ouer, nor dzessed vp hir heade vntil she had brought the citie in subiection. At the last, failing from nobilenesse to sensuall lust, she retired the company of hir owne sonne, and of him was slayne.

Sempronius, A Senatour of Rome.

Sena, A citie in Tuscane, called Senes, which is an hundzed myles from Rome. Sometime it is wzitten Senæ, in the plurall number.

Séneca, æ, The name of two great learned men.

Sennaar, The fielde, where the tower of Babilon was buylded.

Senogallia, A citie in Italy.

Senones, People in Fraunce.

Senta, Was called Fauna, or Bona dea. The good goddesse.

Sentica, A towne of Spayne called Simancas.

Sentinaria, A countrey in Italy.

Sentinum, A towne in Italy called now Saxofarratum.

Sepinus, piuntis, Sipus, puntis, & Sipontum, A Citie in the realme of Naples.

Seplasium, or Seplasia, A stréte in the citie of Capua, wherein were diuers delicate opntments.

September, bris, m.g. The moneth of September. It is sometyme vsed Dbicetiuely.

Septémpeda, A place in Italy called saint Seuerine.

Septéntrio, ônis, The north Pole.

Septentriônâlis, le, Of the north Pole.

Septentriones, The seuen starres, which are seene by Charles wayne, or Vrsa maior.

Septius, The name of a man, who first grassed a hynde of roundе apples, called of his name Septiana mala.

Septicollis, By that name Rome was called, because of the seuen hils, which were in it, Palatinus, Quirinalis, Auentinus, Cælius, Viminalis, Exquilium, and Ianiculum.

Septimatrus, Was an holy day, kept the day following the first Ides of euery moneth.

Septimius, A Romayne, of whome Catullus wzyteth.

Sequana, A ryuer in Fraunce called Sein.

Sequáni, Burgonions of high Burgopne.

Sera, A citie of Asia.

Seranus,

Séranus, The surname of a noble Romaine, which was fet from the plough and made Dictatour.

Serapion, An ozatoz of Alexandria, which wrote to Adzian the Emperour: an other was bishop of Antioche, in the time of Commodus: an other was a notable painter.

Serapis, or Seraphis, idis, A serpent which the Aegyptians worshipped for a God.

Seres, A people in Asia hauing great plentie of silke.

Séricus, a, um, Of the people Seres.

Sergestus, One of Æneas shipmen.

Seria, A citie of Spayne.

Seriphius, a, um, of Seriphos.

*Rhana seriphia, Spoken prouerbiallye of them that be as they were dumme, or can say nothing in any matter.

Seriphos, An yle by Græcia, in the sea called Aegeum, where the frogges that therein bzede are dumme.

Serius, A ryuer of Fraunce.

Sermyla, A citie of Macedonie.

Seropta, A citie in Phœnicia.

Serra, re, f.g. A name of the ryuer Tyber.

Sertorius, A Romayne which rebelled agaynst his Countrey.

Seruius, A surname among the Romaynes.

Sesamus, A citie of Paphlagonia.

Sesostris, A king of Aegypt, which intended to make a ryuer betweene the redde sea and the ryuer of Nylus.

Sestiæ aquæ, A certaine water of the prouince of Narbon.

Sestius, The name of a man, of whome a certayne kinde of Apples, called Sestiana mala, toke their name.

Sestos, A citie in Thzace.

Sesybis, A ryuer in Spayne.

Setia, A citie in Campania.

Setinum vinum, Wyne made about the citie of Setia.

Setubia, A towne of Spayne.

Seuerus, The name of diuers men. Also an hill in Italy, after Seruius.

Sextilis, The moneth now called August.

Sextius Caballus, The name of a notable scoffer or rayler.

Sextus, A philosopher, Plutarchus nephew, and instructor of Marcus Antonius the Emperour.

Siambis, An yle in the Wzittishe occean sea, on the North part.

Sibaris, or rather Sybaris, An olde towne, twelue myles from Rome. Also a citie in Calabzia.

Sibariticus, or rather Sybariticus, a, um, The Abdetine.

Sibyllinus, a, um, Of Sibylla.

Sibylla, læ, fœm.gen. A generall name of all women which had the spirite of prophecie: of them (as Varro and Lactantius doe wzite) were tenne: the first called Persica, the seconde Libyca, the thirde Delphica, the fourth Cumæa, the fift Erythrea, the sixt Samia, the seuenth Cumana, the eight Hellespontia, the ninth Phrygia, the tenth Tyburtina: euery one of these (as Lactantius sayth) prophecied of the incarnation of Christ.

Sicambri, The people of Nassau and Hessen in Germanie.

Sicâni, People of Sicilie, which came out of Spayne.

Sicania, The yle of Cicilie.

Sicanius, and Sicânus, a, um, of Sicilie.

Sícelis, scelidis, Of Sicilie, vt

Sicelides mulæ, The Wales of Sicilie.

Sicendus, A Lake in Thessalie, where the Frogges be dumme.

Sichæus, Didos husbande.

Sicilia, A noble yle first called Trinacria, afterward Sicania, and at the last Sicilia: it is in fourme three cornerde, and therefore hath the name of Trinacria. The one corner, called Pachinus, extendeth towarde the part of Grece, which was called Peloponnêsus, now Morea: The second corner, called Pelorus, lyeth towarde Italy: The thirde called Lilybeus, it extendeth toward Affrica: of the which Pelorus, exceedeth in the temperaunce of the earth, for with no wette there may be any myze, nor by any dzyth, dust. This yle conteyneth in circute (as Solinus wziteth) three thousand furlonges, which is of Italian miles

375. as Diodozus Siculus wzyteth, 4360. But Plinius sayth, that the three corners be distaunt, from Pelorus to Pachinus, by lande. 166. myles: from thence to Lilybæum, 200. myles: from thence to Pelorus, 170. myles: and sayth also, that Agrippa affirmed it to be in circuit. 618. myles, which doe not agree wyth Solinus nor Diodozus, which may happen to be by the diuersitie of furlongs, called in Latine Stadia. The fertilitie of this yle in all grayne, beautie of Medowes, delicatenesse of waters colde and hote, mountaynes and caues miraculous, and other things there exceeding notable, many authours haue wzyten and swonded at, both Greekes and Latines.

Siciliensis, People dwelling in Sicilie, which were bozne else where.

Siciliensis, se, That is in Sicilie.

Sicilisso, aui, are, To speake the langunge of Sicilie.

Sicinius dentatus, A valiaunt warriour of Rome.

Sicoris, A ryuer in Spayne.

Siculi, Men of Sicilie.

Siculus, a, um, Of or belonging to Sicilie, or that dwelleth in Sicilie.

Siculum mare, The sea by Sicilie.

Sicynus, One of the yles called Sporades.

Sicyon, onis, or Sicyonia, fœ.gen. A citie in Achaia, not farre from Corynth, called now Clarentia, where is great abundaunce of metteall.

Sicyonis, or Sicyonia, A yle in the sea Aegeum.

Sicyonii, The inhabitaunts of Sicyon.

Sida, A towne of Pamphilia.

Sidicinum, ni, neut.gen. A towne of Italy.

Sidicinus, a, um, Of Sidicinum.

Sidon, A citie in Phœnicia, vpon the sea side, so called for the plentie of fishe there being taken: there was glasse first made.

Sidones, People of Thzace by Hebzus. Also people of Scythia.

Sidonij, People of Sidon.

Sidonis, is, fœ.g. A woman of Sidon.

Sidonius, a, um, Of the citie Sidon.

Sidrona, or Stridon, A citie of Dalmatia, where saint Hierome was bozne, called commonly Sdrigna.

Siga, A citie of Mauritania Cæsariensis.

Sigæum, A great mountayne in the sea by Troy.

Sigæus, and Sigæius, a, um, Of Sigæum.

Sigillaria, orum, plu. Certayne stréetes in Rome. Also certaine dayes added to the feast called Saturnalia, on the which men did send little Jmages for gyftes one to another.

Sigillaria opera, Wozkes, wherein were sette small Jmages.

Signia, A citie in Campania: after some an hill, at the foote whereof standeth Apamia.

Signini, People of Italy.

Signinus, a, um, The Dicetine.

Signinum vinum, Wyne made by the people Signini.

Signinum opus, A wozke made with shelles and mozter, or tyles and mozter.

Silanius, An high hill in Irelande.

Silarus, or Silaris, A Ryuer of Lucania, which tourneth boughes, twigges and leaues into stones, and yet is the water holsome to be dzunke.

Silenus, The foster father of Bacchus.

Siler, or Silerus, A ryuer in the realme of Naples: Some wzite it Silarus.

Silia, A ryuer in Asia, in the which (after some authours) nothing doth swimme, but sinke to the bottome.

Silis, A ruer by Venice.

Silla, Idem quod Silia.

Sillura, An yle in the Wzitayne sea.

Silon, An yle of Indie, where the trées neuer lose their leaues.

Silosón, The brother of Policrates the tirannc of Samos.

* Silosontis chlamis, Is spoken in a prouerbe, of him that boasteth himselfe of riche garments.

Silphij, People of Libya.

Simethis,

Siméthis,idis, A nymph,the mother of Acis.
Simethius,a,um, Of Simethis.
Simetchida, The name of a shepeherde in Theocritus.
Simmias, A philosopher of Thebes.
Simoesius, A Troian.
Simois,moëntos, A ryuer by Troy.
Simon, The name of dyuers learned men, and also of a notable heretike, surnamed Magus, who was worshipped in Rome for a God.
Simonides, A poet of Créece, borne in the Ile called Cæa, who was the first that inuented the verses called Lyrici, and was excellent in prouoking of teares, and in that kinde of writing,there was in him a wonderfull grace. It is written, that Pausanias king of the Lacedemonians, at a bankette, desired counsell of him, that hee would then speake some thing notable,and that sauoured of wisedome. Simonides thereat smyling, remember (sayde he) that thou art a man. Pausanias take that to heart,and estéemed it nothing. Afterwarde Pausanias being put in prison in Chalcidico, and there being famished ere he died, remembred the saying of Simonides: and with a lowde and lamentable voyce, said: O my friend of Ceos,thy wordes were of great importaunce, but I for inadde pride estéemed them nothing.
Sina,or Sinai, A mountayne in the desert of Arabia, called also Oreb. It is of Solinus called Casius: Justinus calleth it Syngus. On that hil God appeared to Moises, and deliuered to him the tables of the lawe: reade herein of abundantly in the olde testament. It is also a citie of Mesopotamia.
Sinada, A citie of Asia,nére to Caria.
Sinapodes, People in Affrike,which doe go as they crept.
Sinarum Regio, A countrey beyonde the equinoctiall lyne.
Sinon, A mans name in Virgill.
Sinonia, An Ile of Corsica.
Sinope,pes, A citie in the countrey of Pontus. It is also the name of an harlot of whome grewe a prouerbe, lyke Sinopissas.Sinope is also the name of a mayden,to whom nothing was so deare as virginitie.
Sinopeus, One of Sinope.
Sinuessa, A citie in Campaine.
Sinuessánus,a,um, Of Sinuessa.
Sinus magnus, A bosome or goulfe of the sea in India,called nowe Mare de Sur.
Siphnus, An yle in the sea Aegeum, wherein was founde sometyme plentie of golde and siluer.
Sipus,puntis, or Sipontum, A citie in Apulia,by the mountayne called Garganus.
Sipontinus,or Sipiuntinus,a,um, Of that citie.
Sir, A citie in Assyria or Sidonie.
Siraces, People towarde the south part of the worlde.
Sirenes, were thre daughters of Achelous and Calliope, which dwelled in an Ile betweene Italye and Sicilie, who with their sweete singing drewe such vnto them,as passed that sea,and then slue them. As it happened Ulysses to saple that way, he stopped the eares of his companie,to the intent they should not heare the singing of the Sirenes, and caused himselfe to be bounde to the maste of the shippe, and so escaped. Wherefore the Sirenes sorowed so much,that they were disappointed that they threwe themselues into the sea,whome poets feigned to be Mermaydens.
Siris, The name of the ryuer Nilus among the Aethiopians.
Sirius, A starre in the middle of the firmament, vnto the which when the sunne commeth,the feruentnes of heat is doubled,wherby the bodies of men become sicke wyth heate. This starre is also called Canicula:and the dayes wherein it appeareth, be called Caniculares, which doe begynne the seuenth day of July.
Sirmion, A citie of Pannonia inferior.
Sisamus, A citie of Paphlagonia.
Sisapo, A towne of Spayne.
Sisenna, A mans name in Horace, which was a great detracter.
Siscia, A citie of Pannonia, called nowe Lublana.

Sisygambis, Lyke Sysigambis.
Sisyphéus,a,um, Of or belonging to Sisyphus.
Sisyphus, A great theefe, which was slaine by Theseus, of whome it is feigned, that in hell he turneth a stone vp to a great hill toppe: but when it is at the toppe, it falleth downe ageyne,and renueth his labour.
Sithonis,nidis, fœm.gen. She that is of Sithonia.
Sithonia, A countrey in Macedonie, vpon the sea side.
Sithonius,a,um, Of Sithonia.

S M

Smardis, The brother of Cambyses king of Persia.
Smilax,acis, A wenche, which dying for the loue of a yong man called Crocus, was transformed into an herbe of the same name.
Smyntheus, One of the names of Apollo.
Smyrna, A citie of Ionia in the lesse Asia,which was supposed of some to be the countrey of Homer.
Smyrneus,a,um, Of Smyrna.

S O

Soana, A ryuer in the yle Tarpeyane.
Soanes, People of Asia, dwelling about the extréme part of the mountaine called Caucasus.
Socrates, An excellent philosopher, sonne of Sophroniscus the Mason,and Phenareta a midwyfe: who being first studious in naturall philosophie, finally gaue himselfe to morall philosophie, teaching openly vertue, and to diligently enstued it in his liuing,and in disputing was so sharpe and so sure against them that were called Sophistæ,that Apolle being demanded who was the wisest man liuing,answered Socrates. He was maister to Plato, Xenophon, Fenocrates,and other the greatest philosophers at that time liuing. Beesydes hys excellencie in vertue and knowledge, he was of a rare and maruelous nature. For he might sustaine colde, labour, hunger and thirst,aboue any man: that tyme, as Alcibiades declareth in Plato. He affirmed that there was alwayes with him a spirit or spirituall power called Daemonium,the which as often as he was moued to doe any thing not conuenient or necessarie, that spirite touched him,and did prohibite him to do it. Vnder sharpe and merry mantles in the fourme of argument called Inductio,he caused men to perceyue their ignorance, where before they thought themselues to be wyse. Finally being enuyed of them which did then beare chiefe rule in Athens, he was accused of Anytus, Melitus the poet, and Lycon the oratour, that he spake against their gods and corrupted their children with peruerse doctrine: but he contemning death, would suffer no man to speake for him, and so drinking poyson with a ioyous countenance, and seeing to Anytus, I hope ther god lucke,yed in continent. But some after, the people were so sorie for his death, that of his accusers, some they slue, and some they exiled,and did set vp openly the Image of Socrates made of Copper. He was before the incarnation of Christ 367. yeares.
Socraticus,a,um, That followeth the doctrine of Socrates: of or belonging to Socrates.
Socus, A Troian, the sonne of Hippasus.
Sodoma,æ,fœm.gen.and Sodomum,mi,n.gen. or Sodoma, orum, A citie in Iudea, which for sinne done against nature, was by Almightie God consumed by celestiall fire.
Sogdiana, A countrey in Asia,extending to the north part of Scithia.
Solduríj,or rather Solduríj, Were men of warre in Fraunce in the tyme of Iulius Cesar,which being once retayned wyth anye people or Capitayne, were so addicted vnto them,that in their quarrelles they would die: or if victorie inclined on the other part, they would slea themselues: they are called of the Latines Deuoti.
Solis insula, An yle in the Indian sea.
Solis ostia, Places in Indie, where Alexander was in great daunger by reason of great heate.
Solis mensa, A place in Aethiope,where the Tables be alwayes wayes full of good meate, and readye for them that will come and eate it.

Solæ, A citie of Cilicia, the people whereof be called Solenses.
Solon, A noble man of Athens, which by his mother lineally discended from Codrus the last king of Athens: he was a maist of excellent wyte, and called one of the seuen wyse men of Greece, and was in such authoritie in that citie, that he made and gaue to them lawes,which were neuer repealed: notwithstanding,when Pisistratus his kinsman weare about to chaunge the fourme of that common weale,which was popular,into a Monarchie, he wilfully went in exyle, and so died. Reade of him in Cicero. When he was twitting of his lawes, Anacharsis the philosopher sayd that Solons lawes should be like to Cobwebs, and litle flies intangled in them, but great flyes should make holes and breake through them.
Solymæ,plu. The Citie of Hierusalem: an other Citie in Cilicia.
Solymi, People by Lycia.
Sophaci, People of Affrike.
Sophenæ, People of Armenia.
Sophilus, A Thebane poet.
Sophocles, A wryter of tragedyes. Also the name of diuers other learned men.
Sophocléus,a,um, Of Sophocles.
Sophronia, A matrone of Rome,in the tyme of Decius the Emperour.
Sora, A towne of the Volscians in Campaine.
Sorani, People called also Hirpini.
Soranus, A physition of Ephesus, which liued at Alexandria.
Soracte,tis,neut.gen. Sorax,racis, and Soractes,tis,fœ.gen. A hyll.xx.myles from Rome.
Sorices, People which are deuided from India by the ryuer called Arabis.
Sosia, A mans name.
Sosij, Certayne bakesellers.
Sosipatra, A prophetesse of Libya, the wyfe of Aedesius the Sophister.
Sóstratus, A mans name, which buylded the Tower in the yle Pharos.
Sotades, The name of a lasciuious and wanton poet.
Soteriens, A poet which wrote Diocletians prayses.
Soticena, One of the names of Juno.

S P

Spaco, King Cyrus nurse, and signifieth in the tongue of Medes a bogge.
Spargapises, The sonne of Thomyris,the quéene of Massagetes.
Sparta,tæ, or Sparte,tes, The chiefe citie of Lacedemonia: It was also called Lacedæmon,and Theramne.
* Spartam nactus es, hanc orna, A prouerbe,signifying, the estate or office which thou hast,order or apply it well.
Spartacus, Was a famous swoorde player, which gathered an host of slaues, and made warre against the Romaynes,and was vanquished by Crassus.
Spartáta, æ, and Spartanus, One of Sparta.
Sparchias, adis, fœm.gen. Patronymicum femininum, Of Sperchius.
Sperchionides, Patronymicum masculinum.
Sperchius, A ryuer of Thessaly.
Sperchius, A noble philosopher cosen to Plato.
Sphinx,ges,or Sphingos,fœm.gen. A monster which had the head and hands of a maiden,the body of a dogge,winges like a byrde, nayles like a Lion, a taple like a Dragon, the shape of a man, which proposed to men subtile questions. If proposed to Oedipus this riddle: what liuing creature is that, which in the morning had foure feete, at noone two,at night three,which Oedipus in this manner dissolued,that it was man:who being a yong infant, creepeth on all foure, as it were a beast with foure feete: commyng to strength, all the middle of his age he went on two legges: and,when he was olde in his latter tyme, vsed a staffe to stay him, so that he might séme to haue three legges. Which interpretation,being accepting to the truth of his meaning, Sphinx toke so grieuously, that she slang hirselfe downe a rocke, and brake hir necke,lyke Creon.
Spica,æ, fœm.gen. A signe of starres.
Spicifera, The surname of Ceres,called Goddesse of corne.
Spintharus, A notable carpenter, which builded the temple of Delphos.
Spio,onis, A nymph the daughter of Nereus.
Spoletum, A citie in Italy.
Spolitini, People of the citie Spoletium.
Sporades, Iles in the sea called Aegium.
Spurina, A capitaine of the Parthians,which slue Crassus the Romayne.
Spurius,rij,m.g. The surname of dyuers Romaynes.

S Q

Squintij, People in Italy,called also Sabelli,and Samnites.

S T

Staphilus, He that did first mingle water with wine.
Starcharerus, A king of the Danes.
Statanus, A God,which the Paynims supposed to haue the gouernance of children.
Statilinus, was called a priuate God, which men supposed to be alway with them.
Statius, A noble poet.
Stator, A name giuen to Jupiter by Romulus,because he supposed, that he made the Romaines to stay,when they fledde,the Samnites pursuing them.
Statæ matris simulachrum, An Image set vp by the people in euery streete at Rome.
Statyelli, A people of Liguria.
Stechades, Thre litle yles by Marsiles.
Stella, The name of a poet.
Stenio, The daughter of Phoezys,and sister to Medusa.
Stenobœa, The wyfe of Prœtus king of Ephyre, who loued Bellerophon, that vanquished the monster Chimera.
Stentor,oris, A Grecke,which had a voice as lowde as fifty men.
Stercutius, The sonne of Faunus,he first founde and vsed dunging of the grounde.
Stesibrotus, The sonne of Epaminondas Duke of Thebes.
Stesichorus, A famous poet, of whome it is written,that when he was an infant in his cradel, a nightingale sete on his mouth,and did sing,signifying that he should be the sweetest poet that euer was afore hym: hée founde first singing of songes in a daunce.
Stesilæa, A woman of excellent beautie, whome Aristides and Themistocles loued.
Stesimbrotus, An Hystoriographer.
Sthenelus, The sonne of Capaneus and Euadne: Another,the sonne of Perseus.
Stheneleus,a,um, Of Sthenelus.
Sthenobœa, The wyfe of Prœtus.
Stilbo, A Philosopher, lyke Stilpo.
Stilbon,bontis, The starre of Mercurie.
Stilico, A noble man in the tyme of Honorius the Emperour.
Stilpo,ponis, A Philosopher,borne in the citie of Megara in Greece, which (his countrey being burned, and his wyfe and children lost in the fire) escaped onely, and departing alone, the king Demetrius asked of him, if he had lost any thing. he answered: I haue lost nothing for all that is mine I carie with me: meaning thereby, that vertue(which) is onely the proper goodes of a wise man,and cannot be taken from him,he take away with him.
Stimicon, A Thebepeherdes name in Virgill.
Stiphelus, One of the Lapithes.
Stiria, A countrey ioyning to Austria,and Carinthya in the east part of Germanie, full of mountaines, hauing a little part bordering on Hungarie: the people be rude, and the women haue ſo great thootes by the corruption of the water and ayre, that not onely their ſpeache is lette thereby, but (as ſome doe write) when they giue ſucke to their children, ſome be faine to caſt the bagges, which doe hang vnder their chynne, ouer their ſhoulders. In that countrey is plentie of yron and ſiluer, if the negligence of people did not let the finding thereof.

Stœchades, Three yles in the French ſea againſt Langnedoche.

Stoici, A ſect of Philoſophers, which affirmed that no griefe myght happen to a wyſe man, and that felicitie was onely in vertue.

Stoicus, ca, cum, Of the Stoikes.

Stoicè, Like a Stoike.

Stolo, A citizen of Rome.

Stomaca, cæ, fœm.gen. A well in Germanie, the drinking of the water whereof, hyndreth a certaine diſeaſe.

Strabo, A learned man, which wrote of Geographie.

Stragona, A citie of Germanie.

Stratius, The name of one of Hectors ſonnes.

Stratiphocles, The name of a man.

Strato, A king of Sidon, who being ouercome of the Perſians, tooke his ſworde in his hand, minding to kill himſelfe, rather then to come into their handes. But while he houered timerouſly looking vpon his ſworde, his wife perceyuing the enimies to be at hande to take him, wreſted it out of his hande, and quickly thruſt him through. And after ſhe had ſtretched out his bodye, and layde it comely to be buryed, with the ſame weapon ſhe ſlew hirſelfe alſo, that ſhe might not abide the villany of hir barbarous enimies.

Stridon, A towne in Dalmatia, where ſaint Hierome was borne.

Strimon, onis, vide Strymon.

Strongyle, les, and Strongylos, An yle in the ſea Aegeum, now called Axos: ſometyme it was called Dia.

Strophades, Two yles in the Greeke ſea.

Strophius, A king of Phocis, father to Pylades.

Struma, A mans name in Catullus.

Strupearia, Holy dates among the people called Phalíci, on the which the people did go with garlandes on theyr heades.

Struppum, Is a lyke holiday among the people called Tuſculani.

Strymon, onis, A ryuer of Thrace.

Strymónius, a, um, Of that ryuer.

Stultorum feriæ, Was a tyme in the moneth of Februarie, that fooles kept holy: fooles holy day.

Stura, An yle againſt the mouth of Tyber.

Styga, A fen in Aegipt, not farre from the citie of Memphis.

Stygius, a, um, Pertayning to Styx, the great fenne.

Stymphálides, aues, Byrdes ſuppoſed to be ſo bygge, that they ſhadowed all the ſunne beames, and walled the countrey of Arcadie.

Stymphalius, a, um, Of Stymphalus.

Stymphálus, A ryuer or poole of Arcadie.

Stymphálum, A towne by the ſayde poole of Arcadie.

Styx, Poetes doe feigne, that it is a fenne or ryuer in hell, by the which the Gods vſed to ſweare: in deede it is a well of Arcadie, the water whereof is a verye ſtrong poyſon, ſo extreeme colde, that nothing can conteyne it, but the houfe of a Mule.

Suada, dæ, fœm.gen. Called in Greeke Pitho, was called the goddeſſe of eloquence or perſuaſible ſpeache.

Subalpini, People vnder the mountaines Alpes, called Præmountapnes.

Sublícius pons, A bridge at Rome, made on Pyles.

Subur, A towne in Spayne, called commonly Cubelles.

Suburra, ræ, fœm.gen. A ſtreete in Rome.

Suburrana regio, The ſtreete in Rome, where the bzothell houſes were.

Sueſſa, A towne of Campaine.

Sueſſiones, People of Fraunce.

Sueui, People in high Germanie.

Sueuia, The cheefe countrey of Germanie in fertilitie, holſomneſſe, and beautifull perſonages. It hath on the eaſt, Bauiere: on the weſt, Haiſtat, and the ryuer of Rhene: on the ſouth, the mountaynes Alpes: on the north Frankeland. It was ſometime called Alemania, wherefore all Germanie was called Almayne. In dutch it is now called Swaue.

Suffenus, A Poets name in Catullus, of all other moſt fooliſhe.

Sullanus, a, um, For Syllanus.

Sullaturire, For Syllaturire.

Sulmo, monis, A towne in the countrey of Peligna, where Ouid the Poet was borne.

Sulmonenſis, One of the citie of Sulmo.

Sulpitius Galba, The name of a Romayne.

Sultanus, A Soudan, which was the name of dignitie of the king of Aegypt and Syria.

Summanus, A God, whome the Paynims thought to haue preheminence in the night, ſome take it for Pluto.

Sunium, A promontorie or elbowe of the countrey of Attica: alſo a village there.

Superum mare, The ſea, which is called Adriaticum, wherin ſtandeth the citie of Venice.

Surrentum, A towne in Campaine.

Surrentinus, a, um, Of that towne.

Suſa, æ, and Suſa, órum, The chiefe citie of Perſis, Suſiana, ne, or Suſiane, nes, A prouince of Aſia.

Surium, A verye auncient towne of Hetruria, xxiij. myles from Rome.

Syades, Starres called alſo Hyades, ſeuen in number.

Sybaris, A towne, xij. myles from Rome: an other in Greece Alſo a ryuer in Calaber.

Sybarita, æ, A man of Sybaris.

Sybaritæ, The people of the Citie Sybaris, in all kynde of ſenſuall deliciouſneſſe, farre paſſing all other. They vſed commonly to byd their gueſſe an whole yeare before: that neyther the bidder might lacke tyme to prepare all manor of delicious fare and coſtly furniture, nor yet the gueſſe ſumptuouſly to abourne, and trimme vp themſelues in golde and precious ſtones. At the laſt they making warre againſt the citie of Croton, although they were in fielde with 300000. men, yet were they with great ſhame diſcomfited, and put to flight to their bitter confuſion, as men more trained in delicious fare and daliaunce, that in handling armor, and abyding the ſtrokes of baliaunt enimies.

Sybaritanus, a, um, Of Sybaris.

Sybariticus, a, um, Idem.

* Sybaritica menſa, A prouerbe applyed to feaſtes and banketes, which doe exceede in delicatneſſe.

Syboti, People in the north part of the worlde.

Sycheus, Didoes huſbande.

Sycion, He that firſt founde garlandes.

Syderis, A Ryuer, where the ſea Hircanum, taketh hys name firſt.

Syene, A citie in the confines of Aegypt and Eethiope.

Sygeum, A promontopie of Troy.

Syla, A mountayne in Lucania, and a wood in it.

Sylla, A Romayne, of the noble houſe and familye of the Scipions, in Greeke and Latine well learned, eloquent, quicke witted, craftie, and ſubtile, deſirous of glory, of haught courage, and of great ſucceſſe in all his bowings: ſo that Salluſt writeth, it was to be doubted, whether valiantcie in him were greater, or elſe felicitie. Of hys behautour Plutarke writeth, that it was ſo repugnant, as he might ſeeme in conditions to be contrarie to himſelfe. From many he pulled their godes by extortion and violence: to other he gaue liberally and bountifully. Diuers vnworthie perſons he greatly aduaunced: towarde manye other hee ſhewed much reproche. Thoſe whoſe helpe he woulde vſe, he marueplouſly reuerenced: ſuch as were ſuters to him, he exceedingly diſdeyned. Some for light and trifling cauſes he put to moſt grieuous uous torment: the great iniuryes and reproches of ſome other, hee toke very pacientlye. In heynous and grieuous offences verye eaſie to be pacified: in ſmall matters of no importance, exceeding harde to be intreated. Notwithſtanding, he did dyuers things in the commō wele valiantly. Being ſent into Affrike, he brought Jugurth captiue. In Aſia, he quayled the rage and furie of Mithridates. In Italy, he allayed the bluſtering trouble of the ſocial warre. He repreſſed the cruell dommunion of Cinna, and forced Marius for his ſafegarde to flee into that prouince, in the which before tyme hee diſdeyned to haue Sylla to hys vnder officer. Being Dictatour, he ſo oppreſſed the common weale, that no man but by his fauour, could enioy goodes, lyfe or countrey. At the laſt he gaue ouer his office, and went as a priuate perſon to Putcole, where he dyed of the lowſie ſickeneſſe.

Syllanion, A famous maker of Images, which was neuer taught.

Syllanus, a, um, Of Sylla.

Syllatúrio, ſyllatúris, rire, To haue an appetite or deſire to follow Sylla, that is, to haue a deſire to proſcript, baniſhe, and murder men.

Syloſon, Luke Siloſon.

Syluanus, ni, m.g. The God of woodes.

Sylua, The name of Ilia, Romulus mother.

Syluius, The name of Eneas ſonne, of whom all the kinges of Alba longa were called Syluij.

Syma, A citie in Aſia.

Syme, An yle betweene Rhodes and Cnidus.

Symethus, A ryuer of Sicile, not farre from Aetna.

Symmachus, A mans name.

Symplegades, Two yles in the Greeke ſea, called alſo Cyneæ.

Synada, A citie in Aſia.

Synesius, A Chriſtian philoſopher of the citie Pentapolis, in Affrike.

Syphax, acis, A king of Numidia.

Syracuſæ, arum, A citie in Sicile, nowe called Sarrogoſa, in the olde tyme of a maruelious renowme in ſtrength and riches. Moreouer it is ſituate, that all the daye long the ſunne is neuer out of ſight by no cloude that couereth it.

Syracuſius, Syracuſánus, or Syracoſius, a, um, Of that citie.

Syria, A great realme in Aſia, which hath on the eaſt, the ryuer of Euphrates: on the weſt, the middle ſea, and the realme of Aegypt: on the north, Cilicia and Cappadocia: on the ſouth, Arabia.

Syria, Called alſo Aſſyria, A great countrey in the eaſt, hauing on the north part, Armenia: on the weſt, Meſopotamia: on the ſouth, Suſiana: on the eaſt, Media. It alſo conteyneth Phœnicia, Paleſtina, and Babilonia.

Syriacus, a, um, Of Syria.

Syrianus, A phyloſopher of Platoes ſect.

Syriétæ, People, which receiue their meat in oaten reedes.

Syricus, Syrus, and Syrius, a, um, of Syria.

Syrica mala, Certaine apples, which at the firſt came out of Syria.

Syrinx, A nymphe of Arcadie, which was turned into a reede or cane.

Syriſius, a, um, Of Syria.

Syritha, The daughter of Sylualdus king of Danes.

Syrius, a, um, Of Syria: as, Syria pyra, peares of Syria.

Syrius, A ſtar in the mouth of the ſigne Canis, which when he ryſeth, cauſeth moſt commonly peſtilence.

Syrophœnix, One that dwelleth on the ſea coaſt of Syria.

Syrtes, Quycke ſandes or ſhelfes in the water, made by the drift of ſande or gravell: they be properly places in the bozders of Affrike towarde Aegypt.

Syrticus, a, um, Of the places called Syrtes.

Syrus, a, um, Of Syria.

Syrus, An yſlande belonging to Greece.

Syſigambis, King Darius mother.

TAbæ, arum, A citie of Caria.

Taberni, People by Chalybes.

Tabor, A mountayne in the countreye of Galilie, where Chriſt was tranſfigurated.

Tabraca, A towne of the lyke Affrike,

Taburnus, An hyll in Campania, wherein doe grow many olyues trees.

Tacapa, A citie in Affrike called commonly Capſe.

Tachonio, An plante in the ryuer Nilus.

Tacitus Cornelius, A notable hiſtoriographer.

Tacola, A marte towne in Indie.

Tælemeneus, One that came to ayde the Troyanes.

Tænarus, A darke place at the fote of the hill called Malea, by the citie of Sparta, which was ſuppoſed to be an entrie into hell.

Tenarius, a, um, Of that place.

Tænaris, ris, fœ.g. Of Tænarus.

Tænia, æ, ſ.g. Luke Tenea.

Tænon, A citie in Leconia, an other in Achaia.

Tagaſta, A citie in Affrike.

Tages, He that taught firſt the Tuſcans the craft of diuination, called Aruſpicium.

Tagus, An hill in Poztugall, where mares doe conceyue of the winde.

Tagus, A ryuer in Spayne, which deuideth Caſtile from Poztugall wherein hath beene founde grauell of golde.

Taigete, One of the ſeuen ſtarres, which ſo appeareth, as it may ſtantly be perceyued. It is alſo called Maia, and Electra.

Talaon, The ſonne of Jaſius, king of Argos.

Tallus, was vſed of the Sabines for a ſurname.

Talthybius, Agamemnons eyer or publiſher of thinges in the Greeke armye at Troy.

Tamaris, A ryuer of Spayne, of which the people there be called Tamarici.

Tamaritæ, People in Aſia, not farre from the ſea called Caſpium.

Tameſis, The noble riuer of Tamiſe in Englande.

Tanager, A ryuer in Lucania, betweene Campania & Calabria.

Tanagra, A towne in Beeotia.

Tanagreus, a, um, Of Tanager.

Tanais, A great ryuer in the north part of the world which diuideth Europe from Aſia.

Tanis, A towne not farre from Tana, vnder the Cleretuers dominion.

Tanaquil, The wife of Tarquinius Priſcus the king of Romayners.

Tanaus, A king of Syria.

Tanes, A Perſian, or of kyng Darius capitaines.

Tanis, The principall citie of Aegypt, where Moyſes did ſhew miracles.

Tantaleus, and Tantalius, a, um, Of Tantalus.

Tantalides, The progenie of Tantalus.

Tantalis, idis, The daughter or neece of Tantalus.

Tantalus, The ſonne of Jupiter and Plota, king of Phrygia, of whome the Poets doe wryte, that becauſe he diſcloſed the counſayle of the gods, he is in hell tormented in this wiſe: He ſtandeth vp a depe ryuer, hauing before him a tree laden with pleaſaunt apples, and yet he is alwayes thirſty and hungry: for as often as he ſtoupeth to drinke, or holdeth vp his handes to gather the apples, both the water and the tree doe withdraw them ſo from him, that he cannot touch them.

* Tantali horti, A prouerbe, ſignifying good thinges to be at hande, which notwithſtanding a man may not vſe.

Taphiæ, Certayne yles by Greece.

Taphius, A place by Leucas.

Taphnis, A citie in Aegipt, the people whereof were called Taphnei.

Tapoſiris, A citie in Aegipt.

Taprobane, An yle in the Indian ſea, and was of ſome olde writers ſuppoſed to be in the contrary part of the world againſt vs, & therefore they called it an other world. It lyeth in the point betweene eaſt and weſt, the quantitye thereof is diuerſly deſcribed by ſundry authours. For Strabo writeth, that it is in length vnto, thouſand furlonges, which is a thouſande miles. Plinius Hartiamus and Solinus, do affirme it to be in length vij. thousande furlonges, which is vij. C. lxxv. myles, in bredth 5000. furlonges, which is 625. myles: part of it extendeth beyonde the equinoctiall lyne moze South, and hath on the northeast, the lesse Indie. It is nowe called Samotra, and is vnder the dominion of the great Cam, and is gouerned by 4. kinges in an exquisite fourme of iustice, notwithstanding that the people be pyolatours. They hunt Tigers, Oliphantes, and Panthers, of the which there is great plentie. Also, there be founde Carbuncles, Saphyres, Jacinctes, Topaces, Rubies, and Granates, in great numbers. There groweth Cinamome, Cancll, Benioime & other swete trees in great aburdaunce, and they haue money of golde, siluer, and blasse, of the same weight and value, that the auncient copne of the Romayns was. There is also found great plenty of orient pearles.

Tapsigum, A towne in the countrey Cyrenaica.

Tapsus, An yle by Sicilie, not farre from Syracuse.

Tapyri, People in Parthia, wh ch vse to giue their wiues in mariage to other men, after that they haue had foure oz fiue children by them.

Taraconia, The thirde part of Spayne. On the north, it hath the sea called Cantabricum: on the west, Portugall and Granate: on the south, the sea Ibericum: on the east the mountaynes Pyrenæi. It doth nowe conteyne these kingdomes, Castile, Gallecia, Nauarre, Arragon.

Taracon, The chiefe citie thereof.

Taras, The sonne of Neptunus, who builded Tarentum.

Tarbeli, The citie of Tarbes in Gascoyne.

Tarchesius, A mischeuous king of the people called Albanicns.

Tarchon, A duke in Hetruria, which was also a great diuiner oz southsayer.

Taracina, A towne in Campania, called also Anxur.

Tarentinus, a, um, Of the citie Tarentum in Calabria.

Tarentum, and Tarentus, A noble citie in Calabria, and Tarento.

Tarna, The citie of Sardis.

Tarpeia, The daughter of Tarpeius, which betrayed the Capitoll to the Sabines.

Tarpeius, An hill at Rome.

Tarquinij, orum, An olde towne of Campayne.

Tarquinienſe, The lande of Tarquines.

Tarquinius priſcus, A Tuſcane bozne. He perceyuing that he was not esteemed in his countrey bycause his father was a straunger, by the counsaile of his wife Tanaquil came to Rome. where by his great riches and dexteritie of witte, getting into the fauour of king Ancus, at his death, he was made ouerseer of his children. But he esteming moze his owne commoditie then theirs, whose gouernement he had, in shozte space he brought to passe that the Romaines made him their king. Wherefoze to make sure vnto him that kyngdome which vniustly he had gotten, he increased the number of Senatours, and added an hundred which were called Patres minorum gentium, thinking they should take part with him, which had the beginning of their honour by him. When he had reigned xxxviij. yeres, he was murdered in the Senate by the meanes of Ancus his children which vniustly he had put beside the kingdome.

Tarquinius, Foz his proud and sterne behauiour surnamed Superbus, was the seuenth and last king of Rome. He maried Tulia the daughter of Seruius Tullius, a woman of a naughty and cruell nature: by whose meanes he killed hir owne father, and by that horrible murder wickedly attayned that kingdom, which after cruelly he gouerned. Yet was he valiaunt in warre, and stoutely repelled his enymies. When hys sonne crafetyne had gotten into the citie of the Gabiens, and sent a messenger to him to knowe his minde what he shoulde further do, he walked by and down his garden (where the matter was declared to him) and gaue the messenger no answere at all, but onely wyth a wande that he had in his hande, did strike of the toppes of the highest poppies that grew by the alley: and so without any word spoken caused the messenger to be dimissed. The partie marueyling therat, returned to his sonne, and declared how his father had vsed him. But he, by his fathers gesture vnderstanding his meaning, did beheade and put to death the chiefe and highest of the citie. This king was afterwarde expelled out of Rome with all that were of hys stocke oz line, bycause his sonne Sextus had wyckedly rauished the noble and chaste matrone Lucrece. Vide Lucretia.

Tarraco, A citie of Spaine, of the which that part is called Tarraconia.

Tarſenſis, ſe, Of Tarsus.

Tarſis, A region in Judæa, to the which Jonas sayde hee woulde go.

Tarſus, The chiefe citie in Cilicia, where saint Paule was bozne.

Tartareus, a, um, Of Tartarus, oz Hell

Tartaria, Is a countrey of incomparable greatnesse. It boundeth on the west vpon Russia, and extendeth into the east (after the discription of the last charr) aboue 1600. dutch myles: which is of Italian myles. 6400. and moze: the bzedth from the south into the noyth, is moze vncertaine: it marcheth on the south vpon Persia, and India. The noyth is much part desert, foz the coldnesse and barrennesse thereof. The people haue no cities oz townes, oz else very fewe, but they lye in pauilions, and vnder their cartes, which they do remoue into sundzie partes, as the time of the yere doth require, hauing their cattell with them, of whome they doe eate the flesh much part rawe, and doe drinke the mylke and bloude of them. The people be fierce and cruell, and therewith vile and beastly in their lyuing. They be all vnder the dominion of the great Cane, yet haue they many puysaunt princes, which doe vse a wonderfull obedience towarde their Emperour. They beleeue in one God, creator of all things, but they be not christened. They are so populous, hardie and fierce, that the great kinges which doe march vpon them, haue much to doe to resist them, as the great king of Russie, and the Sophie of Persia. Also one of their Princes toke in plaine battail Bazagetes the great Turke, whome being bounden with Chaynes and Gyues of golde, and enclosed in a Cage of yron, he carped about with him till he dyed: and there were slaine in that battaile, 200000. Turkes, the Capitaine of the Tartarians was named Tamberlanc. Their Emperour Chaam, besides Tartaria hath also subiect vnto him the lesse Jndi, and all the realmes and Iles in the east, and southeast part of the worlde: and he namerly himselfe in his stile, the sonne of God: Reade moze in Chaam. Much of Tartaria was that countrey which was sometyme called Scythia.

Tartari, People of Tartaria.

Tartarus, & plu. Tartara, ôrum, A darke place in hell.

Tarteſſij, People in Iberia, among whome be cartes of exceeding greatnesse.

Tarteſſiacus, & Tarteſſius, a, um, Of Tarteſſus.

Tarteſſus, A citie in the vttermost part of Spayne, on the sea side by Gades, nowe called Cales, where Columella the most eloquent and perfite husbandeman was bozne: it was called Gadir, and Carteia.

Taruanna, Terouenne in Fraunce.

Taruedum, A promontozie in Scotlande.

Taruntius, The name of an excellent philosopher and Astronomer.

Taruſcum, A towne in Fraunce, called Taraſcon.

Taſimenes ſeu Taſimenes, One of the sonnes of Duke Nelleo.

Tatius, A Duke of the Sabines.

Tatianus, A mans name.

Tatta, A water of naturall salt in Cappadocia.

Taua, Tynmouth in Englande.

Tauchira, A citie of the Barceans.

Taulantij, People of Illyria.

Tauranij, People of Scythia.

Taurea, A man of notable strength, in ye armie of Annibal.

Taureus, One of the names of Neptune.

Taurica

Taurica Cherſoneſus, A countrey in the noyth part of Europa, which is almost compassed with the mores of Maotis Cimmerius Bolphorus, and the sea Euxinum: it is nowe called of some the lesse Tartaria.

Tauri, People of cruell maners, in the noyth part of Europe, that offered straungers in sacrifice to Diana.

Tauri, and Taurilia, Playes made in the honour of infernall Gods.

Tauricus, a, um, Of the people Tauri.

Taurianum, A towne in Italie.

Taurini, People at the foote of the Alpes toward Italy.

Taurinus, a, um, Of the people Taurini.

Taurominium, nij, n.g. A towne in Sicilie, so called foz the plentie of neate, which fedde therabout. Also there was by it a citie of the same name.

Tauromenitanus, a, um, Of the citie Tauromenium.

Tauroſcythæ, People of Scythia, dwelling by the mountaine Taurus.

Taurubulæ, An ple by Naples.

Taurunum, oz Taurunum, A citie of Hungarie called Alba Græca.

Taurus, ri, maſ. gen. One of the xij. celestiall signes.

Taurus Berytius, A philosophers name.

Taurus, A great and famous mountayne, which beginneth at the Jndian sea, and ryling into the noyth, passeth by Asia, vnto the fenne oz mere called Maotis, and bozdereth vpon a great number of Realmes. Also the hill called Caucalus, is part thereof.

Taxilla, A great towne in Jndia.

Taygeta, oz Taygetus, An hyll, vnder which be set the cities Sparta, and Amycle.

Taygete, One of the sisters called Pleiades.

T E

Teanum, The name of two cities in Italy.

Tearco, A famous king of Aethiope.

Tearus, A ryuer of Thracia, at the heade whereof Darius king of Persia, when he went into Scythia, pyght his pauilions, and there abode three dayes. And deipting in the most pleasaunt water of that ryuer, he set in the same place a pyllour grauen with letters of Greeke, declaring his being there, wyth commendation of the water.

Teatea, A citie in Italy, called commonly Tieti.

Techynes, were they, which also were called Corybantes, and were feigned to be the sonnes of Minerua and Sol.

Tectoſage, Tolouse in Fraunce.

Tectoſagi, People of Tolouse.

Tectoſages, Languedocke in Fraunce.

Tediſera dea, Ceres, whose sacrifices were done in ye night by torche lyght.

Tegea, A citie in Arcadie.

Tegeæus, & Tegeaticus, a, um, Of Tegea.

Tegeaticus deus, Pan.

Tegeæus, & Tegeaticus volucer, Mercurie.

Tegeates, Men of Tegea.

Teium, A citie in Paphlagonia, where Anacreon the Poet was bozne.

Teij, The people of Teium.

Teius, a, um, Of Teium.

Telamon, The sonne of Aeacus, the father of Aiax.

Telamonides, The sonne oz nephew of Telamon.

Telchius, and Amphius, The charioteemen of Castoz and Pollux.

Teleboæ, People of Greece.

Teleboas, One of the Centaures.

Telegonus, The sonne of Ulysses by Circe the witch, who following his father into Ithaca, slue him vnwitting.

Telemachus, The sonne of Ulysses and Penelope.

Telemus, The sonne of Eurymus, a southsayer among the Cyclopes.

Telephus, A king of Mysia. Hercules sonne by Auge. He indeuouring to stay the Grecians goyng to Troy, that they might not passe thzow his countrey, was wounded of Achilles. Which wounde, when by no meanes he could get cured, he learned by Oracle that he must haue remedye by the same speare wherewyth he was hurte, wherefoze, he being reconciled to Achilles, obtayned to haue a plaister made of the rust of his speare, wherwith thozity after he was healed.

Telelco, A nymph, the daughter of Oceanus and Tethys.

Teleſilla, A woman excellent in Poetrie.

Telethuſa, The wyfe of Lucus, mother of Iphis.

Tellen, tellinis, A lustihe poet and minstreil.

Tellias, A southsayer among the people called Phocenses.

Tellus, li, A mans name, whome the wise Solon iudged to be moze foztunate then the rich king Croesus.

Tellus, luris, f.g. A goddesse called also Cibele.

Telos, The name of an yle, where the opyntment called Telinum is made.

Telphuſſa, A citie in Beotie.

Telphuſſium A towne in Beotie.

Tembrius, A ryuer by Pontus.

Temeſa, A towne of the Bzutians, some write it Temeſſa.

Temeſeus, a, um, Of Temesa.

Tempe, A place in Theſſalia wonderfull pleasant, hauing trees and medowes marueylous delectable, wherein birdes of dyuers kyndes doe sing continually with excellent melodie: there of all pleasaunt wodes haue the name of Tempe.

Tempſa, A citie of the Bzutians.

Tenea, A certaine village neere to Corinthe, full of wodde, and delectable.

Tenedius, A certayne king, who made a lawe that the man and woman, taken in adnourtie should be cut asunder with an axe: which law he executed on his owne sonne.

Tenedus, a, um, Of Tenedos.

¶ Tenedia bipennis, aut ſecuris, A quicke oz sharpe axe: A prouerbe applyed to iudges, which be hasty and cruell in their sentences.

Tenedos, An yle in the sea Aegeum, between Mytilene and Hellespont, not farre from Troy.

Tenia, A village betweene Mycene and Corinthus.

Tenitæ, were called goddesses of lottes.

Tennis, vel Tennum, A citie in Troia.

Tennites, oz Temnites, One of Tennis.

Tenos, An yle in the Greeke sea, one of them which are called Cyclades.

Tentyra, orum, A citie in Aegipt

Tentyrite, A people dwelling in an yland within the riuer of Nilus, whome the Crocodill so much feareth, that he cannot abyde their voyce.

Teos, A citie of Jonia: an other of Scythia, by the which is a ponde of fishe, which in faire weather make so much oyle, that it may be skimmed of the water.

Terapne, nes, oz Terápne, arum. plu. A countrey in Lacedemonia, where the fayre Helen was bozne. Also an yland now called Corsica.

Terapnéus, a, um, Of Terapne.

Terebris, A ryuer of Spayne.

Terentia, Ciceros wyfe.

Terentianus, a, um, Of Terence.

Terentinus, a, um, Of Terentus.

Terentini ludi, Playes kepte euery hundzeth yeare, three dayes and three nightes continually togyther.

Terentius, The most eloquent writer of comedies.

Terentum, A place in the fielde by Rome called Campus Martius, wherein was an auiter of Pluto and Proserpina.

Tereus, A king of Thrace, the husbande of Progne, Vide Progne.

Tergeſte, A citie in Italy.

Tergeſtum, A towne in Slauony, now called Trieste.

Termera, A citie in Lycia, so called of Termero.

Termerium, A place in Caria, betweene Melus, and Halicarnassus, which tyrannes vsed foz a pylon.

* Termeria mala, Extreme euils. vide Adag. Eraſ.

Termes, A mountayne in Asia. It is also a Towne in Spayne.

Termilæ, A people in Lycia.

Terminus deus, An ydole, which was supposed to haue the preeminence ouer bounds of lande: whose temple had deeuer an hole in the rouke, forasmuch as they thought it vnlawfull, that bounders of landes shoulde be couered or hidde.

Terpandrus,dri, An olde musician, who added.vij. strings to the harpe.

Terpnus, An harper in the tyme of Nero.

Terpsichore, One of the nine Muses.

Terra,æ,g. Lowe Cibele.

Tertullianus, A great learned man of Carthage, the sonne of a capitayne of the Romayne. He was in his tyme a very excellent man in witte and learning, and wrate many fayre workes in defence of Christendome. But being in his middle age made a Preiste, vexed with sundrye wrongees and displeasures, by the enuy of the clergy of Rome, he (as it were enforced) at the last fell into the hereſie of Montanus: which hereſie hee dyd enterlace with his bookes that he wrate, and lyued till he came to extreme age. He flourished about the yeare of our Lord 210. Saint Ciprian, when he lusted to reade Tertullianus workes, would bid his seruaunte bring him his maister.

Tetartemorion, rij, n.g. The fourth parte of the Zodiake circle, wherein are the.xij. signes. It is also that, which Astronomers call the quadrate aspect of the planets.

Tethys,thys, vel thyos, The wyfe of Neptune called Goddesse of the sea.

Tetragrammaton, The name of God, which the Iewes do call Inesſabile, that is to say, vnspeakeable, and is Iehoua.

Tetrápolis, The countrey of Antioch, wherin be foure notable cities.

Tétricus,or Tétrica, A rough hill in Italy, full of rockes, and harde to go vpon.

Tettius Caballus, A scoffer in the tyme of Vespasian.

Teuca, A Queene of Illyria which lyued euer chaste, and vanquished many noble Capitaynes, and diuers hostes of the Romaynes.

Teucer, or Teucrus, cri, The name of a king of Troyanes. Also of the sonne of Telamon the valiaunt Grecke.

Teucer,cra,crum, Idem quod Troianus, Of Troy.

Teúdamedus, The father of Pelasgus.

Teuderium, A citie of Germanie, called commonly Badborne.

Teumesſus, A little hill in Boeotia.

Teumesſus leo, A Lyon, which Hercules did slea, when he was a childe, and of his skinne made him a cote.

Teutates, Was in olde tyme among the French men taken for Mercurius.

Teutha, Idem quod Teuca.

Teuthania, A prece of the countrey of Troy.

Teuthis, A noble man, which went with the Grekes towarde Troy.

Teuthrania, The farthest part of Mysia.

Teuthras, thrantis, A king of Mysia, the sonne of Pandion.

Teuthrantius,a,um, Of Teuthras.

Teutonicus,a,um, Of the Almaynes.

Teutones,Teutoni,or Teutonici, People called Almaines.

Thabis, A mountayne in Scythia.

Thais, The name of an harlotte.

Thales, A philosopher, one of the.vij. wyse men of Greece. Also a Poet of Candy.

Thalestris, A queene of Amasons, the which came to king Alexander with 300. women with hir, to the intent to haue issue by him and his men: and when she perceiued, that she and hir Ladies were sped, they departed home againe.

Thalia, One of the graces which the auncient Poets dyd suppose to be one of the daughters of Iupiter, and gyuers of delectable speach and pleasaunt pronunciation.

Thalus, A man of exceding swiftnesſe, whom poets feigne that Iupiter made with brasen feete.

Thamyras, was he, which firſt played on a harpe, wythout singing thereto.

Tharsus, A citie in Cilicia.

Thasij, People dwelling in the yle Thasus.

Thasus, A towne. Also an yle in the sea Aegeum.

Thassus, sapth Cral. Is an yle next to Thrace, noble and fertile.

* Thassus bonorum, A prouerbe applyed to them that promise great thinges, as a man would say, a wesbie, a countrey of wealth. In Canbridgeshire the buigare worde is, a mine of golde.

Thaumantias Iris, The daughter of Thaumas & Electra.

Thaumantis,idis, Idem.

Thea, A nymphe, the daughter of Oceanus and Tethys.

Theagenes, The name of three diuers men of Athens.

Theano, A woman of the sect of Pythagoras, excellently learned in philosophye and Poetrie.

Theanum, A towne in Apulia.

Thebæi, People of the citie of Thebes in Aegypt.

Thebæ, arum, Theba, bæ, or Thebe, bes, The name of diuers cities, whereof one was in Aegypt, builded by Busiris: an other in Boeotia, builded by Cadmus: an other in Cilicia, where Andromache the wyfe of Hector was borne.

Thebe, A maydens name, out of whose bosome sine two riuers: one to the fountayne of Hammon, the other to the towne Dodonza, where they gaue answeres.

Thebais,idis,& idos, A countrey in Aegypt. It is also the name of a booke made by Statius the Poet.

Thebánus,a,um, Of Thebes.

Thelbencane, A citie in the country of Babilon, called now Maraga.

Theleboæ, People of an yle called Capreæ, which lyeth against Naples.

Theleboij, Idem.

Thelephus, A king that came in the aide of the Troyanes, and was slayne by Achilles.

Thelphusia, A citie in Arcadie.

Thelphusium, or Thelphosion, A citie in Boeotia, where Pyndarus prayed Bacchus.

Thembinachia, A countrey called also Nemea.

Themes, An olde towne in the yle of Cyprus, where Iuuenall was firſt founde.

Themillas,læ, A mans name in Virgil.

Themis,mis, midis, or nidis, A goddesse, one of the sisters of Iupiter, on whome he begate Veritas, the which commaunded men to aske that which was iuſt: some take hir for Iuſtice. There was an other woman called Themis, named also Carmentis.

Themiscyra, A citie in Cappadocia, called afterwarde Cæsarea.

Themisones, People of Lycia.

Themista, Idem quod Themis.

Themistius, A philosopher which wrate commentaries on Aristotles workes.

Themistocles, A famous capitain of Athens: In his youth giuen to riote, sensualitie, and wantonneſſe, delyghting neyther in learning, nor other commendable exercyce. But afterwarde he was so incensed wyth the desire of fame and glory, by the example of Miltiades, which ouercame Darius in the fieldes of Marathon, that in the night he could not rest in his bedde, but wouide ryse and say, that the triumph and victorie of Miltiades wouldo not suffer him to sleepe. Whereupon he gaue himſelfe to martiall prowesſe, and affayres of hys countreye, and therin behaued himſelfe so nobly, and became so wiſe and politike, as within fewe yeares he did not onely match, but farre surmount that man, whose example firſt excited him to noble doyng. For by his manhode and politie, he deliuered not onely his owne citie, but all Greece, from the great power and innumerable army of Xerxes, wherwith he ouerflowed that countrey: and caused that Prince wyth one small veſſell dishonorably to flie for sauegarde of his lyfe, whose huge multitude of shippes, not long before seemed to ouerlode the seas. Neuerthelesſe he was after by his vnkinde citizens expelled hys countrey, and fled to king Xerxes his enimie: who seeing him, and vnderstanding his case, tid both very honourably nourably interteyne him, and desired God euer to keepe his enimies in that mynde, to sende from them such men as he was. Xerxes, hauing him in great trust and credite, sent him with a mighty armie against the Athemiens: but when he perceiued his countrey in perill to be destroyed, he poysoned himſelfe by drinking of bulles blood, and chose rather so to dye, then eyther vnfaithfully to betray that prince that trusted him, or vnnaturally to destroy that countrey that bredde him.

Themistogenes, An historiographer of Syracuse.

Theoclymenus, A soothsayer, which tolde Penelope of hir husbande Vlysses returne.

Theocritus, A poet of Syracuse, which wrate Bucolica, or the contention of the herd men.

Theodomas, The father of Hyla.

Theodomantéus,a,um, Of Theodomas.

Theodectes, An orator of Cilicia, scholer to Plato.

Theodorus, A famous philosopher. Also a notable caruer.

Theodosia, A citie in Chersonesus, called now Capha.

Theodosius, A worthy emperour of Rome, who much fauored and furthered Christian religion, and was beside indued with many excellent vertues. In fauour of body comely, of mynde gentle, mylde, and merciſull: so humble and courteyse of behauiour, as he might some only in princely apparayle to dyffer from other: honourably bountifull to all, but exceedingly liberall to good men. Simple natures he loued well: learned & honeſt witters he had in passing great admiration. His olde frendes, at whose handes he had found pleasure, he rewarded exceedingly wyth honorable promotions, money, & other benefites. By expreſſe law he decreed that dauncing & wanton dalliaunce should not be vſed in banketres. In learning (if we regarde those that be excellent) but meanely instructed, but very wittie, and diligent also to haue the knowledge of histories, wherein he alwaye detested the actes of them that were cruel, prowde, and enimies to liberty, as Marius, Sylla, and Cinna. His feasting was princely and pleasant, but without exceſſe or great sumptuousneſſe: his feeding temperate, respecting more his health, then sensuall delight. Towarde his children, a milde and gentle father: towarde his wife, a louing and quiet husbande. He died at Milayne, being. 50. yeares of age, about the yeare of Christ. 397.

Theodotus, The instructour of the last Ptholomens.

Theognis, A certaine poet of Greece.

Theon, The name of diuers learned men.

Theoninus,a,um, Of or lyke Theon, which was an horrible rayler, and carper of other mens doinges.

* Theonino dente rodere, To rebuke a man shamefully.

Theóphilus, The name of diuers bishoppes. It signifieth deuout, louing God.

Theophraſtus, A nobie Philosopher, and of excellent eloquence.

Theopompus, An historiographer after the tyme of Herodotus, and Thucydides. Also an auncient poet, and a king of Lacedemonia.

Theópolis, The chefe citie of Syria, called also Antiochia.

Theótocos, The mother of God.

Thera, A citie by Athens. Also one of the yles called Cyclades.

Theramenes, A philosopher of Athens.

Theramne, A towne of the Sabines.

Theramnéus,a,um, Idem quod Sabinus.

Therasia, An yle by Euboea.

Theridamas,antis, A dogges name in Ouid.

Therimachus, A famous peinter.

Theoriomachus, One of Hercules sonnes.

Thermæ,arum, f.g.plur. A towne of Sicilie.

Thermodoon,or Thermódon, A riuer of Thrace.

Thermodóntius, Thermodontæus, & Thermodontiacus, a, um, Perteyning to that riuer.

Thermopylæ, A mountaine which passeth thyough Greee, hauing a narowe entrie or passage, where. 4000. Lacedemonians, with their capitayne Leonides, fought against.x. hundred thousande Persians, and resisted them two dayes, vntil the said Lacedemonians were all slain.

Thero, A mans name in Pindarus.

Therodamas, or Therodamon, A king of Scythia, which fed Lyons with mens bloude.

Therpsichore, Lyke Terpsichore.

Thestander, The sonne of Polynices.

Thestilochus, A mans name in Virgile.

Thersites, A prince that came wyth the Grekes to the siege of Troy, which in person and conditions was of all other most deformed.

Theseus, The sonne of Aegeus king of Athens, a strong and valiant man, the companion of Hercules, and in famous actes next vnto him, who was much defaced by breaking his fayth, which he had promised to Briane the daughter of Minos king of Crete, whom he left in a desert yle called Naxus: for the which (as Virgile writeth) he is perpetually tormented on a wheele in hel.

Theséus,a,um, Of Theseus.

Thesides, The sonne or nephew of Theseus.

Thesiphon, tis, A citie in Parthia, not farre from Seleucia the great citie of Assyria.

Thesmophoria, The ceremonies of Ceres the goddesse of graine.

Thesmophoros, A name of Ceres.

Thespiæ, A fre towne in Boeotia.

Thespius,& Thespiacus,a,um, Of Thespiæ.

Thespiades, The Muses, abyding about Thespiæ.

Thespis, A towne in Boeotia, by the hil called Hellicon. Also the name of an auncient Poet, and certayne other men.

Thesproti, People of Epire.

Thessalia, A region in Greece, called also Aemonia, sometyme Pandora,, sumtyme Pyrrhea, of some Pelasgia, of Homere Argopelasgicon. It is inuironed wyth foure great and famous hils, on the east with the mountaines of Pelion and Ossa: on the nozth with Olympus: on the west with Pindus: on the south with Othrys. It marcheth on Macedonia on the East. The people were valiaunt men on horsebacke, and inuincible in battayle, as Polybius wryteth, but very vniuſt of their promiſe: the women there being wonderfull witches, transformed men into the figure of beastes.

Thessálicus,a,um, & Thessalus,a,um, Of Thessalia.

Thessalónica, A citie in Macedonia.

Thessalis,idis, A woman or mayden of Thessalie.

Thessalonicenses, People of Thessalonica.

Thestius, The sonne of Parthaon.

Thestor,oris, The father Chalcas the soothsayer.

Thestorides,dis,m.g. The sonne or nephew of Thestor.

Thestilis, A womans name in Virgile.

Thetis,thétidis, The mother of Achilles.

Theutones,or Theutonici, People in Germany called dutch men.

Thideus, vide Tydeus.

Thinissa, The citie of Tunise in Affrike.

Thiodamas, The sonne of Melampus.

Thiriomachus, One of the sonnes of Hercules by Megara.

Thisbe, A mayden of Babilon, Vide Pyramus.

Thisbéus,a,um, Of Thisbe.

Thisias, An auncient writer of Sicilie.

Thoantéus,a,um, Of Thoas.

Thoas,antis, The name of two kings, one of Taurica, and an other of Lemnos.

Thoë, One of the nymphes.

Thon,nis, He that firſt brought phisike into the fourme of a science among the Aegiptians. An other was king of Canopus.

Thonis, A citie nere to Zephyrium.

Thonius, One of the Centaures.

Thoon, A Troyane slayne by Vlysses.

Thoota, The daughter of Phoreus, on whome Neptunus begat Polyphemus.

Thootes. A mans name in Homere.

Thorax, A mountaine by the citie Magnesia, where Daphita the grammarian was hanged on a gibbet, for making verses againg kinges: wherof commeth this prouerbe, Caue à Thorace. Stephanus sayth Thorax is a citie of Tetralia, lia, and also of Magnesia.

Thous, A Duke of Troie.
Thoxeus, The sonne of Eurytus and brother of Iole. Also the sonne of Thestius.
Thrace, ces, Thraca, æ, & Thracia, æ, A region in Europe. On the North it is bounded with the lower Mysia, on the East with the higher: on the South with the Sea Aegeum: on the West with Bosphorus Thracius, and Propontis. Therein is the Citie of Constantinople sometyme called Byzantium.
Thraceas, vel Thracias, A Northeast winde.
Thracius, Tertius, & Thraitus, a, um, Of Thrace.
Thraessa, or Thraissa, A woman of Thrace.
Thrasillus, or Thrasius: He that taught Busiris to offer his guestes to Jupiter, to the intent to obtayne rayne, and was first himselfe killed in sacrifice.
Thraso, A souldiours name in Terence. Also a paynter that scrabbd nicenicneth.
Thrasymenus, lake Trasimenus.
Thrasybulus, A Duke of Athens, which delivered the citie from the thirtie tyrannes.
Thrasymacus, The scholer of Isocrates.
Thrasymedes, The sonne of Nestor.
Thrax, acis, A man of Thrace.
Threicius, Of Thrace.
Thressa, or Thessa, A woman of Thrace.
Thrix, The three nurses of Apollo.
Thrysus, A tyrant of Elis, which ruinneth into Alpheus.
Thucydides, A noble Hystoriographer.
Thucydideus, a, um, That followeth Thucydides, or of Thucydides.
Thule, les, The name of two yles: one beyonde Scotlande, an other over against Carthage.
Thurij, Thuria, or Thurion, A citie of Calabre.
Thuringia, Thuryn in Fraunce.
Thurini, People of Italie.
Thusdrus, Shor, Of Thurij.
Thurium, A towne in Italy, where Herodotus dyed, and was buryed in the high strete.
Thuscana, A citie in Italy.
Thusculani, A certaine people by Rome.
Thusculanum, A place not farre from Rome, where Tullie, Cato, Varro, and dyuers other noble Senatours of Rome, had mannour places.
Thusculum, li, n.g. A citie in Latium.
Thyamis, A river that dyuideth Thesprotis from Cestrina.
Thyamon, An hyll in Thrace.
Thyas, thyadis, A woman that offereth sacrifice to Bacchus.
Thyalus, li, A daunce dedicate to Bacchus.
Thybris, One of Aeneas companions.
Thyestes, The sonne of Pelops and Hippodamia, who, aspyring to the kingdome of Micenæ, committed adulterie with the wyfe of his elder brother Atreus, who therefore slue the children of Thyestes, and causing them to be rosted, made hys brother to eate them vnawares.
Thyestius, a, um, Of Thyestes.
Thyle, The yle called Islande.
Thymbra, A place nere Troy, where muche Sauerye groweth.
Thymbræus, The name of Apollo.
Thymele, les, A woman which first taught daunsing in open places.
Thynia, An yle by Bythynia.
Thynius, a, um, Of Thynia.
Thyreus, A towne of Curtia.
Thyrsigerulus, A name of Bacchus.
Thyrea, A citie of the Messenians.
Thyrea, An yle of Peloponnesus.
Tiberias, A citie under Hesbons dominion.
Tibargiae, People of Scythya, which liue onely by hunting.

Tiberia, A Citie in the countrey of Mysia.

Tibareni, People of Scythia being in Asia.
Tiberias, adis, A citie of Galilee.
Tiberis, or rather, Tyberis, A ryuer in Italy, called Tiber, which comming from the mountaine Apenninus, deuideth Ethruria from Vmbria.
Tiberius, The thirde Emperour of Rome, a man of right good learning and eloquence, but of a very naughtie nature and disposition, cruell, couetous, crabbe, deceytfull: pretending humblest obeysaunce of that he most eschewed, and not to be willing to haue that he most desired, Wearing a colour of displeasure to those, that he greatly fauoured: and shewing a fayre face of friendeship, to those that he extreamely hated. If Godayne answeres much better, then in those he mused for. So much geuen to drunkenshippe, that, for Claudius Tiberius Nero, hee was of his soudiours by reproche termed Caldius Biberius Mero. Hee wonne banket two whole dayes and a night togither. He had by priuie cauilling procured the imperiall estate to be offered him by the Senatours, and openly by crafte dissimulation pretended himselfe exceeding loth to take the charge of it on him: by that meanes thinking to perceyue the inwarde affections of men towarde him: which afterwarde in deede tourned many of the nobilitie to confusion. For some sayde openly vnto him: Sir, other persons be long ere they perfourme that they promyse, and you are long ere you promyse that you will be sure to perfourme: nothing hys tyned refusyng of that, which he was already sure of. After he had a long tyme reieced the care of the common weale, and tyned onely in sensualitie and ryotte: hee dyed, as it was thought by the procurement of Caligula, that followed him, as well in the succession of the empyre, as in his naughty nature and wicked conditions.
Tibiscus, A ryuer of Dacia.
Tibisis, A ryuer in Scythya.
Tibullus, A poets name.
Tibur, lake Tybur.
Tiburtes, People in Italy, nigh to Rome.
Ticinum, A citie in Lumbardie, called Pauia.
Tifernus, A ryuer of Italy.
Tigellinus, A Romaine, in the tyme of Nero, of his liuing most filthy and corrupt.
Tigrana, A towne in the countrey of Media.
Tigranes, The proper name of a king of Armenie the greater, who opposed Mithridates.
Tigris, One of the foure ruers which come out of Paradise called Gion: it passeth thyough Armenie & Media.
Tigullia, A citie of Liguria.
Tigurini, People of Germanie, which doe inhabite the fourth part of Helluetia or Swyzerlande: the people of Strawsbozow.
Tile, lake Thule.
Tilium, A citie in the weast part of Sardinia, on the sea side, called nowe S. Repara.
Tilos, An yle in the red sea, wherein is plentie of pearle and trees of diuers fruites, and the leaues of trees there growing doe neuer fall. Also woll groweth on trees there, which doe beare gourdes of the greatnesse of quinces, and being rype doe open, in the which doth appeare the woll, whereof be made fine and precious clothes. About that place doth beginne the mountayne of Caucasus, which doth passe thyough a great part of the worlde.
Tilphosa, A well at the foote of the mountayne Tilphosium.
Timeus, A noble philosopher of Pythagorans sect.
Timagines, A famous wryter.
Timagoras, A noble man of Athens.
Timantes, A famous peynter.
Timarchides, A notable grauer.
Timauus, A ryuer in Italy besides Aquileia.
Timocles, A poet of Athens.
Timolaus, A learned man of Larissa, who wrate of the warre of Troy.
Timoleon, A duke of Cozinth.

Timon,

Timon, A man of Athens, notable for his inhumanitie, and hatyng of the companie and societie of men.
Timotheus, The name of a noble capitayne of the Athenians, who for the good fortune that he had in battayle, was painted lying a sleape, and hauyng by him a nette pitched, wherein fortune was taken. Also a cunnyng musitian, which vsed to take of his scholers, which had learned before, double salarie, that he toke of other which neuer learned: saying, that he toke with them double labours, that is to say, to make them to forget that which they had learned before, and then to teache them perfectly.
Tina, A ryuer in Englande called Tine.
Tinge, A promontorie or elbowe of Affrike.
Tingitana, A part of Mauritania or Barbarie ouer against Spayne.
Tinia, Idem quod Tina.
Tipasa, A citie in Mauritania, called nowe Tenese.
Tiphernum, A towne in Italie.
Tiphys, An excellet carpenter, which found first the meane to gouerne a shippe.
Tiresias, A poete of Thebes, who for striking two adders, which he founde ingendring togethter, was forthwith turned into the fourme of a woman. Seuen yeares after, he likewise finding two serpenters togethter, strake also them, and became eftsones a man. Jupiter and Juno contending togethter, whether man or womē were more prone vnto leacherie, those Tiresias arbiter, which had experience in both kindes, who gaue sentence on Jupiters parte: wherewith Juno being angrie, toke hys sight from him. But Jupiter, to comfort him in hys blindnesse, gaue to him that part of diuinitie, to knowe all that was done, or shoulde happen: by reason wherof he was had in great honour, and his answeres were esteemed equall to them of Apollo.
Tirinthis, A famous olde citie in Greece.
Tiriscum, A citie of Dacia, now called Groscoma.
Tiryns, tyntis, m.g. A ruer in Greece. Tyrins, tyntis, f.g. The countrey where Hercules was borne in Peloponnesus, now called Morea.
Titynthius, Was a surname of Hercules.
Tisarantus, A ruer of Scythia.
Tisias, The name of Cozar scholer.
Tisiphone, One of the furies of hell, which was supposed to torment homicides, or slears of men.
Tissa, A citie of Sicilie, called Tis.
Titanis, nidos. The daughter of Titan, called also Latona, and is taken for the Mone.
Titan, & Titanus, The brother of Saturne, and is taken for the Sunne. Iake Saturnus.
Titanus, A ruer of Aeolis, and a citie of the same name.
Titaresius, A ruer renning into the ruer Peneus, and yet is not the water mixed with it, but reneth like oyle in the middes of the other streame.
Tithonus, The brother of Laomedon, which begat Memnon vpon Aurora: an other of that name was sonne to Laomedon.
Titianus, An oratour of Greece.
Titij, Were priestes of Apollo.
Titornus, An beardeman, which contended with Milo the wrestler, and ouercame him.
Titus, The sonne of Vespasian emperour of Rome, was from his youthe earnestly bent to the studie of honestie, learning, and noble prowes, so that in his tender yeres he gaue euident token whereto in the ende he wonde prooue. And yet, euen then he did some things, by the slipperneste of youth and yll companie, that caused many to feare that he wouldе haue proued both cruell, sensuall, and couetous. But, when he was aduaunced to the empire, he did not onely shake of those light companions, by whom he was misled, but also did so farre passe all other in liberalitie, princely bountie, contempt of money, mercie, clemencie, courtesie and sweete behauiour, that he was commonly called the delite and dearling of mākinde. Of his clemencie this is notable. Whē two of the noble men had cōspired against him, and the matter was so euidently proued, as they couldе not denie it, first he admonished them, and then had them with him to a common light or shewe, and there made them sitte the one on the one side, the other on the other. And because he beheld the swoorde players, he called for one of their swoordes, which vnder pretence of seeing howe sharpe it was, he gaue first to the one, and then to the other. In so much that cuē they that purposed his death shewed themselues abashed at hys manly constancie. Why (sayeth he) doe you not see, that royall power and imperiall auctiorithie is geuen by destenie and the will of God, so that it is in vaine for any man either to hope to attaine it, or to feare to leese it? After supper on a time remembring, that on that day he had not done any pleasure or benefite to any man, with a lowde voyce he sayde to them present. Friendes, I haue lost a day. When he had raigned almost three yere, he died of an ague.

Titus Liuius, The most excellent historien or writer of stories, in whom was the fountaine of the milke of pure eloquence.
Tityrus, A shepeheards name in Virgile.
Tityus, The sonne of the Earth, whom poetes feigned to be slaine by Apollo, because he would haue rauished Latona his sister: and therefore lieth in hell, hauing an eagle alway eating his liuer. And it is also sayde, that his body was in length nine furlongs: wherefore Tibul, which was a poete, and also a great louer, and therefore couldе not lie.
Tlepolemus, Hercules sonne, a king of Rhodes, which came to the siege of Troy with nine shippes.
Tmolus, A mountaine in Lydia, whereon did growe great plentie of saffron and vines.

Togata Gallia, Idem quod Cisalpina Gallia.
Tolentum, A citie of Italie, the people whereof be called Tolentinates.
Toletum, A citie in Spaine called Toledo.
Tolianis, The yle of Tenet by Kent.
Tolosa, A citie in Fraunce called Tolouse: wherof grew a prouerbe, Tolosanum aurum. Lake Cepio.
Tolumnius, A certaine diuinour.
Tomarus. A mountaine of Aetolia.
Tomitanus, a, um, Of Tomos.
Tomos, A citie of Pontus.
Tomyris, A noble queene of the Massagetes in Scythia: against whom when Cyrus the great king of Persia came, and had slaine hir sonne, she by hir policie trained him into such streicts, that shee slue him & all his hoste: and causing a great vessell to be filled with the bloude of Cyrus and of the other Persians, and cast his heade thereinto, saying: Bloud thou hast thirsted, and nowe drinke thereof thy fill.
Tongri, People of the duchie of Brabant.
Topazos, or Topazios. An yle in the redde sea.
Tornacum, A towne called Tourney.
Torquātus, A noble man of Rome.

Trachalus, An oratour in the time of Domician.
Trachina, A towne of Campayne.
Trachina, A citie of Thessalie, which was of Hercules called Heraclea.
Trachynus, or Trachynius, a, um. Of Truchyna.
Trachonitis, A countrey in Syria, ioyning vnto Arabia.
Tragia, One of the yles called Sporades.
Tragurium, An yle in the sea called Adriaticum.
Traiana, A citie in Picenum, called nowe Potentia.
Traianus, A Spaniarde borne and emperour of Rome, who was in warfare diligent, in ciuile gouernment politike, in easing his subiectes of vnmoderate charges liberal, a great obseruer of iustice, and fauourer of learned wittes. When he ordained any Prætour, in deliuering him the swoorde, he would say in this wise: Vse the swoorde against mine enimies in iust causes, and if I my felfe doe otherwife then iuſtice,vſe thy power on me alſo. But many worthie cruell vertues in him were defaced with his extreame crueltie towarde the chriſtians. For he raiſed the thirde perſecution of the Church,wherein many were cruellie murdered.

Tralli, A people of Illyria.

Tralles, A citie of Lydia: an other in Phrygia.

Trallianus, a, um. Of that citie.

Tranio, A ſeruaunts name in Plautus.

Tranſalpina Gallia, Gallia on the other ſide of the mountaines from Rome,which is now the realme of Fraūce.

Tranſyluania, A countrie beyonde Hungarie, whereof the people were ſometime called Getæ.

Trapezephoros, ri. A certaine prieſt of Minerua.

Trapezus, zuntis. A citie in the countrie of Pontus.

Trapezuntius, A man of that citie.

Traſibulus, ioke Thraſybulus.

Traſimenus, A riuer by Perufia, in Italie, where Annibal ſlewe Flaminius the Conſul of Rome, and xxij. thouſande Romaines, and toke. 6000. priſoners.

Traſimenus, a, nm. Of that pole or riuer.

Trauſi, People adioyning to Thrace.

Trebatius, A lawyer very familiar with Cicero.

Trebia, A riuer in Italie by Placentia. Alſo a Citie in Spayne.

Trebellicum vinum, or Trebulanum vinum, wine growing about the citie Trebia, in Spayne.

Trebonius, A Romaine that conſpired with Brutus and Caſſius in Aſia.

Trebula, An olde towne nigh to Rome.

Trebulani, Men of that towne.

Trecæ,trecarum. A citie in Champaygne.

Treua, A citie in Almeine called Hamburgh.

Treueris, A citie in Germanie called Trire.

Treueri, People called Treues.

Triarius, rij, m.g. A famous orator.

Triatrus, A feſtiuall day, kept after the thirde Idus of euery moneth.

Triballi, People of the countrie beyonde Hungarie, nowe called Seruia.

Triboci, People of the countrie of Alſace.

Tribunianus, A mans name in the time of Juſtinian, a contemner of God and all religion, & ſpecialie of Chriſtianitie.

Trica, after Plin.lib.3.cap.11.was ſometime a towne of Apulia. Stephanus ſayeth, it was a towne of Theſſalie, ſo named of Trica, Pencus daughter.

Tricaſtini, People of Fraunce, neare the riuer Druentia.

Tricongius, The ſurname of Nouellius,which dranke three meaſures of wine,called Congij,which was(as I ſuppoſe) three gallons and three pintes of oure meaſure: Wherefore Tiberius the Emperour promoted him to honour, and at the laſt made him Conſull of Rome.

Tridentifer, or Tridentiger, The ſurname of Neptunus, becauſe of his three forked mace.

Tridentum, A citie in Italie called Trent.

Trieterica, The ſacrifices of Bacchus, which were done euerie thirde yeare.

Trigarium rij, n.g. A place at Rome by Campus Martius, where they exerciſed renning with cartes drawen with three horſes called Trigæ.

Trigemina porta, A gate in Rome, out at the whiche the three brethren called Horatij, went to fight their challenge.

Trinacria, The yle of Sicilie.

Trinacris, cre, Of Trinacria.

Trinacrius, a, um. Of Sicilie.

Triones, The ſeuen ſtarres, being in the north.

Tripolis, A ſoſtrie in Affrike,an other in Syria,the third in Phœnicia.

Tripolitana regio, Idem quod Tripolis.

Tripontium, A towne of Umbria in Italie, ſo called becauſe it hath three bridges.

Triptolemus, A man,which founde the vſe of graine in the countrie of Athens.

Tripodes, Weare tables of golde in the temple of Apollo.

Triquetra, A name of the yle of Sicilie.

Tritanus, A notable wreſtler or wreſtle player.

Trites, A people of Greece.

Tritium Metallum, A citie of Spayne, called nowe Tafalla.

Triton, onis, One called god of the ſea, the ſonne of Neptunus. It is alſo a riuer in Affrica.

Tritonia, A name of Minerua.

Tritoniacus, a, um, Of Minerua.

Tritonis, nidos, ſ.g. patronimicum.

Tritonice, A towne of Pontus.

Triueri, Trier in Almaine, which now is vnder a biſhop.

Triuia, A name of Diana.

Troas, adis, The countrey about Troy, called the leſſe Phrygia.

Trœzen,zenis,or Trœzene,nes. A citie in the part of Greece called Peloponneſus. It is alſo a countrie in the leſſe Aſia, wherof the people are called Trœzenij.

Trœzenius, a, um. Of Trœzen.

Troglodytæ. People in the furtheſt part of Affrike,beyond Aethiope, which dwell in caues, and doe eate the fleſhe of ſerpentes.

Troia, The Citie of Troie. Alſo the countrey wherein Troie ſtoode.

Troianus, a, um. Of Troie.

Troianus ludus, A plaie of children on horſebacke.

Troicus, a, um, Of Troie.

Troilus, The ſonne of Priamus and Hecuba.

Troius, a, um. Of Troie.

Troiugena, One borne at Troie.

Tros, troos, or trois, A Troian. Alſo the name of a king of the Troians, ſonne of Erichthonius.

Troſſulum, A citie in Italie.

Truentum, A citie in Italie called Tronto.

Tryphiodorus, A poete of Aegypte.

Tryphon, A grammarian of Alexandria.

Tuæſis, The riuer of Tweede in Scotlande.

Tubero, The name of a Romaine.

Tuberum, A riuer in India.

Tucia, A virgine veſtale, that bore water in a ſieue.

Tucris, A citie of Spaine.

Tuder, A towne of Umbria.

Tuditanus, The name of a man, ſo called becauſe he had a heade as bigge as a beetill.

Tueſis. The riuer of Tweede, which diuideth Englande from Scotlande. It is alſo the towne called Werwike.

Fuliphurdum, A towne in Germanie called Gottingen.

Tuliſurgium, Bzuneſwike, a citie in Almayne.

Tullianum, A dungeon within the comon priſon of Rome.

Tullius, The name of a noble Romaine, of excellent wiſedome, learning, and eloquence. Reade in Cicero.

Tullus Hoſtilius, The thirde king of Rome.

Tunetum, A citie in Affrike,called nowe Tuniſe.

Turarius, A ſtreete in Rome.

Turcæ, People called Turkes,which inhabited the countrey lopping to the ſea Caſpium, and the hill Caucaſus: ſome of them were accounpted among the people of Scythia, of whom Pomponius Mela maketh mention: which about. 750. yeares paſſed, wandring aboute as vacabound robbers,waſted and deſtroyed diuers countries: but afterwarde by the valiant proweſſe of Chriſtian princes, in the time of Godfray of Bologne, and after; their puiſſance was abated. After,in the yeare of our Lorde. 1300. one Othomannus, the tenthe from Solymannus, not many yeres ſence, the great tyran of the Turkes, a plough mans ſonne, valyaunt and ſubtile of witte, gathering a great armie of vacabounders, wanne a great countrey in Aſia the leſſe: and ſo ſucceſſiuely euery one ſence hath encreaſed their dominion, hauing nowe vnder their ſubiection all Aſia the leſſe, Syria, Media, Meſopotamia, Aegypt, Græcia, Illyria, euerie one of theſe containing many great & famous royalmes: beſides Hungarie, the yle of the Rhodes, and manie other iles ſometime Chriſtened: They doe nowe now call Turchia, properly that which was named Aſia minor: and ſome doe name it Natolia.

Turde, A citie in Italie now called Tudertum.

Turdetania, A countrey now called Granado.

Turdetani & Turduli, People of that countrey.

Turia, Idem quod duria.

Turiaſſo, A citie in Spayne.

Turnus, A king of the Rutulians, which was ſlayne of Eneas.

Turones, People in Fraunce by the ryuer Leir.

Turonica, Towers in Fraunce.

Turris Buſſonis, A citie of Sardinia,now called Sardos.

Turulis, A ryuer of Spayne.

Tuſcania, A towne of Tuſcia.

Tuſcia, A countrey in Italy,wherin be the cities of Florence. Sene,Luca. and Piſe.

Tuſci, People of Tuſcane.

Tuſculanenſis, ſe, Of Tuſculum.

Tuſculum, The name of a citie neare vnto Rome, ſet vpon an hill.

Tuſculanus, a, um, Of that citie.

Tuſculanum, Was the territorie about Tuſculum, where Cicero, Varro, and diuers other noble men dwelled.

Tuſculus, a,um, Of Tuſculum.

Tuſcus, a,um, Of the countrey of Tuſcia.

Tuſcus, A ſtreete in Rome.

Tutanus, Was ſuppoſed to be a god, which had the cuſtodie and defence of men.

Tutilina, A goddeſſe, vnder whoſe cuſtodie was corne in barnes and ſtackes.

Tyana, A citie of Cappadocia.

Tyaneus,a,um, Of that citie.

Tyber, bris, A great ryuer by Rome.

Tyberinis, nidis, patronimicum fœminin. Of Tyber.

Tyberinus, a, um, Idem.

Tyberinus, The god of the riuer Tyber.

Tyberius, Ioke Tiberius.

Tybur, buris, n.g. A citie by Rome.

Tyburnus, a,um, Of the citie Tybur.

Tyburs, burtis, om. gen. & hic & hæc Tyburtis, & hoc Tyburte. Of Tybur.

Tycha, A nymphe the daughter of Oceanus.

Tyche,ches, A citie in Sicilie.

Tychius, A mans name in Homere.

Tydeus, Byſſyl. A noble man, whoſe ſonne Diomedes wounded Venus and Mars at the battayle of Troy.

Tydides, The ſonne or nephew of Tydeus.

Tyle, called alſo Thule, An yle within one dayes iourney of the frozen ſea.

Tymber, A mans name. Alſo a ryuer.

Tymbra, A great fielde in the countrey of Troy, through which the ryuer of Tymber runneth vnto the ryuer of Scamander.

Tymetes, One of the ſonnes of king Priamus.

Tymolus, Idem quod Tmolus.

Tymphæi, People in Aetolia,which is in Greece.

Tyndareus, a,um. Of Tyndarus.

Tyndaridæ. Caſtor and Pollux.

Tyndaris, daridis, The daughter or neice of Tyndarus.

Tyndaris, was alſo a citie of Sicilie.

Tyndarus, The father of the fayre Helene (for whome Troy was deſtroyed) and alſo of Caſtor and Pollux.

Typhis, ioke Tiphys.

Typhœus, triſyll. A great gyaunt, the ſonne of Titan.

Typhon, Idem. Alſo a great puiſſant wynde: a whirlewynde.

Typhoeus, or Typhoius, a,um. Of Typhœus.

Typhon, The brother of Piris.

Tyra, A ryuer neare Ister.

Tyrambe, A citie of Sarmatia.

Tyrannion, A learned man in the tyme of Pompey.

Tyrannus, The name of a ſophiſter.

Tyras, A ryuer of Sarmatia.

Tyres, A citie of Scythia.

Tyridates, A king of Armenie.

Tyrinthia, A citie by Argos, where Hercules was nouriſhed.

Tyrinthius,a,um, Of Tyrinthia.

Tyrius,a,um, Of the yle called Tyros. vt, veſtes Tyriæ, Garmentes of purple colour.

Tyro, A mans name,by whom Cicero did ſet much ſtore.

Tyros, A citie of Phœnicia. Alſo an yle,where the purple colour was firſt founde.

Tyrrheni, The people of Tuſcane.

Tyrrhenus, a,um, Of, or by Tuſcane.

Tyrrhus, The ſhepheardes name in whoſe houſe Lauinia was brought a bed.

Tyrtæus, A Greeke poet.

Tyrus, A citie by the mountaine Libanus.

Tyſias, æ, He that firſt inuented Rhetorike.

Tyttygius, The name of a notable theefe and robber,which thereby grew riche.

Vacca, æ, fœ. ge. A citie in Numidia. Alſo a ryuer in Portugall.

Vaccei, A people of Spayne.

Vaccus, A captayne of the people called Fundani.

Vacorium, A citie in Norice called Villacum.

Vacuna, A goddeſſe, vnto whome huſbandmen, after harueſt was cleane done, did ſacrifice, as to the goddeſſe of quietneſſe after labour.

Vadimonis lacus, A certayne poole, wherein be Ilandes that ſwimme and moue with the water.

Vageni, A people dwelling among the mountaynes called Alpes.

Vaidabber, In Hebrue worde, which in latine is Numeri, one of the fiue bookes of Moyſes.

Valaſca, A queene of the Boemes, which conſpired with certaine other women, to haue driuen out the men, and to haue had a gouernaunce of women like the Amazons.

Valentia, The firſt name of Rome. Alſo a citie in Spayne called Valence.

Valeria, The ſiſter of Meſſala, wife to a noble man called Serranus, who being dead, when ſhe was aſked, why ſhe did not marry againe, ſhe anſwered, that Serranus hir huſbande was ſtill alme with hir.

Valeria, A towne in Spayne.the people whereof be called Valerienſes. It is alſo a countrey by Hungary,now called Stiria.

Valerius, The name of diuers Romaynes.

Valeſius for Valerius.

Vallonia, Was called the goddeſſe of valleys.

Vandali, People of Vandalia.

Vandalia, A countrey in the north part of the worlde.

Vangiones, People of Germanie, of a Citie called Wormes.

Varar, Dunbar in Scotlande.

Varduli, A people of Spayne.

Varro, onis, A noble Romayne,of all other moſt excellently learned.

Varus, A riuer, which diuideth the part of Fraunce called Narbon,from Italy. Alſo it was the name of a poet.

Vaſcones, People in the part of Spayne called Taraconenſis.

Vaticanus collis, An hyl in Rome,where now is the churche of ſaint Peter.

Vatinius, A Romayne ſo greatly hated of the People,that therof grewe a prouerbe, Odium Vatinianum.

Vatinia, A citie in Italy neare vnto Venice, called commonly Loumo.

Vbij, People in Germanie, dwelling in Colayne and the partes adioyning.

Vcalegon, A certaine Tropans name.

Veia, A citie in Spayne: ſome write it Vria.

Vectis, The name of an yle by Englande, called the yle of Wight.
Vectones, People of Spayne.
Vedra, The ryuer of Were in Wales.
Vegeti, People of Asia.
Vegetius, A noble man that wrote of martiall doctrine.
Veia, A certaine fozcerelle.
Veiens, entis, Of Veios.
Veientanus, a, um, Of the citie Veios.
Veientes, People with whom the Romaines had long time warres.
Veij, The people of Veios.
Veios, A citie in Hetruria.
Veiouis, A god, which had no power to doe good, but onely harme.
Velabrum, bri, n.g. A certaine place in Rome.
Velauni, Uelay in Fraunce.
Velia, A fen in Italie, in the countrey of Calabria.
Velates, People of Liguria.
Velina, A ſtraete in Rome, by the hyll called Mons Palatinus.
Velitræ, arum, plu. A citie in Italie, xx. myles from Rome.
Vellocaſſes, A people of the countrey of Lions in Fraunce.
Venafrum, A citie of Campanie, where is great plentie of olyues.
Venafrianus, a, um, Of that citie.
Venaria, An yle wherein be many veynes of metall.
Veneris portus, A towne, in the mountaynes Pirenæi.
Venetiæ, arum, The citie of Venice.
Véneti, Uances in Bzytayne: alſo the people of Uenice.
Vénetus, a, um, Of Uenice: as Venetus color, the colour of light blew oz blunket.
Venta, An hauen in Englande called Wtſicewe.
Venulus, The ambaſſadour that Turnus ſent to Diomedes.
Vénus, veneris, The goddeſſe of loue.
Venuſia, A towne in Apulia.
Vercellæ, A citie in Liguria, nigh to the mountaines called Alpes.
Vergiliæ, The ſeuen ſtarres, called alſo Pleiades.
Vergobretus, ti, A magiſtrate among the people called Hedui in Fraunce.
Vermis, The name of a fiſh in the ryuer of Ganges, which is in length. ix. cubites, and is blue in colour, whiche hath ſuch ſtrength, that when Olyphantes come to the water to drinke, he wyll take one of them by the noſe, and pluckе him in to him.
Vero, A ryuer in Bzytayn.
Veromandui, Vermandoiſe in Fraunce.
Verona, A noble citie in Italie, in the countrey called Marcia Taruiſina, not farre from the mountaynes, where Catullus the poet, and Plinie were borne.
Verones, People dwelling nigh to the ryuer of Vero.
Veronenſis, ſe, & Veronens, a, um, Of Verona.
Verpi, The Jewes.
Verra, An aulter at Rome, whereat they prayed that children ſhoulde not be long borne.
Verrea, orum, neut. gener. plur. Feaſtes ordayned by Verres
Verres, A Romayne whome Cicero accuſed.
Verrobrige, A towne of Spayne.
Vertumnalia, The ſolemnitie of Vertumnus, whiche was kept in October.
Vertumnus, A god, ſuppoſed of the Paynims to haue the gouernaunce of mens myndes, oz after ſome, of dying and ſelling.
* Iniquo Vertumno natus, He that knoweth not howe to gouerne oz rule himſelfe.
Verulani, A people of Italie.
Veſeuus, An hyll by Naples, out of the which iſſueth alwayes fire and ſmoke like Aetna.
Veſpaſianus, An emperour of Rome deſcended but of a baſe ſtocke, but in baliaunt prowes and knightly courage to be compared to the beſt: for his honeſtie and wiſedome highly commended. He neuer bare grudge ne malice to any man, were he neuer ſo much his enimie.

For onely quarrel he was cruell ſpoken of among hys ſubiectes. It is ſayd he abhorred to high promotions diuers in couetouſneſſe moſt notable, to the ende that when they had well gathered, hee might vſe them as ſpunges, and by making ſome pretended quarell againſt them, to wring from them that which by extoꝛcion they had gotten. Hee ordeyned a tribute to be gathered on the quantitie of vrine made in euery houſe. For which, becauſe he was cruell ſpoken of, his ſonne came to him and perſwaded him to leaue it, as a thing very vile and diſhonourable vnto him. Veſpaſian at that preſent ſayde nothing, but, when the money of that taxe was next brought in, he taking his handefull of it, and calling his ſonne to him, holde it to his noſe, and aſked him, whether the money ſauoured well oz no: he anſwered, it ſauoureth well: why (ſayde he) and this commeth of vrine, wherefoze thou mayſt ſee, The ſauour of gayne is ſweete, whereof ſocuer it commeth.
Veſperies, A towne in Spayne.
Veſſones, People of Campaine in Fraunce.
Veſta, The mother of Saturnus: alſo his daughter, which for hir chaſtitie was honoured for a goddeſſe.
Veſtális, le, Pertayning to Veſta.
Veſtáles, were virgins, that miniſtred to Veſta, whiche were choſen betweene the age of. vj. and. x. yeares, and xxx. yeares they remayned virgins, afterwarde it was lawfull for them to marie.
Veſtini, People in Italie.
Veſulus, A mountayne in Liguria by the Alpes, at the roote wherof the riuer called Padus oz Po, ſpringeth out.
Veſuuius, ſeu, Veſeuus, An hyll in Campania, foure myles from the citie of Naples, wherevpon groweth plentie of vines and olyues: but the toppe therof was barraine, by reaſon of fire, which ſometime riſeth out of the earth. It is alſo called Veſinius.
Vetones, People in Spayne, which firſt founde the herbe called Betonica.
Vetulonia, A place in Tuſcia, called alſo Viterbo.
Véns, vſentis, A riuer in Pontus.

V I

Via, A riuer of Spayne.
Vibon, A towne in the countrey of the Bzutians.
Vicentia, A citie in Venetia, betweene Verona, and Padua.
Vienna, A citie in Auſtria: an other in Dolphyny.
Vigiſonus, A bridge by the citie of Padua.
Viminalis collis, A little hyll at Rome.
Vinalia, vinaliórum, neut. gener. plur. A certayne feaſt the tenth callendes of May, made for taſting of wines.
Vindelici, People called Vandales.
Vindelicia, A countrey, wherein is the citie of Auguſta called Aulburgh. On the weſt it hath the riuer Lycus, and Rhætia: on the north the ryuer Dunawe: on the eaſt, the riuer Ænus, and Noricum: on the north it hath the Alpes.
Vindemiator, A ſigne of ſtarres, that appeareth the thirde Nonas of March.
Vindenij fluuij oſtia, A towne in Irelande commonly called Wodogh.
Vindius, An hill in Spayne.
Vintium, A citie by the Alpes called Mount Wiſol.
Vion Valentia, A citie in Apulia.
Virbius, virbij, maſc gen. Twiſe a man: which name was giuen to Hippolitus, the ſonne of Theſeus, after that Eſculapius had brought him againe to life.
Virgi, A towne of Spayne.
Virgilius, The moſt famous poet of Mantua.
Viriplaca, A goddeſſe, in whoſe temple women were reconciled to their huſbandes.
Viritium, A citie in Germanie.
Viruesta, A citie of Spayne called commonly Briuieſca.
Viſontium, A citie in Spayne called commonly Viſeum oz Viſeo.
Viſula, A riuer of Sarmatia.
Viſurgis, A riuer of Germanie.
Vitunus, A god, whom the Paynims ſuppoſed to giue life.

Vlius, A name of Apollo.
Vlpianus, A famous lawyer.
Vlubræ, A village oz ſmall towne in Italie, where Auguſtus was nouriſhed.
Vlyſſes, The ſonne of Laertes and Antolia, king of the yles of Ithaca and Dulichium, a man excelling all other Grekes, which came againſt Troy, in eloquence and ſubtilitie of witte: who, after the ſubuertion of Troy, when he had wandred tenne yeres on the ſeas and marches thereof, and had ſene many countreies, finally, returned home: and there a good ſpace of tyme remayned vnknowne, and ſuffered many diſpleaſures of the wyues of his wife the chaſte Penelope, whome by the helpe of Telemachus his ſonne and his ſwineheardes, he at the laſt ſlue. Notwithſtanding afterwarde, he himſelfe was ſlayne by Telegonus his baſtarde ſonne, with an arrowe, not being knowen of the ſame Telegonus.
Vlyſſipona, The chiefe citie of Poztugall called Liſbone.

V M

Vmber, a, um, Pertayning to the countrey Vmbria.
Vmbrij, People of Italie, now called Spoletani.
Vmbria, A part of Italie, where thoſe people dwell.
Vmbro, bronis, A riuer in Lumbardie, called alſo Lamber.

V N

Vnni, Hungarians.

V O

Vobrca. A towne by Wylbo in Spayne.
Vocontij, People of Narbon in Fraunce.
Vogeſus, An hyll in the marches of Lengres in Fraunce.
Volaterræ, A towne in Hetruria.
Volcæ, Languedocke in Fraunce.
Volcatius, The name of diuers Romaynes.
Volbia, A towne in Coznewaile called Wodwit.
Volones, Were bondemen at Rome, which in the warres of Carthage, when there lacked Romaynes, offered themſelues to fight for their maſters: and becauſe they did it wyllingly e without conſtreint, they were called Volones.
Volſci, An auncient people of Italie.
Volſinium, A towne of Tuſcan, called now Balſena.
Voluptia, The goddeſſe of voluptie, oz pleaſure.
Voluſius, A port of Paule.
Vopiſcus, The name of one that wzate the lyues of emperours.
Vortumnalia, loke Vertumnalia.

V R

Vrania, æ, ſ.g. ſiue Vranie, es, ſ.g. One of the Muſes, which is preſident of Aſtronomie.
Vranus, The father of Saturnus called alſo Cælum.
Vrbinum, A towne in Umbria, the people whereof be called Vrbinates.
Vrce, A towne of Spayne, called now Aquile.
Vrium, A citie of Spayne.
Vrolanium, A towne in Englande, called ſaint Albans.
Vrſa, ſe, Two figures of ſtarres, the one called Vrſa maior, and the other Vrſa minor.
Vrſa Baluia, A citie of Picenum.

V S

Vſtica, An hyll in Italie.

V T

Vtica, A citie in Affrike, where Cato did ſlea himſelfe, and therefoze was afterwarde called Cato Uticenſis.
Vtinum, A towne in Italie.

V A

Wainfletus, A worthy byſhoppe of Wincheſter, and in his tyme Chauncellour of Englande, of counſaple wiſe, graue, politike, well learned himſelfe, and both in his tyme and after a great maintayner of learnyng. He brought in the troubleous tymes of king Henry the ſixt, and Edwarde the fourth, in great eſtimation with the one, and in great diſpleaſure with the other: and therefore felt both the ſweete of proſperitie, and the ſower panges of aduerſitie. In his latter tyme, when he had attayned quietneſſe, as a good biſhop, more myndyng the increaſe of learning then his owne priuate wealth, to the great furtheraunce thereof, he buylded the notable houſe of Mayde Magdalene colledge in Oxforde. Out of the which, as a ſingular nourſerie of good letterꝛs, Sythyn ſewe yeres haue beene ſent into the churche, beſide a great number of other well learned, a ſeuen biſhoppe: and at this daye hath trauayling in the vineparde of Chriſt, and planting of his worde, two godly biſhops, and diuers other zelous and very well learned. In this houſe because I alſo was brought vp in my youth, and by the benefite of the founder thereof, attained the ſmall portion of learning that God hath ſent me, I ought and doe acknowledge my ſelfe much to be bounden to him.
Wallia, The countrey of wayles on the weſt ſide of Englande, ſo lying out into the ſea, that it is compaſſed about with the ſame, ſauing onely on the eaſt part: where about Herefourde it is ioyned to this royalme, as a portion oz member of the ſame, differing onely in name and language. They be the remaines of the olde Bzitons, that firſt inhabited this Ilande, and by the Saxonꝛs, when they grew here of great power, were conſtrayned to take that part, as the moſt ſafe from the inuaſion and diſquieting of their enimies. This haue I here put, not becauſe I thinke it is vnknowne to any Engliſh man, but to take an occaſion to clere my ſelfe of an vntruth and falſe ſuſpicion, that by malicious and naughty tongues hath been ſpied of me, as though I ſhould not beare good mynde vnto that countrey, and that I haue written againſt it in a Chronicle, that before tyme I haue ſette forth. If this vntrue ſurmiſe had ſtaped wythin the compaſſe of the common ſort, I wouldе not ſo much haue paſſed for it (although I haue beene manaſed daunger by them that neuer ſaw me): but for ſo much as I heare, it is creept to thoſe that are both right honeſt and very worſhipfull, I am conſtrayned in this place ſomewhat to touche it. What the thing is, that particularly they are greeued with, oz howe this matter firſt began, I knowe not. If any ſhall declare it vnto me, I will be glad to ſatiſfie him. In the meane tyme I proteſt, I neuer had cauſe to hate them, and in deede doe ſo fauour them as my countreymen and faithfull ſubiectes vnder one prince with me. If I haue vſed any terme, that to them may ſeeme vnpleaſaunt (as in noting the actes of Edwarde the firſt, I remember I call them vnſtable) I truſt ſober and wiſe men will take that, as the truthe is, to be ſpoken vpon occaſion of thinges done at that tyme onely, and not as a properte annexed to the people. And yet is that not my terme, but Fabian alſo, whome in ſome part I followed, vſed the ſame. Notwithſtanding, I thinke her ment none otherwiſe then I did, that is, ſo to call them there, becauſe in that one kinges reigne they ſundrie tymes moleſted hym. But that is aboue. 250. yeares ſince.
Vulcanalia, orum, neut. gener. plural. Feaſtes dedicate to Vulcan.
Vulcanus, Jupiters ſmith, and is taken for fire.
Vulcanius, a, um, Of Vulcane.
Vulſinij, A towne in Tuſcane deſtroyed with lightning.
Vulſinenſis, ſe, Of Vulſinij.
Vulſinus, A ryuer in Italie.
Vulſinienſes, People dwelling about the riuer of Vulſinus
Vultur, An hyll of Apulia.
Vulturnum, A towne in Campania.

V X

Vxama, A towne of Spayne.
Vxella, Crokernewell in Deuonſhire.
Vxellum, A citie in Englande called Weſtchester.

XAntha, A nymphe.
Xanthi, A people in Asia, whose citie being besieged of Harpagus the capitaine of Cyrus, they brought into to the castels their wiues, seruauntes, and goodes, and putting thereunto fire, burned altogither: and afterwarde issuing out of the citie, fought till they were all slayne.
Xanthippe, A railing shrewde,curst,and a waywarde woman,wife to the patient and wise philosopher Socrates. On a tyme she folowed hir husbande from place to place scolding, in such sort, as he couldc not quietly abyde the house. Wherefore he went and sate downe without the doore, knowing that he wouldc not be so impudent, to raple at him in the streete. Xanthippe seeing that,went vp into a chamber, and out of the windowe did cast a water pot on hir husbandes head: whereat,when other folkes passing by did laugh: Oh (quod Socrates) I thought the terrible thunder,that went before, wouldc at length burst out to a storme and showre of rayne.
Xanthippus, A capitayne of the Lacedemonians, whiche fought against Lucullus the Romayne.
Xanticus, Among the Iewes was the moneth of Aprill.
Xantho, A nymphe,the daughter of Oceanus.
Xanthus, A riuer of Troye, whereof if sheepe did drinke, the fleese became yelowe. It was also the name of Achilles horse.

X E

Xenarchus, A comicall poete. Also a philosopher borne in Seleucia.
Xeniæ balneæ, A certaine bathe.
Xenius Iupiter, The god of hospitalitie.
Xenocrates, A notable philosopher, Platoes scholler,and maister to Polemon. King Alexander on a tyme, as a bountifull prince,sent vnto him thirtie talents of golde as a present: but Xenocrates sent it backe agayne vnto him,saying, that kinges and princes haue nede of money, and not philosophers.
Xenodorus, A famous caruer or ymage maker.
Xenophanes, A philosopher that wrote against Hesiodus and Homere,for their opinion concerning the gods.
Xenophilus, A musitian of Chalcis, which lined.107. yeares in great felicitie and quietnesse.
Xenophon, A philosopher of Athens, disciple of Socrates, and was also a noble and politike capitayne, who for his most delectable stile in writing, was named the muse of Athens. He made moste excellent workes, replenished with such kinde of wisedome and doctrine, that to the instruction of a prince, none may be compared vnto him. Wherefore I wouldc exhort all noble men to reade his workes studiously. I wouldc god that he mought fynde a translatour epither in Latine or English,which couldc expresse sufficiently the moste delectable sentences contayned in Greke.
Xenophontius,a,um, Of Xenophon.
Xerxes, A great and famous emperour of Persia, sonne of Darius, in riches and power of men, farre passing all other, but in noble prowes and vertue much inferiour to his predecessors.
Fiue yeares continually he made prouision for a voyage into Greece, to reuenge that great reproche and ouerthrowe that his father, not many yeres before, had taken of Miltiades in the fieldes of Marathon. Wherefore,hauing gathered together an armie, as some write of seuentenine hundred thousande, or as other more credibly affirme,of.1.000000. He conueyed it ouer into Europe by making a bridge ouer the sea at Hellespont with his great multitude of shippes. Thorough this his huge and mighty power, he bare himselfe so prowdely, that he did not onely thinke all men ought to obey him, but commaunded the seas also to be quiet, and mountaines to giue place vnto him. The multitude of his armie and nauye dranke certaine ryuers drie, and at their Princes commaundement did cutte downe the mountayne Athos in Thrace, that they might that way haue passage. Notwithstanding, shortly after, this naughty Prince with all his power on the sea by the yle of Salamine ioyning battayle with the small nauie of the Grecians, was discomfited and put to flight, a great part of his armie destroyed, and himselfe for his safegarde with great feare glad to flie in a fisher boate vnknowne: and so with muche dishonour returned home into Persia. Where afterwarde, mistrusting the hasarde of warre, he gaue himselfe to delitious and sensuall lyfe, proposing large rewardes to such as did deuise any newe fantasie or ryote to please his sensuall appetite. By which occasion he became in great contempt with his people, and was slayne by one Artabanus,when he had rayned eyght yeares.

X Y

Xyline, A citie of Pontus, called commonly Sentina.
Xyphiæ, Certayne blasing starres, which haue beames lyke a sworde.

Z A

ZAcantha, A citie of Iberia.
Zacanthei, People in the mountaines called Pirenæi, by the ryuer of Iberus.
Zacharias, The name of a Prophet. Also the father of Saint Iohn Baptist.
Zacynthij, People of the yle Zacynthus.
Zacynthus, An yle in the sea called Ionium, Wherein is a citie of the same name.
Zagrus, A mountayne, which deuideth Media from Babilonia.
Zaleucus, A prince that ruled the Locrenses,and by expresse lawe did forbid, vnder payne of death, that not so much as a sicke man should drinke any wine,but by the counsell of a Physition. Hee punished aduoutrie also with losse of both the eyes. Wherein when his owne sonne had offended, and his people verye earnestly sewed for his pardon, he bid put out one of his owne eyes, and an other of his sonnes: by that meanes both leauing to him sonne the vse of his sight, and yet, to the terrour of his subiectes, not suffering example to be spyen of the breache of his law,without iust punishment.
Zama,A citie of Affrike,where Annybal was ouercome by Scipio.
Zancle, A citie in Grecia: and another in Sicilie.
Zancleus,a,um, Of Zancle.
Zarmizegerusa, The chiefe citie of Dacia, called Cron.
Zeno, A notable and famous philosopher, chiefe of the Stoike sect.
Zenobia, A Quene of Palmyra, of noble courage and excellent wyt,well learned both in the Greke and Latin tongue,and instructed hir owne sonnes in the knowledge of good letters. Of maners she was seuere, and so much delighted in chastitie, as she lyed not the carnall company of hir owne husbande. Hir saying it was that the ornament of a woman was silence. When hir husbande Odenatus was deade, she gouerned the Romaine empire in Siria, and is counted one of the.xxx. Tyrauntes that inuaded the partes of the empire, in tyme of Galienus. She was afterwarde ouercome of Aurelianus, and for honour of hir vertue, had a place to liue in, appoynted hir about Tybur in Italie. In hir roiall estate she was worshipped in the maner of the kinges of Persya, and alwaye came abroade with an helmet on hir heade, and a purple raple hanged full of precious stones.
Zenodotus, A notable grammarian in the time of the first Ptholomæ, whose children he taught, and had the keeping of the famous librarie that was made at Alexandria.
Zephyre, An yle in the middle sea by Crete.
Zephyrium, A promontoxie in Italie among the people called Locri.
Zephyritis, tidis, patronym. fœ.
Zephyrius,a,um, Of Zephirus.

Zephyria, oua. Egges conceiued of the winde.
Zephyrus,ri,ma.ge. The west winde.
Zerbis, A ryuer of Mesopotamia,running into Tigris.
Zethus, Iupiters sonne by Antiopa.
Zeugma, A citie of Dacia.
Zeuxis, An excellent Painter, which so painted a boy carying grapes,that Birdes came to the table or picture and picked on the grapes, weening that they had beene very grapes: which Zeuxis beholding, was with himselfe angrie, and saide: if I had made the boye as well as I haue done the grapes, the birdes durst not haue come so nere to the Grapes. By his craft he had gotten exceding great riches, and therefore euer after determined not to take any money for that he did,but frely to giue his labour: because he thought his arte and cunning so excellent, as no value of money couldc be equall to it,or worthy recompence it.
Zeuxo, One of the Nimphes, daughter of Oceanus and Tethys.

Z I

Zigari, People which we doe call Egiptians, that wander about in euery Realme,and be horrible theeues.
Zigarum, The Countrie, from whence the sayde people doe come.

Z O

Zodiacus, ci,ma,ge. In ourcthwarte circle deuised to be in heauen by the astronomers, to declare the course of the sunne alway betweene the tropikes of Cancer and Capricorne.To which points when it commeth either in the depest of winter,or in the highest of Sommer,it declineth by little and little backe againe, towarde the Equinoctial. This circle hathe the name of the figures of beastes, that are imagined to be in it,to expresse the natures of the twelue signes, which are within the comepasse of the same.
Zoilus, A malicious poete, that wrate a booke of rayling verses against the noble workes of Homer, and therefore is called Homeromastix, that is. Homers scourge. When this Zoilus did reade his verses to the worthie and learned king Ptolome,he taking thereat great displeasure, at that present saide not one worde vnto him. Afterwarde this railing Poete being in great pouerte, desired of the king some relefe. Naie (saith Ptolome) Homer feedeth and refresheth many. Wherefore thou, that arte better then Homer, maiest well finde thy self without relefe of other. At the last he was condemned of heinous murder, and by the kings commaundement put to death. Of him, all malitious carpers of other mens workes be called Zoili.
Zopyrus, A Noble Persian, seruaunt to Darius, which when the citie of Babylon rebelled against king Darius and that he had made long warre,and couldc not subdue them, vnwares to any man,did cut of his owne nose, his eares and his lippes, and fedde to Babylon saying, the king had so disfigured him, because he perswaded him to haue peace with the Babilonians: which they hearing, made him their chiefe Captaine, by which meanes he afterwarde peelded the citie vp to Darius. Wherefore Darius was wont to saie, that he had leuer haue one Zopyrus, than twentie Babylons. Hauing on a time a pomegranate in his hande,a friende of his asked, of what kinde of things he would desire to haue as great a number, as there were kernels in the Pomegranate: he answered of Zopires, esteeming nothing to be of so great value as a multitude of so faithfull friendes, as hee had shewed himselfe. In other Zopyrus was excellent,ye well seene in the science of Phisiognomie, that is, by the proportion of ones visage and partes of the same, to conieecture his nature and conditions. This man happening into the compame of Socrates, whome he neuer knew before, was demaunded of them present, what hee thought of him. Vppon the viewe of his countenance he gaue this sentence. That Socrates was blunt and dull witted, sensuall, and giuen to sundrie fowle vices. Whereat some of them, that were present, well knowing his wisedome and vertue, derided Zopire: other were much grieued and displeased with him. Naie(saith Socrates) let his iudgement nothing moue you. For certainelie such one had I beene, had not the instruction of Philosophie amended the corrupt inclination of my nature.

Zoroanda, A riuer, which ye great water Tigris maketh on the one side of the mountaine Taurus.
Zoroastes, A king of the Bactrians, in the time of Ninus, and was before the warre of Troy.400. yeares. He first, as Plynie writeth, inuented magicall artes, and was in manye other thinges excellently well learned, whereof he left Bookes written by hinde him. He was slaine with fire from Heauen, and sone after Assyrians before hande, that if they kept his ashes their kingdome shoulde neuer faile. Diuers he [illegible] that euer were redde of, laughed the [illegible] he was borne: and his braine [illegible], that it wouldc moue the nourses hande, being layde vppon his heade: which Plinie saith, was a token of the greate learning and knowledge, whereto he afterwarde aspired.
Zoticus, A man in highe fauour with the Emperour Heliogabalus: which wisely faire wordes, to winne money, deceiued the suitours.

Z Y

Zygantes, A people by Carthage among whome is great store of Horne, both made by Bees, and also wrought with mans hande. They colour their bodies with red leade, and fedde especially on Apes flesche, whereof they haue great plentie.

FINIS.